BALTIMORE.

FRIDAY, JUNE 20, 1862.

CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN GENERALS HINDMAN AND CURTIS.

On the 11th instant a flag of truce was received at General Curtis' headquarters, bearing a letter from General Hindman, of the Confederate army. It was dated Little Rock, Ark. The following is an extract:

I have received information that you have in prison, at Batesville, certain citizens of Izard county, Arkansas, captured a few days since by a detachment of your cavalry, who are charged with firing upon your men while attempting to arrest them, and whom it is your intention to hang as outlaws.

Without stopping to inquire whether they did actually fire upon your soldiers or not, I assert it to be the duty, as well as the right, of every citizen of this State to fire upon the soldiers of the United States Government, so long as that Government persists in the invasion of their homes, and they have the arms to defend those homes with; and in the performance of that duty I shall sustain them at all hazards.

I have in custody several officers and soldiers of the army of your Government, and I write this to warn you that if your threat is carried into execution against one single citizen of Arkansas, who now or hereafter may fall into your hands, I shall avenge his death by hanging every Federal officer and soldier of war; and from that time forward, this becomes a war of extermination between us, neither seeking nor granting quarter. I shall put to death, without mercy, every soldier and citizen of the United States who falls into my hands.

I am further informed that in a published order, you have declared this to be a war of extermination, and that you expect to wage it as such. I respect, sir, that you specially advise me as to the truth of such information, and, if compatible with your duty, furnish me a copy of the order in question. If such proves to have been your declaration, however, you can consider this as an acceptance of the issue tendered, and we will ignore all recognized rules of civilized warfare, and make our campaign one of savage cruelty and unsparing butchery.

GEN. CURTIS' REPLY.

As there is no truth in the reports you have received of my threat to hang or exterminate, the terrible vengeance so lavishly avowed by you will not require notice. There was a company of about seven y Confederate soldiers attacked by my body guard in Izard county, and twenty-two taken prisoners; fifty guns, twenty revolvers, and some twenty bowie-knives were taken. They were supposed to be regularly organized troops, and were sent to the rear as prisoners of war.

To prevent this war descending into one of rapine and assassination, I have published the following order (General Orders No. 24), which I intend to apply to such unauthorized bands as General Price, in a former negotiation with me, refused to exchange as prisoners of war, because they were private marauders.

I will call your attention to the conduct of some of your soldiers who recently robbed and burned the house of Mr. Peoples, who fled to the Union flag for shelter. I have heard of many threats, and have proofs of innumerable acts of barbarity practised by your troops, which I trust will receive proper attention on your part, so that your soldiers may not extend that species of warfare which you graphically enunciate.

The United States soldiers are here to restore peace, not to invade the homes of the citizens of Arkansas; and the people who fire upon us only prolong an unfortunate and unnatural civil war that destroys the peace of society.

DEATH OF MR. BUCKLE, AUTHOR OF THE "HISTORY OF CIVILIZATION."

From the Philadelphia Press.

We regret to learn, by the China, that Henry Thomas Buckle, the celebrated author, died in the city of Damascus on the 31st of May. This announcement will create a deep feeling of grief throughout this country among those who believe in the principles he inculcated, as well as those who, disagreeing with him, still honor the genius, the courage, and the industry which he manifested as a historian. Mr. Buckle was born on the 24th day of November, 1823, at Lee, in the county of Kent, England. We are told that for a very short time he attended school in a Kentish town, near London, where he was taught the plainer branches of an English and classical education. He does not seem to have been in any other school of note, nor are we aware that any of the celebrated institutions claim him among their alumni. He possessed a large fortune, and collected a fine library; he lived the life of a student and a thinker, gratifying an all-absorbing taste for letters, in pursuing, with an incessant energy, the studies which he had marked out for his issue. He was celebrated as a chess-player many years ago, and, before he became an author, had quite a local reputation among English scholars and men of letters.

In the year 1857, Mr. Buckle first published his work entitled "The History of Civilization in England." It was a remarkable volume and excited great attention, partly because of the novelty and boldness of his views, but principally because he surrounded them with a degree of eloquence and learning which few writers have exhibited. Based upon a theory of skepticism, and discarding many of the oldest established principles of Christianity, its author became at once the object of scorn and denunciation on the part of those who defended the Church, and extravagant joy on the part of those who disbelieved in Revelation. The Atheneum attacked it very severely, and in its assaults it was sustained by several of the leading British quarterlies. Notwithstanding its unpopularity among men of the Church, Mr. Buckle's work attained a great reputation both in England and America. In the first year of its publication two large editions were sold. The second volume was printed but recently, and as Mr. Buckle had not deviated from the plan set forth in his first work, but, on the contrary, carried out the theories he then advanced with more boldness and fervor than before, there was still the same spirit of denunciation manifested by those who disagreed with his theories and conclusions.

Let us say as we will of Henry Thomas Buckle, he was a great man. Setting aside any sectarian view, he has written a book which will live. It is full of thought, of eloquence, and study; and while we ourselves are far from agreeing with many of the strange and novel propositions he advances, we at all times read his chapters with profit and delight. "The History of Civilization," like Macaulay's History of England, was commenced on too stupendous a scale for any man to complete during the space allotted to mortals on the earth, and it remains to us as a splendid fragment of what the ambition of its author conceived, and to the completion of which the energy of his life was devoted. Our latest intelligence in relation to Mr. Buckle intimated that in the third volume of his work he would discuss civilization in North America. We should have read any theories he might have printed about us with unusual interest, and it is not at all improbable that they remain among his unprinted papers.

We are sorry that he has gone. The world of letters has lost one of its brightest ornaments, and England one of her most gifted sons.

From the Chicago Post, June 18.

NO NEGROES HEREAFTER TO SETTLE IN ILLINOIS.

Yesterday the people of Illinois, by a very overwhelming vote, issued an order for the exclusion of negroes from the State, which completely throws Gen. Halleck's famous order into the shade. Here is the order, as issued and ratified by the people of Illinois:

"No negro or mulatto shall migrate to or settle in this State (of Illinois) after the adoption of this Constitution.

"No negro or mulatto shall have the right of suffrage, or hold any office in this State.

"The General Assembly shall pass all laws necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this article."

No "intelligent contraband," though crammed to the eye-lids with "important intelligence," can be admitted hereafter into the State of Illinois.—The moment he places his foot upon our prairies he will be sent to the nearest jail, and at the first convenient opportunity will be taken to the State line and ordered to leave forever. And, what is still more striking about the matter is, that, in issuing this broad and sweeping order for the exclusion of negroes, a large majority of the voters of Chicago have participated. Considering that for nearly eight months the Chicago Tribune has been exposing the "infamy" of General Halleck's order, this result shows that the people have not been convinced, and shows that they approve so highly of the Halleck order that they have put it in force in this State, and from Cairo to Chicago there is not hereafter to be a home or an abiding place for the "contrabands," no matter how intelligent they may be. The pres at large of the State, for the exclusion of negroes, against which so much wrath has been expended, have been emphatically approved by the people of Illinois. "Revolutions never go backward," and the fact that Chicago has voted that this city shall no more be the home of runaway slaves, will satisfy the country that radicalism has seen its last days in this metropolis.

ACCIDENT TO A RAILROAD TRAIN—GEN. MULLIGAN'S BRIGADE.—About two o'clock yesterday morning one of four trains of cars bearing the brigade of General Mulligan, when opposite this city, between Bridgeport and Martinsville, ran upon a couple of stray horses, and was thrown from the track. The horses were both killed instantly, and one was chopped up like sausage meat. The engineer, Mr. Simmons, was the only person hurt. He received a wound in the leg, which is not regarded as dangerous, though it is very painful. The engine and two or three cars were thrown up against the bank where the accident occurred. There were four trains of cars moving in convoy, but those behind being warned of the accident, were checked up in time to avoid any further disaster.—Wheeling Intelligencer, 17th.

FIRE IN THE IOWA STATE PRISON.—The shops of the Iowa State Prison were destroyed by fire on the evening of the 16th instant. The loss is estimated at from $10,000 to $20,000. Insurance uncertained.

LATEST FROM KENTUCKY.

GEO. PEARSON, Esq. LOUISVILLE KY., June 17, 1862.

Dear Sir—I feel it a duty to express to you my sincere acknowledgments of the benefit derived from the use of a few bottles of your MEDICATED TAR DROPS. I was suffering with a SEVERE COUGH and SORE THROAT, when a friend presented me with a specimen of your celebrated TAR DROPS, and when I used them I was free to confess it was more to gratify my appetite for sweetmeats than the idea of deriving any good from them; but really, the rapid allaying of the irritation and subsequent entire cure of the cough, induces me to thank you, and I take great pleasure in recommending to the public so effective a compound. Respectfully yours, J. E. SMITH, M. D., Assistant Surgeon Artillery Brigade U. S. A.

PEARSON'S MEDICATED TAR DROPS are prepared and sold by GEO. PEARSON, No. 5 North Liberty street, Baltimore, at 10 cents per package. Sold also by all the principal Druggists. Je21-tf

THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS PARTIALLY RESTORED.—After an involuntary absence of about three months, during which time we were made familiar with the classic and once hallowed grounds of Fort McHenry—we again resume, partially, our old vocation of "enlightening the world with lamp-black." Our Press, being deemed dangerous by the Government, has been kindly limited, and, for the future, instead of publishing "THE SCUM, or any other paper, without consent of the Commanding General," we shall modestly labor in the humbler department of the "art preservative of all arts," by executing every description of BOOK AND JOB PRINTING, hoping through that medium to sustain ourselves and those dependent upon us, and would earnestly appeal to our friends to favor us with their patronage. We have prepared our Job PRINTING DEPARTMENT to execute all kinds of printing neatly, expeditiously and cheaply, and solicit a call at our old buildings. SAMUEL S. PERSONAL. MESSRS. J. L. HASTINGS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF NAPTHA, NOT ONLY A POSITIVE BUT A WARRANTED CURE FOR CONSUMPTION AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.—This Medicine has decided the dispute about the curability of consumption, and satisfied the Medical Faculty and all who have used it that consumption and all affections of the lungs cannot only be cured, but that they are as easily and simply CURED as almost any of the disorders to which the human frame is liable. The operations of a single bottle, which costs $1, is sufficient to satisfy any patient—if not already too far gone with the disease—of this fact, and even a single dose gives evidence of its extraordinary influence in arresting and eradicating the malady by the immediate relief which it affords. This is no quack or secret remedy. Dr. Hastings, its discoverer, is one of the most eminent Physicians of the age, and has made a full disclosure of its history and all its component parts to the world, not wishing to incur the possibility of confining to himself, for the sake of profit, a secret which was calculated to do such universal good. And such has been the wonderful results of its operation that the London Lancet and Medical Times, and the most eminent physicians of both hemispheres are anxiously calling upon sufferers to have immediate recourse to it, and proclaiming that, of all known medicine, it alone has positively established its efficacy by undeniable proofs of curing consumption and all diseases of the lungs. Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. For sale wholesale and retail, by SETH S. HANCE, No. 103 Baltimore street, and SWEETZER & CO., corner Charles and Pratt streets. Je13-eod6m
