generous goodwill into this situation, surely it is the disciples of him who long centuries ago walked out into the ancient world, where the problem was harder than it is with us, and set his disciples saying, Neither Jew nor Greek, Scythian, barbarian, bond nor free, but one man in Christ.

There is a fine story that comes from the Zulu wars in Africa. A British officer was sent out with a contingent of his men against the Zulus. The Zulus sent out a peace messenger and the British by mistake shot him. That touched the honor of the British officer. He turned his command over to his lieutenant. He disarmed himself and all alone he walked out from the British ranks toward his enemies. In surprise the Zulus took him in and brought him to their chief. "I have come," said the British officer, "to give myself up because we shot your peace messenger by mistake. It is a thing brave warriors never do. I am very sorry. To make amends I place my life in your hands. Do with me as you will." And after a moment's silence the Zulu chief said, "You are a man, and your people are men, and the sons of men; we too are men. We will make peace."

Third prize: A poem. "On Lenox", by Laura Tanne $10
Second, Economic Prizes offered by 5 Negro banks and 7 Negro insurance societies as follows:
One First Prize .....$200.
One Second Prize ..... 150.
One Third Prize ..... 100.
Two Fourth Prizes ..... 50. each
Eight Prizes for Honorable Mention ..... 25. each
A total of .....$750.

Entries for these prizes close December 31, 1928, and the awards will be announced in the early spring of 1929.

We are laying down as few specific rules as possible for these entries. They may be stories, essays, cartoons, experiences or even poems; but they must deal with the economic life and history of the Negro—his work, income, business, organization, etc. They must be clear, informing, and of reasonable length for publication in THE CRISIS; they must indicate sound knowledge and careful work.
