S.E. Yates House
8516 Main Street (MD 144)
Ellicott City

Located on the north side of Main Street on the west side of Ellicott City, the S.E. Yates House is a three bay wide, two bay deep, 2 1/2 story stone house with a hip-roofed porch with iron posts and balustrade. The door is the east (right) end bay, and the two windows to its left have 1/1 sash windows. The 2nd floor front windows once had 6/6 sash, but are now 1/1.

The west gable end of the building has 1/1 sash 1st floor and 6/6 sash 2nd floor windows in the south bays, but none in the north bays. The attic gable has a small 1/1 sash window in the center. There is an interior chimney in this gable end, to the north of the ridgeline.

A one story shed-roofed frame addition has been made to the rear and east sides of the building, which is now covered with aluminum siding. The basement and first floor of the building are covered with the addition. The basement level is concrete block.

The basement level of the east facade contains three windows. The southernmost of these is a 6-light casement, the other two are 6/6 sash. The first floor of the east facade contains thre 1/1 sash windows in the aluminum sided frame addition. Above this are 1/1 sash windows centered in each of the 2nd and attic gable levels.

The north facade is again covered with the addition on the basement and first floors. The second floor of the stone house has one 1/1 sash window in the west bay.

This house is on property owned by a Mrs. Radcliffe in 1878 according to the G.M. Hopkins atlas of that year.
