You might want to know cancer's seven warning signals. So if you spot one you'll get the message.

And the message is—see your doctor. Pronto. Sure a signal can be a false alarm. But then again, it just might be the real thing. And if it is, the sooner you act, the better the chance to beat cancer.

These are the signals to be on the lookout for:
1. Unusual bleeding or discharge. 2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere. 3. A sore that does not heal. 4. Change in bowel or bladder habits. 5. Hoarseness or cough. 6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. 7. Change in size or color of a wart or mole.

Be alert to these signals. If one lasts more than two weeks, see your doctor. End of message.
