GENERAL SUMMARY.

There was no session of the Senate Saturday In the House Messrs. Ewing, Garfield and others made short speeches on the legislative bill, and a new republican member from Michigan, by the name of Horr, eclipsed his brethren with a comic speech. An amendment striking out the political legislation was rejected by 123 to 139, and the bill passed by 149 to 118. The nationals voted in favor of the amendment, and then, excepting two, in favor of the bill.

The President has issued his proclamation warning all persons from emigrating into the Indian Territory, and notifying them that if they do so they will be removed therefrom by the agent, or, if necessary, with the aid of troops. The proclamation is called forth by the fact that an expedition has been on foot in the States for the invasion and settlement of a portion of the Indian Territory, which is subject, under the law, only to the occupation of the Indian tribes.

General Bartlett, an American, has been made premier of Samoa, under protest from the German consul. A dispute between Germany and the United States is considered not impossible.

Dr. Wiede, editor of a Swiss journal, has been arrested in Milan, charged with plotting the assassination of Queen Victoria and the King and Queen of Italy.

Garibaldi has issued a manifesto declaring that the Democratic League of Italy has decided to work for universal suffrage by pacific means.

General Gourkho has found the work of destroying nihilism too much for him.

In the United State Senate, Monday, the legislative appropriation bill was presented from the House and referred to the committee on appropriations. Mr. Pendleton made a speech in support of his bill giving seats on the floor of the Senate and House to the heads of departments, and Mr Morrill spoke in opposition to the bill. The House was not in session, having adjourned from Saturday until Tuesday.

The seven miners caught by a fall of rock and coal in a mine at Sugar Notch near Wilkeesbarre, Pa., on Wednesday last, were rescued on Monday. They had subsisted upon mule meat and water, and were in good condition. There was great rejoicing over their rescue. The stockholders presented the men with $100 each, and a concert is also to be given for their benefit.

In the British House of Commons Monday night a resolution censuring the government for increase of national expenditure was defeated by 308 to 250.

Three medical students have been sentenced in Berlin to imprisonment for maintaining connection with socialist societies.

The British are getting on badly with the campaign in Afghanistan. It brings endless discomforts and little or no glory.

The Bulgarian Assembly elected a Prince on Tuesday.

Princess Christina is dead.

In both houses of Congress Tuesday the death of Hon. Bush Clarke, a Representative from Iowa, was announced, and committees appointed to escort the remains to his late home. Mr. Whyte, in the Senate introduced a bill to establish a professorship of modern languages and drawing at the Naval Academy on a permanent footing. In the House prior to the reading of the journal, the veto message on the army appropriation bill was received from the President, but it was not read, both Houses adjourned at an early hour in respect to the late Representative Clarke.

The quotation made in the veto from speeches by Hewitt and Thurman in Congress is something never before stooped to by a President; that is, taking the words of two or three men as giving the meaning of a measure which he is supposed to Judge upon its face.

Having heard of Mr. Cyrus W. field's intention to erect a monument to Major Andre, the Bridgeport (Conn.) St. George's Society, all Englishmen, have subscribed $50 toward a monument for Nathan Hale, the young American hanged by the British during the revolutionary war.

In the United States Senate, Wednesday, the bill reported from the select committee to prevent the introduction of contagious diseases into the United states was discussed, Messrs. Hamlin, Kernan, Conkling and Hoar opposing it. In the House a bill was passed appropriating the requisite amount to pay J. B. Eads and associates the sum due and to become due for the South Pass jetties. A bill amending certain sections of the Revised Statutes relating to coinage and coin and bullion certificates was made the order for Saturday next.

Robert Anderson, white, and Chas. Webster, colored, will be hanged at Louisville, Ky., June 27, the former for wife murder, the latter for outraging a girl under twelve years of age

Sir Robert Peel's motion in the British House of Commons regarding the mitigation of the horrors and atrocities of the Russian reign of terror has been dropped.

George Reed has been arrested in New York, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with contracts on the new postoffice in Chicago.

The funeral of the late ex-Judge George Barnard took place in New York yesterday. There were no pall-bearers. The remains were buried in Greenwood.

The late Clement Biddle, of Philadelphia, left a personal estate valued at $402,000. Of this, $69,000 is in Pennsylvania railroad stock.

Lord Falmouth's Charibert won the 2,000 guineas stake at Newmarket. Lorilard's Uncas was ninth in the race. Fifteen starters.

Henry M. Stanley will act as guide and interpreter of the Belgian exploring expedition in Africa.

The British steamer Nile has been lost on the Spanish coast. Twenty men were drowned.

The greater part of the city of Oreuburg, Russia, has been burned.

A destructive fire occurred Wednesday night in Montreal.

The United States Senate Thursday was chiefly occupied in the consideration of the bill to prevent the introduction of contagious or infectious diseases into the United States, but the debate was not concluded.

The House, by a vote of 115 to 107, fixed on to-day for the consideration of the bill amending the statutes relating to coinage, coin and bullion certificates. A vote was then taken on the proposition to pass the army bill over the President's veto, which resulted—yeas 120, nays 110, not necessary two-thirds in the affirmative. The vote was a strict party one, the democrats voting in the affirmative. Three greenbackers voting in the affirmative and eight in the negative.

—By some singular and unexplained manipulation the New York Sun has been induced to work up the Presidential claims of John M. Palmer, of Illinois. Of course every camp ornament who ever wore a pair of epaulettes belonging to a General expects to be drafted into the Presidency some time or other but for our part we would like to see a plain old-fashioned, plebeian citizen sitting in the White House, occasionally sticking his feet out of the front window as he enjoys himself with his cob pipe and fans himself with a straw hat on quiet summer evenings. We would like to see the aristocratic and military sentiment of this country insulted, humiliated and snubbed.—Baltimore Gazette.
