Each one is a single piece of town property, located in different sections of Frederick and with quite a divergence as to value. The only way to close the estate is to sell the property.

To General Put? Nothing further except that in my judgment this is the best time to sell dwelling houses in Frederick because of lack of housing facilities making a great demand for homes.

W. H. Osburn