Much in Little.

In Persia cutting the hair is a sign of mourning.

Jacksonville has two hotels which, together, cost over $5,000,000.

The total income of the Church of England is about $1,000,000 a week.

When a man dies in France the first bill that must be paid is the doctor's.

Vincennes is the oldest city in Indiana, and was its capital from 1800 to 1813.

More than 16,000 Hindoos have been inoculated for the prevention of cholera.

Mechanical stoking is being tried in the French navy with fair promise of success.

Great Britain has spent $160,000,000 in perfecting her navy in the past eight years.

Pennsylvania is more closely gridironed with railroad tracks than Germany, France or Holland.

Roasted coffee and ground coffee beans mixed with honey are used to restore broken down horses in Germany.

The King of Portugal could sell the jewels in his crown for $6,500,000 in case of a royal financial stringency.

At Saltsburg, Austria, a man was kept prisoner in a cellar for fifteen years, during which he never saw a human face.

A reduction of 20 per cent, in the wages fund of the United States means a reduction of a purchasing power of the people of $2,000,000,000.

One two-hundred-acre peach orchard in Georgia has returned the owner a profit of $125,000 in five years, and one season the crop was a failure.

There is a church in Bergen, Norway, built entirely of paper, which has been rendered waterproof by a solution of quicklime, curdled milk and white of eggs.

The Chief of Police of Buenos Ayres has ordered that dogs supposed to be mad shall not be killed, but captured by the police for examination by Dr. Dabel, the bacteriologist.

Every member of the British Cabinet acts in three capacities—as administrator of a department of state, as member of a legislative chamber, and as confidential adviser to the crown.

There are 1,106 savings bank in France, with depositors to the number of 6,173,054. This does not include the stockings of the peasantry whose hoards are emptied into the Panama canal.

The largest increase in gold production in any state last year was Colorado, whose increase approximates $2,000,000. The only state in which a decrease is shown is Nevada, a falling off of about $575,000.

All of the ninety men of the right flank company of the Scots Guards are six feet or over, the average height being six feet and two and a quarter inches. One man is six feet seven, and twelve are over six feet four.

Reports from all parts of the Argentine Republic are to the effect that drouth is prevalent in almost every district. Large tracts of land are without blade of grass, and many farmers are selling their live stock at ridiculously low prices.

If there was no dust haze above us the sky would be black. That is, we would be looking into the blackness of limitless space. When in fine clear weather we have a deep rich blue above us, it is caused by a haze. The particles in the haze of the heavens correspond with those of the tube in the koniscope, and the blue color is caused by the light shining through a depth of fine haze.

The number of reindeer owned by a Laplander in Sweden varies to a considerable degree. The poor may have from 50 to 200 reindeer, those better off from 300 to 700, and the rich Laplanders will keep 1,000 and even 5,000 reindeer. There is some difficulty in collecting statistics on the number of reindeer, as the Laplanders may sometimes be unwilling or unable to give any correct statement. According to the latest statistics, the number of reindeer in Sweden would amount to 296,220, of which 52,550 were in the Province of Jemland, 40,500 in the Province of Vesterbotten, and 203,170 in the Province of Norbotten.

Burning Question of the Hour.

"Has the pretty girl become a terror in the land?"

The London girl who eloped with her father's coachman the other day was pretty.

The Paris girl who recently poisoned her husband is spoken of in the papers as very pretty.

The Berlin bride who became stage struck and joined a traveling theatrical company looked decidedly pretty.

The New York maiden who drowned herself because her young man could "only be a brother" to her, was exceedingly pretty.

The pretty girl therefore, instead of being a thing of beauty and a joy forever is often a delusion and a snare.

It is the plain girl who is never found breaking her father's heart, or her husband's head.

It is the plain girl, who, although she may have an aching heart, has a level head.

It is the plain girl, with a pug nose, freckled face and red hair, who never causes the tongue of slander to wag.

Another Victory.

It is related of George Clark, the celebrated negro minstrel, that, being examined as a witness, he was severely interrogated by the attorney, who wished to break down his evidence.

"You are in the negro minstrel business, I believe? Inquired the lawyer.

"Yes, sir," answered George, promptly.

"Isn't that rather a low callling?" demanded the learned counsel.

"I don't know but what it is, sir," replied the minstrel, "but it is so much better than my father's that I am rather proud of it."

"What was your father's calling?"

"He was a lawyer," replied Clark, in a tone of inimitable regret that put the whole court in a roar, and the lawyer left him alone.—Spare Moments.

CURES
MALARIAL POISON
Nature should be assisted to throw off impurities of the blood. Nothing does it so well, so promptly, or so safely as Swift's Specific.

LIFE HAD NO CHARMS.
For three years I was troubled with malarial poison, which caused my appetite to fail, and I was greatly reduced in flesh, and life lost all its charms. I tried mercurial and potash remedies, but to no effect. I could get no relief. I then decided to try S.S.S. A few bottles of this wonderful medicine made a complete and permanent cure, and I now enjoy better health than ever.
