Other judges included Sally Monteferrante, designer, Community College of Baltimore and Ida Lewis, millinery shop owner.

The fabulous fashions which ran the gamut from casual to business to rainwear afternoon, to beachwear to after-five and loungewear were modeled in five scenes — 'Anything Goes,' 'Suit Yourself,' 'Caribbean Cruise,' 'Lounge Around,' and 'An Evening With You' were breathtaking.

Featured were mini-skirts, the gypsy look, the sailor look and many others in Chinese silks, ultra suede, chiffon, with hems of varying lengths and many splashes of bold colors — the patriotic red, white and blue being very predominant.

Linda Brown's gypsy looks were refreshing and Gloria Jennings' brilliant use of color was magnificent.

The very capable commentator was Carolyn White of the Manifested Guild of Models (MGM), with music for all scenes and for listening provided by Big Jim, disco d.j.

Modeling were Andrea Bland, Patricia Bowley, Candace Easterling, Gwendolyn Kelliam, Angela Hewlett, Cecilia Stokes, Anita Williams, Vanessa Williams, Sharon Blackwell, Carolyn Session, Shirley McCormick, Gay Stewart, Curtis Kane and Steve Sawczenko.

NAFAD, which held its annual National Convention here last year will hold it this year in July in Cleveland, Ohio.

Local designers can enter any two of their garments in the national competition at that time.

Who knows? Maybe our local chapter will bring home a winning garment. If Sunday's showing is any indicator, they stand an excellent chance.

Baltimore Chapter officers include Nell Sheridan, president; Geneva Taylor, vice president; Gloria Jennings, secretary; Catherine Wooten, treasurer; Tony Dorsey, reporter and Gladys Williams, designer-coordinator.

Other out-of-town guests at the affair included Mrs. Gloria Garry, Alzie Jackson and Ms. Hifeze, Philadelphia, Pa., Trina King, president, Philadelphia NAFAD and Vivian Boyles, also of Philadelphia.

News From Coppin

Key Positions Filled

Dr. Freeman A. Hrabowski, acting vice president for academic affairs, has been named to the position on a permanent basis. As chief academic officer, Dr. Hrabowski is responsible for planning and development of undergraduate and graduate curricula. In addition, he will coordinate research and public service activities by faculty and exercise line authority over six academic deans.

Prior to coming to Coppin, Dr. Hrabowski was associate dean of the graduate school of Alabama A&M University. The 31-year old Alabama native received his Ph.D. in higher education administration from the University of Illinios.

Dr. Bettye J. Gardner has been appointed dean of the division of arts and sciences. A Coppin faculty member since 1971, Dr. Gardner is a noted authority on black history with special emphasis on the history of black Marylanders.

Dr. Gardner earned her Master of Arts degree from Howard University and the PH.D. in 1974 from George Washington University. She has taught at Howard and served as a consultant in black history to the District of Columbia and the Calvert Board of Education.

The new registrar for the College is Dr. Joyce H. Williams. Dr. Williams was an associate professor of psychology for seven years prior to being appointed acting director of registration and records at Coppin in September 1981.

Her previous experience includes positions as administrator in student activities and financial aid, counselor and teacher in the public schools of Virginia and Washington D.C., Dr. Williams obtained the Doctorate of Education in student personnel services from the University of South Carolina.

Coppin Players Presents "The Reunion"

The Speech and Theatre Department of Coppin State College Presents the Coppin Players in "The Reunion" —two one-act plays—in the James Weldon Johnson Auditorium on April 29, 30 and May 1 and 2.

The performances will be held at 7:30 p.m., each evening with a 2:00 p.m. matinee on May 2.

"The Reunion" portrays individuals who come home to previously established families for various reasons. The results of both homecomings make for provocative and poignant drama.

Mojo, the first of the plays, is a love story which reflects the complexities of an ongoing relationship between two people caught up in a struggle for a meaningful existence. In her search for self-idnetity, the female lead weaves an enthralling web of blackness.

In A Son Come Home by Ed Bullins, the playwright depicts the sometimes humorous and sometimes painful memories of a mother and son.

How to give your kids taste to fight cavities

DEAR INEZ: I need your help. I understand there are now two different kinds of AIM toothpaste available. But what's the difference between the two? My kids love AIM, but I'm a little confused.

—BEWILDERED MOTHER

DEAR BEWILDERED MOTHER: Your letter should have been signed, "Observant Mother." You weren't asleep when Lever Brothers recently introduced new AIM Mint to go with AIM Regular.

So, there are now two flavors of AIM toothpaste on the market today. Both have the same great cavity-fighting formula which has been accepted by the American Dental Association.

Aim— Aim—

The only difference is in their color and taste. AIM Regular is a blue gel while new AIM Mint is a green gel and has a fresh mint taste.

But remember—both versions offer two great-tasting ways to help your kids prevent cavities. Each has a taste that children really love. It's the kind of taste that may get your kids brushing longer and better, which we all know is a large part of the job.

Just like AIM Regular, AIM Mint contains fluoride and has been clinically proven to reduce cavities. In fact, no other toothpaste has a more effective fluoride formula or fights cavities better than AIM—Mint or Regular.

And the fact that it makes brushing become a pleasant experience instead of a drudge is all the difference in the world. That's why AIM offers two great ways to give your kids the taste for fighting cavities.

So be at ease, mother, and take AIM against cavities.

HOW TO FEEL CLEANER THAN EVER BEFORE

I ALWAYS GET a special kick out of using a new product for the first time—and particularly when it turns out to really live up to its promise. That's what happened to me recently when I first tried SHIELD, the extra-strength deodorant soap.

SHIELD is a unique marbleized green deodorant bar with a fine fragrance and easy-to-hold modern shape. So far, so good—but that's not all.

Shield

The important thing is that clinical tests prove that SHIELD actually fights odor better than the leading deodorant soap. And because it fights odor better, you'll feel cleaner.

SHIELD represents a breakthrough in deodorant soap technology. This is because it is the first deodorant soap in this country which utilizes new kinds of perfumes that themselves reduce body odor. SHIELD combines these perfumes with a germicide for superior odor protection.

To me, the name SHIELD is most appropriate for this new soap. It protects you against body odor. It also has extra strength that makes you feel cleaner than ever before. So, switch to SHIELD.

WHY DO WOMEN PREFER FINAL TOUCH?

WHEN WOMEN LIKE one product better than another there's usually a good reason for it. Take the case of FINAL TOUCH fabric softener.

The company recently asked a number of women in Arizona who use the other well-known fabric softener to compare washes done with theirs and FINAL TOUCH. Sure enough, the women found overall that cottons washed in FINAL TOUCH were soft and noticeably whiter.

Final Touch

Now, everybody knows full well that a whiter wash is a better wash—why else do we do the laundry?

FINAL TOUCH, when added to the rinse cycle, can make a believer out of anyone. You can see the results with your own eyes, and not have to take anyone else's word.

Mothers will certainly like FINAL TOUCH. It makes babies' clothes and diapers feel so soft, but keeps them white as well. Try a bottle and see for yourself.
