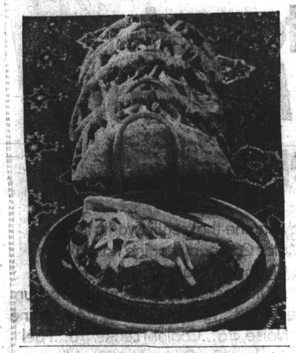
DELLA IN KITCHEN — World acclaimed entertainer, Della Reese, has a new act: she performs at the grill. Recently, Miss Reese worked with the home economists at Kraft kitchens on new recipes for the summer barbecue season. Her recipe for tacos follows:

Della's Tacos

1 lb. ground beef
¾ cup barbecue sauce
¼ cup water
½ cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon chili powder
10 to 12 tortillas
Vegetable oil
Chopped tomatoes
Shredded lettuce
Sharp natural cheddar cheese, shredded

Brown meat; drain. Stir in barbecue sauce, water, onion and chili powder. Simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Fry tortillas in hot oil until tender. Fold in half. Continue frying until crisp; drain. Fill each with meat mixture. Top with tomatoes, lettuce and cheese.

Makes 10 to 12 tacos.



IN ISRAEL .....

Leading model is black

NEW YORK — Six years ago, a black Caribbean-born singer and fashion model named Lois Chezik came to Israel to visit a friend.

She stayed, married him, and is now Israel's top fashion model who's in constant demand for her striking good looks and her flair for showing new clothes designs to best advantage.

Lois met her Israeli friend, Moshe Chezik, in Toronto, where he was on holiday from his kibbutz. She was singing at "Expo '67," just opposite the Israeli Pavilion there, and so the two met in a fittingly international locale.

She had been modeling while in Toronto, and her photos had appeared in leading Canadian newspapers as well as in Harper's Bazaar and other important fashion magazines throughout the United States.

But when Lois came to Israel, she joined Moshe on his kibbutz—and loved it. Beit Alpha Kibbutz, located a few miles from Israel's border with Jordan, was "a completely different way of life for me," Lois says.

"I learned Hebrew and worked in the kindergarten. Today people ask me if I missed my privacy living the communal life of a kibbutz. But it really didn't bother me. The people were great. I felt good at Beit Alpha."

Lois left the kibbutz only after getting a part in a production of "Show Boat" in Tel Aviv. It was at that time that she began to pose for Israeli cameras.

The internationally-known Israeli fashion house known as Gottex saw her picture and over the past few years she has represented Gottex at fashion shows in Paris, Copenhagen, Stockholm and other world capitals.

Lois is a striking beauty, tall (5' 11"), shapely and intelligent. "People really don't know much about the life and work of a model," she says. "Being a model in Israel is a prestigious job."

She says of her career: "I truly enjoy my life as a model in Israel. I wasn't raised to believe that a woman's job in life is to get married and have children.

Have a nice day

Our Black newspapers have become an excellent source of information. Of what's currently happening in Black America. What's being done about it. And what isn't.

Each week, I try to read through some fifty Black newspapers. To keep up with all that's happening.

The editorial pages of these papers are my main focus. Because they project the thinking of the real people who make up the Black communities.

The following editorial letter addresses itself to our on-going plea for unity among American Blacks. It was written by Mr. Webb Evans. And appeared in the Chicago Defender on March 7, 1977.

I'd like to share it with you.

"It is regrettable that so many Black Americans who have been mistreated in a business deal by a Black business owner turn their backs on all Black-owned businesses.

"When I tell people the need for us to support local business in order to help them succeed and improve our community, many say, 'I did business with a Black business owner once and was not treated right. Therefore, I don't do business with them anymore.'

"If these same persons are mistreated by a white business owner, they don't fall out with all white business people. This type of action seems so unfair to those Black Americans in business who are doing their best to give the public the best in merchandise and services. It can cause a lot of good Black business owners to fail and hinder our total progress.

"At a time when two-thirds of all small businesses are failing, we should unite our efforts, business and non-business people, in order to progress."

How will you respond to this challenge?

GIVING CAN BE SAVING

When you give someone a Kodak Instamatic X-15F camera, they save a bundle of memories, but you don't have to spend a bundle of money.

The X-15F is easy to use. Just drop in a film cartridge, aim and push a button. Snap on a flipflash and you can take eight flash pictures without flash batteries.

So while the Kodak Instamatic X-15F camera is less than $20, the memories of the times of your life—in beautiful color pictures—could be something to treasure for years to come.

Another great gift idea: the Kodak Instamatic X-35F camera. All the features of the X-15F plus faster lens, close-up focusing, and an electric eye that adjusts for proper exposure. Camera less than $54.

Both X-15F and X-35F cameras come in complete outfits with Kodak color film and flipflash. Outfit prices are slightly higher.
