Byrd Asks Dixie Convention Rule

ATLANTA (NNPA)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (Dem., Va.), speaking at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner sponsored here last week by the State Democratic Committee, proposed that the South demand the restoration of the two-thirds rule at the 1952 democratic National Convention and a resolution reaffirming support of States' rights, as he assailed President Truman.

Byrd said, "he will come before Congress declaring that he has a mandate from the people to enact all of the civil rights measures recommended by his Civil Rights Committee.

Byrd called Mr. Truman's civil rights program "a mass invasion of States' rights never before even suggested, much less recommended by any previous President in our history."

Calls FEPC Bureaucratic

Establishment of a FEPC, Byrd said, would "set up another costly, powerful, and inquisitorial bureaucracy in the Federal Government to send the strong arm of the National Government into the daily transactions of virtually every man's private business — to tell employers whom to hire, whome to fire and whom to promote."

Byrd also denounced proposed Federal anty-lynching legislation as unconstitutional and an invasion of States' rights. If enacted, he said it would establish a precedent for the Federal Government to make Federal offenses of other States crimes.

Byrd charged that Mr. Truman "threatens" to deny Federal grants-in-aid if the States and localities refused to repeal all local segregation laws relating to public schools, public housing, and other public services and facilities.

Holds Action Unprecedented

"I venture the assertion that never before in the history of our Republic has any president requested legislation whereby States and subdivisions thereof," Byrd said, "are directed to change their local laws and, if not, be penalized by the denial of Federal grants, to which the citizens of these States had contributed through their taxes."

Byrd also accused the President of proposing to "create a Federal commission on civil rights with an army of lawyers to direct the FBI in an intensive campaign to strike down any form of any existing law or ordinance which might provide for segregation in schools, hospitals, swimmig pools, restaurants and hotels."

Alabama Jury Convicts Man

Faces Electrocution; Appeal Is Automatic

COLUMBIANA, Ala.—Convicted by an all-white jury last week, Dooper Drake, an ex-convict accused of killing a 4-year-old white boy, faces a sentence of death in the electric hair, but under Alabama law, appeal is automatic in the case of a death sentence.

Drake had been indicted on charges of killing the boy and also criminally attacking his mother, Mrs. A. B. Holley, white, and shooting her several times, but was tried only on the murder count. The woman charged that he left her for dead in a wood following the attack and murder.

Girl Friend, He says

Drake told the court, however, that Mrs. Holley, herself, killed her son. He testified that she killed the boy after he refused to kill her husband and take her with him to NYC. He had been meeting the woman intimately for a long time, he added.

In direct contradiction, Mrs. Holley testified that Drake came to her home Oct. 18 last, seeking permission to do some hunting in a nearby woods. While at the house, he forced her at gunpoint into a bedroom, attacked her, threatened to kill the boy then marched them into the wood, where the boy was slain.

Ill. Town Ordered to Protect Family

CHICAGO (NNPA)—Judge John P. Barnes in Federal District Court last Thursday warned Cicero town officials that they would find themselves in "serious trouble" if they did not provide protection for a colored family from Chicago seeking to move into a $60-a-month apartment at 6139 19th St., Cicero.

"I want to bear this case myself," Judge Barnes said, refusing to order hearings by a master in chancery. He set hearing for Sept. 11 on the suit by Harvey E. Clark, Jr., a bus driver, and his wife, Johnetta, 26, asking $200,000 damages from the town and its officials on the grounds that they were beaten, kicked and harassed by police when they tried to move on June 8, with their two children.

Baptists Plan More Training

SAN FRANCISCO (ANP)—Delegates to the Southern Baptist National Convention were urged to provide more facilities to train ministers or to expect to lose many members. Dr. Edward A. McDowell Jr. of Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville, Ky. declared, "There are not more than 500 colored men training for the Baptist ministry in the entire country, and of these less than 260 are college graduates."

Dr. McDowell said that the first steps toward improving this situation were taken this spring when all Baptist seminaries were opened to colored students.

To aid further in the training of colored ministers, Dr. G. S. Dobbins, acting head of the Baptist Seminary in Louisville, called for active support of a plan for expansion of three existing seminaries and construction of two new plants.

Dr. Dobbins said that the three seminaries now in use were not adequate. They are overcrowded, undermanned and poorly equipped. Delegates to the convention elected Dr. J. D. Grey, pastor of First Baptist Church in New Orleans, convention president, succeeding Dr. Robert G. Lee of Memphis, Tenn.
