Journal of the Expedition to the North Pole

August 1st - Arrived at the mouth of the river. The weather was clear and the wind light. We found the river wide and deep, with many islands and shoals. The water was calm and the current slow. We anchored in the river and made camp on the bank.

August 2nd - Left camp at 8 AM. We went up the river for about 10 miles. The river was very narrow and the water very shallow. We had to wade through the water and carry our boats over the rocks. The weather was very hot and the sun was very bright. We were very tired when we reached camp.

August 3rd - Left camp at 7 AM. We went up the river for about 12 miles. The river was very narrow and the water very shallow. We had to wade through the water and carry our boats over the rocks. The weather was very hot and the sun was very bright. We were very tired when we reached camp.

August 4th - Left camp at 6 AM. We went up the river for about 10 miles. The river was very narrow and the water very shallow. We had to wade through the water and carry our boats over the rocks. The weather was very hot and the sun was very bright. We were very tired when we reached camp.

November Term 1902,

Monday November 24th 1902, Court met, pursuant to adjournment, Present on the Bench the Honorable Ferdinand Williams, Associate Judge.

On motion of Geo. W. Smith, Jr. Esq., the following proceedings, on the death of the Honorable Edward Stake associate Judge, were ordered to be recorded in the Minutes of this Court,

The Bar of Washington County, Assembled together to take action in regard to the death of Edward Stake, an Associate Justice of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of Maryland, and resident Judge of said Circuit for Washington County, and to memorialize appropriately his Character and the Services he has rendered to the people of the State, offer the following tribute, and ask that the same be spread upon the minutes of this Court, Judge Stake was endowed by nature with a strong and vigorous intellect, with varied and versatile gifts. He was not nurtured into learning. He was deprived of the advantages of a Collegiate education and special preliminary training for the Bar. He came from the humble walks of life and while supporting himself by daily toil developed the resources of his mind by such opportunities as he could command. He nevertheless, acquired a thorough knowledge of the classic productions in our language and formed a rare literary style that adorned and invigorated his forensic and judicial labors. Especially interested in historical research, he became possessed of a vast treasury of knowledge of both a local and a general character. Pursuing his studies in a lawyer's office in the old-fashioned way, he absorbed knowledge not alone from books but from observation. He made his way to prominence in the profession and into a lucrative practice at the Bar along the rugged paths of self-help and personal exertion. Before reaching the Bench he had already passed through all the varied experiences of a busy practitioner, and had occupied, for four years, the office of State's Attorney of Washington County.

Judge Stake was conservative in thought and temperament, ever respecting the maxim "Stare decisis". He was deeply learned in the refinements of the Common Law, and adhered to a principle therein established until abolished by Statute, often questioning the legislative wisdom in its invasion of the Common Law. In matters argued before him he demanded precedent, and unhesitatingly rested his decision upon a well considered case determining the point involved from whatever Court it came. He took the keenest delight in searching for authorities upon any mooted question raised by counsel,

He was conspicuously used in the decisions of the higher Court of this State, and prepared at all times to adduce an authority pertinent to the question in hand.

minutes and Proceedings

He thus stood for the law as he had learned and acquired it during his struggles while toiling upwards at the Bar,

For six years, Judge Stake, by the Will of the people of this, his native County, sat in the Legislative Councils of the State, being a member of the Lower House of the General Assembly at the Session of 1886, and the representative of Washington County in the Senate at the Sessions of 1888 and 1890. During those Sessions Judge Stake was always a Member of the Judiciary Committee, and his Wisdom and Conservatism prevented much legislation that was erratic and ill-timed and aided the passage of Laws conducive to the Welfare of the people.

Judge Stake was a man of sympathetic disposition. Remembering his own struggles in life he entered closely into the struggles of others and was ready to lend, when he could, a helping hand. Perhaps the most painful moments of his life occurred when, sitting as the Judge of the Criminal Court, he was called upon to deal out justice rather than mercy.

His friendships in his native County were many and far-reaching, as was evidenced by the outpouring of people, representing all classes of Society, that attended at the Church and stood around the grave when his mortal remains were placed into their final resting place.

Bond of Samuel P. Angle, Sheriff, was filed and approved.

At 4.10 O. Clock the Court adjourned until tomorrow Morning at 9.30. O Clock.

Tuesday November 25th 1902, Court met pursuant to adjournment. Present on the Bench the Hon Ferdinand Williams associate Judge.
