DRAFTING.

The people are responding with alacrity to the call of the President for more men. * * * * But the process of collecting a volunteer force is necessarily slow in comparison with the present necessities of the army. It is certain that if Richmond could be at once attacked by an adequate force, it must fall. The enemy suffered very severely in the recent battles; he is for the moment prostrated; he needs time to prepare himself for another conflict; and he will use, with the utmost energy, every four we give him. To reap, therefore, the fruits of the conflicts of last week, we need to place at once, in the field, and put in active operation, an army sufficient to fall upon the weak-ened and suffering forces of the enemy and destroy them.

To do this in time we must resort to a draft. In this way each State can fill up at once the thinned regiments it has now in the field, and the new recruits, placed among the veterans of the campaign, will be immediately turned into soldiers. We hear of many regiments which have but one hundred and fifty to two hundred and fifty men left. But these are inexperienced soldiers; they and their companions now in the hospitals, or left dead on the field, have earned for these regiments a fame which the fresh recruits, who should fill out their ranks, would have a pride in sustaining. Thus a spirit of emulation is bred in the young soldier which he will not so readily have if he is surrounded only by men as new to war as himself.

Moreover, in this way the brave fellows who have so unflinchingly borne the brunt of the recent battles on the Peninsula, and have distinguished themselves in the ranks, would have a chance for that promotion which the soldier looks forward to as the highest reward, and which gives to the private in the ranks the ambition to do daring deeds against the enemy. But above all, we repeat, a draft to fill up the old regiments, and even to form immediately new regiments, would, without loss of time, and with the slightest preliminary drill and preparation, put an effective army into the field.

It is no matter for surprise that the Confederates have many men. They draft. Officers of General Fremont's army report that they found scarcely an able-bodied man in the houses of the Shenandoah Valley. All but the old men had been taken for the Confederate armies. Nor will they stop now. They have still fresh fields from which to draw soldiers; and, doubtless, by this time new companies and regiments are moving over the Southern railroads towards Richmond.

An advantage in making a draft for the new forces which are so urgently needed, will be only that the best men will be accepted by the recruiting officers, whereas, under the present system of enlistments, the inspections are too often lax, and men gath-red at random by officers who must bring a certain number in order to secure their own commission, are admitted without due care to see that they are all really able-bodied and efficient. In consequence, many are afterwards discharged, after having been a source of expense to the Government.

In another article on the same subject, the Post says:—

One of the most rapid and complete enrolments of the militia of this State which was ever made, has just been completed by the military authorities. In the interior, the canvass occupied four weeks; in this city but ten days. The work was entrusted to skilful agents, consisting in many cases of those accustomed to similar duty, and it was completed before the public generally was aware that it was in progress. Two hundred men were employed. The result was entirely successful; the names and residences of nearly three hundred thousand men believed to be subject to military duty, have been obtained; and of these a quarter of a million are undoubtedly competent to bear arms, and may be officially called on at any time. We may state incidentally that the enrolment was not very popular in some of our city tenement houses, and that the agents became enrolling officers in a double sense—they were tumbled down stairs.

The Commercial confesses that the war now stretches out before it in "unknown duration," (no more about "putting it down in 90 days,") and goes on to say:

"The blunder committed by our Government in arresting recruiting three months since is by no means irreparable, but the machinery, rusted by disuse, has first to be overhauled and put in working order. The patriotism of the people is by no means exhausted, and they are as eager now to defend their Government, and as earnest in its behalf as at any former time. This will be manifest as soon as active operations in the way of enlistments are engaged in. The season is inopportune, as harvest labor is about commencing in all the rural districts, but there are hosts of able-bodied men for whom the war and the motives for entering the army will have a fascination not to be resisted."

THE PANIC IN GOLD AND SILVER.

From the New York Post.

With each day the scarcity of change grows greater. Gold has quite disappeared from sight, and brings in the market a premium of sixteen per cent. Silver is worth 107 cents on the dollar, and even nickel cents bring a premium of one to two per cent. An application made to the Sub-Treasury in this city to-day for a hundred dollars' worth of nickel cents in return for one hundred dollars in Treasury notes was refused, as is gold and silver—because the specie was at a premium. Even the clumsy copper cent is becoming scarce, and will soon demand a premium, while a month ago cents of all kinds were at a discount.

A number of restaurant keepers, who at first held out against the inevitable change, have, during the past few days, been obliged to practically suspend specie payment, and to offer to their guests shinplasters of paper or pasteboard, good for specified amounts. The barbers have done the same. On the city cars and omnibuses bills are refused, but change is given for specie. Our retail dealers are doing a poor business, because they prefer holding on to their goods rather than sell them at a ruinous discount. In some places notices are posted stating that the purchaser must pay for his change; for instance, if he buys an article priced at twenty-five cents, he is expected to give twenty-seven cents therefor, if change is made.

This thing, however, cannot go on much longer. Regular customers will accept from courtesy shinplasters from those with whom they deal daily; but this will not suit the general public, which demands not a series of individual notes receivable, but a circulating medium which will be recognized by every one in the vicinity at least where it is issued. Already the operations of trade are seriously embarrassed by the scarcity of change, and there appears to be no adequate relief for annoyed sellers and buyers in the private shinplaster system, even if carried to the furthest extent.

TALKING OUT.

The Massachusetts Abolitionists don't mince matters. They talk right out. The Essex County Anti-Slavery Society held a meeting on the 15th June, and passed the following resolutions:

RESOLVED, That as Abolitionists, devoted to the great work of overthrowing slavery, we renew and repeat our old pledge, "No Union with Slaveholders." No support of any Administration or Government that permits slavery on any portion of its soil—and we value this war only as we believe it must lead to emancipation by order of the Federal authorities, or to a dissolution of the Union, which must speedily produce the same result.

Resolved, That the war, as hitherto prosecuted, is but a wanton waste of property, a dreadful sacrifice of life, and worse than all, of conscience and character, to preserve and perpetuate a Union and Constitution which should never have existed; and which, by all the laws of justice and humanity should, in their present form, be at once and forever overthrown.

These are the resolutions of men who denounce Democrats as traitors, and who get up mobs, tar and feather citizens who contend for the Constitution as it is and the Union as it was, and whose only other offence is that they denounce Abolitionists as enemies of the country. If such resolutions—resolutions, we mean, equally treasonable—had been passed in a Democratic meeting or convention, their promulgators would have been sent to Fort Warren; but as the authors in this instance are only Abolitionist patriots, they are not interfered with, and Republican editors dare not denounce them, lest their party should lose votes!—Providence (R. I.) Post.

THE CHINESE REBELLION.—It is now full thirteen years since the rebellion first showed its head in the vicinity of Canton. The Coolie boy whom Father Roberts taught and meant to Christianize has become the Mahommed of 1862, and dictates to hordes of followers. It is believed that there are in all the Provinces at least one million of armed men enrolled under his banners. They are led in different directions to the four points of the compass, under four General Chiefs, styled Northern King, Eastern King, Southern King, Western King, and have overrun three-fourths of the heart of China, having a population of some eighty millions of souls. They have taken and sacked, among others, the old and wealthy cities of Soo Choo, Ningpo and Hang-chow. They have laid under heavy contribution of life and property hundreds of villages and thousands of hamlets, and with fire and knife desolated the country. It is usual for them to kill the old people and the young children, and press into their service the middle aged of both sexes. They are courageous and cruelly vindictive, and having been engaged so long in this business of war, they now have no inclination to return to the honest avocations of peace.

PRIZE SALE OF TOBACCO—$300,000 REALIZED.—An extensive sale of tobacco was made yesterday at Wheeler's Stores, Atlantic Dock, South Brooklyn, by Simeon Draper, by order of the United States Marshal and the Prize Commissioners. The tobacco constituted the cargo of the prize bark Hawthorn, and there were various grades from a fine quality of manufactured to common leaf.—There was a large attendance, including the principal tobacco merchants of this city, Boston, and other towns. The prices obtained were very high, reaching in one instance 62¾ cents per pound.—The amount realized by the sale was stated to be over $300,000.—N. Y. Tribune.

LATEST FROM KENTUCKY.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 17, 1862.
GEO. PEARSON, Esq.
Dear Sir—I feel it a duty to express to you my sincere acknowledgments of the benefit derived from the use of a package of your MEDICATED TAR DROPS.
I was suffering with a SEVERE COUGH and SORE THROAT, when a friend presented me with a package of your celebrated TAR DROPS, and when I used them, I was free to confess it was more to gratify my appetite for sweetmeats than the idea of deriving any good from them; but really, the rapid allaying of the irritation and subsequent entire cure of the cough, induces me to thank you, and I take great pleasure in recommending to the public so effective a compound. Respectfully yours, J. E. SMITH, M. D.,
Assistant Surgeon Artillery Brigade U. S. A.
PEARSON'S MEDICATED TAR DROPS are prepared and sold by GEO. PEARSON, No. 5 North Liberty street, Baltimore, at 10 cents per package. Sold also by all the principal Druggists. Je21-tf

INDIAN QUEEN HOTEL.—Travellers speak highly of the Indian Queen Hotel, Wilmington, Del. There is no better conducted public house, it is said, this side the Atlantic seaboard. Everything that a guest may wish may be had at small cost, together with the kindest possible treatment. The house is well ventilated, the beds soft and downy, and the latest modern household conveniences to be met with in every direction. The table groans with luxuries, and the bar is filled with the purest and best of liquors. If any of our readers should stop in Wilmington over night, they would be much pleased, we know, by stopping with Mr. CHAS. M. ALMOND, of the Indian Queen.

THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS PARTIALLY RESTORED.—After an involuntary absence of about three months, during which time we were made familiar with the classic and once hallowed grounds of Fort McHenry—we again resume, partially, our old vocation of "enlightening the world with lamp-black." Our Press, being deemed dangerous by the Government, has been kindly limited, and, for the future, instead of publishing "THE SOUTH, or any other paper, without consent of the Commanding General," we shall modestly labor in the humbler department of the "art preservative of all arts," by executing every description of BOOK AND JOB PRINTING, hoping through that medium to suit ourselves and those dependent upon us and would respectfully appeal to our friends to favor us with their patronage. We have prepared our Job PRINTING DEPARTMENT execute all kinds of printing neatly, expeditiously and cheaply, and solicit a call at our old buildings.
