Richmond near tan majority

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Once the capital of the Confederacy, this city is on the verge of becoming the first major metropolitan area south of Washington, with a white minority, surveys disclosed Wednesday.

The Richmond regional planning commission said birth and death statistics show 12,948 non white births for the past five years compared to 10,720 white births. The non-white deaths were in a ratio of about 5 to 8 over the five-year period.

The city's public school enrollment already reflects a school population of more colored students than white.

The Rev. Robert Lee Combs, director of the Virginia Council on Human Relations, said "The white population has experienced its growth mainly in the county suburbs" around Richmond's city limits.

Stuffed Chops

For Apple Stuffing use one and one - half cups soft stale bread crumbs, two tablespoons finely chopped parsley, two tablespoons finely chopped onion, one - fourth cup finely chopped raw apple and two or three tablespoons California Sauterne or other white dinner wine.

Toss all ingredients together until well mixed.

Serves five.
