APPLIED PHYSICS LABORATORY

The Johns Hopkins University

The Applied Physics Laboratory, a division of The Johns Hopkins University, operates under contract with the Bureau of Naval Weapons. The development of the Navy's Terrier, Talos, and Tartar Guided Missiles, the development and fabrication of satellites for the Navy and NASA, and the test and evaluation of guided and ballistic missile systems are among its principal achievements.

At the present time, the Laboratory has a number of interesting openings for electrical and mechanical engineers, physicists, and mathematicians interested in career opportunities. Specific openings exist in computer programming, thermal engineering, analog and digital circuit design, structural design and analysis, missile system design and analysis, operations research, and propulsion engineering (ramjet and rocket).

The Laboratory's principal locations are in Silver Spring (a suburb of Washington, D. C.) and in Howard County, midway between Baltimore and Washington. These exceptionally complete facilities contain large-scale computers, well equipped laboratories, libraries, and cafeterias.
