MOST COLORFUL sight is the border of Floribundas Spartan roses trailing along the 500 foot waterfront of the seaside home of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Thomas at Waters Edge, Dundalk.

This time of year, the gardens are a riot of color with rhododendrum, camellias, hydrangeas, petunias, hyacinths and geranium in blossom.

The gold fish pond is topped with water lilies and water hyacinths which open early in the morning, close in the evening.

The holly grove of 19 trees is bright green to form a background for the brilliant flowers artistically arranged in borders or groupings.

This was the scene that greeted Vice - president William R. Talbert, ambassador George Padmore and other Liberian dignitaries, Morgan State College officials and guests who were hosted by Dr. Thomases aboard their yacht Saturday.

Langston's future assured by law

LANGSTON, Okla. — Recent action by the Oklahoma Legislature has assured the future of Langston University that its "services will be increasingly required in the interest of Oklahoma citizens in the years which lie ahead."

The assurance was given when Gov. J. Howard Edmondson signed House Joint Resolution 538 into law. Introduced by Rep. Dick Fogarty and Sen. Louis H. Ritzhaupt, both of Logan County, the measure was co-authored by 93 members in the House and 24 in the Senate.

Earlier in the year, the Legislature commended President Hale for the strength of his leadership at gram. Langston and pledged legislative assistance and cooperation in carrying out his pro- ton was established in 1897.

The Rev. James Adams, pastor of Metropolitan Methodist Church, Glen Burnie, Md., a former Boy Scout master, claims that scout training helps mould good citizens and serves as a foundation for success in life.

He cites Donald C. Roane, 26, Baltimore, one of nine college graduates in the nation, chosen for four -year medical scholarships by the National Medical Fellowships, Inc. of Chicago.

Mr. Roane will enter the University of Maryland School of Medicine this fall under the scholarship which will provide him with $1,000 a year for four years training to become a physician.

He also cites Philip Roane, his brother, who is now studying for a Ph.D. degree in microbiology at Johns Hopkins University.

The Roane brothers, two of seven sons of Philip Roane Sr., 1100 N. Mount St. were in scouting in 1939 in Baltimore when the Rev. Mr. Adams was master of Pack 297 at old Trinity AME Church then located at Linden Ave. and Biddle St.

Donald Roane was the first official cub scout of Troop 297. His brother was also a member in later years. Both spent their youth in attaining the goals of the organization, she sister said.

The Rev. Mr. Adams also discovered other successful scouts on his old books, including John G. Gloster, assistant to the president of Morgan State College and Dr. William Beaman, local dentist.

MRS. MARGARET ARMSTRONG was the winner of the contest held aboard the S.S. Bay Belle when the St. Mary's Episcopal Church gave the moonlight excursion Friday.

Coming Sunday from 3 to 6 p.m. is the gala reception at the Masonic Temple, Eutaw Place and Lanvale St., for Mrs. Annie W. Johnson, grand most ancient matron, and James E. Parker, grand Joshua, Heroine of Jerico.

A DELIGHTFUL summer affair was the closing meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the McKeldin Republican Club held at the home of the president, Mrs. Ruby Gill, in Shadyside Sunday.

The event closed an interesting year for the group which held regular meetings at the home of Mrs. Esther Roberts, 2568 McCulloh St.

New officers for the 1961-62 year are Mrs. Gilh president; Mrs. Roberts, vice-president; Mrs. Gloria Johnson, recording secretary, Mrs. Floree Montgomery, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Catherine Jones, treasurer; Mrs. Bertha Cross, chaplain.

Dr. Robert Gill presided at the installation of officers. Mrs. Gill and Mrs. Montgomery, representatives at the Federation of Republican Women of Maryland rally at Cambridge, Md. this spring, gave a report to the organization.

Those attending the picnic meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Roberts, Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. LeVallis Banks and children; Mrs. Mary Clark, Mrs. Georgia Boston, Mrs. Gloria Johnson, Mrs. Adelaid Jordan, Mrs. Helen Atkins, Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Loury.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

"When the practice of outlawing parties and various public groups begins, no one can say where it will end."
—Associate of the Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black

Yet the truth is that in the entire 42-year history of the Communist Party not a single member has been convicted or even indicted as a foreign agent or for engaging in sabotage or treason. Nor has a single member ever been convicted of an act of force directed against our government.

Fellow-Americans:

Your constitutional rights, your security and welfare, have been placed in mortal danger by decisions of a one-vote majority in the Supreme Court in two so-called anti-Communist cases on June 5, 1961.

By a 5 to 4 vote (including Justice Tom Clark, who should have disqualified himself as the Attorney General who first indicted Communist leaders in 1948 under the Smith Act) the Court has now imperilled the rights of all Americans.

For the first time in America's history, voluntary associations are made subject to "registration by the Federal government, and activity on behalf of a legal political party is to be treated as a crime. This is the meaning of the registration requirements of the McCarran Act of 1950 and the membership clause of the Smith Act of 1940, both of which were upheld by the Supreme Court majority.

As a result

"The Communist Party of the U.S.A. is ordered to register as an "action organization" described in the law as an agent of a foreign power promoting a conspiracy based on espionage, sabotage, terrorism, and other heinous crimes. As such it is required to list publicly its officers and members.

Persons described as "active" Communists can be jailed on testimony it was their "intent" to bring about the forcible overthrow of the government.

Under the McCarran Act a body of appointed government officials, the Subversive Activities Control Board, is given the right to decide who may or may not voluntarily associate themselves in any organization. The Board may decide this, moreover, partly on the basis of the legislative "findings" of guilt in the Act itself. The accused is denied the right to trial.

At the same time these laws make it possible to attach the false designation of "action organization" or "front" to political parties, peace groups, labor unions, Negro organizations and a wide variety of civic bodies. After that, their members are deprived of many rights. They become subject to criminal prosecution unless they accede to public self-denunciation as traitors to their country or join the anti-Communist witch hunt.

Failure to comply with the registration order carries the fantastic penalty of a five-year prison sentence and a $10,000 fine, for each day of such failure.

In Hitler Germany a special group, the Jews, were singled out and compelled to wear a yellow arm band with the Star of David. In the U.S. today—unless the McCarran and Smith Acts are nullified—organizations which refuse to conform to the views of the powers-that-be are likewise to be compelled to bear a government-designed brand.

Under the labelling provision of the McCarran Act even the Declaration of Independence or the Bible—if distributed by a group branded by the S.A.C.B. as a "Communist action" organization—would be required to bear on their covers a label designating them as Communist propaganda.

Any group can under the McCarran Act be designated as a "Communist front" organization and be forced to register and suffer similar sanctions if it merely took a position which the SACB regarded as paralleling a position of the Communist Party.

Nor is organized labor immune. More than once, unions have been branded by courts as conspiracies seeking illegal ends. Today they are shackled by the Taft-Hartley and Landrum-Griffin Acts which subject them to close government control. From here it is not a long step to their inclusion in a "Communist front" dragnet.

Once labelled, an organization's members become liable by that very act to prosecution under the individual membership clause of the Smith Act—a built-in unconstitutional self-incrimination device. Clearly, the Communist Party cannot go alone with such un-American practices, no more than can militant trade unions be the embattled Southern chapters of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People when faced with like demands.

The Court majority's disregard of traditional constitutional rights rests basically on two stale fraudulent arguments that the Communists are foreign agents and that they advocate the forceful overthrow of our government.

The "foreign agent" canard has been used by reaction throughout our history to divide popular movements and discredit dissenters. Thomas Jefferson and his followers were labelled "jacobins," agents of the French Revolution. Sen. Robert LaFollette and other loyal Americans were assailed as "pro-German" because they opposed our entrance into World War I. And have not our Catholic fellow-Americans, in and out of public life, been slanderously hounded as loyal to a foreign power, the Vatican?

To discard cherished democratic American rights in the name of "fighting communism" can only disgrace our nation. It places us in the company of fascist nations and military dictatorships. Only undemocratic countries resort to extraordinary laws banning the Communist Parties. Significantly, in those countries where reaction does not rule Communists have normal legal rights as part of the political community. Indeed, Communist Parties today exist as entirely legal organizations in more than a score of countries.

The McCarran Act was jammed through Congress on September 30, 1950 in the Korean War hysteria over the veto of President Truman.

In his veto message President Truman warned:

"... these (registration) provisions are not merely ineffective and unworkable. They represent a clear and present danger to our institutions."

These words were not heeded, and the Act, with its fantastic registration provisions which would require the Party's officers to be informers for a police dragnet, was passed. But this cannot and will not happen. There will be no betrayal of the confidence of a single member or supporter of the party or any organization or trade union.

The Communist Party will defend its right to a legal existence under the Constitution and the Bill of Rights as a legitimate current in American political life, a movement that can trace its history back a full century into our history, from the Communists who supported Lincoln and the Union through the old Socialist Party. The Communist Party has taken legal steps to expunge re-branding by the Supreme Court and will exhaust every resource to halt the oppression of these iniquitous laws and their dire consequences for the liberties of all Americans.

At the same time the Communist Party will place its case before the highest court of all, the bar of public opinion. For we have profound confidence in the great democratic traditions of our land and are fully convinced that the Court's 5-4 decisions of June 5 will yet be reversed by a popular majority.

We recall that a Supreme Court majority once held in the Dred Scott case that a Negro had no rights that a white man was bound to respect—and that this decision was swept away and that the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments were added to our Constitution. We recall that another court in the infamous Plessy v. Ferguson decision decreed the pernicious "separate but equal" doctrine of segregation—and that this, too, was later swept away. And we recall that in President Roosevelt's time a reactionary majority decreed against New Deal laws—only to be swept aside by the popular will.

We have a profound confidence in the American people. We are proud of those in the American tradition—Abolitionists, trade unionists, liberals, Negro leaders—who contributed so much to the democratic struggle and never flinched before threats of prosecution, jail or terror. Today's Freedom Riders are in that great tradition.

Sharing that heritage, we Communists face the future calmly. Neither the Palmer Raids of the World War I period nor the persecutions of the McCarthy era succeeded in destroying the Communist movement. Nowhere in the world has fascism, terror or repression accomplished that aim. The Communist Party of the U.S.A. will survive and the struggle for peace, security, democracy and a socialist order ending the exploitation of man by man will survive—and grow.

It is not for ourselves alone that we speak. For we know full well that reactionary laws like the McCarran and Smith Acts have an evil purpose and a relentless logic that in action threaten the nation the destruction of the democratic rights of all began with the attack "only" on the Communists. Inevitably the assault spread and sought to destroy all who stood for peace, economic security and democratic rights—the trade unions, Socialists, the Jews, the liberals.

That is why we say to all our fellow-Americans, irrespective of political faith: The bell tolls not for the Communists alone but for the hard-won rights of all Americans. All must act together to save American constitutional liberties.

Let the President, the Attorney General and Congress know that America wants an end to these fascist-like laws. America does not want to go down the road to concentration camps and a garrison state. Americans want to maintain their constitutional rights to proceed in their own way towards their own new frontiers through the political parties and voluntary organizations of their own free choice.

SORORS FROM Baltimore's Iota Chapter (largest in the sorority) attended, led by chapter basileus Susie Myles and delegates Valarie Brown and Doris Davis White.

In the group were Sorors Iona Smith, Mary Johnson, Ethel Covington, Ida Wroten, Fannie Ewell, Imogene Douglass, Louise Anderson, Louise Turks, Olifia Bates, Mary Mitchell, Esther Morris, Dorothy Pollard, Arabella Ross, Bertha Sembly, Bettye Shelton, Ida Dorsey, Ella Johnson, Myrtle Jones and Eleanore Moore, (who rushed up from Baltimore to direct

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

by ZORAH ELICKSON

Remember that you cannot see the future and it is a blessing that you can't. God only reveals it to us a day at a time so we must have faith that He will do what is best for us. Trust in Him and be confident that no miracle in human life is impossible for Him and gladly leave your future in His hands. Do not worry and fret over the problems that might arise tomorrow.
