CERTIFICATE OF QUALITY

This is to certify that I have had charge of all the Seed Potatoes grown for J. Bolgiano & Son during this growing season. I have been with them since April 15th, looked after the selecting of their seed and the treating of the same, have also had charge of the spraying during the growing season. There was nothing planted but the very best selected seed and no pains have been left undone to have them right. The crop is now being harvested and the results of my work are most satisfactory. We are harvesting one of the largest crops ever grown in Aroostook County, Maine, and of the best quality, free from any disease and true to name. I spent some time in Washington, D. C., with the Horticultural Board before coming here and their advice of producing FIRST CLASS SEED have been followed. Yours truly, (Signed) C. B. BISHOP, Plant Pathologist.

Farmers Are Advised to Establish Small Flocks in the Fall.

(Prepared by United States department of agriculture.)

Farmers will do well, according to the United States department of agriculture, to establish a small flock of sheep on their farms in the fall. Twenty-five or thirty ewes purchased in the fall at the beginning of the breeding season can be maintained through the winter with proper care and attention at comparatively little expense. In return they will do much to keep the farm free from weeds, will provide a welcome supply of excellent and wholesome food for the farm table, and their mutton and wool add considerably to the farm income. In the southern states the department of agriculture recommends, however, that sheep be garded strictly as a supplemental according to the advice of the government experts farmers should direct

VALUE OF ALFALFA

Upon the growing of alfalfa depend the things that lead to a better agricultural system, which in turn leads to living on the farm and making the farm a real home. We choose alfalfa because it is the most profitable crop. It excels other crops in yield per acre in feeding value, as a drought resister and soil enricher. It increases farm values and leads to live stock farming. To grow alfalfa successfully a man has to put his head and his body into the work. It will almost surely make of him a live stock farmer. And the people who have live stock upon their farms have good homes and good schools, and they are good citizens. Professor P. G. Holden.

Birds may be gathered about us in all seasons of the year with ease and certainty needs to offering what they desire. In winter they are often pushed for food and if we supply this need they will repay daily at the hitch counter and help to relieve the tedium of office life. In summer they care less for food provided by their human friends and other means must be sought to satisfy the cravings of the home. They appreciate fresh water for their bathing and drinking. A shallow pool of varying depth for food is a great delight to them. Bird houses must be [illegible] in the trees. Birds in [illegible] are [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and
