Poetry.

Song of the Mountain Boy.

FROM THE GERMAN OF UHLAND.

I am the mountain shepherd boy!
A noble prospect I enjoy;
I catch the sun's first morning beams,
Here linger, too, his latest gleams.
I am the mountain boy!

Here in the torrent's native cell,
I drink it from its rocky well;
If gushes forth in wildest bound,
I seize it with my arms around.
I am the mountain boy!

The mountain—'tis my heritage;
Tempests around their battles wage
From North and South, their blasts they call.
Yet this my song sounds o'er them all:
I am the mountain boy!

Thunder and lightning under me,
The azure sky above, I see;
I greet the storm with friendly tone;
"Oh leave my father's house alone!"
I am the mountain boy!

And when the bell begins to toll,
And mountain fires their flame-wreaths roll
Down to the vale I wend my way
And swing my sword and sing my lay:
"I am the mountain boy!"

YORICK.

THE BATTLE OF CHURUBUSCO.—Conduct of the South Carolinians.—From Claiborne's Life of John A. Quitman, we extract the following regarding the conduct of the South Carolinians at the battle of Churubusco. It is well worth reading:

"Col. Butler, of the South Carolinians, had strongly stood against the remonstrances of his friends to lead the Palmetto to the contest. Early in the engagement his horse was shot under him. Soon after he received a painful wound in the knee, and yielded the command to Lieutenant-Colonel Dickinson. Taking the Palmetto Flag from the hands of Sergeant [illegible] Dickinson placed himself at the head of his regiment. He was immediately shot down. Colonel Butler now came up to resume the command, and was killed by the last Dragoon who was standing under the flag. Dickinson himself fell mortally wounded, died some weeks afterward, and Major Gladden received it from his hand. Lieutenant Elmore, who had gone to Mexico on leave of absence to serve as aide-de-camp to General Quitman, placed it in the hands of Patrick Leonard, and led his regiment to the charge. He was killed rapidly, but not before waved from rest to last under the concentrated fire of the enemy. In the wide history of war there has never been a more strikingly exemplary adherence to death, the result of sacred resolve. Each man fought for the honor of Carolina. Several companies were almost annihilated. Some had not time enough to bury their dead, or bear their wounded to the ambulances. The uniforms of some of the officers were literally torn from their persons; the color-bearers were shot down, but the flag, battle-lit in the red blood, was always seized as they fell and borne to the front. Proudly it floated through the tempest of death until the victory had been won, and then, all torn and blood-stained, it dropped over its own glorious dead. The regiment entered the battle with two hundred and seventy-three rank and file, and when it was over it mustered one hundred and sixty. It had no missing; its dead and wounded made up the deficiency.

DIPHTHERIA.—As the newspapers are full of remedies for this dangerous affection of the throat, some of them very good, and some very silly, we will give one which we know to be used by some eminent physicians and which we have never known to fail if applied immediately. Diphtheria, in its early stages, may be recognized by any person of ordinary capacity, by two marked symptoms, the sensation of a bone or hard substance in the throat, rendering swallowing difficult and painful, as the marked factor, or unpleasant smell of the breath, the result of its putrefactive tendency. On the appearance of these symptoms if the patient is old enough to do so, give a piece of gum camphor, of the size of a marrowfat pea, and let it be retained in the mouth, swallowing slowly the saliva charged with it until it is all gone. In about an hour or so give another, and at the call of another hour a third; a fourth will not usually be required. But if the pain and unpleasant breath are not relieved, it may be repeated two or three times more, at little longer intervals, say two hours.

If the child is young, powder the camphor, which can easily be done by adding a drop or two of spirits or alcohol to it, and mix it with an equal quantity of powdered loaf sugar or better, powdered rock candy, and blow it through a quill or tube into its throat, depressing the tongue with the haft of a spoon. Two or three applications will relieve. Some recommend powdered aloes or gellitory with the camphor, but observation and experience have satisfied us that the camphor is sufficient alone. It acts probably by its virtue as diffusible stimulant, and antiseptic qualities.—New York Examiner.

A MONSTER RIVER.—The Mississippi River extends 2,100 miles from the frozen regions of the North to the sunny South, and with the Missouri River, is 4,500 miles in length. It would reach from New York across the Atlantic Ocean, or from France to Turkey and the Caspian Sea. Its average depth is fifty feet, and its width over half a mile. The floods are more than a month traveling from its source to its delta. The trappers can exchange the furs of animals caught by them on the Upper Mississippi for the tropical fruits gathered on the banks below. The total value of steamers afloat on the river and its tributaries is more than $60,000,000, numbering 1,600 boats, with more than twice the steamboat tonnage of England. It drains an area of 1,200,000 square miles, and washes the shores of twelve powerful States. In one single reservoir at Lake Pepin, between Wisconsin and Minnesota, 2,500 miles from the sea, the navies of the world might ride at anchor.

THE CITIES OF THE UNION.—According to the recent census, the ten principal cities of the Union rank in population as follows: New York 1st, Philadelphia 2d, Brooklyn 3d, Baltimore 4th, Boston 5th, New Orleans 6th, St. Louis 7th, Cincinnati 8th, Chicago 9th, Buffalo 10th.

An Important Letter
From Rev. JACOB SECKER, well known and highly respected throughout the State of Pennsylvania.
HAGARS, Pa., February 16, 1859.
Messrs. S. W. Fowle & Co., Boston.—Dear Sir: Having family important to me, I think it my duty to inform you of the benefit my daughter received from the use of your valuable preparation of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. Her case was considered by her friends and myself to be a hopeless case of Consumption. Her cough was very severe and distressing, and little hopes were entertained. I thought I would try one more of your valuable preparations. To our surprise and joy, it was the means of her recovery. I think that the whole of the contents of the bottle, that she took, was a great improvement to her health. I have many individuals in my charge to whom I have recommended the use of your valuable medicine, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure. I think it my duty to make this statement, that others may be benefited. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is my family medicine.

HAGERSTOWN ADVERTISEM'T.

GEISER'S
PATENT SELF-REGULATING
GRAIN SEPARATOR,
CLEANER AND BAGGER,
AND THE LATEST IMPROVED
Iron Tripple-Geared
HORSE-POWER,
All furnished Complete, if desired, on Four Wheels.
THE subscribers desire to call the attention of the Farmers and Thrashermen of Montgomery and adjoining counties to their Improved Machine for the present year. This machine has now been before the public for six years, during which time it has earned for itself the reputation of being the best Separator in use; and we have made some very important improvements and additions for the present year, which renders it still more perfect, and we take pleasure in recommending it to the public, knowing that it cannot fail to give general satisfaction. We are now manufacturing two different sizes, as follows:
No. 1, the largest size, is 8-horse power, 36 inch Iron Cylinder, Trunk 37 inches wide, with Stacker, delivering the straw 30 feet beyond the feeder and upon the stack 16 feet high, and can be easily managed either to carry the chaff with the straw, or deliver it in a separate place if required. It bags the grain, by reasonable management, sufficiently clean for market, and its capacity, under ordinary circumstances, is from 200 to 40 bushels per hour, or from 200 to 700 bushels per day, using eight horses and the same number of hands; but to force the work, under the most favorable circumstances, it will do considerably more, or, with the same number of horses and less hands, it will thrash and clean as much or more grain per day than any other machine now in common use and with much more ease and agreeableness to the hands.
No. 2 is the same as No. 1, except something less in size and capacity; it is from 7 to 8-horse power, 30 inch Iron Cylinder, Trunk 21 inches wide.
Persons having good Thrashers, can have a separator suitable to their capacity, attached, for a comparatively small cost. All our machines are sold under a warrantee.
We being practical mechanics, and being engaged in the manufacture of these machines for the last five years, and one of us having the advantage of twenty years practical experience in the thrashing machine business, and having in our employ the most skillful workmen, and using the best material, we flatter ourselves that we are now prepared to manufacture these celebrated machines in the most substantial manner.
REPAIRING done in workmanlike manner. All our work warranted to give satisfaction, or no sale. Orders respectfully solicited.
