ABOUT THE CITY.

REV. PENN AT AMES—Rev. I. Garland Penn, one of the secretaries of the Epworth League, was in the city this week. He preached at Ames M. E. Church Sunday morning, and his sermon was well delivered and well received. Rev. Penn is a fluent speaker and always entertains an audience. He said in part Sunday, "The Negro of today should learn to see himself in his true light; that is he should try to use all the talents which God has bestowed upon him. Simply because one cannot fill the position in life which some one else is filling, he should not stand and lament the fact, for if he will look around he will find plenty for himself to do if he will only do it. Any man who is always stopping to think how small he is compared to somebody else without making effort to improve himself, will always be a small man, and will get even smaller. Likewise as soon as a man who has become big in the eyes of his people begins to look down upon his fellow man and say: I am so big and he is so small, just so sure will he become as small as the smaller man."

SELLS HIS PROPERTY.—Mr. T. J. Sampson of 426 W. Biddle street, has sold his farm, on the Severn river, in Anne Arundel County, Md., consisting of 80 acres of land, improved by an eight room cottage, a canning house, barn etc. He will give up all control of it September 1st. He also sold out his half interest as partnership in the Blooming Dale cottage, used as a boarding house, located in Baltimore Co., which he has been connected in for the past two years.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED—Mr. Joseph Wilson celebrated his 53rd birthday, last Wednesday, at his home 1055 W. Lexington Street. Among those present were; Misses Maggie Brown, Rosie Garrison, Elizabeth Harden, Rosie Badger and Minnie Dryden; Mesdames Scott, Dryden and Jackson; Messrs Samuel Edwards, Frank Gibson, Samuel and Archibald Gray, John Dyson, Wm. Jackson, D. R. Pitts, H. Robinson, Wm. Bias, L. Cole and J. W. Tyler. A very enjoyable time was spent, all went home much delighted with the good time they had.
