SATURDAY, Jan. 7, 1888

We are sadly in need of funds, and hope our patrons who owe us for advertiseing and subscription, will make it a point to settle with us before new years. Do not overlook this friends for while you may only owe us 75 cents and think it is too small a sum to bother about, rememeber there are a few hundreds of this size bills on our books, and when they gathered as a whole they will stop several creditors form sending us a "Please remit" on the 1st of each month.

A CLASS LAW.

Our present fish law may be properly called a class and pauper making law, and should be amended by our present legislature. Under our fish law, our State law of citizenship is disregarded and a new standard set up. Under our State law a man becomes a bona fide resident of a place as soon as he claims it as his home and is subject to all the penalties of an older citizen. He is entitled to be registered and have the right to vote as a bona fide resident when he has lived in his place of abode six months. But under our fish law he must be a bona fide resident twelve months before he can work.

This clause make its class legislation and that among residents of our own State. It makes paupers of men who move here from other places to follow fishing, because they are generally men with families who depend upon their daily labor for a living, and when they come here find they are not allowed to work for a living for all they hold dear. Many of them come here thinking that by renting or buying and occupying property, that they then become bona fide residents, but when once here they find it was only a false dream to be scattered as soon as they wake up in Queen Anne's county. Then there are unnecessary restrictions as to the time our citizens shall fish. We allow all kinds of nets and traps to be used for catching of fish in our waters nine months in the year, during the best spawning season, and the other three months that amount to nothing as far as the spawning of fish in our waters are effected, we refuse our people the right to make a living at their trade. We know that all kinds of reasons have been given for this three months enforced idleness, but we fail to call to mind a valid one among them. While we are trying in a puny way to increase the quantity of fish in Chester river by stopping our people from the benefits of fishing three months in the year. We allow all kinds of traps to be used down the bay, to catch our best fish and carry them by vessel loads to the fertilizer factories. If our law makers, want more and better fish than we now have let them break up this unlawful traffic and we will soon have fish in abundance and no imaginary cause will exist to stop our people taking fish all seasons. We advise those interested in fishing here to at once petition our legislature for a repeal of the obnoxious clauses in our present fish law.

Our Washington Letter.

From our regular correspondent
Washington, Dec. 31, 1887

This year, like last year, the Christmas gayeties and festivities at the Nation's Capital are subdued and saddened by the death of men prominent in public life; last year it was the demise of Senator Logan—this year Ex-Secretary Manning and Congressman Maffatt, of Michigan, the latter having died in his city, whence his remains were escorted to his Western home by a Congressional delegation, as is usual on such sad occasions.

The customary manifestations of public grief were displayed in memory of Mr. Manning; the flags on the Government buildings were half-masted, the Treasury Department was closed on the day of the funeral, and the President and most of his official family attended the obsequies of their late associate. In addition, the President's regular Wednesday reception was omitted this week, and it was feared that the great society event of the season, the President's New Year's reception, would not be held for the same reason. This would have been a sad disappointment to the beautiful belles of the Capital, many of whom have been wishing and preparing for the reception for months; Mrs. Cleveland would herself probably be of the number, for the first lady has just received a five hundred dollar dress, [illegible] for the purpose of wearing [illegible] referred to; her dress is a marvel of the milliner's skill, but this is hardly the proper place to describe it.

Speaker Carlisle is one of the few members of Congress who is spending his holidays in this city—not on pleasure bent, by any means but working earnestly and steadily most of the time upon the formation of the House committees, which he purposes having ready to announce by the time Congress meets again. Messrs Randall and Carlisle have interchanged views upon the tariff question, and it is believed they have so far harmonized their differences that a substantial agreement between the two wings of the majority party can be effected when the Ways and Means Committee get ready to present their revenue bill for consideration.

Indications are that reduction and frugality will be the order of the day in all legislation—that jobbery and subsidy will not be able to accomplish their schemes of spoliation on the national treasury. For these reasons it appears that there will be small chance for the success of many really meritorious measures of proposed legislation—among which may be named the Blair Educational Bill, the Dependent Pension bill, and the Postal Telegraph bill. It is quite likely that the two first mentioned bills will pass both Houses, but there are good reasons for believeing that Mr. Cleveland will veto both. He has not said that he would do so, but has intimated as much.

It would require such a vast outlay to place the fortifications of the country in a proper condition to successfully resist foreign aggression, that there seems little probability of the accomplishment of this greatly needed work. In this respect, at least the party in power would do well to heed the almost dying words of one of its wisest and most far-seeing statesmen—Samuel J. Tilden.

Of those who have introduced bills during the present Congress, Representative Stone, of Kentucky, heads the list with seventy-three, Mr. Wheeler, of Alabama, comes next with fifty-seven, and Mr. Ryan, of Kansas, third with forth-seven, and so on down to the great majority of members who have not been heard from, many of whom will offer no bill during the whole session.

The fight against Mr. Lamar is still being pushed persistently—Senators Hoar and Sherman leading the forlorn hope, for the latter has publicly admitted his doubts of being able to defeat the Secretary's confirmation.

The Secretary of the Tresury has instructed the Assistant Treasurers the country to begin to pay January interest on United States bonds on the 30th inst, as the sub-treasuries will be closed on Jan. 2.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption severe Coughs, Croup, Asthme, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doeses will relieve and any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 800,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggists about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggist and Dealers, in the United States and Canada.
