DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Millstone is a two-part house dating from the second quarter of the 19th century. It consists of a three bay long, two and one-half story section with chimney on both gables (one new). A two story porch stretches across the facade. To the east is a one and one-half story extension with irregular fenestration. The building was totally remodeled and that is the reason for the difficulty in determining its original appearance.

Behind the building is a small one-story frame structure which is reputedly a quarter for slaves. It is now used as a shop.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

Millstone is a building so named because of the presence of a millstone at the end of the drive. The house stands on parts of tracts called Mitchells Garden, patented in 1705, Mitchell's Cove, John's Garden, patented 1665, and Owen's Adventure, patented 1704.

The house has some similarities to the adjoining property of Mr. and Mrs. Lester B. Kinnamon.
