Magnavox
Super Bright Picture Tube™

The black Matrix tube—in all Magnavox 25" (diagonal) consoles . . . has precise red, green and blue phosphor dots completely surrounded by a black matrix to absorb more reflected room light and to give you better picture contrast with far more brightness than offered in conventional non-matrix or positive matrix picture tubes. And, a new clearer face plate permits greater light output from the phosphor dots. You'll enjoy exciting color brilliance and definition of detail.

Model 4736—Mediterranean styling grained Pecan finish.

Although space-saving in size, these lovely consoles are very "large" in performance features and fine furniture styling! The same high degree of quality, reliability and performance as is found in larger Magnavox models is incorporated into these outstanding values. Each offers all the marvelous advantages of the Videomatic Color System—that does everything you expect from a "one-button" system . . . plus more! They even automatically adjust the picture to give you the right balance of brightness, contrast and color—under any light conditions. And they offer the proven reliability of a modular 100% solid-state chassis. Advanced Matrix picture tube technology, too! Good to look at—on or off—the cabinets are beautifully finished on selected hardwood solids, hardboard and non-wood material.
