WE are happy in again being able to present another Baltimore Directory to the public, after having accomplished the arduous duties consequent on such a publication; we deem it superfluous to enumerate them, they are obvious to every person of judgment. We have used every effort to have the work as free from errors as possible, and shall not consume paper in apologizing for defects. Suffice it to inform those who discover errors, that the publisher intends issuing a Supplement to this Directory on the 16th of April next, in which all omissions, removals, new establishments, &c. &c. which may be left at the office prior to that date, will be inserted, and each purchaser of the book will be furnished with one, gratis. This done, there can be no reasonable fault found. He well knows' however, there are those who are not disposed to be satisfied.

The Subscriber offers his unfeigned acknowledgments to his friends and the patrons of his Directory, and will be happy to serve them in the line of his profession, and merit a continuance of their confidence.

R. J. MATCHETT.

Indian Queen Hotel AND BALTIMORE HOUSE.

This celebrated and extensive HOTEL, containing about 100 feet on Market st or Baltimore st. 223 feet on Hanover st. and formerly occupied successively by Messrs. Gadsby and Barnum, has been recently highly improved and newly furnished in the first style. The public rooms are splendidly fitted up, the chambers with new, neat and suitable furniture. The parlours on Hanover st. and on Market st for families, (private entrance on Market st) distinct from the hotel are elegantly furnished, and the chambers attached to them for privacy, convenience and furniture, equal to any public house. The undersigned is fully justified by public opinion, in stating that the house and premises, in appearance, comfort, arrangement and style, is far beyond what it ever was

The other accommodations, comforts and luxuries of life, essential to the convenience and full enjoyment of the traveller, such as a clean house and chambers, attentive servants, and all that is embraced in a good table, &c. The undersigned flatters himself as he has not hitherto been "found wanting" in any of these important requisites, in his former establishment in this city so he hopes by his efforts correspondent to his other exertions, to meet public expectation and the partiality of his patrons in these and in all other respects. The Stables and Carriage Houses are extensive and conveniently situated on an adjoining lot—attentive, experienced and trusty Ostlers are employed.

The Western, Southern, York and Philadelphia Stages are permanently fixed to run from the old established Stage Office, attached to this hotel. An attentive and trusty watchman is employed during the night to guard the interior of the house. One of the bar keepers will be in readiness to attend to gentlemen arriving in the Steam Boat, and facilitate their departure at any hour when required. The extraordinary exertions the undersigned has made to merit public patronage, and to meet the views of his friends and the friends and patrons of the house—his determination to keep the establishment equal to any in the Union in all respects—his known moderate charges, combined with the fine public location of the house, situated on two beautiful and spacious streets, convenient to every part of the City, Wharves, Steam boats, and in the centre of active business, and of the enlivening gay crowds which throng and pass in review the great thoroughfare of the city, (Market st.) induce him to hope for a continuance of the very flattering testimony of public favor, which he has already been honored with under circumstances (while cleaning, painting, altering, &c.) which demands the most grateful acknowledgments of the public's most obedient servant,

G BELTZHOVER, Agent.
