The house at 122 Conococheague Street is a two story, three bay frame structure sheathed with German siding. The main facade faces east onto Conococheague Street. Originally the structure had a three bay, window, window, door arrangement with the door on the north side. A modern double window now replaces the two original windows at the first story. Windows have two over two pane sashes with plain architraves. It probably dates from the late 19th century.
