Monday, April 3, 1916, Court met today at 10:30 o'clock present on the Bench Hon. A. Hunter Boyd, Chief Judge, Hon. M. L. Keedy & R. R. Henderson, Associate Judges.
The following resolutions on the death of Judge Witzenbacher were passed and Ordered to be recorded among the minutes of this Court.

William John Witzenbacher, was the son of a German immigrant from Hesse Darmstadt who settled in Hagerstown about 1851, and married Miss Anna Catherine Rauth. The son was born the 1st day of December, 1861. He was educated in the public schools of Washington County and Hopkins University. He read law in the offices of the late Alexander Neill and was admitted to the Bar in 1886.

After his admission to the Bar he devoted his time to Law, Politics, and the study of History and Literature both Ancient and Modern. As a practicing Lawyer his services were much in demand. His fidelity to his clients and his interest in their cause, were great; It was never a question of compensation to himself, but the rights of his client that he sought and strived for, and to which he freely lent his great ability and untiring energy. As an Associate Judge of this Circuit, he was dignified, patient and absolutely impartial, considerate of counsel, litigant and witness. His opinions were uniformly well founded and correct. He aspired to uphold the highest ideals and traditions of the Bench. He never tired in laboring to untangle a knotty legal problem, and he never stopped until he was satisfied that he had pushed his investigations to their utmost limit. His legal opinions both off and on the Bench carried great weight. The sincerity of his judgment was never doubted and the honesty of his advice was never questioned. He took more pleasure in the study of the law than in its practice and the position of Judge exactly suited his tastes. His term of service on the Bench was too short to permit of him gaining many judicial laurels, but, he did gain for himself the confidence and respect of all those who were brought into contact with him as a fair and upright Judge.

In politics he was an ardent Democrat, and an indefatigable for the best interest of his party; many times he, more than any one individual deserved credit for its success. He had won a place for himself in its councils in the State, and it is not a far guess to say that before many more years political honors greater than he had ever won would have fallen to his lot. He took a thoroughly practical view of politics. He had no patience with radical reformers. The essence of the wisdom of the ages as gathered from history was his guiding light in the sphere of action which embraces statesmanship. ¶ He was a great and discriminating reader, and his retention of his information acquired was remarkable and unusual. He may be said to have inherited the German Language, to have lived in the English and to have acquired Greek, Latin, French, Spanish and Italian, several of which he spoke with fluency. His private library was stocked with the best literature that these various tongues afford. An excursion into a foreign atmosphere was a revel of keen delight to him. A trip to Europe some years ago which took him to Rome inspired him with a love for all things Italian, and it was one of his greatest pleasures to talk of ancient and modern Europe with anyone who had a sympathetic interest in such matters. He was always interesting, entertaining and instructive.

As a man he had his enemies, his friends, his associates and but few intimates; although at times apparently brusque and indifferent, he was at heart kindly and sympathetic to all. He was a lover of nature, and his favorite diversions were long strolls through the mountains and by the winding rivers and streams. He knew the birds, the trees their varieties and differences, as few laymen did. The rocks, the hills, the valleys, plant life, flower life; all nature appealed to him and he was a close observer of it in all its manifold forms. He made no pretension to the learning of a trained professor but the bent of his mind was such that he could not refrain from studying, observing, comparing, taking both pleasure and profit out of his recreation. Even the starry heavens came in for its share of attention and the map of the sky was as familiar to him as that of his own native Maryland. It must not, however, be imagined that he was so much of the super-man that the little things of this world had no interest for him. He took an interest in all things that men care for, but, his impulses inclined him toward the intellectual and his mind was the mastering force in all that went to make up his being. ¶ Thus he lived. He never married. He died a comparatively young man on the 11th of February of this year, wept for by those who knew and loved him best and to whom he was especially devoted, regretted by a large circle of friends who realize that the fruition of his many talents had been swept away. His death was lamented.

Court met today Jany. 4, 1917 and the following resolutions were passed:
Colonel Buchanon Schley
William Kealhofer, Esq.
Geo. A. Davis, Esq.

Colonel Buchanon Schley.

The Members of the Bar Association, in common with our community, were shocked at the announcement of the death of Colonel Buchanon Schley, which occured suddenly whilst he was on a visit at the home of his son, at Long Island, New York, on the 12th day of October, last. Whilst it had been noticed for a few months prior to his death, that he was failing in health, it was hoped he might yet be continued longer with us. The end came in the manner he had wished it would, when it did; suddenly, without pain and suffering, whilst reading which in life he so much enjoyed. He wished to be spared a lingering and suffering illness, which wish a Kindly Providence granted.

Buchanon Schley from his early infancy spent his entire life in Hagerstown. He was born August 7, 1848 at Frederick, Maryland, and was desended from an old and highly cultured Maryland family. Both of his parents dying in his infancy, he was reared by his Aunt and his step-brother Colonel George Schley, an intellectual lawyer and student; For these, he had the sweet affection of a child for parent. A tenderness of devotion and respect springing from his heart in appreciation of their care and kindness in his rearing. As a youth he attended the old Hagerstown Academy, St. James College, then Princeton University, and afterwards the University of Virginia where he graduated in 1869 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Having prepared for admission to the Bar of this County under the guidance of his aforesaid Step-brother, he was enrolled as an Attorney of this Court on the 28th day of November, 1871. His talents, exemplary habits, attention to business, and unusual striking personality soon won for him many clients and friends, although our Bar at that time had various lawyers of Commanding ability. As a lawyer he was trustworthy, giving good counsel and advice. Before the Court he was dignified, courteous, and respectful; In trials, in which he was engaged, he displayed astuteness and force but ever manifested absolute fairness. At times he was engaged in many of the important Civil and Criminal Cases in this Court and always commanded attention by his grace, determination, vigor and Knowledge of his case. He seemed to enjoy the excitement and responsibility of a criminal case, and by his eloquence, frankness and sincerity made a marked impression upon both Court and Jury. In argument he was strong: his faultless diction, command of language and attractiveness of style were soon felt. Like many men of talent, public life early became attractive, and the realm of politics was alluring. In politics he was a Democrat and a sincere believer and upholder of his party, sharing in its successes, and never disheartened by its failures. He became well known throughout the State in political circles, made many friends, was popular, and had a strong hold upon the people. For many years before his death he was one of the recognized State leaders of his party, and his judgment and experience were always sought in determining its matters of policy. His party appreciated his services and ability, and honored him with various public offices; whilst sometimes misunderstood and criticised, his record was always clean and duties well discharged. Of fine education the pursuit of literature was his especial pleasure. Versed in the classics and history, and abreast of the times in current and popular fiction, his Knowledge of books, and authors, which he so often quoted, made him an attractive companion and conversationalist. Travel in this Country and in Europe added much to his general Knowledge, enabling him to give others the pleasure as well as the benefit of his observations and experience. He enjoyed nature, and being fond of scenic beauty was a familiar figure by reason of his long daily walks. Instinctively he was kind in spirit and generous in heart, sympathetic with the less fortunate, liberal in views and believed in the due rights of individuals. The poor and unfortunate always appealed to him and found him a real friend and a generous donor, both in feeling and in money.

He had a firm belief in the goodness and power of the Creator and never lost his attachment for his Church. His death is much regretted and this Bar and Community will feel the loss; but to the many who knew him, his memory will ever remain pleasant and dear. He was a man loved and respected, a good and an upright citizen, a lawyer proud of his profession, which he deemed one of honor, dignity and of the highest ethics.

The following resolutions upon the death of William Kealhofer, Esq., have been adopted by the Bar Association of Washington County, Maryland

Be it Resolved by the Bar Association of Washington County, in the State of Maryland, that in the death of William Kealhofer, who was at the time of his death the oldest member of the Washington County Bar, this Bar, as well as the Bar of the State, has lost one of its ablest and most prominent members, and the community one of its most useful and well known citizens.

Mr. Kealhofer, after graduating at college, studied law with the late Judge Richard H. Alvey, and was admitted to the Bar of the County on the 27th March, 1865. He devoted himself most assiduously to the practice of his profession, and in a very short time attained a prominent and influential position amongst the members of the Bar of the County, and he continued in the practice of law until a few years before his death, when he retired. While at the Bar, he was recognized and known as a most able, painstaking advocate and solicitor. He was scrupulously honest, straightforward and fair in all his dealings with the Court, fellow members of the Bar and his clients and he always seemed to be actuated by the principle rather to have justice done than to win cases. His knowledge of the law was profound. He studied and dealt with principles, rather than with cases, and his success and ability as a lawyer was largely due to his close adherence to the fundamental principles underlying all law. The Bar has sustained a great loss, not only in the loss of its ablest members from a legal point of view, but Mr. Kealhofer, in addition to being an able and widely known lawyer, was a man of great learning outside of the profession of the law. He was fond of literature and history, a great student and great traveler, all of which tended to make him broad in his views and opinions, and made him certainly the most versatile member of the Bar at the time of his death. He was a man with a peculiarly philosophical mind, and one of the greatest pleasures of his life was philosophical research, and the study of those profound principles underlying all human action and effect. As a citizen of this community, he was always interested in every movement intended for the betterment of the people in the community; of a very charitable disposition, he was always ready and willing to help those in distress, and at the time of his death, he was connected with some of the most substantial public institutions of the County, and for years assisted in the management of the same by his valuable advice and counsel.

Be it Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the Court with the request that they be inscribed among the records of the Court.

All of which are most respectfully submitted.

Resolutions

Resolutions passed by the Bar Association upon the death of George A. Davis, Esq.

George A. Davis, Esq. was born near Boonsboro, Washington County, Maryland, July 11, 1853, being the son of Elias Davis, Sr. He obtained his early education in the public schools of this County and at Mercersburg College, Pa., from which institution he graduated in 1874.

Endowed with an excellent mind and a robust body, he soon determined to study for a profession, which profession should be that of the Law. He began his study in the law office of the late Louis E. McComas and Frederick W. McComas and in 1880 was admitted to the Bar of this County. He at once began the active practice of his profession and by hard work, courteous treatment of members of the Bar and the Court and his clients, he soon became one of the leading young members of the Bar, with a large and constantly growing practice.

Early in life he became interested in public questions and devoted much of his time to public affairs and even at the expense of private matters. In 1882, we see Mr. Davis a member of the State Legislature in which he served his County and State in a manner which reflected credit upon himself as well as upon the citizens whom he served. For a number of years he was Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of this County, and much was accomplished by his party as a result of his clear insight and rare judgment concerning political questions. In 1898, he was appointed Attorney to the Board of County Commissioners in which office he served for two terms.

In 1902, as a reward for faithful service and a long and sincere friendship, the late United States Senator, Louis E. McComas, of Maryland, appointed Mr. Davis as an Assistant in the office of the Secretary of the United States Senate, which position he held for three years. In 1905 we find Mr. Davis back in Washington County practicing Law as in former days. He was appointed an Examiner in Chancery by this Court, and he continued in the duties of this office until a year ago when poor health compelled him to give up his former active duties.

Mr. Davis was a gentleman in every sense of the term. A more loyal friend one never had. His bright, cheerful disposition sent out rays of sunshine which warmed the hearts of persons with whom he came in contact, and it may be said here truthfully that no member of this Bar had a higher appreciation of the rights of his fellow citizens and fellow members of the Bar, and had a higher respect for the Courts, and had a greater love for humanity, and especially the people of Washington County than did George A. Davis. His cheerful temperment, and the sunshine which it radiated is missed and will be by all who were his friends for many years to come.
