At a Meeting of the Washington County Bar held September 17th 1906, the following minute and resolutions were unanimously adopted respecting the death of Judge Alvey.

Judge Richard Henry Alvey, died at his home on Prospect Street in Hagerstown, Maryland, about 6.30 O. Clock on Friday evening September 14th 1906, from heart failure. On Wednesday, September 8th he was in his usual health, when returning from a drive to his farm while alighting from a Carriage he gave himself a severe twist, from which and from the unusual exertion attending his drive, he sustained some internal affection. He suffered from a high fever for several days and on Friday morning when he seemed to be somewhat improved, he was seized with a fainting spell and grew rapidly worse until evening when he quietly passed over the border line of human life.

He was endowed by nature with a superb mind and a vigorous body. Starting with these essential foundations, by a life of constant, patient, systematic and devoted labor and zeal he developed a mental force, which enabled him to accomplish work enormous in amount, Magnificent in quality and enduring in character and effect. As a practicing member of the Washington County Bar from 1850, to 1867, he demonstrated his great skill as an advocate and Counsellor and secured a position of prominence among associates, able and formidable in their profession. As Chief Judge of the Ninth Judicial Circuit, and Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals of Maryland from 1867, to 1883. As Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals of Maryland from 1883, to 1893, and as Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, from 1893 to 1905, he was engaged in work admirably suited to his nature, taste and temperament. In these positions of the highest responsibility and importance to the State and Nation he exhibited all those qualities which are requisite for the Judicial Office, a solid and broad foundation of legal knowledge, a firm and clear grasp of essential legal principles, a trained logical and discriminating mind, a deep love for his profession and devotion to his work, a perfect power of detachment from all external and extraneous matters, facts, circumstances or influences, a capacity and desire for immense labor and effort in research and in formal statement and exposition of results of thought and investigation, an open mind with a willing disposition for patient attention to the advocate, and an integrity of character whose breach was unthinkable, all these sustained and enforced by a most dignified judicial demeanor and by an imposing personal appearance.

Beginning without any advantage of wealth or assistance Judge Alvey made for himself his fortune and his fame. He did not restrict himself within the confines of his adopted profession, but was a close student and observer of current events and kept abreast with the advance and development of knowledge in the great fields of political, social and natural science.

His attachment to his home was a marked characteristic. He left it only at the call of duty and returned to it, and to the warm welcome of a devoted family, to share with them those pleasures and comforts, which can be known and felt in no other place than home. There he gladly received his friends and charmed his visitors by his cordial greeting and his general conversation. He was in truth a self-made man, a brilliant career and an enduring name, as one of Maryland's greatest, most learned and most honored Jurists. Stand as praise-worthy monuments of his successful efforts,

Resolved, that in the death of Judge Alvey the Washington County Bar and this Community have lost its most distinguished Member and Citizen and the State of Maryland its most eminent Jurist,

Resolved, that a fitting floral design be procured and placed upon the bier of our deceased brother as a tribute to his memory,

Resolved, that the members of the Bar attend his funeral in a body and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of Judge Alvey and that they be presented to the Circuit Court for Washington County at its next Session, that they may be recorded in minutes of the Court,
