Orphan School Lottery.

THE deſign of this LOTTERY is to raiſe the ſum of 500 dollars, towards building a large commodious houſe as an ORPHAN SCHOOL, whoſe hoſpitable doors ſhall ever be open to as many poor, friendleſs youth, as a humane and generous public will enable us to provide for. The children will be cloathed, lodged and dieted, in a decent comfortable manner; they will be placed under the care of a maſter of approved character, who will pay the ſtricteſt attention to their morals; they will be taught to read, write, and to underſtand arithmetic, and, at ſuitable ages, will be bound apprentices to valuable trades.

By this charity we hope (with the Divine Bleſſing) to reſcue numbers of our diſtreſſed little brethren from many of the ſad conſequences of ignorance and vice, to furniſh them with the means of riſing to places of honour and profit to themſelves, as alſo of uſefulneſs to their country; and, which is infinitely more important, we hope to be the happy inſtruments of bringing them to that knowledge of their Creator, and of ſuch juſt ſentiments of themſelves, and their future glorious deſignation, as may enable them to bear up cheerfully under the troubles of life, and ſteadily to perſevere in thoſe virtuous principles which will make them amiable and worthy members of human ſociety, and fit, after a well-ſpent life, for an eaſy tranſition into the "ſociety of Angels and ſpirits of juſt men made perfect."

As this inſtitution is moſt happily calculated to render the greateſt poſſible ſervices to that part of the community (poor orphans) which has, on many accounts, the ſtrongeſt, juſteſt claim to our compaſſion, and as our ſtate too, muſt receive a very conſiderable benefit from having ſo many of her unfortunate youth ſnatched from the deſtructive haunts of idleneſs and vice—ſheltered in an aſylum of innocence, and early inured to habits of virtuous induſtry.—As the bleſſings to be derived from this noble charity are ſo many and important, we hope no arguments need be uſed to ſecure to it the moſt hearty approbation and generous ſupport of every real friend of humanity.

To raiſe a ſum of money, ſufficient for carrying into full effect the above deſign, will indeed be a work of time. But the money firſt raiſed for the purpoſe will not be ſuffered long to remain idle. It is intended, ſo ſoon as 1000 dollars ſhall be raiſed, to place them out at intereſt, well ſecured, and that the intereſt be employed in the following manner—A number of reſpectable characters in different parts of the county are to act as truſtees; and their buſineſs will be to ſelect, in their reſpective neighbourhoods, without paying any regard to their religious denominations, children, whoſe parents, or neareſt friends, are incapable of affording them the advantages of education.—Theſe children are to be ſent to the moſt convenient ſchools, and to be furniſhed with books, papers, ſlates, and other articles neceſſary for learning.

It is hoped, that a plan which promiſes ſuch an important benefit to the community, and bids fair, not only to reſcue a number of helpleſs innocents from deſtruction, but to ſecure their temporal and eternal happineſs, will obtain the cordial approbation of every benevolent mind. The failure of ſuch a ſcheme can be owing to nothing but the miſconduct or negligence of the truſtees, of which there can be little ground for apprehenſion. The truſtees will be men of the firſt reputation and influence; their employment will not be burthenſome; and it will be the duty of the treaſurers to furniſh them punctually with the neceſſary money, without breaking in upon the principal.

Such is the propoſed appropriation, in the firſt inſtance, of the product of this lottery, and of the money raiſed, and to be raiſed, by voluntary ſubſcription; and there is ſurely ground for the moſt ſanguine expectation, that, in the courſe of a very few years, there will be a fund adequate to the providing a commodious ſchool-houſe, and the education of every poor orphan in the county. May it not likewiſe be hoped, that, under the protection of Providence, the example of Anne-Arundel county, may give riſe to ſimilar inſtitutions in many other counties; and that the beſt and firmeſt foundation will be laid for the proſperity and glory of the ſtate.

An incorporation of the humane ſociety, conſiſting of ſubſcribers and benefactors to this inſtitution, may probably be ſolicited at the next ſeſſion of the legiſlature.

It is determined, that gentlemen of diſtinction for fortune, integrity and patriotiſm, ſhall be elected treaſurers. The public is now informed of the great leading principles of that which cannot be deemed otherwiſe than a laudable undertaking.

The digeſtion of an entire plan or conſtitution is undoubtedly worthy of the attention of the ſcholar, the gentleman, the patriot and the ſtateſman. It will be framed with the utmoſt care and deliberation; and the public may reſt aſſured, that its moſt favoured characters will readily give their aſſiſtance.
