Humorous.

JINE IN! JINE IN!

We are indebted to the Cincinnati Enquirer for a hearty laugh over the following lucubration:

Mormonism is still in practical operation amongst us. A few days since, a tall, raw-boned Saint, with a complexion very stongly resembling that of boiled tripe, arrived here from Pittsburg with a souple of wives; but deeming his flock too small to start Salt Lakeward with, held forth as follows to an admiring audience, at a house over the canal, with a view to the completeness of his domestic felicity. His text was;

"Men is skeerce and weemen is plenty."

"Brethern and Sistern—pertickler the Sistern:—I want to say a few words to you about Mormonism—not for my own sake, but for yourn, for men is skeerce and weemen is plenty.

"Mormonism is built on that high old principle, which ses that it ain't good for man to be alone, and a mighty sight worse for a woman. Therefore, if a man feels good with a little company, a good deal of it ought to make him feel an awful sight better.

"The first principle of Mormonism is, that woman air a good thing, and the second principle is, that you can't have too much of a good thing. Woman is tenderer than man, and is necessary to smooth down the roughness of his character, and as man has a good'many rough pints in his natur', he oughtn't to give one woman too much to do, but set each one to work smoothing some partikler pint.

"Don't think I'm over anxious for you to jine us, for I ain't. I'm not speaking for my good, but for yourn: for men is skeerce and weemen is plenty.

"I said woman is tenderer than man, but you needn't feel stuck up about it, for so she ought to be; she was made so a purpose. But how was she made so? Where did she get it from? Why, she was created out of the side-bone of a man, and the side-bone of a man is like the side-bone of a turkey—the tenderest part of him. Therefore, as a woman has three side-bones, and a man only one, of course she is three times as tender as a man is, and is in duty bound to repay that tenderness of which she robbed him. And how did she rob him of his side-bone? Why, exactly as she robs his pockets now-a-days of loose change—she took advantage of him when he was asleep.

"But as woman is more tender than man, so is man more forgivener than woman; therefore, I won't say anything about the side-bone or small change, but invite you all to jine my train, for I'm a big sheperd out our way, and fare sumptuously every day on purple and fine linen.

"When I first landed on the shores of the Great Salt Lake. I wasn't rich in weemen; I had but one poor old yoe, but men is skeerce and weemen is plenty, and like a keerful sheperd I began to increase my flock. Weemen heard of us and our lovin ways, and they kept a pourin in. They come from the North, and they come from the South, they come from the East, and they come from the West, they come from Aishey, and a few of 'em from Afrikay, and from bein' the miserable owner of one old yoe, I become the joyful sheperd of a mighty flock, with a right smart sprinklin of lambs, friskier and fatter than anybody else's, and I've still got room for a few more.

"As I said before, I'm not talkin' pertickler for my benefit, but for yourn—for men is skeerce and weemen is plenty.—Still, I'd a leetle rather you'd go along with me than not, pertickler you fat one with the caliker sun bonnet. Don't hesitate, but take the chance while you git it, and I'll make you the bell yoe of the flock; I'll lead you through green pastures and the high grass; show you where you may caper in the sunshine, and lay down in pleasant places; and, as you are in pretty good condition already, in course of time you shall be the fattest of the flock. Jine in; jine in; jine my train; jine it now, for men is skeerce and weemen is plenty."

The appeal was irresistible. At the last account "the fat woman with the caliker sun bonnet" had "jined in," and two or three others were on the fence, with a decided leaning toward the Keerful Sheperd."

KEEN SATIRE.—At a ball one evening, a plain country gentleman had engaged a pretty coquette for the next dance, but a gallant captain coming along, persuaded the lady to abandon her previous engagement in favor of himself. The plain yeoman, overhearing all that had passed, with a frigid indifference moved toward a card table and sat down to play a game of whist. The captain in a few minutes afterward stepped up to the lady to excuse himself, as he was engaged to another that he had forgotten. The coquette, much chagrined, approached the whist table, in hopes to secure her first partner, and said: "I believe, Mr. B—, it is time to take our positions." The old fashioned suitor, in the act of dividing a pack for the next dealer, courteously replied, "No, madam, I mean to keep my position,—when ladies shuffle, I cut."

To Farmers and Planters

PER-MANIPULATED GUANO,

A COMBINATION OF

☞ Best Peruvian and the best Phosphatic Guanos, made with the best Machinery and most expert Workmen.

☞ On most lands and on most Crops SUPERIOR to any other Guano.

By Dr. James Higgins,

FOR THE LAST TEN YEARS

State Agricultural Chemist

OF MARYLAND.

THIS combination of Peruvian and the Phosphatic Guano was first recommended by me more than six years ago, and very successfully used by many planters and farmers in this State, though several dealers in Baltimore city have pretended to be its inventor. If this statement be denied, I have abundant proof of its correctness.

A long experience as a practical planter and farmer, with a constant analytical examination for more than ten years, of every kind of manure sold at our market, advantages possessed by none others in the trade, will enable me always to furnish those, who may favor me with their orders, with the best, purest, and therefore the cheapest Manures.

Farmers, Planters and others will be furnished with all the Guanos sold in our market. Also, with PLASTER OF PARIS, and PURE or MAGNESIAN LIME, according to the wants of the soil—and too much care cannot be taken in adapting the proper lime to soils; for the want of this, thousands of dollars have been annually lost to our State. Also, the following artificial Manures:

HIGGINS' SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME, prepared under his own direction; and

HIGGINS' NITRATED SALINE FERTILIZER, an admirable top-dressing for wheat, oats or grass, which has been very successfully used, and prevents, to a great extent, the wheat from being straw-fallen; where the wheat is pale, sickly or yellow, it at once changes it to a bright, healthy green, and rapidly increases its growth, and greatly promotes the yield.

All manures sold in our markets are liable to differ naturally, though coming from the same place and bearing the same mark. Still more are they liable to adulteration, &c. and for these things our Inspection System has never afforded an adequate protection.

All Manures sold by me will have my name stamped on each bag or barrel, be carefully analyzed, and for their purity the buyer is pledged a legal guarantee and my personal honor.

The Manures sold by me will be at the same rate as those sold by others in the trade.

Persons wishing to obtain any of the Manures manufactured by me, or any others of my selection, should so specify in their orders to their agents in Baltimore.

TERMS CASH, or accepted Baltimore city paper.

☞ I will also attend to the Buying of Real Estate, and EVERYTHING connected with the Farming and Planting interest.

For sale now, several very fine FARMS on the Baltimore and Washington road, one of them with elegant improvements and every convenience, in the most beautiful and elegant location on it, and several large tracts in Virginia, with negroes, stock, &c. attached.

An Important Letter

From Rev. JACOB SECKLER, well known and highly respected throughout the State of Pennsylvania:

HANOVER, PA., February 16, 1859.

Messrs. S. W. FOWLE & Co., Boston.—Dear Sirs: Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—it affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public. Some eight years ago one of my daughters seemed to be in a decline and little hopes of her recovery were entertained. I then procured a bottle of your excellent Balsam, and before she had taken the whole of the contents of the bottle there was a great improvement in her health. I have in my individual case, made frequent use of your valuable medicine, and have always been benefitted by it. I would, however, caution the public against imposition, because there is a good deal of spurious Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry offered throughout the country.

JACOB SECKLER.

MILFORD, Del., October 28, 1858.

S. W. FOWLE & Co., Boston: Please send me a supply of Wistar's Balsam, as I am nearly out and there is a great demand for it: it is doing wonders: it cures Coughs, Asthma, Whooping Cough and Consumption, without fail. There has never been any of the genuine here until you sent me a lot some time since, but plenty of the counterfeit.

Yours, truly, JACOB V. FOULK.

☞ REMEMBER THEREFORE all who seek health, that the only genuine has the written signature of "I. BUTTS," as well as the printed name of the Proprietors, SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston, on the outside wrapper. Take no other, it were money wasted and health jeopardized.
