CAN CONSUMPTION BE CURED?
CAN CONSUMPTION BE CURED?

Public opinion for the most part, and a large proportion of the physicians of every civilized nation, would answer this question in the negative. But Dr. Schenck has proved the contrary of the proposition. Evidenced by the cures already effected by his system and medicines, and vouched for by certificates from many grateful patients.

That there is a stage in the disease beyond cure is undoubted; but the symptoms of this stage are too often mistaken, and all hope is lost when the mind of the patient has become convinced that his condition is incurable. One lung may be entirely gone, and the other diseased with tubercles, and yet a cure be not only possible, but, in many cases, probable, and in some even certain, if the advice and prescriptions of Dr. Schenck are implicitly followed.

In no case after an examination, will he give the promise, or even hold out the expectation of a cure, unless, in his heart, he is morally certain of success. But to accomplish it, he must be assisted by the patient.

Firstly.—The patient must have faith in the sincerity of his opinion, in his professional ability to form a correct opinion, in the judgment to be exercised by him in the treatment, and in the efficacy of his remedies.

Secondly.—The patient must rigidly obey his instructions in regard to diet and the regular taking of his medicines, both as to times and quantities.

If these conditions are fulfilled, and if a cure be promised by Dr. Schenck, that cure will be effected. And even in cases beyond cure, while yet but a few days of life remain, he can yet palliate and soothe the most aggravated symptoms, giving comparative relief while life lasts, and soothing the downward pathway for the patient to the tomb. Next to cure this is the most wonderful feature of his treatment.

Those who have witnessed the last few days of the life of loved ones afflicted with this terrible disease, can appreciate how great would have been their consolation in the recollection that those weeks, instead of being weeks of agony and distress, had peacefully and tranquilly glided by. The loved one, conscious not of pain, but of the untiring solicitude of friends and relatives, able to appreciate their love and sufficiently undisturbed to prepare, even in the hours of death, for an undying existence hereafter.

We make no assertions in regard to the cures effected by Dr. SCHENCK which cannot be substantiated by incontrovertible evidence. It needs only that those who have occasion for such aid as he can give, or their friends, should examine into his merits to be convinced of his ability to cure. They can see now, in almost every city of the Union, those who have been his patients, who justly and gratefully are ready to bear witness by word to his professional skill, and many of whom have presented him with certificates, properly attested, of the particulars of their cures. There are, indeed, cases, which he has failed to cure. But those were cases in which the disease had been suffered to progress until in the final and fatal stage, before application had been made to Dr. SCHENCK, and although in many of these instances there were apparently but a few days of life in the patient, he has almost invariably succeeded in prolonging life and palliating suffering for weeks, and sometimes even for months.

These, be it remembered, were hopeless cases, in which he had simply undertaken to palliate suffering, not to effect cures. And while resulting fatally, they may have been used and cited by rivals in the profession as a basis for prejudice against Dr. Schenck and his medicines, the friends and relatives of the deceased have been ever ready cheerfully to accord proper and grateful acknowledgment to his skill, not, as before stated, in no single instance where he has promised a cure has he failed to effect it.

To accomplish cures the ancient and track-worn system has been entirely repudiated and set aside, and a new, brilliant and original system adopted by Dr. Schenck. He having, after a long course of study, by professional business, judgment and the most extensive practical experience, devoted his ingenuity and the energies of a comprehensive mind to the discovery of such remedies as would act, in combination with each other, on the entire human system, through those channels by which the health and vital energies are sustained and restored. We allude to the nerves, the stomach, the liver, the blood, through regular and healthy action of the digestive organs, the heart, the brain, and lastly, the all-important maintenance or restoration of the lungs to a healthful condition. In a word, these organs are all dependent on each other, and on the uniformly healthy condition of each doth the normal condition of the body and mind, and even the continuance of life itself depend, just as in any complicated and intricate machinery the disarrangement of the smallest wheel, pinion or pivot will impair or stop the action of the whole machine.

In pursuance of this theory, and in demonstration of its success in practice, Dr. Schenck has discovered and is using:

FIRST.—His Famous Mandrake Pills—acting as a gentle or powerful aperient, in proportion to the doses prescribed; regulating the stomach and liver correcting the secretions, superseding calomel, and, while effecting every object for which the various preparations of mercury have been prescribed, are without that risk to the constitution which always follows, in a greater or less degree, the use of such preparations. A simple Vegetable Pill, but as efficacious and infallible remedy for headache, piles, languor, costiveness, even if chronic, and a restorative of vital energy. Thus, through the Mandrake Pills, he is able to accomplish the first step towards the cure of Consumption in its earliest stage, or to correct any incipient tendency to the disease, by regulating the action of the bowels, altering the secretions through the action of the Pills on the liver and sustaining vital energy.

SECOND.—His Unequalled Sea Weed Tonic.—A stimulant and alterative, carefully distilled from Sea Weed and Kelp, mild and pleasant to the taste as wine. Not only harmless to the nervous system, but tending more than any other known medicine to restore and strengthen nervous action without any of the injurious reaction so apt to follow after its use has been abandoned, infinitely superior to alcohol as a stimulant, and free from the alkali it contains, the peculiar property of acting with and restoring the gastric juices, enabling them (even if the stomach is in an utterly diseased condition) to convert the food into healthy chyme, there by promoting digestion, the proper performance of which function is so absolutely essential to a healthful condition of the blood, reinvigorating the animal functions, restoring flesh and strength, and in connection with the action of the Mandrake Pills, speedily expelling the system into such vigorous condition as enables it to overpower, triumph and discharge any morbid matter and unhealthy secretions, by which means the result is accomplished of ripening lungs, which, as they discharge our system, the healthy purification of the blood, infallibly prevent the formation of other abscesses or any more irritation—effectually eradicating or dispersing such tubercles or scrofulous sores as may have formed on the lungs. This effect of these medicines is similar in its peculiar action to that effort of nature to relieve the system when in the normal condition of youth, which we have witnessed in persons in exhausted health, allisted, as they supp red, with boils—humors forced from the blood to the surface, rapidly healing, and proving that in health the natural recuperative powers are of themselves sufficient in their strength to purify the blood and cleanse the system. So with Dr. Schenck! When the system has become exhausted, the blood impure, the functions torpid, he by his remedies and treatment, extends and supplies that healing power which revives, renews and strengthens all the recuperative forces.

THIRD and last—HIS PULMONIC SYRUP, which in connection with his MANDRAKE PILLS, and SEA WEED TONIC, will complete the cure of Consumption in any but its last and fatal stage. While, by the action of the Pills and Tonic, the liver, stomach, digestive organs and blood have been restored to a healthy condition, and the vital forces invigorated, until, as before stated, the system is prepared to force to suppuration either abscesses, tubercles or scrofulous sores in the lungs or other parts, the finishing touch is given by the Pulmonic Syrup. By its agency ripened and healed ulcers on the lungs are healed, and the patient restored to perfect health. It prevents the gathering of, or disperses the disgusting and unhealthy secretions in the bronchial tubes, and removes those accumulations of a mild matter which cause oppression of the heart and difficulty of breathing, and also those terrible sufferings, almost threatening strangulation, which are so peculiarly characteristic of the disease, at the same time that, by soothing the irritation of the lungs, it eradicates the cause of the painful consumptive cough, and relieves it.

When the Pills and Tonic have purified the blood the Syrup will nourish it. If, however, as is sometimes the case, the stomach and liver are in a tolerable healthy condition, and the lungs are not too deeply diseased, the Pulmonic Syrup will, by itself, effect a cure. But where Consumption originates, as is frequently the case, from sympathy with a torpid liver, or a diseased stomach, or where the constitution of the patient is weak, either from hereditary causes or abuse, then it requires the Mandrake Pills and Sea Weed Tonic, in connection with the Syrup to effect a cure. And then the Syrup seems to incorporate itself with the blood, and thus purify it.

In this connection, after having defined and explained the merits, application and effects of Dr Schenck's three great medicines, and demonstrated how, through their agency, Consumption can be cured, it is but proper to mention that, invariably, before prescribing for a patient threatened with or suffering under Consumption, he insists on making a careful and scientific examination of the condition of the lungs. To accomplish which, he has invented an instrument (his celebrated Respirometer) by which he can, without pain or other inconvenience to the patient, make exact examination of their condition.

To the great superiority of this instrument for all others now used for medicinal auscultation, the medical faculty and other scientific men have testified.

In conclusion, we assert that most cases of illness of every kind, acute or chronic, can be cured, or at least palliated, by the use of one or the other of DR. SCHENCK'S MEDICINES, under his advice. And to those suffering with consumption, scrofulous affections, nervousness, languor, disordered liver or stomach, piles, headache, whether from the nerves or stomach, rheumatism, night-sweats, sleeplessness, restlessness or giddiness, influenza or palpitation of the heart, DR. SCHENCK can cure each and every one of you.

To gentlemen who keep late hours, eat late suppers, but who during the day must, with clear heads, attend to business, we would advise their taking after an excess and before going to bed, to take a dose of MANDRAKE PILLS, and to those suffering with colds on the breast, sore throat, or hoarseness, we would simply say, and in all sincerity, give no time in applying to DR. SCHENCK for advice; or, at all events, get his medicines, as a safeguard against serious results from that which, seeming at first but a trifle, is too often the surest symptom of an incipient state of Consumption.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK can be found at his Rooms over SETH S. HANCE'S DRUG STORE, 108 BALTIMORE STREET, Baltimore, Md., until, or the following days in June:

THURSDAY, the 12th and 26th.

HASTINGS' COMPOUND
SYRUP OF NAPTHA,
NOT ONLY A POSITIVE BUT A WARRANTED CURE FOR CONSUMPTION AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.—This Medicine has decided the dispute about the curability of consumption, and satisfied the Medical Faculty and all who have used it that consumption and all affections of the lungs cannot only be cured, but that they are as easily and simply CURED as almost any of the disorders to which the human frame is liable. The operations of a single bottle, which costs $1, is sufficient to satisfy any patient—if not already too far gone with the disease—of this fact, and even a single dose gives evidence of its extraordinary influence in arresting and eradicating the malady by the immediate relief which it affords.

This is no quack or secret remedy. Dr. Hastings, its discoverer, is one of the most eminent Physicians of the age, and has made a full disclosure of its history and all its component parts to the world, not wishing to incur the possibility of confining to himself, for the sake of profit, a secret which was calculated to do such universal good. And such has been the wonderful results of its operation that the London Lancet and Medical Times, and the most eminent physicians of both hemispheres are anxiously calling upon sufferers to have immediate recourse to it, and proclaiming that, of all known medicine, it alone has positively established its efficacy by undeniable proofs of curing consumption and all diseases of the lungs.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. For sale wholesale and retail, by SETH S. HANCE, No. 108 Baltimore street, and SWEETZER & CO., corner Charles and Pratt streets. je13-eo6m
