RICHMOND, April 3.

At a convention begun and held for the district of Kentucky, at Danville, in the county of Mercer, on the 17th day of September, 1787, Resolved, That this convention do fix the 31st day of December, 1788, to be the time on which the authority of the commonwealth of Virginia, and of its laws over the district of Kentucky, shall cease and determine for ever, under the exceptions specified in the act, entitled, "An act concerning the erecting of the district of Kentucky into an independent state."

Resolved, As the opinion of this convention, that the convention shall be elected with full power and authority to frame and establish a fundamental constitution of government for the proposed state, and to declare what laws shall be in force therein, until the same be abrogated or altered by the legislative authority acting under the constitution so to be framed and established.

ANNAPOLIS, April 10.

Extract from the Alexandria paper of April 8.

"A correspondent has favoured us with the following list, which he assures us is correct, of the delegates from the several counties, on adding up of which appear as follows, federal 38, anti-federal 25, divided 20."

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Alexandria, of the 8th instant, to a gentleman of this city.

"I have the pleasure to inform you, that, on the close of the elections in this state for delegates to convention, there is a considerable majority of federal members, and among these, characters of the first influence, both in point of popularity and abilities, such as Madison, Pendleton, Wythe, Innes, Marshal, Nicholas, &c. &c so that there is little doubt of the adoption of the constitution."

Nicholas Carroll and Alexander Contee Hanson, Esquires, are elected delegates to represent this city in the ensuing convention.

Annapolis, April 8, 1788.

THE honourable the chancellor having appointed the subscriber trustee for the creditors of William Biggs, in order to enable me to execute the said trust, notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the said William Biggs, that their accounts are now in the hands of the subscriber, to whom they are requested to make immediate payment, and prevent further trouble, and those having just claims are requested to make them known, that a proper dividend may be made, and the business closed as soon as possible.

To be sold, on the 6th of May next, on the premises, a valuable lot of ground on lease in this city, it is a corner lot, and near the new market-house, 80 feet front on Church-street, 180 feet on Green street, is now occupied by William Biggs and Simon Retallick, with the following improvements thereon, viz. a dwelling and store house about 65 feet front on Church-street, with a good kitchen, and other convenient buildings, one dwelling house 26 feet front on Green-street with a kitchen, one negro woman, and two young negro boys, a billiard table, a chaise, horse and harness, and all the household furniture of said William Biggs, consisting of feather beds, tables, chairs, and kitchen furniture, &c. Likewise sundry merchandise, consisting of a number of small articles too tedious to mention.

The creditors of said William Biggs are requested to meet at Annapolis the day before the sale.
