Reform! Reform!

For President,

TILDEN, HENDRICKS AND REFORM.

The nomination of Tilden and Hendricks, the two great reformers of the agmakes reform the watchword of the campaign, and the great enthusiasm manifested by the people everywhere over the nomination of these two good men makes [illegible] the nation seeks, and re- drieks, the two great advocates of the agmakes reform the watchword of the campaign, and the great enthusiasm manifested by the people everywhere over the nomination of these two good men makes [illegible] the nation seeks, and reform is what [illegible] have met and completed their work — Both had reform Candidates named before them, the first Mr. Bristow, everywhere acknowledged as an honest and incorruptible gentleman and [illegible] only honest man in Grant's cabinet, and the other the prince of reformers, Mr. Tilden, who as a citizen of New York and as Governor of that State has been the great lever in breaking down the Tweed ring of thieves, the canal ring of plunderers and scores of others his State was infested with. Mr. Bristow's convention insulted him because he was a reformer and sought honest administration, and sent him into obscurity. Mr. Tilden's convention honored him because he desired the same things and have placed in his hands the banner of the Democracy in the honorable hope that he may be the means of breaking down the Grant ring. The Democrats have sought him out as the man to root out dishonesty in government affairs, and to break up the ruinous and exhorbitant taxes [and expenses] occasioned by dishonest administration. In the hands of Hayes, who it is now conceded was nominated by Grant and his ring, it is known of all men that reform can never come, because he as President must call around him the friends who nominated him—and those friends are the Rings, the Cooks, the Fishers, the McDonalds, the Grants, the Schencks, etc., the [illegible] and these men and their conferees seek no reform. The opportunity was offered them in the name of Bristow to demonstrate their love of honesty and they have given us no room to doubt their abhorrence for honesty and reform by their al- [illegible] days. [illegible] fealty to Tilden and reform. [illegible] nation in her hundreth year [illegible] did at her first election, and that man is Samuel J. Tilden of New York, the great reformer of the nineteenth century.

The Peninsula.

A married man in Middletown eloped. His wife and left for parts unknown last week. The name is Winfield.

Senator Bayard has engaged to deliver an oration before the Maryland Yacht Club at Bull Neck, Baltimore county, on July 4th.

Garrett & Co., the snuff men, near Wilmington, sent their employees, about 25 in number, with their families, to the Centennial last week, and paid all expenses.

The House of Representatives at Washington on Thursday week passed the extra appropriation of $15,000, for the Dover Post-Office, this morning's second story to the building.

The sheriff of New Castle county went to Norfolk, Va., on Monday week after "Big Frank," the bank robber. He has in Worcester county, got married last week, after being a widower only four weeks. He married a Miss Savage. Under the circumstances the youth of the town thought they would give him a calathumpian serenade. They commenced to make "Rouse howl," as they termed it, when Read grew very much incensed and poured a charge of shot into the musicians. The shot took effect upon the person of Mr. Sam. Caker, disfiguring his face and puncturing his arm. To this the crowd replied in so lively a manner as to rid lie the doors and windows of the house and completely silenced the gun of Mr. Read. The affair has led to a suit at law, with the chances all in favor of Read, as the crowd were disturbing his slumbers, just at the time when he insisted on having peace and quietness.

Tilden for President.

The Democratic National Convention met at St. Louis on Tuesday. Samuel J. Tilden, of New York, was nominated on

Before the vote was announced Missouri asked if it was in order for her to change her vote before the vote was announced. The chair ruled it was. Missouri asked for five minutes for consultation. The tally clerks were fully ten minutes comparing their figures. Meanwhile Missouri changed its vote 16 for Tilden and 14 for Hendricks. Six of the New Jersey delegates claimed their right to cast their individual votes for Tilden urging that the resolution under which they act did not bind beyond the first vote. The New Jersey chairman contended he alone had the right to announce the vote. Another New Jersey delegate asked that the delegation have leave to retire, insisting upon the right of individual action.

Democracy's Centennial Platform.

We, the delegates of the Democratic party of the United States, in national convention assembled do hereby declare the administration of the federal government to be in urgent need of immediate reform; do hereby unjoin upon the nominees of this convention, and of the Democratic party in each State, a zealous effort and co-operation to this end, and do hereby appeal to our fellow-citizens of every trust political connection to unite with us in this first and most pressing patriotic duty for the democracy of the whole country.

We do here reaffirm our faith in the permanency of the federal union, our devotion to the constitution of the United States, with its amendments, universally accepted as a final settlement of the controversies that engendered the civil war, and do here record our steadfast confidence in the perpetuity of republican self-government, in absolute acquiescence [illegible] voted by sumptuary laws; in the faithful education of the rising generation, that may preserve, enjoy and transmit these best conditions of human happiness and hope. We behold the noblest product of a hundred years of eventful history; but while upholding the head of our Union and great chapter of [illegible] also that eternal vigilance which is the price of liberty.

[illegible] these best conditions of human happiness and hope. We behold the noblest product of a hundred years of eventful history; but while upholding the head of our Union and great chapter of [illegible] also that eternal vigilance which is the price of liberty.

Reform is necessary to rebuild and establish it, the union of the whole people, the union of two years ago happily restored from the danger of a division of States, but now to be saved from a corrupt centralism, which, after [illegible] upon two States the majority of carpet-bag tyrannies, has honeycombed offices of the federal government itself with incapacity, waste and fraud; infected States and municipalities with the contagion of misrule, and locked fast the prosperity of an industrious people in the palsying grasp of hard times.

Reform is necessary to establish a sound currency, restore the public credit and maintain the national honor. We denounce the failure for all these eleven years to make good the promise of the legal-tender notes, which are a charging statement of value in the hands of the people, and the non-payment of which is a disregard of the plighted faith of the nation. We denounce the improvidence which in eleven years of peace has asked from the people in federal taxes thirteen times the whole amount of the legal tender notes, and squandered four times this sum in useless expense without accumulating any reserve for their redemption.

We denounce the financial imbecility and immorality of that party, which during eleven years of peace has made no advance toward resumption; that instead, has obstructed resumption by squandering our resources and retaining all our surplus revenue, and while annually professing to return to specie payments, has annually wrecked the business [illegible] to. As such a hindrance we denounce the resumption clause of the act of 1875, and we here demand its repeal.

We demand a thorough system of [illegible] particularly public commerce by official retrenchment and by wise finance, which shall enable the nation soon to assume the whole of its perfect money and its perfect credit as to meet any of its pressures at the call of the creditor nations to pay. [illegible] We believe such a system will [illegible] into a withdrawal of that vaster machinery of credit by which country finger most of all business transactions and performs a system as open, free, and inspiring as the ballot, would from the day of its adoption bring be felt in its wages to all our burdened industry, and set in motion the wheels of commerce, manufacture and the mechanical arts, restoring employment to the [illegible] national arms the prosperity of the people. Reform is necessary to find and root out the cause of federal taxation to the amount of one dollar in every four dollars of our national income. We denounce the present tariff as a source of revenue, yielding only four thousand a million in the manufacture of injustice, inequality, and corruption, yielding a dwindling, not a growing revenue; it has impoverished many industries to subsidize a few; it has [illegible] the prosperity of American commerce from the first to an inferior rank upon the high seas; it has cut down the sales of American manufacture at home and abroad, and depleted the returns of American agriculture or industry followed by half our people; it costs the people five times more than it produces to the treasury, obstructs the processes of production and wastes the fruits of labor; it promotes fraud and fosters smuggling, crowdes [illegible] officers and bankrupts honest [illegible] the two false issues with which the [illegible] holding class and the party in power [illegible] to another it. The false issue with which they would enkindle sectarian strife [illegible] respect to the public schools, of which the establishment and support belong exclusively to the several states, and which the Democratic party has cherished from their foundation, and resolved to maintain without partiality or preference [illegible] any class sect or creed and without contributing from the treasury to any fair issue by which they seek to fight [illegible] the dying embers of sectarian hate between kindred peoples once unnaturally estranged, but now reunited in one indivisible republic and a common destiny.

Reform is necessary in the civil service. Experience proves that efficient and economical conduct of the governmental business is not possible if its civil service is subject to change at every election, but a prize to be fought for at the ballot box; to a reward of the partisan instead of practical or salutary reform.

Reform is necessary even more in the higher grades of public service. President, Vice President, Senators, representatives, judicial officers these and all others in authority are the people's servants. Their offices are not a private inheritance [illegible] and censure of a Vice President; and the speaker of the House or Representatives marshaling his rulings as a presiding officer; there machines pushing aside by their votes as law makers, five chairmen of leading committees of the late House of Representatives exposed in jobbery; a late Secretary of the Treasury forcing a balance in the public accounts. A late attorney general misappropriating public funds; a Secretary of the Navy enriched or enriching friends by peculiarities involved in the profits of contractors with his department; an embassador to England connected in a dishonorable speculation; the President's private secretary barely escaping conviction upon trial for guilty complicity in frauds upon revenue; a Secretary of War impeached for high crimes and confessed misdemeanor.

The demonstration is complete that the first step in reform must be the people's [illegible] from the other party lest the disease of one political organization infect the body politic, and thereby making no change of men or party we can get no change of measures and reform. All these abuses, wrongs and crimes the product of sixteen years ascendancy of the Republican party create a necessity for reform extending to republicans themselves, but their reformers are voted down in the same system and displaced from the control. The party's mass of honest votes is powerless to resist the so-called shareholders, its leaders and guides. Reform can only be had by a complete revolution. We demand a change of system, a change of administration, a change of parties, that we may have a change of members, and of men.

The New York Journal of Commerce thinks that now that the Republicans have laid down their platform, claim their leader and nominate the Solid [illegible] they were likely from present appearance to be placed on the defensive than to make any strong aggressive movements. [illegible] within the portfolio of a [illegible] collection of generalities and [illegible] trades of the oldest character, [illegible] downright [illegible] to public ear. In other, there [illegible] a grand opportunity [illegible] wasted.

MARYLAND PENSIONS.—[illegible] Times, June 28: H. B. McLine [illegible] Maryland for Tilden—Carl Schurz and the German element [illegible]

Tonic.

Every one, at times, feels the effects of some reduction in the vital powers, depressed by mental or bodily exhaustion. In such cases, let every one, instead of flying to intoxicating stimulants, use a tonic, which must be followed by depression equal to the excitement, consequent on the disorganization of the system, caused by the use of the Peruvian Syrup. Sold by druggists.

Murder Will Out.

A few years ago "August Flower" was discovered to be a certain cure for Dyspepsia and liver complaint, a few little Dyspepsia made known to their friends how easily and quickly they had been cured by its use. The great demand German Asthma Remedy has brought forward its merits, and no sufferer to another, until without advertising its sale had become immense. Druggists in EVERY TOWN in the United States are selling it. [illegible] Stomach, Sick Headache, Costiveness, palpitation of the Heart, indigestion, low spirits, etc., can take three doses without relief. Go to your Druggist. Wm. J. Hopper and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents.
