—AREA OBITUARIES—

Mrs. Agnes M. Watts

Funeral services for Mrs. Agnes Mary Watts were held Wednesday, October 24 at Our Lady of Lourdes Family Parish. Burial was at the Arbutus Memorial Park.

Mrs. Watts was born April 18, 1898 in Baltimore to James and Ida Payne. She was the youngest of 13 children.

She attended St. Barnabas School and later Frederick Douglass High School Night School.

In 1912, she married Joseph Watts.

For many years, Mrs. Watts had been a domestic housekeeper in the Seton Hill area of the city. Her excellent sewing abilities carried her, however, to the alterations department of the May Company where she remained employed until her retirement in 1959.

A longtime member of St. Peter Claver Church, she had been an active Sodality member and a member of the Blessed Martin dePorres Society. She also was a Third Order Lay Carmelite Nun.

In 1961, she came to the Forest Park Community and became a member of Our Lady of Lourdes Family Parish where she became a member of Our Lady's Sodality. Mrs. Watts was an active volunteer for the school also.

She is survived by her children, Mrs. Martha Henley and Richard and James Watts; seven grandchildren; and great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Pamela J. Whitfield

Last rites for Mrs. Pamela Juanita Whitfield were held at the Mt. Ararat Baptist Church on Saturday, October 20. Burial was at the Eastview Cemetery.

The daughter of James and Barbara Jean Dawkins, she was born September 27, 1957 in Greenville, S.C. She died on Tuesday, October 16.

Mrs. Whitfield received her education in the local city public schools. She later married Thomas Whitfield.

Mrs. Whitfield joined Mt. Ararat Baptist Church at an early age.

She is survived by one son, Branan Beard; father, James; two brothers, Thomas and James Dawkins; sister, Celestine Taylor; grandmother, Inez Dawkins.

Larry Redfearn

Funeral services for Larry Redfearn were held at Nutter and Sons Funeral Home on Thursday, October 11. Burial was at the Woodlawn Cemetery.

He was the oldest son of Wilson and Thelma Redfearn, born May 24, 1949 in Baltimore. Mr. Redfearn died on Saturday, October 6.

Mr. Redfearn attended the Henry Winters Davis School in his early years. He graduated from Forest Park High in 1967 where he had achieved many athletic awards and metals.

Recognized for his spectacular leadership abilities, he was employed for 17 years with the Baltimore City Highway Division, operating at times as shop-steward, while paving roads in Baltimore City.

Mr. Redfearn is survived by his parents; daughters, Maya and Shayla; five sisters, Peggy Edmonds, Delphine Robinson El, Barbara, Amelia and Nadine Redfearn; three brothers, Chuckie, De Mitchelle and DeVone Redfearn.

Mrs. Dorothy Jefferson

Mrs. Dorothy Jefferson died on October 19 after a lengthy illness at Sinai Hospital.

She was born in Calvert County, Md. on August 1, 1908 to Augustus and Mary Brown.

She attended school in Calvert County and Philadelphia, Pa.

A very active community person, Mrs. Jefferson was a member of the Eastern Chapel Church in Calvert County and later moved to Baltimore where she became one of the original members of the Mt. Moriah Baptist Church.

At Mt. Moriah, she served as a Sunday School teacher.

She was employed as a cook for Brickfords for many years and worked in Gibbs Packing House.

Marriage came to Herman Jefferson.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, October 23 at Nutter and Sons Funeral Home. Burial was at the Arbutus Memorial Park.

She is survived by four daughters, Florence Curtis, Bessie Jefferson, Ruth Young and Naomi Hopkins; son, William Brown; 16 grandchildren, six great-grandchildren.

Albert Simpson, Jr., dead at 49

Last rites for Albert Simpson, Jr. were Thursday, October 25 at the William C. March Funeral Home. Burial was at the Eastview Memorial Park.

Mr. Simpson was the son of Willie Mae Patterson and Albert Howard Simpson, Sr., born March 16, 1935 in Baltimore.

He died on Sunday, October 21, 1984.

He received his education at Paul Laurence Dunbar Senior High School. More recently, he had begun studying for the ministry.

Mr. Simpson is survived by his mother, Willie Mae; children, Lordina Bailey, Jarritt, Sandra, Alva, Albert and Veronica Simpson.

Samuel Stuart Douglas, pioneer moving projectionist

Samuel Stuart Douglass, one of Baltimore's pioneer moving picture projectionists, died at age 80 on Sunday, October 21 at Provident Hospital.

Funeral services were held Thursday, October 25 at the Marshall Jones Funeral Home.

Rev. W.L. Clayton, pastor of Macedonia Baptist and a family friend, conducted services. The Clayton and Douglass families were longtime neighbors in the 900 block Fremont Ave.

In the 1930's, Mr. Douglass' father, George, founded the family movie projectionist business. For years, he and his sons operated the movie picture cameras at the city's black theatres—the Roosevelt, the Regent, the Royal and the Lincoln.

After retirement, Mr. Douglass enjoyed his favorite pastime, traveling.

Born in Baltimore to Florence and George Douglass, he received his education in local city schools.

His first wife, the former Roche Burgess, died 25 years ago. Marriage came later to the former Julia Scott of Virginia.

Mr. Douglass is survived by children, Stuart Douglass, Delores Duke, Shirley Stewart; wife, Julia Douglass; granddaughters, Sherrill Campbell, Karen Stewart and Lori Duke; grandsons, Phillip and Wayne Stewart and Leslie Duke, Jr.

Miss Betty F. Lambert is dead

Miss Betty Florence Lambert, a very active member of the Baltimore Central Unit Congregation of Jehovah Witnesses, died on Sunday, October 21 at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

She was born August 31, 1916 in Blackridge, Va. to William and Alverta Powell Lambert.

She came to Baltimore at an early age and lived for years with her sister. For nearly 36 years, she worked for Dr. Samuel Lumpkin.

Originally a member of the Good Hope Church in Virginia, Miss Lambert later joined the Jehovah Witnesses with which she became very active.

Funeral services were held at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses on Thursday, October 25.

Miss Lambert is survived by four sisters, Vernice Branch, Alma Gundy, Cindy Lashley and Carrie Mae Dean; and brother, John Lambert.

Melville Westbrook Pugh, Sr.

Longtime Bethlehem Steel Company employee Melville Westbrook Pugh, Sr. died on Monday, October 22 at the Franklin Square Hospital after a lengthy illness.

He was born in Newburgh, Orange County, N.Y. on March 25, 1902, the oldest of three children from the union of William Thomas and Miriam Mason Pugh.

He received his basic education in the Newburgh Public Schools.

During his adolescent years he sought odd jobs in order to help the family make ends meet after his father's death. They moved to Virginia.

In the post-World War I period, he began to hear accounts of men migrating to Baltimore for jobs. Shortly afterwards, he moved to the city and became employed with the Bethlehem Steel Company.

He held some of the toughest jobs in the steel mill until he was transferred to the No. 2 Machine Shop and later became an overhead crane operator.

For 20 years, he held his position as crane operator and in 1972, after 48 years of service, retired from Bethlehem Steel.

As a dapper young man in the Sparrows Point community, he met and married the former Evelyn Debath Brown.

For the past 30 years, Mr. Pugh's hobbies have included photography, home movies, collecting drinking steins, gardening, traveling, playing the organ and repairing small appliances. After retirement, he began to concentrate on developing his playing on the organ.

Funeral services were held at Nutter and Sons Funeral Home on Thursday, October 25. Burial was at the Lakeview Memorial Park in Skyesville.

He is survived by his wife, Evelyn; daughter, Lenora Campbell; four sons, Melville, Jr., Fenton, Harry and Joseph Pugh.

students, the difficulties they have, bad economic times, low funding, and scarce resources, and the need for parent involvement in the PTA and in the curriculum. She also reminded all that it is important to lift the morale of both students and teachers.

In addressing the issue of the importance of education to our race, she told the assemblage: "Our progress as a people can be no faster than our progress in education."

Her address drew raves and many stood to applaud her. She also received a gift of flowers from the chapter, and a crystal mouse (her hobby is collecting them) presented by Jean Beckett.

Remarks of thanks were given by Mrs. Leanna Ferrell, chapter basileus; acknowledgements by Mrs. Jean Beckett and the benediction by Mrs. Myrtle Stanley.

Gamma Chapter of the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc. was founded Oct. 12, 1929 through the efforts of Lena Holcomb Dickerson and Romalee Jones. Gamma is the third of 76 chapters of a professional organization among teachers and to promote the highest ideals of the teaching profession.

On the Breakfast Committee were Charlotte E. Brooks, chairperson; Vera Bethune, co - chairperson; Ruth Fauntleroy, financial chairperson; Jean Beckett, Calperta Cann, Sylvia Cotborne, Lois Davenport, Ida Eley, Marjorie Hunt, Erma Maddox and Myrtle Stanley.
