Vivacious Jean Claiborne, St. Louis, Missouri

The career girl who makes life easier for 50 thousand homemakers

Jean Claiborne has been a Market Consultant for the Carnation Company for the past ten years.

She conducts cooking classes, talks at PTA and club meetings, appears on television, and shows young mothers how to prepare infant formulas with Carnation Evaporated Milk.

"I had plenty of extra practice with my own 3-year-old, Michael. His doctor recommended Carnation for his formula, of course."

Mrs. Claiborne conducts dozens of cooking demonstrations every year.

"I love to show the smoothness of puddings made with Carnation," she says. (See recipe at right.)

Carnation is the milk that looks, pours and even whips like golden country cream—at ½ the cost!

Carnation in the red and white can is the world's favorite brand

Little Michael Claiborne loves Carnation. Mixed with an equal amount of water, it's still as rich as state standards for whole milk.

RECIPE:

Carnation

DOUBLE-QUICK BANANA PUDDING

(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

24 to 28 vanilla wafers
1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
1 cup undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK
1 cup water
1 to 2 sliced bananas

Line a 1-quart casserole with vanilla wafers. Mix the pudding mix, Carnation and water in a saucepan. Cook according to package directions. Pour half of pudding mixture into lined casserole. Top with banana slices. Place remaining wafers on top of pudding. Cover with remaining pudding mixture. Chill before serving.
