[COMMUNICATED.]

ST. CATHARINES, CANADA WEST, March 27, 1862.

To the Editor of the Maryland News Sheet:

SIR:—It is only by chance that I occasionally see your News Sheet, but observing in your issue of the 21st inst. a statement relating to Mrs. William H. Norris, of Baltimore, I think it my duty, and I feel it to be a pleasure, to add my testimony also to the noble conduct of that most estimable lady. During my imprisonment in Fort McHenry, Mrs. Norris paid frequent visits to all the prisoners confined there, with the view of relieving their necessities, and it mattered not to the "ministering angel" to what political creed, one suffering prisoner belonged. During all her visits, but one question was asked, "can I be in any way of service or assistance to you?" Amongst others in prison was a voter for, and admirer of, Mr. President Lincoln, as well as a Federal soldier, both of whom had been suspected of disloyalty. Both of these gentlemen, although openly expressing to Mrs. Norris their devotion to the Federal cause, were relieved; and it was evident to us all that her benevolence was prompted by the broad platform of relieving suffering humanity, and that her mind was too noble to be narrowed down to merely assisting those of any particular political creed. It was by her (during these dastardly attacks upon that lady) a source of satisfaction to her to know that her appearance in Fort McHenry seemed to bring a ray of sunshine into that dreary Fortress, and that many an outspoken, as well as silent prayer was made, that her kindness and consideration might be registered on High. In conclusion, I cannot help observing that, instead of attacking Mrs. Norris for her devotion of time and money to the relief of the unfortunate, it would be far better for the newspapers to try and induce others to tread in her footsteps.

Having no wish to shelter myself under any nom de plume, I beg to subscribe myself, your obedient servant, J. CARVILLE STOVIN.

W. L. YANCEY'S SPEECH IN NEW ORLEANS.

It now appears that William L. Yancey has successfully run the blockade. We find the following synopsis of his speech, delivered in New Orleans, March 13th, in the Huntsville (Ala.) Advocate of the 19th:

Mr. Yancey is decidedly of the opinion that the South has no friends in Europe, and that the North is in a similar condition. He says there is a very strong prejudice in all of Europe against the South, in consequence of an erroneous impression which prevails in reference to the institution of slavery. There are many persons in Europe who consider the Southern people semi-civilized, and believe that negroes are raised upon the plan that stock is. There is no disposition to interfere in American affairs. The blockade enables the British holders of the great staple to realize an immense advance upon its cost, in consequence of the scarcity of the article. The holders are the wealthy few, who have the ear of the Government. Another reason for not interfering with the blockade was the belief that the scarcity of the article, and the remote prospect of obtaining a supply from this country, would create such a demand for the East India cotton as to increase its culture to a very considerable extent.

Another reason, in Mr. Yancey's opinion, why European Powers will not interfere in American affairs, is the hope and belief that a permanent dissolution of the United States will weaken a nation of whose prosperity and greatness they had become jealous. They hope to see the war protracted until both divisions are involved in ruinous debt, to hang over them like an incubus for years to come.

He inclines to the opinion that England and France would sooner interfere to prevent a reconstruction of the Union than for any other purpose. And he believes that, unless their starving operatives, engaged in the manufacture of cotton fabrics, compel them to interfere, they will stand aloof until they see the South is about to conquer its independence, or fail in the attempt. He has no hope of recognition of the Confederate States by either of these Powers until the occurrence of one of these events. In view of these facts, Mr. Yancey is of opinion that we might as well recall our commissioners from Europe, and await the action of foreign Powers—wait until they propose negotiation and recognition.

FAIRFAX SEMINARY SURRENDERED TO THE TRUSTEES.—Fairfax Seminary, so long occupied by secession, has been vacated and surrendered to the trustees for restoration to its original purpose of theological instruction. It is a very large institution, on a commanding site, about two miles west of Alexandria. It was founded by the late Bishop Meade. The order for the surrender of the property was given by General McClellan on the request of Cassius Lee, a trustee of the neighborhood.—N. Y. World.

A FREE COUNTRY.—The Chicago Journal, referring to the right of Wendell Phillips to talk treason, and to advocate the dissolution of the Union, says, "this is a free country." For Abolitionists, it appears to be free to say and do as they please, but it is not permitted to those who are in favor of preserving the Union and the integrity of the Constitution to express their sentiments as freely.—Dubuque (Iowa) Herald.
