deceased.	)

In this case the Court is called upon to decide under the power vested in it by Article 93 Section 342 of the Code of 1904 (Acts of 1896 chapter 255) to whom the personal Estate of Edward Francis Rose who died intestate shall be distributed.

The claimants are Bertha A. Rose his widow and Tabitha L. Turner his mother, the former claiming a third and the latter one half of said estate. By the agreed statement of facts filed it has been agreed that said Bertha is the widow and Tabitha the mother of the intestate that the intestate was born out of wedlock that his parents never married and that he left no descendants or brothers or sisters, Sec. 1 of Art 93 of the Code of 1904 provides "if the intestate leaves a widow and no child, parent grandchild, brother or sister or the child of a brother or sister of the said intestate the said widow shall be entitled to the whole" This section is a codification of a part of the Act of 1798, and it is true that by it the mother of an illegitimate child would be excluded from any interest in her estate, the said parent as therein contained applying to the lawful parents, an illegitimate child at that time under the time being without parents, but by the Act of 1868 chapter 199 (Code 1904 Art 46 Sec 30) it is provided "where an illegitimate child or children shall die having no descendants or brothers or sisters or descendants of such brothers or sisters, then and in that case the mother of such illegitimate child or children if living shall inherit both real and personal estate from such illegitimate child or children" The case of Estep vs. Mackey et al 50 Md 599, 560 refers to this Act and recognizes it as effective, although the Act is codified under the head of Inheritance we believe it applies to personal as well as real estate and being read in connection with Sec 1 of Art 93

We hold that the estate of the intestate should be divided equally between her said widow and mother after deducting all proper costs and expenses.
