Year About to End -

Maryland's hunting license agents are reminded that the 1969-70 license year is ending.

All of the agents now should send in their unused licenses and deer-turkey stamps for refunds, says Charles Maire of the License division of the Department of Game and Inland Fish.

Maize says the new 1970-71 licenses should be available at the distributors during the last week of this month.

By the way...

by Joe Black

"Be honest with everyone...especially yourself." That's a little saying I heard a long time ago. It's not very eloquent or clever, but I like it. It sums up in a phrase, the essence of a series of Greyhound Community Service ads entitled: BY THE WAY, by Joe Black.

The ads are placed in black newspapers. Adaptations of them are heard over black-oriented radio stations. They are written in an effort to shake people out of their complacency about subjects of great concern to the black community. In these ads, I say what I believe ...not necessarily what I think you want to hear.

So, when you hear my voice on the air, or read my words in the paper, remember that they are not merely to inform or impose my views upon you...but simply to make you think about things in a way you may not have thought about them before.

I am not a preacher or a teacher. I'm citizen Joe Black, fortunate enough to be able to talk to thousands of people and hopefully influence them to re-examine solutions to black problems in a new and constructive light. I still feel strongly that the things that unite people of good will are much more important than the things that divide them.

BY THE WAY, by Joe Black, is just a small voice asking humbly for a little more sanity, a little more honesty, and a lot more thinking through of what we are doing and the methods we are using to realistically solve the problems of our black community.

had a return ticket by air from Los Angles to El Paso but decided at the last minute to drive back," said Don Cinge, Grant's booking agent in El Paso.

Grant performed at the Jurez club for three days last week but flew back to Los Angeles Monday, planning to return for performances this weekend.

* * *

Born in Idabel, Okla., the son of a Baptist minister, Grant was one of 12 children. He started playing the piano and organ at the age of our at father's services.

His instrumental version of "Ebbtide" sold in the millions and he had nearly 50 record albums to his credit. His latest, scheduled for release next month was entitled "Brand New Me."

* * *

Grant was graduated from the University of Southern California and had planned to teach music but the popularity he gained while a soldier stationed at Ft. Bliss near El Paso, turned him into a full-time performer.

During his career, Grant also appeared in such movies as "Tender is the Night," "Imitation of Life" and "Tokoyo Nights."
