Both of these are typical backward Spanish towns. Tenerife is noted for its very fine drawn work. A large finély drawn bed spread will cost only about $5 00.

Our next stop was in Africa, Dakar, is a fine, up-to-date, town; my first impression of the African native was statue, as black as ebony and as City's last big Sunday of the season is able to control the press of the the M. fruit trees, which seems to spring up like Jonah's gourd. In the college yard we have several banana trees, mango plums, breadfruit trees and paupau trees. These trees bear fruit which resemble a cucumber, taste when ripe like a cantaloupe, and when green and cooked cannot be told from stewed apples.

We are very hapily situated here and find things much to our liking, Mrs. Parker has just recoveeed from a slight attack of the fever. It does not seem to like me so that I am be-ALL ginning to think I am immune, There is quite a good deal of hunting here. I shall spend all of my spare time in the open. There is no end to small game, such as wild pigeons, ducks. geese, cranes, ete. Large game can be found at only a days journey from
