To Merchants, &c.

A YOUNG MAN of experience, who has been regularly bred to business, writes a fair hand, calculates correctly, and is a good accomptant, wishes for a situation in a merchant's counting-house, or with a respectable wholesale grocer; his knowledge in the latter business will be found extensive, and hopes from his assiduity to be found an acquisition to any house he may be employed in. The advertiser is not confined to any one line of business—will have no objection to assist in any department, wherein punctuality and integrity may be relied on. Terms will be found moderate, and the most respectable references will be given for character. A personal interview will be given by addressing C. C. at the office of this paper.
