Career Appointments for Engineers, Physical Scientists

APPLIED PHYSICS LABORATORY
The Johns Hopkins University

The Applied Physics Laboratory, a division of The Johns Hopkins University, operates under contract with the Bureau of Ships. The development of the Navy's Terrier, Talos, and Tartar guided missiles, the development and fabrication of satellites for the Navy and NASA, and the test and evaluation of guided and ballistic missile systems are among its principal activities.

At the present time, the Laboratory has a number of interesting openings for electrical and mechanical engineers, physicists, and mathematicians interested in career opportunities. Specific openings are available in computer programming, computer logic, analog and digital circuit design, systems analysis, electronic reliability and test analysis, operations research, and propulsion engineering (ramjet and rocket).

The Laboratory's principal locations are in Silver Spring (a suburb of Washington, D.C.) and in Howard County, midway between Baltimore and Washington. These exceptionally complete facilities contain large-scale computers, well equipped laboratories, libraries, and cafeterias.
