START

Baltimore Clipper

Baltimore, Baltimore Co., Md.

1-1-1841

to 12-31-1863

MASTER
NEGATIVE

#4

C COPYRIGHT 1990;
CITY OF BALTIMORE PRODUCED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE CITY OF BALTIMORE
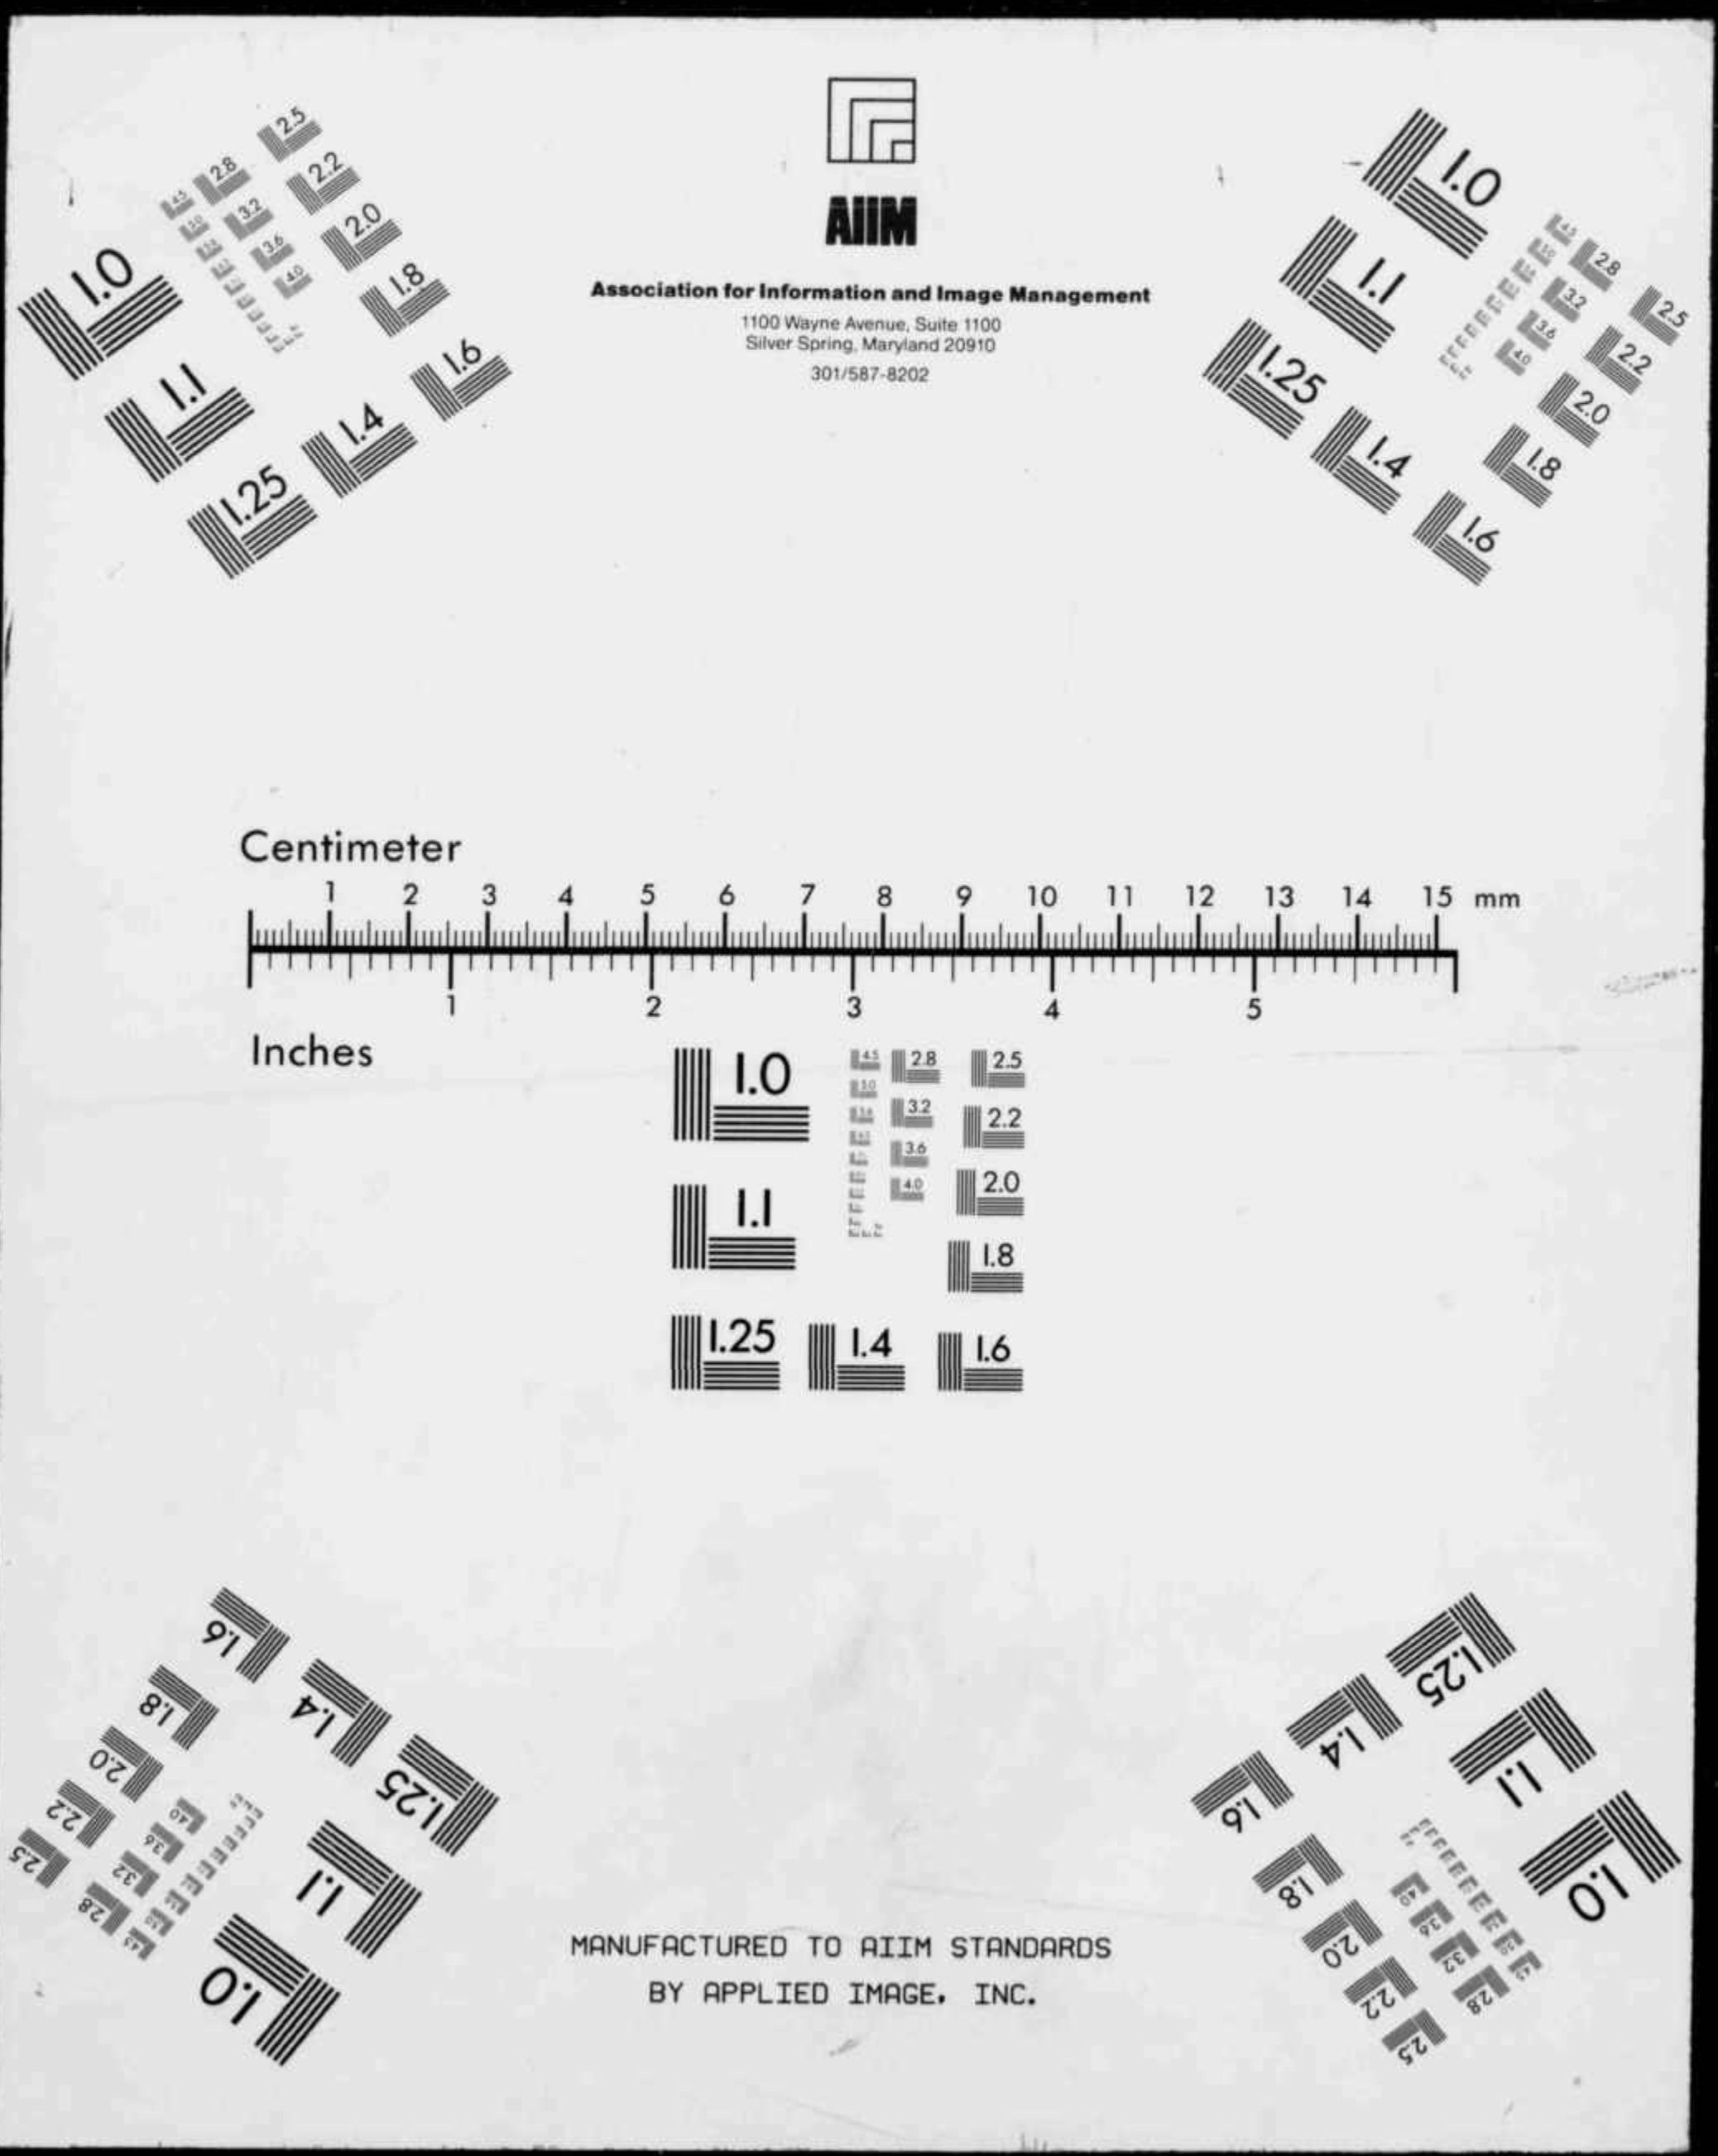
&
THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

SPECIFICATIONS FOR MICROFILMING NEWSPAPERS



AIIM
Association for Information and Image Management
1100 Wayne Avenue, Suite 1100
Silver Spring, Maryland 20910
301/587-8202
Centimeter
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 mm
Inches
1 2 3 4 5
MANUFACTURED TO AIIM STANDARDS
BY APPLIED IMAGE, INC.

PAGE(S)
MISSING

1-8-1841; 1-11-1841; 1-16-1841

1-19-1841; 3-8-1841; 4-27-1841

5-15-1841; 7-1-1841 to 12-31-1863

1841

JANUARY

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞ COUNTRY SUBSCRIBERS can receive the paper, by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square 1 time,	$0 50	1 square 1 month,	$4 00
1 do. 2 times,	75	1 do. 2 months,	7 00
1 do. 3 do.	1 00	1 do. 3 do.	10 00
1 do. 1 week,	1 75	1 do. 6 do.	15 00
1 do. 2 weeks,	2 75	1 do. 1 year,	30 00

☞ Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.

VOL. III. NO. 93.] FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 1, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

For the Baltimore Clipper.

TO A WHITE ROSE,

PLACED ON THE BOSOM OF A DEAD GIRL.

There rest thee, on that gentle breast,
Thou pale white rose of spring;
Thou, to the young and lovely dead,
A simple offering.

Well are ye paired, frail spotless flower,
And maiden pure as thou;
Fit emblem of that sainted one,
Thou'rt meet to deck her now.

Like thee her life, as fair as brief,
Not like thine her decay,
For, when the simoon blast of death
Swept her sweet soul away,
Transplanted by a hand divine,
It fled to bless a brighter clime. EMILY.

LIST OF LETTERS.

Remaining in the Post Office, Baltimore, Jan. 1, 1841.

☞ Persons, calling for these letters, will please say they are advertised—otherwise they may not receive them.

LADIES' LIST.

Abbott miss E B
Anderson Eleanor
Allen mrs Eliza
Bayne Christiana
Barteau miss Anna S
Baker Maria
Bartine miss H A
Barber mrs C
Bayley Martha
Baker mrs Elizabeth
Barber Isabella
Berry mrs Mary Ann
Berry miss Julia Ann
Berry miss Anna T
Biddle mrs E
Bond mrs Ann
Clagett miss Harriet
Chinoweth Mary A
Collins mrs Patrick
Cross Agnes
Clayland Mary E H
Cline Frances A
Carroll mrs St M
Connolly Mary
Coleman Elizabeth
Constable Harriet L
Decorsey Seraphene
Deems Lauretta
Defolk Jane
Dixon Juliet
Daugherty Catharine
Dunkin Eliza
Davis Margaret
Dorsey Mary
Davis Frances
Eagleston miss Mary J
Falconer mrs A H
Frank Elizabeth
Fisher mrs Mary Ann
Foster Elizabeth
Feaherty miss Mary
Franklin mrs Cleary
Forman miss Priscilla
Gay mrs G
Griffith mrs Maria
Griffith mrs Mary
Gray Harriet
Griffith mrs Sarah Ann
Hays Mary
Hambleton miss Adeline
Haswell miss Rebecca
Hawkins mrs Margaret
Harris mrs Wm
Hanna mrs Phebe
Harris mrs Dorothea
Hardey mrs Priscilla
Hawkins miss Elizabeth
Jacobs Ann
Jamieson mrs Ann
Kurtz mrs Susan
Kelly mrs Ann
Luke miss Elizabeth
Leaman Eliza
Mason Mary B
Maryott Elizabeth C
Marks mrs Henrietta
Mason miss Mary B
Merritt mrs Julietta B
Mitchell miss Ann
McFadon Antionett
McCare mrs Murry
McGuarran miss Emily
McCain mrs
Naylor mrs Lealia
Neill mrs
Nelson mrs Caroline
Ogden mrs Catharine
Owens mrs Rebecca
Parker miss Rebecca S
Parker miss Mary
Parvey miss E
Paul miss Mary A
Patterson mrs Eliza
Pane Elizabeth A
Peck mrs
Pennington miss Mary
Radecka Ann or John
Reeder miss Isabella
Reynolds miss Sarah
Rease Mary Ann
Rice miss Mary
Ricaud miss Emily B
Sanderson Elizabeth
Sauger Ann
Savage Milley
Scanlan Eliza
Shory Susan
Shields Mary
Shorter Esther
Shaw Charlotte
Simes Julia Ann
Slotte Frances M
Smith mrs A C
Smith mrs J
Small mrs C E
Taylor Julia F
Talbot Amanda M
Thurston Betsy
Thorpe Mary
Thomson Mary
Tracey Kezia
Upperman miss Eliz'th
Verlander miss Ann B
Verree mrs Adeline M
Ward mrs Eliza
Armeling mrs
Ault Naomi
Ash miss Frances
Bowen mrs Martha
Bateler mrs Sarah
Boasman miss Susan
Bothers miss Matilda M
Bonne Hannah
Bryerly mrs Eliza
Brady Rose
Braun Chine
Browa mrs
Bullock Isdel
Bush miss Maria A
Burris Maria
Burgess Hannah A Cane Eliza
Carey Angeline
Cochran Amelia
Collins Elizabeth
Crane Mary
Connolly Sarah
Conner Elizabeth
Capito Julia Ann
Cox Sarah
Chase mrs B F
Davison Sarah
Dorsey Mary Anne
Doratty Margaret
Dunkel Catharine
Dawson Maria
Dasby mrs
Dushane Cecelia
Duffin Catharine
Ellsey miss Mary
Foulk mrs Eliza
Fulton miss Mary L
Ford miss Elizabeth
Frasier miss T
Furlong mrs Elizabeth
Fitzhugh miss (Balt co)
Gomly mrs Catharine E
Goolrich miss Rebecca
Guin miss Elizabeth
Gwinn mrs Margaret
Gustus Fanny
Henderson mrs Frisby
Hellen mrs Caroline
Hicks mrs Mary
Honeyville miss J
Hoy miss Mary
Huray Elizabeth L
Hughes miss Susan
Hyde miss Charlotte
Jones miss Lucinda
Jones mrs Sarah
Knott mrs Susannah
Kirby mrs Adeline
Lewis mrs Chas
Lowe mrs Elizabeth
Moore mrs Jane
Moore miss Harriet
Moore miss Anna J
Morsell Elizabeth
Murren mrs Mary
Musser Mary E C
Mussard Clara
Musgrave miss Margt
Murry miss Elizabeth
Nicholson mrs Eliza
Noel madame John
Noleind mrs Elizabeth
Owen miss Mary
O'Neill widow Eliza
Philpot mrs Elizabeth
Picket mrs (milliner)
Piti miss Eleanora A
Pina miss Martha
Plum mrs E P
Potts mrs Geo
Price mrs Eliza A
Price miss Mary S
Riddle Margaret M T
Robinson mrs Eliza O
Robinson miss Martha S
Roby miss Emily
Reyders miss Jane Eliza
Small Arietta
Smallwood Mary
Southcomb Margaret
Spoker Elizabeth
Starbuck Lydia A
Stoner Williamiser
Stansbury mrs E F
Stevens Elizabeth
Stansbury Cordelia F
Stag Hannah P
Stevers Sarah
Switzer Elizabeth
Tracey mrs E
Tull Emily
Tucker Margaret
Tyson Mary A
Turnbull Emeline
Vondersmith miss Eliza
Williams miss Marg't F
Williams mrs Sarah A
Williams mrs Catharine
Williams mrs Ann
Williamson mrs Mary
Wilkinson miss Mary M
Willet Rebecca
Winchester Miss Eliza
Wilcox miss Ann R
Wilson mrs Maria
Woodland miss Sophia E

GENTLEMEN'S LIST.

Adams Jas
Allen W M
Addison dr E B
Allen Darius
Allen capt Thos 2
Archer J G
Armstrong R jr
Atkinson David
Asprill D T
Austin Thos
Arnold Frodk
Armons Jas
Ansley Eustace
Baker Hezekiah
Bayley W W
Bachert John
Baxter T L
Barnard capt J H
Bartel Jas
Belleweur Peter
Bowles John
Boon Benj
Bonna Henry
Bolgias W G 2
Bordley D C H
Booth Eliza
Bowderman Thos
Brown R G L 2
Brown Vachel
Brooks Richd
Brown W G
Brooks B J
Brooks G W
Brown R
Brown Wm
Bryson Robt
Brown J H
Brown Augustus
Burns Burns
Bunting John
Carter Henry
Carvill John R
Carmack Joel
Caldwell John
Carroll Wm H
Campbell John T
Callan J Martin
Callahan Edwd
Capron Horace
Carrol Thos H
Carter Harvey
Carr Jesse
Cather Wm
Callan John
Calvord Thos W
Carter Wm L
Camp & Burrill
Chaturey F
Chase capt R
Christ Philip
Chymore George
Cassel James
Chalmers Jas J
Choate capt Wm
Chapman Nathan G
Clarken Lawrence
Clowes J Washington
Clarke Wm
Clarke L P
Close E
Clark John
Daffin Charles C D
Day Samuel
Davis David
Day Wm
Dawson & Schott
Delaney Robert
Deasy John
Diller Franz
Dingby Levi
Dinges Jacob 3
Dible mr
Dill Ezra
Edmondson Horatio L
Egerton A S
Edds John
Edmonson capt Moses
Elliott Wm S
Elgin S H & Co
Ellis Charles
Ferney John
Faulkner T M
Farnham C H 2
Finley Wm
Ferguson W B
Fenwick mr
Fedgames Daniel
Ferris Henry
Finley L B 2
Fisher M
Fill Harman
Flowry capt
Fondes capt
Gardner James B
Garrett Richard 2
Gardner John B
Garibold i Joseph
Gay Gamaled 2
Gary John jr
Gallup E W
Gavit S 2
Geiger W
German Society
Gibbens J
Gibbins Wm
Gipson Wm
Gill M
Gibbins F
Glasscock P
Harman Thos
Harrell Jas A
Harrison Edwd H
Hackett Wm
Harrison John
Hamilton Robt
Hanna Chas H
Hare Robt
Hawkins Jas L
Barrington E N
Harrold Jas
Handy Albina
Hance rev C & Co
Hack Geo Wm
Haughrey Daul
Hall Wm W
Hall Wm
Hanson Judge
Hamilton W
Harkens Thos
Harris H N
Harris J M
Hanslin John
Hamilton Jas
Hardy Albert
Hackett Jos L
Hanson Chas
Hall Preston
Harrison Henry A
Harwood Benj
Harman John L
Hartbourne Wesley
Hendrice R
Heilbreth S 2
Horn John A
Iascoe capt J
Janey Amos
Jackson D
Jackson W K
James John
Janvier Joseph
Jones D P hon
Jackson C M
Johnson Barney
Kendal S A
Kango Lewis
Keene M H
Keener Wm
Kelly Nicholas 2
Kean C W
Kenen Richard
Kean Nathaniel B
Kerrs messrs
Keaffer Justice
Kelly A S
Lanterette capt D
Lawrence Albert
Lacy capt Jos
Lansdale mr
Lawrence Henry K
Lanahan Edward Lofman Augus
Lehman August
Lehman Michael Lecompte T
Lewis Amos
Lemmon Joshua
Leasy John
Macpherson Wm
Maxwell Marshall D
May Edward
Marmelstein B F
Magraw Stephen
Madderson John P
Maberry Giller & Watkins
Makenzie Thomas
Martin Orlando
Marshall Ashton A
Maguire Patrick
Markerry Henry
Marks Henry W
Mathews H
Martin Jacob
Martin mr of N York
Martyn Humphrey
Melich John
Meyers S & Co
Mellins Francis
Meginney Daniel
Merritt J of Theatre
Merriman Saml C
Miller George
Miller Daniel
Miller Jacob jr artillery
Miller David
Miller Jacob
Mills Malachi
Mitchell John H 2
Mikell Wm G
Monegan John
Nicholson mr A G
Nowes A W
Norton Chas
Nelson J
Nicholson lieut W C
North dr F
O'Neal James Orrick dr John
Offouer P P
Paxson Phineas
Partridge H M
Painter Chas 4
Parker Samuel
Patton J & Son
Patterson Stearns
Parker J O
Paige Thos J
Page Ambrose S
Peacock Jonathan M
Pettingill P
Phenix T R
Pierce Israel
Phelps G D
Peters T
Phelps G
Radicke Dieterich H
Rabkott mr G
Rayfield Wm P
Reese David
Remsbing Benj
Redgrave John B
Reyoes M
Reed J Dorsey
Rhodes Frodk C
Reese rev A A
Riley Jos
Riley Jos W
Rice rev Owen
Richardson Timothy
Richards J C
Richardson Jerome
Ridgely Danl B
Rawlins Wm
Rose Peter
Ross John
Showacre John
Schlisinger David
Sandler Jchann
Savage John G
Sanders C
Schilling B
Sauer John
Horon Jas H
Holly Geo W C
Hook John
Howe Wm R
Hoolan col Chas
Howes capt Thos P
Howes capt Ben F
Hobart Albert J
Holiday Wm D jr
Howard Allen B
Hook Marcus R
Hoddinott S
Howard Johnson
Hyland Benj
Hudgins Shedrick
Hubit Benedict
Hutchins Nicholas
Hutchins dr John N
Hussey Alex
Hynson Wm T
Huffington Wm W
Hurst Leonard C 2
Hubbell Edwd
Inglis Alex
Jones O H P
Jones dr S R
Johns John 2
Jones lieut W P 2
Jones Jas C
Johnson J & E W J
Jones Joel
Kidder Wm
King dr A
Kirkpatrick John
Kirby T
Klassen C
Knott Stephen E
Knight N A Knight Isaac
Kraft J T
Kurtz P K
Lemar lieut G W
Lehman Nicholas
Lee Wm
Lee Charles
League Andrews & co 3
Lemont John
Lee lieut T J
Littlejohn Rudolph 3
Lighton rev Wm B
Lonnett Gideon B
Lovegove C W
Lockwood Wm R
Legare Peter
Morgan Wm B
Morgan John W
Moore Francis L
Moore Jas E
Moore lieut
Morris Francis
Morris master Wm K
Morrison Cornelius
Muller George
Munson Charles M
Mutton master Saml S
Myers Wm
Myers Falls & Collins
McCormick Wm H
McCray Chas
McConnell Morris
McDaniel Hugh
McDowell Elijah
McDowell Thos
McDevit P
McFarland master B F
McGuire E
McGaw, capt John
McGill Patrick
McHenry Manley
McIlvaine Wm
McKeever Jas
McLean Wm
McClain John A
McMahon Francis
McNamee Jas
McPherson Francis
McQuirk Jas
Neil L J
Norris B
Nicholson A G
Nicholls Benj
Nagles B
Osmond J
Olmstead Ira
Philpot Leonard E
Philpot B
Peniston Joseph
Pierson S
Pickrell Esaw 2
Peck Jacob
Pierce Richard
Pitts Geo W
Pittenger Richard
Preast Henry
Preston H W
Robinson mr
Robinson Thos H
Rogers capt Timothy jr
Rogers capt Saml
Rogers S 2
Roberts Edwd P
Rosenstock E
Robinson Jas P Richd
Ross Wm C
Ross John W
Robertson Edwin
Roberts J G jr
Roche Martin
Rawder Wm W
Rollins Peter
Ryder Gabez C
Rossel Thos P
Ruthe Wm
Ryon J F & Co
Smith capt Wm
Smith Jas
Smith Joseph
Smiley Wm R
Snyder John
Snodgrass Wm
Somerville W T
Springer capt J O
Sears Wm
Sharr Canby & Co
Shock Saml
Shailers H L & J W
Shockney S
Shotwell J S
Sheife Joseph
Shaw T
Shailor J W
Skimmer Capt Sam'l
Silver Jas
Skeil Rufus R
Sikken Chas M
Simpson Wm
Sloan John
Smith D H
Smith Thos M
Smith D A
Smith A C
Smith T
Smith Jas
Smith L H 2
Rockle Thos C
Taylor Thos
Taylor Wm
Taggert Jas M
Tensfield Wm 2
Tellman Jos H
Taylor Edmund
Taylor J S
Thompson S J
Thompson of Louisville
Thompson capt Jas
Thomas mr
Thomas pass'd mid C
Thompson col G W
Thomas H W
Thomas A R
Tupper H
Tracey Erastus
Ulhorn mr
Valient Henry
Verkes rev Stephen
Walker J
Watkins Thos
Wall Wm 2
Walkers J
Warner Edwd
Warfield Nathan 2
Watkins R W
Washburn Philip
Wardwell & co S H 2
Wasmas Fredk 3
Waters Wm H
Watson Geo W
Wayne Edwd
Walter Edmund T H
Wallis Wm J
Watson Job H
Webb Samuel
White Benjamin 3
West Benj R
Webster Geo W
White John F
Whittington Robt
Weems Wm M
Webb H
Whittemore Caleb
White Jos & Son
Welch capt
Walker Scott
Wagner J V
Zigler Martin
Spear Wm B
Spice Wm
Spicer Wm
Spencer Thomas
Strzmonski mr 2
Stansbury J L
Stansbury Jacob
Stonlager John
Stevens Wm
Stark Ebenezer
Storm S & J
Street Thomas
Staib Michael Sturm C
Stoir Wm W Stier Jacob
Samwalt Frederick
Summerson Seth
Swain Saml
Swann J
Sydenham C
Swerzer J
Toner Zadocks
Turner Thos W
Turner R
Turner S F
Tebudy Sam 2
Turner Geo M
Turner John
Turner Saml
Tredway Thos
Travers capt Thos
Turner Chas
Tompkins capt
Talman A P
Trimble Isaac
Tripple Saml
Valentine R B
Voigt Lewis T
Whittington R H H
Wechler Bernard
Weeks Horace
Whotson J L
Whaley Jas S
Windsor Edwd
Winder Chas H
Williams Thos S
Willett Henry J 2
Williams Jos
Wilkins Wallace
Wilson Jas B
Wildey Joshua
Wiggins Reuben H
Willett E G
Wilson rev W
Wilcox Saml
Wilson L
Winkleman Fredk
Wise Louis
Wilson Abram 2
Wilson Alex
Winchester John M
Wilker Chas
Wiegand Chis Daul
Winchester Hiram
Watson John
Wooten Geo W
Wright John 2
Zorn Thos
Zell Peter

INITIALS:—L C P—D L.

JOSHUA VANSANT, P. M.

UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE
TO THE SOUTH.
VIA THE CHESAPEAKE BAY, AND PORTSMOUTH AND ROANOKE RAIL ROAD.

TRAVELLERS are informed that by taking this route, leaving Baltimore on the afternoon of SUNDAY, TUESDAY or THURSDAY, at 3½ o'clock, they will reach Portsmouth next morning in ample time to take the cars for Weldon, N. C., at which place they will arrive by 4 o'clock same afternoon, and in advance of those taking the Washington route, nine hours (see the Schedule in the hand bills of the Washington route,) and as the train for Wilmington does not leave Weldon until 2 o'clock, A. M., having to wait for the other line, passengers by this route can rest ten hours.

For 25 years there has been a line of Steamboats to Norfolk, and yet there never has been an accident—therefore the croakings about "Pegs," "Rough weather," "Storms," "Risks," "floats urged to the top of their speed," &c. are altogether the humbugs of a fruitful imagination, gotten up to impose upon the credulous. The Baltimore Steam Packet Company and the Portsmouth and Roanoke Rail Road Company hereby pledge themselves, that the connection by their route is perfect to Weldon, and that they will uniformly deliver their passengers at that point in abundant time to proceed South without loss of time.

The Steamboats for Richmond leave Norfolk every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday Mornings.

Fare to Norfolk or Richmond (meals included) $ 8
" to Weldon, $14

JNO. C. MOALE, General Agent
d18 d1w] Balt. Steam Packet Co.

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.

The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $3.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $5. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate

Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at

W. H. KEEVIL & CO'S.
No. 66½ Baltimore-st., opposite Tripolett's alley.

JOB PRINTING,
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

THE proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enamelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞ Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Warranted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by DR. HITZELBERGER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $3!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

DR. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of 10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $3. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. se3-ytm*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.
DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND,
For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabetes or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the urethra of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, composed solely of vegetable substance? One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N. B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of B. J. PITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Britan and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞ For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue. And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL. dec5-y

A BLESSING TO ALL MANKIND.

The VEGETABLE FLUID SYRUP, or Mercurial Extractor. This infallible Srup is the discovery of an old veteran and hero of the vegetable kingdom; from his long research, his labors have been crowned with the glorious result of a positive remedy for the bad effects of that poisonous drug (Mercury,) and while it has this new efficacious effect upon the bones affected with mercury, it at the same time purifies the blood from the remnants of Venereal Disease, Scrofulous Affections, Splotches and Eruptions upon the Skin, old standing indolent Ulcers, &c.

For sale, wholesale, and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO., No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-sts., on the corner of Uhler's alley; and at the General Agency Office, No. 3 Pitt street, Baltimore. Also, at WM. LANPHIER'S Drug Store, Washington, D. C. e21

LUMBER! LUMBER!! LUMBER!!!
THE Subscriber offers to his friends and the public in general, at his Lumber Yard on the Falls, below Pratt street Bridge, (office head Union Dock,) a large and general assortment of Seasoned LUMBER—such as Fannel, Common, Select Cullings, Joist, Rafters, Shingles, Laths, N. Carolina and E. S. Flooring; with every other article necessary to make a good assortment. A quantity of Ark Logs, and also Ash Plank, will be sold at reduced prices, as I have a large quantity on hand. All those who buy for cash, may expect a liberal discount.
je25-d D. E. THOMAS.

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor DESCHEL,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.

HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.

☞ Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
A AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 32 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Coal-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 100,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional Kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and uncut, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞ Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.
je18-d HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort, and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.
mh3-dtf HOPE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.
THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.
n3-dtf G. W. PEARCE.

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 1, 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

THE NEW YEAR. The commencement of a new year is a season of general felicitation. From the highest officers of the government to the more humble occupants of the log cabin, congratulations and good wishes are given and received, and each seems resolved to please and to be pleased. Among the most punctual observers of these time-honored customs, are the editors of newspapers. In poetry and prose they send forth their greetings to thousands with whom they cannot join palm to palm—and good-humoredly extend to each patron the Spanish salutation, "May you live a thousand years."

These customs are innocent and praiseworthy, inasmuch as they tend to promote kind feeling and good-fellowship. But the beginning of a new year should also excite other sentiments of a more exalted and important character. It should remind us all of our obligations to a kind Providence, for having preserved, sustained and prospered us in the time past, and of our dependent condition for the time to come. Individually and collectively, we have great cause for thankfulness. Our citizens have been blessed with unusual health, and our commercial, mechanical and other interests have advanced steadily and prosperously; and the future presents nothing to chill our ardent and sanguine anticipations.

As proprietors of the "Clipper" we should be most ungrateful did we not participate in the general joy of the season. Our bark, although somewhat baffled in the early part of her voyage by head winds and contrary tides, now skims along "on the smooth surface of a summer sea," full-freighted and well-manned.

It has been our constant endeavor to render the Clipper worthy of public favor and support, and the extraordinary rapidity with which its circulation and advertising patronage have increased within a few months, affords us the most conclusive evidence that our exertions have not been in vain. These pleasing marks of approbation shall stimulate us to greater efforts, and we give our readers the pledge, that no labor or expense shall be spared to render the paper still more acceptable. It is now established upon a firm and permanent basis, having a subscription list equal, if not superior, to any other paper in the city, with a steady daily increase, and an augmenting advertising custom. Under these prosperous and flattering circumstances, and with a view to make our paper still more acceptable to the public, we have enlisted the valuable aid of SAMUEL BARNES, Esq. late editor of the Chronicle, who will, in conjunction with Messrs. HEWITT and WILLS, in future, conduct the editorial department, which arrangement, we trust, will be duly appreciated by our numerous friends.

BULL & TUTTLE.

THE PENNY PRESS. The Boston Times, (a penny paper,) contains some judicious and some erroneous and illiberal observations in relation to the penny press. That the moral influence of these papers is extensive, and that society has been consequently greatly benefitted by their establishment, is too obvious for contradiction, even by those who are interested in deteriorating their usefulness. In all that is said by the Times or other prints, as to the moral reformation wrought through the instrumentality of the penny papers, we heartily concur. That they would exert a salutary influence upon society, where conducted with proper talent and upon correct principles, might have been anticipated from their cheapness, and their consequent extensive circulation. But the Times desires to confine its laudatory comments upon the utility of the penny press to some three or four papers, (including itself,) and boldly asserts that it is totally impracticable to successfully establish more than one penny paper in any city, however numerous the population, or extensive the ground of operation. The selfish feeling here exhibited is unbecoming an enlightened mind, and unworthy the member of a profession proverbially liberal. The assertion, however, is unjustifiable in another aspect—it is not true. Whatever may have been the results of experiments in other cities, the Clipper affords demonstration that a second penny paper can be triumphantly sustained in Baltimore, the "City of Monuments," and the liberal patron of industry and merit, whether displayed in a first, second or third effort to be useful to the community. However the Times and other kindred prints may desire to monopolize public patronage, and to exclude co-laborers from participation, they will be disappointed. People will judge and determine for themselves, and where they discover merit, they will bestow reward. They know that competition arouses the sluggard, and adds energy to the zealous—hence they will scrutinize the claim to exclusive patronage, thus boastfully put forth by the Times, and demand stronger evidence of its justice than the mere dictum of the editor.

THE FAMILY LIBRARY. Nos. 114, 115, 116, 117, and 118, of Harper's Family Library, bound in a very beautiful style, have been handed us by Messrs. Cushing and Brothers. They form a complete History of England from the earliest period up to 1839, by Thomas Keightly. The five volumes before us are decidedly the neatest specimens we have seen. The Messrs. Cushings, we have no doubt, will find a ready sale for them.

THE BANKS. In view of the contemplated resumption of specie payments by the banks of Maryland simultaneously with that of the banks of Philadelphia, a bill has been introduced into the legislature of this state, authorising the issue by our banks of notes of a denomination as low as one dollar. We look upon this measure as calculated to afford considerable relief not only to the banks, but to the community. It will give a specie currency sufficiently extensive for all useful purposes, without creating any unnecessary pressure upon the banks. The small notes thus issued will take the place of those upon which a discount has now to be paid to render them available in bank payments, and, being equivalent to specie, will be readily passed in all transactions. If this bill be not passed, the banks must necessarily restrict their issues to meet the exigency, and a pressure, more or less severe, must ensue. We think that the proposed measure is based on sound discretion, and hope to see it adopted.

☞A reward of $200 is offered by some gentlemen in Norfolk for the apprehension of the swindler of whom we spoke a day or two since as having eloped from Washington, taking a lady's watch, &c.—the chap who professed to be an officer in the French navy. He is thus minutely described.

"Is a very small man, with long dark hair, combed back over his neck and shoulders, wore whiskers and mustachios, had quick, dark, prominent eyes, well formed bust and shoulders. Has a deep scar under the hair, on the side of the head, (left side, it is believed,) with the mark of a gun shot wound on the lower part of the abdomen, and it is thought has a slight defect or peculiarity on his upper lip. Is evidently a Frenchman—talks and walks quick, and is an incessant cigar smoker. He appears to be about 25 years of age."

FURTHER PARTICULARS. We subjoin the following list of sufferers on board the steamboat Walker, of which we made mention yesterday as having exploded near Mobile:

J. S. Hopper, dead.
John Pierson, steersman, dead.
G. E. Sedenburg, Baltimore, dead.
J. H. White, Tennessee, badly scalded.
J. Bellow, New Orleans, do.
Mr. Lanier, do.
Mr. Nelson, pilot, do.
John Evan, stevedore, missing.
Wm. Powell, do.
Four stevedores from Mobile bay, slightly scalded.
Capt. J. A. Otway, slightly scalded.
J. H. Caldwell, esq., slightly wounded.
R. Roach, deck hand, badly scalded.

TUSCALOOSA. We are informed through the Mobile papers that the Speaker of the House has resigned his seat on account of ill health. Robert A. Baker was elected in his place.

Several bills upon the subject of the banks were under debate, and resolutions had been introduced into the Senate in reply to the tariff resolves of Connecticut, and upon the subject of the late law of New York extending the right of trial by jury to fugitive slaves. These last were introduced by Mr. Terry, and are accompanied by a strong and eloquent preamble.

The general ticket system for the election of members of Congress from Alabama, has passed the Senate of that State by a vote of 15 to 12.

NEW SPECIES OF COTTON. A sample of a new and rare species of cotton has been left at the office of the Mobile Journal, for the inspection of those taking an interest in the improvement of our great staple. It is called the Rio cotton, and is a most beautiful article in color and staple. The sample is part of the produce of about a dozen seeds brought from South America by a traveller, and planted in Marengo county. It is thought that the soil and climate of the southern part of Alabama will, on trial, prove to be well adapted to the growth of this new variety of the gossypium. The staple is about three inches long, and of a glossy, silk texture.

THE BOUNDARY BUSINESS. A late number of the Fredericton Sentinel states that the presence of the detachment of the 56th Regiment in the Madawaska settlement, is connected with the unjustifiable proceedings and coarse threats of the individual in charge of the armed posse of the state of Maine, stationed at the mouth of Fish river. It is rumored that these troops are shortly to be replaced by an armed civil posse, similar to that maintained by Maine, and that a block house is to be constructed on the Madawaska settlement, for their accommodation.

NARROW ESCAPE. The New York Sun states that a vessel was recently capsized near the Sicily Islands so suddenly that it did not fill with water, the internal air being confined, and three men and a boy who were in the cabin were shut in and remained three days without food, and were afterwards rescued.

THE FALL OF THE CHANDELIER. It is said that the cause of the great Chandelier running up the rod, and by which it was destroyed, was the removal of the oil founts, lamps and a part of the heavy shade. This reduced the weight so much, that the balance power preponderated.

MR. BACKUS, the deaf mute who published the "Conojarie Radii," and whose printing establishment was destroyed by the recent fire in that village, has received sufficient from the subscriptions of the benevolent to enable him to resume its publication.

ACCIDENT. On board the ship Sea, lying in the Norfolk harbor, an accident occurred to Capt. R. Fisher, caused by the falling of a heavy spar, which seriously injured him and one of the men at work on the vessel.

PERJURY. A man named Andrew Henderson has been held to bail in New York for perjury.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

ASSAULT. On Wednesday Joseph Chaney was brought before Justice G. W. King, charged with assaulting and beating Abraham Woller, an aged man, and his father-in-law. From the aggravated nature of the case the magistrate demanded security in the sum of $100 for the appearance of Chaney before the City Court on the first Monday in February.

PATENT MANGLE. We take pleasure in calling the attention of house-keepers to a superior patent mangling machine now exhibiting at the work shop of Fletcher & Mercerou, South Frederick st. It is neatly constructed and facilitates the operation of ironing to a great extent.

RUNNING HYDRANTS. A case was tried before Justice Snyder, yesterday, the result of which must put those who are in the habit of allowing their hydrants to run during cold weather, on their guard. Suit was instituted by the Mayor and City Council against Wm. G. Wills, a resident of Harrison st., for allowing a hydrant on his premises to run during the freezing weather. Evidence was produced on the part of the city to prove that the defendant was in the habit of allowing the water to run freely from his hydrant; and on the part of the defendant to prove that the spigot was out of order, and he could not prevent its running. Mr. Wills was compelled to pay a fine of $2 and costs $1.18½. So, mind your hydrants.

LAUNCH. Yesterday afternoon, a beautiful launch took place from the ship yard of L. B. Culley. It was a United States steamer, intended for the Florida service, and so constructed as to answer for a sea and river boat, being of light draught and at the same time of strong build. She was launched on a novel plan, having under her three sleepers, or ways, from which she glided with all the grace and dignity of one perfectly at home in the element she for the first time dipped into. A part of her engine was in her at the time of her launch. She was built by Mr. Culley, under the superintendance of Capt. Miles, of the U. S. A., and is admirably calculated for the transportation of provisions, troops, &c. from one point to another; being something upwards of 250 tons burthen—135 feet deck, 35 beam and 8 depth of hold. Her engine, constructed by Reeder & Son, is of 60 horse power, and, on the whole, she does credit to all hands. We understand that she is to be under the command of Captain Pearson.

GOOD. An individual went before Justice McDonald yesterday and voluntarily took oath to abstain from the use of all spirituous liquors for one year after 12 o'clock last night. He said he was determined to find out what had become of all the odd fips.

THE STREETS. The streets were in a wretched condition yesterday—mud and slush in every direction, particularly at the intersection of the principal thoroughfares.

POLICE. William Hopkins was yesterday arrested and taken before Justice Wright, charged with having stolen from Daniel Miller several bridles, halters, &c., for which offence he was committed to prison for trial.

Bernard Kruser and Hugh Murray were yesterday morning transferred to the alms-house by order of Justice Keplinger.

WATCH RETURNS. Eastern District, Dec. 31. Thomas Addett, a white man, and Alfred Patterson, a negro man, were both found drunk and noisy in the street, and conducted to the lock-up.

Middle District. Joseph Hall, Oliver Meeks, Barnard Kruser and Hugh Murray could not find the way home, and came to anchor in the watch-house.

Western District. Harriet Green, black, was apprehended for being intoxicated. Ann Kains, also black, was arrested for her strolling propensities. Two men and a youth made application for lodgings.

☞The article concerning carriage stands, which appeared in the Clipper of yesterday, might be construed by some into a different meaning from what we intended. Mr. E. S. Tarr, who was sued by the city for violating the ordinance respecting carriage stands, has a furniture carriage for his own private use, though he has taken out a license, in case he should hire it out. He did not "prefer" having it stand in front of his door with a desire to violate the ordinance, but for the purpose of keeping it near his establishment—the stand being generally full.

LOTTERY DRAWING. Something singular occurred yesterday afternoon at the drawing of the Grand Consolidated Lottery, class No. 8. It appears that the number 13 was drawn from the wheel twice—it made its appearance at the 7th and 10th drawn numbers. This looks somewhat strange—we do not profess to account for the mystery. The commissioners, in order to amend the difficulty, made another turn of the wheel, after discarding the last drawn 13, and drew in its place the number 55. This is a ticklish business, gentlemen. Can you give us an explanation?

WASHINGTON TEMPERANCE SOCIETY. This society, which has done a vast amount of good during the short period of its existence, have announced a public meeting at the Wesley Chapel, Sharp street, to-night. This is the first day of the new year, and there are doubtless many who are anxious to reform—let it be a bright day on the records of temperance in all things.

OLD FASHION. There are some of our citizens who still keep up the old New York fashion of entertaining visiters on New Year's day. Our friend round the corner, amongst the rest, sticks to the good old mode, and informs us that he will be happy to exchange the civilities of the season with friend or enemy.

THE MUSEUM. Mad. Lecompte with her corps de ballet and the St. Lukes are at the Museum. The bill offered for to-night is attractive.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.

In the House of Representatives a bill was reported by Mr. Adams, from the Committee on Manufactures, providing for a more faithful execution of the laws relating to the collection of duties on imports. This is virtually the same bill as originally reported to the committee at the last session, and does not contain the amendments of the Senate imposing a new tariff on various silk and worsted articles. It was read twice, and referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

The motion of Mr. Geddings to reconsider the vote by which the House a few days ago repealed the Pension Act of 1837, came up in order. The debate having lasted three days, the previous question was sprung and seconded. The question was then taken on the motion to reconsider, and it was negatived.

Mr. Filmore, of N. Y., moved to print an extra number of copies of the documents relating to the burning of the steamboat Caroline by the Canadians. After a long debate on the subject of our border troubles, the motion was agreed to.

The several states and territories were then called in their order for petitions.

Nothing of importance has been done in the Senate, private business being the order of the day.

The weather this morning is like spring, and the ladies are out with their gay dresses in great numbers.

MURDER OF INDIANS. We learn by the Maumee Times, that three Indians of the Wyandott tribe were lately murdered in Henry Co., Ohio; their throats were cut, and their heads horribly crushed. Their bodies were found by a party of their own tribe, who traced the murderers to the house of a Mrs. Lyons, where they found the stolen property, horses, &c. Suspicion rests upon the widow's son and a lad 17 or 18 years of age, both of whom have been arrested and taken to Henry Co. prison to await trial.

SPEEDY RETRIBUTION. Major Thomas E. Clark, of Crittenden county, Arkansas, was not long since brutally murdered by two of his slaves. The citizens of Crittenden county, on learning the facts, immediately turned out and apprehended the negroes, and hung them up on the nearest tree as examples for other refractory slaves.

STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT. The steamer Panola arrived at New Orleans on the 19th inst. having suffered some damage from fire occurring on board of her, about six miles above Rodney. The flames were soon subdued, but not until the upper works were considerably injured, and some seventy-five bales of cotton lost.

THE SOUTHAMPTON MURDERS. We learn that at least $15,000 in silver have been found on the premises of Mr. Scott, the Quaker who was murdered together with five of his household, by a miscreant who had invaded the home of a miserly old man under the impulses of a diabolically criminal cupidity.

A BLACK THIEF. A young lady in New York was alarmed last week by a noise in her chamber; when she attempted to ascertain the cause, she learned that a black fellow had found his way into the room, and was departing with the quickest possible speed with a gold watch. He was afterwards arrested.

REMOVAL OF SIR JOHN HARVEY. The London Globe announces that Major General Sir Thomas Pearson, now in command of the North of Ireland, is to proceed to New Brunswick, in the room of Major General Sir John Harvey, ordered to India.

It seems that the fate of the Amistad negroes, now depends upon a translation from a Spanish document, made to the last session of Congress. Mr. Adams declares that the translation is erroneous, and has asked for a committee of investigation.

FIRES. On the 18th ult. several fires occurred in St. Louis. The fire broke out in a cabinet maker shop belonging to Mr. S. C. Crumpton, which was consumed together with a number of small adjoining buildings. All the damages sustained were not very heavy.

SUICIDE. A young woman of abandoned character, living upon Carry street, Richmond, destroyed her life by taking laudanum on the 28th ult. She owed some house rent which she was unable to pay, and for that reason committed the fatal act. Her name was Betsey Stark.

GREATER STILL. Goodhue, the wretch who was lately sentenced to 20 years imprisonment for horrible incest, has been convicted of another crime, and received an additional sentence of 15 years—thirty-five in all.

EXPLOSION. A small colored boy in Norfolk, named Taylor, a few days since, threw a flask of powder into the kitchen stove; it instantly exploded, dashing the stove to atoms, besides injuring the boy very much.

BURNT TO DEATH. An old lady, a fortune teller, was burnt to death in Richmond a few days since while in her bed—the bed was set on fire by a shooting cracker.

NAVAL. The U. S. sloop Concord, Commander Boerum, bound to the coast of Brazil, dropped down to Hampton Roads 29th ult. and will sail first fair wind.

THE BAPTISTS. The number of Baptist Associations in the United States and British Provinces of America is 423; the churches 8021; ordained ministers 4503; and members 587,206.

THE MAYOR OF NEW YORK is much worse, and his medical advisers consider him in great danger.

☞The President's house will be open to-day for the reception of visiters from 12 to 3 o'clock.

Deaths in Boston last week, 27.

MARRIED,

On the 27th inst. by the Rev. Mr. BROWN, ALFRED W. KIRKLE, of Havre de Grace, Md. to Miss HARRIET HILDITCH, of Baltimore.

DIED,

On the 24th inst. JOHN ROGERS, in the 38th year of his age.

On the afternoon of the 30th inst. Major JOHN LAKEMAN, about 60 years of age.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Bremen brig Bremen Packet, Wieting, Bremen.
Brig Water Witch, Le Brun, St. Thomas.

MEMORANDA.

Brig Empressario, Collins, was at Havana 12th inst. from New Orleans, disch'g.
Brig Shamrock, Goodrich, for Baltimore, cleared at Havana 9th inst.

TWELFTH WARD.

☞The citizens of the 12th Ward are requested to meet at Mrs. SHIPLEY'S (late Matthew Clark's,) West Baltimore street, THIS EVENING, 1st Jan. for the purpose of making some arrangements for the relief of the necessitous poor of the Ward. ja1-1t

☞The MANAGERS of the Society for the Relief of Indigent Sick, acknowledge the receipt of the following donations, through Mrs. LOCKE, from a friend: $25—$10—$10—$5. Also, the sum of $5 from Mr. J. ARMSTRONG, through Mrs. BENSON. ja1-1t

VIGILANT FIRE COMPANY.

☞The Annual Meeting of this Company will be held at their Engine House, on MONDAY, the 4th of January, 1841, at 7 o'clock, P. M.

N. B. An election for two Directors to the Firemen's Insurance Company will take place at the same time. Members will please be punctual in their attendance. ja1-3t* By order, CHAS. WALSH, Sec'y.

DOCTOR GIDEON B. SMITH,

☞Has commenced the PRACTICE of Medicine. Applications for his services may be made at his Office, Basement of the Chesapeake Bank, North street, or at his Dwelling in Mulberry, between Pearl and Pine streets. ja1-3t*

WASHINGTON TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

☞The "Washington Temperance Society" will hold a public meeting in Wesley Chapel, Sharp street, on NEW YEAR'S NIGHT. The public generally, without distinction, are respectfully invited to attend. The meeting will be addressed by a distinguished friend of the cause; several members will also give in their experience. An opportunity will be afforded to all who wish to become members of the association, during the evening.

Hereafter the Washington Temperance Society will hold their regular meetings EVERY MONDAY NIGHT in Mr. NEALY'S SCHOOL ROOM, corner of Hanover and Lombard streets, commencing on MONDAY EVENING NEXT, the 4th of January.

☞Names added on Christmas day,	148
" " on Monday night last	52
	200

d30-4t

☞Dr. T. L. MURPHY has resumed the Practice of Medicine. Office No. 69 BOND STREET, a few doors S. of Allisanna street. d12-tf

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,

80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL. Yesterday's drawing Consolidated Lottery of Maryland, class No. 8—lowest prize $5:

59 37 10 4 21 48 13 33 56 55 71 12

Drawn Nos. of Literature Lottery, extra class No. 46, Dec 30—lowest prize $2:

59 16 62 22 31 29 8 52 43 21 70 12

TO-DAY, Literature Lottery, class No. 1, for the New Year 1841. 75 Nos. 14 Ballots.

GRAND SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$5000		1 Prize of	$1222
1 "	2500		2 "	600
1 "	2000		2 "	500
1 "	1500		5 "	400,	&c.

Tickets $3—shares in proportion.

TO-MORROW, New Jersey State Lottery, to be drawn at Jersey City, opposite New York—result received on Monday morning. 78 Nos.—14 Ballots.

SPLENDID SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$30,000		4 Prizes of	$1250
1 "	10,000		95 "	1000
1 "	5,000		39 "	600

Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address, E. W. ROBINSON,

No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.
Agent for the State of Maryland. ja1-1t

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of

HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,

For the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Cheston & Son, Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq. do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq. do.
James Hepburn, esq. do.
Christian Haldeman, esq. Columbia.
Jacob M. Haldeman, esq. Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq. Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank, Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq. Cash. Girard do.
William S. Smith, esq. Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq. Boston.

Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-d2wco2w*

CHAMBERMAID WANTED. Wanted, in a small family, a WHITE CHAMBERMAID, who must also understand Plain Sewing. Apply in ST. PAUL STREET, 3d door north of Mulberry. ja1-3t*

CHEESE AND OIL.

120 Boxes CHEESE
1000 gallons Refined Whale OIL.

☞For sale low from Sloop CADET, at Pratt street wharf. ja1-3t*

CLOCKS! CLOCKS!!

THE subscribers have opened a Store at No. 34 S. CHARLES STREET, for the sale of their celebrated CLOCKS. They have now on hand, and are constantly receiving, large supplies from their manufactory in the city of New York, Brass and Wood Eight-day, One-day, and Alarm CLOCKS, of every variety of style, and of superior workmanship and finish, which they warrant and offer at wholesale to dealers, at their lowest factory prices.

ja1-1y SMITH & BROTHERS.

TEN DOLLARS REWARD.

FLUTE LOST. A nine silver-keyed Cocoa Flute, with silver mountings, Eisenbrant's make. It was in a leather case, on which was marked "Alexander Falls, No. 3 Light-st. wharf," and on the upper lip was engraved—"A. FALLS." The finder will receive $10, on leaving it at the Clipper office, or at the office of Alex. Falls, No. 3 Light street wharf.

N. B. Pawn-brokers and others are cautioned not to receive it. ja1-eo3t

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumptive, that fell Destroyer! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Man. To DR. SWAYNE.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel different—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently depends on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
jy28-y

MRS. CONNOR'S

BOARDING HOUSE, PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, between 3d and 4½ streets, Washington City, (D. C.) where Gentlemen, visiting the District, can be accommodated with Board and suits of Apartments, suitable for single gentlemen or families, for any length of time. d23-1m

F. B. SCHÆFFER,

(SUCCESSOR TO BARKER & CO.)
156 BALTIMORE STREET.

GREAT AND GLORIOUS RESULT. By the returns received by this morning's mail, it affords us much pleasure to inform our customers that we have had the satisfaction of selling some fine prizes, among them $2000, 250, 300, 1000, and many of 500, 200, and $100 prizes. Schaffer's office is the place for prizes—all those in want of the one thing needful are requested to call. Look out this week.

Brilliant Lotteries for the Week:

On THIS DAY, Dec. 31, Consolidated Lottery of Maryland, class 8. Capitals—$20,000, 6,000, 3,000, 20 of 1000, &c. Tickets $5.

On FRIDAY, 1st Jan., Literature Lottery, class 1, Capitals $9,000, 2,500, &c. Tickets $3.

On SATURDAY, 2d Jan., Virginia State Lottery, class 1. Capitals—30,000, 10,000, 5,000, &c.

Whole Tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2.50.

☞ For Lucky Tickets, apply to
F. B. SCHÆFFER,
Successor to BARKER & Co.
156 Baltimore street, corner of St. Paul's-st.

Where more prizes have been sold and paid than at any other office within the United States.

☞ Orders for Tickets, in any Lotteries under the management of D. S. GREGORY & Co., thankfully received and promptly attended to—and the result of the drawing sent immediately after it is received. To insure a prize, you must address d31 F. B. SCHÆFFER, Baltimore, Md.

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty,	16 superb plates—price	$3.50
Keepsake,	15 do	3.50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals,	15 plates,	3.00
Forget-Me-Not,	11 plates	2.00
Friendship's Offering,	10 plates,	2.00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
d31 And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

MANGLES! MANGLES!!

THE subscribers offer for sale a superior MANGLE, of their own manufacture. It is an article which no family, who admire WHITE and SWEET linen, or value time and fuel, should be without. It is especially adapted to hotels, boarding houses, and public schools, as in an hour, with it, a woman can get up as much linen, in "first rate style," as she could in a day with the ordinary flat iron. A person can learn the use of the Mangle in a few minutes.

FLETCHER & MERCERON,
Carpenters, Cabinet Makers, Billiard Table and Mangle Manufacturers, No. 10 S. FREDERICK STREET, a few doors from Baltimore street.

☞ All orders punctually executed, on the most reasonable terms compatible with good workmanship.
d30-3t

ANNOUNCEMENT.

BULWER'S NEW PLAY—"MONEY." The Editor of the 'New World,' has received the EXCLUSIVE copy of the new comedy, entitled "MONEY," by Sir E. L. BULWER, author of 'Pelham,' 'Richelieu,' 'The Lady of Lyons,' 'The Sea Captain,' 'Rienzi, &c. The Play is not yet published in London, and this is the ONLY copy which can possibly have been received in the United States—since the Editor of the New World obtained it from a source that leaves no doubt of the fact. It will appear in the New World of this week, (January 2,) first No. of Quarto Volume.

☞ Baltimore Office, No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post Office.
d30-4t WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

TO TEACHERS.

MR. DAVISON'S PATENT MUSCULAR GUIDE TO PENMANSHIP, after much labor and expense, is now prepared for SCHOOLS. Teachers, desirous of securing to their Institutes or Academies a plan, the benefits of which discover the capability of muscular action, and so effectually directs it, as to make practical and beautiful writers in a short time, can do so by making application at the Writing Rooms, No. 41 BALTIMORE STREET. The plan is adopted by a number of the principal Schools in the city. d31-2t

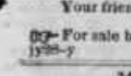
PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Emporium,
No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered. Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

NOTICE.



In consequence of the constant repairs, necessary to keep the boats in running order during the time the navigation is obstructed by Ice, and in accordance with former usage, the "Baltimore Steam Packet Company" hereby give notice, that on and after SUNDAY, the 27th December, the fare to Norfolk will be $10—to Richmond $12—and to Weldon $15, until the opening of the navigation.

d25-8t JOHN C. MOALE, General Agent.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d13-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

MOTHERS, who have children suffering with cough or cold, should procure HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY. It is very pleasant, and Children do not object to it.
For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d13-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

BOARDING may be obtained by two or three genteel young men, or a gentleman and his lady, in a respectable private boarding house, near the Exchange—terms moderate. Apply at the Intelligence Office, N. W. corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts.
d30 [A]

FOR RENT. A HOUSE situated in Calvert street, containing ten Rooms, a handsome yard in front and back of the House—at a very low rent. Apply at No. 71 Market street, opposite Holliday-st. d30-3t C. RICCO.

SERVANTS. Persons in want of Servants of any kind, will be promptly supplied by applying at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. d30 [A] d30

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES taken at par for GOODS, at T. W. BETTON'S Gentlemen's Furnishing Store, No. 151½ BALTIMORE-ST.
d31-tf

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Can'l, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000 may be had on		MONDAY, for	$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	4 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
6,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 00
30,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. d7-1m

STATE ARMORY AND TOWN HALL LOTTERY, CLASS 1.

The whole to be positively drawn on SATURDAY, January 16, 1841.

Samuel Lucas, William Gwynn, Geo. Gordon Belt, Charles F. Mayer, Charles G. Ridgely and William J. Wright Commissioners.

SCHEME.

10 prizes of	$10,000	is	$100,000
10	1,000		10,000
10	600		6,000
10	400		4,000
10	300		3,000
20	200		4,000
100	100		10,000
100	60		6,000
100	50		5,000
100	40		4,000
100	30		3,000
200	25		5,000
1000	20		20,000
2000	10		20,000
10000	8		80,000
10000	7		70,000
10000	5		50,000
33,770 prizes.			$400,000

Single Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

A package of 10 Whole Tickets is warranted to draw $17 net.

A package of 100 Whole Tickets is warranted to draw $204 net.

Persons at a distance ordering a package, or any share of a package, need only enclose the difference between the selling price of such package and what it is warranted to draw, and by return mail they will receive a Commissioner's Certificate, which will be just as good, in every respect, as the original tickets, and entitle the purchaser to all the prizes that may be drawn over the warranted amount.

All orders will meet with the same prompt attention as if personal application was made—if addressed to
JAMES H. COX, General Agent,
d16-2awdt 146 Market street, Baltimore.

REMOVAL.

A. J. BROWN, DENTAL SURGEON, late Assistant of Doctor KNAPP, has Removed to FAYETTE STREET, three doors west of Charles, where he will be happy to render his professional services to all who may require them. The patrons of Dr. Knapp will be attended to in the same manner, and on the same terms, as if performed by Dr. K. himself. My operations in Dental Surgery will be performed according to the late scientific improvements in the art, and warranted to give satisfaction in every case, or the money refunded. From the success of past operations, he is confident he can please all who may honor him with their patronage, and respectfully refers to the numerous ladies and gentlemen for whom he has operated.

☞ TOOTHACHE. Persons suffering with this distressing malady, can be relieved by his treatment of the teeth. d5-1m

A NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

THE LADY'S BOOK, Bound, Volume XXII, Price $2.00.

LIST OF ENGRAVINGS:

1. Fairmount Water Works, Philadelphia.
2. The Pilgrims.
3. The Indian Maid.
4. Happy as a King.
5. Death of Lunth.
6. Constantinople.

And six colored PRINTS of the latest Fashions.

N. B. The January number for 1841 is just received. Price 25 cents—or $3 per year. For sale at
W. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Office,
No. 28 N. Gay street—and at
JOHN MOORE'S Bookstore,
d29 No. 74 Market-st. 1 door below Holliday.

WHY WILL YE SUFFER?

VERNACULAR TOOTH-ACHE REMEDY. A certain, safe, and speedy cure for that most agonizing of all pains. It never was known to fail where it could be applied, and the directions were followed. For testimonials, and details of its astonishing effects, see paper accompanying the remedy.

Price 25 cents per vial.

For sale by Smith & Atkinson, Market street, opposite Sharp; Hance, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Duhurst, corner Pratt street and Dugan's wharf; Parr & Grahame, corner Eutaw and Market streets; Balderston, corner Howard and Franklin sts. d29-3tfu*

THE PATENT COFFEE CLEARER.

THOSE who are fond of a "GOOD CUP OF COFFEE" are requested to try the above article, which will be found to be of unsurpassed utility in settling Coffee. It is also much cheaper and more handy than any thing else which is used for the same purpose—a small piece, thrown into the coffee whilst boiling, will make it as transparent as amber—price 12½ cents at retail. For sale by
W. J. VAN NESS, Grocer,
n27-tf Market Space.

CHEAP! CHEAPER!! CHEAPEST!!!

THE subscriber has on hand, a large assortment of Ladies and Misses Morocco, (of all colors,) Kid, Seal Skin, and Lasting SHOES, which he is now selling very low, say from 50 to 87½ cents per pair. They are first rate Shoes for wear, and were made under the inspection of one of the most experienced Shoemakers of this city.

Call early at A. S. DUNGAN'S, d28-eo3t* 63 Baltimore street, sign of the Eagle.

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d28-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES; French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞ All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.
d3-tf

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by
SETH S. HANCE,
d13-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S SUPERIOR LILY WHITE.

THIS is the only article which has ever improved the most beautiful creatures in the world—to wit—the "Baltimore Ladies"—warranted not to injure the skin. SETH S. HANCE,
d13-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COPPER PLATE AND MUSIC PAPER, on hand and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
d17 No. 2 S. Charles street.

DRY GOODS, &c.

FANCY AND WORSTED STORE.

THE subscriber has on hand, and offers for sale a large and general assortment of Fine Worsted Patterns, Zephyr Worsted, Thick & Working Chenille, Saddler's Floss, Sewing and Twist Silk for Purses, Silk, Cotton and Worsted Cushs. Perfumed, Board and Hair Cloth for Worsted Work, Ladies' Knitted Worsted Caps, Baby's Bonnetts, Boy's Gaiters and Scarfs, Silk and Worsted Fringe, Black Silk Lace, Silk Velvet for Head Bands, Belts and Cuffs, Ladies' and Children's Worsted Mittens, Knit Muffs, Knitting Yarn, Linen and Cotton Tape and Cord, &c.

ALSO—A general assortment of Work and Fancy Baskets and Boxes; Ivory, Shell, and Horn Combs; Jewelry; Needles and Pins; Toys, &c. &c.

G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 58 Lexington-st., 5th door above Howard-st.
o23-co3m [AS]

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are LOWER than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.
N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES AT PAR.
SELLING OFF! SELLING OFF!!

HAVING on hand a large Stock of GOODS, which I wish to reduce, I will receive in payment for the same, the notes of the Tide Water Canal Company at par. In the assortment will be found a quantity of 5-4 to 14-4 Rose, Point, and Whitney Blankets; Cassimeres; 3-4, 4-4, 5-4, and 7-8 white, red and yellow Flannels; a case black and white Chintz, at only 12½ cents per yard; Fancy Chintzes and Calicoes; Mouseline de Laine, very low; bleached and brown Shirtings; Irish Linen; handsome large white Counterpanes; woollen and cotton Table Covers; green and fig'd Baize; a large variety of Table Diaper; Damask Table Cloths and Napkins; a few Lambs-wool Shirts and Pants, with all kinds of Hosiery—together with a large assortment of other Goods, all of which I have determined to put at such prices as will ensure a sale to all who will favor us with a call, at No. 60 Hanover street. d29 GEORGE BEVAN.

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and this market, a splendid assortment of Rich SILK GOODS, consisting as follows—

1 case 4-4 Rich Glace Paconne, all colors
1 " do. Black and Blue Black Gro de Affrique
1 " do. Satin Striped and Figured Betencia
1 " do. Satin Stripe and Rept, all shades
1 " do. 4-4 Black and Blue Black Gro de Rhine
1 " Plain Gro de Swiss, all colors.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

Just opened—Extra super 9-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" " Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
" " Very splendid Satin Glace Shawls, large
" " 8-4 Cabeech SHAWLS
" " 9-4 Broche do.
" " 8-4 Thibet Wool do.

MOUSELIN DE LAINES.

One case Black Ground Mousetin de Laine, heavy
Colored Figured do. very superior quality
Half-mourning Mouselin de Laine
Handsome assortment Plain and Figured do.
One case superior French MERINOS, all colors.

With a general assortment of New Style Fall Goods, to which they very respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER,
n13 45 Market-st., 4 doors above Gay.

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 39 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—
We have determined to clear out our stock of Mouseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½; super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7-8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1½ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25: childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
BED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.

E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6¼
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6¼
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 8¼
Yard wide good quality do. half and sleve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 8¼
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 6¼ each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleves
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mouselaine de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 8¼
Excellent LINSEY, eleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 8¼s
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 8¼s
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Broche do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 8¼
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 8¼
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6¼

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

AMUSEMENTS.

BALTIMORE MUSEUM
AND GALLERY OF THE FINE ARTS,
Corner of Baltimore and Calvert streets.

NEW YEAR'S NIGHT.
GREAT & COMBINED ATTRACTION!

FOR TWO NIGHTS ONLY!! At the Baltimore Museum. Madam Lecompte's celebrated French Company, Ballet and Pantomime Artistes, and the ST. LUKE Family of Minstrels, consisting of Miss St. Luke, the celebrated Vocalist, Master St. Luke, the youthful Paganini, and Mr. St Luke.

THIS (FRIDAY) EVENING, Jan. 1,
Will be performed,
THE TEMPEST,
Ariel, Miss ST. LUKE.
After which, 1st act of celebrated Operatic Ballet of LA BAYADERE.
Or, THE MAID OF CASHMERE.

Zoloe, La Bayadere,	Mad. Lecompte.
Fatima, the dancing Bayadere,	Mad. P. Desjardins.
Ninka, singing Bayadere,	Miss St. Luke.
Olifour, the Grand Judge,	Mons. Lecompte.

(With all the Original Dances)

To which will be added a Christmas Pantomime, called ELISE AND COLLIN.

The whole to conclude with the celebrated CACHUCHA, by Madame LECOMTPE, &c.

☞ For Programme, see small bills.

☞ Saloon Performance to commence at 7½ o'clock precisely.

☞ Admittance to the Museum and Saloon only 50 cents. Children half price.

DANCING AND WALTZING.

PRIVATE TEACHING. Mr. W. H. GRIFFITH, of New York, respectfully announces to the ladies and gentlemen of Baltimore, that he is prepared to give lessons in the above accomplishment, and has taken a Room at No. 1 N. CALVERT-ST. Having formed a class, he wishes to inform those desirous of acquiring a knowledge of the same, that he will spare no pains in forwarding those who may favor him with their patronage, having taught several of the first families in New York, among whom were those of Aaron Clarke, esq., ex-mayor; Preserved Fish, esq. Pres't Tradesmen's Bank; Alderman Buring, &c.

☞ Young Ladies, Misses, and Masters, will be taught at their respective places of abode. All communications, addressed to W. H. G. will meet with immediate attention. d31-6t*

DANCING AND WALTZING.

C. C. PHILLIPS respectfully informs his friends and the public, that his DANCING ACADEMY is now open for the reception of pupils, at the Fell's Point Assembly Rooms, corner of Bond and Thames streets. Days of Tuition, for Young Ladies, Misses, and Masters, on TUESDAY and FRIDAY AFTERNOONS, from 2 till 5 o'clock, and on TUESDAY and FRIDAY EVENINGS, for Gentlemen, from half past 6 till 10 o'clock.

☞ Cotillion Parties on every MONDAY EVENING throughout the season. d16-eo3w*

BALTIMORE LYCEUM.

AT the Annual Meeting on the 28th inst. the following gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year:

S. D. BRADY, President.
SAMUEL BARNES, Vice-president.
O. S. CRAMPTON, Secretary.
ISAAC GANDLER, Treasurer.
W. P. PRESTON, J. M. ROBINSON, N. COX, H. JOHNSON, W. M. STARR, } Board of Curators.

☞ With the view of increasing the usefulness of this Institution, the Board of Curators have engaged the assistance of the following gentlemen, in the delivery of a series of LECTURES during the ensuing season—

Dr. Samuel Annan,	Dr. C. A. Harris,
Samuel Barnes,	John H. Hewitt,
Samuel D. Brady,	Martin Lewis,
Dr. C. C. Cox,	Wm. L. Marshall,
John McKim Duncan,	Wm. P. Preston,
Dr. John Fonerdan,	E. Yates Reese,
Dr. E. Foreman,	Dr. E. Snodgrass,
Dr. J. J. Graves,	John Wills.

☞ The series will begin on FRIDAY, 1st Jan'y, when Mr. Wm. L. MARSHALL will deliver the Anniversary Oration; at its close, the adjourned discussion on the perfectibility of mankind, will be resumed. Tickets may be had at Candler's Circulating Library, Pratt street, near Hanover st.

d30 3t SAMUEL WEBB, Sec'y.

CHILDREN TEETHING.

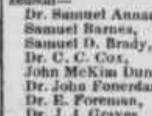
AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing FITS, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞ Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains as aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by
jy28-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

AUCTION CLOTHS & CASSIMERES.

CONSTANTLY ON HAND, a large and desirable selection of West of England CLOTHS and CASSIMERES, amongst which are—extra super wool and piece dyed black, blue, invisible green, grass green, citron, olive, brown, drab, and cadet mix'd, with a great variety of plain and fancy CASSIMERES, such as wool and piece dyed black, blue and drabs, with fancy Doe Skins—to which we particularly invite the attention of persons wishing to purchase, as they can be accommodated with Cloths at all prices, from $2 to $16, and Cassimeres from $1 to $7 per yard. All of which we can recommend for the price.

DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Baltimore-st.
d24-co1w 3d door west of Market Space.

PHRENOLOGY.



This subscriber respectfully informs the Ladies and Gentlemen of Baltimore and its vicinity, that he may be found at his office, No. 4 NORTH STREET, next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION. His Charts are carefully designed—and, from his long experience and extensive practice, a correct delineation of character may be confidently expected. Phrenological Books, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale. E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist.
d23-y1m*

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,

Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.

With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.

oc2 EDW. J. RICHARDSON.

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 Bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by
d19 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. d25

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 20 good white and colored COOKS, to fill desirable places in different parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES and 2 NURSES. d25

BY WEVER, CANNON & CO.
No. 28 S. CHARLES STREET.

SALE OF DRY GOODS & CLOTHING.

ON FRIDAY MORNING, Jan 1st, 1841, at 10 o'clock, on the third floor of our warehouse, No. 28 S. Charles street, we will sell at auction, without reserve, an extensive stock of Dry Goods and Ready made Clothing, consisting in part of—Cloths; Cassimeres; Satinets; Lustring; Gros de Naps, Silk and other Hosiery; Calicoes; Ribands; Threads; Cotton Laces; Shawls, Silk and Cotton Hdkfs.; Capes; Velvets; Challeys; Bombazines; Bombazetts; Sewing Silks; Cambrics; Jaconet and Mull Muslins; French Lawns; Merinos; Diapers; Vestings; Irish Linen; Table Covers; Umbrellas; Mouseline de Laines; Dimity; Blankets; Flannel; Bleached and Brown Muslins; Thread, Boss, Tapes, &c.

Also—Clothing, viz: Overcoats; Dress Coats; Pantaloons, Vests, &c. Terms cash, in bankable money.
d30 WEVER, CANNON & CO. Auct'rs.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

LADY'S BOOK, for JANUARY, 1841.—Edited by Mrs. SARAH J. HALE, and Mrs. LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY. The only Work, intended for Ladies, that is edited by their own Sex. Miss E. LESLIE contributes to every Number.

CONTENTS—Original. The Festa di Pie di Grotta; Mr. and Mrs. Woodridge, by Miss Leslie; Anacreontic Ballad, by Mr. C. B. Wilson, of London, England; Prayers at Sea, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney; False Pride, a Tale of Every Day Life, by Mrs. Mary W. Hale; The Fairy's Proffer, by Mrs. Annan, (late Miss A. M. F. Buchanan); An Incident during a Siege, by Mrs. Mary H. Parsons; Antonio Salvini, a Tale, by Mrs. E. F. Ellet; Childhood's Laugh, by Mrs. Seba Smith; A Life of Fashion, by Mrs. Emma C. Embury; Man's First Offering, by Mrs. S. J. Hale; The Parlor Serpent, by Mrs. Caroline Lee Henry; To Wordsworth, written at Rydal Mount, by Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney; Ernestine, by Esther Wetherwald; Our Life is as a Shadow, by Miss Lois Bryan. MUSIC—The Stranger's Heart—words by Mrs. Hemans—music by Miss Augusta Browne; A Singular Fact, by Mrs. M. M. Webster; The two Trees, by Caroline T. Orne; New Year's Eve; or, Amusements at Home, by Mrs. S. J. Hale. Editor's Table.

EMBELLISHMENTS. Neapolitan Peasants—the finest Plate of the season—engraved by A. L. Dick; Fashions, Colored—Female figure, with fashionable head dress and apron; Boy's Dress; Girl's out-door Dress; Girl's in-door Dress.

☞ Baltimore Publisher—WM. & HARRISON, No. 28 N. Gay-st., and 74 Market-st. & J. MOORE'S Bookstore, one door below Holliday street.

TERMS—$3 per year, or 25 cents each number. Register your names to-day, being a fine Christmas Gift.
d24

CHRISTMAS.

THE Subscriber, for the greater convenience of those ladies and gentlemen who may wish to provide themselves with handsome gifts for the approaching season, has fitted up above his Store, No. 58 LEXINGTON STREET, five doors above Howard-st., a Room, in which he has arranged a great variety of beautiful FANCY ARTICLES, consisting of Toys of every description; handsomely dressed large and small Dolls; Fancy and Work Boxes and Baskets; Segar Boxes; Card Cases; Pencil Cases; Pocket Books and Purses; Writing Desks and Inkstands; beautifully painted large and small Waiters; Books of the best selection of Music for the Piano; a fine assortment of Jewelry, with a great variety of useful and Fancy Articles, selected expressly for the present season, and such as will, he hopes, please the tastes of those ladies and gentlemen who may do him the favor to call.

G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 58 Lexington street, five doors above
d15-tIsJan [AS] Howard street.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,
(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland,)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Dorie Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as good quality and as cheap as can be purchased at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.

d23-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 31st of August, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Chemical, Philosophical, and Astronomical Apparatus, is extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by Mr. J. C. ROBINSON. ARISTIDES FREITAG, L. L. D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the German.

☞ Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or enter pupils, will receive every attention, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. BAXTER, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.

a8-tf J. B. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

COTTON FACTORY—For Sale or Rent.

FOR Manufacturing Cotton WADDING & LAPS. The Machinery of the above Factory is propelled by a first rate Four horse Steam Engine. I will sell for cash, or on a liberal credit on approved endorsed notes. This is a rare chance for an industrious person with a small capital—the Factory is well established, and has a good run of customers—possession can be had in March. Inquire of T. W. BETTON, d22-tf No. 151½ Baltimore street.

GOLD ANCHORS, LEVERS & LEPINES.

A large and entirely new assortment of Gold Anchor, Levers, Gold Lipines, and low priced Silver Vertical WATCHES—Just received by the late arrivals via New York, and for sale by CANFIELD & BROTHER,
d30-3t Corner of Baltimore and Charles sts.

CASSIA AND CHAMPAGNE.

10 CASES FRESH CASSIA
10 baskets Genuine Anchor CHAMPAGNE
Landing from Celeste, for sale by
MARCUS DENISON,
de 24 No. 31 Baltimore street.

CURRANTS AND CRANBERRIES.

500 POUNDS FRESH CURRANTS
7 bbls Superior CRANBERRIES
For sale by MARCUS DENISON,
d24 31 Baltimore street.

JAMISON'S Fresh SODA, SUGAR, WATER, and BUTTER CRACKERS, just received for sale by MARCUS DENISON, n6 31 Baltimore street.

20 Bbls. Fifth

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

OUR LOG BOOK.

CALENDAR—For 1841.

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday

JANUARY.

					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24	25	26	27	28	29	30
31

FEBRUARY.

1	2	3	4	5	6
7	8	9	10	11	12	13
14	15	16	17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24	25	26	27
28

MARCH.

	1	2	3	4	5	6
7	8	9	10	11	12	13
14	15	16	17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24	25	26	27
28	29	30	31

APRIL.

				1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30

MAY.

						1
2	3	4	5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12	13	14	15
16	17	18	19	20	21	22
23	24	25	26	27	28	29
30	31

JUNE.

		1	2	3	4	5
6	7	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18	19
20	21	22	23	24	25	26
27	28	29	30

JULY.

			1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31

AUGUST.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7
8	9	10	11	12	13	14
15	16	17	18	19	20	21
22	23	24	25	26	27	28
29	30	31

SEPTEMBER.

			1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28	29	30

OCTOBER.

					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24	25	26	27	28	29	30
31

NOVEMBER.

	1	2	3	4	5	6
7	8	9	10	11	12	13
14	15	16	17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24	25	26	27
28	29	30

DECEMBER.

			1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28	29	30	31

JANUARY—1842.

						1
2	3	4	5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12	13	14	15
16	17	18	19	20	21	22
23	24	25	26	27	28	29
30	31

FEBRUARY.

		1	2	3	4	5
6	7	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18	19
20	21	22	23	24	25	26
27	28

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 30, 1840.

Mr. Causin moved that all that portion of the Governor's message which relates to the distribution of the public lands be referred to a select committee.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Causin, E. A. Lynch, Gaither, Jones of S., Tuck, Prestman and Martin.

Mr. Gaunt offered an order in relation to the Chesspeake and Ohio canal, as follows:

Ordered, That the President of the Cheapeake and Ohio Canal Co. be requested to report to this House as early as practicable, what progress has been made during the present year, towards the completion of said Canal.

Mr. Legrand obtained leave to bring in a bill to repeal the supplement to the act to provide for the administration of justice in cases of crimes and misdemeanors in the city and precincts of Baltimore, passed 1816, chapter 193, and to revise an act entitled an act for the more speedy trial of misdemeanors in the City of Baltimore, passed session 1835, chapter 75. Referred to the Committe on Grievances and Courts of Justice.

Mr. Graves obtained leave "to bring in a bill to abolish the present and to organize a new city court of Baltimore."

Mr. Legrand presented the petition of Susan Houx, praying to be divorced from her husband, David Houx.

Mr. Gallagher presented the petitions of Mary McKewen and Catherine Berry, severally praying to be divorced; referred.

Mr. Gaither offered the following resolution:

Resolved by the General Assembly of Maryland, That the proposition so to alter the Constitution of the U. States as to limit the Presidential service to one term, lately made in the Senate of the United States, meets the approbation of this General Assembly.

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolution be transmitted to our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

The following is a copy of the bill reported by Mr. Bowie:

An Act to authorise the Incorporated Banks of this State to issue Small Notes for a limited time.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That from and after the passage of this act, and until the first day of January eighteen hundred and forty-three, it shall and may be lawful for the Incorporated Banks of this State to issue notes under the denomination of five dollars, and not less than one dollar.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That after the first day of January eighteen hundred and forty-three, it shall not be lawful for any Incorporated Bank in this State to issue, re-issue or pay out any note, certificate or deposite, or other evidence of debt, intended for circulation, under the denomination of five dollars, whether the same purport to be made or issued by such Bank, or any other Bank or Banking Institution, or individual.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby suspended during the continuance of this act. Read and ordered to lie upon the table.

HISTORY OF HARD MONEY. The following brief history of hard money coinage we extract from an exchange:

"Copper was not coined in England until the time of Elizabeth—and then in small quantities, and not well received. In 1672, a greater coinage took place, of half pennies and farthings.—Silver pence, half pence and farthings, were coined down to the reign of Edward III. 1354; then groats and half groats; next a shilling. Henry VIII. coined crowns; Edward VI. half crowns, sixpences, and three-pences; Elizabeth two-pences, and three farthing pieces. From 43d of Elizabeth to the present time, the coinage has remained the same. The first gold coin was under Henry III. 1257, in gold pensies. The guinea was coined in 1663, of Guinea gold, to go for 20s. but it never went for less than 21s. by tacit consent. It is computed that the whole coined cash of the kingdom passes through the Bank every three years."

SPECIAL ELECTION. At the special election held in Norfolk district on the 28th ult., it appears that Mr. F. Mallory, Whig, has been elected to Congress.

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

M. H. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 62 S. CALVERT STREET, keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c. d22-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 27 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. d22-y

MARX &. HART, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d19-6m

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 42 BALTIMORE STREET; 4 doors above Gay street. n18-3m*

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. n12-y WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se29-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se22-d

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 4 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. s4-y

MR. DAVISON'S WRITING ACADEMY, for instructions with the Muscular Guide, No. 41 Baltimore street. The plan recommended by the Maryland Institute of Teachers. se8-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. jy23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je10-6m*

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 113 BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. m26-y

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 39 Fayette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. m11-y1m*

MINIATURES, Painted in the best style, by Mrs. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. mh13-y

COMPOUND SYRUP of HOREHOUND.

FOR the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Pain and Oppression of the Breast, and all Diseases arising from a disordered condition of the Lungs.

Perhaps there is no Medical Observation better established and none more generally confirmed by experience of the best Physicians of all ages in all countries, than the Fact, that many of the most difficult and incurable Consumptions originate in neglected colds. In a climate so variable as ours, where the changes of weather are frequently sudden and unexpected, it requires more care and attention to guard against this dangerous enemy to human life, than most persons are able and willing to bestow. The bills of mortality exhibit the alarming and melancholy fact, that the number of deaths by this disease are as five to one. Inasmuch then as this fatal disease is increasing, and spreading so widely and fearfully, and bidding defiance often to the combined skill of the most eminent physicians, it is a gratification to the subscriber to be enabled to offer to all of consumptive habits, or those afflicted with distressing pains in the side or breast, or any affection of the breast or lungs, a reasonable and almost certain prospect of relief.

The COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND is a medicine suitable to persons of all ages and sexes; and if taken on the appearance of the first symptoms, which are a cough or pain in the breast, will in nine cases out of ten afford relief, and effect a speedy cure.

Price 50 cents per bottle, Prepared and sold by SETH S. HANCE, corner of Charles and Pratt streets, Baltimore; and J. B. STANSBURY, Thames street, Fell's Point. d 12-y

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headache; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma, Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as is Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞ A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.
Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.
Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.
Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. ROBY.

WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. ROBY having spent two years in practice with Dr. G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call.

d12-6m H. N. ROBY.

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side; the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Harlech's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. jy28-y

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞ None genuine without the name of COMSTOCK & Co., written on the wrappers.

SOLOMON HAYS.

☞ For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. s24-cr6m

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞ Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

se17-tf E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

JOB PRINTING OFFICE,
No. 7 N. GAY STREET.

BULL & TUTTLE, practical JOB PRINTERS respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have removed their Printing Establishment to No. 7 N. GAY STREET, (three doors above their former office,) in the building recently occupied as the office of the Baltimore Chronicle, which has been fitted up in superior style, for the most extensive operations. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. &c. are of fashionable cast, to which they are adding every material, new in the art, in order to keep pace with the improvements of the times. They will print to order,

Cards, Ball Tickets,	Showbills in Colors,
Circulars, Checks,	Handbills, Waybills,
Notes, Bill-heads,	Steamboat Bills,
Bills of Lading,	Rail Road do.
Bills of Exchange,	Stage do.
Commercial Blanks,	Catalogues,
Custom house do.	Auction Bills,
Insurance Policies,	Election Tickets,
Lottery Bills,	Hatters' Tips.

Together with every description of FANCY JOB PRINTING, for framing.

Large Posting Bills for Theatres, &c.

Particular attention paid to the getting up of Large Posting Bills of every kind, for Theatres, Circuses, Shows, &c., for which purpose an assortment of the MOST FASHIONABLE LARGE WOOD TYPE has been laid in, without regard to expense.

Magistrates' Blanks.

Always on hand for sale, a full assortment of those Magistrates' Blanks which have given such universal satisfaction to all who have used them.

Small Notes.

For Corporations, Private Individuals, Country Merchants, Tavern Keepers, Public Institutions, &c. &c. printed to order at the shortest notice. Having printed many thousands of small notes during the late and present suspension, with entire satisfaction, they flatter themselves that with the addition of a variety of new cut vignettes, flowers and borders, with dies cast expressly for their own use, they feel induced to say that all orders in this department shall be warranted to please. Orders from a distance promptly attended to, and prices as low as the same execution of work can be done elsewhere.

☞ B. & T. would take this opportunity of returning thanks for the very liberal patronage extended to them, and beg leave to assure their friends that the same personal attention, as heretofore, will be paid to the execution of all orders in their business, and at the same reasonable prices. ap20-tf

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That at their regular annual session, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore will be petitioned for an extension and location of Lee st. from Eutaw west to Scott-st., and of Scott-st. from Cross-st. south to the Patapsco, and of Ostend st. from S. Sharp west to the portwarden's line, and within the limits of these streets thus extended and as now located or opened, and within other limits, all of which are described as follows: the Patapsco on the south, thence along Ostend-street to Hanover-st, along Hanover to Little Montgomery-st., along Little Montgomery to Eutaw street, along Eutaw to Lee street, along Lee to Scott street, along Scott to the Patapsco; the petitioners will pray that every street, lane, alley or road, except south Sharp-street, whether each be merely located, or be condemned and opened as a highway, may be forever closed and shut up—also, that Little Montgomery-st. from Sharp to Eutaw be shut up; also that south of Ostend-st. and west of Race that Leadenhall and S. Sharp st. and the two alleys running parallel therewith be shut up. And the petitioners will pray further, that the streets named in the following description be extended, and be located as the other unopened streets of the city generally are, to wit: S. Sharp-st. from Little Montgomery south to Ostend, Howard from Hill S. to Moale-st., Eutaw from Little Montgomery south to Moale, Paca from Little Paca south to the wharf, Greene from Columbia south to the wharf, Sterret from Columbia south to the river, and that between Green and Sterret, two other streets be located, one at one third and the other at two thirds of the distance from Greene to Sterret-st. and that each begin at Lee-st. and be run south to the river; also that an alley 20 feet wide be located between Hanover and Sharp street, and between every two of the streets, to be run north and south; also that Hill-st. be extended and located from Howard west to Scott street, Great Montgomery & Henrietta from Hanover west to Scott, Hamburg and West from S. Charles west to Scott, and Cross from Light-st. west to Scott. It is intended that Howard street be extended 82 feet wide, Eutaw 82 feet, with five squares near the river, 134 feet wide, for a market place, Lee and Hill-sts. 70 feet, and every other street 66 feet wide. n17-3aw9w*

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slatt-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-dtf A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having defied the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO. No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-streets., on the corner of Usher's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 3 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Drug Store, Washington City; E. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.

Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. o31-tf

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 50 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt sts., Baltimore.

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HANDBILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This symp is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

ELEGANT INCORRUPTIBLE

AFTER YEARS of incessant toil and endless experiments, I have succeeded in producing most splendid specimens of INCORRUPTIBLE MINERAL TEETH. They possess an exact resemblance to sound human teeth—and, being incapable of either discoloration or corrosion, forever retain their color and purity in the mouth.

These elegant Teeth are inserted from a single tooth to complete sets of twenty-eight, and the extremely accurate and delicate manner of adapting them to the mouth, renders them highly useful in restoring mastication and utterance. Having in process of manufacture upwards of 12,000 of these Teeth, embracing every imaginable variety of shade, size, and shape, I can match the contiguous systemic teeth with such nicety as to set at defiance the scrutiny of the most observant.

The recent discovery of a valuable mineral production, has rendered the manufacture of these teeth so much less expensive and tedious, that I am enabled to make a very great reduction on the charges usually exacted, and in a style noways inferior to any in the profession. Decayed Teeth permanently PLUGGED with Pure Gold. EXTRACTING, FILING or SEPARATING, CLEANSING, &c. &c.

☞ Irregularities in children's teeth rendered perfectly symetrical. Gold PALATES accurately adapted, so as completely to restore articulation.

TOOTH-ACHE! TOOTH-ACHE!!

☞ Sufferers by this distressing malady, find instantaneous relief by applying for my "TOOTH-ACHE REMEDY." The ingredients of which this valuable preparation is composed, are of such a nature as not to injure the sound teeth. In very few cases has this remedy been known to fail; should a failure occur, extraction will be performed without charge.

☞ Price of the Remedy—50 cents per phial.

J. H. WILCOCK, M.D., Dental Surgeon,
No. 39 Fayette-st., near the Post Office.

N.B. Teeth extracted at any hour of the day or night. o2-mwe2m

CITY INTELLIGENCE.
REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE,
N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Porters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to employ any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

☞ Office open from 7 A. M. until 8 P. M.

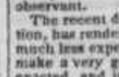
The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., H. W. BEOL, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N.B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. [A] o22

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,



Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosankrantz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 6, 5, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophiclydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap16-1y

B. G. HUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. s15-ed6m

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞ Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞ The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST,

o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

And in Washington City, by

CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.

☞ With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

MARYLAND STATE Six per cent. STOCK, in sums to suit purchasers—For sale by n12 E. W. ROBINSON, 80 Baltimore-st.

CONSUMPTION,
COUGHS AND COLDS,
Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, and all Diseases of the Lungs and Windpipe.

FOR THE CURE of the above named diseases COVERT'S BALM OF LIFE is believed to be the safest and most efficient remedy now before the public. It has also proved itself a superior remedy in the DYSPEPSIA and LIVER COMPLAINT, in its various forms.

Numerous testimonials of the highest respectability from physicians who have been made acquainted with its ingredients, as well as from Clergymen and others who have experienced the effects of the medicine, may be seen by application to any of the agents for circulars, which will be furnished gratis.

From the Boston Medical Journal of 26th Aug. 1840.

The following is an extract from an article in that paper on "Morbus Laryngeus Concionatorum," or Bronchitis, by Frank H. Hamilton, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica and General Pathology in Geneva Medical College.

"The Rev. I. Covert's Mixture, also now used so extensively for this affection by clergymen, belongs to the same class of stimulating expectorants, being one of those lucky combinations of medical agents which, while it promotes expectoration, does not impair the tone of the stomach. Of this medicine, we feel at liberty to speak, since its composition is not held from the Profession, and we hope the proprietors will soon see fit to give it to the public. We venture to recommend it therefore, having employed it in our own case, and in the cases of many others with decided benefit.

From the "Auburn Conference and Family Recorder" of September 4, 1839.

"Covert's Balm bids fair to rank among the first of specifics for most cases of Pulmonary Disease. From having tested its salutary tendency, and more especially from the knowledge that it has won the confidence and received the commendations of many highly respectable medical gentlemen, some of whom are well known as the ornaments of their profession, we have no hesitation in speaking well of it. We have reason to believe that it is employed in the practice of some of the most scientific and judicious of the physicians of this place. The Rev. Mr. Covert, the inventor and proprietor of this valuable Medicine, is a respectable local minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this place." For sale in Baltimore by

ROBERTS & ATKINSON,
n27-colm DR. DAVIS.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS, AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by

SAM'L. CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

Washington City, by

W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.

In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.

oc9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS,)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10 cases	do	do	Cap PAPER
15	do	Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter PAPER
5	do	do	do	Cap	do
4	do	do	do	Folio post	do
20	do	Hudson's	do	Letter	do
15	do	do	do	Cap	do
10	do	do	do	Flat Cap	do
8	do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super-royal WRITING PAPER
12	do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter			do
6	do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2	do	do	Super Flat Cap
12	do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5	do	Dickey and Leyste's	do	do
10	do	Plamer & Smith's	do	do
4	do	do	Folio and Packet Post
15	do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2	do	do	Ledger PAPERS
20	do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter

2000 reams NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2000 do Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300 do Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap

4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞ Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Band Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE RELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP
WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 76 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received, a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Pine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

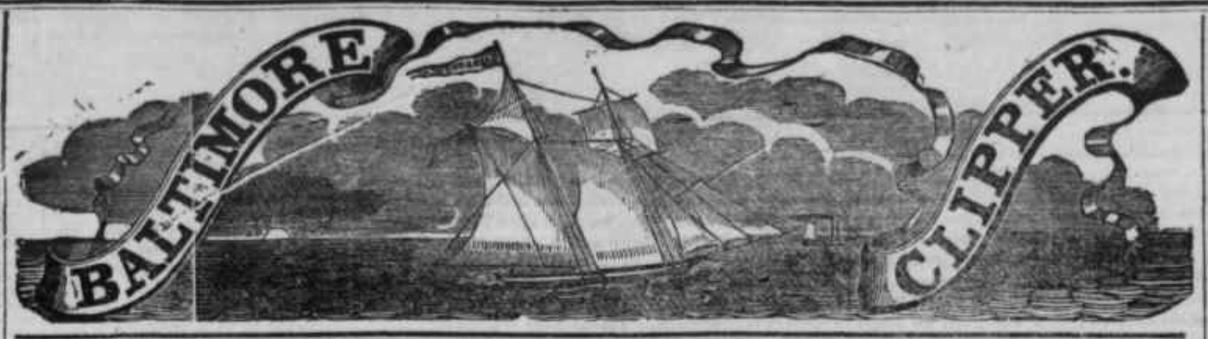
TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞Country Subscribers can receive the paper, by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square	1 time,	$0 50	1 square	1 month,	$4 00
1 do.	2 times,	75	1 do.	2 months,	7 00
1 sq.	3 do.	1 00	1 do.	3 do.	10 00
1 do.	1 week,	1 75	1 do.	6 do.	16 00
1 do.	2 weeks,	2 75	1 do.	1 year,	30 00

☞Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.



VOL. III. NO. 94.] SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 2, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

JOB PRINTING,
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

The proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enamelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

LAST WORDS OF EMMETT.

I have but few more words to say;
I'm going to the silent grave:
Soon o'er my tomb the cypress bough
Its broad and drooping leaves will wave!
My lamp of life is near burnt out—
My race is run; pronounced my doom;
One after one around me falls
The cold damp curtains of the tomb.

On leaving this ungrateful world,
I make but only one request—
I ask its silence; in the grave
Let me and mine together rest,
Till other times and other men
Can justice to my memory do,
Till ages shall have slumbered by,
And reason can my acts review.

Till then no monumental stab
May mark the place where rests my head;
No lettered marble to the world
Tell that he lived—that he is dead.
But when among the powers of earth
My country shall assume her stand
Proudly erect—her flag unfurled,
Acknowledged free by every land—

Then may my epitaph be traced
Upon the marble's snow white face,
And it may stand above my head,
To mark a patriot's resting place.
The stranger as he passes by,
May pause to think of other years,
And as he calls to mind my fate,
May pay the tribute of his tears.

And now farewell! I'm going where
My fathers have before me gone;
My deathless spirit takes its flight
To regions yet untried, unknown;
I give my body to the earth,
'Tis all that it can justly claim;
And dearer than the life I yield,
Bequeath posterity my fame.

[From the London Heath's Book of Beauty for 1840.]

ADVICE OF AN IRISH FAIRY.

ADDRESSED TO THE LADIES.

"All we can do with him, Aileen agra, when he gets into these humors, is—to take it easy."

"Take it easy, indeed!" repeated the pretty bride, with a toss of the head, and curl of her lip; "It's easy to say take it easy. I am sure if I had thought Mark was so passionate, I'd have married Mike!"

"But Mike was so mighty dark," replied old aunt Alice, with a mysterious shake of her head.

"Well, so he was; but then I might have had Matthew."

"Ah, ah!" laughed old Alice; "he was the worst bird of the nest! Look, ye can wind Mark round ye'r finger, as I wind this worsted thread, if ye'll only take it easy."

"Oh! I wish—I wish I had known before that men were so ill-contrived! I'd have died sooner than have married," sobbed Aileen! who, to confess the truth, had been so petted by the neighbors, on account of her beauty, that it would have required a large proportion of love, and a moderate allowance of wisdom, to change the village coquette into a sober wife. I say a large proportion of love. "Wit," to quote the old adage, "may win a man," but wit never kept one; unless a woman cultivate the affections, even more than knowledge, she will never secure her husband's heart.

"Oh, whist! avourneen!" said Alice. "Sure I tould ye all along. Mark, says I, is all fire and tow: but it's out in a minute; Mike is dark and deep as the Bay of Dublin; and Matthew is all to the bad entirely. You're got the best of the three. And ye can manage him just as the south wind that's blowing now—God bless it!—manages the thistle down that's floating through the air—if ye'll take it easy."

At first Aileen pouted—then she sat down to her wheel—was too much out of temper to do what she was doing, well—broke her thread—pushed it from her—took up her knitting—dropped the stitches—shook the needles, and of course dropped some more.

"Take it easy," said aunt Alice, looking at her over her spectacles.

Aileen flung the knitting away, clasped her arms round her aunt's neck—rested her head on her bosom—and wept outright.

"Let's go into the garden, sit under the cold limetree, and watch the bees that are near swarming," observed aunt Alice, and we'll talk yer trouble over, avourneen. It's very sorry I am to see ye taking on so, for a thrifle, at the first going off. But you'll know better by'n by, when real troubles come."

Poor Aileen, like all young people, thought her troubles were very real, but she held her peace; until observing the bees more than usually busy, she muttered, "I wonder, aunt, you don't tell the bees to 'take it easy.'"

"So I would, dear, if I saw them quarrelling; but they're too wise to quarrel among themselves, whatever they do with furriners." The old woman paused, and then added, "Sit down here, my child, and listen to what I'm going to tell you. Ye know well, avourneen, I was lawfully married, first, by old father John, to Richard Mulvany—my heart's first love he was; Heaven be his bed this blessed day, and grant we may meet above the world and its real troubles! Aileen, it was indeed a trouble to see my brave, young, handsome husband dragged out of the blue waters of the Shannon; to find that when I wept he could not comfort; that my cheek rested for hours on his lips, and he did not kiss it."

Four score years and five passed over the head of that woman; and her age was as beautiful, according to its beauty, as had been her youth. She had been married three times; yet her eyes filled with tears at the remembrance of the love and sorrow of her early days, and it was some time before she could continue.

"Well, dear, Richard and I had some little tiff, and I said more than I ought to have said.—And it was by the same token, a fine midsummer morning, I strayed out to the end of our garden and picked up a shiney snail; and, as I looked at the snail, I remembered how the last midsummer day I had pat just such another between two plates, and sate for an hour by the rising sun, with the fore finger of my left hand crossed over the fore finger of my right hand—and then, as there as day, when I lifted the plate the thing had marked as purty as R. and a piece of as beautiful an M. as the schoolmaster himself could write upon the plate; and then I cried to remember how glad I was then, and how sad now; and at last I cried myself to sleep. Alaamachree! I was but little more than a child—not all out sixteen. Well, dear, in my dream, I suppose I must call it, I saw the beautifullest fairy (the lord save us!) the very handsomest of the good people that ever the eyes of woman looked upon—a little deeshy dawshy craythur, footing its way all around the blossom of a snow white lily, now twisting round upon the very top of her tiny toe; then as if she was joining hands round, down the middle and up again, to the time of the 'Rakes of Mallow'——"

"The Rakes of Mallow!" exclaimed Aileen.

"The Rakes of Mallow," repeated Alice solemnly, "I heard it as plainly as I hear the rising march of the bees at this blessed minute. Well, of a sudden, she made a spring, and stood upright as a dart upon the green and golden crown in the midst of the flower, and pushed back her ringlets, and settled her dress, at a pocket looking glass not so big as a midge's wing; then all in a minute she looked at me and said, 'I don't like the sight of a wet eye;—what ails ye, young woman?'

"Well, to be sure, my heart came to my lips, but I had too much manners not to answer the great lady. And, 'Madam,' says I, 'my eyes would be as dry, though not as bright as ye'r honor's, if it wasn't for my husband, my lady, who wants to have a way and a will of his own.'

"'It's the way with all the men, my own husband into the bargain,' says the Queen, for she was no less; 'and there's no use in lighting for the upper hand,' says the queen, for both the law and the prophets are against us in that; and if it come to open war,' says the queen, 'we get the worst of it; if your husband falls into a bad temper, or a queer temper—if he is cross, or unkind, or odd, take it easy,' says the queen, 'even if he does not come round at once. This quiet way of yours will put you in his heart, or him at your feet (which is pretty much the same thing) at last; gentleness does wonders for us women in fairy land. You could hardly believe what power it has, it's a weapon of great strength, entirely in the hands of a purty woman—and you are very purty for a mortal,' says she again, looking at me through the eye of a heart's case, which she wore about her neck for a quizzing glass.

"'I thank you, my sweet and beautiful lady,' says I, 'for your compliment.' 'Ah! ah!' and she laughed, and her laugh was full of joy and hope like the music of the priest's own silver bell! 'It's no harm,' she continued, if now and then you give him a taste of that which makes your eyes so bright, and your cheeks so red just now.'

"'What's that madam?' says I.

"'Flattery,' says she. 'Make a man, be he fairy or be he mortal, pleased with himself, and he is sure to be pleased with you,' and then she laughed again. 'Whatever he says or does,' says her majesty, while she was getting into a golden saddle, a-horseback on a great dragon-fly, 'take it easy;' and I heard her laugh and sing when she was out of sight, and her sweet voice shook a shower of white rose-leaves from a bush on my face. And when I awoke I saw the wisdom of her words, and kept them close in my bosom; and often when I'd be just going to make a sharp answer to him I loved for all that above the world, I'd think of the Fairy's word, and the evil would pass away from my heart and lip without a sound; not one the worse for it, and I all the better. And sure Richard used to say I was like an angel to him. Poor fellow! he was soon to be thought the differ, for the angels took him from me in earnest!

"After a couple of years, I married again.—I've no reason to fault the second I had; though he was not spirited, yet gentle, like him who sighed out his soul in the blue waters; he was dark, and would not tell what offended him.—Well I'd have given the world to have some one to whom I could make a clean breast; but I had none; and somehow I again sat in the same spot, at the same time—I again slept—and again saw the same one of the good people. I did not think her honor was as gay as she had been, and I wondered in my heart if she too had taken a second husband; it would not have been manners for me to spake first, but she was as free as ever.

"Well," she says, looking at me very solid-like, "you've tried another; but, though you have not forgotten my advice, you do not follow it."

"Oh, my lady, please ye'r majesty;" says I, "the tempers of the two so differ!" And I tho't with the words my heart would break. For the moment poor Richard's humor was out it was off; but James would sulk, and sulk, like a bramble under the shade of an oak; and the fairy read my thoughts, as if they were an open ballad.

"Ah," she said, "they are different; but the rule holds good—gentle and simple, hot and cold, old and young; you must take it easy, or you'll never be easy yourself. Let a passionate temper cool; do not blow upon it, a breath may ruffle a lake, and kindle a fire. Let a sulky temper alone; it's a standing pool; the more it's stirred, the more it will offend. I try to talk her fine English, Aileen, but it bothers me," continued old Alice. "Well, the end of it was, that she finished as before, by telling me to take it easy; which after that I did; and I must say that James' last breath was spent in blessing me. Well, dear, Miles Prendergast was rich, and I was poor—he wanted a mother for five children, and a servant for himself; and so he took me. There was a great deal of love, young, fresh, heart-sweet love, at the first; and more than is going in general to the second; but, oh my grief! there was none to the third. Oh, but marriage to a woman without love!—what is it? Where love is, it is even pleasant to hear a harsh word or an unkind look—a satisfaction that you can show your love by turning bitter into sweet. Service is no service then; his voice is ye'r music; his words ye'r law; his very shadow on the ground ye'r brightest sunshine!"

"Aunt," said Aileen, "you did not think that with the first, at the time, or you would not have wanted the good people's advice."

"True for ye, avourneen; we never value the sunbeams so much as in the dark of the moonless night! we never value a friend's advice till he is beyond our reach; we never prize the husband's love, or the mother's care, until the grave is closed over them; and when we seek them there, the grass that we weep over is green, the mallow and the dock have covered the cross or the headstone, and the red earth worms we have disturbed bring us no message."

"I don't want to hear any more, aunt," said Aileen, pained by the picture her aunt had drawn—"I will prize Mark. Now I'll own to the first of the quarrel, and the last word of it, if he'll confess to the middle."

"Let a quarrel alone, when once it's over," interrupted her aunt. "A quarrel, darlint, is like buttermilk—when once it is out of the churn, the more you shake it the more sour it grows."

"And must I say nothing when he comes home?"

"Oh yes, say, 'Mark, my heart's delight!'"

"Oh, aunt, that would never do!"

"Well, if ye'r ashamed to say what you feel, a smile and a kiss will do as well."

"Did the fairy queen give you the same advice the third time?" said the bride blushing like Aurora at the counsel; "for I suppose you saw her the third time."

"I must say, a chora, she wasn't so civil to me the last time as she was the first and second," answered the old dame, bridling. "She tould me I wasn't as pretty as I used to be—that was true enough, to be sure, only one never likes to hear it; she tould me that, when the bloom of a woman's cheek fades, the bloom of her heart ought to increase; she talked a deal that I did not quite understand, about men making laws and breaking them; said how every one has a thorn of some kind or other to bear with; she tould me how hard it was to find three roses in a garden all of the same shape color and scent, and how could I expect three good husbands? She said that as I had borne my crown I must bear my cross; she was hard enough upon me, but the wind up of her advice to me in all my troubles was to take it easy; she said she had been married herself more than five hundred years?"

"The ould craythur! and to talk of your not being so purty as you were?" said Aileen.

"Hush, avourneen! Sure they have the use of the May-dew before it falls, and the color of the lilies and roses before it's folded in the tender buds, and can steal the notes out of the bird's throats while they sleep."

"And still," exclaimed Aileen, half pouting, "the best advice they can give to a married woman, under all troubles, is—to take it easy."

"It's a sensible saying, if properly thought of," said old Alice, "and will bring peace, if not love at the last. If we can't get rid of our troubles, its wise to take them easy."

NASHVILLE, Dec. 23. Produce finds a ready market at good prices. Tobacco commands from 4 to 6c, as in quality. Cotton 6¼@7c. Pork $3 per hundred, in the gross.

In the Exchanges there is a very active demand for Phila. and N. Orleans funds; a fair inquiry for Balt.; N. York nominal; Alabama money down to par a ¼ p. c., not much offered. Kentucky scarce at 2@3 prem. We quote drawing rates:—On Phila. 4 prem; Balt. 5; N. York 6, N. Orleans 5; Louisville 3; Cincinnati 3.

The NEW ORLEANS market is brisk—Cotton in good demand.

AUTHOR SICK. Richard Adams Locke, the author of the "Moon Hoax," is dangerously ill at New York.

PRICES STOCK EXCHANGE, &c.

Reported for the BALTIMORE CLIPPER by Wm. Ward, at his Stock and Bank Note Exchange Office, No. 21 Exchange Building.

Baltimore, January 1st, 1841.

BANK STOCKS.		Paid.
U. S. Bank Stock, per share,	$100		65
Bank of Baltimore,	300	270	†
Union Bank of Mary'd, hf. shares,	37½	37	‡
" whole "	75	54	‡
Mechanics' Bank,	15	14
Franklin Bank,	25	17	‡
Commercial and Farmers' Bank,	20	22
Full paid "	33½	35
Farmers' and Merchants' Bank,	50	32
Marine Bank,	30	26
Farmers' Bank of Mary'd, Annapolis,	50	45
Merchants' Bank,	100	92
Patapsco Bank,	25	22
Farmers' and Planters' Bank,	25	21
Citizens' Bank,	10	6¼
Chesapeake Bank,	25	20
Western Bank,	25	19
INSURANCE STOCKS.
Maryland,	100	200
Baltimore,	300	200
American,	100	56
Neptune,	100	76
Baltimore Fire,	6¼	5¼
Firemen's,	6	6
Baltimore Life Insurance Company,	50	46
American Life Ins. and Trust Co.,	50	no sale
Merchants' Fire Insurance Co.,	50	30
ROAD STOCKS.
Reister's Town,	20	6¼
Frederick Town,	20	5
York,	20	5
Baltimore and Harford Turnpike,	50	26
Washington and Baltimore,	100	100
Baltimore and Ohio Rail-road,	100	33	‡
Baltimore and Susquehanna,	50
New Castle and Frenchtown,	25	26
Philad., Wilmington and Balto.,	50	44
MISCELLANEOUS STOCKS.
City Corporation 6 per cts.,	100		95
City Corporation 6 per cts., redeemable after 1870,	100
City Corp. 6 p. cts., after 1860,	100
City Corp. 5 p. cts., after 1870,	100	80
Maryland State 4½ per cents,	100	76
" " 5 "	100	80	‡
" " 6 "	100	96
Six per cent stock of the Balt. & Ohio R. R. Co., redeemable after 1854,		94
Annuities or Ground Rents,		6@8
Baltimore Water Company,	50	70	‡
Union Manufacturing Company,	50	10
Gas Light Company,	100	94
Screw Dock Company,	100	50
Md. and Va. Steam Navigation Co.,	500	no sale
Baltimore and Potomac,	125	25
Alexandria and Georgetown,	100	25
Rappahannock,	100	35
Steamboat Maryland,	100	40
Baltimore Shot Tower,	100	240
Phœnix Shot Tower,	100	90
Eutaw Shot Tower,	100	105
Susquehanna Canal,	50	35	‡
Canton Company,	60	24

‡ For Sale. † Wanted.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE,
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE

TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Bay Line—the Companies on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedule:

Leave Philadelphia	8 A.M. reach	Baltimore	2 P.M.
" Baltimore	4 P.M. "	Washington	6 P.M.
" Washington	5 A.M. "	Fredk'sburg	12 M.
" Fred'ksburg	12 M. "	Richmond	5 P.M.
" Richmond	5 P.M. "	Petersburg	7 P.M.
" Petersburg	7 P.M. "	Weldon	1 A.M.
" Weldon	1 A.M. "	Wilmington	1 P.M.
" Wilmington	1 P.M. "	Charleston	at 5 the next day.

As this Line carries the Great Mail, (which cannot be delayed,) and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is more of a connection through-out, whilst it is evident that Foul Roads Weather and Storms must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two-thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT ISLAND ROUTE.

☞The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon: and travellers have no expense or trouble with their Baggage.

☞This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞This is the only Daily Line to Richmond and Petersburg.

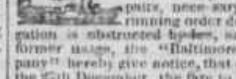
☞Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of

STOCKTON, FALLS & CO.
Adjoining the Philadelphia Rail Road Office,
d12-tf PRATT STREET, Baltimore.

NOTICE.



In consequence of the constant repairs, necessary to keep the boats in running order during the time the navigation is obstructed by ice, and in accordance with former usage, the "Baltimore Steam Packet Company" hereby give notice, that on and after SUNDAY, the 27th December, the fare to Norfolk will be $10—to Richmond $12—and to Weldon $16, until the opening of the navigation.

d25-2t JOHN C. MOALE, General Agent.

STATE ARMORY AND TOWN HALL LOTTERY, CLASS I.

The whole to be positively drawn on SATURDAY, January 16, 1841.

Samuel Lucas, William Gwynn, Geo. Gordon Bell, Charles F. Mayer, Charles G. Ridgely and William J. Wight Commissioners.

SCHEME.

10 prizes of	$10,000	is	$100,000
10	1,000		10,000
10	600		6,000
10	400		4,000
10	300		3,000
20	200		4,000
100	100		10,000
100	60		6,000
100	50		5,000
100	40		4,000
100	30		3,000
200	25		5,000
1000	20		20,000
2000	10		20,000
10000	8		80,000
10000	7		70,000
10000	5		50,000
33,770 prizes.			$493,000

Single Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

A package of 10 Whole Tickets is warranted to draw $17 net.

A package of 100 Whole Tickets is warranted to draw $204 net.

Persons at a distance ordering a package, or any share of a package, need only enclose the difference between the selling price of such package and what it is warranted to draw, and by return mail they will receive a Commissioner's Certificate, which will be just as good, in every respect, as the original tickets, and entitle the purchaser to all the prizes that may be drawn over the warranted amount.

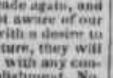
All orders will meet with the same prompt attention as if personal application was made—if addressed to

JAMES H. COX, General Agent,
d16-2aw4t 146 Market street, Baltimore.

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.

The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 65½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $2.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $3. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 65½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate

HATS!
HATS!!
HATS!!!
HATS!!!!
HATS!!!!!



Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at

W. H. KEVIL, & CO'S.
No. 65½ Baltimore-st., opposite Tripolett's alley,
And 4 doors W. of Bush's well known Auction Store.
d16-tjan16

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Warranted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by Dr. HITZELBERGER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $5!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

Dr. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of 10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $5. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. se3-ylaw*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.

DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND,

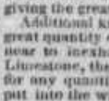
For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabetes or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the urethra of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, composed solely of vegetable substance? One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N. B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of T. J. PITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Britton and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue. And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL. dec5-y

A BLESSING TO ALL MANKIND.



The VEGETABLE FLUID SYRUP, or Mercurial Extractor. This infallible Syrup is the discovery of an old veteran and hero of the vegetable kingdom; from his long research, his labors have been crowned with the glorious result of a positive remedy for the bad effects of that poisonous drug (Mercury,) and while it has this new efficacious effect upon the bones affected with mercury, it at the same time purifies the blood from the remnants of Venereal Disease, Scrofulous Affections, Epicutches and Eruptions upon the Skin, old standing indolent Ulcers, &c.

For sale, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO., No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-sts., on the corner of Chier's alley; and at the General Agency Office, No. 3 Pitt street, Baltimore. Also, at WM. LANPHIER'S Drug Store, Washington, D. C. o31

LUMBER! LUMBER!! LUMBER!!!

THE Subscriber offers to his friends and the public in general, at his Lumber Yard on the Falls, below Pratt street Bridge, (office head Union Dock,) a large and general assortment of Seasoned LUMBER—such as Panuel, Common, Select Cullings, Joist, Rafters, Shingles, Laths, N. Carolina and E. S. Flooring, with every other article necessary to make a good assortment. A quantity of Ark Logs, and also Ash Plank, will be sold at reduced prices, as I have a large quantity on hand. All those who buy for cash, may expect a liberal discount.

je25-d D. E. THOMAS.

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!

THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor DUCATEL,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.

HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.

☞Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!

AN AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 22 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Goat-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 100,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and uncut, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.

je18-d HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort, and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.

m13-dtf HOPE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.

THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.

a3-dtf G. W. PEARCE.

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

SATURDAY MORNING, Jan. 2, 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

THE OCEAN. The Ocean and Weekly Clipper will be ready for delivery at the counter at any time this morning. The contents of this week's number are unusually interesting. It is the only paper published in this city which contains the entire detail of the interesting trial of Mrs. Kinsey, for the murder of her husband. Price per copy 6¼ cents. Yearly subscription only $1 50.

GOVERNOR GRASON'S MESSAGE. The governor gives a gloomy picture of the financial condition of the state, but suggests no mode of replenishing the public treasury. The subject is very properly referred to the wisdom of the legislature.

A considerable portion of the message is occupied by arguments against distributing the proceeds of public lands amongst the several states. On this subject his excellency has taken great pains to inform himself, and discusses not only the expediency, but the constitutionality of the measure; determining both points adversely.—He argues that, inasmuch as the fund arising from the sales of the public lands, "had been surrendered to the general government for national purposes," congress has no power to place it "under the control of the state legislatures, to be expended in the exercise of powers reserved to the states." If the fact of this fund constituting a common stock, be an obstacle to its distribution among the several states, we think it should form an absolute bar to the cession of the public lands to the new states for any purpose whatever. We know that immense tracts of the public lands have been ceded to the new states for schools, colleges, works of internal improvement, &c., thus bestowing a portion of the property which is the common stock of the whole states for the benefit of a few. Legislation in regard to the public lands is continually fluctuating; and at every session of congress efforts are made to wrest them from their legitimate purpose to partial objects—and so long as the public policy in regard to their disposition shall remain unsettled, so long will they constitute a bone of contention, and a subject of interested legislation. The governor acknowledges that the bill known as Mr. Clay's Land Bill, (which passed congress and was vetoed,) was equitable in its provisions; but he denies its constitutionality and expediency. The constitutional point we shall leave to the examination of wiser heads than our own—but we think that his excellency will find it difficult to convince the people of Maryland of the soundness of his opinion that the measure would be inexpedient. It is supposed that the condition of the national treasury is such as not to admit the abstraction of the public land fund, without a resort to taxation or an increase of the tariff. The same necessity will arise should the lands be ceded, as is proposed, to the states in which they lie, for a mere nominal consideration. An increase of the tariff, particularly on wines, silks, and other articles of luxury, will probably be deemed expedient under any circumstances; and, with such increase, direct taxation could hardly be required. But, whatever may be the effect upon the national treasury, we think that the distribution as proposed in the land bill would be wise and salutary. It would prevent future contention, and secure to the people of the old states their equitable share of a common fund. For this the citizens of Maryland should contend; especially as the finances of the states require all the aid to which they are legitimately entitled. The governor estimates the distributive share of Maryland at about $80,000. He may be correct; but the smallness of the sum cannot militate against the justice of the claim. We stand upon our rights, whether for a penny or a pound; and we are firmly convinced, that the real question presented to the consideration of the people of the old states, is, whether they shall receive their just portion of the proceeds of the public lands, or nothing. There can be no doubt as to the response that will be given.

LIBERALITY. We have heard and read much about the liberal feelings which should be entertained by the people of one nation towards those of another—and, for this kind of liberality, the citizens of the United States unquestionably stand number one on the list—for we liberally receive the products and manufactures of Great Britain, France and other powers almost free of charge, whilst they refuse admittance to our productions, except upon payment of exhorbitant duties, or when necessary to prevent starvation. There is no reciprocity in this—and the effect is, to drain this country of the precious metal to discharge the debts thus contracted. In an individual such policy would be deemed insanity—how much wiser it may be in a nation we will not say. But it is certain, that so long as it is followed, financial embarrassments will continue. The man who buys all and sells none must have a long purse, or he will soon reach the bottom of it—nor will the nation fare much better, that annually imports twenty or thirty millions of dollars worth more than it exports. Prudence would seem to dictate the propriety of laying such a duty on articles of luxury as would restrict their importation, or compel the governments of other countries to set with more liberality in their commerce with this country.

EXTENSIVE ROBBERY OF THE WESTERN MAIL. The following information has been in our possession for some days past; but having been requested by our postmaster to withhold it, so that the department might, if possible, detect the robber or robbers, we did so. Finding, however, that other papers have given it publicity, we consider it no breach of faith to give what follows:

About the 14th of November the "pouch" containing the letters for New York, and all places east of that city, was stolen from the mail coach on its passage from Wheeling to Frederick.—Since then, the New York letter pouch has been stolen seven times. The agents of the department, from investigation, suppose the robberies were committed near Uniontown, Pennsylvania. In these pouches were the letters for New York and offices east of that city, from Wheeling, Cincinnati, Louisville, Nashville, Natchez, St. Louis, and all the other western and south western post offices. The letters are known to have contained large remittances, as well of bank notes as drafts, &c.

The letters for Baltimore and Philadelphia, and all the intermediate places between this city and Wheeling, were in another pouch, which is enclosed in a large bag, and all have duly come to hand.

The following extract from the Cincinnati Gazette, gives the dates of four of the mails from that city which are among those stolen:

The mails which were made up at Cincinnati, for New York, on the 10th, 20th, and 26th Nov. and 2d Dec., have been stolen from the bags.—This information was received on the 24th inst. by the postmaster at Cincinnati.

STATE FINANCES. It will devolve upon the present legislature of Maryland to devise ways and means to meet the deficiency in the treasury for the current year, and to establish such a system of taxation as will hereafter produce a permanent annual income (over and above the ordinary resources) of about six hundred thousand dollars—that being the estimated yearly deficit in the treasury after the year 1841. To accomplish this, so as to make the burthen bear equally, will put in requisition the best financial talents of the house. By the constitution every man should contribute to the support of government in proportion to his worth in real and personal property; and an effort was made some years since, in the house of delegates, to carry this provision into practical operation—but it was abandoned because of some difficulties which appeared almost insurmountable. It is certain that resort must be had to direct taxation; but it would be unjust and iniquitous to place the whole additional tax required upon the real property of the state; and we presume that the attempt will not be made. Baltimore, under any circumstances, must bear a large share of the burthen; but we hope that it will be laid in such a shape as not to render real estate valueless, or to drive mechanics from our city. We shall await the report of the committee of ways and means with some anxiety—for, at whatever cost, the credit of the state must be sustained.

RUMORED INSURRECTION. A considerable excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Selma, and in the town of Sumter, Alabama, not long since, in consequence of a rumored insurrection of the negroes. It is stated that an Indian chief, known as "Little Leader," was the instigator of the contemplated outbreak. Since the discovery of the plot a number of negroes have been arrested, and some of them, together with the Indian (Little Leader) imprisoned. No positive proofs, however, have been adduced as to the certainty of an insurrection having been contemplated, though the citizens were much alarmed, and put themselves on the defensive.

☞ The subject of uniform bankruptcy is at present being strongly agitated in Washington. Petitions are coming in from all parts of the union praying for its adoption. Mr. Crittenden has reported a bill in favor of the measure, which differs but slightly from the one that was before the House last session, and was laid on the table. It is a philanthropic move which cannot but be sanctioned.

FRANKLIN BANK. We understand that yesterday the notes of this bank were refused by the other banks of the city; this circumstance gave rise to various rumors, which had the effect of causing a partial run upon it. Their notes were, however, redeemed with promptness. In the afternoon the presidents of the other banks held a meeting, the result of which we have not been able to learn. A number of gentlemen acquainted with the concerns of the bank last night freely expressed their confidence in it.

☞ We learn from the New Orleans Crescent City of the 23d ult, that Levis, the defaulting Philadelphia Cashier, is supposed to be in that city at the present time. The St. Louis Republican says he dined at the City Hotel in that place under the name of Elisha H. Miller, and it was thought left there for New Orleans, on the steamboat Glaucus.

ANOTHER EXPLOSION. On Saturday the 19th ult. one of the boilers of the tow boat Post Boy exploded, killing the engineer, and scalding two men badly. This occurred at the mouth of the Mississippi while the boat was towing the ship St. Louis over the bar.

The value of gold sent to the mint from the gold region of the United States in three years was $4,377,580; and it was thought this was not more than one half the actual product of the mines.

THE MAILS. No Eastern mail had arrived in this city last night at the time of our going to press. The delay was caused no doubt by the snow storm.

☞ Late information from Jamaica informs us that the crop of sugar this year would be much more than that of last—other than this there is no news of importance.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

TATTLE. People will talk, particularly when they have got nothing else to do. "Mind your own business" is a piece of advice that is always on the tongue of every body, but then again they say "what is every body's business is nobody's;" ergo, minding one's business is every body's business, consequently nobody's. If this logic is not in favor of tittle-tattle, we know not what is. If a crime or fault be committed in the humble walks of society, the individual who so sins is denounced at once and has no appeal; but if the butterflies of fashion be guilty of a faux pas, the veil of oblivion is drawn over it, and "hush" is whispered into the ears of the circle in which the delinquent moved. We have seen many a poor girl dazzled, or rather infatuated by the false pleadings of coxcombs, step aside from the path of decorum—at once she was denounced by the ill-natured world, there was no redemption for her—the offcast of society, she had to resort to the lowest species of female degradation in order to sustain life. There is but little mercy in the sentence of society, and that little is generally given to those who have basked in the sunshine of fortune. If any one can apply the above remarks, they are at liberty so to do.

JINGLE, JINGLE. The bells struck up their merry jingle again yesterday, the sleet and snow together made good sleighing, and the horses began to fret and steam as if they saw hard work before them. Is there not a penalty for driving sleighs without bells? We only ask for information.

PROVIDENCE WATCHES OVER CHILDREN. Yesterday as a fine, hearty little boy was crossing Gay street, quite independently blowing a tin-trumpet, he was knocked down by the horse attached to a sleigh passing just at that moment.—The horse and sleigh both passed over him without injuring him in the least. The little fellow shook the snow from his cloak, and went on his way blowing his trumpet as cheerfully as ever.

THE MUSEUM. The saloon of the Museum was crowded on the first night of Mad. Lecompte and the St. Lukes. The company is not strong enough for the pieces they attempt to produce. Master St. Luke is a boy of genius; his solos on the violin, a la Paganini, received hearty applause.

SNOW. With the entry of the new year came a heavy fall of sleet and snow, and at this present writing the ground is covered to the depth of about four inches.

A PRESENT. A few evenings since as a party of ladies and gentlemen, in York street, were seated before a snug coal fire, as comfortable as a social party might be while the mid-winter winds were blowing without, a favorite lap-dog reposing on the rug suddenly commenced barking, and ran towards the door. This being opened, he went to the front door, still barking. The gentleman of the house, curious to know the cause of the dog's barking, opened the front door, when he ran out and seized a bundle which was lying on the steps. On examination it was found that the bundle contained a mulatto infant, nearly perished with the cold. The little foundling was taken care of until the next morning, when it was sent to the alms house, the complexion of the affair not exactly suiting the gentleman, who, though he boasted of no "little responsibilities," felt no inclination to encourage this species of colonization.

VIRGINNY BREAK DOWN. Gilbert Gordon keeps a house of entertainment for colored people in Little Sharp street, and he thought he'd treat his customers to a New Year's Eve ball. He consequently enquired of the Police whether they would grant him a permit—this they declined doing, and referred him to the Mayor as the proper person to apply to, at the same time cautioning him not to give the ball without permission. Gordon paid no attention to the caution, but sent round his "invites," and the company assembled. About half past ten o'clock, just as the party began to get the steam up, and the pliant exquisite and the languishing belle were winding through the giddy mazes of the dance, in came High Constable Mitchell, assisted by officers Hennick, Chaney and Schwatka, with Lieutenants McKinley and Inloes of the night watch. Sad havoc was then made amongst the musicians, dancers, &c. The following gentlemen were taken to the watch house and "admonished" in the morning. The ladies were allowed to escape: Gilbert Gordon, John Small, David Irwin, Francis Gordon, James Johnson, Henry Williams, John Hooper, Henry Carson, Philip Edwards, and Edward Thompson.

YOUTHS' TEMPERANCE SOCIETY. The boys have taken up the cause; it will be seen that there is to be a meeting of the Youth's Temperance Society this evening, at Union Hall, corner of Baltimore street and Tripolet's alley.

PAUPERS. On Thursday Barnard Cruiser, Hugh Murray and Elizabeth Coulson, having no visible means of support, were committed to the alms house by Justice Keplinger.

ASSAULT. Three white men, James Tarring, John Peters and Charles Brown, were apprehended early yesterday morning, charged with assaulting and beating a female named Harriet Brown. For want of security they were committed by Justice Wright.

WATCH REPORTS. In the Eastern District on Thursday, Joseph Hall came in for lodgings, and William Mattox was brought in for rioting, and being intoxicated. In the Middle District, negro John Jackson was brought in for being found drunk, and reprimanded. Ten other negroes were imprisoned for the night, for holding a Ball without a 'permit,' and in the morning also reprimanded. Charles Smith applied for lodgings. In the Western District, two men and a woman came in for lodgings, and three men were imprisoned for assaulting a female. Jas. M'Chesney was locked up for disturbing the peace.

A FLARE UP AMONGST THE PRIZES! The agent in this city of D. S. Gregory & Co. and the venders of lottery tickets are at swords' points concerning the sale of the tickets of the Town Hall Lottery. This lottery being for the improvement of the city, is deservedly popular, while the agent, who is selling out some dead grants, for the purposes of individual profit, arising from the labor of the venders, is determined that they shall not sell any other tickets than those which pass through his hands. On the strength of this arbitrary measure, the retailers called a meeting to devise such means as would enable them to throw off their shackles, and to furnish the people with tickets in the Town Hall Lottery. How the affair will end, we are at a loss to know—a committee has been appointed by the venders to commune with Gregory & Co. on the subject.

PITCHED BATTLE. The Patriot of last evening states that a Philadelphia oysterman and a Baltimore fisherman, on Thursday evening last, got into a dispute at Fell's Point, as to which was the most respectable of the two professions. The dispute ended in a challenge to settle the affair through the aid of fisticuffs. The parties then adjourned to the common in the rear of St. Patrick's Church, followed by an immense body of persons. Information, however, was received by Capt. Dawson, of the Eastern District, who, with two or three watchmen, went to the arena, and scattered the whole party. There could not have been less than five hundred persons on the ground when the watchmen approached.

A TREAT. We acknowledge the receipt of a pitcher of terrapin soup from Mr. Sutton of Military Hall, and another of egg nog from Mr. Rose of the Burton Ale Rooms. One pushed the other down. Gentlemen, we wish you a happy New Year.

ROUGH-SHOE YOUR HORSES. Yesterday morning a horse attached to a dray fell at the corner of Calvert and Baltimore streets, and was almost instantly killed by breaking his neck. The cruelty of allowing horses to work smooth-shod during this slippery weather is too prevalent.

☞ Power is playing with great success in New Orleans.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1, 1841.

Last evening the House of Representatives remained in session until a late hour, and I must confess a vast deal of talking was actually transacted.

About a wagon load of petitions were forwarded to the clerk's table, and deposited in their proper holes and corners, for matters about which no more is to be said.

The correspondence between Messrs. Fox and Forsyth, relative to the case of McLeod, places the matter in a more important shape than it has hitherto assumed. The outrage upon the Caroline having now been avowed by the British Minister as done under the sanction of that government, has rendered the chance of a compromise extremely small.

Mr. Cushing contended that as the Canadian authorities had murdered our citizens invading their territory in cold blood, by the same rule we have a right to hang McLeod for piratical outrages upon our waters. Some say that McLeod, if found guilty, will be pardoned by the Governor of New York. This is nonsense, as in my opinion it would argue more fear than liberating him at once.

Both Houses of Congress have adjourned to Monday next, to the great dismay of private claimants, who construe it into a disposition to be idle.

The bill to recharter the District Banks has been made the special order in the Senate for Thursday next. A warm debate is expected.

This morning we had a deep snow with plenty more in prospect. Alas for those who have been hoping to shine at the Levee. If there was a cup of warm coffee to salute one's lips on arriving at the White House, it might be some inducement to go—but in the absence of that it takes a great deal of moral courage to walk a mile with the snow beating in one's face, and the wind cutting all manner of capers with one's umbrella. So, I take this method of paying my compliments to his excellency, hoping he will deem my reasons a sufficient excuse for non-attendance. Besides, on the last occasion I had such a lesson in squeezing that will serve me for a dozen years to come.

BALTIMORE MARKETS, Jan. 1st.

Flour—We have no alteration to make in the price of this article—the market still continues dull. Howard-st. common brand from stores commands $4.56; City Mills $4.75; Susquehanna $4.62a$4.69. The wagon price continues at $4.50.

Grain—We heard of no transactions since our last quotations. The market is quite unsettled. We shall therefore give the last quotations. White Wheat 100a110c; best red 97a100c; Md. do. 80a95c. Corn, white, 50a55c; yellow 45a46c. Rye 50a57c. Oats, Md., 32a34c. Clover-seed $5a$5.25; Timothy-seed $3a$3.25; Flax-seed $1a$1.12½; Barley 75c. Ship-stuff 33c; Shorts 13c.

In Provisions there is no material alteration.

Whiskey in hhds. 23c; in bbls. 25c; 20c exclusive of the bbl.

At ALEXANDRIA on the 31st ult. Flour was $4.37½.

At GEORGETOWN on the 31st ult. Flour was quoted at $4.62½, dull.

At BOSTON on Tuesday the market for Flour was dull, and Saturday prices were less firm—a sale of 200 bbls. Genesee from store, at $5.31½. Grain more firm, with rather improving prices, and market nearly bare of most descriptions—sales southern round, a lot of 1000 bu. 61½c; yellow flat 58a59c, and white 56c. Oats, 2000 bu. southern, 36c. Cotton, no change. Molasses, distilling, 19½c, and 100 hhds. Cuba sweet, 21c, 6 mo. cr.

LIST OF APPLICANTS,

For the Benefit of the Insolvent Laws of Maryland, for the last week.

James Tracey,	Richard R. Beall,
George Hoppel,	*Wm. H. Payne, col'd
Francis A. Gibbons,	*Robert Fox,
Walter Moxley,	*Joseph West,
True Putney,	*William G. Keene.

——*For sums less than $50.

To appear before the Commissioners of Insolvent Debtors, 1st Feb., 1841, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to answer interrogatories.

Day of final hearing before the said Commissioners 3d April, 1841, at 10 o'clock, A. M., and also before Baltimore County Court, to answer allegations, if any.

MARRIED,

On the 31st instant, by the Rev. B. H. Nadal, JOHN FOREMAN, to Miss MARY JANE POSEY, all of this city.

With the above announcement we received a piece of the wedding cake, and a full blown rose coupled with a leaf of geranium—so here goes for poetry:

Foreman—you're a happy man,
We hope you always so may be;
Love and respect your charming bride,
You've got a Posey—so have we!

DIED,

At the residence of their parents, in Baltimore county, CASSANDRA on the 2d, in her 6th year—EDWARD on the 23d, in his 1st year—and SARAH KERNER on the 26th ult., in her 4th year, all of scarlet fever, and children of Edward and Barbara Griffith.

There has seldom fallen to the task of affectionate sympathy, a more mournful employment, than to contemplate and record the painful parental bereavement occasioned by the decease of the above children.

Just entering into the threshold of life—in the full enjoyment of its early spring—with every prospect of realizing the earthly hopes and expectations of their fond and devoted parents, they have, like the earliest flowers of the season, been nipped in their infancy by the cold and chilling hand of death; and the places that knew them once, shall know them no more, forever. May their disconsolate parents not mourn as those who mourn without hope—but may they exclaim, with pious resignation, "Thy will be done, not mine:" remembering the glorious consolation declared by our Lord and Saviour, who said—"Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

Baltimore County, Jan. 1, 1841.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Brig Ruby, McKenzie, Ponce, PR.,
Barque Baltimore, Hill, Rio de Janiero and a market.

☞ No arrivals yesterday.

MEMORANDA.

Brig Empressario, Collins, of Baltimore, arrived at New Orleans 23d ult. from Havana.

Brig Lexington, Perry, from Baltimore for Warren, RI. arrived at Bristol 26th ult.

Schooner Susan Baker, Chase, for Baltimore, cleared at Mobile 22d ult.

NOTICE.

☞ There will be a meeting of YOUTHS held THIS EVENING, 2d inst., in Union Hall, corner of Tripolett's alley and Baltimore street, nearly opposite Holliday-st. for the purpose of forming a YOUTH'S TEMPERANCE SOCIETY, auxiliary to the Washington Temperance Society. All who are in favor of Temperance and good order, are invited to attend—and any who have been entrapt by that old hypocrite, WHISKEY, and wish to break his charm, let them come forward, for in Union there is strength—and let young and old unite, and they will soon drive the hydra demon of Intemperance and disorder from our otherwise happy land. ja2 1t

UNION FIRE COMPANY.

☞ The members of the Union Fire Company are requested to attend the Annual Meeting of the Company, for the election of officers, at the Hall of the Engine House, on TUESDAY EVENING, NEXT, 5th Jan. at 7 o'clock. Punctual attendance of all the members is earnestly requested. By order,

J. R. JACKSON, Sec'y.

☞ The members holding stock in the Firemen's Insurance Company, are also requested to attend a meeting at the Hall of the Engine House, on MONDAY NEXT, 4th inst. between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clk. for the purpose of electing two Directors to represent this Company at the Board of the said Insurance Company. By order, ja2-2t* J. R. JACKSON, Sec'y.

UNITED FIRE COMPANY.

☞ The members of the United Fire Company, who hold Stock in the Firemen's Insurance Company, are respectively notified that an election will be held on MONDAY NEXT, 4th Jan. at the Hall over the Engine House, between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clk. P. M., for two Directors to represent the Company in the Firemen's Insurance Company. By order,

ja2-2t WILLIAM T. RICE, Sec'y.

VIGILANT FIRE COMPANY.

☞ The Annual Meeting of this Company will be held at their Engine House, on MONDAY, the 4th of January, 1841, at 7 o'clock, P. M.

N. B. An election for two Directors to the Firemen's Insurance Company will take place at the same time. Members will please be punctual in their attendance.

ja1-2t* By order, CHAS. WALSH, Sec'y.

DOCTOR GIDEON B. SMITH,

☞ Has commenced the PRACTICE of Medicine. Applications for his services may be made at his Office, Basement of the Chesapeake Bank, North street, or at his Dwelling in Mulberry, between Pearl and Pine streets. ja1-3t*

WASHINGTON TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

☞ The "Washington Temperance Society" will hold a public meeting in Wesley Chapel, Sharp street, on NEW YEAR'S NIGHT. The public generally, without distinction, are respectfully invited to attend. The meeting will be addressed by a distinguished friend of the cause; several members will also give in their experience. An opportunity will be afforded to all who wish to become members of the association, during the evening.

Hereafter the Washington Temperance Society will hold their regular meetings EVERY MONDAY NIGHT in Mr. NEALE'S SCHOOL ROOM, corner of Hanover and Lombard streets, commencing on MONDAY EVENING NEXT, the 4th of January.

☞ Names added on Christmas day, 148
" " on Monday night last 52

439-4t 200

☞ Dr T. L. MURPHY has resumed the Practice of Medicine. Office No 69 BOND STREET, a few doors S. of Allisonna street. d12-tf

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,
80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

TO-DAY, N. Jersey State Lottery, to be drawn at Jersey City, opposite New York—result received on Monday morning. 78 Nos.—14 Ballots.

SPLENDID SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$30,000	4 Prizes of		$1250
1 "	10,000	25 "		1000
1 "	5,000	30 "		600

Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞ All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address, E. W. ROBINSON,

No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.
Agent for the State of Maryland. ja3-1t

STONER'S OFFICE,
UNDER WASHINGTON HALL,
MARKET STREET BRIDGE.

MY GRACIOUS, what a fine Scheme this is that draws TO-DAY! Only look at it!! 14 Ballots.

GRAND SCHEME.

1 Prize of	$30,000	1 Prize of	$3000
1 "	10,000	2 "	2000
1 "	5000	3 "	1500
1 "	4000	25 "	1000, &c.

Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞ On Saturday last this office sold 21, 61, 70, a prize of $10,000. So be sure to find us out to-day, for Stoner's the lad for prizes.

☞ Orders, from all parts of the city and country, should be carefully directed to 439-1t JOHN L. STONER, Baltimore.

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer! More Proofs the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Man. To Dr. SWAYNE.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel different—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently depends on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
jy28-y

MRS. CONNOR'S

BOARDING HOUSE, PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, between 3d and 4½ streets, Washington City, (D. C.) where Gentlemen, visiting the District, can be accommodated with Board and Suits of Apartments, suitable for single gentlemen or families, for any length of time. d29-1m

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE, }
3d January, 1841. }

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one at Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled 'The Playmates;' a plate of fashions, with three female figures beautifully colored; two pages of Music, and Angling illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER:

The Young Rambler, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Soldier's the Lad for Me, by A. McMakin.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Durang.
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Reefer of '76, by the author of 'Cruising in the Last War.'
Sabbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. Clark.
Thine—Only Thine. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. Feling.
Music. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by S. Nelson.

EMBELLISHMENTS:

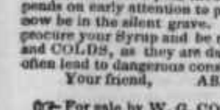
'The 'Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞ Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city, and sent by mail to all parts of the United States and the Canadas, by the publisher.

Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
ja2 Baltimore, Md.

NOTICE.

FROM THIS DAY UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE,



The Steam-boats for Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va. will make but two trips each week, leaving the lower end of Spear's wharf, every MONDAY and THURSDAY, at half past 3 o'clock, P. M., or as soon as the Eastern Mail arrives.

Travellers, bound to Charleston, will leave Portsmouth for Weldon the morning after their departure from Baltimore, and will pass the whole distance (80 miles) on the Portsmouth and Roanoke Railroad by daylight, arriving at Weldon several hours prior to the departure of the train of Cars for Wilmington, N. C.

The Steamboats for Richmond, from Norfolk, leave every TUESDAY, THURSDAY, and SATURDAY MORNING, at sun rise.

Travellers bound to Richmond or Petersburg, leaving Baltimore on MONDAY, are put on board the James River Boat in Hampton Roads on the following morning, and arrive at the place of destination at from 3 to 4 o'clock, P. M., same day.

Fare to Weldon, (meals on board included) $16
Fare to Norfolk, (meals included,) 10
Fare from Norfolk to Richmond, (meals included,) 4

JNO. C. MOALE, General Agent
flatt. Steam Packet Co.

☞ No freight will be received on the days of departure, between the hours of 1 and 4 P. M. ja2 3t

NOTICE.

On the 25th of November, a HORSE was taken up by one of the citywatch and placed at the stable of the subscriber. This is to give notice to the owner or owners, that if the said Horse is not called for by WEDNESDAY NEXT, 6th January, he will be put up for sale at the Horse Market at 11 o'clock on said day.

ja2 3tw THOS. C. DUNLEVY.

SITUATION WANTED. A young lady wishes to obtain a situation in a Dry Goods or Fancy Store. She has been in the habit for some time past of attending a Fancy Goods Store, and is well acquainted with the business. Good references can be given. Apply at this office. ja2-eo3t

BATH BRICKS & SUCCORY.

2000 BATH BRICKS
4 hhds. German SUCCORY. Also, FAMILY FLOUR, just received and for sale by ja2 4t MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

SLEIGH FOR RAFFLE. A few more Nos. to be taken, and will be positively Raffled THIS EVENING. STAG HALL, ja2-2t* No. 67 Hanover-st. opposite the Market.

F. B. SCHÆFFER,

(SUCCESSOR TO BARKER & CO.)
156 BALTIMORE STREET.

GREAT AND GLORIOUS RESULT. By the returns received by this morning's mail, it affords us much pleasure to inform our customers that we have had the satisfaction of selling some fine prizes, among them $2000, 2500, 3000, 1000, and many of 500, 200, and $100 prizes. Schaeffer's office is the place for prizes—all those in want of the one thing needful are requested to call. Look out this week.

TO THIS DAY, 2d Jan., Virginia State Lottery, class 1. Capitals—20,000, 10,000, 5,000, &c.
Whole Tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2.50.

☞ For Lucky Tickets, apply to
F. B. SCHÆFFER,
Successor to BARKER & Co.
156 Baltimore street, corner of St. Paul's-st.

Where more prizes have been sold and paid than at any other office within the United States.

☞ Orders for Tickets, in any Lotteries under the management of D. S. GARNONY & Co., thankfully received and promptly attended to—and the result of the drawing sent immediately after it is received. To insure a prize, you must address
ja2 F. B. SCHÆFFER, Baltimore, Md.

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of

HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,

for the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse in COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the largest size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Chesnut & Son, Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq. do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq. do.
James Hepburn, esq. do.
Christian Hoideman, esq. Columbia.
Jacob M. Haldeman, esq. Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq. Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank, Philad.
W. B. Lewis, esq. Cash. Girard do.
William S. Smith, esq Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq. Boston.
Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-d2tawstfw*

MAGISTRATES' BLANKS. On hand and for sale by BULL & TUTTLE, Printers,
No. 7 N. Gay street, (Clipper Office.)

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000	may be had on	MONDAY, for	$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	4 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
6,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 00
20,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. d7-1m

REMOVAL.

A. J. BROWN, DENTAL SURGEON, late Assistant of Doctor KNAPP, has Removed to FAYETTE STREET, three doors west of Charles, where he will be happy to render his professional services to all who may require them. The patrons of Dr. Knapp will be attended to in the same manner, and on the same terms, as if performed by Dr. K. himself. My operations in Dental Surgery will be performed according to the late scientific improvements in the art, and warranted to give satisfaction in every case, or the money refunded. From the success of past operations, he is confident he can please all who may honor him with their patronage, and respectfully refers to the numerous ladies and gentlemen for whom he has operated.

☞ TOOTHACHE. Persons suffering with this distressing malady, can be relieved by his treatment of the teeth. d5-1m

CHAMBERMAID WANTED. Wanted, in a small family, a WHITE CHAMBERMAID, who must also understand Plain Sewing. Apply in ST. PAUL STREET, 3d door north of Mulberry. ja1-3t*

CHEESE AND OIL.

120 Boxes CHEESE
1000 gallons Refined Whale OIL.

☞ For sale low from Sloop CADET, at Pratt street wharf. ja1-2t*

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty, 16 superb plates—price	$3.50
Keepsake, 15 do	3 50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals, 15 plates,	3 00
Forget-Me-Not, 11 plates	2 00
Friendship's Offering, 10 plates,	2 00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
d31 And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

BULWER'S NEW PLAY—"MONEY." The Editor of the 'New World,' has received the EXCLUSIVE copy of the new comedy, entitled "MONEY," by Sir E. L. BULWER, author of 'Pelham,' 'Richelieu,' 'The Lady of Lyons,' 'The Sea Captain,' 'Rienzi,' &c. The Play is not yet published in London, and this is the ONLY copy which can possibly have been received in the United States—since the Editor of the New World obtained it from a source that leaves no doubt of the fact. It will appear in the New World of this week, (January 2,) first No. of Quarto Volume.

☞ Baltimore Office, No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post Office.
d30-4t WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

A NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

THE LADY'S BOOK, Bound, Volume XXII, Price $3.00.

LIST OF ENGRAVINGS:

1. Fairmount Water Works, Philadelphia.
2. The Pilgrims.
3. The Indian Maid.
4. Happy as a King.
5. Death of Lusth.
6. Constantinople.

And six colored PRINTS of the latest Fashions.

N. B. The January number for 1841 is just received. Price 25 cents—or $2 per year. For sale at
W. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Office,
No. 28 N. Gay street—and at
JOHN MOORE'S Bookstore,
d29 No. 74 Market-st. 1 door below Holliday.

PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S
Periodical Emporium,
No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered. Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, elecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and honeset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North st. d12-y

THE PATENT COFFEE CLEARER.

THOSE who are fond of a "GOOD CUP OF COFFEE" are requested to try the above article, which will be found to be of unsurpassed utility in setting Coffee. It is also much cheaper and more handy than any thing else which is used for the same purpose—a small piece, thrown into the coffee whilst boiling, will make it as transparent as amber—price 12½ cents at retail. For sale by
W. J. VAN NESS, Grocer,
n22-tf Market Space.

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d28-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES. French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞ All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.
o3-tf

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by
SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES taken at par for GOODS, at T. W. BETTON'S Gentlemen's Furnishing Store, No. 151½ BALTIMORE-ST.
d31-tf

DRY GOODS, &c.

FANCY AND WORSTED STORE.

THE subscriber has on hand, and offers for sale a large and general assortment of Fine Worsted Patterns, Zephyr Worsted, Thick & Working Chenille, Saddler's Floss, Sewing and Twist Silk for Purses, Silk, Cotton and Worsted Canfas, Perforated, Board and Hair Cloth for Worsted Work, Ladies' Knitted Worsted Caps, Baby's Bonnetts, Boy's Gaiters and Scarfs, Silk and Worsted Fringe, Black Silk Lace, Silk Velvet for Head Bands, Belts and Cuffs, Ladies' and Children's Worsted Mittens, Knit Muffs, Knitting Yarn, Linen and Cotton Tape and Cord, &c.

ALSO—A general assortment of Work and Fancy Baskets and Boxes; Ivory, Shell, and Horn Combs; Jewelry; Needles and Pins; Toys, &c. &c.

G. B. MITTNACHT,
No. 58 Lexington-st., 5th door above Howard-st.
o23-eo3m [AS]

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are LOWER than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.
N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES AT PAR.

SELLING OFF! SELLING OFF!!

HAVING on hand a large Stock of GOODS, which I wish to reduce, I will receive in payment for the same, the notes of the Tide Water Canal Company at par. In the assortment will be found a quantity of 6-4 to 14-4 Rose, Point, and Whitney Blankets; Cassimeres; 3-4, 4-4, 5-4, and 7-8 white, red and yellow Flannels; a case black and white Chints, at only 12½ cents per yard; Fancy Chintzes and Calicoes; Mousseline de Laine, very low; bleached and brown Shirtings; Irish Linen; handsome large white Counterpanes; woollen and cotton Table Covers; green and fig'd Baizes; a large variety of Table Diaper; Damask Table Cloths and Napkins; a few Lambs-wool Shirts and Pants, with all kinds of Hosiery—together with a large assortment of other Goods, all of which I have determined to put at such prices as will ensure a sale to all who will favor us with a call, at No. 60 Hanover street. d29 GEORGE BEVAN.

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and this market, a splendid assortment of Rich SILK GOODS, consisting as follows—

1 case 4-4 Rich Glace Faconne, all colors
1 " do. Black and Blue Black Gro de Affrique
1 " do. Satin Striped and Figured Helencia
1 " do. Satin Stripe and Rept, all shades
1 " do. 4-4 Black and Blue Black Gro de Rhine
1 " Plain Gro de Swiss, all colors.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

Just opened—Extra super 9-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
" Very splendid Satin Glace Shawls, large
" 8-4 Cabrech SHAWLS
" 9-4 Broche do.
" 8-4 Thibet Wool do.

MOUSELIN DE LAINES.

One case Black Ground Mousselin de Laine, heavy
Colored Figured do. very superior quality
Half mourning Mousselin de Laine
Handsome assortment Plain and Figured do.
One case superior French MERINOS, all colors.
With a general assortment of New Style Fall Goods, to which they very respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER,
n13 43 Market-st., 4 doors above Gay.

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS
Yard wide French CHINTZES, 10 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mouseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½; super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7-8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1½ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25c childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
BED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.

E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!

REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6¼
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6¼
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 6¼
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 6¼
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 6¼ each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleves
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mousselaine de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 6¼
Excellent LINSEY, eleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 6¼s
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 6¼s
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Broche do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 6¼
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6¼
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6¼

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S
a27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

AMUSEMENTS.

BALTIMORE MUSEUM
AND GALLERY OF THE FINE ARTS,
Corner of Baltimore and Calvert streets.

BENEFIT OF
MAD. LECOMPTE & MISS ST. LUKE.
GREAT & COMBINED ATTRACTION!

FOR THIS NIGHT ONLY!! At the Baltimore Museum. Madam Lecompte's celebrated French Company, Ballet and Pantomime Artistes, and the ST. LUKE Family of Minstrels, consisting of Miss St. Luke, the celebrated Vocalist Master St. Luke, the youthful Paganini, and Mr. St Luke.

THIS (SATURDAY) EVENING, Jan. 2,
Will be performed, a
VOCAL & INSTRUMENTAL CONCERT,
In which Miss ST. LUKE, the Youthful Paganini, and Mr. ST. LUKE will appear.
After which the laughable Pantomime, called
ELISE AND COLLIN.
By the French Company.

The whole to conclude with the celebrated DIVERTISEMENT of Madame LECOMPTE, &c.

☞ For Programme, see small bills.

☞ Saloon Performance to commence at 7½ o'clock precisely.

☞ Admittance to the Museum and Saloon only 50 cents. Children half price.

CITIZENS' BALL,

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

1st	Ward,	Robert Milholland.
2d	do	David W. Hudson.
3d	do	John N. Millington.
4th	do	A. I. W. Jackson.
5th	do	Sheppard C. Leakin.
6th	do	Wm. H. Cole, Jr.
7th	do	John M. Harman.
8th	do	Joseph Donovan.
9th	do	Wm. K. Muchell.
10th	do	Wm. Barnett.
11th	do	John R. Moore.
12th	do	Richard Marley.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee, on MONDAY EVENING, the 28th inst., the following gentlemen were appointed managers for the different wards:

First Ward—H. R. Lauderman, J. M. Turner, Jas. Grieves, Dr. Monnanier, C. Hergesheimer, John A. Robb.

Second Ward—John E. Stansbury, Wm. H. Watson, Wm. Rochester, J. W. Croney, J. T. Laws, William Wickersham.

Third Ward—Andrew J. Bandel, Richard Lilley, Col. Jacob Deems, Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott, Wm. R. Boyd.

Fourth Ward—Thomas Wildey, Marcus Wolf, Jacob D. Hair, James Murry, Abraham Buckeney, Wm. Hubbard.

Fifth Ward—Dr. M. Diffenderffer, Joshua Vansant, Herman Perry, Capt. John Patrick, John F. Hoss, W. H. Gobright.

Sixth Ward—Dr. R. A. Durkee, Thos. C. Dunlevy, J. Kennedy, H. W. Boot, Jr. John H. Hewitt, Richard Bradshaw.

Seventh Ward—Simeon Hays, James Ackland, Sam. Hyde, S. Teakle Wallis, Wm. Guy, Jas. M. Page.

Eighth Ward—Samuel Lucas, J. Able, Sam. Stump, Wm. C. Clayton, Charles W. Spicer, Wm. T. Rice.

Ninth Ward—Wm. B. Frazier, Jacob Walter, R. C. Murry, Wm. Chace, D. Webster, James McPhail.

Tenth Ward—Dr. Wm. Power, Henry Russell, Jas. Lawson, Lewis Klockgether, Andrew Martin, Peter Kroft.

Eleventh Ward—Charles Soran, John Reily, D. A. Piper, H. Haney, George Holt, Horace Miller.

Twelfth Ward—John Cashmeier, Wm. Deal, Samuel Thompson, [illegible] Kreager, Wm. Richardson, T. J. Sheridan. By order,

ja1 SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.

SIXTH ANNUAL BALL.

☞ The INDEPENDENT BLUES' SIXTH ANNUAL BALL will take place at the Baltimore Assembly Rooms on WEDNESDAY EVENING, 6th January, 1841. Tickets can be had of either of the following

MANAGERS:

Major H. S. Sanderson,	Capt. John Bridener,
Capt. Richard Lilly,	Capt. Thomas A. Lane,
Lieut. Geo. H. Sanderson,	Jacob Deems, jr.
Lieut. Joseph Y. Ford,	F. Lucheisi,
Lieut. Jacob Cook,	Theodore Fimple,
Serg't W. B. Robinson,	William T. Rice,
Serg't Thos. Sheppard, jr.	Geo. L. Stenart,
Francis Deloste,	William Towson,
Edward R. Rogers,	Mahlon Webster,
Samuel D. Johnston,	Isaac D. Cloud,
George W. Webb,	William H. Shipley,
George W. Wilhelm,	Andrew E. Warner, jr.
Thomas E. Hall,	Charles Z. Lucas.
William Holland,

N. B. In the inversals between the Dancing, the Company's BAND will perform several new Promenade Marches and favorite Airs. d4-lawfwd4t

DANCING AND WALTZING.

PRIVATE TEACHING. Mr. W. H. GRIFFITH, of New York, respectfully announces to the ladies and gentlemen of Baltimore, that he is prepared to give lessons in the above accomplishment, and has taken a Room at No. 1 N. CALVERT-ST. Having formed a class, he wishes to inform those desirous of acquiring a knowledge of the same, that he will spare no pains in forwarding those who may favor him with their patronage, having taught several of the first families in New York, among whom were those of Aaron Clarke, esq., ex-mayor; Preserved Fish, esq. Pres't Tradesmen's Bank; Alderman Burling, &c.

☞ Young Ladies, Misses, and Masses, will be taught at their respective places of abode. All communications, addressed to W. H. G. will meet with immediate attention. d31 6t*

DANCING AND WALTZING.

C. C. PHILLIPS respectfully informs his friends and the public, that his DANCING ACADEMY is now open for the reception of pupils, at the Fell's Point Assembly Rooms, corner of Bond and Thames streets. Days of Tuition, for Young Ladies, Misses, and Masters, on TUESDAY and FRIDAY AFTERNOONS, from 2 till 5 o'clock, and on TUESDAY and FRIDAY EVENINGS, for Gentlemen, from half past 6 till 10 o'clock.

☞ Cotillion Parties on every MONDAY EVENING throughout the season. d16-eo2w*

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscriber respectfully informs the Ladies and Gentlemen of Baltimore and its vicinity, that he may be found at his office, No. 4 NORTH STREET, next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION. His Charts are carefully designed—and, from his long experience and extensive practice, a correct delineation of character may be confidently expected. Phrenological Books, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale.

E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist.
d29-y1m*

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,

Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.

With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.

EDW. J. RICHARDSON.
oc2

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 Bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by
d19 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. [A] d25

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 20 good white and colored COOKS, to fill desirable places in different parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES and 2 NURSES. d25

WANTED, immediately, two good Cooks; three good colored Cooks. Also, a good seamstress. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. [A] d21

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

LADY'S BOOK, for JANUARY, 1841.—Edited by Mrs. SARAH J. HALE, and Mrs. LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY. The only Work, intended for Ladies, that is edited by their own Sex. Miss E. LESLIE contributes to every Number.

CONTENTS—Original. The Festa di Pie di Grotta; Mr. and Mrs. Woodbridge, by Miss Leslie; Anacreontic Ballad, by Mr. C. B. Wilson, of London, England; Prayers at Sea, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney; False Pride, a Tale of Every Day Life, by Mrs. Mary W. Hale; The Fairy's Proffer, by Mrs. Annan, (late Miss A. M. F. Buchanan); An Incident during a Siege, by Mrs. Mary H. Parsons; Antonio Salvini, a Tale, by Mrs. E. F. Ellet; Childhood's Laugh, by Mrs. Seba Smith; A Life of Fashion, by Mrs. Emma C. Embury; Man's First Offering, by Mrs. S. J. Hale; The Parlor Serpent, by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz; To Wordsworth, written at Rydal Mount, by Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney; Ernestine, by Esther Wetherwald; Our Life is as a Shadow, by Miss Lois Bryan. Music—The Stranger's Heart—words by Mrs. Hemans—music by Miss Augusta Browne; A Singular Fact, by Mrs. M. M. Webster; The two Trees, by Caroline T. Orne; New Year's Eve; or, Amusements at Home, by Mrs. S. J. Hale. Editor's Table.

EMBELLISHMENTS. Neapolitan Peasants—the finest Plate of the season—engraved by A. L. Dick; Fashions, Colored—Female figure, with fashionable head dress and apron; Boy's Dress; Girl's out-door Dress; Girl's in-door Dress.

☞ Baltimore Publisher—WM. N. HARRISON, No. 28 N. Gay-st., and 74 Market-st. at J. MOORE'S Bookstore, one door below Holliday street.

TERMS—$3 per year, or 25 cents each number. Register your names to-day, being a fine Christmas Gift. d24

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing FEVERS, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞ Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains as aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by
jy28-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY.

(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland.)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Doric Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as [illegible] and as cheap as can be [illegible] at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.

d23-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.

THE doors of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 21st of August, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Chemical, Philosophical, and Astronomical Apparatus, is extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by Mr. J. C. ROBINSON. AUGUSTUS FREITAG, L. L. D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the German.

☞ Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or enter pupils, will receive every attention, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. BAXTER, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.

a8-tf J. B. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

CLOCKS! CLOCKS!!

THE subscribers have opened a Store at No. 34 S. CHARLES STREET, for the sale of their celebrated CLOCKS. They have now on hand, and are constantly receiving, large supplies from their manufactory in the city of New York, Brass and Wood Eight-day, One-day, and Alarm CLOCKS, of every variety of style, and of superior workmanship and finish, which they warrant and offer at wholesale to dealers, at their lowest factory prices.

ja1-1y SMITH & BROTHERS.

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at
DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

COTTON FACTORY—For Sale or Rent.

FOR Manufacturing Cotton WADDING & LAPS. The Machinery of the above Factory is propelled by a first rate Four horse Steam Engine. I will sell for cash, or on a liberal credit on approved endorsed notes. This is a rare chance for an industrious person with a small capital—the Factory is well established, and has a good run of customers—possession can be had in March. Inquire of T. W. BETTON, d22-tf No. 151½ Baltimore street.

MOTHERS, who have children suffering with cough or cold, should procure HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICAT

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

OUR LOG BOOK.

LATEST FROM TEXAS. The steam packet Neptune, Capt. Rollins, has arived at New Orleans from Galveston, bringing dates to the 8th instant.

The British brig Milton had arrived at Galveston with an assorted cargo.

The Texian Man-of-war schr. San Jacinto recently got aground and was abandoned on the coast of Yucatan, but was subsequently relieved by the Commodore's ship, and went into Campeachy to repair.

The man-of-war steam-ship Zavalla is at Tobasco. There is nothing left of her but her hull and engine, she having been compelled to burn her saloon and all her wood work in getting over the bar.

The editor of the Galveston Civilian cautions young men against coming to Texas without funds, and without knowing what vocation they are to pursue in order to obtain a livelihood.

At the last accounts from Austin the Cherokee land bill was one of the most interesting topics before Congress. Gen. Houston, Mr. Kaufman, Maj. Reily, and other distinguished speakers being engaged in debate on the subject.

Dr. Everitt has resigned his seat in the Senate in consequence of sickness in his family.

Dr. Anson Jones obtained leave of absence for the same reason.

Dr. Moore's retrenchment bill has passed its second reading, and, it is said, will probably go through the Senate with a large majority.

The papers generally are barren of news.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Dec. 31, 1840.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES. In the House Mr. Gaither submitted a message, proposing to proceed to the election of United States Senator, at 12 o'clock, which was agreed to.

John Leeds Kerr, of Talbot county, was nominated on the part of the House.

At 12 o'clock the election was held, and 92 votes taken, of which Mr. Kerr had 70; and there were 19 blanks and 3 scattering. Mr. Kerr was then declared duly elected.

Mr. Seidenstricker presented the memorial of Wm. Armour, Abraham Sliver and John W. Woods, praying for a renewal of the charter of the "Jackson Beneficial Society of Baltimore," with certain amendments—referred to the Baltimore city delegation.

MISTAKEN. A writer in the "New York Catholic Register," in an article extolling our Baltimore poet, J. N. M'Jilton, makes use of the following language:

"You have [illegible] Esq. author of a volume of poems, [illegible] by Messrs. Otis and Broaders, of Boston. This gentleman, I am happy to inform you, is a member of the true apostolic church, and a young Irishman of highly respectable connexions. The volume he has been the means of giving to the world is an honor to our country, being filled with 'thoughts that breathe and words that burn,' arranged in the most poetic style."

We are not desirous of disputing the claims of either Catholic or Protestant church to Mr. M'Jilton, but we do think that the writer will find himself egregiously in error when he inquires into the birth and religion of the gentleman he so gratuitously eulogises.

MURDER OF A METHODIST MINISTER. By the Nashville Banner, we are informed of the murder of Mr. Lindsay, a Methodist clergyman, on Monday the 14th ult. near Hendersonville, Sumner county, Tenn. He was shot to obtain the money he had about him, $300 as it is supposed, by a man by the name of Carroll, and throwa into the Cumberland river, where the body was found on the Sunday evening following, by dragging with a net. A man by the name of Johnson, a supposed accomplice has been taken up.

BANK OF PENSACOLA. It seems that the interest on the Bonds issued by the Bank of Pensacola, and guaranteed by the Territorial Government, has been paid. The Pensacola Gazette of the 28th of Nov., says:—We are gratified to learn, and not less gratified at the opportunity to do justice by recording the fact, that the interest was duly paid by Mr. Jaudon up to July 1st 1840, before his departure from England, where, it seems, these bonds are held.

The steamboat Tallahassee, Capt. Leland, arrived at Tallahassee, on the 20th ult. with 450 bales of cottos, and reported the Alabama sunk four miles above Fort Gaines. The T. reports the steamer Oriole, lying at the forks with her engine broken. Her first trip on that river.

NICELY CAUGHT. Four rogues were lately caught in Mobile. They were attempting to rob a store. After they had got in, the owner who happened to be a secret observer of their movements, stepped up and locked them in, there retained them until arrested.

ACCIDENTS. A beautiful young lady named Mary Wallack was run over by a barouch in Boston, driven carelessly, and had one of her limbs broken. Also, on the same afternoon, a lady named Mrs. Kane was knocked down by a gig and had her leg badly fractured.

COLLISION. The steamer Patrick Henry, Capt. Shaw, lately came in contact with the Maid of Arkansas, and stove her in so that she sunk. The former boat also sustained considerable injury, but was able to proceed on her way to New Orleans.

SOMETHING NEW. We refer the reader to the advertisement of Mr. Taylor, agent for the New World, Brother Jonathan, &c. Something splendid is promised for the readers of the forthcoming World.

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

M. H. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 62 S. CALVERT STREET, keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c. d22-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 27 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. d22-y

MARX M. HART, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d19-6m

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 43 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n18-3m*

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent. n12-y

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se29-3m

JOHN PETRIS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se29-d

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 2 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. s4-y

MR. DAVISON'S WRITING ACADEMY, for instructions with the Muscular Guide, No. 41 Baltimore street. The plan recommended by the Maryland Institute of Teachers. se8-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. jy23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je10-6m*

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 112 BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. m26-y

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 39 Payette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. m11-y1m*

MINIATURES. Painted in the best style, by MRS. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. mh13-y

COMPOUND SYRUP of HOREHOUND.

FOR the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Pain and Oppresion of the Breast, and all Diseases arising from a disordered condition of the Lungs.

Perhaps there is no Medical Observation better established and none more generally confirmed by experience of the best Physicians of all ages in all countries, than the Fact, that many of the most difficult and incurable Consumptions originate in neglected colds. In a climate so variable as ours, where the changes of weather are frequently sudden and unexpected, it requires more care and attention to guard against this dangerous enemy to human life, than most persons are able and willing to bestow. The bills of mortality exhibit the alarming and melancholy fact, that the number of deaths by this disease are as five to one. Inasmuch then as this fatal disease is increasing, and spreading so widely and fearfully, and bidding defiance often to the combined skill of the most eminent physicians, it is a gratification to the subscriber to be enabled to offer to all of consumptive habits, or those afflicted with distressing pains in the side or breast, or any affection of the breast or lungs, a reasonable and almost certain prospect of relief.

The COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND is a medicine suitable to persons of all ages and sexes; and if taken on the appearance of the first symptoms, which are a COUGH or PAIN in the BREAST, will in nine cases out of ten [illegible] relief, and effect a speedy cure.

Price 50 cents per bottle, Prepared and [illegible] by SETH S. HANCE, corner of Charles and Pratt streets, Baltimore; and J. R. STANBURY, Thames street, Fell's Point. d 12-y

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE AND FERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headache; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver-complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma, Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as in Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞ A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.

Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.

Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.

Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. ROBY.

WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. ROBY having spent two years in practice with Dr. G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call. H. N. ROBY.
d12-6m

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side; the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Harlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. jy26-y

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞ None genuine without the name of COMSTOCK & Co., written on the wrappers.

SOLOMON HAYS.

☞ For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. n24-eodtn

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞ Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

se17-tf E. S. FEYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

JOB PRINTING OFFICE,
No. 7 N. GAY STREET.

BULL & TUTTLE, practical JOB PRINTERS respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have removed their Printing Establishment to No. 7 N. GAY STREET, (three doors above their former office,) in the building recently occupied as the office of the Baltimore Chronicle, which has been fitted up in superior style, for the most extensive operations. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. &c. are of fashionable cast, to which they are adding every material, new in the art, in order to keep pace with the improvements of the times. They will print to order,

Cards, Ball Tickets,	Showbills in Colors,
Circulars, Checks,	Handbills, Wayhills,
Notes, Bill-heads,	Steamboat Bills,
Bills of Lading,	Rail Road do.
Bills of Exchange,	Stage do.
Commercial Blanks,	Catalogues,
Custom house do.	Auction Bills,
Insurance Policies,	Election Tickets,
Lottery Bills,	Battery' Tips.

Together with every description of FANCY JOB PRINTING, for framing.

Large Posting Bills for Theatres, &c.

Particular attention paid to the getting up of Large Posting Bills of every kind, for Theatres, Circuses, Shows, &c., for which purpose an assortment of the MOST FASHIONABLE LARGE WOOD TYPE has been laid in, without regard to expense.

Magistrates' Blanks.

Always on hand for sale, a full assortment of those Magistrates' Blanks which have given such universal satisfaction to all who have used them.

Small Notes.

For Corporations, Private Individuals, Country Merchants, Tavern Keepers, Public Institutions, &c. &c. printed to order at the shortest notice. Having printed many thousands of small notes during the late and present suspension, with entire satisfaction, they flatter themselves that with the addition of a variety of new cut vignettes, flowers and borders, with dies cast expressly for their own use, they feel induced to say that all orders in this department shall be warranted to please. Orders from a distance promptly attended to, and prices as low as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

☞ B. & T. would take this opportunity of returning thanks for the very liberal patronage extended to them, and beg leave to assure their friends that the same personal attention, as heretofore, will be paid to the execution of all orders in their business, and at the same reasonable prices. ap20-tf

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That at their regular annual session, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore will be petitioned for an extension and location of Lee-st, from Eutaw west to Scott-st., and of Scott-st. from Cross-st. south to the Patapsco, and of Ostend st. from S. Sharp west to the portwarden's line, and within the limits of these streets thus extended and as now located or opened, and within other limits, all of which are described as follows: the Patapsco on the south, thence along Ostend-street to Hanover-st, along Hanover to Little Montgomery-st., along Little Montgomery to Eutaw street, along Eutaw to Lee street, along Lee to Scott street, along Scott to the Patapsco; the petitioners will pray that every street, lane, alley or road, except south Sharp-street, whether each be merely located, or be condemned and opened as a highway, may be forever closed and shut up—also, that Little Montgomery-st. from Sharp to Eutaw be shut up; also that south of Ostend-st. and west of Race that Leadenhall and S. Sharp st. and the two alleys running parallel therewith be shut up. And the petitioners will pray further, that the streets named in the following description be extended, and be located as the other unopened streets of the city generally are, to wit: S. Sharp-st. from Little Montgomery south to Ostend, Howard from Hill S. to Moale-st., Eutaw from Little Montgomery south to Moale, Paca from Little Montgomery south to the wharf, Greene from Columbia south to the wharf, [illegible] and that between Green and Sterret, two other streets be located, one at one third and the other at two thirds of the distance from Greene to Sterret-st. and that each begin at Lee-st. and be run south to the river; also that an alley 20 feet wide be located between Hanover and Sharp street, and between every two of the streets, to be run north and south; also that Hill-st. be extended and located from Howard west to Scott-street, Great Montgomery & Henrietta from Hanover west to Scott, Hamburg and West from S. Charles west to Scott, and Cross from Light-st. west to [illegible] intended that Howard street be extended 82 feet [illegible] Eutaw 82 feet, with five squares near the river, [illegible] feet wide, for a market place, Lee and Hill-st. 70 feet, and every other street 66 feet wide. n17-9aw9w*

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slatt-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-dtf A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

3 The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having defied the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO. No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-streets., on the corner of Uhler's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 3 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Drug Store, Washington City; E. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.

Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. o31-tf

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 50 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HAND BILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12 y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute Rheumatism; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12 y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

ELEGANT INCORRUPTIBLE

AFTER YEARS of incessant toil and endless experiments, I have succeeded in producing most splendid specimens of INCORRUPTIBLE MINERAL TEETH. They possess an exact resemblance to sound human teeth—and, being incapable of either discoloration or corrosion, forever retain their color and purity in the mouth.

These elegant Teeth are inserted from a single tooth to complete sets of twenty-eight, and the extremely accurate and delicate manner of adapting them to the mouth, renders them highly useful in restoring mastication and utterance. Having in process of manufacture upwards of 12,000 of these Teeth, embracing every imaginable variety of shade, size, and shape, I can match the contiguous systemic teeth with such nicety as to set at defiance the scrutiny of the most observant.

The recent discovery of a valuable mineral production, has rendered the manufacture of these teeth so much less expensive and tedious, that I am enabled to make a very great reduction on the charges usually exacted, and in a style noways inferior to any in the profession. Decayed Teeth permanently PLUGGED with Pure Gold. EXTRACTING, FILING or SEPARATING, CLEANSING, &c. &c.

☞ Irregularities in children's teeth rendered perfectly symetrical. Gold PALATES accurately adapted, so as completely to restore articulation.

TOOTH-ACHE! TOOTH-ACHE!!

☞ Sufferers by this distressing malady, find instantaneous relief by applying for my "TOOTH-ACHE REMEDY." The ingredients of which this valuable preparation is composed, are of such a nature as not to injure the sound teeth. In very few cases has this remedy been known to fail; should a failure occur, extraction will be performed without charge.

☞ Price of the Remedy—50 cents per phial.

J. H. WILCOCK, M.D., Dental Surgeon,
No. 29 Fayette-st., near the Post Office.

N.B. Teeth extracted at any hour of the day or night. o2-mwe3m

CITY INTELLIGENCE,
REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE,
N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Potters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to EMPLOY any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

☞ Office open from 7 A. M. until 8 P. M.

The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., H. W. HOOE, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N.B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) deasnitly received and promptly attended to. [A] o22

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,

Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosenkrantz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophicydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Doems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap18-1y

R. G. HUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half ozvials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. a15-eo6m

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞ Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞ The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST,
o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st.

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival. For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.
And in Washington City, by
CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.

☞ With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

MARYLAND STATE Six per cent. STOCK, in sums to suit purchasers.—For sale by o12 E. W. ROBINSON, 85 Baltimore-st.

CONSUMPTION,
COUGHS AND COLDS,
Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, and all Diseases of the Lungs and Windpipe.

FOR THE CURE of the above named diseases, COVERT'S BALM OF LIFE is believed to be the safest and most efficient remedy now before the public. It has also proved itself a superior remedy for the DYSPEPSIA and LIVER COMPLAINT, in all its various forms.

Numerous testimonials of the highest respectability, from physicians who have been made acquainted with its ingredients, as well as from Clergymen and others, who have experienced the effects of the medicine, may be seen by application to any of the agents for circulars, which will be furnished gratis.

From the Boston Medical Journal of 29th Aug. 1840.

The following is an extract from an article in that paper on "Morbus Laryngeus Concionatorum," or Bronchitis, by Frank H. Hamilton, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica and General Pathology in Geneva Medical College.

"The Rev. I. Covert's Mixture, also now used so extensively for this affection by clergymen, belongs to the same class of stimulating expectorants, being one of those lucky combinations of medical agents which, while it promotes expectoration, does not impair the tone of the stomach. Of this medicine, we feel at liberty to speak, since its composition is not held from the Profession, and we hope the proprietors will soon see fit to give it to the public. We venture to recommend it therefore, having employed it in our own case, and in the cases of many others with decided benefit.

From the "Auburn Conference and Family Recorder" of September 4, 1839.

"Covert's Balm bids fair to rank among the first of specifics for most cases of Pulmonary Disease. From having tested its salutary tendency, and more especially from the knowledge that it has won the confidence and received the commendations of many highly respectable medical gentleman, some of whom are well known as the ornaments of their profession, we have no hesitation in speaking well of it. We have reason to believe that it is employed in the practice of some of the most scientific and judicious of the physicians of this place. The Rev. Mr. Covert, the inventor and proprietor of this valuable Medicine, is a respectable local minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this place." For sale in Baltimore by

ROBERTS & ATKINSON.
n27-eo1m DR. DAVIS.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS,
AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by

SAM'L CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.
Washington City, by
W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 19th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.
In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.
oc9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS,)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10 cases	do	do	Cap PAPER
15 do	Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter PAPER
5 do	do	do	do	Cap do
4 do	do	do	do	Folio post do
20 do	Hudson's	do	do	Letter do
15 do	do	do	do	Cap do
10 do	do	do	do	Flat Cap do
6 do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super-royal WRITING PAPER
12 do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter do
6 do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2 do	do	Super Flat Cap
12 do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5 do	Dickey and Leyste's do	do
10 do	Plainer & Smith's	do	do
4 do	do	Folio and Packet Post
15 do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2 do	do	Ledger PAPERS
20 do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter
2000 reams	NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2000 do	Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300 do	Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000 reams	Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs.	Hanging PAPER, 29 and 22 inch.

☞ Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Hand Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a 6sm, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP
WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 76 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received, a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rug Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞ All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT H. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
se16-6m No. 12 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $2000. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to GEORGE GELBACH,
Real Estate and General Agency Office, corner Balt. & Frederick sts.
d21 [A]

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rochester White Wheat FLOUR
50 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs. Zante CURRANTS.
Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by
n13 tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

BUFFALO OVER-SHOES. 5 cases just received per brig Boston, for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
d17 No. 2 South Charles street.

12,000 Lbs. 12 inch HANGING, landing from brig Almeria, for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE, se26 No. 2 S. Charles-st.

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

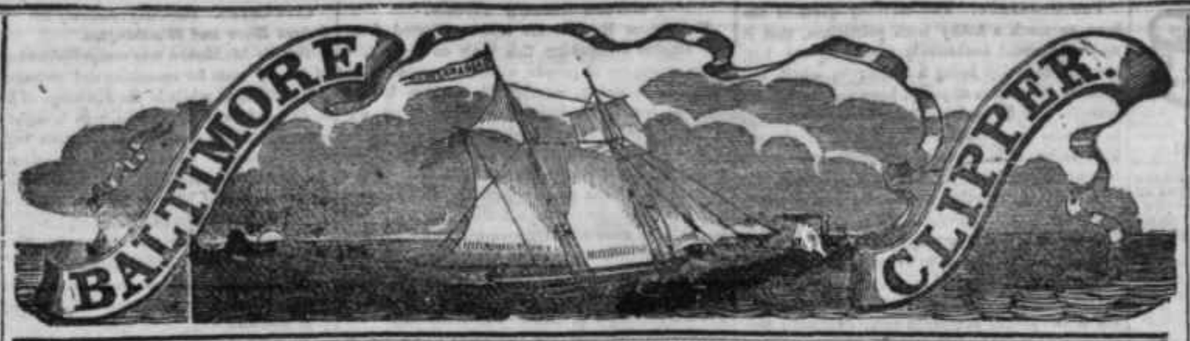
TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞ COUNTRY SUBSCRIBERS can receive the paper, by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square 1 time,	$0 50	1 square 1 month,	$4 00
1 do. 2 times,	75	1 do. 2 months,	7 00
1 do. 3 do.	1 00	1 do. 3 do.	10 00
1 do. 1 week,	1 75	1 do. 6 do.	16 00
1 do. 2 weeks,	2 75	1 do. 1 year,	30 00

☞ Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.



VOL. III. NO. 95.] MONDAY MORNING, JANUARY 4, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

For the Baltimore Clipper.

OH! SING TO ME LOVE!

(IMPROMPTU.)

Oh! sing to me Love, sing that song
I loved it well of yore,
And now it leads my fancy back
To days which come no more—
Then sing love, sing! each gentle lay
Shall charm all thoughts of care away.

Oh! sing to me thus, while I gaze
On thy soft eyes of blue,
And dream another's angel look
In thy sweet smile I view—
Of one who sung in days gone by,
That well remembered melody.

Oh! sing to me those seraph notes,
Call back bright hours fled,
And thou, sweet flower, more fair than all,
Now numbered with the dead—
That voice, those tones float round me yet,
Sing, love! bid me grief forget. EMILY.

THE DARTMOOR MASSACRE.

Many versions of this affair, which happened during the last war with Great Britain, have appeared. The following from "A Green Hand's First Cruize" may prove interesting to the general reader. We are happy to perceive that the press, thus far, has taken favorable notice of the work, the author, who is an industrious citizen of Baltimore, deserves credit for a work, which, at least, shows a deal of perseverance.

The sixth of April was unusally pleasant, a circumstance so seldom, that most of the prisoners were enjoying themselves out of doors, as best they could; and so great a proportion of them had turned out, in the afterpart of the day, that the gamblers were compelled to remove their tables of chance into the yards, or rest upon their oars for the want of patrounge. Some were amusing themselves one way, some another, for they had every variety of game that each could remember from his school-boy frolickings.

A number were playing ball against the cross-wall dividing the barrack-yard from that of No. 7. Among this party were four who had been captured when on boat duty, and belonging to commodore Chauncey's ship Superior, on Lake Ontario, and I think his bargemen; at all events, they prided themselves much from the circumstance of having sailed with so renowned an officer. They were no ways riotous, but were known throughout the prisons for being, in seamen's phrase, 'ready dogs and ripe for fun.' These men messed next to the one I joined in No. 5, and with whom I was well acquainted. In the course of the play, the ball was often thrown by accident over the wall, in the barrack-yard, and for some time was as often thrown back by the sentry on the other side, till he, through sulkiness, refused to toss it again to the players. They tried to persuade him again to give it to them, as it was the only one they had, it affording them amusement and recreation, and lessened the tediousness of their captivity. The only answer they could get from the sulky sentinel was to 'come and take it.'

This they considered as daring them to it; and 'Chauncey's Tigers never took a stump;' at it they went, without implements, or any thing except what they could pick up in the yard, and in full view of the sentries upon the walls near-by. No notice of these doings was apparently taken by the officers of the garrison; but individuals from the committee of prison No. 5, begged them to desist, saying they were bringing not only themselves but others into trouble; as the innocent must suffer, if a conflict was brought on, by their indulging in this fool-hardy frolic. Those engaged at the mischief thought it too good a joke to leave unfinished, and kept busily at their digging, till the hole was sufficiently large to allow a man to pass through.

The firing now commenced in the market square from a body of soldiers headed by Shortland in person, several rods from the place where the hole was made, and not the least endangering those who were the alleged cause of the massacre, nor was any one hurt within the range of the wall that was picked. An increased number of soldiers now first showed themselves upon the walls, overlooking the whole, formed into squads, who kept up a constant firing, began the moment the reports were heard from the square, and continued as long as any prisoners were in sight.

When the gate opened at the upper end of the market, to allow the soldiers to enter, the prisoners at the opposite end supposed them to be none but the relief, having nothing in their appearance to indicate any other object, except being in greater numbers than usual, making their appearance the moment the alarm bell was rung, and accompanied by Shortland. Neither were the prisoners undeceived in the character or meaning of this body, until they formed a close front, and while at a double quick step came to a charge at so close a proximity, that those in front found it impossible to retreat sufficiently rapid to keep clear of the bayonets, by the others in the rear standing their ground, not seeing the manœuvre of the soldiers, and consequently knew of no approaching danger, till Shortland gave the word to fire. So little did this crowd of prisoners suppose they were in peril, that one, who was carelessly looking through the gratings, a little apart from the main body, nor dreamed his person was in jeopardy, till the squad of soldiers approached, one pointed his musket downward, within a foot of his knee, and blew all below to a jelly, splintering and mangling the thigh above in a horrible manner—almost beyond the hope of cure till the third amputation alone staid mortification. This man is still living, and can testify to the above remarks.

On the men rushing to the prisons for shelter, they unexpectedly found all the doors closed but one to each building; and these were soon choked by the great pressure formed, by all hurrying to be out of harm's way, thus retarding as always, the admittance of the many that were continually increasing the crowd. Upon the wall, opposite to the open door of No. 5, were a number of soldiers posted, who kept up a continued fire upon this body of men, that were struggling for an entrance, as did the platoon which followed them from the market square. Here were more injured than elsewhere in the yard altogether; for the soldiers upon the wall opposite were much more sanguinary in their aim, than were those in other portions of the yard and surrounding wall, who kept their muskets elevated so that they rattled the slate from the roofs of the buildings at every discharge. I was looking from a two-story window, and while there, a squad fired three vollies, the balls at each time striking around the window; which showed they fired to obey orders but elevated their muskets through humane motives of their own.

After all had gained the inside of the prisons, the doors were fastened upon us, and we remained in anxiety and disquietude through the entire night, which was not alleviated, by their being kept closed on the following morning, long after the usual time for them to be thrown open.—Many, more timid than the others, supposed preparations were making for a more wholesale slaughter.

The wounded were called for an hour or two after we had been locked up, and such as were willing to go to the hospital, were assisted to the door, when the guard took them in charge.—Many who were not badly hurt, would not go, having at all times a natural antipathy against going there, and under the present circumstances they were more than ever opposed to give themselves into the hands of those belonging to a nation, whose soldiery had so recently butchered them in cold blood.

To show the wanton cruelty of the soldiery, I will relate but one instance, which came immediately under my observation, and one that is not mentioned in any report I have seen, although his name is among the list of wounded furnished from the hospital, where he was sent after being brought into the prison. This boy, belonging to No. 5, was in the yard when the firing began, gained the door in the rear of the building, found it fastened, ensconced himself closely in its recess, till the firing had entirely ceased, and he could see none in the yards, when he ran out, with the intention of reaching the one at the farther end of the building, and, while at his greatest speed, was levelled at by those upon the wall, and shot through the thigh.

And yet there is another I cannot pass over without mentioning. This victim was of excellent standing and deportment, fine talents, amiable in disposition, and possessed a form of a manly, unblemished symmetry, a countenance of bland, comely attractions, and a mind equally to be praised. John Washington had always been foremost in assuaging any acrimonious feelings which arose between the prisoners and their keepers, and was alike respected by both parties. He received a shot soon after the firing commenced, while attempting to gain the prisons with others—fell by the side of the wall, against which he sat, imploring his murderers to spare him; but who, disregarding both his cries and his prayers, discharged their muskets while within a yard of him, and afterward thrust their bayonets into his body. This was repeated by their unfeeling comrades as they came past, in mere wantonness of savage cruelty, even while life was not yet extinct. The death of this man was much deplored, and its savage harshness excited more horror in the minds of the prisoners, and hatred towards it worse than Calaine authors, than any other which took place during the massacre. It was said he had seven balls lodged in his body, beside his bayonet wounds, and all but the first shot, after he had fallen and was unable to rise.

The whole number injured never can be ascertained, as the report came from the hospital immediately under the direction of Shortland; and however ready the English always have been, in their official accounts, to swell the list of killed and wounded of their opponents, no one will suppose them to take especial pride in making the sufferers here, in this massacre, greater than the reality. For he that would say, after the commission of an act that shall be a blot and a stain upon the page of England's history while history lasts, 'I am sorry that it is done,' (Shortland's words at the first interview with the committee, on the morning following the massacre,) would fain wish the world to know the extent of the crime should not, by its enormity, hide his sorrowings from generations to come. According to the report which was made out from the hospital, there were five killed and thirty-nine wounded; two dying before or immediately after their dressings; while the one that came from the committee of the prisoners, since published, made the killed seven, and the wounded fifty-six.

The sanguinary intentions of the commandant may be better understood, when it is known that the soldiers used buck shot and slugs, as well as bullets, in loading their pieces. Many who were wounded by the buck shot, did not report themselves to the hospital; three, in particular, came within my knowledge, whose names are not included in the official return. I will not mention the number of those hurt, as currently rumored and believed in the prisons, for it varied so far from the 'official' list that candor will not sanction the assertion. I think it not unlikely, however, that there were as many more wounded, without ever being reported, as appears in the hospital return.

In the investigations that followed, the delegates from among the prisoners were heard in part, but not listened to or believed, as is evident by the official report that emanated from those appointed to investigate the affair, which any one can see by referring to the newspapers of that period, but which I shall be pardoned in not inserting, as it is altogether foreign to my design.

When we were permitted to go into the yards, we found the sentries all withdrawn, nor were they again stationed within them during our stay in prison. The regiment which was on duty on the sixth of April, was replaced by another, and every measure adopted to prevent any future unpleasant rencontres between the soldiers and the prisoners, who were henceforward allowed to do much as they pleased. Had it not been for the sentinels upon the walls, we had nothing to remind us that we were at all under the surveillance of a British soldiery.

It was alleged that the sanguinary conduct of many of the soldiers is to be attributed to the following circumstance: all spirituous liquor was prohibited by the authorities of the depot from entering the prisons; and the only way to obtain it was by stratagem. This was mostly carried on by the women and others that came to the market, who secreted it about their persons, or among the vegetables in their baskets, and smuggled it into the possession of the traffickers in that line within the buildings. The sentries, when on duty in the night time, for a gratuity above the usual price, likewise managed to introduce, either in leathern bottles, bladders, or with their musket barrels, no small quantity. A plan was set on foot, by some worthless fellows, for a larger purchase than usual, which they obtained, and paid for it in money of their own make, without the soldiers discovering the cheat, till daylight proved the deception of the transaction, by the base coin they had received in the dark—when they were afraid to make a complaint, lest their own criminal conduct, of smuggling liquor while on duty, might be called in question, and prove a greater evil than the loss of the night's adventure. They were compelled to chew the cud of discontent in silence; but the smothered venom rankled in their hearts, and they swore to be revenged. For this, probably, was the firing kept up by many, long after they had orders to cease, as the soldiers that had been thus treated were on duty at the time of the massacre.

Had Capt. Shortland possessed a disposition the least conciliating, no conflict would have ever taken place between him and the prisoners, either in controversy or in deadly strife. But his long habits of commanding, and his ungovernable temper, were ever uppermost at the least fancied disrespect shown to his wishes, person or station. He early learned enough of the American seamen to know, that, unlike the French prisoners who long and patiently suffered and submitted to his irritating conduct and provoking contumely, they would not be driven by soldiers, although they were easily persuaded by the civil authorities, of the Depot, (turnkeys, clerks, surgeons, or their own committee,) to do aught that was required. For this did he display his littleness of heart, which ultimately came to the sad result I have been recording. He that had supreme command, he that was governor of all, could not brook the idea that the requests of others should be respected, while his commands were contemned.

If I have been more particular in recording what took place in No. 7, where the alleged cause of the firing existed, it is because I was an inmate of the same, and consequently had a greater opportunity of noticing the occurrences therein, than I had in those adjoining; although in the others there many circumstances, of which I was not an eye witness, concerning this atrocious affair, that are worthy of record. A platoon of soldiers followed up quickly each body of the prisoners, as they sought shelter in their own respective dwellings, whose doors were previously closed, as in No. 5, and in more than one instance, individuals were shot after gaining an entrance and supposing themselves in safety.

I believe it is pretty generally known, that the British authorities disapproved of Shortland's 'hasty proceedings,' and openly decreed that he should receive a reprimand for the blood he had caused to flow, and privately granted him a knighthood for the gallantry of his conduct. So soon did the one follow the other, that had there been any delay in administering the first, the second would have claimed precedence.

It should be equally as well known, that the British government made provision for those, or their families, who were disabled or killed at the massacre. This pension is continued to them to the present time, much to the relief of the afflicted as can be seen by any one who has the curiosity to visit the Washington Medical College, in the Monumental City, where still stumps upon his wooden leg a last remnant and a sad relic of the massacre of Dartmoor.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 1st 1841.

The house was occupied nearly all day relative to the printing. The following Committees have been announced.

Committee on Elections and Priveleges—Messrs Gaither, Weist, Thayer, Simcoe, Dorsey and Willis.

Ways and Means—Messrs. Bowie, Coad, Jones of Somerset, England, Pressman, Nicolls and Martin.

Claims—Messrs. Estep, Welch of Kent, Boyle, Wm. Lynch, Gittings, Hope and Nesbit.

Grievances and Courts of Justice—Messrs. Tuck, England, Dalrymple, Pressman, Martin, Edward A. Lynch and Brent.

Colored Population—Messrs. Coad, MacCubbin, Brent, Williams, Lecompte, Coombs and Maxwell.

Military Pensions & Revolutionary Claims—Messrs. Matthews, Hillen, Tall, Whiteford, Hooper, Orrick and Richardson.

Internal Improvements—Messrs. Edward A. Lynch, Cassin, Sprigg of Allegany, Legrand, George, Billingslea and Foreman.

Education—Messrs. MacCubbin, Williams, Jones of Kent, Heard, Shower, Gott and Graves.

Militia—Messrs. Heard, Hearn, Whiteford, Keene, Randall, Ford and Matthews.

Insolvency—Dalrymple, Welch of Kent, Brewer, Motter, Parsons; Gallagher and Hooper.

Divorces—Messrs. Frazier, Jones of Kent, Naill, Seidenstricker, Holmes, Morton and Wm. Lynch.

Crimes and Punishments—Messrs. Jones of Somerset, Jacobs, Welch of Baltimore county, Bowling, Edes, Billingslea and Dorsey.

Pensions to Indigent Persons by County Assessment—Messrs. Gittings, Orrell, Shower, Tall, Sutton, Zeigler and Keene.

Agriculture—Messrs. Gantt, Naill, Sprigg of Prince Georges', Clagett, Stull, George and Lowe.

Manufactures—Messrs. Sprigg of Allegany, Ford, Sullivan, Hearne, Poultney, Clagett and Richardson.

Corporations—Messrs. Cassin, Tuck, Gaither, Weems, Legrand, Lecompte and Simcoe.

Inspections—Messrs. Weems, Bowling, Rider, Sprigg of Prince Georges', Seidenstricker, Maxwell and Sutton.

Lotteries—Messrs. Parsons, Edes, Graves, Nesbit, Orrick, Gott and Gantt.

Exciting Cases—Messrs. Nicholls, Hillen, Rider, Motter, Lecompte, Weist and Cathell.

Engrossed Bills—Messrs. Foreman, Randall, Brewer, Pace, Willis, Thayer and Morton.

UNACCOUNTABLE DISAPPEARANCE. A good deal of excitement exists in New York relative to the sudden disappearance of a young man named Henry Noyes about 24 years of age. He is represented to be an unexceptionable young man, neat and genteel in his appearance, about five feet and a half high, hair and complexion light; and he had on light drab pantaloons, black dress coat, black hat, and perhaps a dark colored overcoat.

THE SECOND VICTIM. The man whose marriage to the unfortunate Miss Wood, the daughter of the Philadelphia confectioner, led to the murder of his wife by her father, was buried from a Philadelphia almshouse last Sunday. He died there during the week, in poverty and destitution.

THE LATE CASHIER. Robert White, late Cashier of the Manhattan Bank, was sentenced in New York on Thursday morning, to fifteen days imprisonment in the City Prison, and a fine of $2.50 for an assault and battery on Jonathan Thompson, Esq.

On motion, however, of Mr. O'Connor, he was permitted to go at large.

SUDDEN DEATH. Mr. R. J. Garwood, a highly respectable citizen of Wheeling, a bookseller, fell instantly dead in the street, while returning from his dinner on Tuesday, 29th ult. He was a member of the Odd Fellows.

EXECUTION. Jacob Leadings, who murdered his wife, was executed at Albany on Thursday last. He died as he had lived, a miserable wretch, relentless to the last.

☞ Money is said to be quite scarce in New York; more so than it has been for two years.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE,
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE!

TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Bay Line—the Companies on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedule:

Leave Philadelphia	8 A.M.	reach	Baltimore	2 P.M.
" Baltimore	4 P.M.	"	Washington	9 P.M.
" Washington	5 A.M.	"	Fred'sburg	12 M.
" Fred'sburg	12 M.	"	Richmond	5 P.M.
" Richmond	5 P.M.	"	Petersburg	7 P.M.
" Petersburg	7 P.M.	"	Weldon	1 A.M.
" Weldon	1 A.M.	"	Wilmington	1 P.M.
" Wilmington	1 P.M.	"	Charleston	at 5 the next day.

As this Line carries the Great Mail, (which cannot be delayed,) and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is sure of a connection throughout, whilst it is evident that Foul Room WEATHER!! and STORMS!!! must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two-thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT INLAND ROUTE.

☞ The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon: and travellers have no expense or trouble with their baggage.

☞ This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞ This is the only Daily Line to Richmond and Petersburg.

☞ Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of
STOCKTON, FALLS & CO.
Adjoining the Philadelphia Rail Road Office,
d13-tf PRATT STREET, Baltimore.

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.

The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $3.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $5. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate

HATS!
HATS!!
HATS!!!
HATS!!!!
HATS!!!!!

Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at
W. H. KEEVIL & CO'S,
No. 66½ Baltimore-st., opposite Tripolett's alley,
And 4 doors W. of Bond's well known Auction Store.
d16-tjan10

JOB PRINTING,
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

THE proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enamelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞ Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Warranted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by Dr. HITZELBERGER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $3!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

Dr. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of $10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $3. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. se3-ylm*

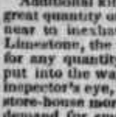
100 DOLLARS REWARD.
DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND,
For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabets or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the urethra of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, composed solely of vegetable substance? One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N. B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of T. J. PITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Britou and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞ For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue. And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL. dec5-y

A BLESSING TO ALL MANKIND.



The VEGETABLE FLUID SYRUP, or Mercurial Extractor. This infallible Srup is the discovery of an old veteran and hero of the vegetable kingdom; from his long research, his labors have been crowned with the glorious result of a positive remedy for the bad effects of that poisonous drug (Mercury,) and while it has this new effiencious effect upon the bones affected with mercury, it at the same time purifies the blood from the remnants of Venereal Disease, Scrofulous Affections, Blotches and Eruptions upon the Skin, old standing indolent Ulcers, &c.

For sale, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO., No. 66 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-sts., on the corner of Uhler's alley; and at the General Agency Office, No. 3 Pitt street, Baltimore. Also, at WM. LANPHIER'S Drug Store, Washington, D. C. 'e21

LUMBER! LUMBER!! LUMBER!!!
THE Subscriber offers to his friends and the public in general, at his Lumber Yard on the Falls, below Pratt street Bridge, (office head Union Dock,) a large and general assortment of Seasoned LUMBER—such as Pannel, Common, Select Cullings, Joist, Rafters, Shingles, Laths, N. Carolina and E. S. Flooring; with every other article necessary to make a good assortment. A quantity of Ark Logs, and also Ash Plank, will be sold at reduced prices, as I have a large quantity on hand. All those who buy for cash, may expect a liberal discount.
je25-d D. E. THOMAS.

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor DUCATEL,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.

HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.

☞ Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
AN AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 34 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Coal-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 100,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and uncut, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞ Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.
je16-d HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.
mh3-dtf HOPE B. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.
THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.
s3-dtf C. W. FEARCE.

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 4, 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

☞ We refer the reader to our Money report of to-day for valuable information.

☞ An important correspondence has taken place between Mr. Fox, British Minister, and Mr. Forsyth, Secretary of State, in relation to the arrest, by the authorities of New York, of Alexander McLeod, a British subject, charged with having been concerned in the destruction of the steamboat Caroline, and the murder of one or more American citizens in 1837. Mr. Fox demands the release of the prisoner upon the grounds of his innocence, and of the offences having been committed by order of the British authorities in Canada. The subject having been made a matter of discussion between the two governments, Mr. Fox expresses the opinion that the laws of New York cannot take cognizance of the transaction.

The reply of Mr. Forsyth is courteous but firm, and must receive the approbation of every American. He says:

"The jurisdiction of the several States which constitute the Union is, within its appropriate sphere, perfectly independent of the Federal Government. The offence with which Mr. McLeod is charged was committed within the territory, and against the laws and citizens of the State of New York, and is one that comes clearly within the competency of her tribunals. It does not, therefore, present an occasion where, under the Constitution and laws of the Union, the interposition called for would be proper, or for which a warrant can be found in the powers with which the Federal Executive is invested. Nor would the circumstances to which you have referred, or the reasons you have urged, justify the exertion of such a power, if it existed. The transaction out of which the question arises, presents the case of a most unjustifiable invasion in time of peace, of a portion of the territory of the United States, by a band of armed men from the adjacent territory of Canada, the forcible capture by them within our own waters, and the subsequent destruction of a steamboat, the property of a citizen of the United States, and the murder of one or more American citizens. If arrested at the time the offenders might unquestionably have been brought to justice by the judicial authorities of the State within whose acknowledged territory these crimes were committed, and their subsequent voluntary entrance within that territory, places them in the same situation. The President is not aware of any principle of international law, or indeed of reason or justice, which entitles such offenders to impunity before the legal tribunals, when coming voluntarily within their independent and undoubted jurisdiction, because they acted in obedience to their superior authorities, or their acts have become the subject of diplomatic discussion between the two Governments. These methods of redress, the legal prosecution of the offenders, and the application of their Government for satisfaction, are independent of each other, and may be separately and simultaneously pursued."

Mr. Forsyth has here taken the proper stand. A band of desperadoes invade our soil, destroy our property and murder our citizens, and when arrested for their crimes, expect to escape punishment under the plea, that their offences were committed by the sanction of a foreign government. Such sanction would be an aggravation, rather than an extenuation of the offence. It would constitute a just cause of complaint against the power thus acting, whilst the criminal would be left to suffer the penalties of our violated laws. We trust that the American government will be sustained in the ground it has taken upon this subject, be the consequences what they may.—To permit the crime to pass unpunished when we have the offender within our power, would be to invite farther aggression. The decision on the guilt or innocence of McLeod is to be determined by the tribunals of New York, and we have no doubt that he will receive a fair and impartial trial. Should he be found guilty and punished, it is possible that the transaction may become a subject of more serious correspondence between the two governments. Be that as it may, we have but the one path to pursue, and that is the path of justice and honor. In this our government is at present treading, and cannot, we hope, be induced to deviate from it by apprehensions of ulterior consequences.

MAP OF MARYLAND. Our highly intelligent and enterprising fellow-citizen, Fielding Lucas, Jr. Esq., has presented for our examination, a manuscript Map of Maryland, embracing also adjacent parts of Pennsylvania and Virginia, and the whole of Delaware. This map exhibits great skill, neatness and accuracy, and is constructed from the best authorities. To the people of Maryland such a map has long been a desideratum, and the subject has been repeatedly brought to the consideration of the legislature, but without procuring the public aid requisite to its construction. The map before us has been prepared for the engraver at a great expense of time and labor, after consulting the best authorities and other sources of information; and we anticipate that its publication will give entire satisfaction. Care has been taken to follow actual surveys wherever they have been made, and thus the inaccuracies of former maps have been corrected.

POPULAR AIRS OF GERMANY. We have received No. 1 of a monthly musical work bearing the above title, published in Philadelphia by Worch & Thomas, at $1.50 a year. It contains some very pretty melodies, tastefully arranged, with both German and English words.

☞ A writer who signs himself "Chips" has commenced a series of City Lyrics in the New York Signal. They are too bad to be called a copy of our Chips.

THE CURRENCY. The currency question has been so much a hobby with politicians, that it may be deemed exclusively their property: but, a sound currency being a matter in which all, without distinction of party, have an interest, we conceive it to be no deviation from our neutrality, to express our sentiments. A sound currency we hold to be, either specie, or paper convertible into specie at pleasure. We do not believe that it would be practicable to have an exclusive metallic currency in this country—and if we could, it is possible that it would operate prejudicially to the interests of almost every class of society. It might crush enterprize, cramp industry, and oppress the poor. The condition and circumstances of the people require a more extensive currency than could be afforded by specie alone; and hence the necessity of bank notes, or some other substitute for gold and silver. Specie-paying banks answer the purpose. But here the question arises, what guarantee can the people have that the banks will pay specie? It is certain that banking has been multiplied far beyond the limit necessary, although, perhaps, the aggregate of capital is not more than the necessities of the community require. One deleterious consequence is, that these institutions become hostile to each other, and, in their struggles for supremacy, too often disregard the safety of stockholders and the public at large. In the city of Baltimore there are a dozen banks, and, as each has to guard against demands from the others, they are restrained in their usefulness, and rendered less profitable to their stockholders. It is our deliberate opinion that three or four banks, with adequate capitals, would afford much greater facilities to the citizens of Baltimore; give more permanent security to stockholders; and be better able to resist sudden pressures, than the present banks—because so small a number of institutions could act in perfect harmony and good faith with each other. They would likewise inspire that confidence so necessary to the useful administration of a bank, if not to its very existence.

It seems to be the general impression that the banks will shortly resume specie payments.—Such resumption is necessary to constitute what we should deem a sound currency—but, if it is to be but temporary, to be followed by another suspension, would it not be much wiser in the feebler portion of our banks either to follow the example of the Franklin Bank, and wind up their concerns, or endeavor to amalgamate their capitals with other institutions? Admitting, however, that they are all able to sustain themselves in any emergency, we still think that a diminution of their number would be productive of good.

SMALL NOTE CURRENCY. The American of Saturday, in some remarks approbative of Mr. Bowie's bill, now before the legislature, authorising the banks to issue notes of a less denomination than five dollars, suggests the propriety of so amending the bill as to permit the banks "to issue and receive the notes of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company." This would be a judicious amendment, and we entirely concur in the views of the American on the subject. But one thing further will be required, should the proposition be favorably received by the legislature: it must be made obligatory upon the banks to receive the notes of said company without limitation or restriction, otherwise the measure will fail in relieving the community from a depreciated currency. Said notes were received in the banks of Baltimore for a short period, and then rejected. The consequence of the rejection was an immediate depreciation. To guard against a similar result, and the consequent loss to the community, it will become absolutely necessary that the banks shall be compelled to receive whatever small note currency they may issue; and to this, we presume, they can have no reasonable objection. Indeed, so far as we can see, the arrangement would prove advantageous to them, if they be not required to redeem the railroad notes in specie. It is certainly important to the citizens of Baltimore that the issues of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company should be kept in circulation, inasmuch as the moment they are converted into stock, the city would have to pay interest upon the amount.—This consideration, together with the fact, that the notes are secured in the most ample manner, ought to induce every citizen of Baltimore to desire that Mr. Bowie's bill should be amended in consonance with the views expressed by the editors of the American.

SYMPTOMS OF RESUMPTION. On last week, the banks of Philadelphia drew five hundred and thirty thousand dollars in specie from the banks of New York, viz: Bank of America, 200,000 dollars; Merchants' Bank, 200,000 dollars; National Bank, 100,000 dollars; and 30,000 dollars from another.—These drafts were all in the regular course of business.

The New York Commercial Bank has declared 4 pr. ct. dividend for the last 6 month: the Atlantic Insurance Co. 25 pr. ct. The Mutual Safety Insurance Company has declared a dividend of 19 pr. ct. on 473,149 dollars, the earned premiums of the past year payable in script, and a further dividend of six per cent. on the script issued in 1839, payable in cash.

A RUNNER. A runner was elected in one of the banks of this city on Saturday. A correspondent recommends if another vacancy should occur, that Thomas Penaington should become a candidate, as he has proved himself quite an adept at the business.

The Contribution and Subscription taken up at the annual meeting of the City Tract Society at the Broadway Tabernacle, N.Y. last Wednesday evening, amounted to over $3,000.

ROBBING THE ORPHAN. Some abandoned females have lately been imposing counterfeit notes upon the lady who kept the orphans' store in Philadelphia.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

FRANKLIN BANK. As was anticipated from the rumors concerning this bank on Friday, a large concourse of people collected around it on Saturday morning, nearly all of them having more or less of its bills in their possession, desirous of having them exchanged for good bankable money. Though the doors of the bank were open, yet no business was done, and the issue of the bank was rejected. There are a number of opinions as to whether the bank will be able to resume its operations—the panic of some people carries them beyond discretion, and they are anxious to get rid of the paper at any sacrifice. Some say that the concern will be able to surmount its difficulties—and at the same time the brokers were buying the paper at 25 and 30 per cent. A good feeling exists towards the institution, though some persons have instituted suits against the president for the amount of their bills.

A CASE. On Saturday an odd case was tried before Justice Schaffer. It appears James J. Patterson, the plaintiff, had handed a $1 corporation bill to Jacob Yundt, defendant, for his opinion. Mr. Yundt pronounced it a counterfeit, and at the same time crossed it with his pen, thereby so disfiguring it, as the plaintiff said, as to prevent its being recognized by the person from whom he obtained it—he therefore claimed damages to the amount of the note. The defendant contended that as the note was an acknowledged counterfeit, it had no value—and, having no value, there could be no damages. The magistrate deferred his decision.

WATCH RETURNS. Eastern District, Jan. 1. No business for the guardians of the night. In the Middle District, Patrick Whelan, Thomas O'Rouk, Patrick Wilson, Michael Flinn and Joseph Hall were found at 2 a. m. noisy and riotous, and marched to prison. A man applied for lodgings, and two females were brought in for the Police to send to the alms-house. In the Western District, Z. Mitchell was taken up for bad behaviour, and Henry Duheart for being intoxicated. A destitute female was left for the Police.

YOUNG RASCALS. On Saturday morning two negro boys entered the boot and shoe store of Mr. Charles O'Hara, Pratt street, and while one kept the lady in conversation, the other seized a pair of boots and scampered off. The lady ran towards the door in order to catch the thief, when the fellow who remained struck her a severe blow. She called out, and a man on the other side came to her assistance, and after a chase, arrested the boy, whose name is Thomas Thomas. The fellow with the boots escaped.

INSULTING LADIES IN THE STREETS. We have alluded in pretty severe terms to every instance of insulting females in the streets that came to our knowledge. Justice has at length laid its hands upon one of these violators of the code of gallantry and decency. John T. Starr, a young man, was on Saturday afternoon brought before Justice Miltenberger at the instance of several gentlemen, charged with insulting ladies in the streets. The evidence against him was so conclusive that the magistrate demanded security for his appearance before the City Court in February, in default of which he was committed to jail.

ASSAULTS. Samuel Davis and Mrs. Burnham, charged with an assault and battery on Lavandoski Martin, were arrested and brought before Justice Schaffer. Giving bail for their appearance at the next term of the City Court, to answer to the charge, they were released.

A man named Zebulon Mitchell, charged with maltreating his wife, was on Saturday committed to jail by Justice Wright, in default of security to keep the peace.

WORKING ON SUNDAY. Justice Gorsuch has decided in the case of the Jews, Isaac Isaacs and his journeyman, John Roswell, charged with breaking the Christian Sabbath by working at their trade, that they shall each pay the stipulated fine, $[illegible]. Isaacs was fined on the ground that he ordered Roswell to work. We understand that the defendants intend to appeal.

NEARLY A SMASH. On Saturday morning two horses attached to a sleigh ran down Baltimore street, threatening to upset every thing in their way. At the corner of Gay street the sleigh jammed a lad against an awning post, injuring him however but little. The horses were soon brought up.

COUNTY COURT. The County Court will open to-day. Those who have appeal cases from magistrates' courts would do well to have their counsel and witnesses ready, the examination will commence with the appeal docket.

CAUTION. Of all nuisances, particularly during this season of the year, we know of none equal to the iron grating or sheet iron covers to cellars beneath the pavements. On Saturday several persons were severely injured by stepping on them unguardedly, they being so slippery as to make it next to impossible for a person to maintain a foothold. So, we think it our duty to caution persons to avoid them.

PORTRAIT. A fine portrait of Gen. W. H. Harrison, the President elect, is now exhibiting at the window of Mr. Palmer, Baltimore street. It is the production of Mr. Henry Shepherd, a young artist of much promise.

SLEIGHING. The sleighing on Saturday and yesterday was delightful, though the weather was bitter cold. We saw a number of splendid establishments drawn by fine trotters—and the way the bells jingled and noses glowed was a scandal to music and fire-works.

FUEL. Oak Wood was retailing on Saturday at $5 to $5.50 per cord; and Pine at $4.50 to $5. Anthracite Coal of the various descriptions ranges from $6.50 to $10 per ton, broken and screened.

CITIZENS' BALL. The managers of the Citizens' ball will bear in mind that a meeting is to be held at Military Hall this evening at 7 o'clock.

CITY COURT. Saturday, January 2d. Present Judges Brice and Worthington.

Dennis McMahon was compelled to pay a fine of $1 and costs for assaulting and resisting police officer Schroat while in the discharge of his duty.

Edward Janney, a youth, was brought up for examination on the charge of riotous and disorderly conduct. He had been imprisoned two weeks for the offence, in consideration of which punishment, and after some wholesome admonition, the court allowed him to depart.

Nelson Boston, colored, charged with assaulting Julia Taylor, was discharged.

Julia Taylor, colored, charged with assaulting Nelson Boston, was sentenced to one day's imprisonment.

Matilda Taylor, colored, was charged with breaking the windows of her mother's house. The complainant, her mother, gave her a very bad character, stated that she had used offensive language and threatened violence, and in one instance attempted to take the life of a younger daughter with a knife. The court ordered the offender to be remanded to prison, in order that some steps might be taken to rid the community of her.

Thomas G. Stubbins, who was arrested about two weeks since and committed on the charge of violently assaulting a colored man on Light street wharf, and also assaulting two white men who were endeavoring to preserve the peace, was sentenced to pay a fine of $5 and costs on each assault.

Martin Spicer, who attempted to rescue a prisoner from the hands of a police officer, was reprimanded and discharged.

Joseph Legare, charged with assaulting a female was discharged, no witness appearing against him.

The court refused to discharge Constables Peter P. Polce and George R. Campbell, charged by Mrs. Knapp with assaulting and falsely imprisoning F. H. Knapp, as the parties were bound over to appear before the County Court—and it was unwilling to prejudge the case.

Moyer Miller, who was brought to this city from Pennsylvania on the Governor's requisition, charged with being a party concerned in the late wagon robberies, was brought into court on a writ of habeas corpus, for further examination.—He was, after a short investigation, released from imprisonment on his own recognizance in the sum of $500 to appear at the February term.

A. Hyam asked the protection of the Court against the violence of Robert Ramsey, who had threatened him while at Annapolis. The Court ordered bail to be given to the amount of $500.

INCENDIARIES. On Friday night an attempt was made to fire the premises of Mr. Henry Rieman, Lexington street. It was, however, fortunately frustrated by watchman Wilson, of the Western District, who, discovering the flames in time, prevented their further progress.

POLICE. Benjamin Rigdon, of Harford county, charged with harboring the slave of James Wilks, Jr. of this city, was on Friday arrested and taken before Justice Jones, who subsequently committed him to prison.

Wm. McCullogh, charged with assaulting and beating his wife, was committed to prison on the same day by Justice Keplinger.

FOUND. The bachelor of our editorial corps has found a young lady's "pin cushion." It is a very neat article, constructed in the form of a pocket book. It, together with its contents, being more valuable to the owner than the junior, he will therefore, as the needles are too delicate to be used in sewing on buttons, return the same to the fair proprietress with all the little "nick nacks" it contains, if she will call at his sanctum.

GREAT ECLIPSE OF THE MOON. There is to be a total and magnificent eclipse of the moon on the 5th day of February next, commencing at nine minutes past 7 o'clock in the evening. This eclipse will be visible in all parts of the United States, the Canadas, greater part of Mexico, the whole of South America, all parts of the Atlantic ocean, the whole of Europe and as far east as the meridian of Bombay in Hindostan. It will be a magnificent spectacle, and a phenomenon rich in matters of contemplation for the curious, especially the astronomer. The moon will rise totally eclipsed at Astoria, at the mouth of the Columbia river in America, and set totally eclipsed at Constantinople.

DREADFUL OUTRAGE. Captain James Brown, of the schooner Hero, was a few days since, attacked about midnight, while on his boat near Boston, by a monster named Matthew Varina, and dreadfully beaten. The assault, no doubt, was made with intent to kill. The weapons used by Varina were an iron bolt and a hatchet. The captain's head was much bruised and cut, some of his fingers severed from his hand and the wrist nearly chopped off. Varina has confessed himself guilty of the offence and is now in prison.

MURDER IN MOBILE. A short time since, a Mr. Emerson went into the office of Dr. J. H. Woodcock, and there attacked him. The doctor had one arm in a sling—he warned Emerson to keep away from him; he, however, continued to advance, upon which the doctor drew a pistol from his pocket, and shot him, causing his death in a few hours afterwards. The doctor was arrested and held to bail in the sum of $20,000.

SPECIE. We understand, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, that the U. S. Bank has now in her vaults, more than $1,000,000 in specie. All doubts as to a general resumption have disappeared, and we begin to indulge a hope that our community will glide so gradually from suspension into resumption, that the affair will not create a momentary sensation. The truth is, very little difficulty is experienced even now with regard to small change.

THE LATE PHILADELPHIA MURDER. Thomas Birmingham, who was committed on suspicion, has been discharged.

MARRIED,

On the 30th ult. by the Rev. S. B. Wil[illegible] McDONNAL to Miss SARAH E. GORSUCH, a[ll] On 31st ult. by the Rev. Mr. Steel, Jno. W[illegible] of Harford county, to Miss MARY ANN, second[illegible] ter of Mr. John Swain, of Baltimore.

At Georgetown, D. C. on the 31st ult. J. H. Hoo[ver] the U. S. Army, to MARY, daughter of Jeremiah [illegible] Bronaugh, esq.

DIED,

On the 1st inst. ANN S. SIMMONDS, daughter o[f] late Matthew W. Simmonds, of this city.

On the 24th ult. Mrs. ELIZABETH FRANCES G[ARD]NER, consort of Robert Gardiner, in her 24th year.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Ship Seaman, Nickerson, New Orleans.
Brig Ida, Taylor, Cedar Keys, Fla.
Brig Gen. Sumpter, Hobbs, Charleston.
Schr Tarquin, Sparks, Demarara.

ARRIVED.

Steam-packet Pocahontas, Holmes, from Norfolk. Reports nothing.

BALOW—Brig Northumberland, from Kingston, Jam. also, two brigs.

MEMORANDA.

British brig Adriana, Hunt, from Baltimore, arrived at Bermuda on the 19th, and sailed thence for Demarara on the 28th Nov.

Brig Lexington, Perry, from Baltimore, arrived at Warren, R. I. 28th ult.

TWELFTH WARD.

☞ The meeting called for Friday evening at Washington Shipley's, (late Matthew Clark's,) for the relief of the Poor of the Twelfth Ward, was adjourned over until THIS (Monday) EVENING, 4th inst. The citizens of the ward are requested to be punctual in their attendance at said place at 7 o'clock. ja4-1t

LIBERTY FIRE COMPANY.

☞ A meeting of Stockholders for an election of two Directors to represent this Company at the Board of the Firemen's Insurance Company, will be held at the Hall of the Engine House, THIS DAY, 4th Jan. between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clk. By order, ja4-1t* ANDREW REESE, Sec'y.

UNION FIRE COMPANY.

☞ The members of the Union Fire Company are requested to attend the Annual Meeting of the Company, for the election of officers, at the Hall of the Engine House, on TUESDAY EVENING, NEXT, 5th Jan. at 7 o'clock. Punctual attendance of all the members is earnestly requested. By order,
J. R. JACKSON, Sec'y.

☞ The members holding stock in the Firemen's Insurance Company, are also requested to attend a meeting at the Hall of the Engine House, on MONDAY NEXT, 4th inst. between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clk. for the purpose of electing two Directors to represent this Company at the Board of the said Insurance Company. By order, ja2-3t* J. R. JACKSON, Sec'y.

UNITED FIRE COMPANY.

☞ The members of the United Fire Company, who hold Stock in the Firemen's Insurance Company, are respectively notified that an election will be held on MONDAY NEXT, 4th Jan. at the Hall over the Engine House, between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clk. P. M., for two Directors to represent the Company in the Firemen's Insurance Company. By order,
ja2-2t WILLIAM T. RICE, Sec'y.

VIGILANT FIRE COMPANY.

☞ The Annual Meeting of this Company will be held at their Engine House, on MONDAY, the 4th of January, 1841, at 7 o'clock, P. M.

N. B. An election for two Directors to the Firemen's Insurance Company will take place at the same time. Members will please be punctual in their attendance.
ja1-3t* By order, CHAS. WALSH, Sec'y.

DOCTOR GIDEON B. SMITH,

☞ Has commenced the PRACTICE of Medicine. Applications for his services may be made at his Office, Basement of the Chesapeake Bank, North street, or at his Dwelling in Mulberry, between Pearl and Pine streets. ja1-3t*

WASHINGTON TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

☞ The "Washington Temperance Society" will hold a public meeting in Wesley Chapel, Sharp street, on NEW YEAR'S NIGHT. The public generally, without distinction, are respectfully invited to attend. The meeting will be addressed by a distinguished friend of the cause; several members will also give us their experience. An opportunity will be afforded to all who wish to become members of the association, during the evening.

Hereafter the Washington Temperance Society will hold their regular meetings EVERY MONDAY NIGHT in Mr. NEALY'S SCHOOL ROOM, corner of Hanover and Lombard streets, commencing on MONDAY EVENING NEXT, the 4th of January.

☞ Names added on Christmas day, 148
" " on Monday night last 52
d30-4t 200

☞ Dr. T. L. MURPHY has resumed the Practice of Medicine. Office No 69 BOND STREET, a few doors S. of Allisanna street. d13-tf

SIXTH ANNUAL BALL.

☞ The INDEPENDENT BLUES' SIXTH ANNUAL BALL will take place at the Baltimore Assembly Rooms on TUESDAY EVENING, 19th of January, 1841. Tickets can be had of either of the following

MANAGERS:

Major H. S. Sanderson,	Capt. John Bridener,
Capt. Richard Lilly,	Capt. Thomas A. Lane,
Lieut. Geo. H. Sanderson,	Jacob Deems, jr.
Lieut. Joseph Y. Ford,	P. Lucheisi,
Lieut. Jacob Cook,	Theodore Fimple,
Serg't W. H. Robinson,	William T. Rice,
Serg't Thos. Sheppard, jr.	Geo. L. Stuart,
Francis Deloste,	William Towson,
Edward H. Rogers,	Mahlon Webster,
Samuel D. Johnston,	Isaac D. Cloud,
George W. Webb,	William H. Shipley,
George W. Wilhelm,	Andrew E. Warner, jr.
Thomas E. Ball,	Charles Z. Lucas.
William Holland,

N. B. In the intervals between the Dancing, the Company's BAND will perform several new Promenade Marches and favorite Airs. ja4-3t

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,
80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

CHEER UP! Plenty of Cash to be distributed TO-DAY. Drawing to take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon—result received in the morning. State of New Jersey Lottery, class No. 2, by authority of the Legislature, for the Society for the Encouragement of Useful Manufactures.

GRAND SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$20,000	29 Prizes of		$1000
1 "	4500	29 "		250
1 "	2500	29 "		200
1 "	2000	155 "		100, &c.

Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

Drawn Numbers Literature Lottery, class No. 1, for January, 1, 1841:

74 61 55 12 17 21 13 19 26 10 43 57 65 53

☞ All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, for any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address. E. W. ROBINSON,
No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.
Agent for the State of Maryland. ja4-1t

CONCERT OF SACRED MUSIC.

THE CHOIR of the Reformed Church, (Rev. C. E. Heiner's,) second street, conducted by Mr. L. WILDER, and assisted by several members of the Baltimore Musical Association, will give a CONCERT OF SACRED MUSIC, on THURSDAY EVENING, January 7th, 1841.

☞ Tickets 50 cents—to be had at P. BERTRAM'S Music Store, and at the Church on the evening of performance. Performance to commence at 7 o'clock precisely. ja4-4t

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES will be received for LUMBER, at a fair price, at my LUMBER YARD, on the Falls Avenue near Pratt street Bridge, from all who may wish to dispose of their Franklin Bank Notes. WILLIAM P. MILLS.
ja4-4t

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Man. To Dr. SWAYNE.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel different—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently depends on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
jy28-y

MRS. CONNOR'S

BOARDING HOUSE, PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, between 3d and 4½ streets, Washington City, (D. C.) where Gentlemen, visiting the District, can be accommodated with Board and Suits of Apartments, suitable for single gentlemen or families, for any length of time. d23-1m

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

TAKE NOTICE, That I have applied to the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Cumberland county, for the benefit of the Insolvent Laws of this Commonwealth, and they have appointed TUESDAY, the 26th day of January, 1841, for the hearing of me and my creditors at the Court House in the borough of Carlisle, when and where you may attend, if you think proper. SAMUEL GIVEN.
December 17, 1840. ja4-3t

CITIZENS' BALL,

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

THIS BALL will take place on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841. The price of Tickets have been fixed by the Executive Committee at TWO DOLLAR—one Ticket admitting a Gentleman and two Ladies. By order,

SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
ANDREW J. BANDEL, Secretary.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

1st Ward, Robert Milholland.
2d do David W. Hudson.
3d do John N. Millington.
4th do A. I. W. Jackson.
5th do Sheppard C. Leakin.
6th do Wm. H. Cole, Jr.
7th do John M. Harman.
8th do Joseph Donovan.
9th do Wm. K. Mitchell.
10th do Wm. Barnett.
11th do John R. Moore.
12th do Richard Marley.

MANAGERS.

First Ward—H. R. Lauderman, J. M. Turner, Jas. Grieves, Dr. Monmonier, C. Hergesshammer, John A. Bobb.

Second Ward—John E. Stansbury, B. W. Herring, Wm. Rochester, J. W. Croney, J. T. Laws, William Wickersham.

Third Ward—Andrew J. Bandel, Richard Lilley, Col. Jacob Deems, Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott, Wm. B. Boyd.

Fourth Ward—Thomas Wildey, Marcus Wolf, Jacob D. Hair, James Murry, Abraham Blackeney, Wm. Hubbard.

Fifth Ward—Dr. M. Diffenderffer, Joshua Vansant, Herman Perry, Capt. John Patrick, John F. Hess, W. H. Gobright.

Sixth Ward—Dr. R. A. Durkee, Thos. C. Dunlevy, J. Kennedy, B. W. Bool, Jr. John H. Hewitt, Richard Bradshaw.

Seventh Ward—Simeon Hays. James Ackland, Sam. Hyde, S. Teakle Wallis, Wm. Guy, Jas. M. Page.

Eighth Ward—Samuel Lucas, J. Able, Sam. Stump, Wm. C. Clayton, Charles W. Spicer, Wm. T. Rice.

Ninth Ward—Wm. R. Frazier, Jacob Walter, R. C. Murry, Wm. Chace, J. D. Webster, James McPhail.

Tenth Ward—Dr. Wm. Power, Henry Russell, Jas. Lawson, Lewis Klockgather, Andrew Martin, Peter Kroft.

Eleventh Ward—Charles Soran, John Reily, D. A. Piper, R. Baney, George Holt, Horace Miller.

Twelfth Ward—John Godman, Gen. Deal, Samuel Thompson, Joseph Kreager, Wm. Richardson, T. J. Aberan.

☞ The Executive Committee and Board of Managers will please be punctual in their attendance at Sutton's Military Hall, THIS EVENING, 4th January. As business of importance will be laid before them, it is earnestly expected that there will be a full meeting.

By order,
ja4 SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.

NOTICE.

The Steamboat POCAHONTAS will leave the lower end of Spear's wharf on THIS DAY, at 10 o'clock, A. M., for Norfolk and Portsmouth.

Passengers, bound to Charleston, will leave Portsmouth on the Rail Road, on TUESDAY following, arriving at Weldon before dark, and after waiting there until 9 o'clock, A. M. Wednesday Morning, for the GREAT SOUTHERN MAIL to arrive will proceed by the cars 161 miles by Rail Road to Wilmington, where they will arrive in about 12 hours—from thence to Charleston is by Steamboat, where they will arrive early on Thursday Morning.

☞ On this Route there is no Stage Riding.—☜

Passengers, for either RICHMOND or PETERSBURG, by availing themselves of this opportunity, arrive at their place of destination the day after leaving Baltimore, as they are put on board the James River Boat on Tuesday Morning in Hampton Roads.

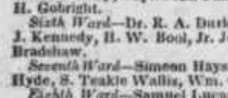
JOHN C. MOALE, Agent.

Fare to Norfolk,	$10
Richmond,	14
Weldon,	16

ja4-1t

NOTICE.

FROM THIS DAY UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE,



The Steam-boats for Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va. will make but two trips each week, leaving the lower end of Spear's wharf, every MONDAY and THURSDAY, at half past 3 o'clock, P. M., or as soon as the Eastern Mail arrives.

Travellers, bound to Charleston, will leave Portsmouth for Weldon the morning after their departure from Baltimore, and will pass the whole distance (80 miles) on the Portsmouth and Roanoke Railroad by daylight, arriving at Weldon several hours prior to the departure of the train of Cars for Wilmington, N. C.

The Steamboats for Richmond, from Norfolk, leave every TUESDAY, THURSDAY, and SATURDAY MORNING, at sun rise.

Travellers bound to Richmond or Petersburg, leaving Baltimore on MONDAY, are put on board the James River Boat in Hampton Roads on the following morning, and arrive at the place of destination at from 3 to 4 o'clock, P. M., same day.

Fare to Weldon, (meals on board included)	$16
Fare to Norfolk, (meals included,)	10
Fare from Norfolk to Richmond, (meals included,)	4

JNO. C. MOALE, General Agent
Balt. Steam Packet Co.

☞ No freight will be received on the days of departure, between the hours of 1 and 4 P. M. ja2 6t

NOTICE.

On the 25th of November, a HORSE was taken up by one of the city watch and placed at the stable of the subscriber. This is to give notice to the owner or owners, that if the said Horse is not called for by WEDNESDAY NEXT, 6th January, he will be put up for sale at the Horse Market at 11 o'clock on said day.

ja2-3tw THOS. C. DUNLEVY.

BATH BRICKS & SUCCORY.

2000 BATH BRICKS
4 bbls. German SUCCORY. Also, FAMILY FLOUR, just received and for sale by ja2-4t MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

SLEIGH FOR RAFFLE. A few more Nos. to be taken, and will be positively Raffled THIS EVENING. STAG HALL,
ja2-2t* No. 67 Hanover-st. opposite the Market.

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000 may be had on	MONDAY, for	$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	4 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
5,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 50
20,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. d7-1m

REMOVAL.

A. J. BROWN, DENTAL SURGEON, late Assistant of Doctor KNAPP, has Removed to FAYETTE STREET, three doors west of Charles, where he will be happy to render his professional services to all who may require them. The patrons of Dr. Knapp will be attended to in the same manner, and on the same terms, as if performed by Dr. K. himself. My operations in Dental Surgery will be performed according to the late scientific improvements in the art, and warranted to give satisfaction in every case, or the money refunded. From the success of past operations, he is confident he can please all who may honor him with their patronage, and respectfully refers to the numerous ladies and gentlemen for whom he has operated.

☞ TOOTHACHE. Persons suffering with this distressing malady, can be relieved by his treatment of the teeth. d5-1m

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.—CERTIFICATE. Mrs. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 56 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty, 16 superb plates—price		$3 50
Keepsake,	15 do	3 50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals, 15 plates,		3 00
Forget-Me-Not, 11 plates		2 00
Friendship's Offering, 10 plates,		2 00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
d31 And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

BULWER'S NEW PLAY—"MONEY." The Editor of the 'New World,' has received the EXCLUSIVE copy of the new comedy, entitled "MONEY," by Sir E. L. BULWER, author of 'Pelham,' 'Richelieu,' 'The Lady of Lyons,' 'The Sea Captain,' 'Rienzi,' &c. The Play is not yet published in London, and this is the ONLY copy which can possibly have been received in the United States—since the Editor of the New World obtained it from a source that leaves no doubt of the fact. It will appear in the New World of this week, (January 2,) first No. of Quarto Volume.

☞ Baltimore Office, No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post Office.
d30-4t WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

A NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

THE LADY'S BOOK, Bound, Volume XXII, Price $2.00.

LIST OF ENGRAVINGS:

1. Fairmount Water Works, Philadelphia.
2. The Pilgrims.
3. The Indian Maid.
4. Happy as a King.
5. Death of Luath.
6. Constantinople.

And six colored PRINTS of the latest Fashions.

N. B. The January number for 1841 is just received. Price 25 cents—or $3 per year. For sale at
W. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Office,
No. 28 N. Gay street—and at
JOHN MOORE'S Book store,
d29 No. 74 Market-st. 1 door below Holliday.

PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Emporium, No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published. Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered. Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, eleecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and honeset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North-st. d12-y

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d26-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES. French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞ All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.
o3-tf

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by
SETH S. HANCE,
d19-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

CHAMBERMAID WANTED. Wanted, in a small family, a WHITE CHAMBERMAID, who must also understand Plain Sewing. Apply in ST. PAUL STREET, 3d door north of Mulberry.
ja1-3t*

OHIO Rail Road, Tide Water, Virginia & Wheeling NOTES—For sale by n12 B. W. ROBINSON, 59 Baltimore-st.

DRY GOODS, &c.

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES taken at par for GOODS, at T. W. BETTON'S Gentleman's Furnishing Store, No. 151½ BALTIMORE-ST.
d31-tf

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,

Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.

With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.
oc8 EDW. J. RICHARDSON.

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 6-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at
DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

FANCY AND WORSTED STORE.

THE subscriber has on hand, and offers for sale a large and general assortment of Fine Worsted Patterns, Zephyr Worsted, Thick & Working Chenille, Saddler's Floss, Sewing and Twist Silk for Purses, Silk, Cotton and Worsted Canvas, Perforated, Board and Hair Cloth for Worsted Work, Ladies' Knitted Worsted Caps, Baby's Bonnetts, Boy's Gaiters and Scarfs, Silk and Worsted Fringe, Black Silk Lace, Silk Velvet for Hand Bands, Belts and Cuffs, Ladies' and Children's Worsted Mittens, Knit Muffs, Knitting Yarn, Linen and Cotton Tape and Cord, &c.

ALSO—A general assortment of Work and Fancy Baskets and Boxes; Ivory, Shell, and Horn Combs; Jewelry; Needles and Pins; Toys, &c. &c.

G. B. MITTNACHT,
No. 58 Lexington-st., 5th door above Howard-st.
c23-eo3m [A8]

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are LOWER than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Bazees; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.
N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES AT PAR.

SELLING OFF! SELLING OFF!!

HAVING on hand a large Stock of GOODS, which I wish to reduce, I will receive in payment for the same, the notes of the Tide Water Canal Company at par. In the assortment will be found a quantity of 5-4 to 14-4 Rose, Point, and Whitney Blankets; Cassimeres; 2-4, 4-4, 5-4, and 7-8 white, red and yellow Flannels; a case black and white Chintz, at only 12½ cents per yard; Fancy Chintzes and Calicoes; Mousseline de Laine, very low; bleached and brown Shirtings; Irish Linen; handsome large white Counterpanes; woollen and cotton Table Covers; green and fig'd Baizes; a large variety of Table Diaper; Damask Table Cloths and Napkins; a few Lambs-wool Shirts and Pants, with all kinds of Hosiery—together with a large assortment of other Goods, all of which I have determined to put at such prices as will ensure a sale to all who will favor us with a call. at No. 60 Hanover street. d29 GEORGE BEVAN.

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mousseline de Laines, and will sell them 20 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½ super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7 8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1¼ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 12½ and 25: childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
RED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.
E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!

REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6p
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6p
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 6p
Yard wide good quality do. half and sleve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 6p
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 6p each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three sleves
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mousselaine de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 6p
Excellent LINSEY, sleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 6ps
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 6ps
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Brocha do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 6p
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloths, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6p
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, sleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6p

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

AMUSEMENTS.

DANCING AND WALTZING.

PRIVATE TEACHING. Mr. W. H. GRIFFITH, of New York, respectfully announces to the ladies and gentlemen of Baltimore, that he is prepared to give lessons in the above accomplishment, and has taken a Room at No. 1 N. CALVERT-ST. Having formed a class, he wishes to inform those desirous of acquiring a knowledge of the same, that he will spare no pains in forwarding those who may favor him with their patronage, having taught several of the first families in New York, among whom were those of Aaron Clarke, esq., ex-mayor; Preserved Fish, esq. Pres't Tradesmen's Bank; Alderman Buring, &c.

☞ Young Ladies, Masters, and Misses, will be taught at their respective places of abode. All communications, addressed to W. H. G. will meet with immediate attention. d31 6t*

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE,
2d January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one of Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled 'The Playmates;' a plate of fashions, with three female figures beautifully colored; two pages of Music, and Angling illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER:

The Young Rambler, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Soldier's the Lot for Me, by A. McMakin.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Durang.
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Reefer of '76, by the author of 'Cruising in the Last War.'
Sabbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. Clark.
Thine—Only Thine. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. Feling.
Music. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by S. Nelson.

EMBELLISHMENTS:

'The 'Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞ Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city, and sent by mail to all parts of the United States and the Canadas, by the publisher.

Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
ja2 Baltimore, Md.

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of

HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,

For the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

☞ REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Cheston & Son, Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq. do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq. do.
James Hepburn, esq. do.
Christian Halderman, esq. Columbia.
Jacob M. Haldeman, esq. Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq. Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank, Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq. Cash. Girard do.
William S. Smith, esq Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq. Boston.
Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-d2wco2w*

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and this market, a splendid assortment of Rich SILK GOODS, consisting as follows—

1 case 4-4 Rich Glace Faconne, all colors
1 " do. Black and Blue Black Gro de Affrique
1 " do. Satin Striped and Figured Helencia
1 " do. Satin Stripe and Rept, all shades
1 " 4-4 Black and Blue Black Gro de Rhine
1 " Plain Gro de Swiss, all colors.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

Just opened—Extra super 9-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
" Very splendid Satin Glace Shawls, large
" 8-4 Usbeech SHAWLS
" 9-4 Broche do.
" 8-4 Thibet Wool do.

MOUSELIN DE LAINES.

One case Black Ground Mousselin de Laine, heavy
Colored Figured do. very superior quality
Half mourning Mousselin de Laine
Handsome assortment Plain and Figured do.
One case superior French MERINOS, all colors.

With a general assortment of New Style Fall Goods, to which they very respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER,
n13 43 Market-st., 4 doors above Gay.

BY ORDER of the Commissioners of Insolvent Debtors for the City and County of Baltimore, Notice is hereby given to the creditors of William Brown, an insolvent debtor, that a personal discharge hath been granted to the said debtor, and that the said creditors are required to attend at the office of the said Commissioners in the Court-house, in the city of Baltimore, on the 7th day of December next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and nominate a trustee or trustees, to be appointed for their benefit; and to give all the information in their possession to the said Commissioners, to enable them to report to Baltimore County Court, agreeably to an act of Assembly, passed at December session, 1831, entitled, An Act, relating to insolvent debtors;" and that the 7th day of February next hath been fixed for the final hearing in his case, before the said Commissioners. Dated the 6th day of October, in the year 1840. o10-law3m

TEN DOLLARS REWARD.

FLUTE LOST. A nine silver-keyed Cocoa Flute, with silver mountings, Ebenbrant's make. It was in a leather case, on which was marked "Alexander Falls, No. 3 Light st. wharf," and on the upper lip was engraved—"A. FALLS." The finder will receive $10, on leaving it at the Clipper office, or at the office of Alex. Falls, No. 3 Light street wharf.

N. B. Pawn-brokers and others are cautioned not to receive it. ja1-eo3t

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE, That the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court of Baltimore county, letters of administration on the personal estate of JOHN P. MEVERDIERCKS, late of said county, deceased. All persons, having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, on or before the 23d day of June, 1841, they may otherwise be excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons, indebted to the said estate, are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand, this 23d day of December, 1840.
d23-1aw4t BRANTZ MAYER, Adm'r.

SITUATION WANTED. A young lady wishes to obtain a situation in a Dry Goods or Fancy Store. She has been in the habit for some time past of attending a Fancy Goods Store, and is well acquainted with the business. Good reference can be given. Apply at this office. ja9-eo3t

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 Bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by
d19 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. d25

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 20 good white and colored COOKS to fill desirable places in different parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES and 2 NURSES. d25

SUPERIOR CHEWING TOBACCO, and Regalia, Havana, and Principe CIGARS—for sale by n13 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

LADY'S BOOK, for JANUARY, 1841.—Edited by Mrs. SARAH J. HALE, and Mrs. LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY. The only Work, intended for Ladies, that is edited by their own Sex. Miss E. LESLIE contributes to every Number.

CONTENTS—Original. The Pests di Pie di Gretta; Mr. and Mrs. Woodstridge, by Miss Leslie; Amecreontic Ballad, by Mr. C. R. Wilson, of London, England; Prayers at Sea, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney; False Pride, a Tale of Every Day Life, by Mrs. Mary W. Hale; The Fairy's Proffer, by Mrs. Annan, (late Miss A. M. F. Buchanan); An Incident during a Siege, by Mrs. Mary H. Parsons; Antonio Salvini, a Tale, by Mrs. E. F. Ellet; Childhood's Laugh, by Mrs. Seba Smith; A Life of Fashion, by Mrs. Emma C. Embury; Man's First Offering, by Mrs. S. J. Hale; The Parlor Serpent, by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz; To Wordsworth, written at Rydal Mount, by Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney; Ernestine, by Esther Wetherwald; Our Life is as a Shadow, by Miss Lois Bryan. Music—The Stranger's Heart—words by Mrs. Hemans—music by Miss Augusta Browne; A Singular Fact, by Mrs. M. M. Webster; The two Trees, by Caroline T. Orne; New Year's Eve; or, Amusements at Home, by Mrs. S. J. Hale. Editor's Table.

EMBELLISHMENTS. Neapolitan Peasants—the finest Plate of the season—engraved by A. L. Dick; Fashions, Colored—Female figure, with fashionable head dress and apron; Boy's Dress; Girl's out-door Dress; Girl's in-door Dress.

☞ Baltimore Publisher—WM. N. HARRISON, No. 28 N. Gay-st., and 74 Market-st. at J. MOORE'S Bookstore, one door below Holliday street.

TERMS—$2 per year, or 25 cents each number. Register your names to day, being a fine Christmas Gift.
d24

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing FITS, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞ Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains as aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by
jy28-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY.

(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland.)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Cases.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian, and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Doric Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SHINGLES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as good quality and as cheap as can be purchased at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.
d23-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

MARY[illegible] INSTITUTE.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 21st of [illegible] next, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Apparatus, is musical, Philosophical, and Astronomical [illegible] extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by Mr. J. C. ROBINSON. AUGUSTUS FREITAG, L. L. D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the Germans.

☞ Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or enter pupils, will receive every attention, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. BAXTER, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.
n5-tf J. R. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

WHY WILL YE SUFFER?

VERNACULAR TOOTH-ACHE REMEDY. A certain, safe, and speedy cure for that most agonizing of all pains. It never was known to fail where it could be applied, and the directions were followed. For testimonials, and details of its astonishing effects, see paper accompanying the remedy.

Price 25 cents per vial.

For sale by Smith & Atkinson, Market street, opposite Sharp; Hance, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Duhurst, corner Pratt street and Dugan's wharf; Parr & Grahame, corner Eutaw and Market streets; Balderston, corner Howard and Franklin sts. d29 2aftu*

CLOCKS! CLOCKS!!

THE subscribers have opened a Store at No. 34 S. CHARLES STREET, for the sale of their celebrated CLOCKS. They have now on hand, and are constantly receiving, large supplies from their manufactory in the city of New York, Brass and Wood Eight-day, One-day, and Alarm CLOCKS, of every variety of style, and of superior workmanship and finish, which they warrant and offer at wholesale to dealers, at their lowest factory prices.
ja1-1y SMITH & BROTHERS.

COTTON FACTORY—For Sale or Rent.

FOR Manufacturing Cotton WADDING & LAPS. The Machinery of the above Factory is propelled by a first rate Four horse Steam Engine. I will sell for cash, or on a liberal credit on approved endorsed notes. This is a rare chance for an industrious person with a small capital—the Factory is well established, and has a good run of customers—possession can be had in March. Inquire of T. W. BETTON, d29-tf No. 151½ Baltimore street.

MOTHERS, who have children suffering with cough or cold, should procure HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY. It is very pleasant, and Children do not object to it.
For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S SUPERIOR LILY WHITE.

THIS is the only article which has ever improved the most beautiful creatures in the world—to wit—the "Baltimore Ladies"—warranted not to injure the skin. SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

CASSIA AND CHAMPAGNE.

10

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

EXCHANGE AND MONEY MARKET, FOR JANUARY 4, 1841. Exchanges have been very inactive during the last week. We quote Exchange on New York, 1a¼ prem; on Philadelphia, 1a¼ disc; on Richmond, Petersburg, Norfolk, and Winchester, 1a1½ disc. The failure of the Franklin Bank has thrown a gloom upon the Money Market, which will not be dispelled for some time. The officers of the Bank, and a great many of those connected with the affairs of the Bank, hold out to the community that the institution is solvent, at least can pay every dollar of its circulation and deposits. It is hoped that it may be so, but how can a community so often chiselled and robbed rely upon the mere assurances of those interested in the affairs of the Bank. As far as can be learned, the circulation of the Bank consists of about $250,000, the debt of the Bank is computed at about $200,000, and the deposits probably as much more. Where are the funds to meet these liabilities? Let them be stated, and the public will rest more satisfied.

This day will truly be long remembered by the citizens of Baltimore. In addition to the failure of the Franklin Bank, the Tide Water Canal Company will not pay more than about 20 per ct. on their loan of $300,000, issued in Post Notes of the denomination of 50 and 100 dollars, which fall due to-day—they will renew the balance for the space of 6 and 12 months, issued in the same form. This will cause a great depreciation in the value of the new issue, which probably will be sold from 10 to 20 per cent. discount—it also will affect the currency of the company, which is actually down to 20 per cent. discount. The holders of the post notes are greatly exasperated against the officers of the company, who insured them, almost to the last, the full payment of the same—nay, went so far as to state publicly, that even for the currency an early provision should be made. O tempora! O mores!

Although it is thought by a great many, that a resumption of the Baltimore Banks will not take place, we are convinced to the contrary, notwithstanding there are those who doubt the solvency of other institutions in this city. They will, however, be hard run for specie, and probably will have to redeem every dollar of their outstanding circulation.

On Saturday, specie was very scarce at from 2 to 2½ per cent. premium.

BANK NOTE TABLE,

CORRECTED WEEKLY FOR BALTIMORE CLIPPER, BY H. WIGMAN, Exchange Broker, opposite Post Office

MONDAY, January 4, 1840.

MARYLAND.		MICHIGAN,	15 dis.
Baltimore Banks,	par	MASSACHUSETTS,
Annapolis,	¼ dis	CONNECTICUT,
Cumberland,	par	RHODE ISLAND,	par
Easton,	1 dis.	N. HAMPSHIRE,
Frederick,	par	VERMONT,
Hagerstown,	1 dis.	MAINE,
Mineral,	1½ dis.	VIRGINIA.
Salisbury,		Richmond,	1½ dis.
Westminster,	1 dis.	Petersburg,	1½
Williamsport,	1½ dis.	Norfolk,	1½
PENNSYLVANIA.		Winchester,	1½
United States Bank,	¼ dis.	" Valley,	1½
Brownsville,	2½	Danville,	1½
Chambersburg,	1	Romney,	1½
Columbia,	1	Charleston,	1½
Erie,	5	Wheeling, dem'd,	2
Gettysburg,	1	do Post Notes,	5½
Lancaster,	1
Lewistown,	1	Ohio,	5
Philadelphia,	¼	Kentucky,	5
Pittsburg,	2	Indiana,	5
Washington,	2½	Illinois,	5
Williamsport,	1	Missouri,	5
		N. Carolina,	2½
Delaware Banks,	1 dis.	S. Carolina,	2
Under $5's,	2	Georgia,	5 a
New Jersey Banks,	1	Alabama,	5 a
Under $5's,	2	Tennessee,	7
N. York State,	¼ dis. par	Mississippi,	25 a
N. York City,		Louisiana,	2

PRICES OF GOLD AND SILVER.

GOLD.		DOLLARS.
Doubloons, (Royal)	$16 50	Spanish,	$1 04
" (Patriot)	15 95	Mexican,	1 01
Sovereigns,	4 87½	Halves (American)
Eagles,	10 10	and Quarters,	1p.c

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2, 1841.

The weather to-day is charming, and the heavens as clear and bright as they were the first morning of creation. The sleighs are dashing along with their fair burdens in the gayest style, while the foot passengers look on and exclaim, "O, how beautiful!" In making the most of sleighing time the Washingtonians beat the yankees.

In the course of next month, wind and weather permitting, we are to have some extraordinary specimens of human skill. One man thinks he has discovered a mode by which the mail can be carried through the air, and if he takes the advice of his friends, he will give a specimen of the art by taking his maiden flight from the dome of the capitol. Should he attempt it, what hundreds would there be to see him break his neck. People will assemble to see any thing, however ridiculous. Were a man to announce that he would swallow his own head, I know plenty who would march off to see the performance. This reminds me of what a certain nobleman did in the reign of Charles 2d of England. Being desirous to see how far people would be gulled, he caused to be advertised that a Mr. Stevens, on a certain evening, at the Haymarket theatre, would get into a quart bottle before the whole audience. At the appointed time the theatre was crowded to excess, and some fears were entertained as to the propriety of carrying the joke so far. At length after much stamping and shouting, Stevens came on the stage, and politely announced his inability to perform on that evening; but added that if the audience would oblige him with their company, on that evening week, instead of entering a quart bottle as advertised, he would enter a pint bottle.

On Monday evening the hon. Joel R. Poinsett will deliver a lecture before the members of the National Institute, at the Baptist Church, in 10th street. The lecture will no doubt be highly interesting. The Buckeye Blacksmith lectured this evening at the log cabin. As you are neutral, I did not go in, but heard the sound of his hammer as I passed by. He must have a stout pair of lungs, of the same material as his apron probably.

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

M. H. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 62 S. CALVERT STREET, keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c. d23-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 37 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. d23-y

MARX H. HART, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d19-6m

D. OFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 43 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n18-3m*

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. n12-y WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se20-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se23-d

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 2 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. s4-y

MR. DAVISON'S WRITING ACADEMY, for instruction with the Muscular Guide, No. 41 Baltimore street. The plan recommended by the Maryland Institute of Teachers. se8-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. jy23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je16-6m*

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 112 BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. m26-y

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 39 Fayette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. m11-y1m*

MINIATURES, Painted in the best style, by MRS. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. mh13-y

COMPOUND SYRUP of HOREHOUND.

FOR the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Pain and Oppression of the Breast, and all Diseases arising from a disordered condition of the Lungs.

Perhaps there is no Medical Observation better established and none more generally confirmed by experience of the best Physicians of all ages in all countries, than the Fact, that many of the most difficult and incurable Consumptions originate in neglected colds. In a climate so variable as ours, where the changes of weather are frequently sudden and unexpected, it requires more care and attention to guard against this dangerous enemy to human life, than most persons are able and willing to bestow. The bills of mortality exhibit the alarming and melancholy fact, that the number of deaths by this disease are as five to one. Inasmuch then as this fatal disease is increasing, and spreading so widely and fearfully, and bidding defiance often to the combined skill of the most eminent physicians, it is a gratification to the subscriber to be enabled to offer to all of consumptive habits, or those afflicted with distressing pains in the side or breast, or any affection of the breast or lungs, a reasonable and almost certain prospect of relief.

The COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND is a medicine suitable to persons of all ages and sexes; and if taken on the appearance of the first symptoms, which are a COUGH or PAIN in the BREAST, will in nine cases out of ten afford relief, and effect a speedy cure.

Price 50 cents per bottle, Prepared and sold by SETH S. HANCE, corner of Charles and Pratt streets, Baltimore; and J. B. STANSBURY, Thames street, Fell's Point. d 12-y

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headaches; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma, Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as in Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞ A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.

Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.

Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.

Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. ROBY.

WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. ROBY having spent two years in practice with Dr G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call.

d12-6m H. N. ROBY.

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side; the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Hatlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. jy28-y

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞ None genuine without the name of COMSTOCK & Co., written on the wrappers.

SOLOMON HAYS.

☞ For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. n24-eo6m

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞ Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

se17-tf E. S. FEVER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

JOB PRINTING OFFICE,
No. 7 N. GAY STREET.

BULL & TUTTLE, practical JOB PRINTERS respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have removed their Printing Establishment to No. 7 N. GAY STREET, (three doors above their former office,) in the building recently occupied as the office of the Baltimore Chronicle, which has been fitted up in superior style, for the most extensive operations. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. &c. are of fashionable cast, to which they are adding every material, new in the art, in order to keep pace with the improvements of the times. They will print to order,

Cards, Ball Tickets,	Showbills in Colors,
Circulars, Checks,	Handbills, Waybills,
Notes, Bill-heads,	Steamboat Bills,
Bills of Lading,	Rail Road do.
Bills of Exchange,	Stage do.
Commercial Blanks,	Catalogues,
Custom house do.	Auction Bills,
Insurance Policies,	Election Tickets,
Lottery Bills,	Hatters' Tips.

Together with every description of FANCY JOB PRINTING, for framing.

Large Posting Bills for Theatres, &c.

Particular attention paid to the getting up of Large Posting Bills of every kind, for Theatres, Circuses, Shows, &c., for which purpose an assortment of the MOST FASHIONABLE LARGE WOOD TYPE has been laid in, without regard to expense.

Magistrates' Blanks.

Always on hand for sale, a full assortment of those Magistrates' Blanks which have given such universal satisfaction to all who have used them.

Small Notes,

For Corporations, Private Individuals, Country Merchants, Tavern Keepers, Public Institutions, &c. &c. printed to order at the shortest notice. Having printed many thousands of small notes during the late and present suspension, with entire satisfaction, they flatter themselves that with the addition of a variety of new cut vignettes, flowers and borders, with dies cast expressly for their own use, they feel induced to say that all orders in this department shall be warranted to please. Orders from a distance promptly attended to, and prices as low as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

☞ B. & T. would take this opportunity of returning thanks for the very liberal patronage extended to them, and beg leave to assure their friends that the same personal attention, as heretofore, will be paid to the execution of all orders in their business, and at the same reasonable prices. ap20-tf

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That at their regular annual session, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore will be petitioned for an extension and location of Lee-st, from Eutaw west to Scott-st., and of Scott-st. from Cross st. south to the Patapsco, and of Ostend st. from S. Sharp west to the portwarden's line, and within the limits of these streets thus extended and as now located or opened, and within other limits, all of which are described as follows: the Patapsco on the south, thence along Ostend-street to Hanover-st, along Hanover to Little Montgomery st., along Little Montgomery to Eutaw street, along Eutaw to Lee street, along Lee to Scott street, along Scott to the Patapsco; the petitioners will pray that every street, lane, alley or road, except south Sharp-street, whether each be merely located, or be condemned and opened as a highway, may be forever closed and shut up—also, that Little Montgomery-st. from Sharp to Eutaw be shut up; also that south of Ostend-st. and west of Race that Leadenhall and S. Sharp st. and the two alleys running parallel therewith be shut up. And the petitioners will pray further, that the streets named in the following description be extended, and be located as the other unopened streets of the city generally are, to wit: S. Sharp st. from Little Montgomery south to Ostend, Howard from Hill S. to Moale-st., Eutaw from Little Montgomery south to Moale, Paca from Little Para south to the wharf, Greene from Columbia south to the wharf, Sterret from Columbia south to the river, and that between Green and Sterret, two other streets be located, one at one third and the other at two thirds of the distance from Greene to Sterret st. and that each begin at Lee-st. and be run south to the river; also that an alley 20 feet wide be located between Hanover and Sharp street, and between every two of the streets, to be run north and south; also that Hill-st. be extended and located from Howard west to Scott street, Great Montgomery & Henrietta from Hanover west to Scott, Hamburg and West from S. Charles west to Scott, and Cross from Light-st. west to Scott. It is intended that Howard street be extended 82 feet wide, Eutaw 82 feet, with five squares near the river, 134 feet wide, for a market place, Lee and Hill-sts. 70 feet, and every other street 66 feet wide. n17-3aw9w*

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscriber respectfully informs the Ladies and Gentlemen of Baltimore and its vicinity, that he may be found at his office, No. 4 NORTH STREET, next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION. His Charts are carefully designed—and, from his long experience and extensive practice, a correct delineation of character may be confidently expected. Phrenological Books, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale. E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist. d29-y1m*

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slat-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-dtf A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

3 The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having defied the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO. No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-streets, on the corner of Uhler's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 3 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Drug Store, Washington City; E. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.

Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. o31-tf

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HAND BILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.

SETH S. HANCE,
d 13-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d 13-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

ELEGANT INCORRUPTIBLE

AFTER YEARS of incessant toil and endless experiments, I have succeeded in producing most splendid specimens of INCORRUPTIBLE MINERAL TEETH. They possess an exact resemblance to sound human teeth—and, being incapable of either discoloration or corrosion, forever retain their color and purity in the mouth.

These elegant Teeth are inserted from a single tooth to complete sets of twenty-eight, and the extremely accurate and delicate manner of adapting them to the mouth, renders them highly useful in restoring mastication and utterance. Having in process of manufacture upwards of 12,000 of these Teeth, embracing every imaginable variety of shade, size, and shape, I can match the contiguous systemic teeth with such nicety as to set at defiance the scrutiny of the most observant.

The recent discovery of a valuable mineral production, has rendered the manufacture of these teeth so much less expensive and tedious, that I am enabled to make a very great reduction on the charges usually exacted, and in a style nowayes inferior to any in the profession. Decayed Teeth permanently PLUGGED with Pure Gold. EXTRACTING, FILING or SEPARATING, CLEANSING, &c. &c.

☞ Irregularities in children's teeth rendered perfectly symetrical. Gold PALATES accurately adapted, so as completely to restore articulation.

TOOTH-ACHE! TOOTH-ACHE!!

☞ Sufferers by this distressing malady, find instantaneous relief by applying for my "TOOTH-ACHE REMEDY." The ingredients of which this valuable preparation is composed, are of such a nature as not to injure the sound teeth. In very few cases has this remedy been known to fail; should a failure occur, extraction will be performed without charge.

☞ Price of the Remedy—50 cents per phial.

J. H. WILCOCK, M. D., Dental Surgeon,
No. 39 Fayette st., near the Post Office.

N. B. Teeth extracted at any hour of the day or night. o2-mwe3m

CITY INTELLIGENCE,

REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE, N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Porters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to EMPLOY any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

☞ Office open from 7 A. M. until 8 P. M.

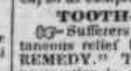
The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., H. W. BOOT, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N. B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. [A] o22

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,



Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosankrantz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophicleydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap18-1y

B. G. HUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. a15-eo6m

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction; the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞ Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞ The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST,

o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival. For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

And in Washington City, by

CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.

☞ With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

MARYLAND STATE Six per cent. STOCK, in sums to suit purchasers—For sale by n13 E. W. ROBINSON, 80 Baltimore-st.

CONSUMPTION,
COUGHS AND COLDS,
Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough,
Diseases of the Lungs and Windpipe

FOR THE CURE of the above named dis... COVERT'S BALM OF LIFE is believed ... the safest and most efficient remedy now before ... public. It has also proved itself a superior remedy ... the DYSPEPSIA and LIVER COMPLAINT, in ... its various forms.

Numerous testimonials of the highest respectability from physicians who have been made acquainted with its ingredients, as well as from Clergymen and others, who have experienced the effects of the medicine, may be seen by application to any of the agents for circulars, which will be furnished gratis.

From the Boston Medical Journal of 29th Sep. 1840.

The following is an extract from an article in that paper on "Morbus Laryngeus Concionatorum," or Bronchitis, by Frank H. Hamilton, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica and General Pathology in Geneva Medical College.

"The Rev. I. Covert's Mixture, also now used so extensively for this affection by clergymen, belongs to the same class of stimulating expectorants, being one of those lucky combinations of medical agents which, while it promotes expectoration, does not impair the tone of the stomach. Of this medicine, we feel at liberty to speak, since its composition is not held from the Profession, and we hope the proprietors will soon see fit to give it to the public. We venture to recommend it therefore, having employed it in our own case, and in the cases of many others with decided benefit.

From the "Auburn Conference and Family Recorder" of September 4, 1839.

"Covert's Balm bids fair to rank among the first of specifics for most cases of Pulmonary Disease. From having tested its salutary tendency, and more especially from the knowledge that it has won the confidence and received the commendations of many highly respectable medical gentleman, some of whom are well known as the ornaments of their profession, we have no hesitation in speaking well of it. We have reason to believe that it is employed in the practice of some of the most scientific and judicious of the physicians of this place. The Rev. Mr. Covert, the inventor and proprietor of this valuable Medicine, is a respectable local minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this place." For sale in Baltimore by

ROBERTS & ATKINSON.
n27-eo1m DR. DAVIS.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS, AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by

SAM'L CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

Washington City, by

W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.

In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM. oc9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS,)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10	cases	do	do	Cap	PAPER
15	do	Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter			PAPER
5	do	do	do	do	Cap do
4	do	do	do	do	Folio post do
20	do	Hudson's	do	do	Letter do
15	do	do	do	do	Cap do
10	do	do	do	do	Flat Cap do
8	do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super royal		WRITING PAPER
12	do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter			do
6	do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2	do	do	Super Flat Cap
12	do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5	do	Dickey and Leyste's	do	do
10	do	Platner & Smith's	do	do
4	do	do	Folio and Packet Post
15	do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2	do	do	Ledger PAPERS
20	do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter

9000 reams NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2000 do Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300 do Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞ Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Band Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELFER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the most work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP
WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 70 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received, a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞ All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT H. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
se10-6m No. 12 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $2000. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to GEORGE GELBACH, d21 [A] Real Estate and General Agency Office, corner B. W. & Frederick sts.

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rochester White Wheat FLOUR
50 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs. Zante CURRANTS.

Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by

n13 tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

BUFFALO OVER-SHOES. Ladies just received per brig Boston, for sale by

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
d17 No. 2 South Charles street.

12,000 Lbs. 12 inch RANGING, and 12 inch lathing from hele Almeda, for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE, n28 No. 2 S. Charles-st.

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞ COUNTRY SUBSCRIBERS can receive the paper, by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square 1 time,	$0 50	1 square 1 month,	$4 00
1 do. 2 times,	75	1 do. 2 months,	7 00
1 do. 3 do.	1 00	1 do. 3 do.	10 00
1 do. 1 week,	1 75	1 do. 6 do.	16 00
1 do. 2 weeks,	2 75	1 do. 1 year,	30 00

☞ Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.

VOL. III. NO. 96.] TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 5, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

JOB PRINTING,
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

THE proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enancelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞ Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

CHRISTMAS TIME.

Account of a Visit from St. Nicholas or Santa Claus.

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all thro' the house
Not a creature was stirring—not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In the hope that St. Nicholas soon would be there.
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar plums danced in their heads.
And Mamma in her 'kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap;
When out on the lawn there rose such a clatter,
I sprang from the bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash,
The moon on the breast of the new fallen snow,
Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below;
When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh, and eight tiny rein deer.
With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name;
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now Prancer! now, Vixen,
On Comet, on Cupid, on Dunder and Blixen,
To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!
Now dash away! dash away! dash away all!
As dry leaves before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So up to the house top the coursers they flew,
With the sleigh full of Toys—and St. Nicholas too.
And then in a twinkling, I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof
As I drew in my head, and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound,
He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot;
A bundle of toys was flung on his back,
And he looked like a pedlar just opening his pack;
His eyes—how they twinkled! his dimples how merry,
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry;
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow,
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath;
He had a broad face and a little round belly,
That shook, when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly.
He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed, when I saw him, in spite of myself,
A wink of his eye, and a twist of his head,
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread;
He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And filled all his stockings—then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle;
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight,
"Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night."

MAYOR'S MESSAGE.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
BALTIMORE, Jan. 4, 1840.

Gentlemen of the First and Second Branches of the City Council:

The charter imposes upon the Executive the duty of laying before you whatever of interest that concerns the city, in relation to its Finances, Receipts and Expenditures of money, Police and Health for the past year, and to recommend such measures as are thought necessary for the future.

I may be permitted to congratulate you on the favorable auspices under which you meet. The whirlwind of passion and excitement that pervaded every section of our wide extended country the last year, of which our city had its full share, has measurably passed away, the public mind is fast settling down to the sober realities of life, reason is again happily exercising its controlling influence over men's actions; and with the manifold blessings bestowed upon us as a people, by an all-wise and good Providence, it will be our fault if we do not realize them to the fullest extent. The responsibility is great upon those who assume the duties of legislators.

Your early attention is called to the division of the city into fourteen wards. An act of the General Assembly of Maryland, relating to the city of Baltimore, December session, 1817, chap. 148, requires that when the number of inhabitants shall amount to ninety thousand, the city shall be divided into fourteen wards. It rests with the Councils to say in what manner it shall be done, whether by a committee of their own body, or by a board of commissioners appointed specially for the purpose.

To aid in making the division, the following table containing the population of each ward is given:—

1st Ward	7,491	7th Ward	6,242
2d do.	7,393	8th do.	9,640
3d do.	10,104	9th do.	7,337
4th do.	8,611	10th do.	9,592
5th do.	8,212	11th do.	9,521
6th do.	6,715	12th do.	11,655

Total population of the city is..... 102,513

A statement made for me by the present Collector exhibits the following result of the collection of city taxes for the last year, up to December 22d:—

Taxes, 1839, collected.....	$148,216 06
" 1840, "	84,578 49

which leaves a balance uncollected of the taxes for the year of seventy odd thousand dollars, and of the taxes of 1840, about three hundred and forty six thousand dollars.

Taxes 1839 uncollected, say.....	$70,000 00
" 1840 " "	346,000 00
Total arrearages uncollected of taxes of 1839 and 1840 is.....	$416,000 00

It is very evident that some more summary process must be adopted in the collection of taxes than that heretofore pursued, or else the City will be compelled to dishonor its obligations from the inability to meet the demands upon the Treasury. The only reliance is upon the taxes. The borrowing of money to pay interest, or any of the demands upon the treasury, with the present heavy indebtedness of the city, is, I should say, entirely out of the question. The fault is not altogether with the collector that the taxes are not more promptly paid. If he were to use all the power the law gives him it would still be a slow process to force them in. The very numerous list of payers, even if he were to attempt to distrain on all who are remiss or backward in paying, (and that is the only power given him but could prudently be used,) it would require a long time to close up, especially when we take into consideration the many false promises, made to distraint, and the unfortunate willingness of the collector to rely on them. Another difficulty in the disposition to delay the ownership of property at valuable lots with small and trifling sales, (the goods of the whole tenantry [illegible] thus market under distress for taxes would not pay the officers' fees.) There is also a large amount of insolvent persons' property in the hands of Trustees. Also mortgaged property abandoned by the original owners; which is very difficult to find an owner for willing to pay the taxes on it. Under the present law it requires time and patience. To sue for the taxes on this character of property is out of the question, so uncertain is it to know whom to sue. There is one way, and only one, to make your taxes available within the year in which the levy is made.

You must give the Collector the same authority that he now has for the opening of streets.—Make it obligatory on him to deliver his tax bills on or before the first day of July in the year in which the levy is made. Let notice be on the bills, and also notice through the public papers to all who have taxes to pay, that unless they are paid on or before the first day of October in the same year, the property will be advertised at thirty days' notice, and if not then paid, cost and taxes, it will be sold to the highest bidder for cash.

It may be made subject to redemption in two years as is now the law when sold under judgement for taxes by paying all costs and charges, and twenty per cent. per annum to the purchaser for the use of his money, as is now the law for opening Streets, sold clear of all incumbrances and a clear title given. By referring to page 374, revised Ordinances you will find the law.

Some may suppose that it would be exceedingly difficult to enforce such a law; that it would be very severe on the poorer classes of tax payers. I do not think so. I believe it would be much better for them than the present mode. The taxes, all know, must be paid, and when once in the habit of paying every year it will be much easier for them, than when they permit some two or three years to run together. Its tendency will be to prevent the taxes from increasing, as it will at once do away the necessity of borrowing to pay interest on borrowed money. It will also prevent great injustice to those who are in the habit of paying their taxes promptly.

These suggestions are given to the Council with the firm conviction that the alternative is, either to resort to some such summary process for the collection of the taxes, or to suffer the credit of the City to be impaired. The latter cannot be thought of for a moment. (In the year 1837 as much money was collected for street opening, as for City taxes, without the twentieth part of the complaints.)

The health of the city the past year has been exceedingly good. We have just cause of gratitude to him who rules and governs the destinies of man, in preserving us free from any character of contagious diseases. The number of interments for the past year was 2,236, (being less than the preceding year by 195,) making about two per cent. of the whole population, including strangers. Taking into consideration the mixed population that belongs to a large sea port town, it exhibits an exemption from fatal disease unparalleled. We may, indeed and in truth, say our lot has been cast in pleasant places.

The present organization of the Health Department, from all the information furnished me, has failed to answer the expectations of those who were friendly to the change. The former organization gave much more efficiency in the execution of the laws relating to the department. The multifarious duties imposed upon the Health officers are such, that it can hardly be expected of a Physician suited to be placed at the head of the board, would attend to them, to the satisfaction of the public. The former system, with the Health Officer as consulting Physician, would be less expensive, and afford greater security to the health of the City. For any further information, I refer you to the Annual Report of the Commissioners of Health.

The receipts of the Register for the past year amount to $1,205,359 35, his expenditures to $1,203,457 72, leaving a balance in the Treasury on the 31st day of December, of $1,901 63.

The present stock debt of the City amounts to $4,680,870 89 of the following character. See exhibit as furnished by the Register.

City Register's exhibit of the City Stock Debt issued 31st December, 1840.

Amount of Stock.	Rate of Int.	When redem.
31,862 30	6 per cent.	1838
25,000 00	do	1843
193,208 46	do	at pleasure.
164,454 18	do	1860
856,940 89	do	1870
2,315,929 45	do	1890
80,868 09	5 per cent.	1838
44,651 63	do	1840
334,755 89	do	1845
265,000 00	do	1860
250,000 00	do	1870
11,700 00	do	Irredeemable & not transferable.
106,500 00	do	Court House stock 1855 and 1860.
4,680,870 89

Amount of the City Stock Debt held by Commissioners of Finance.

6 per cent Stock		$45,152 14
5 do do	do	57,151 68
5 do do	do Court House	3,403 16
		$105,706 98
5 do do	do on act. of Sink'g Fund	4,001 63
Total amount,		$109,708 61

The Commissioners of Finance have also in their hands, State Stock belonging to the City, to the amount of $206,868 06

The Commissioners of Finance have also in their hands, $26,680 64

I have received reports from the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Road Company, and the Baltimore and Susquehanna Rail Road Company. The City having a very large amount of money invested in both works, and the very general interest felt by the community in their success, the Councils should be fully acquainted with their proceedings. The reports are submitted for your inspection. The City has also a large amount invested in the Tide Water Canal Company, from which I have received no report.

I respectfully suggest to the Councils the propriety of establishing a permanent Board of Commissioners for the opening of streets. It would impose no charge upon the City Treasury, but would lessen much the expense incurred by the present mode. Having often to select men unacquainted with the duties required of Commissioners, much delay as well as great injustice is done to the parties interested. It should be imposed on them the duty of having the streets opened after the assessments have been paid.—Now it is nobody's duty. Much complaint has arisen from this very cause.

Through the kindness of Wm. Frick, Esq. Collector of the Port of Baltimore, I have been furnished with the following statements of imports, exports, vessels from foreign ports, and vessels built in Baltimore:—

Imports.

In American vessels,	$4,282,755
" Foreign do.	552,862
	$4,835,617

Exports.

Value of Domestic productions In American vessels,	4,098,139
" Foreign do	1,396,881
Total value of Domestic exports,	5,495,020
Of Foreign products in American vessels,	210,810
do. do. in Foreign vessels,	51,040
Total value of exports,	$5,756,870

Vessels arriving from Fo'n Pts, 410—Tons 82,000
do. departing to do. do. 461— do. 93,254
do. entering coastwise, 826

Vessels built in Baltimore—3 ships, 1 barque, 11 brigs, 43 schooners, 1 sloop and 1 steamboat, in all 60 vessels—tons 8,558.

The statement shows a very large falling off in imports with a considerable increase of exports. Although looked to by many as an evidence of the business done in the city, it is in fact but a small part of it.

I have been at some pains to get the amount of goods sold in Baltimore, by our enterprising Merchants, and business men, not imported into the Port of Baltimore.

Foreign goods sold here, imported into other cities,	$7,000,000
Domestic Dry Goods manufactured out of Maryland,	7,400,000
Boots, Shoes, Hats, Hardware, &c.	4,000,000
	$18,400,000

Making eighteen million four hundred thousand dollars, four times as much as all our imports from abroad.

This is a matter of serious reflection for our manufacturers and enterprising mechanics. Why should Maryland send annually $18,400,000 to other places to purchase goods to supply her customers? The profit on product alone, would more than pay all the taxes of the state and city, independent of the very large amount that would be disbursed among us, to aid in building up the prosperity of our city and state. We have more natural advantages, probably, than any other city in the Union for manufacturing. A healthy location—great water power, the communications now opened and others in progress of completion to the coal regions of the interior. Coal will be in the greatest abundance in our market, and at the cheapest rate.

We have the staple products of the grain growing countries cheap and abundant. Equidistant between the north and south, the great facility of intercourse with the interior and the great west, nothing could stay our onward course to prosperity, if we would use to advantage the means placed within our reach by a kind Providence.

INSPECTIONS DURING THE YEAR 1840.

Wheat Flour, barrels,	736,479
Do. do half barrels,	30,515
Rye do. barrels	5,816
Corn meal, hogsheads,	1,264
Do. bbls.	12,593
Do. half bbls.	83
Oat Meal, bbls.	50
Total,	786,802

An increase of 203,216 bbls. and half bbls. over last year.

Tobacco, hhds.	40,608
increase over last year, 12,497 hhds.
Beef and Pork—
Baltimore packed Beef, bbls.	8,252
Do. do. do. half bbls.	410
Foreign do. do. bbls.	696
Baltimore packed pork, do.	999
Do. do do half do.	1
Foreign do do	6,345
Total bbls and half bbls.	16,703

Butter and Lard—

	stands.	half bbls.	bbls.	kegs	Total.
Butter,	124	174	156	15,996	16,453
Lard,	68	146	1083	20,066	21,363
Total Butter and Lard,					37,816

Beef Cattle and Hogs—

Number of Beef Cattle,	11,982	wt.	11,300,233
Do. hogs,	17,245	do	3,795,956
	29,127 head,		15,096,179

Increase over last year, 21,329 head, or 11,262,808 weight.

Quercitron bark,	hhds. 1228
Lumber,	feet 32,000,000
Sole leather and rough skirting, sides,	201,587
Charcoal—1136 loads,	104,339 bushels.
Lime,	176,286 do.
Fire Wood,	155,193 cords.

Salted Fish, various kinds, bbls. and half bbls. 89,636.

Domestic Liquors—hhds and bbls. say 81,788 Staves and heading—white oak, hhds and bbls 479,816—red oak do. 1,102,105—total, 1,508,021 pieces.

New houses built during the year, 457.

Hay and Straw weighed during the year, 6,400 tons.

The necessity of having a House of Industry and Correction for the reclaiming of Juvenile Delinquents having so often and so forcibly been brought to your notice, leaves nothing to be added by me, except to concur fully in all that has been said in favor of it.

The Police Department, with a very inadequate number of men attached to it, have done as much as could be expected of them. The city has been entirely exempt from any serious outbreaks or formidable combinations to disturb the public peace, except one immediately succeeding the Presidential election. From the strong and decisive expressions of all good citizens at the time against such conduct, the lawless disposed were soon made sensible of their folly and madness. As a consequence order was soon restored. And to guard against any attempts in future, it may be well to apprise them that no clemency will be shown, but the utmost rigor of the law will be enforced. The new division of the wards will require two additional police officers.

I have felt much the necessity of the city having a fiscal year, which should end on the 30th of November. Now the reports of the different departments are not made and presented to the Executive until the day made incumbent by the charter to present his annual communication to the Council, so that much matter of interest which ought to accompany his annual communication is left out. The modification of ordinances or the recommending of additional legislation, so as to enable the departments to execute the duties required of them, is entirely overlooked, from the absolute impossibility of knowing what is necessary or proper to recommend under the present system.

The Public School Commissioners have not made their report to me, consequently I am unable to give any account in detail of what has been done by them, except from general reports and some little personal observation. All that I have seen or heard gives the satisfactory assurance that the Public Schools are progressing to the highest state of prosperity. Nothing can afford greater satisfaction to an enlightened community, than the knowledge that through the munificence of the City Council, aided as they have been in their praiseworthy efforts, by patriotic and public spirited individuals, education has been placed within the reach of every one, however humble or poor he may be. What a triumph for modern civilization over ancient darkness and false philosophy. Then, the height of patriotism was national aggrandizement to feed the body, now to feed the mind; aliment for the mind is as absolutely necessary as for the body. Our happy system of Government depends for support entirely upon intelligence and virtue. All, from the highest to the lowest, are immediate active agents in carrying it on, so that with us, universal education, combined with moral instruction, constitute our only security. It is the foundation and the superstructure.

In taking a general review of our city, we have much to felicitate ourselves on. The past gives cheering hope for the future.

The very great efforts making by the temperance reformers have been beneficially felt already and give promise of much greater good in future.

Religion and strict moral instruction are exerting a powerful influence over both the young and the old. Literary and scientific societies are laudably ambitious of rivalling each other in the spreading of light and knowledge before the people. Lyceums have sprung up in every section of the town, inviting young men from the haunts of vice and wickedness to rational enjoyment, by the improvement of the mind. Much is due the public press for the able and efficient aid afforded in carrying on the great moral work of reform. To these combined causes we owe much of our healthy and orderly condition the past year. Less reliance upon law and more upon moral influence will give much greater security to the community.

The only cause for serious reflection is our financial condition. This, I am sorry to say, holds out no flattering prospects for the future. The heavy indebtedness of the city to pay the annual interest on it, will require a very burthensome tax upon the personal and real property of the city, amounting probably to one and one-fourth per cent. upon the full value. To bear up under it will require all our fortitude. The present debt of the city amounts to $4,680,870 89, including the amount of stock in the hands of the Commissioners of Finance. We are also liable to be called on this year for the balance of subscription to the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Company of $1,000,000, which will make the whole city debt $5,680,870 89. The city is also incumbered with at least one third of the state debt, for which we are liable to be taxed, amounting to $5,115,333. This, with our own, will make the whole amount of debt $10,796,203 89, for which the property here is liable to be taxed.

Assuming the assessment of property to be $50,000,000, and the interest on the debt at 6 per cent., it would require a tax of $647,772 23 to pay the interest alone. And the amount required for other purposes, such as Alms House, City Court, County and School tax, with other necessary claims upon the treasury, it will require at least $200,000 more, making in all $847,722 23, near one and three-fourths per cent. on assessment to be annually paid.

If paving and re-paving and opening of streets were included, it would make more than two per cent. upon the whole property of the city, both real and personal, to be paid annually.

I thought it best to present our financial condition in as strong a light as possible. It is better to look the evil in the face—to see it in all its worst features so as to be able to apply the proper remedy. We have voluntarily incurred the obligations, and justice demands the payment.

By proper economy: to make no appropriations but such as are absolutely required for the public weal; create no more debt; cause your taxes to be collected promptly. The prospect of a return from some of the city investments, the many revenues by Rail Roads and Canals leading into the interior of the country, inviting to active exertions our merchants and business men; the great abundance of produce to come to market; the prospect of a profitable business in future; the rapid increase of wealth and population as a consequence; give hope of a better state of things in future.

I refer you to the reports of the different departments for matters of detail relating to their respective offices. Any thing of interest will freely be communicated to you should it occur.

I remain, very respectfully, your obedient, humble servant,

SAMUEL BRADY, Mayor.

Messrs. T. F. Marshall, and Henry Clay, Jr. are announced as candidates for Congress from the Fayette congressional district Kentucky. It is understood that Samuel Hanson, Esq. the Senator from Clark is also spoken of and will probably be a candidate.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Wanted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by Dr. HITZELBERGER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $5!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

Dr. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of 10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $5. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. e3-y1m*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.

DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND, For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabets or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the uretha of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure; composed solely of vegetable substance? One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N. B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of T. J. PITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Briton and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞ For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue. And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL. dec5-y

A BLESSING TO ALL MANKIND.

The VEGETABLE FLUID SYRUP, or Mercurial Extractor. This infallible Syrup is the discovery of an old veteran and hero of the vegetable kingdom; from his long research, his labors have been crowned with the glorious result of a positive remedy for the bad effects of that poisonous drug (Mercury,) and while it has this new efficacious effect upon the bones affected with mercury, it at the same time purifies the blood from the remnants of Venereal Disease, Scrofulous Affections, Splotches and Eruptions upon the Skin, old standing indolent Ulcers, &c.

For sale, wholesale, and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO., No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-sts., on the corner of Uhler's alley; and at the General Agency Office, No. 3 Pitt street, Baltimore. Also, at WM. LANPHIER'S Drug Store, Washington, D. C. o31

LUMBER! LUMBER!! LUMBER!!!

THE Subscriber offers to his friends and the public in general, at his Lumber Yard on the Falls, below Pratt street Bridge, (office head Union Dock,) a large and general assortment of Seasoned LUMBER—such as Pannel, Common, Select Cullings, Joist, Rafters, Shingles, Laths, N. Carolina and E. S. Flooring, with every other article necessary to make a good assortment. A quantity of Ark Logs, and also Ash Plank, will be sold at reduced prices, as I have a large quantity on hand. All those who buy for cash, may expect a liberal discount.

je25-d D. E. THOMAS.

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!

THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor DECATUR,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.

HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.

☞ Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!

AN AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 24 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Coal-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 100,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and uncut, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put in the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞ Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.

je18-d HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.

mh3-dtf HOPE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.

THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.

s2-dtf G. W PEARCE.

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

TUESDAY MORNING, Jan. 5, 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE. This document was delivered yesterday afternoon to both branches of the City Council, and will be found on the first page of our paper this morning.

FRANKLIN BANK. One of the most marvellous events of the day is, the determination of the President and Directors to wind up and close the concerns of this institution. From all that we can learn, this measure was adopted in haste, and without absolute necessity. From the publication of the President and Directors, it seems that the resolution was taken in consequence of a transaction with the Mechanics' Bank; and, if what we hear stated be true, this affair could have been amicably and satisfactorily adjusted, had not folly and passion prevailed over reflection and common sense. The sum about which the difficulty arose was absolutely insignificant, and we feel confident that, had the matter been permitted to rest until the Directors of the two institutions could have been consulted, the fatal step would have been averted. But taken in haste, it will be repented of at leisure. It has given a shock to public confidence that will not be easily overcome—and thus the imprudence of one or two persons will vitally affect the interests of a whole community. We are assured that the Franklin Bank was in a better condition at the time of this occurrence than it had been for months past—that it was preparing to resume specie payments simultaneously with the other banks, and that it could have continued its business with fair prospects of success. Under such circumstances, we cannot perceive the justice or propriety of the sudden resolution which discredited its circulation, and thus produced the existing wide-spread calamity. Nay, we incline to the opinion, that the credit of the bank could yet be regained, and the necessity of the measure proposed by the President and Directors be obviated, were the co-operation of the other banks secured, and a candid statement of the cause of its adoption given to the public.—We presume that, if the publication made by the President and Directors be true, (which we have no reason to doubt,) the resources of the bank would be sufficient to afford other institutions ample indemnity for any aid they might give—and, if so, the other banks have a deep interest in affording their assistance.

The Franklin is one of the oldest banks of the city—has enjoyed as much of public confidence, and was supposed to have been generally as well managed as other institutions of the kind. We believe that there was a greater amount of money invested in the stock of this bank, in proportion to its capital, for the use of widows and orphans, than in any other existing bank of the city; and yet its doors are suddenly and precipitately closed, and the innocent and the helpless involved in ruin upon the most insignificant and contemptible ground, if we are rightly informed. The loss consequent upon this ill-judged, and most inopportune movement, (if any,) must fall upon the stockholders. Depositors and note holders will unquestionably be paid the full amount of their claims, if they can await the final settlement of the concern. At least such is our conviction, founded upon the information we have received. We therefore advise such claimants not rashly to make a sacrifice.

If no measures be taken to resuscitate the bank forthwith, the subject will, no doubt, be taken into consideration by the stockholders at their meeting next month. In the meantime, it is probable that the matter of banks and banking will undergo investigation by the legislature.

Messrs. Hooper & Co. the manufacturers of the great chandelier which lately fell in the Hall of the House of Representatives, have addressed a letter to the editor of the Providence Journal, in which they state that the weight of the chandelier was less than 1700 pounds, [less than one-fourth of its reputed weight,] and that the chain had been tested by a dead weight of 4200 pounds, which was considered to be but half of what it was capable of supporting.

ERASING AN ENDORSEMENT IS FORGERY. The Supreme Court of Ohio decided, recently, that an endorsement on a note purporting that a partial payment had been made, and which endorsement was written by the maker in the presence, with the concurrence, and by the direction of the payee, is a receipt, the alteration or erasure of which by the payee will be forgery.

FROZEN TO DEATH. An inquest was held on Sunday evening by W. T. Rice, esq., on the body of a negro man, named Daniel Thomas, aged about 35 years. It seems that Thomas was an intemperate man, he came home to his dwelling in Conway-st. intoxicated, went up stairs and laid down in the garret, the windows of which were open—he consequently froze to death. The verdict of the jury was intemperance and exposure.

☞ Yesterday afternoon a horse with a sleigh attached to him came dashing in North street full force, and when turning the corner of Market the sleigh upset, shattering it to atoms. We did not learn that any further damage was done.

☞ A bill has passed the council of St. Louis authorizing gas light to be introduced into that city.

LOTTERIES. It seems that D. S. Gregory & Co., lottery contractors, interpose obstacles to the sale of tickets in the Town Hall Lottery, by the venders of tickets in Baltimore. This is a fitting occasion for comment on the mode in which the lottery business has been conducted in this state for years past. There are annually appointed three lottery commissioners, to whom liberal salaries are given, and who, we believe, are also allowed a clerk. The entire privilege of drawing lotteries granted by the state, prior to the Town Hall Lottery, has been sold, or is annually contracted for, by Gregory & Co. for the sum of $20,000 or thereabout. This purchase, we believe, includes the right to dispose of a limited number of licences to sub-agents. The total amount of revenue derived to the state from lotteries and licences is about $25,000 per annum, from which is to be deducted the salaries of commissioners and clerk, and other expenses; leaving about $20,000. The duty discharged by the three commissioners and their clerk is so trifling, that their offices may be considered as the next thing to sinecures—it could be performed by one person without difficulty. But this is not the most formidable objection to the lottery business as conducted by Gregory & Co. The intention, and we think the express language, of the several laws authorising lotteries, is, that no greater sum than fifteen per cent. shall be deducted from the adventurers. Do the contractors comply with this requisition? We answer they do not. It is true they deduct but fifteen per cent. from the prizes—but they take twenty per cent. at least, additional, indirectly, thus: say that a lottery consists of 20,000 tickets at $10; the gross amount of prizes should be $200,000, and the gain of the lottery at 15 per cent. $30,000. This is the old and the honest method of drawing lotteries, and the mode contemplated by law. But now, instead of distributing in prizes the gross sum for which the tickets are sold, they put in the wheel only $160,000 of the above $200,000—thus taking from adventurers 20 per cent. in the price of tickets, and subsequently 15 per cent. from any prizes they may draw.

If we must resort to lotteries as a source of revenue, the legislature should at least guard the community, as far as practicable, from imposition. Nor can we see why it is necessary that the whole lottery business of the nation should be concentrated in the hands of Gregory & Co. or any other firm. There are certainly individuals in Maryland who would be willing to contract for the lottery grants of this state, upon terms equally as favorable as those obtained from the present contractors, and disposed to conduct the business upon just and fair principles.

We hope that the committee on lotteries in the legislature will take this subject into consideration—and that the state will not consent to practice upon the advice said to have been given by a father to his son—"Get money, honestly, if you can—but, get money." If the grants cannot be withdrawn, the mode of drawing can be regulated by the legislature, and this should be done.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.

In the House of Representatives the States and Territories were called in their order for petitions.

Mr. Adams was busy as a bee, and moved the reference of some abolition petitions to a select committee. His efforts were, however, ineffectual, for as fast as his motions were made they were laid upon the table. The venerable gentleman appears determined never to give up the ship. He will fight till he dies.

Memorials from all parts of the Union were presented, asking the immediate adoption of a general bankrupt law. They were severally referred to the committee on the judiciary.

Mr. Hubbard, of Alabama, asked leave to introduce a bill making it the duty of the President to remove from office any person who may make false estimates of the expense of public buildings. Leave was not granted. I hope Mr. H. will press his bill when it shall be in order, as the evil which it proposes to remedy is a great one.

A member from Arkansas made an effort to squeeze in that antiquated bill for removing the raft in Red River, but the bill was no sooner read than a volley of "noes" decided its fate at once. It is the stalest bill ever matured.

Mr. Adams, from the select committee appointed to inquire whether the Spanish documents of the House, in relation to the negroes of the Amistad, have been falsified in the translation, made a report. The report states that the translation furnished to the House is not correct. The report and evidence taken before the committee were ordered to be printed.

In the Senate Mr. Clay, of Alabama, has called up his bill providing for a permanent pre-emption law, and is thundering away with might and main, in its favor.

A further message from the President, in relation to the case of McLeod, has just been received. It contains letters from Messrs. Forsyth and Fox on the subject, of rather a sulky character.

ARSENIC IN THE HUMAN SYSTEM. In the London Medical Gazette received by the Acadia, are detailed some interesting experiments of M. Orfila, the celebrated French chemist, to ascertain the presence of arsenic in the human system and in the bodies of animals, from natural causes. The fact was fully established, and arsenic was elaborated from the bodies of men and animals, and in cases where there was not the slighest suspicion of any introduction of it from without.

The second number of the weekly "Richmond Star" has made its appearance.—It comes to us well recommended. The familiar "Ephraim" occupies rather too conspicuous a place in its editorial columns.

The State Bank of Illinois, has continued to pay specie, since the close of the "first session" of the Illinois Legislature. When she commenced paying, she held $800,000 of Eastern exchange, and near $600,000 in specie.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

THE BANKS. The condition of the banks (we say the banks, as we do not wish to particularize either) is gradually developing itself, and the public are rubbing their eyes as the mist clears away, in order that their vision may be brightened. Yesterday a number of people lingered around the Franklin bank, a majority of them attempting to get rid of the bills they held in their hand at almost any discount. A merchant who had the collection of some accounts to a considerable amount, informed us that, in order to save his friends in other cities, he was compelled to purchase drafts and forward them by mail, not knowing how Baltimore funds might stand in a day or two hence. What a blessing it is to be poor during these times. Not long since, a few contemptible shinplaster shops went by the board, and monied men looked upon the poor people who were struggling to obtain something like an equivalent for the responsibilities of the exploded concerns, and laughed at the confusion that was created. Now we see the capitalist with his pockets and his hands filled with the doubtful issues of the legitimate banks, flying from one point to another, and, with ruin staring him in his face, endeavoring by every finesse to get rid of the encumbrance.

SACRED CONCERT. The choir of the Reformed Church, Second street, are to give a sacred concert at that church this evening. They will be assisted by several members of the Musical Association, and led by Mr. Wilder.

BALTIMORE MONTHLY BUDGET. This is the title of a new monthly periodical just issued by Mr. J. Austin Sperry. It contains some rich contributions and is embellished with a view of the entrance Gateway to Greenmount Cemetery.—We wish it every success.

TEMPERANCE AMONGST THE YOUNG. On Saturday night, the Junior Washington Temperance Society met at Union Hall, and out of twenty-eight boys present, twenty-five signed the pledge of total abstinence.

CITY COUNCIL. First Branch, Jan. 4, 1841—Pursuant to order, the branches of the City Council met to-day. The members rubbed their hands, smacked their lips and looked big with business. There was a pretty good turn out in the First Branch, considering the biting weather. On motion of Mr. Snyder, Joshua Dryden was called to the Chair, after which the members were sworn into office.

The branch then proceeded to the election of a president, which resulted in the choosing of Mr. Henry Snyder, a man of sterling integrity, and admirably calculated for the office. Mr. Snyder returned his thanks in a neat address.

The salaries of the chief and assistant clerks were fixed at $5 per diem, and that of the door-keeper at $1.50. Stephen H. Moore was elected chief clerk, Joseph Nelson assistant clerk, and Jacob Glossen door-keeper. Mr. Moore being unwell, Mr. H. W. Gray was appointed chief clerk, pro. tem.

Mr. Dryden moved that a committee be appointed to wait on the Second Branch and inform them that the First was organized, and proposed a joint committee to wait on the Mayor.

A number of resolutions pertaining to the first day of session of the Councils were passed.—Among them one proposed by Mr. Gorsuch, offering facilities to one reporter from each of the daily papers published in the city, provided the city be put to no extra expense. Gentlemen, see that the room be kept warm, and that no one take our hat or upset our inkstand, and we are perfectly satisfied.

The message of the Mayor was received, and Mr. Nelson commenced reading it, but his progress was slow and uncertain, and did not seem to suit the corpulent gentleman from the seventh ward, who made a motion that the reading be dispensed with, as it would appear on the journal, and each member could contemplate the affair at leisure. Hereupon some sharp firing took place, but the motion was eventually carried. Mr. Pinckney then moved that the message be referred to a special committee, which, after some little debate, was agreed to. After this the branch, having nothing more to do, muffled up and went home.

Second Branch.—The dignitaries of this branch of the council assembled, re-appointed all their officers pro. tem., listened to the message of the Mayor, and adjourned.

CROSSING NOTES. In the case of Patterson vs. Yundt, for defacing a $1 note, Justice Schaeffer has decided that, as it is customary for all officers of banking institutions to cross counterfeit notes, and Mr. Yundt being held in the light of such, he being deputy Register, the plaintiff should be nonsuited.

A TURN ABOUT IS FAIR PLAY. In several instances recently, housekeepers have been sued and compelled to pay fines and costs for not having their chimneys swept when the sweep-master called upon them. Now, we should like to know, if the sweep-master is not liable to the same course of treatment, when he neglects to call on the house-holder after having been repeatedly requested by him (the householder) so to do. It is a bad rule that will not work both ways—if house-keepers are compelled by the law to attend to their duty, let the law also compel sweep-masters to attend to theirs.

A WATCHMAN DOZEY. Lieut. Han found one of the sub-watchmen "how come ye so" on Saturday night. He had lost both his spontoon and rattle, and also set his box on fire through carelessness. No doubt but the poor fellow was cold and took a drop to make himself warm.

DISTRESSING. A gentleman named Hugh Watson, of Auburn, committed suicide the latter end of last month by throwing himself into a well. He was of the firm of Watson & Sons, engaged in an extensive brewing establishment.

A CASE. A certain Matilda Hart had a warrant issued on the 30th ult. against Sarah Burk, who keeps a house of not good repute in South Howard street, for retaining and damaging some wearing apparel. When the officer went to serve the warrant, Mrs. Burk refused obedience to his orders, and persisted in sending for her friend, whom she designated by the name of "Pappa." But a short time elapsed until a personage, answering to the above cognomen, arrived in a carriage. Through his instigation, matters, for the time being, were adjusted, and the trial ruled until four o'clock yesterday afternoon, when it was to be closed at the Police court before Justice Barnard. Information, however, was communicated to Squire B. through the instrumentality of "Pappa," (a personage, who, by the way, holds a responsible office,) that the case had been certiorariad and would be tried before the Baltimore County Court, where, in all probability, that personage known, or called by Sally B. as "Pappa," will find his real name exposed in its proper light.

☞ Yesterday afternoon, a suit came before Squire Schaeffer, wherein Henry Loane claimed the amount of a note of the denomination of $20, the issue of the Franklin Bank of Baltimore.—The counsel for Mr. Howard, President of the Bank, stated that if the plaintiff would withdraw the suit, he would obtain the full value of the note in a few weeks. On this assurance Mr. Loane withdrew the suit and paid the costs.

A BREAK DOWN. Last evening a colored man, servant of J. J. Corner, was driving a one horse four wheel carriage up Market street at a furious rate, using the whip at every stride, and when he came opposite Frederick street the carriage hind wheels stuck in a rut, and the horse proceeded a short distance with the fore wheels only, when he was stopped and secured.

COLD. It was colder yesterday morning than at any other time during the season. At six o'clock in the morning the thermometer stood at 24° Farenheit, which was far from being comfortable—blue noses were all the go yesterday.

WATCH RETURNS. The latest intelligence from these documents affords no peculiar interest to the reader. A few personages sought the watch house as a retreat from the chilling frost.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 2, 1840.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES. The Speaker laid before the House reports from the Commissioners of Lotteries and Clerk City Court of Baltimore—referred to committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Coad obtained leave to bring in a bill to provide for a general valuation and assessment of the real and personal property, within the State. Which was referred to committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. W. Lynch obtained leave to bring in a bill to give jurisdiction to justices of the peace in cases of violation of the license laws by hawkers and pedlars, and to alter and amend the laws regulating the issue of licences to such persons, referred to the Committee on Grievances and Courts of Justice.

Mr. Tuck obtained leave to bring in a bill, entitled an act to define the time within which the official Bonds of Clerks and Registers shall be offered and approved—referred to the Committee on Grievances.

Mr. Randall obtained leave to bring in a bill confirmatory of an act to alter and amend the constitution, so far as relates to the power of the Legislature to grant Lotteries—referred to Messrs. Randall, LeGrand and Lecompte.

Mr. Nesbit obtained leave to bring in a bill to lessen and establish a uniform system of charges by Notaries Public, on all protested notes and drafts, bills of exchange, &c.—referred to Messrs Nesbit, Gallagher and E. A. Lynch.

On Friday, the following proceedings took place.

Mr. Gallagher presented the petitions of David Richter, Margaret White, Margaret Griffith, and Levin Jones, of the city of Baltimore, severally praying to be divorced; which were referred to the committee on divorces.

Mr. Tuck offered the following order—"ordered that the committee on ways and means enquire into the expediency of imposing a tax on brokers and private bankers, and that they have leave to report a bill or otherwise."

For the Baltimore Clipper.

TIDE WATER CANAL. While the Philadelphians are taking measures to establish a regular line of steam tow boats between Havre-de-grace and the Chesapeake entrance to the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, and between the Delaware entrance to the said canal and Philadelphia, the private enterprize of our own citizens has accomplished a similar undertaking between Baltimore and Havre-de-grace, and their timely preparation promises to be productive of the most gratifying and successful results. There is a certainty that at least one boat, and every probability that another, will be ready to commence the business of towing and freighting upon the opening of the canal in the spring—the steamboat Boston is now undergoing repairs and alterations expressly for this purpose—the steamboat Virginia has recently been purchased by one of our most enterprising merchants with the same view, the tow boats Patapsco and Relief will want employment during the summer months, and will doubtless be placed in the same business. Here are four steam boats that can be depended upon—the only fear is that there will be a scarcity of canal boats constructed in time, adapted for towing. This cannot be the case long, when a certainty of being regularly towed exists. It is all important that Baltimore should be the first to offer inducements of this kind, so that connections may be formed here before boats are regularly towed to Philadelphia—this city must have the preference so long as equal facilities are held out to the trade as other cities—the distance being so much shorter, the detention of the boats after they leave Havre-de-grace until they return is less—the cost of towing is also lower, and the expenses of keeping horses, &c. at the latter place will be much less than if the boats were towed to Philadelphia. With such prospects before them, the Baltimoreans have ample cause to rejoice. Let us now reduce our exorbitant charges for wharfage one-half, and we must 'go ahead.' O.

MARRIED,

On the 29th Nov. by the Rev. Samuel Keppler, WILLIAM BRADY to Miss MARY A. VICKERS, all of this city.

On the 24th ult. by the Rev. R. N. Brown, Capt. G. W. KIRWAN to ADELINE KIRBY.

On the 31st ult. by the Rev. Mr. Keppler, EDWARD LATHAM to Miss AMANDA M. HOPKINS, all of this city.

DIED,

In Washington city, on the 25th ult. Mr. GILBERT WHITE, aged 56 years.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Brig Harriet Brainerd, Lemott, Wilmington, N. C.
Schr Gallant Mary, Coffin, Mayaguez, P. R.
Schr Ada, Wiley, Kingston, Jam.

ARRIVED.

Brig Shamrock, Goodrich, 14 days from Havana to the Capes.
Brig Sea, Allen, 29 days from New Orleans.
Brig Northumberland, Fry, 20 days from Kingston.
Brig Ambassador, Clark, 29 days from Kingston.
Brig Martha, Hallet, 10 days from Boston.

MEMORANDA.

Barque Adeline & Eliza, Hopkins, for Baltimore, cleared at New Orleans 24th ult.

Brig Cerne, Wakefield, from Baltimore, arrived at Angostura 5th Nov.

A GREEN SPOT IN LIFE'S DESERT.

☞ The Ladies of Eastern section of the city will assemble on THURSDAY AFTERNOON NEXT, at 3 o'clock, in the Wesleyan Sabbath School, Bond-st., for the purpose of forming a Temperance Society on the most approved plan. All ladies, who feel interested in making Home lovely and the Domestic hearth the dwelling place of happiness and peace, are invited to attend. [a] ja5-3t

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

☞ The Howard Temperance Society will hold an Experience Meeting on FRIDAY EVENING NEXT, at half past 6 o'clk. in the Rev. Mr. HEALEY'S church, Fleet street, Fell's Point. The public are invited to attend. ja5-4t

APPRENTICES Library Association.

☞ A meeting of the Friends of the above Association will be held in the Baptist Church in Calvert st. on WEDNESDAY EVENING, 6th instant, at 7 o'clock. The object of the meeting is to adopt more vigorous and energetic measures to carry out the objects contemplated in the founding of an Apprentices Library. All the friends of this noble enterprize are earnestly requested to attend. Rev. Mr. BURNAP, and others, it is expected, will address the meeting.

ja5-2t A. FULLER CRANE, Sec'y.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

☞ The Fifth Lecture of the course will be delivered THIS EVENING, 5th Jan'y, at half past 7 o'clock, in the Universalist Church, corner of Calvert and Pleasant streets, by EDWARD HINKLEY, Esq. Subject—"Astronomy." ja5-1t

NOTICE.

☞ The members of the Columbia Fire Company are hereby notified to attend an Annual Meeting of the Company at the Hall of their Engine House, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, 6th January, at half past six o'clock. By order, ja5-2t* AARON STOCKTON, Sec'y.

☞ Dr. T. L. MURPHY has resumed the Practice of Medicine. Office No 69 BOND STREET, a few doors E. of Allisanna street. d12-tf

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,
80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

DRAWN NUMBERS of New Jersey State Lottery, class No. 1, 2d inst.—lowest prize $10:
7 12 52 2 2 18 9 43 20 35 14 40 31 75

TO-DAY; State Treasury, class 1, drawing will take place This Afternoon at 4 o'clock, and result received in the morning. 66 Nos.—10 Ballots.

GRAND SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$10,000	1 Prize of		$1092
1 "	3000	2 "		250
1 "	1250	2 "		600
1 "	1100	3 "		500, &c.

Tickets $3—shares in proportion.

☞ All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address. E. W. ROBINSON,
No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.
Agent for the State of Maryland. ja5-1t

CENTRAL HALL.
DANCING & WALTZING ACADEMY.

CHARLES L. SPIES, thankful for past favors, has the honor to inform his friends and the public that his SECOND QUARTER will commence on TUESDAY, 19th inst. at the above Hall, corner of Baltimore and Charles streets.

☞ Days of Tuition, for Young Ladies, Misses, and Masters, on Tuesday and Saturday Afternoons, from 2 till 5 o'clock—and on Tuesday and Friday Evenings, from half past 6 till 10 o'clock, for Gentlemen.

Practising Balls on Thursday evenings, and Cotillion Parties on Saturday Evenings.

☞ Terms—$10 per quarter. [a] ja5-eo2w

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES,

TAKEN AT PAR. The advertiser has a large Stock of desirable DRY GOODS, for which Franklin Bank Notes will be received at Par, for CLOTHS and CASSIMERES of all colors and kinds; CASSINETS; FLANNELS; PRINTS of all prices; Rose and Whitney BLANKETS; figured and plain Mousseline de Laines; Black Italian Lustring and Gro de Naps; Ladies' Cloaks; Buckskin Gloves; Russia Diaper; English and French MERINOS, all colors; colored Table Cloths, with a large stock of Domestic GOODS, to which we call the attention of purchasers.

☞ Franklin Bank Notes received in payment.

DAVID RIDGELY, Market street,
Second door above Light street,
ja5 2t* Opposite St. Paul street.

REMOVAL.

G. H. MITTNACHT, IMPORTER OF GERMAN, FRENCH, and ENGLISH FANCY GOODS, has removed from the Store he lately occupied in Baltimore street, to the Store No. 9 South LIBERTY STREET, where he will always keep a large and general assortment of FANCY GOODS, including Baskets, Toys, Clocks, Musical Instruments, Cutlery, Jewelry, Pins, Needles, Tapes, Cords, Cotton, Thread, Silk, Blacking, Ink, Slates, Marbles, Whips, &c. &c., which he is prepared to sell at the lowest wholesale prices. G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 9 S. Liberty street.

N. B. Franklin Bank Notes will be taken at par for all Goods purchased for cash. [a] ja5 2w

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES.

FRANKLIN BANK PAPER will be received at PAR for DRY GOODS, at unprecedented low prices, at No. 99½ Baltimore street. A lot of extra Rose and Whitney BLANKETS, and 950 pieces super CLOTHS and CASSIMERES. Just received.

ja5-3t W. H. RIDGELY & CO. 99½ Balt.-st.

FRANKLIN BANK PAPER WANTED.

THE subscriber will sell 925 bbls. Maine Mercer POTATOES, payable in the above money, if immediately applied for.

SAMUEL H. WHITTINGTON,
ja5-eo4t* No. 8 Dugan's wharf.

FRANKLIN MONEY RECEIVED.

A commodious two story Brick HOUSE, with a Store, in Harrison-st., near the Bend, with being a rent of $180 per annum, will be for $1100 in Franklin Bank money. Inquire at North Gay street. ja5-

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES—Want
GEORGE H. DUTTO
Lottery and Exchange
ja5-1t* No. 9 F

FRANKLIN BANK NOTE
for MOROCCO LEATHER, Cheapside and Lombard street, by ja5 4t* J. W. & S

PARTNERSHIP.

THE BUSINESS OF JACOB HOUCK
after be conducted under the name of JA HOUCK & SON. JACOB HOUCK,
FREDERICK HOUCK.
Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja5-4t

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Man. To Dr. SWAYNE.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel different—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a pronuncted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently depends on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
1y28-y

DOYLE'S PRATT-ST. PRIZE DEPOT.

UNPRECEDENTED LUCK. Combination 39, 35, 43, a prize of $1500. Also, 2, 31, 35, a prize of $1000, both sold at DOYLE'S ever Lucky Office, in the New Jersey Lottery, No. 1, drawn 2d inst. and the cash paid on presentation. The following are the drawn Numbers—lowest prize $10:

7 12 52 3 2 18 9 43 20 35 14 40 31 75

For Capital Prizes in all the Lotteries, call at this truly Lucky Office.

On THIS DAY, State Treasury Lottery—Capital prize $10,000. Tickets $4—shares in proportion.

On WEDNESDAY, the Maryland State Lottery will be drawn in Baltimore. Capital prize $30,000. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

☞ On same day, Literature Extra, No. 2—Capital Prize $6000. Tickets $2.

On THURSDAY, Grand Consolidated Lottery, No. 1—capital prize $12,000. Tickets $4.

On FRIDAY, Literature Lottery—Capital Prize $7000. Tickets $2.50.

On SATURDAY, a beautiful Virginia State Lottery will be drawn at Alexandria, D. C. Capital Prize $30,000. Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

For sale in the greatest variety of lucky numbers, by the package, single ticket, or share.

☞ For Prizes in the above Lotteries, and all Lotteries authorized in the State of Maryland, apply to, or address,

M. DOYLE, No. 94 Pratt st.,
Opposite the B. & O. Railroad Depot, Baltimore.

☞ Orders by mail for packages of Tickets; single Tickets, or Shares of Tickets, enclosing cash or prize Tickets, from any part of the United States, will meet with prompt and personal attention, if addressed as above. [r] ja5-eo3t

LADIES' COMPANION, April No. for January, 1841, received by

WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. MOORE'S, No. 74 Market street—and at
No. 28 N. Gay-street, near Fayette st.

☞ Terms $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly.

Opinion of the New York Press:

We have been favored with a copy of a steel engraving of the Light House near Caldwell's Landing, intended to illustrate the January number of the Ladies' Companion, published by Mr. Snowden, 109 Fulton-st. It is indeed a fine specimen of the art, and reflects no ordinary credit upon the enterprize of the conductor of that Magazine. The number will contain articles from the following writers:

Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, Mrs. E. F. Ellet, Mrs. Annan, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances L. Oswood, Mrs. E. R. Steele, Mrs. Caroline Orne; Professors Longfellow & Ingraham; Mr. H. Herbert, Francis W. Thuman, Greenville Mellen; Rev. J. H. Clinch; Mr. Rufus Dawes, Wm. Gilmore Sims, Epes Sargent, Park Benjamin, George P. Morris, Robert Hamilton, C. P. Daniels, H. T. Tuckermane, Henry B. Hunt, (of Philadelphia,) Wm. G. Howard, (of Ohio); Mrs. E. C. Embury; Mrs. Hofland, (of London,) and many others. Also, an original piece of Music, composed by J. G. Meeder, expressly for the occasion ja5

NOTICE.

The Steamboat POCAHONTAS will leave the lower end of Spear's wharf on FRIDAY (not Thursday) MORNING NEXT, at 10 o'clock, for Norfolk and the Portsmouth and Roanoke Railroad. Passengers bound to Charleston will arrive there early on Monday morning. Those for Richmond or Petersburg, will arrive at their place of destination on Saturday at 3 or 4 o'clk, P. M.

JOHN C. MOALE, Agent.

Fare to Norfolk,	$10
Fare to Richmond,	14
Fare to Weldon,	16

ja5-4t

WANTED TO EMPLOY, by the month or year, 4 or 5 Negro men (slaves) to work on a Farm near the city. They will be well treated, and the owners receive the highest wages, which will be punctually paid them in the city. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, Baltimore-st. corner of Frederick street.

Also, wanted to employ, a Colored man as Waiter in a Private Family. Apply as above. [A] ja5

A CLERK WANTED. The subscriber wishes to employ a young man to keep the Books and attend to some of the affairs of the CITY INTELLIGENCE AND AGENCY OFFICE. He must write a legible and business hand, and come well recommended. ja5—[A] GEORGE GELBACH.

A NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

THE LADY'S BOOK, Bound, Volume XXII, Price $2.00.

LIST OF ENGRAVINGS:

1. Fairmount Water Works, Philadelphia.
2. The Pilgrims.
3. The Indian Maid.
4. Happy as a King.
5. Death of Lunth.
6. Constantinople.

And six colored PRINTS of the latest Fashions.

N. B. The January number for 1841 is just received. Price 25 cents—or $3 per year. For sale at

W. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Office,
No. 28 N. Gay street—and at
JOHN MOORE'S Bookstore,
d29 No. 74 Market-st. 1 door below Holliday.

CONCERT OF SACRED MUSIC.

THE CHOIR of the Reformed Church, (Rev. E. Heiner's,) second street, conducted by Mr. L. WILDER, and assisted by several members of the Baltimore Musical Association, will give a CONCERT OF SACRED MUSIC, on THURSDAY EVENING, January 7th, 1841.

☞ Tickets 50 cents—to be had at F. BENTZE'S Music Store, and at the Church on the evening of performance. Performance to commence at 7 o'clock precisely. ja4-4t

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

TAKE NOTICE, That I have applied to the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Cumberland county, for the benefit of the Insolvent Laws of this Commonwealth, and they have appointed TUESDAY, the 26th day of January, 1841, for the hearing of me and my creditors at the Court House in the borough of Carlisle, when and where you may attend, if you think proper. SAMUEL GIVEN.
December 17, 1841. ja4-3t

MRS. CONNOR'S

BOARDING HOUSE, PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, between 3d and 4½ streets, Washington City, (D. C.) where Gentlemen, visiting the District, can be accommodated with Board and Suits of Apartments, suitable for single gentlemen or families, for any length of time. d23-1m

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES will be received for LUMBER, at a fair price, at my LUMBER YARD, on the Falls Avenue near Pratt street Bridge, from all who may wish to dispose of their Franklin Bank Notes. WILLIAM P. MILLS.
ja4 4t

BATH BRICKS & SUCCORY.

2000 BATH BRICKS
4 hhds. German SUCCORY. Also,
FAMILY FLOUR, just received and for sale by ja2 4t MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 20 good ...ts and colored COOKS, to fill desirable places in ...rent parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES ... NURSES. d25

...PERIOR CHEWING TOBACCO, and Rega... Havana, and Principe CIGARS—for sale by MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$20,000	may be had on	MONDAY, for	$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	4 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
6,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 00
30,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. d7-1m

REMOVAL.

A. J. BROWN, DENTAL SURGEON, late Assistant of Doctor KNAPP, has Removed to FAYETTE STREET, three doors west of Charles, where he will be happy to render his professional services to all who may require them. The patrons of Dr. Knapp will be attended to in the same manner, and on the same terms, as if performed by Dr. K. himself. My operations in Dental Surgery will be performed according to the late scientific improvements in the art, and warranted to give satisfaction in every case, or the money refunded. From the success of past operations, he is confident he can please all who may honor him with their patronage, and respectfully refers to the numerous ladies and gentlemen for whom he has operated.

☞ TOOTHACHE. Persons suffering with this distressing malady, can be relieved by his treatment of the teeth. d5-1m

NOTICE.

FROM THIS DAY UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE,

The Steam-boats for Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va. will make but two trips each week, leaving the lower end of Spear's wharf, every MONDAY and THURSDAY, at half past 3 o'clock, P. M., or as soon as the Eastern Mail arrives.

Travellers, bound to Charleston, will leave Portsmouth for Weldon the morning after their departure from Baltimore, and will pass the whole distance (80 miles) on the Portsmouth and Roanoke Railroad by daylight, arriving at Weldon several hours prior to the departure of the train of Cars for Wilmington, N. C.

The Steamboats for Richmond, from Norfolk, leave every TUESDAY, THURSDAY, and SATURDAY MORNING, at sun rise.

Travellers bound to Richmond or Petersburg, leaving Baltimore on MONDAY, are put on board the James River Boat in Hampton Roads on the following morning, and arrive at the place of destination at from 3 to 4 o'clock, P. M., same day.

Fare to Weldon, (meals on board included)	$16
Fare to Norfolk, (meals included,)	10
Fare from Norfolk to Richmond, (meals included,)	4

JNO. C. MOALE, General Agent
Balt. Steam Packet Co.

☞ No freight will be received on the days of departure, between the hours of 1 and 4 P. M. ja2 8t

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 56 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty,	16 superb plates—price	$3.50
Keepsake,	15 do	2 50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals,	15 plates,	3 00
Forget-Me-Not,	11 plates	2 00
Friendship's Offering,	10 plates,	2 00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
d31 And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, elecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and boneset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North st. d16-y

PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Emporium,
No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.! Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d28-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES. French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞ All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.
o3-tf

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d19-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d19-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

CHAMBERMAID WANTED. Wanted, in a small family, a WHITE CHAMBERMAID, who must also understand Plain Sewing. Apply in ST. PAUL STREET, 3d door north of Mulberry.
ja1-3t*

OHIO Rail Road, Tide Water, Virginia & Wheeling NOTES—For sale by n12 E. W. ROBINSON, 50 Baltimore-st.

MAGISTRATES' BLANKS. On hand and for sale by BULL & TUTTLE, Printers,
No. 7 N. Gay street, (Clipper Office.)

DRY GOODS, &c.

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES taken at par for GOODS, at T. W. BETTON'S Gentlemen's Furnishing Store, No. 151½ BALTIMORE-ST.
d31-tf

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 30, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,

Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do a general assortment.

With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.
oc2 EDW. J. RICHARDSON.

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

FANCY AND WORSTED STORE.

THE subscriber has on hand, and offers for sale a large and general assortment of Fine Worsted Patterns, Zephyr Worsted, Thick & Working Chenille, Saddler's Floss, Sewing and Twist Silk for Purses, Silk, Cotton and Worsted Canfas, Perforated, Board and Hair Cloth for Worsted Work, Ladies' Knitted Worsted Caps, Baby's Bonnetts, Boy's Gaiters and Scarfs, Silk and Worsted Fringe, Black Silk Lace, Silk Velvet for Head Bands, Belts and Cuffs, Ladies' and Children's Worsted Mittens, Knit Muffs, Knitting Yarn, Linen and Cotton Tape and Cord, &c.

ALSO—A general assortment of Work and Fancy Baskets and Boxes; Ivory, Shell, and Horn Combs; Jewelry; Needles and Pins; Toys, &c. &c.

G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 58 Lexington-st., 5th door above Howard-st.
o23-eo3m [AS]

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels, Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are LOWER than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chains; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.

N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES AT PAR.

SELLING OFF! SELLING OFF!!

HAVING on hand a large Stock of GOODS, which I wish to reduce, I will receive in payment for the same, the notes of the Tide Water Canal Company at par. In the assortment will be found a quantity of 4-4 to 14-4 Rose, Point, and Whitney Blankets; Cassimeres; 3-4, 4-4, 5-4, and 7-8 white, red and yellow Flannels; a case black and white CHINTZ, at only 12½ cents per yard; Fancy Chintzes and Calicoes; Mousseline de Laine, very low; bleached and brown Shirtings; Irish Linen; handsome large white Counterpanes; woollen and cotton Table Covers; green and fig'd Baize; a large variety of Table Diaper; Damask Table Cloths and Napkins; a few Lambs-wool Shirts and Pants, with all kinds of Hosiery—together with a large assortment of other Goods, all of which I have determined to put at such prices as will ensure a sale to all who will favor us with a call. at No. 60 Hanover street. d29 GEORGE BEVAN.

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mousseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost.
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½; super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7-8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1¼ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25; childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
BED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.

E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!

REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6p
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6p
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 6p
Yard wide good quality do. half and sieve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 6p
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Toweling, fringed, 6p each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleves
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mousseline de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 6p
Excellent LINSEY, eleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 6ps
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 6ps
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Brocha do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 6p
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6p
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6p

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S
d27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

AMUSEMENTS.

CITIZENS' BALL,

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

THIS BALL will take place on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841. The price of Tickets have been fixed by the Executive Committee at TWO DOLLAR—one Ticket admitting a Gentleman and two Ladies. By order,

SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
ANDREW J. BANDEL, Secretary.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

1st	Ward,	Robert Mitholland.
2d	do	David W. Hudson.
3d	do	John N. Millington.
4th	do	A. I. W. Jackson.
5th	do	Sheppard C. Leakin.
6th	do	Wm. H. Cole, Jr.
7th	do	John M. Harman.
8th	do	Joseph Donovan.
9th	do	Wm. K. Mitchell.
10th	do	Wm. Barnett.
11th	do	John R. Moore.
12th	do	Richard Marley.

MANAGERS.

First Ward—H. R. Lauderman, J. M. Turner, Jas. Grieves, Dr. Mummonier, C. Hergesshammer, John A. Robb.

Second Ward—John E. Stansbury, B. W. Herring, Wm. Rochester, J. W. Crosby, J. T. Laws, William Wickersham.

Third Ward—Andrew J. Bandel, Richard Lilley, Col. Jacob Deems, Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott, Wm. B. Boyd.

Fourth Ward—Thomas Wildey, Marcus Wolf, Jacob D. Hair, James Murry, Abraham Blackeney, Wm. Bubbard.

Fifth Ward—Dr. M. Diffenderffer, Joshua Vansant, Herman Perry, Capt. John Patrick, John F. Hess, W. H. Gobright.

Sixth Ward—Dr. R. A. Durkee, Thos. C. Dunlevy, J. Kennedy, H. W. Bool, Jr. John H. Hewitt, Richard Bradshaw.

Seventh Ward—Simeon Hays. James Ackland, Sam. Hyde, S. Teakle Wallis, Wm. Guy, Jas. M. Page.

Eighth Ward—Samuel Lucas, J. Able, Sam. Stump, Wm. C. Clayton, Charles W. Spicer, Wm. T. Rice.

Ninth Ward—Wm. R. Frazier, Jacob Waller, R. C. Murry, Wm. Chace, J. D. Webster, James McPhail.

Tenth Ward—Dr. Wm. Power, Henry Russell, Jas. Lawson, Lewis Kluckgether, Andrew Martin, Peter Kroft.

Eleventh Ward—Charles Fenn, John Reily, D. A. Piper, B. Huney, George Bolt, Horace Miller.

Twelfth Ward—John Godman, Geo. Deal, Samuel Thompson, Joseph Krueger, Wm. Richardson, T. J. Aheran.

☞ The Executive Committee and Board of Managers will please be punctual in their attendance at Sutton's Military Hall, THIS EVENING, 4th January. As business of importance will be laid before them, it is earnestly expected that there will be a full meeting.

By order,
ja4 SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.

SIXTH ANNUAL BALL.

☞ The INDEPENDENT BLUES' SIXTH ANNUAL BALL will take place at the Baltimore Assembly Rooms on TUESDAY EVENING, 12th of January, 1841. Tickets can be had of either of the following

MANAGERS:

Major H. S. Sanderson,	Capt. John Bridener,
Capt. Richard Lilly,	Capt. Thomas A. Lane,
Lieut. Geo. H. Sanderson,	Jacob Deems, jr.
Lieut. Joseph Y. Ford,	P. Lucheisi,
Lieut. Jacob Cook,	Theodore Pimple,
Serg't W. H. Robinson,	William T. Rice,
Serg't Thos. Sheppard, jr.	Geo. L. Steuart,
Francis Belcastle,	William Towson,
Edward H. Rogers,	Mahlon Webster,
Samuel D. Johnston,	Isaac D. Cloud,
George W. Webb,	William H. Shipley,
George W. Wilhelm,	Andrew E. Warner, jr.
Thomas E. Hall,	Charles Z. Lucas.
William Holland,

N. B. In the invervals between the Dancing, the Company's BAND will perform several new Promenade Marches and favorite Airs. ja4-3t

DANCING AND WALTZING.

PRIVATE TEACHING. Mr. W. H. GRIFFITH, of New York, respectfully announces to the ladies and gentlemen of Baltimore, that he is prepared to give lessons in the above accomplishment, and has taken a Room at No. 1 N. CALVERT-ST. Having formed a class, he wishes to inform those desirous of acquiring a knowledge of the same, that he will spare no pains in forwarding those who may favor him with their patronage, having taught several of the first families in New York, among whom were three of Aaron Clarke, esq., ex-mayor; Preserved Fish, esq. Pres't Tradesmen's Bank; Alderman Buring, &c.

☞ Young Ladies, Masters, and Misses, will be taught at their respective places of abode. All communications, addressed to W. H. G. will meet with immediate attention. d31 6t*

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE,
2d January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one of Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled 'The Playmates;' a plate of fashions, with three female figures beautifully colored; two pages of Music, and Angling illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER:

The Young Rambler, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Soldier's the Lad for Me, by A. McMakin.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Durang.
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Reefer of '76, by the author of 'Cruising in the Last War.'
Sabbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. Clark.
Thine—Only Thine. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. Feling.
Music. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by S. Nelson.

EMBELLISHMENTS:

'The Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞ Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city, and sent by mail to all parts of the United States and the Canadas.

Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Book-tore, 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
Baltimore, Md.
ja2

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of

HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,

For the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Cheston & Son,	Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq.	do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq.	do.
James Hepburn, esq.	do.
Christian Haldeman, esq.	Columbia.
Jacob M. Haldeman, esq.	Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq.	Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank,	Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq. Cash. Girard	do.
William S. Smith, esq	Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq.	Boston.

Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-d2w6dw*

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 Bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by

d19 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. d25

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

LADY'S BOOK, for JANUARY, 1841.—Edited by Mrs. SARAH J. HALE, and Mrs. LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY. The only Work, intended for Ladies, that is edited by their own Sex. Miss E. LESLIE contributes to every Number.

CONTENTS—Original. The Festa di Fie di Grotta; Mr. and Mrs. Woodbridge, by Miss Leslie; Amercentie Ballad, by Mr. G. H. Wilson, of London, England; Prayers at Sea, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney; False Pride, a Tale of Every Day Life, by Mrs. Mary W. Hale; The Fairy's Proffer, by Mrs. Annan, (late Miss A. M. F. Buchanan); An Incident during a Siege, by Mrs. Mary Buchanan); An Incident during a Siege, by Mrs. Mary Buchanan); Antonio Salvini, a Tale, by Mrs. E. F. Ellet; Childhood's Laugh, by Mrs. Seba Smith; A Life of Fashion, by Mrs. Emma C. Embury; Man's First Offering, by Mrs. S. J. Hale; The Parlor Serpent, by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz; To Wordsworth, written at Rydal Mount, by Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney; Ernestine, by Esther Wetherwald; Our Life is as a Shadow, by Miss Lois Bryan. Music—The Stranger's Heart—words by Mrs. Hemans—music by Miss Augusta Browne; A Singular Fact, by Mrs. M. M. Webster; The two Trees, by Caroline T. Orne; New Year's Eve; or, Amusements at Home, by Mrs. S. J. Hale. Editor's Table.

Embellishments. Neapolitan Peasants—the finest Plate of the season—engraved by A. L. Dick; Fashions, Colored—Female figure, with fashionable head dress and apron; Boy's Dress; Girl's out door Dress; Girl's in-door Dress.

☞ Baltimore Publisher—WM. N. HARRISON, No. 28 N. Gay-st., and 74 Market-st. at J. MOORE'S Bookstore, one door below Holliday street.

Terms—$3 per year, or 25 cents each number. Register your names to day, being a fine Christmas Gift.
d24

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing FEVER, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞ Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottle, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains as aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by

jy26-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,

(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland,)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Cops.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Doric Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as good quality and as cheap as can be purchased at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.

d23-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 31st of August, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Chemical, Philosophical, and Astronomical Apparatus, is extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by Mr. J. C. ROBINSON. AUGUSTUS FREITAS, L. L. D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the German.

☞ Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or enter pupils, will receive every attention, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. BAXTER, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.

a8-tf J. B. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

WHY WILL YE SUFFER?

VERNACULAR TOOTH-ACHE REMEDY. A certain, safe, and speedy cure for that most agonizing of all pains. It never was known to fail where it could be applied, and the directions were followed. For testimonials, and details of its astonishing effects, see paper accompanying the remedy.

Price 25 cents per vial.

For sale by Smith & Atkinson, Market street, opposite Sharp; Hance, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Duhurst, corner Pratt street and Dugan's wharf; Parr & Grahame, corner Eutaw and Market streets; Balderston, corner Howard

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

SCANDAL.

"Now let it work. Mischief thou art a fool,
"Take what course thou will."

The substance of the following is no fiction. In a neighboring village, whose inhabitants, like the good people of Athens, were much given to "either feel or hear some new thing," lives squire P. a facetious, good sort of a body, whose jokes are even yet a matter of village record, and have been re-told through various editions, from folio down to duodecimo.

Aunt Lizzy was Deacon Snipe's wife's sister—a maiden lady of about fifty—she went to all the meetings—kept a regular account of every birth, death and marriage, with their dates—doctored all the babies, and knew every yard in the neighborhood—showed the young married women how to make soup, and when they had bad luck, made every child in the house sit cross-legged until the bad luck changed. In fine, she was a kind of village factotum—spent her time in going from house to house, grinding out a grist of slander to each, as occasion required, but always concluded with "the way of transgressors is hard," "poor Mrs. A or B, [as the case was] I pity her from the bottom of my heart, or some such soothing reflection. Aunt Lizzy was always very fond of asking strangers and others, without regard to time or place, "the state of their minds; how they enjoyed their minds," &c. These questions were generally followed by a string of scandal which was calculated to destroy the peace and happiness of some of her best friends; but she, like other narrators of this kind, considered such intellectual murder as either establishing her own fair reputation, or as the mode of entertaining the village, and thereby render her society agreeable.

One warm summer's afternoon, as the squire was sitting near the door smoking his pipe, Aunt Lizzy was passing by with great speed, ruminating on the news of the day, when the squire brought her suddenly to, as the sailors say, by "what's your hurry, Aunt Lizzy? walk in." The old lady, who never wanted a second invitation, went into the office, and the following dialogue soon commenced.

'Well, squire P. I have been thinking this forenoon what a useful man you might be, if you'd only leave off your light conversations, as the good book says, and become a serious man—you might be an ornament to both church and state, as our minister says.'

'Never mind who went with me, Aunt Lizzy, there was a whole lot of passengers—but, but'——

'None of your buts, Squire—out with it; if folks will act so—a trollop'——

'But, Aunt Lizzy, I'm afraid you'll bring me into the scrape'——

'I've told you over and over again, that nobody never shall know nothing about it, and your wife knows I ain't leaky'——

'My wife! I wouldn't have her know what I was going to say for the world—why Aunt Lizzy, if she should know it'——

'Well, don't be afeard, Squire, once for all, I'll take my oath that no living critter shan't never as long as I live, know a lisp on't.'

'Well then, if you must know it—I slept with one of the likeliest of your church members nearly half the way up!!'

Aunt Lizzy drew in a long breath—shut up her snuff box and put it into her pocket, muttering to herself—

'The likeliest of our church members! I tho't it was Susan B.: likeliest! this comes of being flattered—a trollop. Well, one thing I know—the way of transgressors is hard; but I hope you'll never tell nobody on't, Squire, for sartin as the world, if sich a thing should be known, our church would be scattered abroad like sheep without a shepherd.'

In a few moments, Aunt Lizzy took her departure, giving the Squire another caution and a sly wink, as she said good bye—let me alone for a secret.

It was not many days before Squire P. received a very polite note from Parson G., requesting him to attend a meeting of the church, and many of the parish at the south conference room, in order to settle some difficulties with one of the church members, who in order to clear up her character, requested Squire P. to be present.

The parson, who was a very worthy man, knew the frailty of some of the weak sisters, as Aunt Lizzy called them, and as he was a particular friend of Squire P.'s, requested him to say nothing of it to his wife; but the Squire took the hint, and telling his wife that there was a parish meeting, requested her to be ready by two o'clock, and he would call for her.

'Why, as to that, Aunt Lizzy, a cheerful countenance I consider as the best index of a grateful heart, and you know what the bible says on that subject—'When ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: but anoint thy head and wash thy face. [Aunt Lizzy began to feel for her pocket handkerchief, for she was a taker of snuff] that you appear NOT unto men to fast'

'Now there, squire, that's just what I told you—see how you have the scripter at your tongue's end; what a useful man you might be, in our church, if you'd only be a doer as well as a hearer of the word.'

'As to that, Aunt Lizzy, I don't see that your professors, as you call them, are a whit better than I am in private. I respect a sincere profession as much as any man: but I know enough of one of your church, whom you think a great deal of, to know that she is no better than she should be!'

At these innendoes, Aunt Lizzy's little black eyes began to twinkle; she sat down beside the squire, in order to speak in a lower tone—spread her handkerchief over her lap, and began to tap the cover of her snuff box in true style, and all things being in readiness for a regular seige of 'scandalum magnatum,' she commenced fire.

'Now, Squire, I want to know who you mean by one of our church! I know who you mean—the trollop; I didn't like so many curls about her head when she told her experience.'

The Squire finding curiosity was putting on his boots, had no occasion to add spurs to the heels, for the old lady had one in her head that was worth two of them. Accordingly he had no peace until he consented to explain what he meant by the expression 'in private;' this was a dear word with Aunt Lizzy.

'Now, Aunt Lizzy, will you take a bible oath, that you will never communicate what I am about to tell you to a living being, and that you will keep it while you live as the most inviolable secret?'

'Yes, Squire, I declare I won't never tell nobody nothing about it as long as I breathe the breath of life; and I'll take a bible oath of it; there, sartin as I live, Squire, before you or any other magistrate in the whole country.'

'Well, then, you know when I went to Boston a year ago.'

'Yes, Squire, and know who went with you too—Susey B. and Dolly T. and her sister Prudence.'

Accordingly the hour of meeting came—the whole village flocked to the room, which could not hold half of them. All eyes were alternately on the squire and Susey B. Mrs. P. startled, and Susey looked as though she had been crying a fortnight. The parson, with softened tone, and in as delicate manner as possible, stated the story about Susey B. which he observed was in every body's mouth, and which he did not himself believe a word of—and squire B. being called on to stand as witness—after painting in lively colors the evils of slander with which their village had become infested, and particularly the church, called on aunt Lizzy in the presence of the whole meeting, and before the church came out, to make acknowledgments for violating a bible oath! Aunt Lizzy's excuse was that she only told Deac. S's. wife on't—and she took an oath that she would never tell nobody else on't. Deacon S's. wife had, it appears, sworn Rogers to his sister never to tell nobody of the matter, but it went through the whole church, and thence through the whole village.

The Squire then acknowledged before the whole meeting, that he had, as he told aunt Lizzy, slept with a church member half the way up to Boston, and that he believed her to be the likeliest of their members, inasmuch as she would never bear or retail slander.—All eyes were now alternately on Susey B. and Squire P's. wife. Aunt Lizzy enjoyed a diabolical kind of triumph, which the squire no sooner perceived than he finished the sentence by declaring that the member to whom he alluded, was his own lawful wife.

Aunt Lizzy drew in her head under a huge bonnet, as a turtle does under his shell, and marched away into one corner of the room, like a dog that had been killing sheep. The squire, as usual, burst into a fit of laughter, from which his wife, Susey B and even the parson could not refrain joining—and parson G. afterward acknowledged that squire P. had given a death blow to scandal in the village which all his preaching could not have done.

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

M. R. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 64 S. CALVERT STREET, keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c d2-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 27 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. o22-y

MARX & HART, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d18-6m

DEFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 42 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n18 3m*

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. n12-y WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se23-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se22-d

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 2 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. s4-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. jy23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je16-6m*

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 114 BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. m26-y

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 37 Fayette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. ma11-y1m*

MINIATURES, Painted in the best style, by Mrs. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. mh13-y

COMPOUND SYRUP of HOREHOUND.

FOR the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Pain and Oppression of the Breast, and all Diseases arising from a disordered condition of the Lungs.

Perhaps there is no Medical Observation better established and none more generally confirmed by experience of the best Physicians of all ages in all countries, than the Fact, that many of the most difficult and incurable Consumptions originate in neglected colds. In a climate so variable as ours, where the changes of weather are frequently sudden and unexpected, it requires more care and attention to guard against this dangerous enemy to human life, than most persons are able and willing to bestow. The bills of mortality exhibit the alarming and melancholy fact, that the number of deaths by this disease are as five to one. Inasmuch then as this fatal disease is increasing, and spreading so widely and fearfully, and bidding defiance often to the combined skill of the most eminent physicians, it is a gratification to the subscriber to be enabled to offer to all of consumptive habits, or those afflicted with distressing pains in the side or breast, or any affection of the breast or lungs, a reasonable and almost certain prospect of relief.

The COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND is a medicine suitable to persons of all ages and sexes; and if taken on the appearance of the first symptoms, which are a COUGH or PAIN in the BREAST, will in nine cases out of ten afford relief, and effect a speedy cure.

Price 50 cents per bottle, Prepared and sold by SETH S. HANCE, corner of Charles and Pratt streets, Baltimore; and J. B. STANSBURY, Thames street, Fell's Point. d 12-y

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headache; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma, Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as in Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞ A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.
Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.
Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.
Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. RORY.

WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. RORY having spent two years in practice with Dr G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call.

d12-6m H. N. RORY.

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side; the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Harlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. jy28-y

JOB PRINTING OFFICE,
No. 7 N. GAY STREET.

BULL & TUTTLE, practical JOB PRINTERS respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have removed their Printing Establishment to No. 7 N. GAY STREET, (three doors above their former office,) in the building recently occupied as the office of the Baltimore Chronicle, which has been fitted up in superior style, for the most extensive operations. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. &c. are of fashionable cast, to which they are adding every material, new in the art, in order to keep pace with the improvements of the times. They will print to order,

Cards, Ball Tickets,	Showbills in Colors,
Circulars, Checks,	Handbills, Waybills,
Notes, Bill-heads,	Steamboat Bills,
Bills of Lading,	Rail Road do.
Bills of Exchange,	Stage do.
Commercial Blanks,	Catalogues,
Custom house do.	Auction Bills,
Insurance Policies,	Election Tickets,
Lottery Bills,	Hatters' Tips.

Together with every description of FANCY JOB PRINTING, for framing.

Large Posting Bills for Theatres, &c.

Particular attention paid to the getting up of Large Posting Bills of every kind, for Theatres, Circuses, Shows, &c., for which purpose an assortment of the MOST FASHIONABLE LARGE WOOD TYPE has been laid in, without regard to expense.

Magistrates' Blanks.

Always on hand for sale, a full assortment of those Magistrates' Blanks which have given such universal satisfaction to all who have used them.

Small Notes.

For Corporations, Private Individuals, Country Merchants, Tavern Keepers, Public Institutions, &c. &c. printed to order at the shortest notice. Having printed many thousands of small notes during the late and present suspension, with entire satisfaction, they flatter themselves that with the addition of a variety of new cut vignettes, flowers and borders, with dies cut expressly for their own use, they feel induced to say that all orders in this department shall be warranted to please. Orders from a distance promptly attended to, and prices as low as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

☞ B. & T. would take this opportunity of returning thanks for the very liberal patronage extended to them, and beg leave to assure their friends that the same personal attention, as heretofore, will be paid to the execution of all orders in their business, and at the same reasonable prices. ap29-tf

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That at their regular annual session, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore will be petitioned for an extension and location of Lee st. from Eutaw west to Scott-st., and of Scott-st. from Cross st. south to the Patapsco, and of Ostend st. from S. Sharp west to the portwarden's line, and within the limits of these streets thus extended and as now located or opened, and within other limits, all of which are described as follows: the Patapsco on the south, thence along Ostend-street to Hanover-st. along Hanover to Little Montgomery-st., along Little Montgomery to Eutaw street, along Eutaw to Lee street, along Lee to Scott street, along Scott to the Patapsco; the petitioners will pray that every street, lane, alley or road, except south Sharp-street, whether each be merely located, or be condemned and opened as a highway, may be forever closed and shut up—also, that Little Montgomery-st. from Sharp to Eutaw be shut up; also that south of Ostend-st. and west of Race that Leadenhall and S. Sharp st. and the two alleys running parallel therewith be shut up. And the petitioners will pray further, that the streets named in the following description be extended, and be located as the other unopened streets of the city generally are, to wit: S. Sharp st. from Little Montgomery south to Ostend, Howard from Hill S. to Moale-st., Eutaw from Little Montgomery south to Moale, Paca from Little Paca south to the wharf, Greene from Columbia south to the wharf, Sterret from Columbia south to the river, and that between Green and Sterret, two other streets be located, one at one third and the other at two thirds of the distance from Greene to Sterret st. and that each begin at Lee-st. and be run south to the river; also that an alley 20 feet wide be located between Hanover and Sharp street, and between every two of the streets, to be run north and south; also that Hill-st. be extended and located from Howard west to Scott street, Great Montgomery & Henrietta from Hanover west to Scott, Homburg and West from S. Charles west to Scott, and Cross from Light-st. west to Scott. It is intended that Howard street be extended 82 feet wide, Eutaw 66 feet, with five squares near the river, 134 feet wide, for a market place, Lee and Hill-sts. 70 feet, and every other street 66 feet wide. n17-24w9w*

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscriber respectfully informs the Ladies and Gentlemen of Baltimore and its vicinity, that he may be found at his office, No. 4 NORTH STREET, next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION. His Charts are carefully designed—and, from his long experience and extensive practice, a correct delineation of character may be confidently expected. Phrenological Books, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale. E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist. d29-y1m*

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slat-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-d1f A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

3 The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having defied the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO. No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard streets, on the corner of Uhler's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 3 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Drug Store, Washington City; E. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.

Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. o31-tf

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HAND BILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

ELEGANT INCORRUPTIBLE

AFTER YEARS of incessant toil and endless experiments, I have succeeded in producing most splendid specimens of INCORRUPTIBLE MINERAL TEETH. They possess an exact resemblance to sound human teeth—and, being incapable of either discoloration or corrosion, forever retain their color and purity in the mouth.

These elegant Teeth are inserted from a single tooth to complete sets of twenty-eight, and the extremely accurate and delicate manner of adapting them to the mouth, renders them highly useful in restoring mastication and utterance. Having in process of manufacture upwards of 12,000 of these Teeth, embracing every imaginable variety of shade, size, and shape, I can match the contiguous systemic teeth with such nicety as to set at defiance the scrutiny of the most observant.

The recent discovery of a valuable mineral production, has rendered the manufacture of these teeth so much less expensive and tedious, that I am enabled to make a very great reduction on the charges usually exacted, and in a style noways inferior to any in the profession. Decayed Teeth permanently PLUGGED with Pure Gold. EXTRACTING, FILING or SEPARATING, CLEANSING, &c. &c.

☞ Irregularities in children's teeth rendered perfectly symetrical. Gold PALATES accurately adapted, so as completely to restore articulation.

TOOTH-ACHE! TOOTH-ACHE!!

☞ Sufferers by this distressing malady, find instantaneous relief by applying for my "TOOTH-ACHE REMEDY." The ingredients of which this valuable preparation is composed, are of such a nature as not to injure the sound teeth. In very few cases has this remedy been known to fail; should a failure occur, extraction will be performed without charge.

☞ Price of the Remedy—50 cents per phial.

J. H. WILCOCK, M. D., Dental Surgeon,
No. 39 Fayette st., near the Post Office.

N.B. Teeth extracted at any hour of the day or night. o2-mw3m

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE,
N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Porters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to EMPLOY any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

☞ Office open from 7 A.M. until 8 P.M.

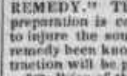
The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., H. W. BOOT, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N.B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. [A] o22

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,



Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosenkrantz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophicydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap18-1y

B. G. HUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. a15-m6m

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞ Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞ The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST,

o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st.

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

And in Washington City, by

CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.

☞ With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

MARYLAND STATE Six per cent. STOCK, in sums to suit purchasers—For sale by a13 E. W. ROBINSON, 80 Baltimore-st.

CONSUMPTION,
COUGHS AND COLDS,
Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, and all Diseases of the Lungs and Windpipe.

FOR THE CURE of the above named diseases, COVERT'S BALM OF LIFE is believed to be the safest and most efficient remedy now before the public. It has also proved itself a superior remedy for the DYSPEPSIA and LIVER COMPLAINT, in all its various forms.

Numerous testimonials of the highest respectability, from physicians who have been made acquainted with its ingredients, as well as from Clergymen and others, who have experienced the effects of the medicine, may be seen by application to any of the agents for circulars, which will be furnished gratis.

From the Boston Medical Journal of 29th Aug. 1840.

The following is an extract from an article in that paper on "Morbus Laryngeus Cinciunaterum," or Bronchitis, by Frank H. Hamilton, M. D., Professor of Materia Medica and General Pathology in Geneva Medical College.

"The Rev. I. Covert's Mixture, also now used so extensively for this affection by clergymen, belongs to the same class of stimulating expectorants, being one of those lucky combinations of medical agents which, while it promotes expectoration, does not impair the tone of the stomach. Of this medicine, we feel at liberty to speak, since its composition is not held from the Profession, and we hope the proprietors will soon see fit to give it to the public. We venture to recommend it therefore, having employed it in our own case, and in the cases of many others with decided benefit.

From the "Auburn Conference and Family Recorder" of September 4, 1839.

"Covert's Balm bids fair to rank among the first of specifics for most cases of Pulmonary Disease. From having tested its salutary tendency, and more especially from the knowledge that it has won the confidence and received the commendations of many highly respectable medical gentleman, some of whom are well known as the ornaments of their profession, we have no hesitation in speaking well of it. We have reason to believe that it is employed in the practice of some of the most scientific and judicious of the physicians of this place. The Rev. Mr. Covert, the inventor and proprietor of this valuable Medicine, is a respectable local minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this place." For sale in Baltimore by

ROBERTS & ATKINSON.
n27-eo1m DR. DAVIS.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS, AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by

SAM'L CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

Washington City, by

W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.

In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.
oc2-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS,)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10 cases	do	do	Cap PAPER
15	do	Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter			PAPER
5	do	do	do	do	Cap do
4	do	do	do	do	Folio post do
20	do	Hudson's	do	do	Letter do
15	do	do	do	do	Cap do
10	do	do	do	do	Flat Cap do
8	do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super-royal WRITING PAPER
12	do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter do
6	do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2	do	do	Super Flat Cap
12	do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5	do	Dickey and Leysle's	do	do
10	do	Plitner & Smith's	do	do
4	do	do	Folio and Packet Post
15	do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2	do	do	Ledger PAPERS
20	do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter

9000 reams NEWSPAPER, various sizes
9000 do Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300 do Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞ Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Band Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 76 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received, a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n28-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞ All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT H. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
se10-6m No. 12 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $2000. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to GEORGE GELBACH,
Real Estate and General Agency Office, corner Balt. & Frederick sts.
d21 [A]

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rochester White Wheat FLOUR
50 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs. Zante CURRANTS.

Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by

a13 tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

BUFFALO OVER-SHOES. 5 cases just received per brig Boston, for sale by

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
a17 No. 2 South Charles street

12,000 Lbs. 12 inch HANGING from brig Almeda, by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & M a28 No. 2 S.

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

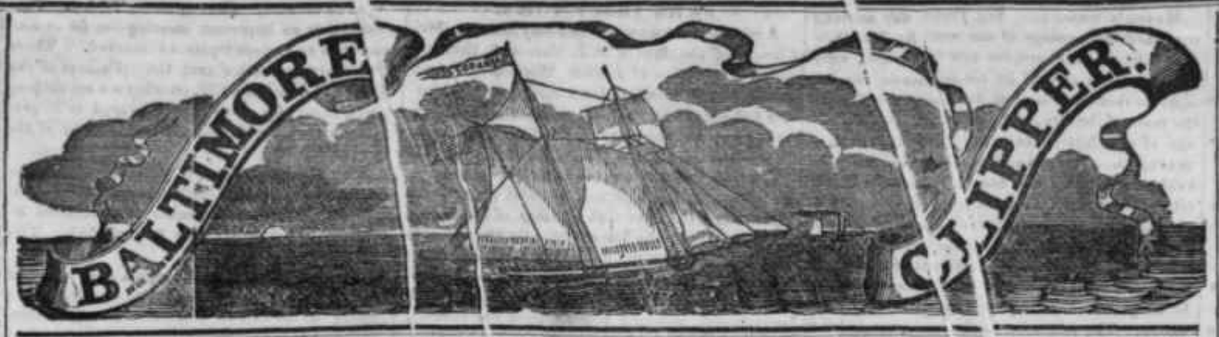
TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞ COUNTRY SUBSCRIBERS can receive the paper, by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square	1 time,	$0 50	1 square	1 month,	$4 00
1 do.	2 times,	75	1 do.	2 months,	7 00
1 do.	3 do.	1 00	1 do.	3 do.	10 00
1 do.	1 week,	1 75	1 do.	6 do.	16 00
1 do.	2 weeks,	2 75	1 do.	1 year,	30 00

☞ Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.



VOL. III. NO. 97.] WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 6, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

For the Baltimore Clipper.

SAM SLICK'S VISIT TO THE FAIR.

BY O. F. W.

Well, all in all, Sam Slick is a clever fellow, and spends his money about as liberally as others, and in most cases with much judgment; in fact the ladies say he does, and some tell of his having spent money on the occasion of his visit to the Fair without a prompter; for when he acknowledged the benevolent look of the damsel who met him at the door, he paid his two shillings for admission without a sigh, and hastening into the room, he met adother, whose smile beamed heaven; "indeed," says Sam, "'twas such a penetrating glance that I actually felt it to the bottom of my pockets, making a row amongst my shinners;" or, in other words, it was like the broad side from a seventy-four gun ship—politely giving him the important information that he and his purse were laid under contribution. Whilst the batteries from the surrounding ramparts were already opened upon him, waiting any compulsory movements necessary to the fulfilment of any propositions offered, whether for his mutual benefit, or for the benefit of the poor, alike obligatory on his part to accept and bind the same as a contract, with nothing short of fair compensation to be paid in gold and silver, or its equivalent, on the day of sale.

As Sam was promenading silently, and thinking I'll keep easy, and make poverty a great convenience, one of the gentler sex politely accosted him, and asked him in a business manner—"Will you take a cup of coffee, sir?" "No objections, being it's you, and if I like it I'll take another, and then may be as how I'll drink your health," replied Sam. "Thank you, sir, I must acknowledge a compliment, and will drink with you with pleasure. Your name, if I mistake not, sir, is Samuel Slick." "Well, you have guess'd it slick enough." "I was sure it was, and as I note all the calls I have, I will set it down, for really I fear I may have fewer calls than others." "Hardly," says Sam; "for if you were up for raffle I'd go a chance in you." "Another compliment, sir, and hope you are not going; but, ah! I see, a lady calls you on the opposite side of the room." "Well, miss, what do I owe you?" "For one cup of coffee, sir, 50 cents, and for two cups, sir, $1—for three cups, sir, you recollect I drank coffee with you, is $1.50—in all is $3, sir, and then you know you paid two compliments, which, according to our established rules is 50 cents each, makes in all $4—and as you have given a $5 piece, I'm sure you'll take this pincushion, with your initials and name upon it in full, for the other dollar, as I have no change. Ah! see, sir, the lady calls"—hurrying Sam off. Sam acknowledges the summons with all due formality, and the lady hands him a letter, telling him it was given to her by a friend to hand to him, hearing that he would visit the fair, and requesting her to receive 25 cents, the amount of postage paid upon it, at the same time commending him for his general liberality, and asking a contribution of a shilling to aid the poor fund, which was readily paid, and Sam, feeling himself at liberty to read, broke the seal, and read as follows:

"Sir: I hope no liberty in this method of informing you, that such persons as visit the fair and buy nothing (seeing you have nothing) can leave any contributions of money with me, in aid of our fund for the poor. Respectfully, &c."

This touched Sam's tender sentiments—as he had been spending money so liberally at the fair, to forget the poor would not do; and putting his hand into his pocket, drew forth $3 and surrendered, two of which were shortly returned to him, with a statement that they were lead, and he must replace them, or it would not redound to his credit—which Sam was found quick in doing, making all apologies for the error, and regretting he did not know the person who passed them upon him; so concluding, as he did not want any of the babies and cradles, &c., to return home, when about to make his exit, he was stopped by the door-keeper, who told him he must pay a dollar to go out, saying "it is customary, as you know, sir, you paid but two shillings to come in—and then, sir, for leaving here before the rest of the company, it is usual that such persons, on absenting themselves, place in the hands of the door-keeper the sum of one dollar, for the purpose of buying candles, in order that the ladies may see when the moon rises"———

But the ladies seeing Sam about to Swartwout, and doubting if he had made good his returns of money unappropriated, still in his possession, it was deemed necessary, as prudence would dictate, to draw upon him for any balances remaining in his hands (or pockets); and immediately a fair messenger was despatched to him at the door with the information that his name had already been enrolled as one of a select party, who were about to organize, with full power to dispose of a package, contents unknown, by raffling for the same, the price of each chance being already fixed at one dollar, and numbering in all ten, for which honor Sam readily paid his dollar, and also agreed to the conditions specified—that the fortunate winner should pay the sum of $2, to be considered as a donation to the poor fund. The conditions thus specified having been unanimously agreed upon, the next consideration was the form by which the raffle was to be decided, when Sam recollecting that on a former occasion he had seen the plan adopted of throwing a number of pieces of folded paper, equal with the number of chances, into a hat, all marked 'blank,' save one, and that marked 'prize,' advanced his plan, which was immediately adopted, and for carrying the same into effect, he liberally loaned his hat. All eager for the result, each gamester was found quietly responding to roll call, and hazarding the chance of winning successively, when Sam's turn came, he being No. 7—he reached forth his long arm, and with his grappling iron grasped a ticket; but lo! he was disappointed in his sanguine expectations, having drawn another of the blanks—the matter now resting between the 3d and 8th person on the list, a lady remarked, that by a little observation it was possible she might choose the prize, at the same time equivocating about touching either of the remaining tickets, fearing a disappointment. She at last concluded to sell her chance to Sam for the sum of $1, which was readily agreed to, when the holders of chances remarked that their hopes were faint, and both persuaded Sam to buy their chances at the same price, when it was admitted that Sam was the lawful holder of the prize. Sam, settling all demands against him, felt himself at liberty to break the seals, and opening the package it was found to contain a neatly embossed card with the following words: "We hereby certify, that the holder of this card is an honorary member of the Fair Dealing Association for the year 1840." The envelope, a neatly gilt-edged sheet, contained the notification from the clerk of the society, that she had the honor of notifying the fortunate holder of the ticket, of the determination of the society to elect him an honorary member of the society, and requesting such person to call upon the secretary, and have the form filled up with their name—and promising furthermore the thanks of the association, if such person would immediately call upon the treasurer and pay the honorary members' contribution of $10, when a receipt for the same would be given, which Sam immediately done, and turning to the opposite side of the room, gracefully bowed to a young lady approaching him, and lifting, as he supposed at the same time, his hat, showing as slick a butter head as ever was seen, when a lady, seeing the mistake he was laboring under, and determining to take all fair advantages, solicited Sam to have his head examined by a practical phrenologist, one of the members of the society. Under this operation Sam acknowledged the many compliments bestowed, and was firmly convinced of the truth of the science, when informed that absence of mind was strongly developed, and for proof practical of this, his attention was called to the circumstance of his having his wig in his hand instead of his hat; for which information he could not hesitate in paying the sum of $1. Sam at this time began to feel himself not himself, and hastily inquiring for his hat, was obliged to take to his heels and make the best of his way home, to give personal evidence that he was yet alive, for, horrible to relate, his hat had been sold under the consideration that it was a new one, perhaps won in the recent elections, and liberally presented to the ladies of the fair, who, finding their mistake, and being loth to tell of what would seem a stupid and perhaps intentional error, they reasonably came to the conclusion of completing Sam's education, by telling him his hat had dropped out of the window and blown into the stream close by, leaving him the opportunity of refuting the rumor which all had reason to give credence to, from the circumstance of a hat having been found, which was placed in the canal, and marked 'Samuel Slick,' with a view of carrying by ocular demonstration the particular views of practical jokers, and from the train of circumstances, would induce his friends unaccustomed to his absence to believe that poor, unfortunate Sam Slick was not only robbed, but drowned.

THE WEDDED LIFE.

BY MRS. SANFORD.

The first year of a woman's wedded life is generally the most unhappy and the most trying one she experiences. However intensely we may have studied the character of our affianced, however well we may have imagined we know it in all its narrow windings, still shall we find, when we become wives, that we have yet something to learn. By actions are the affections on either side shown, and although it is in the power and nature of a woman to manifest her devotedness in a thousand little attentions, she must not repine if she receives not the like.

The feelings of the other sex are not so soft and exquisite as those of our own; if they were we might possibly be happier, and we may for a moment wish that they were so, but we shall restrain so selfish a desire if we reflect how much more unfit they would be by such a constitution to bear the crosses and buffets of the world.

It is said that lovers' quarrels are but the renewal of love, but it is not so in truth. Continued differences and bickerings will undermine the strongest affection, and a wife cannot be too careful to avoid disputes upon the most trivial subject; indeed, it is the every day occurrences which try the love and temper of the married life; great occasions for quarrels seldom occur. Every wish, every prejudice, must meet with attention, and the first thought of a woman should be the pleasing and providing for her husband.—It is impossible to enumerate all the little incidents which may annoy married men, or the little unobtrusive pleasures which it is in the power of a wife to give; but throughout her life in employments, she must ever bear his pleasures on her mind. She must act for him in preference to herself, and she will be amply rewarded by witnessing his delight in her home. To a woman who loves her husband with all the devotedness of her nature, this will be a pleasure not a task; and to make him happy, she will never grudge any sacrifice of self.

The greatest misery a woman can experience is the changed heart and alienated affections of her husband, but even in that painful case she must bear with pain and fortitude her great disappointment, she must return good for evil to the utmost, and her consolation will be consciousness that her trials have not their rise or continuance in any decline of affection or duty on her part.

Some women in order to win back the husband's wandering love, have recourse to attempts to arouse his jealousy; but they are much mistaken in pursuing such a course. A man, however debased his conduct, never entirely forgets the love he once bore to the bride of his youth; there are moments when feelings of tenderness for her will return with force to his heart; to reap the benefit of such moments, the injured, forgiving wife must still be enshrined in the purity of former times.—A husband will excuse his fault to himself, and in some measure stand exonerated in the world, if the wife relax in the propriety of her conduct, while on the contrary, the gentle forbearance, the uncomplaining patience, and the unobtrusive rectitude of the woman he injures, will deeply strike to his heart, and do much to win him back to his former love, and to the observance of the vows he breathed at the altar where his heart was devoted to the being from whom it wandered.—A kind look, an affectionate expression half uttered, must bring his wife to his side, and she must with smiles of tenderness, encourage the returning affection, carefully avoiding all reference to her sufferings, or the cause of them.

This will not be difficult for virtuous woman to perform. Our love, which before marriage is constrained by the modesty and reserve natural to our sex, increases in fervency and depth afterwards; it enables us to bear unfelt the world's scorn; all is swallowed up in it. An affectionate wife clings to her husband through poverty and riches; and the more the world recedes from him, the more firmly will she stand by him; she will be his comforter when all earthly comforts have slid from him. Her devotedness will be his rock, when he has no other support; she will smile at the frowns of the world; she will not heed its censures; he is her all, and in love are all other feelings to be forgotten or absorbed. No sacrifice will be too great, faintest smile will not be rewarded too little; quick at feeling unkindness, we are also quick at feeling tenderness, and a very trifling circumstance is sufficient to awaken or to still the pain of our heart, and bring us misery or happiness.

MRS. KINNEY. The Boston Mail says that Mrs Kinney has remained at the Bromfield House in that city, since her acquittal, with some of her friends, and has freely conversed with all who have desired to see her, although in a feeble state of health, consequent upon close confinement in prison, and the excitement of the trial. The Daily Advertiser states that she has been honored with liberal donations from ladies of the highest consideration, accompanied by the strongest expressions of sympathy for her as an innocent but persecuted woman. We learn, also, that handsome sums have been sent to Mrs. K., by letter, but the precise amount of the contributions we cannot state. The tide of popular opinion appears to be setting strongly in her favor and we are glad of it.

☞ Extract of a letter from a gentleman now travelling in the East to his friend in Washington city, D. C., dated Smyrna, October 5th, 1840.—We extract it from the National Intelligencer.

Affairs in the East, at this moment, are in a most critical posture. The Pacha of Egypt will maintain possession of his Syrian provinces, and the combination of the four Powers leaves France and Egypt to settle the actual controversy against that combination.

Will there be a general war? is the question which all ask, and which events alone can answer. The English have opened the drama by bombarding Beyrout, and at this moment we have received intelligence that the allied squadrons are throwing shells into the fortress of St. Jean d'Acre. If France should execute her menaces, a general war would seem to be inevitable. Mohammed Ali will not yield to the terms of the quadruple treaty of London, and he is reported to have said that Syria must be lost as it was won—by the sword. He made the same reply to the mediating Powers, when his victorious army, seven years ago, was marching upon Constantinople.

These seas are filled with ships of war of all nations. The United States ship of the line the Ohio has just anchored in the bay of Vourlac.—She is represented to be an object of suspicion, in the present unsettled state of affairs. A few days ago, a French steamer, supposed to be bearing important despatches, made a large circuit beyond reach of her long 42 pounders, probably suspecting her to be an English ship. A big ship is like a big bully, feared and despised by all.

SPLENDID TEMPERANCE PROJECT. Since the establishment of the Washington Temperance Society in Baltimore, a number of our youths determined to follow its good example, and accordingly called a meeting at the Union Hall, corner of Tripolett's alley, last Saturday night, when the meeting was organized by appointing John C. Holland, President; Columbus Huzza, Vice President; William G. Heckrotte, Secretary, and Wm. H. Bokee, Treasurer. We have been informed that out of twenty-eight present upon the occasion, twenty-five of them took the pledge of total abstinence.

Boys, you have thus far done nobly—you have struck at the root of the tree. There is nothing like a good beginning; but remember, after your hands have once been put to the plough, turn not from it. Be not hasty, but resolute in your conclusions—when the deed is done let it be fixed for life. Intemperance is the cause of many evils. You are old enough to know this and to see its bad consequences. Certain it is that much may be lost through the too frequent use of ardent spirits, and that all your future hopes must be based upon the characters you acquire for sobriety, honesty and virtue.

Thousands have been thrown into the vortex of intemperance, who at your age never dreampt of falling into such debasement. One thing is certain, if you begin thus early, and continue faithful members of your society, you have nothing to fear from the snares of the intoxicating bowl. We say to you in your good cause, "go ahead," and if possible outstrip in numbers those of your senior society in whose wake you have most commendably followed.

HORRID MURDER. We are informed by the New Orleans Picayune, that James Norton, one of the First Municipality police was brutally murdered on the 24th ult. in the neighborhood of the Eclipse race course, and Thomas McGovern, another of the First Municipality police who was with him, was dangerously wounded. It appears that McGovern and Norton went out to execute a warrant on a fellow named Richard Kelly, who had just got out of the calaboose. They found him in company with some other desperate characters, outside of the race track, engaged in a gambling game. McGovern seized Kelly, who released himself from his grasp, seized a club, and knocked him down. Norton ran to McGovern's assistance, when a fellow, who calls himself Bill or Ben Empty, struck Norton on the back of the head with a club. He fell and died in about five minutes. A post mortem examination was held on the body—when it was discovered that the deceased received a stab of a knife or some sharp instrument, which entered the liver and severed the main artery, causing death.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES MAIL LINE,
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE

TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Mail by the Post Line—the Company on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedules:

Leave Philadelphia	6 A.M.	Leave Baltimore	2 P.M.
" Baltimore	4 P.M.	" Washington	6 P.M.
" Washington	5 A.M.	" Fredk'sburg	12 M.
" Fred'ksburg	12 M.	" Richmond	5 P.M.
" Richmond	5 P.M.	" Petersburg	7 P.M.
" Petersburg	7 P.M.	" Weldon	1 A.M.
" Weldon	1 A.M.	" Wilmington	1 P.M.
" Wilmington	1 P.M.	" Charleston at 5 the next day.

As this Line carries the Great Mail, (which cannot be delayed,) and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is sure of a connection throughout, whilst it is evident that Foul Roads Weather and Steamboats must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two-thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT ISLAND ROUTE.

☞ The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon: and travellers have no expense or trouble with their Baggage.

☞ This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞ This is the only Daily Line to Richmond and Petersburg.

☞ Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of
STOCKTON, FALLS & CO.
Adjoining the Philadelphia Rail Road Office,
d12-tf PRATT STREET, Baltimore.

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.

The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $2.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $3. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, as KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate

HATS!
HATS!!
HATS!!!
HATS!!!!
HATS!!!!!

Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at
W. H. KEEVIL & CO'S.
No. 66½ Baltimore-st., opposite Tripolett's alley,
And 4 doors W. of Bool's well known Auction Store.
d16-tjan19

STATE ARMORY AND TOWN HALL LOTTERY, CLASS I.

The whole to be positively drawn on SATURDAY, January 16, 1841.

Samuel Lucas, William Gwynn, Gen. Gordon Bolt, Charles F. Mayer, Charles G. Ridgely and William J. Wight Commissioners.

SCHEME.

10 prizes of	$10,000	is	$100,000
10	1,000		10,000
10	600		6,000
10	400		4,000
10	300		3,000
10	200		4,000
100	100		10,000
100	60		6,000
100	50		5,000
100	40		4,000
100	30		3,000
200	25		5,000
1000	20		20,000
2000	10		20,000
10000	8		80,000
10000	7		70,000
10000	5		50,000
23,370 prizes.			$450,000

Single Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

A package of 10 Whole Tickets is warranted to draw $17 net.

A package of 100 Whole Tickets is warranted to draw $204 net.

Persons at a distance ordering a package, or any share of a package, need only enclose the difference between the selling price of such package and what it is warranted to draw, and by return mail they will receive a Commissioner's Certificate, which will be just as good, in every respect, as the original tickets, and entitle the purchaser to all the prizes that may be drawn over the warranted amount.

All orders will meet with the same prompt attention as if personal application was made—if addressed to
JAMES H. COX, General Agent,
d16-2aw3t 146 Market street, Baltimore.

THE PATENT COFFEE CLEARER.

THOSE who are fond of a "GOOD CUP OF COFFEE" are requested to try the above article, which will be found to be of unsurpassed utility in settling Coffee. It is also much cheaper and more handy than any thing else which is used for the same purpose—a small piece, thrown into the coffee while boiling, will make it as transparent as amber—price 12½ cents at retail. For sale by
W. J. VAN NESS, Grocer,
n27-tf Market Space.

JOB PRINTING,
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

THE proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enamelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞ Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Warranted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by Dr. HITSELBERGER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $3!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

Dr. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of 10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $3. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. ee5-ym*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.

DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND,

For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabets or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the urethra of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, composed solely of vegetable substance! One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N. B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of P. J. PITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Bridge and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞ For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue. And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL.
dec5-y

A BLESSING TO ALL MANKIND.

The VEGETABLE FLUID SYRUP, or Mercurial Extractor. This infallible Syrup is the discovery of an old veteran and hero of the vegetable kingdom; from his long research, his labors have been crowned with the glorious result of a positive remedy for the bad effects of that poisonous drug (Mercury,) and while it has this new efficacious effect upon the bones affected with mercury, it at the same time purifies the blood from the remnants of Venereal Disease, Scrofulous Affections, Pimples and Eruptions upon the Skin, old standing indolent Ulcers, &c.

For sale, wholesale, and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. ROWLEY, BROTHERS & CO., No. 69 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-sts., on the corner of Uhler's alley; and at the General Agency Office, No. 3 Pitt street, Baltimore. Also, at WM. LANPHIER'S Drug Store, Washington, D. C. o31

LUMBER! LUMBER!! LUMBER!!!

THE Subscriber offers to his friends and the public in general, at his Lumber Yard on the Falls, below Pratt street Bridge, (office head Union Dock,) a large and general assortment of Seasoned LUMBER—such as Panned, Common, Select Cullings, Joist, Rafters, Shingles, Laths, N. Carolina and S. S. Flooring, with every other article necessary to make a good assortment. A quantity of Ark Logs, and also Ash Plank, will be sold at reduced prices, as I have a large quantity on hand. All those who buy for cash, may expect a liberal discount.
je25-d D. E. THOMAS.

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!

THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor Ducatel,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.
RUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.

☞ Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!

AN AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 22 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Coal-Spring (York road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 150,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and mixed, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞ Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.
je18-d HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.
mh2-dtf HOPE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.

THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.
a3-dtf G. W. PEARCE.

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 7, 1841.

PURITY OF ELECTIONS. The existing political calm presents a favorable opportunity for the passage of such enactments as will more effectually restrain illegal voting, and secure to the legal voter the free exercise of his rights, without hindrance or interference from partizan politicians; and, as the charge of bribery, corruption and other illegal acts has been preferred by each party against the other, we hope that all will unite in recommending the adoption of such laws as will prevent the recurrence of the evils complained of. Our humble aid shall be given to this object with great cheerfulness; for the right of suffrage cannot be too strictly guarded, nor the wanton violaters of it too severely punished. It is not for us to say whether the allegations made by the party presses be true—it is sufficient that we know that frauds at elections may be perpetrated—and, as we are not disposed to silently acquiesce in a state of things which may, at some future time, not only force state officers upon us contrary to the legitimate vote of the people, but, perhaps, control the election of the chief magistrate of the Union, we feel solicitous, now that partizans of opposite political sentiments can harmonize upon the subject, that the election laws shall be so revised and amended as to silence all complaints for the future.

We know that the subject is surrounded with difficulties, and that it will require the exercise of great judgment and discretion in framing a bill so as to attain all the objects in view. It is said that "in the multitude of councils there is wisdom;" it would, therefore, probably be advisable, that editors and others should offer their suggestions, that the members of the legislature may have all the light that can be afforded by the observation and experience of individuals. In this spirit, we shall give a brief sketch of such provisions as we think should be incorporated in a bill for the purposes mentioned.

1. Subject the illegal voter to confinement in the penitentiary—deprive him of the right of voting at any future election, and prohibit him from holding office under the state.

2. Fine and imprison for all improper interference with voters, and also for fighting and other disorderly conduct at the polls.

3. Make the certificate of naturalization the only evidence of right in naturalized citizens to vote. Require that the judges of election be provided with stamps similar to those used in the post office, and that they stamp upon each certificate the ward or district where, and the date when the vote is given, at each election. This would prevent more than one person voting on the same certificate.

4. Prohibit felons from voting when released from the penitentiary—for they are unworthy to be placed upon an equality with freemen.

5. Exclude from the right of suffrage all paupers actually residents of the poor house—for voters should be free from all improper control; and it is not to be presumed that they will vote uninfluenced by their immediate superintendents, if the latter be disposed to use persuasion or exercise authority.

Besides provisions embracing the above points, a declaratory law is required in relation to persons removing from the city of Baltimore into Baltimore county. Judges of election in the latter have acted upon the supposition that as the city is included in the county, six months residence in the county is not required, as in other cases of removal, to entitle to a vote—and this opinion is sustained by some of the legal profession. We know that it has been controverted by able members of the bar; but it would be well to have the question definitively settled.

If these suggestions are disapproved, we shall be content that the object shall be attained by other means. All we desire is, that our elections shall be conducted with purity, and that our public men shall be the true representatives of the legal voters of the state.

MARYLAND PENITENTIARY. The report of the directors of this institution is before us. By it we learn that the expenses for the pay of officers and general maintenance of the prison, have exceeded the profits of the year in the amount of $3,239 26, an excess less by $483 10 than that of the period from the 12th of February to the 10th November, 1839. The net value of the goods now on hand unsold is $37,835 24.

The number of prisoners received into the Penitentiary from the 1st December, 1839, to the 30th November, 1840, is 104—number discharged, 68; pardoned, 20; died, 14; escaped, 1—remaining in the Penitentiary on the 30th November last, 399.

The following portion of the report is highly gratifying:

"The moral instruction of the convicts is confided to the care of the chaplain, and the religious exercises performed by him on the sabbath, are attended with apparent interest, by all the inmates of the prison. In addition to this means of improvement, the institution possesses, as it has enjoyed through a long series of years past, the advantage of the voluntary and frequently repeated visits of the Rev. Dr. Wyatt. Attracted by the bland, yet dignified and impressive manner of that gentleman, many of the convicts have sought, and are in the constant habit of receiving his kindly and beneficent ministrations. And surely, the exertion of abilities of so refined and exalted an order, so directed and continued with such unwearied assiduity, cannot but be productive of the happiest and most salutary effects."

The directors express the opinion that the two great departments of discipline and manufactures are at present as successfully conducted as circumstances will admit.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE. We yesterday morning published the message of our worthy Mayor to the Councils, and propose now to notice, very briefly, one or two of its recommendations. It appears that there is great difficulty in collecting the taxes of the city, and that there is an arrearage of uncollected taxes for 1839 and 1840, of $416,000. This is a large sum, and it must be evident to all, that the financial condition of the city will not admit a continuance of this outstanding balance. Various causes have contributed to prevent that promptness in the payment of city taxes, so necessary and desirable to preserve public credit; but it is obvious that some mode must be adopted to insure greater punctuality for the future. The following is the recommendation of the Mayor upon this point:

You must give the Collector the same authority that he now has for the opening of streets.—Make it obligatory on him to deliver his tax bills on or before the first day of July in the year in which the levy is made. Let notice be on the bills, and also notice through the public papers to all who have taxes to pay, that unless they are paid on or before the first day of October in the same year, the property will be advertised at thirty days' notice, and if not then paid, cost and taxes, it will be sold to the highest bidder for cash.

It may be made subject to redemption in two years as is now the law when sold under judgement for taxes by paying all costs and charges, and twenty per cent. per annum to the purchaser for the use of his money, as is now the law for opening Streets, sold clear of all incumbrances and a clear title given. By referring to page 374, revised Ordinances you will find the law.

Some may suppose that it would be exceedingly difficult to enforce such a law; that it would be very severe on the poorer classes of tax payers. I do not think so. I believe it would be much better for them than the present mode. The taxes, all know, must be paid, and when once in the habit of paying every year it will be much easier for them, than when they permit some two or three years to run together. Its tendency will be to prevent the taxes from increasing, as it will at once do away the necessity of borrowing to pay interest on borrowed money. It will also prevent great injustice to those who are in the habit of paying their taxes promptly.

The measure here recommended would be found sufficiently energetic; and, by many, would be deemed harsh. It is for the tax-payers, who are deeply interested, to decide upon its propriety or impolicy. The taxes must be paid, but we should prefer a milder mode, if such be possible, of enforcing payment.

The "necessity for having a House of Industry and Correction," is urged by the Mayor—and the necessity is so palpable—the beneficial effects which would results from such an establishment so evident, that argument would be misspent in enforcing its propriety. Education and moral culture are the preventives—discipline and labor the correctives of crime. Whilst so many young persons of both sexes are permitted to pursue an almost vagrant life, uninformed on religion and morality, and unrestrained by feelings of shame, so long will youthful criminals increase. It cannot but be a matter of solicitude to the philanthropist that these juvenile offenders should be arrested in their destructive course, and have the opportunity of correction and amendment. Let there be a House of Industry—let the idle be made to work, and the vicious to reflect. We hope that the councils will coincide with the views of the Mayor, on this subject, and set themselves to work in earnest to effect the object.

His honor congratulates the councils on the rapid increase of the temperance cause in Baltimore, and anticipates that great good will result from the progress of this glorious work of reformation. In all that can promote the cold water system we are with his honor heart and hand; and will even join him in bestowing a medal upon the man who can permanently renounce and reform his intemperate habits.

IMPRISONMENT FOR DEBT. Mr. Legrand has obtained leave to introduce into the House of Delegates, a bill to abolish imprisonment for debt. We hope that he may succeed in his efforts to erase from the statute books of Maryland this remnant of barbarism. We cannot see either utility or propriety in incarcerating the body of a debtor after he has been dispossessed of his property—for it operates as a severe punishment to his innocent and unoffending family, without resulting in the slightest advantage to the creditor. It may serve as a weapon in the hands of the vindictive to punish the unfortunate, but seldom inflicts justice upon the guilty—because so many doors are opened for the escape of the fraudulent debtor, that he securely defies the law. But, in a bill for the relief the debtor, care must be taken that the rights of the creditor be not violated.—If the debtor's person be exempted from imprisonment, his property must be effectually secured for the benefit of his creditors. To effect this, the provisions of the bill should be ample and explicit. There should be no room left for evasion or fraud.

We think it likely that the abolition of imprisonment for debt would have the salutary effect of restricting credit and introducing economy. It would be more difficult for men of no visible means to contract debts, and many a glass of liquor that would have been scored, will go untasted.

The Hon. Josiah Quincy, the President of Harvard University, has prepared a history of that venerable institution, in two octavo volumes, making an aggregate of about 1,100 pages. It has cost great labor, and is said to be of great value.

☞The ladies of Washington City, attached to the Fourth Presbyterian church of that place commenced their fair yesterday. To our numerous readers in Washington we would say give the ladies a call. The object is one having its origin in the purest benevolence.

THE APPRENTICES' LIBRARY ASSOCIATION will have a meeting this evening in the Baptist Church, on Calvert street. The object of the meeting is one of much importance. It is hoped there will be a full attendance.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

A NICE YOUNG MAN. Yesterday morning, Mr. Corner, of the firm of J. J. Corner & Brother, called at the office of Justice Milteoberger, and stated that he considered it a duty he owed himself and the public to lodge complaint against a young man by the name of William Thomas G. Morton, alias Thomas Green, of Rochester, N. Y., who boarded in a respectable house in Monument Square, and who was desirous of getting a fac simile of the Post Office stamp of Baltimore, for what purpose he knew not. On the strength of this information the magistrate despatched two officers, Riggs and Baxter, after the young gentleman, who, having received information of their movements, absented himself from his boarding house. The officers, however, arrested Nathaniel J. Jacobs, another young gentleman, the room mate and associate of Morton, and also took such other articles belonging to Morton as they could lay hands on. Jacobs stated that he had met with Morton at Cincinnati, and that they had travelled together to Baltimore, took lodgings at the City Hotel, and for economy's sake had moved to a private boarding house. That he had formerly known Morton at Rochester, he was a dry-goods merchant there—belonged to the church at that time, and had also shewn evidences of religion during his stay in this city. The trunk was examined and the post office stamps of Rochester and Boston were found, besides a large number of letters of introduction and credit. There were also notes on religious subjects, texts, sermons, &c., mixed up with invitations to balls, &c.—Among these were promissory notes, and some of Morton's own shinplasters, payable in dry-goods.

Jacobs was unable to procure security. On examination of his pocket book, a number of certificates of deposites of $100 each, drawn by the cashier and assistant cashier of the Seneca Bank, (said to be an exploded concern) were found.—These, he said, were not good. He also displayed a number of letters of recommendation.

Jacobs was committed, he not being able to obtain security. Up to the time of writing this article Morton had not been arrested, but Riggs and Baxter are on the look out for him. He is described as being a handsome, as well as a nice young man. On last Sabbath he opened a Sunday school class in one of the churches in this city, and had managed to make himself acquainted with some of our most respectable and moral families.

TWO NOTES. Yesterday morning, Walter Moxley was brought before Squire King, by officer Hall, charged by Mr. Frederick Seidenstricker with obtaining from him a note to the amount of $130 16 under false pretences. It seems that Mr. Seidenstricker had given him a note to the above amount some time since, and that the defendant after a while called on him and stated that the children had got the note and burnt it. On the strength of this Mr. S. gave him another note to the same amount, when lo! in the course of time the first note was presented to him for payment, and the second was in the hands of another person. The magistrate demanded security to the amount of $500 for his appearance at court.

SWEET SCENTED. We refer all concerned to Huddart's advertisement. He has compounded an excellent pomade for chopped hands, faces, &c. It is said to be so effectual that it will even cure chopped wood, and cooks intend, on dit, to use as one of the fixins for mutton chops. So, there now.

ATTEMPT TO ROB. We again caution people to look to their doors. A negro man named Jas. Mather, was on Monday night arrested by a watchman of the Middle District, charged by Joseph Elliott with attempting to enter his house between 12 and one o'clock. The fellow was "reprimanded" and set at liberty, no prosecutor appearing.

STEALING. A negro boy named John Watson was on the 2d inst. committed to jail by Justice King, charged with stealing a pair of boots from the store of Mr. O'Harra, Lombard street.

TEMPERANCE. During the space of ten days 212 persons have joined the Howard Temperance Society. If they go on at this rate the liquor shops will have to close doors.

THE WEATHER. Yesterday the weather was considerably milder than the three or four days previous. The sleighing continues good, and those who have time and money are making the best use of the opportunity.

SACRED CONCERT. We were mistaken yesterday when we said that the sacred concert, advertised by the choir of the Rev. Mr. Heiner's church was to take place last evening. It is to be given to-morrow evening.

WATCH REPORTS. Eastern District O. K. In the Middle District, Cornelius Compton and Patrick Johns were brought in "monkied." Andrew Gould applied for lodgings. James Mather, negro, attempted burglary. In the Western District, Solomon Fountain, black, becoming the fountain of evil, was locked up for very bad behaviour. Sarah O'Neal, under the influence of liquor, disturbed the quiet of the city. A few white and black customers applied for lodgings.

NO BELLS AND HARD DRIVING. The driver of a wood sled, with two horses tandem and no bells, drove at a pretty smart rate down Gay street and up Baltimore street yesterday. He came near upsetting a whole drove of cattle—and from the silent manner in which he did business, every body thought he was in earnest. Wonder if there were any police officers near?

SUICIDES. Mrs. Flaver committed suicide in New York, on the 2d inst. by hanging herself.

In the same city, on the same day, a man named William Nevins put an end to his existence. When found his body was being eaten by hogs.

CITY COUNCIL. First Branch, Jan. 5. This was a rather an important meeting—so far as conversation on various topics is concerned. There was every indication that the "Fathers of the City" had dined heartily, on what we are not prepared to say, for every man appeared to be perfectly satisfied with himself and the rest of the world.

After the proceedings of yesterday, with the message of the Mayor, had been read, Mr. Pinckney proposed that as a number of inaccuracies occurred in the journal, they be corrected. This was agreed to.

Mr. Pinckney, who, though a slow-motioned man, is always for pushing business, asked leave to suspend the rule in order that he might introduce an ordinance fixing the termination of the fiscal year at 30th of November instead of the 31st of December, as heretofore. Agreed to.

Two communications were received from the Mayor, one relative to the condition of the platform on Commerce street wharf from Charles Worthington; the other from C. D. Hinks & Co. relative to the shipping of flaxseed coastwise. The former was subsequently referred to the committee on the harbor.

The following standing and select committees were then appointed by the President.

Ways and Means—Messrs. Bender, Keyser, Fields.

Harbor—Messrs. Hanson, Ramsay, J. S. Brown.

Streets—Messrs. Dallam, J. S. Brown, Fenby.

Health—Messrs. De Loughry, Peregoy, Myers.

Water—Messrs. Holter, Burns, Cole.

Police—Messrs. Gorsuch, Pinckney, Peregoy.

Education—Messrs. Cole, Dryden, Donovan.

Fire Companies—Messrs. Keyser, Meyers, Blakeney.

Internal Improvement—Messrs. Hack, Bradshaw, Hutton.

Bridges—Messrs. J. T. Brown, Blakeney, Hutton.

Alms House—Messrs. Peregoy, Burns, Holter.

Jail—Messrs. Fenby, Bradshaw, Donovan.

Markets—Messrs. Dryden, Ramsay, Burns.

Enrollment—Messrs. Donovan, J. T. Brown.

Claims—Messrs. Pinckney, Hack, Holter.

Commerce—Messrs. Fields, Hack, Hanson.

On Register's Accounts—Messrs. Ramsay, Hanson, Dryden.

Accounts of Committee of Finance—Messrs. Meyers, Keyser, Bradshaw.

Accounts of Committee on Health—Messrs. J. S. Brown, De Loughery, Dallam.

Accounts of Committee on City Commissioners—Messrs. Burns, Hutton, Blakeney.

Mr. Donovan, from the eighth ward, presented the petition of a number of citizens of that ward, praying for a pump. Referred to the committee on water.

A number of accounts were presented; one of them the clerk had too much of the bowels of compassion to read. Referred to committee on claims.

Very little business of moment was transacted. The room was warmer, and we found out for the first time that one bible answered the purposes of both branches. We hope the city bible society will take notice of this.

Second Branch. Two important moves were made in this branch. Fielding Lucas, Jr. moved out of the president's chair, and gave place to Robert Howard, and T. H. Belt moved out of the clerk's chair to make room for A. H. Pennington.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5, 1841.

In the House of Representatives, after the reception of some executive communications of no importance, the case of the contested election between Messrs. Naylor and Ingersoll was called up as the special order of the day.

A long debate arose on a motion to grant leave to Mr. Ingersoll to address the House in support of his claim.

The motion for leave was finally agreed to.

Mr. Ingersoll then appeared at the bar of the House, and at much length proceeded to urge his claim to the seat.

At about three o'clock, being rather weary, a motion was made to adjourn, which was agreed to.

I presume this matter will occupy the remainder of the week, as both the contestants are gentlemen not short of words.

In the Senate, after the presentation of petitions, the bill grauting to settlers on the public lands a permanent and prospective pre-emption right, was again taken up.

After some debate, the bill was laid over.

Last evening, pursuant to notice, the Secretary of War delivered his lecture to the members of the National Institution for the promotion of the useful arts. The church was much crowded, and the lecture listened to with profound attention.—Its object was to set forth the great advantages to be derived from the study of the several branches of science.

During the whole of this week, a fair will be held at Masonic Hall, over the Museum, for the gratuitous education of poor children.

BALTIMORE MARKET, Jan. 5.

Flour—The market continues dull. Sales of Howard-st. have been made from stores at $4.50. The receipt price is unsettled—some refuse to give more than $4.37½. The wagon price may therefore be quoted at $4.37½a$4.45. There have been no transactions in City Mills.

Nothing has been doing in the Grain market from which we can obtain a price for quotations.

Cattle—200 Beeves were sold on Monday, for prices ranging from $6 to $7.50 per 100 lbs.—Live Hogs we quote at $5.75a$6 per 100 lbs. The supply of these animals is good.

Provisions—Mess Pork $16 cash; new prime $14 on time. Mess Beef $13; No. 1 do. is held at $11; prime $9. Hams 10a10½c; Shoulders 8c. Glades Butter, 18a21c, &c., according to quality; Western Nos. 2 and 3, 8a12½c.

Whiskey—In hhds. 22 1-2c; in bbls. 24c; wagon price in bbls. 20c. exclusive of bbls.

MARRIED,

On the 31 inst. by the Rev. Mr. ADAMS, GEORGE L. MARTIN to Miss MARIA CROSS, both of this city.

On the 31st ult. by Mr. Riley, a justice of the peace of York, Pa. NATHAN COALE to MARTHA ANN DRAPER both of this city.

DIED,

On the 30th ult. Mrs. ELEANOR BOWLING, long a respectable inhabitant of Fell's Point, aged 65 years.

On the 3d inst. Miss GATH ANN, eldest daughter of the late Charles Jones, of Baltimore county.

HEALTH OFFICE,

JANUARY 5th, 1840.

Report of Interments in the City of Baltimore, for the last week, ending Monday morning, viz:

Consumption 9; scarlet fever 3; infantile unknown, 9; inflammation of the bowels 1; dropsy 1; disease of the spine 1; child-bed 1; still-born 2; dropsy in the head 3; sudden 2; exposure to the cold 1; scald 1; marasmus 1. Total 40.

Under 1 year,	14	Between 5 and 10,	2
Between 1 and 2,		" 10 and 21,	1
" 2 and 5,	11	Above 21,	12

Males 20; females 20—40. Of which number 5 were colored persons—7 free, 1 slave.

By order, DAVID HARRIS, Sec'y.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

MEMORANDA.

Ship Osage, Mickle, of Philadelphia, arrived at Valparaiso 26th Sept. The brig Canada, Firzgerald, of Baltimore, was expected at Guayaquil about 14th Oct.

Brig Alcenus, Scofield, for Baltimore, cleared at New Orleans 24th ult.

Brigs Sun, Ryder, and Baltimore, Parker, from Baltimore, arrived at Boston 1st inst.

TWELFTH WARD.

☞In pursuance of a public call, a number of citizens of the 12th ward assembled at Washington Shipley's Tavern, West Baltimore street, on Monday evening, January 4th, for the purpose of devising measures for the relief of the suffering poor at this very inclement season. When Gen. Joshua Medtart was called to the chair, and Dr. John R. Piper requested to act as Secretary—and the following committees appointed:

For 1st district—That part of the ward west of Green street to Cove, and North of Baltimore to Fayette—James Peregoy, Thomas Lloyd and John R. Piper.

2d—West of Green to Cove, north of Fayette to Lexington—James Piper, Rezin Wight and Otis Spear.

3d—West of Green to Cove, north of Lexington to Saratoga—Gen. Medtart, L. Dousee and Wm. H. Hart.

4th—West of Green to Cove, north of Saratoga to Franklin—R. Marley, Walter Ball and Jesse T. Peters.

5th—West of Pennsylvania Avenue to Cove, north of Franklin to city limits—David Stewart, Robert Lawson, jr. and Lloyd Moxley.

6th—South of Baltimore and west of Cove to city limits—James Dixon, P. Hoover and J. H. Coakley.

7th—West of Cove to city limits, north of Baltimore to Franklin—J. W. Blaney, James J. Hooper and P. A. McIlhon.

8th—West of Cove and north of Franklin to city limits—Caleb Whittemore, Wm. Richardson and Richard Smirdon.

It was resolved, that in consequence of the extreme severity of the weather and consequent suffering that must ensue, and does already exist, the gentlemen appointed on the foregoing committees be requested to proceed forthwith to make collections throughout their respective districts, and report and make returns on Thursday evening next, at Western Hotel, West Baltimore street.

The city papers charitably disposed will please copy.

It is hoped that every gentleman whose name is placed on the committees will feel it a duty incumbent on him to act and with promptness, for the relief of suffering humanity.

JOSHUA MEDTART, Chairman.
JOHN R. PIPER, Secretary. ja6 1tgr

Washington Junior Temperance Society.

☞The members of this Society are requested to meet at Union Hall, corner of Market street and Tripolett's alley, on SATURDAY EVENING NEXT, at half past 6 o'clock. Young men, under the age of 21 years, desirous of joining this Society, are invited to attend. By order, ja6-th 6tm WM. GEORGE HECKROTTE, Sec.

☞At a meeting of the Howard Fire Company, held 4th January, 1841, it was unanimously

Resolved, That the thanks of the Company be presented to SAMUEL HESS, our late President, on his retiring from office, for the faithful manner in which he discharged its arduous duties. By order, ja5-1t* SAMUEL REESE, Sec'y.

A GREEN SPOT IN LIFES DESERT.

☞The Ladies of Eastern section of the city will assemble on THURSDAY AFTERNOON NEXT, at 3 o'clock, in the Wesleyan Sabbath School, Bond-st., for the purpose of forming a Temperance Society on the most approved plan. All ladies, who feel interested in making Home lovely and the Domestic hearth the dwelling place of happiness and peace, are invited to attend. [A] ja5-3t

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

☞The Howard Temperance Society will hold an Experience Meeting on FRIDAY EVENING NEXT, at half past 6 o'clk. in the Rev. Mr. HEILEY'S church, Fleet street, Fell's Point. The public are invited to attend. ja5-4t

APPRENTICES Library Association.

☞A meeting of the Friends of the above Association will be held in the Baptist Church in Calvert st. on WEDNESDAY EVENING, 6th instant, at 7 o'clock. The object of the meeting is to adopt more vigorous and energetic measures to carry out the objects contemplated in the founding of an Apprentices Library. All the friends of this noble enterprize are earnestly requested to attend. Rev. Mr. BURNAP, and others, it is expected, will address the meeting.

ja5 2t A. PULLEN CRANE, Sec'y.

NOTICE.

☞The members of the Columbia Fire Company are hereby notified to attend an Annual Meeting of the Company at the Hall of their Engine House, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, 6th January, at half past six o'clock. By order, ja5-2t* AARON STOCKTON, Sec'y.

☞Dr. T. L. MURPHY has resumed the Practice of Medicine. Office No 69 BOND STREET, a few doors S. of Allisanna street. d12-tf

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,
80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

STATE of New Jersey drawing, class No. 2, 4th inst.—low st prize $5:

68 28 59 75 56 31 63 19 43 73 69 57

TO-DAY, in Baltimore, Maryland State Lottery, class 1, for 1841, to be drawn this afternoon at the Masonic Hall, St. Paul street, at half past 2 o'clock precisely, under the direction of State Commissioners. Tickets must be secured before half past 1 o'clock today 75 No. Lottery—14 Ballots. Offering excellent chances by the package A certificate for 25 whole tickets will be sold for only $65 00
25 Halves, 32 50
25 Quarters, 16 25
Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

GRAND SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$30,000		10 Prize of		$300
1 "	5000		15 "		200
1 "	3000		15 "		200
1 "	2250		15 "		150
10 "	1000		300 "		100, &c.

☞A regular package of tickets in the above Lottery can draw four of the highest capitals.

☞All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address, E. W. ROBINSON,
No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.
Agent for the State of Maryland. ja6 1t

FRANKLIN BANK.

THE NOTES or Endorsed CHECKS of the Franklin Bank, will be received by the subscriber AT PAR, on immediate application, in exchange for Goods, consisting of a general assortment of TINWARE and HOUSE KEEPING ARTICLES, viz: Table Cutlery; Britannia Ware, Fancy Hardware; Tea Trays and Waiters; Plated and German Silver Ware; Brass Fenders; Andirons, Shovels and Tongs, &c.
JAMES CORTLAN,
ja6 2t* No. 10 Baltimore and 6 Harrison streets.

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer! More P roofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMP OUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicte d Man. To Dr. SWAYNE.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I w ould not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel differen t,—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted CO UGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at ni ght; soreness a nd pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I took your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently depends on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences.

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
1y28-y

CITIZENS' BALL,
FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

THIS BALL will take place on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841. The price of Tickets is fixed at TWO DOLLARS.

SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
ANDREW J. BANDEL, Secretary.
JOSHUA VANSANT, Treasurer.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—Pink Rosette.

1st Ward,	Robert Milholland.
2d do	David W. Hodson.
3d do	John N. Millington.
4th do	A. I. W. Jackson.
5th do	Sheppard C. Leakin.
6th do	Wm. H. Cole, Jr.
7th do	John M. Harman.
8th do	Joseph Donovan.
9th do	Wm. K. Mitchell.
10th do	Wm. Barnett.
11th do	John R. Moore.
12th do	Richard Marley.

BOARD OF MANAGERS—Blue Ribbon.

First Ward—H. R. Lauderman, J. M. Turner, Jas. Grieves, Dr. Monmonier, C. Hergesheimer, John A. Robb.

Second Ward—John E. Stansbury, B. W. Herring, Wm. Rochester, J. W. Croney, J. T. Laws, William Wickersham.

Third Ward—Andrew J. Bandel, Richard Lilley, Col. Jacob Deems, Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott, Wm. B. Boyd.

Fourth Ward—Thomas Wildey, Marcus Wolf, Jacob D. Hair, James Murry, Abraham Blackeney, Wm. Hubbard.

Fifth Ward—Dr. M. Diffenderffer, Joshua Vansant, Herman Perry, Capt. John Patrick, John F. Hoss, W. H. Gobright.

Sixth Ward—Dr. R. A. Durkee, Thos. C. Dunlevy, J. Kennedy, B. W. Bool, Jr. John H. Hewitt, Richard Bradshaw.

Seventh Ward—Simeon Hays, James Ackland, Sam. Hyde, S. Teakle Wallis, Wm. Guy, Jas. M. Page.

Eighth Ward—Samuel Lucas, J. Able, Sam. Stump, Wm. C. Clayton, Charles W. Spicer, Wm. T. Rice.

Ninth Ward—Wm. R. Frazier, Jacob Walter, R. C. Murry, Wm. Chace, J. D. Webster, James McPhail.

Tenth Ward—Dr. Wm. Power, Henry Russell, Jas. Lawson, Lewis Klockgether, Andrew Martin, Peter Kroft.

Eleventh Ward—Charles Soran, John Reily, D. A. Piper, H. Raney, George Holt, Horace Miller.

Twelfth Ward—John Godman, Geo. Deal, Samuel Thompson, Joseph Kreager, Wm. Richardson, T. J. Ahern.

MASTERS OF CEREMONIES—Blue Scarf.

D. A. Piper	Richard Bradshaw,
John A. Robb	James Ackland
William Rochester	Wm. T. Rice
Andrew J. Bandel	J. D. Webster
Abel Blakely	Dr. Wm. Power
Herman Perry	George Deal.

BALLET MASTER—C. L. SEIBS—White Scarf.

COMMITTEE ON DECORATIONS—Blue Ribbon.

Thomas Wildey	William Barnett.
Simeon Hays	James M. Page.
Capt. J. Patrick

ON MUSIC—Green Rosette.

John H. Hewitt,	Jacob Walter,
	Joseph S. Donovan.

ON REFRESHMENTS—White Rosette.

D. W. Hudson,	John Riley,
	William H. Cole, Jr.

ON PRINTING—Black Rosette.

A. I. W. Jackson,	Wm. C. Clayton,
	Andrew Martin.

ON POLICE—Purple Rosette.

Capt. A. I. W. Jackson	John M. Harman
J. M. Turner	Wm. C. Clayton
Wm. Wickersham	Wm. Chace
Wm. B. Boyd	Lewis Klockgether
John F. Hoss	Charles Soran
Dr. R. A. Durkee	Wm. Richardson.

COMMITTEE OF RECEPTION—Orange Rosette.

Capt. R. Lilley	Andrew Martin
James Grieves	Dr. Monmonier
Henry Russell	T. J. Ahern
H. R. Lauderman	Samuel Lucas
C. Hergesheimer	William Gray
J. E. Stansbury	J. Abell
J. W. Croney	Samuel Stump
J. T. Laws	Wm. H. Frazier
Col. Jacob Deems	H. C. Murray
Capt. Thos. Lane	James McPhail
J. H. Marriott	James Lawson
Marcus Wolfe	James Harwood, jr.
Jacob D. Hare	Samuel Thompson
James Murray	Joseph Kreager, jr.
William Hubbard	Thomas C. Dunlevy
Dr. M. Diffenderffer	J. Kennedy
S. Teackle Wallis	Samuel Hyde
H. W. Bool, Jr.	Wm. H. Gobright.
John Godman

☞ The Board of Managers will furnish themselves with the Regalia above mentioned.

☞ The Board of Managers will call on Mr. VANSANT, at the Post Office, and receive their Tickets.

☞ The Executive Committee and Board of Managers will please be punctual in their attendance at Military Hall, Gay-st., on MONDAY EVENING NEXT, 11th inst., as the Reports of Committees will be submitted to the meeting. By order,

S. C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
A. J. BANDEL, Sec'y. [PRAT] ja6.

NURSE WANTED. A respectable female, qualified to take the exclusive charge of two Children, to assist in Sewing, and suitable for a companion, will hear of a comfortable home, by immediate application at this office. ja6-3t*

FOR SALE—75 bushels Black-eyed PEAS
20 do White BEANS
75 do Dried APPLES.
☞ For sale low, at No. 3 Light-st. whf. ja6-eo2t

13 Cases Kip and Thick BROGANS, some extra sizes, just received per barque Ida, and for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE, ja6 No. 2 S. Charles-st.

WOOD FOR SALE.

WOOD, PINE and OAK, well seasoned, at lower prices than it can be purchased for at the wharves. Inquire of BOSLEY & KNIGHTON, No. 27 Second street, or at the Wood Yard, corner of Lloyd street, opposite to Mr. Breckenridge's church. ja6 3t

INDIA RUBBER SHOES—
Men's plain RUBBERS, Women's plain do
Misses do do do fig'd do
A few cases of each. Just received per barque Ida, and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 South Charles street.

FRANKLIN MONEY RECEIVED.

A commodious two story Brick HOUSE, with a Store, in Harrison-st., near the Bend, which brings a rent of $160 per annum, will be sold for $1160 in Franklin Bank money. Inquire at 258 North Gay street. ja6-2t*

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES will be taken for MOROCCO LEATHER, at the corner of Cheapside and Lombard street, by
ja6 3t* J. W. & S. D. GRAFFLIN.

BATH BRICKS & SUCCORY.

2000 BATH BRICKS
4 hhds. German SUCCORY. Also, FAMILY FLOUR, just received and for sale by ja6-1t MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

FOR CHAPPED HANDS AND LIPS,
A CERTAIN REMEDY.
THE TRUE POMADE DEVINE.

To those who are unacquainted with the excellent virtues of the Pomade Devine, a trial in the following cases will be its best recommendation. It cures and prevents all chapping or roughness of the Hands, Lips, and Face, from the piercing effects of cold weather; cures Chilblains; immediately removes all kinds of Pimples and all kinds of Eruptions from the face, &c., leaving the skin delicately fair. It is a certain remedy for all kinds of Bruises, Burns, Scalds, &c. The Pomade possesses extraordinary healing qualities, which a short trial will prove.

Prepared by B. G. HUDDART, Perfumer,
No. 3 Holliday street.

Where may be had, the Persian Lip Salve, a beautiful article, only 12½ cents per bottle. Also, the Oriental Pearl Powder, for the ladies; Millidiar Lavende, for the Handkerchief; Vegetable Tooth Powder, from 12½ cents; Circassian, Indian, and Vegetable Oils, of superior quality, from 12½ cts. per bottle. Curls and ornamental Hair Work made to order. ja6-3m

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000 may be had on		MONDAY, for	$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	5 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
6,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 00
20,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. d7-1m

REMOVAL.

G. H. MITTNACHT, IMPORTER OF GERMAN, FRENCH, and ENGLISH FANCY GOODS, has removed from the Store he lately occupied in Baltimore street, to the Store No. 9 South LIBERTY STREET, where he will always keep a large and general assortment of FANCY GOODS, including Baskets, Toys, Clocks, Musical Instruments, Cutlery, Jewelry, Pins, Needles, Tapes, Cords, Cotton, Thread, Silk, Blacking, Ink, Slates, Marbles, Whips, &c. &c., which he is prepared to sell at the lowest wholesale prices. G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 9 S. Liberty street.

N. B. Franklin Bank Notes will be taken at par for all Goods purchased for cash. [A] ja5-2w

MRS. CONNOR'S

BOARDING HOUSE, PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, between 3d and 4½ streets, Washington City, (D. C.) where Gentlemen, visiting the District, can be accommodated with Board and Suits of Apartments, suitable for single gentlemen or families, for any length of time. d23-1m

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, elecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and honeset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North-st. d12-y

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

TAKE NOTICE. That I have applied to the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Cumberland county, for the benefit of the Insolvent Laws of this Commonwealth, and they have appointed TUESDAY, the 26th day of January, 1841, for the hearing of me and my creditors at the Court House in the borough of Carlisle, when and where you may attend, if you think proper. SAMUEL GIVEN.
December 17, 1841. ja6-3t

WANTED TO EMPLOY, by the month or year, 4 or 5 Negro men (slaves) to work on a Farm near the city. They will be well treated and the owners receive the highest wages, which will be punctually paid them in the city. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, Baltimore-st. corner of Frederick street.

Also, wanted to employ, a Colored man as Waiter in a Private Family. Apply as above. [A] ja5

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d26-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES will be received for LUMBER, at a fair price, at my LUMBER YARD, on the Falls Avenue near Pratt street Bridge, from all who may wish to dispose of their Franklin Bank Notes. WILLIAM P. MILLS.
ja4 4t

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES taken at par for GOODS, at T. W. BETTON'S Gentleman's Furnishing Store, No. 151½ BALTIMORE-ST.
d31-tf

PARTNERSHIP.

THE BUSINESS OF JACOB HOUCK will hereafter be conducted under the name of JACOB HOUCK & SON. JACOB HOUCK,
FREDERICK HOUCK.
Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja5-4t

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES; French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞ All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.
o3-tf

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by
SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

CHAMBERMAID WANTED. Wanted, in a small family, a WHITE CHAMBERMAID, who must also understand Plain Sewing. Apply in ST. PAUL STREET, 3d door north of Mulberry.
ja1-3t*

OHIO Rail Road, Tide Water, Virginia & Wheeling NOTES—For sale by n19 E. W. ROBINSON, 80 Baltimore-st.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 20 good white and colored COOKS, to fill desirable places in different parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES and 2 NURSES. d25

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 Bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by
d19 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

DRY GOODS, &c.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES.

FRANKLIN BANK PAPER will be received at Par for DRY GOODS, at unprecedented low prices, at No. 9½ Baltimore street. A lot of extra Rose and Whitney BLANKETS, and 200 pieces super CLOTHS and CASSIMERES Just received.
ja5-3t W. H. RIDGELY & CO. 9½ Balt. st.

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,

Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.

With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.
oct9 RDW. J. RICHARDSON.

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at
DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES,

TAKEN AT PAR. The advertiser has a large Stock of desirable DRY GOODS, for which Franklin Bank Notes will be received at Par, for CLOTHS and CASSIMERES of all colors and kinds; CASSINETS; FLANNELS; PRINTS of all prices; Rose and Whitney BLANKETS; figured and plain Mouseline de Laines; Black Italian Lustring and Gro de Naps; Ladies' Cloaks; Buckskin Gloves; Russia Diaper; English and French MERINOS, all colors; colored Table Cloths, with a large stock of Domestic GOODS, to which we call the attention of purchasers.

☞ Franklin Bank Notes received in payment.
DAVID RIDGELY, Market street,
Second door above Light street,
Opposite St. Paul street.

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are LOWER than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Bairzes; Piney and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Cuais; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.

N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES AT PAR.

SELLING OFF! SELLING OFF!!

HAVING on hand a large Stock of GOODS, which I wish to reduce, I will receive in payment for the same, the notes of the Tide Water Canal Company at par. In the assortment will be found a quantity of 4-4 to 14-4 Rose, Point, and Whitney Blankets; Cassimeres; 3-4, 4-4, 5-4, and 7-8 white, red and yellow Flannels; a case black and white Chintz, at only 12½ cents per yard; Fancy Chintzes and Calicoes; Mouseline de Laine, very low; bleached and brown Shirtings; Irish Linen; handsome large white Counterpanes; woollen and cotton Table Covers; green and fig'd Baize; a large variety of Table Diaper; Damask Table Cloths and Napkins; a few Lambs-wool Shirts and Pants, with all kinds of Hosiery—together with a large assortment of other Goods, all of which I have determined to put at such prices as will ensure a sale to all who will favor us with a call, at No. 60 Hanover street. d29 GEORGE BEVAN.

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mouseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½; super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7-8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1¼ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25; childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
BED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.
E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6p
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6p
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 8p
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 8p
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 8p each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleven
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mouselaine de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 8p
Excellent LINSEY, eleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 8pr
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 8pr
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Brocha do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 8p
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 8p
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 8p

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

AMUSEMENTS.

SIXTH ANNUAL BALL.

☞ The INDEPENDENT BLUES' SIXTH ANNUAL BALL will take place at the Baltimore Assembly Rooms on TUESDAY EVENING, 19th of January, 1841. Tickets can be had of either of the following

MANAGERS:

Major H. S. Sanderson,	Capt. John Brideney,
Capt. Richard Lilly,	Capt. Thomas A. Lane,
Lieut. Geo. H. Sanderson,	Jacob Deems, jr.
Lieut. Joseph Y. Ford,	F. Luchesi,
Lieut. Jacob Cook,	Theodore Pimple,
Serg't W. H. Robinson,	William T. Rice,
Serg't Thos. Sheppard, jr.	Geo. L. Steuart,
Francis Delosto,	William Towson,
Edward H. Rogers,	Mahlon Webster,
Samuel D. Johnston,	Isaac D. Cloud,
George W. Webb,	William H. Shipley,
George W. Wilhelm,	Andrew E. Warner, jr.
Thomas E. Hall,	Charles Z. Lucas.
William Holland,

N. B. In the intervals between the Dancing, the Company's BAND will perform several new Promenade Marches and favorite Airs. ja4-5t

DANCING AND WALTZING.

PRIVATE TEACHING. Mr. W. H. GRIFFITH, of New York, respectfully announces to the ladies and gentlemen of Baltimore, that he is prepared to give lessons in the above accomplishment, and has taken a Room at No. 1 N. CALVERT-ST. Having formed a class, he wishes to inform those desirous of acquiring a knowledge of the same, that he will spare no pains in forwarding those who may favor him with their patronage, having taught several of the first families in New York, among whom were those of Aaron Clarke, esq., ex-mayor; Preserved Fish, esq. Pres't Tradesmen's Bank; Alderman Botting, &c.

☞ Young Ladies, Masters, and Misses, will be taught at their respective places of abode. All communications, addressed to W. H. G. will meet with immediate attention. d31-6t*

CONCERT OF SACRED MUSIC.

THE CHOIR of the Reformed Church, (Rev. E. Heiner's,) second street, conducted by Mr. L. WILDER, and assisted by several members of the Baltimore Musical Association, will give a CONCERT OF SACRED MUSIC, on THURSDAY EVENING, January 7th, 1841.

☞ Tickets 50 cents—to be had at F. BENTZEN'S Music Store, and at the Church on the evening of performance. Performance to commence at 7 o'clock precisely. ja4-4t

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of
HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,
For the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Cheston & Son, Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq. do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq. do.
James Hepburn, esq. do.
Christian Haldeman, esq. Columbia.
Jacob M. Haldeman, esq. Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq. Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank, Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq. Cash. Girard do.
William S. Smith, esq. Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq. Boston.
Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-d2wee2w*

NOTICE.
FROM THIS DAY UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE,

The Steam-boats for Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va. will make but two trips each week, leaving the lower end of Spear's wharf, every MONDAY and THURSDAY, at half past 5 o'clock, P. M., or as soon as the Eastern Mail arrives.

Travellers, bound to Charleston, will leave Portsmouth for Weldon the morning after their departure from Baltimore, and will pass the whole distance (80 miles) on the Portsmouth and Roanoke Railroad by daylight, arriving at Weldon several hours prior to the departure of the train of Cars for Wilmington, N. C.

The Steamboats for Richmond, from Norfolk, leave every TUESDAY, THURSDAY, and SATURDAY MORNING, at sun rise.

Travellers bound to Richmond or Petersburg, leaving Baltimore on MONDAY, are put on board the James River Boat in Hampton Roads on the following morning, and arrive at the place of destination at from 3 to 4 o'clock, P. M., same day.

Fare to Weldon, (meals on board included)	$16
Fare to Norfolk, (meals included,)	10
Fare from Norfolk to Richmond, (meals included,)	4

JNO. C. MOALE, General Agent
Balt. Steam Packet Co.

☞ No freight will be received on the days of departure, between the hours of 1 and 4 P. M. ja2 8t

NOTICE.

The Steamboat POCAHONTAS will leave the lower end of Spear's wharf on FRIDAY (not Thursday) MORNING NEXT, at 10 o'clock, for Norfolk and the Portsmouth and Roanoke Railroad. Passengers bound to Charleston will arrive there early on Monday morning. Those for Richmond or Petersburg, will arrive at their place of destination on Saturday at 3 or 4 o'clk, P. M.

JOHN C. MOALE, Agent.

Fare to Norfolk,	$10
Fare to Richmond,	14
Fare to Weldon,	16

ja5 4t

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 50 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S
Periodical Emporium,
No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

TEN DOLLARS REWARD.

FLUTE LOST. A nine silver-keyed Cocoa Flute, with silver mountings, Eisenbrant's make. It was in a leather case, on which was marked "Alexander Falls, No. 3 Light-st. wharf," and on the upper tip was engraved—"A. FALLS." The finder will receive $10, on leaving it at the Clipper office, or at the office of Alex. Falls, No. 3 Light street wharf.

N. B. Pawn-brokers and others are cautioned not to receive it. ja1-eo3t

SITUATION WANTED. A young lady wishes to obtain a situation in a Dry Goods or Fancy Store. She has been in the habit for some time past of attending a Fancy Goods Store, and is well acquainted with the business. Good references can be given.
Apply at this office. ja2-eo3t

NOTICE.

On the 25th of November, a HORSE was taken up by one of the city watch and placed at the stable of the subscriber. This is to give notice to the owner or owners, that if the said Horse is not called for by WEDNESDAY NEXT, 6th January, he will be put up for sale at the Horse Market at 11 o'clock on said day.
ja2 3tw THOS. C. DUNLEVY.

BY WEVER, CANNON & CO.
No. 28 S. CHARLES STREET.

SALE OF DRY GOODS & CLOTHING.

ON WEDNESDAY MORNING Jan. 6th, at 10 o'clock, at our sales room, No. 28 S. Charles street, we will sell by auction, a general variety of Winter Clothing, viz: Dress Coats; Frock Coats; Overcoats; Pantaloons; Vests, &c. Also, immediately after, a lot of Dry Goods, &c. &c., to close a concern.
ja6 WEVER, CANNON & Co. Auct'rs.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

LADY'S BOOK, for JANUARY, 1841.—Edited by Mrs. SARAH J. HALE, and Mrs. LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY. The only Work, intended for Ladies, that is edited by their own Sex. Miss E. LESLIE contributes to every Number.

CONTENTS—Original. The Feus di Fie di Grotta; Mr. and Mrs. Woodbridge; by Miss Leslie; Amereanic Ballad, by Mr. J. B. Wilson, of London, England; Prayers at Sea, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney; False Pride, a Tale of Every Day Life, by Mrs. Mary W. Hale; The Fairy's Proffer, by Mrs. Annan; Gate Mies A. M. F. Buchanan); An Incident during a Siege, by Mrs. Mary H. Parsons; Antonio Salvini, a Tale, by Mrs. E. F. Ellet; Childhood's Laugh, by Mrs. Seba Smith; A Life of Fashion, by Mrs. Emma C. Embury; Man's First Offering, by Mrs. S. J. Hale; The Parlor Serpent, by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz; To Wordsworth, written at Rydal Mount, by Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney; Ernestine, by Esther Wetherwald; Our Life is as a Shadow, by Miss Lois Bryan. Music—The Stranger's Heart—words by Mrs. Hemans—music by Miss Augusta Browne; A Singular Fact, by Mrs. M. M. Webster; The two Trees, by Caroline T. Orne; New Year's Eve; or, Amusements at Home, by Mrs. S. J. Hale. Editor's Table.

EMBELLISHMENTS. Neapolitan Peasants—the finest Plate of the season—engraved by A. L. Dick; Fashions, Colored—Female figure, with fashionable head dress and apron; Boy's Dress; Girl's out-door Dress; Girl's in-door Dress.

☞ Baltimore Publisher—WM. N. HARRISON, No. 28 N. Gay-st., and 74 Market-st. at J. MOORE'S Bookstore, one door below Holliday street.

TERMS—$3 per year, or 25 cents each number. Register your names to-day, being a fine Christmas Gift. d24

LADIES' COMPANION, April No. for January, 1841, received by
WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. MOORE'S, No. 74 Market street—and at
No. 28 N. Gay-street, near Fayette st.

☞ Terms $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly.

Opinion of the New York Press:

We have been favored with a copy of a steel engraving of the Light House near Caldwell's Landing; intended to illustrate the January number of the Ladies' Companion, published by Mr. Snowden, 109 Fulton-st. It is indeed a fine specimen of the art, and reflects no ordinary credit upon the enterprize of the conductor of that Magazine. The number will contain articles from the following writers:

Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, Mrs. E. F. Ellet, Mrs. Annan, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances L. Osgood, Mrs. E. R. Steele, Mrs. Caroline Orne; Professors Longfellow & Ingraham; Mr. H. Herbert, Francis W. Tuckman, Greenville Mellen; Rev. J. H. Clinch; Mr. Rufus Dawes, Wm. Gilmore Sims, Epes Sargent, Park Benjamin, George P. Morris, Robert Hamilton, C. P. Daniels, H. T. Tuckerman, Henry R. Hoss, (of Philadelphia,) Wm. G. Howard, (of Ohio); Mrs. E. C. Embury; Mrs. Holland, (of London,) and many others. Also, an original piece of Music, composed by J. G. Meeder, expressly for the occasion ja6

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing Fevers, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞ Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains as aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by
jy28-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,
(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland,)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Doric

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 4, 1840.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES. Mr. Legrand obtained leave to introduce a bill to abolish the law for imprisonment for debt. Referred to Messrs. Legrand, Tuck, Poultney, Gallagher and Estep.

Mr. Prestman obtained leave to bring in a bill to change the name of Ann Maria Codling to that of Mary Ann Maria Lewis, and for other purposes.

Mr. Coad offered an order "that the Committee on Internal Improvement be directed to inquire into the expediency of increasing the charges of tolls and transportation on the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Baltimore and Susquehanna Rail Road and Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, and that said Committee report as soon as practicable.

Mr. Tuck obtained leave to bring in a bill for the more speedy trial of causes in the Court of Appeals of Maryland. Referred to the Committee on Grievances and courts of justice.

Mr. E. A. Lynch reported a bill to alter and regulate the mode of appointing Lottery Commissioners in this State. The bill introduced by Mr. Lynch provides for the election of two instead of three Commissioners.

Mr. Gaither moved that the special committee, raised to reform the Constitution, enquire into the expediency of reporting a bill to alter the Constitution as to provide for biennial instead of annual sessions.

Several other motions were made and bills introduced but of no material importance.

BANK OF THE UNITED STATES.

MONDAY, Jan. 4, 1841.

The Committee appointed on the 31st ultimo, to enquire whether any, and if any, what dividend for the last six months should be declared out of the profits of the Bank of the United States, report:

That from the statement herewith submitted, marked (A) it will appear that the amount of profits arising from discounts, exchange, interest, and other sources, during the last six months, is one million two hundred thousand four hundred and twenty-nine dollars and eighty-nine cents. 1,200,429 89

The current expenses of the bank for its officers and agencies for the same period amounting to	138,869 97
Being deducted will leave		1,061,559 92
To this amount must be added balance remaining to credit of profit and loss as reported by the last Dividend Committee, amounting to	2,404,056 49
Making together	3,465,626 41
From which is to be deducted the sum of	1,308,564 89
Being for interest on Loans in Europe and on bond to the United States, loss on Foreign Exchange, expenses on loans, and cost of specie and specie funds.
Leaving the sum of		2,157,061 15
From which is also to be deducted the semi-annual appropriation for the extinguishment of the loans	100,000 00
Leaving the aggregate net profits of the Bank	2,057,061 52

The committee farther report—

That the statement herewith submitted marked (B) exhibits the last return of suspended debt and real estate with an estimate of the probable loss thereon, and an account of the interest due on the same. The statement C presents a comparative view of these several subjects, and the statement D presents the statement of the contingent fund to meet the losses of the bank. From these several statements it will appear that the amount of the contingent fund is 6,505,241 88

From which deduct the losses chargable to the same	5,790,630 57
Standing on the books of the bank including the losses at Philadelphia and those transferred from the office of the late bank.
Leaving to credit of contingent fund,		714,651 31
And that the estimated probable loss on the suspended debt and real estate is	4,930,640 57
To which must be added the losses at offices and agencies, not transferred to the books at Philadelphia	727,855 99
	6,658,496 56
From which may be deducted the interest on that part of the suspended debt, estimated good,	512,125 87
Leaving an estimated probable loss of	5,146,370 62

On submitting this statement the Committee offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is inexpedient at this time to declare a dividend on the capital stock of this Bank.

Bank of the United States, Jan. 2, 1841.

(Signed) M. NEWKIRK,
LEWIS WALN,
JAMES MARTIN,
ROBERT TAYLOR,
RICHARD PRICE.

The printed statement alluded to in the proceedings of the meeting of the Stockholders of the Bank of the United States, is before us, but its length precludes its publication to day. It may be stated in general terms that:

ASSETS—Active,	12,187,111 10
Suspended,	9,799,800 58
Stocks,	31,665,553 66
Real Estate, &c.,	3,662,673 53
Bonds and Mortgages,	819,936 31
Balances with foreign agents,	578,195 41
Bonus for Charter,	2,000,000 00
Due by State Banks,	8,714,800 23
Notes of State Banks,	1,148,191 93
Specie,	2,171,722 97
Resulting balances,	627,428 09
	74,603,142 46
LIABILITIES—Total circulation,	11,223,658 99
Unclaimed dividends,	31,386 80
Loans in Europe,	12,575,301 97
Bonds do	502,992 22
Bonds to U. States,	633,643 83
[This has been advanced, but the vouchers have not yet been received.]
Guarantee of Planters' Bank,	550,000 00
Guarantee to state of Michigan,	1,347,750 00
Due to State Banks,	6,334,221 32
Due Depositors,	3,164,354 50
	36,959,539 63
Capital Stock,	35,000,000 00
	71,959,539 63
Surplus,	2,643,602 83
	74,603,142 46

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

MR. DAVISON'S WRITING ACADEMY, for instructions with the Muscular Guide, No. 41 Baltimore street. The plan recommended by the Maryland Institute of Teachers. au8-y

M. H. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 62 S. CALVERT STREET, keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c. d22-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 27 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. d22-y

MARX M. HART, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d19-6m

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 43 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n16-3m

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. n12-y WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se29-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se22-d

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 2 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. o4-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. jy23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je10-6m*

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 112 BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. au26-y

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 39 Fayette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. m11-y1m*

MINIATURES, Painted in the best style, by Mrs. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. mh19-y

COMPOUND SYRUP of HOREHOUND.

FOR the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Pain and Oppression of the Breast, and all Diseases arising from a disordered condition of the Lungs.

Perhaps there is no Medical Observation better established and none more generally confirmed by experience of the best Physicians of all ages in all countries, than the Fact, that many of the most difficult and incurable Consumptions originate in neglected colds. In a climate so variable as ours, where the changes of weather are frequently sudden and unexpected, it requires more care and attention to guard against this dangerous enemy to human life, than most persons are able and willing to bestow. The bills of mortality exhibit the alarming and melancholy fact, that the number of deaths by this disease are as five to one. Inasmuch then as this fatal disease is increasing, and spreading so widely and fearfully, and bidding defiance often to the combined skill of the most eminent physicians, it is a gratification to the subscriber to be enabled to offer to all of consumptive habits, or those afflicted with distressing pains in the side or breast, or any affection of the breast or lungs, a reasonable and almost certain prospect of relief.

The COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND is a medicine suitable to persons of all ages and sexes; and if taken on the appearance of the first symptoms, which are a COUGH or PAIN in the BREAST, will in nine cases out of ten afford relief, and effect a speedy cure.

Price 50 cents per bottle, Prepared and sold by SETH S. HANCE, corner of Charles and Pratt streets, Baltimore; and J. S. STANSBURY, Thames street, Fell's Point. d 12-y

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headache; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma, Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as is Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞ A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.

Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.

Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.

Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. ROBY.

WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. Roby having spent two years in practice with Dr. G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call.

d19-6m H. N. ROBY.

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side; the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Harlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. jy28-y

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞ None genuine without the name of COMSTOCK & Co., written on the wrappers.

SOLOMON HAYS.

☞ For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. au24-eo6m

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable GILT MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon Varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞ Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

se17-tf E. S. FRYER, No. 9 N. Gay street.

JOB PRINTING OFFICE,
No. 7 N. GAY STREET.

BULL & TUTTLE, practical JOB PRINTERS respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have removed their Printing Establishment to No. 7 N. GAY STREET, (three doors above their former office,) in the building recently occupied as the office of the Baltimore Chronicle, which has been fitted up in superior style, for the most extensive operations. Their assortment of TYPE, BORDERS, &c. &c. are of fashionable cast, to which they are adding every material, new in the art, in order to keep pace with the improvements of the times. They will print to order,

Cards, Ball Tickets,	Showbills in Colors,
Circulars, Checks,	Handbills, Waybills,
Notes, Bill-heads,	Steamboat Bills,
Bills of Lading,	Rail Road do.
Bills of Exchange,	Stage do.
Commercial Blanks,	Catalogues,
Custom house do.	Auction Bills,
Insurance Policies,	Election Tickets,
Lottery Bills,	Hatters' Tips.

Together with every description of FANCY JOB PRINTING, for framing.

Large Posting Bills for Theatres, &c.

Particular attention paid to the getting up of Large Posting Bills of every kind, for Theatres, Circuses, Shows, &c., for which purpose an assortment of the MOST FASHIONABLE LARGE WOOD TYPE has been laid in, without regard to expense.

Magistrates' Blanks.

Always on hand for sale, a ful assortment of those Magistrates' Blanks which have given such universal satisfaction to all who have used them.

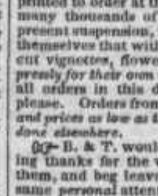
Small Notes,

For Corporations, Private Individuals, Country Merchants, Tavern Keepers, Public Institutions, &c. &c. printed to order at the shortest notice. Having printed many thousands of small notes during the late and present suspension, with entire satisfaction, they flatter themselves that with the addition of a variety of new cut vignettes, flowers and borders, with dies cast expressly for their own use, they feel induced to say that all orders in this department shall be warranted to please. Orders from a distance promptly attended to, and prices as low as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

☞ B. & T. would take this opportunity of returning thanks for the very liberal patronage extended to them, and beg leave to assure their friends that the same personal attention, as heretofore, will be paid to the execution of all orders in their business, and at the same reasonable prices. ap26-tf

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That at their regular annual session, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore will be petitioned for an extension and location of Lee-st. from Eutaw west to Scott-st., and of Scott-st. from Cross st. south to the Patapsco, and of Ostend st. from S. Sharp west to the porwarden's line, and within the limits of these streets thus extended and as now located or opened, and within other limits, all of which are described as follows: the Patapsco on the south, thence along Ostend-street to Hanover-st. along Hanover to Little Montgomery-st., along Little Montgomery to Eutaw street, along Eutaw to Lee street, along Lee to Scott street, along Scott to the Patapsco; the petitioners will pray that every street, lane, alley or road, except south Sharp-street, whether each be merely located, or be condemned and opened as a highway, may be forever closed and shut up—also, that Little Montgomery-st. from Sharp to Eutaw be shut up; also that south of Ostend st. and west of Race that Leadenhall and S. Sharp st. and the two alleys running parallel therewith be shut up. And the petitioners will pray further, that the streets named in the following description be extended, and be located as the other unopened streets of the city generally are, to wit: S. Sharp-st. from Little Montgomery south to Ostend, Howard from Hill S. to Moale-st., Eutaw from Little Montgomery south to Moale, Paca from Little Paca south to the wharf, Greene from Columbia south to the wharf, Sterret from Columbia south to the river, and that between Green and Sterret, two other streets be located, one at one third and the other at two thirds of the distance from Greene to Sterret-st. and that each begin at Lee-st. and be run south to the river; also that an alley 20 feet wide be located between Hanover and Sharp street, and between every two of the streets, to be run north and south; also that Hill-st. be extended and located from Howard west to Scott street, Great Montgomery & Henrietta from Hanover west to Scott, Hamburg and West from S. Charles west to Scott, and Cross from Light-st. west to Scott. It is intended that Howard street be extended 82 feet wide, Eutaw 82 feet, with five squares near the river, 134 feet wide, for a market place, Lee and Hill-sts. 70 feet, and every other street 66 feet wide. n17-2aw9w*

PHRENOLOGY.



The subscriber respectfully informs the Ladies and Gentlemen of Baltimore and its vicinity, that he may be found at his office, No. 4 NORTH STREET, next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION. His Charts are carefully designed—and, from his long experience and extensive practice, a correct delineation of character may be confidently expected. Phrenological Books, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale. E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist. d29-ytm*

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slatt-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-tf A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

3 The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having defied the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO. No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-streets., on the corner of Chier's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 3 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Dr.; Store, Washington City; E. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.

Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. o31-tf

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HAND BILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret diseases. Three doses in box—only $1.

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute Rheumatism; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

ELEGANT INCORRUPTIBLE

AFTER YEARS of incessant toil and endless experiments, I have succeeded in producing most splendid specimens of INCORRUPTIBLE MINERAL TEETH. They possess an exact resemblance to sound human teeth—and, being incapable of either discoloration or corrosion, forever retain their color and purity in the mouth.

These elegant Teeth are inserted from a single tooth to complete sets of twenty-eight, and the extremely accurate and delicate manner of adapting them to the mouth, renders them highly useful in restoring mastication and utterance. Having in process of manufacture upwards of 12,000 of these Teeth, embracing every imaginable variety of shade, size, and shape, I can match the contiguous systemic teeth with such nicety as to set at defiance the scrutiny of the most observant.

The recent discovery of a valuable mineral production, has rendered the manufacture of these teeth so much less expensive and tedious, that I am enabled to make a very great reduction on the charges douatly exacted, and in a style noways inferior to any in the profession. Decayed Teeth permanently PLUGGED with Pure Gold. EXTRACTING, FILING or SEPARATING, CLEANSING, &c. &c.

☞ Irregularities in children's teeth rendered perfectly symetrical. Gold PALATES accurately adapted, so as completely to restore articulation.

TOOTH-ACHE! TOOTH-ACHE!!

☞ Sufferers by this distressing malady, find instantaneous relief by applying for my "TOOTH-ACHE REMEDY." The ingredients of which this valuable preparation is composed, are of such a nature as not to injure the sound teeth. In very few cases has this remedy been known to fail; should a failure occur, extraction will be performed without charge."

☞ Price of the Remedy—50 cents per phial.

J. H. WILCOCK, M. D., Dental Surgeon,
No. 39 Fayette-st., near the Post Office.

N.B. Teeth extracted at any hour of the day or night. o2-aww3m

CITY INTELLIGENCE,
REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE,
N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Porters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to EMPLOY any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

☞ Office open from 7 A.M. until 8 P.M.

The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

REFER TO—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., H. W. BOOT, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N. B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. [A] o22

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,

Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosankrantz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophicleydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap18-1y

B. G. HUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR WORK of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. a15-eo6m

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞ Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞ The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST,

o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival. For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. G. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

And in Washington City, by

CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.

☞ With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

MARYLAND STATE Six per cent. STOCK, in sums to suit purchasers—For sale by n12 E. W. ROBINSON, 89 Baltimore-st.

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE,
1st January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one of Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled 'The Playmates;' a plate of fashions, with three female figures beautifully colored; two pages of Music, and Angling illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER:

The Young Rambler, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Soldier's the Last for Me, by A. McMakin.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Durang.
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Reefer of '76, by the author of 'Cruising in the Last War.'
Sabbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. Clark.
Thine—Only Thine. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. Feling.
Music. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by E. Kelly.

EMBELLISHMENTS:

'The Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞ Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city and sent by mail to all parts of the United States and the Canadas, by the publisher.

Subscriptions received at

WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, 74 Market-st.
And at No. 29 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
Baltimore, Md.

ja2

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty, 16 superb plates—price	$3.50
Keepsake, 15 do	3.50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals, 15 plates,	2.00
Forget-Me-Not, 11 plates	2.00
Friendship's Offering, 10 plates,	2.00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at

WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
a21 And at No. 29 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS.
AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by

SAM'L CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

Washington City, by

W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.

In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.
oc9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
No. 3 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS.)

HAVE FOR SALE, 10 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10	cases	do	do	Cap	PAPER
15	do	Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter			PAPER
5	do	do	do	do	Cap do
4	do	do	do	do	Folio post do
20	do	Hudson's	do	do	Letter do
15	do	do	do	do	Cap do
10	do	do	do	do	Flat Cap do
8	do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super royal		WRITING PAPER
12	do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter			do
6	do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2	do	do	Super Flat Cap
12	do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5	do	Dickey and Leyste's	do		do
10	do	Plitner & Smith's	do		do
4	do	do	Folio and Packet Post
15	do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2	do	do	Ledger PAPERS
20	do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter

2000 reams NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2000 do Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300 do Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞ Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Band Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n18

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE HELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imparted by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charges, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a run, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP
WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 76 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFRIEYS has just received, a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞ All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT H. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
se10-6m No. 12 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $3000. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to

GEORGE GELBACH,
Real Estate and General Agency Office,
a21 [A] 6ce, corner Balt. & Frederick sts.

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rochester White Wheat FLOUR
20 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs. Zante CURRANTS.

Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by

n13-tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

SUPERIOR CHEWING TOBACCO, and Regalia, Havana, and Principe CIGARS—for sale by

se9 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

MAGISTRATES' BLANKS, On hand and for sale by BULL & TUTTLE, Printers, No. 7 N. Gay street, (Clipper Office.)

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞ COUNTRY SUBSCRIBERS can receive the paper by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as may please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square 1 time,	$0 50	1 square 1 month,	$4 00
1 do. 2 times,	75	1 do. 2 months,	7 00
1 do. 3 do.	1 00	1 do. 3 do.	10 00
1 do. 1 week,	1 75	1 do. 6 do.	16 00
1 do. 2 weeks,	2 75	1 do. 1 year,	30 00

☞ Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.

VOL. III. NO. 98.] THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 7, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

JOB PRINTING,
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

THE proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enamelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞ Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

OBLIVION.—(BY J. H. HEWITT.)

I heard the rolling muffled drum,
And piercing fife, as lone I stray'd;
"Thus, thus," thought I, "within the tomb,
Shall fame's undying wreaths be laid!"
Upon a monument I saw
The hero's glorious deeds retraced;
Oblivion came—I read no more,
His name—his deeds were all effaced.

I saw a monarch on his throne,
A throne of skulls, imbrued in blood;
An awful splendour round him shone,
As high he sat, "the great, the good."
I saw the veil of death unfurl'd
Over his stern and stately brow;
Oblivion swept him from the world—
Lo! where's his name, his greatness now?

I saw a bard, and o'er the lyre,
His fingers swept, in thirst of fame;
His soul was melting on each wire,
His pen sent forth its tides of flame.
I saw him write his epitaph,
'Twas "dust to dust, and clay to clay;"
Oblivion came—he waved his staff,
And e'en that dust was swept away!

I saw the planets, moon and sun,
Array'd in all their glorious light,
Careering smoothly, brightly on,
Pouring out lustre in their flight.
Oblivion came—Creation's groan
Was heard amid the crash of spheres;
Worlds upon worlds were overthrown,
And Time, himself, summed up his years.

Ye beings of a little hour!
Flow'rets that bloom, then cease to be,
Know ye who checks Oblivion's power?
He who can span infinity.
And, oh! how sad it is to see
So many rushing madly on,
Spurning a bright eternity,
To plunge in hell's Oblivion!

GREEN ROOM DROLLERIES.

AN EXTEMPORE TRAVESTIE.

It was a cold February night, and there was an audience of one. The play was King Lear, and there was no 'back out' in the manager. The individual who composed the audience had exposed himself in the pit, and he was ashamed to 'back out' too, though it was evident he was in an uncommon 'fix,' and would gladly have been any where else than where he was. Up drew the curtain, and on walked the natural son and unnatural brother, Edmund.

"Thou, Nature, art my Goddess," &c. commenced the actor, and so proceeded in his twenty line soliloquy about half way, when he suddenly stopped, and walking forward to the foot-lights, addressed the audience, who, as will be seen, was an old and intimate acquaintance.

"Jack, I am sorry to see the house so very uncomfortably crowded, and as it seems impossible for you to obtain a seat, I hope you will go home immediately."

"O never mind," said the audience, "I am quite comfortable, and I beg you will not put yourself out on my account. Tell the other ladies and gentlemen, old King Lear and the rest, to come on, for I am a liberal and enlightened audience I assure you, and have an especial devotion for Shakspeare." Saying which, the audience took his stick and gave himself a unanimous round of applause.

The actor, though a bold and facetious fellow, had broken through the rules of the theatre as far as he thought well of for the time, and with a laugh and a wink at his friend, the audience, he went on and completed his soliloquy.

The play progressed. The whole company was in receipt of full salaries, and the manager had been suffering a severe run of hard luck; so, his policy being never to dismiss an audience of even one, the company, however disgreeable the duty to act under such circumstances, had neither right or inclination to thwart his wishes. This consideration, however, could not keep down the facetious spirit of the comedians, and, as a natural consequence, the exquisite tragedy was transformed into about the richest burlesque that was ever enacted upon any stage. Through the two first acts the actors kept within tolerable bounds, hoping the audience would get sick and dismiss himself, but he was too wide awake for that; he was an old familiar among the players, and, seeing the fun brewing, he heroically kept his seat in the middle of the pit. Between the acts he amused himself calling out 'boots,' 'physic,' introducing also the elegant variations of whistling, stamping, crunching peanuts, and imitating all the customary sounds of a crowded auditory.

The third act opened and advanced, and scarcely a line was spoken that was not so perverted as to furnish glorious matter for a book of comic illustrations. The wag of an audience abandoned himself heart and soul to the sport, now joining in a word with the actors, and again applauding with his stick and disporting himself in ecstacies of laughter.

"Unaccommodated men is no more but such a poor, bare-footed thing as thou art!" said tottering Lear, looking at and pointedly addressing the jolly individual in the pit. Presently afterward mad Edgar exclaimed, "This is the foul fiend, Flibbertigibbet: he begins at curfew and walks till the second cock!" &c., pointing directly at the same good humored worshipper of the drama.

"Stop, stop the play," said the audience.—"Ladies and gentlemen, be kind enough to wait a few moments, will you, till I go to the bar and get a little warm winter beverage?"

"Peace, Smolkin, peace, thou foul fiend!" roared poor mad Tom, adding, "I say, Jack, let that be for two while you're about it!"

In the fourth act a black boy walked on to the stage with a number of smoking glasses of hot drink upon a waiter, and as all idea of acting the play properly was now entirely abandoned, the players stopped at once, took the tumblers in their hands, and then went on speaking and drinking, touching glasses, and laughing beyond all control or restraint at the supremely extraordinary and ridiculous scene that was going forward. The audience had continued to send the boy round to the private entrance, with orders to march directly on to the stage and suffer no person to stop him, which commission the little nigger faithfully executed.

The fifth act went on, and Lear came staggering on in the last scene with dead Cordelia in his arms, exclaiming, "Howl, howl, howl, howl!" "Ladies and gentlemen, will you do me the favor to howl?" This wound up the play, for the man in the pit instantly rose up and commenced howling like a dog, the actors joined in, and a sudden and irresistible climax was given to the whole affair by the house dogs in the neighborhood setting up a vociferous serenade all round the theatre, which was continued in melodious echoes, by

"Mastiff, grey-hound, mongrel grim,
Hound and spaniel, brach and lym,
Bobtail tike and trundle tail," and every "Tray, Blanch and Sweet-heart" in the town!

The manager rung down the curtain himself, hoped the ladies and gentlemen had sufficiently amused themselves, and thought, after such a laughable tragedy, there would be no occasion for a farce, as on peeping through the curtain he discovered that the audience had concluded to go home.

Extravagant as this may all appear, it is the relation of an actual occurrence which took place in Montgomery, Ala., in the severe winter of 1835.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 4, 1841.

SENATE. In the Senate, Benj. C. Howard, Esq., the Senator from Baltimore, appeared, qualified and took his seat.

The bill to alter the constitution so far as relates to the power of the Legislature to grant Lotteries, passed December session, 1839, chapter 31, was passed.

In the Senate, the following bill has been reported by Mr. Scott, of Harford:

A BILL, entitled an act to give to the Chancellor and the County Courts, as Courts of Equity, jurisdiction in cases of Divorce.

In the House, on motion of M. E. A. Lynch, it was Ordered, That the Committee on Grievances and Courts of Justice, be instructed to enquire into the expediency of instituting proceedings, on the part of this State, to foreclose the deed of mortgage executed by the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company to the State of Maryland, on the 23d day of April, 1835, in pursuance of the provisions of the act of the General Assembly, passed December session, in the year 1834, and that the said committee be authorized to report by bill or otherwise.

Mr. Nesbit obtained leave to bring in a bill to repeal the law establishing magistrates' Courts in this State, and to extend the jurisdiction of single justices in certain cases; referred to a Select Committee.

Mr. Legrand obtained leave to bring in a bill supplementary to an act to incorporate the Baltimore and Potomac Steam Packet Company, passed in 1828, chap. 183.

Mr. Graves offered an order, requiring the Treasurer to report the account of the Legislature, for the years ending 1st December, 1838, '39 and '40, and the amount paid for public printing to the same date on said years.

Mr. Gantt obtained leave to bring in a bill to authorise the Banks of this State to receive and pay out the notes of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad; referred to a Select Committee.

Mr. Gallagher reported a bill to incorporate the Western Beneficial Society of Baltimore; referred to the committee on corporations.

Mr. Tall reported a bill for better regulating the harbor.

Mr. Legrand reported a bill to abolish the law of imprisonment for debt.

FROM HAVANA. We have received intelligence to the 21st ult. The correspondent of the Noticioso states that a new Governor of the island of Porto Rico had arrived, who was received in a very polite and handsome manner.

Fanny Elssler had arrived and taken lodgings for herself and suite at the hotel of C. S. West.

An article copied from the Vera Cruz Censor, announces that a law has been passed by the Mexican congress, at its late session, imposing a duty on copper of $4 per arroba, whatever may be the shape or condition of the article.

Advices from Tampico, received in Havana by private letters dated in November, give the important information that Tampico is destitute of flour. The current price of flour has been as high as $70 the tercio.

The permission given to Arista to import into Matamoras certain articles prohibited by the general law of the country, to enable him to raise means for carrying on the war against the federalists and the Texians, has been disapproved of and is opposed in every other port on the Gulf coast, as ruinous to their interests.

A Vera Cruz paper of the 24th November, says a violent gale about the 1st of the month, caused the entire destruction of three vessels in the port of San Blas, on the pacific shore; two of which were Mexican, and one foreign. Five lives were lost.

SEIZURE AND RESCUE. The Toronto (U. C.) Examiner states that, sometime since, the collector of that port seized about 40 chests of tea, which, according to the custom, he sent to the store of Mr. Strange, for sale. On the night of the 21st ult. the store was broken open, and the tea removed, no injury having been done to any other property.

FIRE. On the 14th ult. the sugar house of M. St. Marc Darby, near New Iberia, in the parish of Attakapas, was destroyed by fire, and with it one hundred and eighty hhds. of sugar. Loss $26,000, and no insurance.

FROM TEXAS. We have received Texas papers to the 22d ult. from which we glean the following:

A report was in circulation at Galveston on the 22d, that a large number of Mexicans were preparing to invade Texas, but the report was not believed, and created no alarm. Charles Huttner, late of Buffalo, N. Y. mysteriously disappeared on the 24th November from Matagorda, and had not been found. He went out with his gun for the purpose of sporting, and it is supposed that he had perished in the swamp.

The committee on Naval Affairs in the Texan Congress have reported in favor of laying up the Navy in ordinary.

Both Houses of Congress have passed the resolution granting the President leave of absence; and it is said that he intends visiting the U. States in the hope of improving his health.

A bill has been introduced into Congress to provide for the removal of the Lipan and Tonkewa Indians beyond the frontiers.

Quite a procession moved through the streets of Houston on the 17th ult. under the command of Bob Wilson, for the purpose of saluting Mr. McQueen, late Post Master at New Orleans.—They called at the jail, delivered an address, and received the following in reply:

"Gentlemen, you see before you a prisoner who has never offended against the laws of Texas. I came to your country in good faith to support your constitution and laws, to plough your fertile fields, and if necessary, to go to the frontier; but I have been cooped up by false swearing. My friends, I thank you for your sympathies."

This speech was replied to with three cheers, and the band struck up a lively air and the procession moved on its way.

FROM MEXICO. From the New Orleans Bulletin of the 25th ult. we have the following intelligence:

"By the Eusebio, arrived yesterday, in ten days from Campeachy, we learn that there was continued peace and prosperity throughout Yucatan. Tobasco was wholly in the possession of the federalists, the captured force having been variously disposed of; the greater part having declared their intention to pursue agricultural vocations within the state. The Texian steamer Zavala, our informant states, was at the town of Tobasco ready for a voyage. She had been on the bar, and was in danger for a while—threw overboard three guns and cut away a mast before she got off. She had repaired the damage, however, and was in order to proceed to sea, at the last intelligence."

LATEST FROM THE EAST. A letter received by the Portland Argus, from "Fish River Post," dated Dec. 16, says: "The news of the day is, that within a few days, about two hundred of John Bull's troops have marched into Madawaska and taken up their head quarters on the north side of the St. John's river, near the old chapel. What their intentions are, I do not know: but from present appearances, they intend to keep possession of the north side of the St. John's river, and march up, or about up, to the line pointed out by the King of the Netherlands. The same force remains at Temiscouata Lake, which was there last summer and fall. They have strengthened their force at the foot of the lake to about seventy-five."

THE STRANGE DISEASE IN THE WEST. Various opinions have recently appeared relative to the appearance of a strange disease in West Tennessee. From the Cincinnati Chronicle we learn that it turns out to be what was formerly called the spotted fever, or a high stage of the typhus, amounting in fact to a plague. It is probable that it arose solely from a local cause. It once pervaded large districts of the western and south-western country, but has not been known, except in particular cases, since.

STAGE ACCIDENT. On Thursday evening the mail stage from New York for Albany was upset about 5 miles from Greenwich, falling on a young man named Julius Senton, a resident of Schodack and a native of Canada. He had jumped on the outside of the sleigh for the purpose of riding a mile or two. It was doubtful whether he could recover.

SHIPWRECK. The barque Irene, from Stockholm, bound to New York, with a cargo of about 500 tons of iron, consigned to Boorman, Johnston & Co., went ashore at Fireplace, 40 miles east of Rockaway, Long Island, a few days ago. The vessel will be a total loss; cargo probably saved.

A hatter in Newark, down in Wayne county, gives a very clever definition of the common phrase, "over head and ears in debt." He says in his advertisement, it means a man hasn't paid for his hat.

AN EMINENT JURIST DEAD. The Portland Argus of Dec 31, announces the death of Prentiss Mellen, of Portland, aged 76 years. Mr. Mellen was the oldest member of the bar in this country. He has practised here since 1789.

☞ The latest news from Montevideo represents the whole country to be in a dreadful state—business was at a stand while life and property were insecure.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE,
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE!

TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Bay Line—the Companies on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedule:

Leave Philadelphia	8 A.M. reach	Baltimore	2 P.M.
" Baltimore	4 P.M.	" Washington	6 P.M.
" Washington	5 A.M.	" Fredk'sburg	12 M.
" Fred'ksburg	12 M.	" Richmond	5 P.M.
" Richmond	5 P.M.	" Petersburg	7 P.M.
" Petersburg	7 P.M.	" Weldon	1 A.M.
" Weldon	1 A.M.	" Wilmington	1 P.M.
" Wilmington	1 P.M.	" Charleston	at 5 the next day.

As this Line carries the Great Mail, (which cannot be delayed,) and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is sure of a connection throughout, whilst it is evident that Fogs! Rough Weather!! and Storms!!! must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two-thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT ISLAND ROUTE.

☞ The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon: and travellers have no expense or trouble with their Baggage.

☞ This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞ This is the only Daily Line to Richmond and Petersburg.

☞ Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of
STOCKTON, FALLS & CO.
Adjoining the Philadelphia Rail Road Office,
d12-tf PRATT STREET, Baltimore.

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.

The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $3.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $5. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate

HATS!
HATS!!
HATS!!!
HATS!!!!
HATS!!!!!

Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at
W. H. KEEVIL & CO'S,
No. 66½ Baltimore-st., opposite Tripolett's alley,
And 4 doors W. of Bool's well known Auction Store.
d16-tjn19

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.
LADY'S BOOK, for JANUARY, 1841.—Edited by Mrs. SARAH J. HALE, and Mrs. LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY. The only Work, intended for Ladies, that is edited by their own Sex. Miss E. LESLIE contributes to every Number.

CONTENTS—Original. The Festa di Pie di Grotta; Mr. and Mrs. Woodbridge, by Miss Leslie; Anacreontic Ballad, by Mr. C. B. Wilson, of London, England; Prayers at Sea, by Mrs L. H. Sigourney; False Pride, a Tale of Every Day Life, by Mrs. Mary W. Hale; The Fairy's Proffer, by Mrs. Annan, (late Miss A. M. F. Buchanan); An Incident during a Siege, by Mrs. Mary H. Parsons; Antonio Salvini, a Tale, by Mrs. E. F. Ellet; Childhood's Laugh, by Mrs. Seba Smith; A Life of Fashion, by Mrs. Emma C. Embury; Man's First Offering, by Mrs. S. J. Hale; The Parlor Serpent, by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz; To Wordsworth, written at Rydal Mount, by Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney; Ernestine, by Esther Wetherwald; Our Life is as a Shadow, by Miss Lois Bryan. MUSIC—The Stranger's Heart—words by Mrs. Hemans—music by Miss Augusta Browne; A Singular Fact, by Mrs. M. M. Webster; The two Trees, by Caroline T. Orne; New Year's Eve; or, Amusements at Home, by Mrs. S. J. Hale. Editor's Table.

EMBELLISHMENTS. Neapolitan Peasants—the finest Plate of the season—engraved by A. L. Dick; Fashions, Colored—Female figure, with fashionable head dress and apron; Boy's Dress; Girl's out-door Dress; Girl's in-door Dress.

☞ Baltimore Publisher—WM. N. HARRISON, No. 26 N. Gay st., and 74 Market-st. at J. MOORE'S Bookstore, one door below Holliday street.

TERMS—$3 per year, or 25 cents each number. Register your names to-day, being a fine Christmas Gift.
d24

A NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.
THE LADY'S BOOK, Bound, Volume XXII, Price $2.00.

LIST OF ENGRAVINGS:
1. Fairmount Water Works, Philadelphia.
2. The Pilgrims.
3. The Indian Maid.
4. Happy as a King.
5. Death of Lusth.
6. Constantinople.
—Colored PRINTS of the latest Fashions.
N. B. The January number for 1841 is just received. Price 25 cents—or $3 per year. For sale at
W. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Office,
No. 26 N. Gay street—and at
JOHN MOORE'S Bookstore,
d29 No. 74 Market-st. 1 door below Holliday.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Warranted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by Dr. HITZELBERGER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $2!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

Dr. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of 10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $2. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. se3-ylm*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.
DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND,
For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabets or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the uretha of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, composed solely of vegetable substance? One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N. B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of P. J. PITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Briton and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞ For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue. And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL.
dec5-y

A BLESSING TO ALL MANKIND.

The VEGETABLE FLUID SYRUP, or Mercurial Extractor. This infallible Drug is the discovery of an old veteran and hero of the vegetable kingdom; from his long research, his labors have been crowned with the glorious result of a positive remedy for the bad effects of that poisonous drug (Mercury,) and while it has this new efficacious effect upon the bones affected with mercury, it at the same time purifies the blood from the remnants of Venereal Disease, Scrofulous Affections, Splotches and Eruptions upon the Skin, old standing indolent Ulcers, &c.

For sale, wholesale, and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO., No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-sts., on the corner of Uhler's alley; and at the General Agency Office, No. 3 Pitt street, Baltimore. Also, at WM. LANPHIER'S Drug Store, Washington, D. C. o21

LUMBER! LUMBER!! LUMBER!!!
THE Subscriber offers to his friends and the public in general, at his Lumber Yard on the Falls, below Pratt street Bridge, (office head Union Dock,) a large and general assortment of Seasoned LUMBER—such as Pannel, Common, Select Cullings, Joist, Rafters, Shingles, Lathe, N. Carolina and E. S. Flooring; with every other article necessary to make a good assortment. A quantity of Ark Logs, and also Ash Plank, will be sold at reduced prices, as I have a large quantity on hand. All those who buy for cash, may expect a liberal discount.
je25-d D. E. THOMAS.

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor DUCATEL,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.
HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.

☞ Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
A AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 24 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Coal-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 100,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and uncut, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞ Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.
je18-d HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.
mh3-dtf HOPE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.
THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.
a3-dtf G. W. PEARCE.

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

THURSDAY MORNING, Jan. 7, 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

Idleness. If the old saying be true, that "an idle man is a temptation to the devil," then many a parent has much to answer for in the manner they bring up their children. Labor is, unfortunately, not only becoming unfashionable, but in the eyes of a large portion of the young of both sexes disreputable. A hard hand excludes its possessor from what is termed respectable society, though accompanied by an honest heart. A fashionable fop or belle, like Coriolanus, cannot endure "the offensive breaths" of the common people—i. e. the working classes of society, although their own importance may be owing entirely to the wealth amassed by the mechanical skill, hard labor and economy of their parents.—It is not, however, surprising that children should entertain these ridiculous notions, when they are perpetually instilled into them by their parents. The time was when a father thought it a duty incumbent upon him to have his son instructed in some mechanical business, that he might carry his independence in his hands—and mothers thought housekeeping among the necessary accomplishments to be learned by their daughters. But now anything less than a profession is thought to be degrading; and the greatest numbscults are often enrolled as members of professions, where they must always move as subordinates, without respect, practice or money. Mere Jeremy Diddlers in society, they depend for support upon chance, instead of securing it by honest industry. Such fellows fall into ecstacies at a Fanny Elsler exhibition, and would sooner act as substitutes for the horses of her carriage, than receive the honest grip from the hard hand of an industrious mechanic. In this perverted state of society, can it be wondered at that money takes precedence of merit, and that the worship of wealth should be preferred to that of the Creator? To be a fashionable lady, it is necessary to sing and play, (very excellent accomplishments,) but not to understand anything of domestic affairs. These must be left to deputies.

Would it be a harsh judgment to attribute much of the increase of crime to this gross misdirection of the youthful mind? "Train up a child in the way he should go, and he will not depart from it." If, then, instead of inculcating religion and morality, and the steamest integrity in all transactions—if, instead of honest precepts and good example, children are tanght that idleness is distinction and labor debasing—shall we marvel that so many young people resort to crime to sustain their false position, and live to regret the parental tenderness and imprudence which placed them in it? We admonish parents against the fatal error. It is the command of God that man shall live by the sweat of his brow; and why should any one presumptuously attempt to reverse the decree? We would not say aught in disparagement of the learned professions—they are necessary. And does the lawyer, or the physician, or the preacher, earn his bread without the "sweat of his brow?" No class of people labor more intensely, or with greater waste of health and strength. We speak of those who deserve to be classed with ther profession. But, because a few elevated minds have acquired fame by intense application, shall every parent suppose that his son can reach the pinnacle without effort, and, perhaps, without capacity? Let him count the numbers in each profession who have never reached mediocrity; who hang on the skirts of others, like the tail to the kite—and are glad to partake of the crumbs which are thrown to them in mercy by the more successful, and pause before he condemns his child to the Helot's life, or forces him to become a criminal.

We are not to be understood as desiring to confine the practice of the professions to the offspring of the rich: by no means. But we mean to be understood as condemning in the strongest terms, that false pride which deems it a degradation to follow a mechanical business. This spirit prevails too generally, especially if parents possess a little money to start their children in the world. The "trade of gentleman" is easily learned—that is, an idle habit is speedily contracted—but the real gentleman can be as readily and as freqaently found in the garb of a mechanic as in any other.

We wish that parents would attach less importance to parade and show—to superficial accomplishments—than to the religious and moral culture of their children's minds; and they would find their reward in rearing sensible, industrious, pious and worthy members of society.

Missionary operations. The following summary of the extensive operations of the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions is taken from their annual report, just published. The receipts of the Board during the year have been $241,691 64, and the expenditures $246,600 27. Connected with the Board there are 25 missions, embracing 80 stations, at which there are 134 ordained missionaries, 10 physicians not preachers, 14 teachers, 10 printers and bookbinders, 11 other male and 186 female assistants—making in all 365 missionary laborers from this country. There are, besides, 15 native preachers, and 167 native assistants. Connected also with the Board there are 15 printing establishments. The number of books and tracts printed the past year is 685,000, containing 45,392,505 pages.

Resumption. There are two questions connected with the proposed resumption of specie payments by the banks of Maryland, which are important to be considered. First—Are the banks in a condition to sustain themselves after the resumption? Second—If they are, would it be to the interest of the community that they should resume? The returns made by the banks to the legislature, and with which we shall soon be furnished, will exhibit their actual condition, and from them we shall be enabled to form a correct opinion as to their ability to resume, permanently. But, granting that they will be able to meet all demands from depositors and note-holders in specie, the expediency of the resumption is then to be considered. Banks were chartered for the double purpose of affording interest to stockholders, and facilities in business to the community; and, if they fail in either object, either from mismanagement, or uncontrollable causes, their usefulness is impaired, and the purposes for which they are instituted are unattained. Interest would impel the banks to extend their line of discounts as far as prudence and safety would admit, and we believe that the banks in Baltimore are disposed to grant every reasonable accommodation. But what will be their positions if they resume specie payments? The fact cannot have escaped their observation, that this position will be much changed for the worse by the recent occurrence with the Franklin Bank. Had that institution been sustained, and the banks authorized to receive and pay out Baltimore and Ohio Railroad notes, the demand for specie from our citizens would have been trifling, and the resumption been unfelt. Resumption, under any circumstances, will be attended by a general demand for specie; and, if the shock can be withstood, the banks will be unable to do business advantageously to themselves or the community—rapid curtailments must be made; business will languish; mechanics and laborers go unemployed; and a general depreciation in the value of every description of property, take place. These disastrous results cannot be disguised. The great disadvantage under which the community labors from the existing state of things is, the scarcity of small change. This is absolutely necessary in the ordinary transactions of business, and if it can be supplied by the banks, we feel confident that the business portion of the community will be content.

We have no doubt that the legislature will authorise the banks to receive and issue the notes of the railroad company, which would afford a safe currency, to the extent, if required, of the stock subscribed by the state and city of Baltimore. The notes of the company would be equivalent to specie for all business purposes, and the interest which would be saved to the people by their continuance in circulation, is an object of great consideration. Such an arrangement would no doubt be acceptable to both banks and people, and the former could forthwith issue the fractional parts of a dollar in specie, so as to furnish the requisite change.

In the present aspect of affairs no measure should be precipitately adopted by our banks.—An oppressive and unsafe resumption would inflict incalculable evils, and it is always better "to endure the ills we have, than fly to others that we know not of." The benefit of the community should be consulted in whatever course may be adopted; and if greater injury would result from resumption than non-resumption at the present moment, the idea of resuming should be abandoned.

Tide Water Canal Notes. In a report of the "Exchange and Money Market for January 4," communicated for this paper, and published on Monday last, language is used which might be construed to convey opinions which we neither sustain nor wish to be understood as sanctioning. However circumstances may have temporarily depreciated the notes of the Tide Water Canal Company, we feel the most perfect assurance that they will be redeemed in good faith.—The issue of small notes was necessary to enable the company to complete this important work, which will be productive of so much advantage to the commerce of our city; and, as they will be received in payment of tolls during the ensuing summer, the probability is, that the greater portion of them, if not the whole, will be retired from circulation. From the high respectability of the president and directors, we have every confidence that the affairs of the company will continue to be judiciously conducted, and that every responsibility which the interests of the company and of the city have compelled them to assume, will be discharged without loss.

Lottery Commissioners. Mr. Lynch has obtained leave to introduce a bill to change the mode of appointing these officers. Had he proposed to abolish their offices totally, he would be nearer the mark. The treasurer of the state could attend to the whole concern, with the aid of one superintendant of the drawings, at an expense not exceeding one thousand dollars; and, as rigid economy has become necessary, we think that retrenchment could not be commenced in a better quarter. To pay for doing nothing is equivalent to throwing it away.

The Great Chandelier. The whole weight of the Chandelier with the suspending rod, was 3,408 lbs. of which the lamps weighed 546 lbs.

Oil	144
Shades and chimneys	117
	807
Weight of balance ball was—brass and iron	255
Lead	3,148
	3,703
Weight of chandelier and balance,	7,141 lbs.

The splendid steam frigate in Brooklyn Navy Yard is to be launched to-day.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

City Council. First Branch, Jan. 6, 1841. The dismal, foggy, drizzly, sloppy weather seemed to have a decided influence over the sensibilities of the members—they looked as spungy as a thawing snow-bank, with the exception of the worthy President, whose laughing eyes seemed to diffuse day-light throughout the noisy hall.

Mr. Pinckney, the prime mover of a new ordinance fixing the termination of the fiscal year, according to notice yesterday, brought up the said bill, which, after an amendment suggested by Mr. Dallam, passed. The bill reads thus:

Be it enacted and ordained by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, That all the departments of the city of Baltimore shall make up their reports to the 30th November of each year, and present the same to the Mayor within ten days thereafter.

The communication of C. D. Hinks & Co. was referred to the committee on commerce.

A message was received from the Second Branch stating that they concurred in the resolution proposing the reference of the Mayor's message to a joint committee, and had appointed Messrs. Hook, Lucas and Wight on said committee.

On motion of Mr. Donovan, it was ordered that 100 copies of the message be printed for the use of the members.

The report of the committee on elections was handed in by Mr. Bender, and concurred in.

Mr. Pinckney presented the report of the committee on the Mayor's message, referring its various subjects to appropriate committees.

After the report had passed, Mr. Keyser arose and moved for a reconsideration, as the report recommended instead of resolved, and was passed upon a bare suggestion. Hereupon some little sparring took place between Messrs. Pinckney and Keyser as to usages and forms, which resulted in the former gentleman's giving in. A number of other alterations were suggested by other gentlemen, and the resolution was then passed, and the committee discharged.

After some picking of teeth, scratching of heads, yawning and other important business, the branch came to the conclusion, in conjunction with the Second Branch, to adjourn until Monday next.

In Second Branch the following committees were appointed.

Ways and Means—Messrs. Gittings, Jones and Wight.

Harbor—Messrs. Frazier, Boyd and Barnet.

Streets—Messrs. Wight, Hook and Frazier.

Health—Messrs. Barnet, Reaney and Stansbury.

Water—Messrs. Hook and Lucas.

Police—Messrs. Lucas, Barnet and Stansbury.

Education—Messrs. Jones and Hook.

Fire Companies—Messrs. Reaney, Gittings and Hook.

Internal Improvement—Messrs. Hook, Jones and Wight.

Bridges—Messrs. Boyd and Wight.

Alms House—Messrs. Harden, Stansbury and Boyd.

Jail—Messrs. Hook and Harden.

Markets—Messrs. Boyd, Barnet and Reany.

Enrollment—Mr. Reany.

Claims—Messrs. Gittings and Lucas.

Commerce—Messrs. Jones, Gittings and Harden.

On Register's Accounts—Messrs. Hook, Harden and Boyd.

On Accounts of Committee of Finance—Messrs. Gittings and Jones.

On Accounts of Health Commissioners—Messrs. Barnet, Reany and Wight.

On Accounts of City Commissioners and Port Wardens—Messrs. Frazier, Harden and Stansbury.

The weather. For the information of our friends abroad, who are doubtless anxious for our welfare, we "quote" the weather yesterday considerably below par. Fog was plenty in the market, considerably depressed—umbrellas rising—citizens falling. Over-shoes in great demand—pavements slippery—walking doubtful.—Slop, the market glutted. The snow bank issue becoming quite current, a heavy run, and drafts freely discounted. There is but little doubt their accounts will be liquidated.

Disinterested generosity. A merchant of high standing, who has had several vessels built at Fell's Point, has collected the notes of the Franklin Bank remaining in the hands of the workmen, and exchanged them for good notes at par, thus shielding the hard working mechanic from loss and inconvenience. It is with pleasure that we record this act of kindness; it shows that there is a right feeling existing on the part of merchants towards the working class.

☞ Walter Moxley, whose name appears in another part of our paper, has been released by Justice Snyder on security being given for his appearance before the City Court in February next.

Didn't save his bacon. A negro man named Alexander Peach was yesterday brought before Justice Pennington, charged with stealing a ham from A. W. Ennis, corner of Light street and Guilford alley. He seized the choice morsel, and made the best use of his trotters, but he was "dogged" and brought up all standing. Not being able to give security, he was committed to jail—though no one can charge him with "going the whole hog."

Steamboat Alabama. This splendid boat was sold at auction on Tuesday by Messrs. R. M. Hall & Co. for $20,000. She was purchased by the Baltimore Steam Packet Company.

Merchants' Bank. We heard from good authority yesterday that this bank had determined to resume specie payments on the 15th whether the other banks did so or not. Time will develope the truth of this.

Watch Reports. The Eastern District on Tuesday night was perfectly quiet. A white man applied for lodgings. In the Middle District, Abraham Barker was admitted for lodgings. Negro Jacob Peach was brought in for the police. In the Western District, Peter Sipple was found lying in the street, "how com'd you so?" and conveyed to head quarters. Nathan Smith, a colored boy, slave to Thomas Cockey, of Baltimore county, was brought in by officer Chaney, and was committed to jail in the morning by Justice Wright. Ellen Moore, colored, applied for lodgings.

Too much sweets. Charles Sparrow, Thomas Roberts and Levin Wheatly, three gentlemen of color, probably wishing to open a confectioner's shop under the firm of Sparrow & Co. were on Tuesday arrested by High Constable Mitchell and brought before Justice Barnard, charged with stealing a hogshead of sugar from Mr. Harrison, and a lot of carpeting from the steamboat George Washington. The evidence not being positive, they were committed for further examination.

Ice. Some persons express fears that the severity of the cold will block up the navigation. The ice boats, thus far, find little or no difficulty in breaking the ice that has covered the river, and if the thaw continues, we may expect shortly to see the harbor entirely open.

A chase. A hungry cur yesterday morning seized a goose from the hand of a gentleman returning from market, and made tracks. The gentleman made chase, but from the sleet his footing was very uncertain, and he came to the ground several times, while the dog, encumbered with his prize, also made but slow progress. The match came off in Baltimore street, much to the amusement of the spectators—and the dog was not overtaken until he had "chewed up" one of the trotters of the bird.

Temperance. An article appeared in our paper of yesterday giving entire credit to the Washington Temperance Society for projecting the establishment of an Apprentices Temperance Society. An active member of the Howard Society informs us that the plan was originally suggested by that society, and acted up to with spirit.

Conjugal tenderness. George Gorhe was brought before Justice Wright on Tuesday, charged with assaulting and beating his wife. The crime is an unnatural one—and the man having degraded himself to the level of a brute, the magistrate wisely sent him "up the Falls," in order that he might repent in solitude.

Pavements. A handfull or two of salt will answer as well as a bushel of ashes, when thrown over ice or sleet, and much better when cleanliness is consulted.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

Washington, Jan. 6, 1841.

In the House of Representatives, this morning, a report was made from the select committee, appointed to investigate the cause of the fall of the great chandelier.

The report was read, and exculpates the maker from any blame—attributing the fall to an accident.

Mr. Jones, from the committee on ways and means, reported the army appropriation bill for the present year. It was read twice and referred.

On motion of Mr. W. C. Johnson, the House went into committee of the whole, and took up the bill reported by him, making temporary provision for the support of lunatics in this District. The bill provides that the marshal of the District shall be authorized to convey such lunatics to Baltimore at the expense of government.

A long debate arose, in which the wretched situation of the lunatics and criminals now confined in the city jail were set forth.

Mr. Reed informed the House that the Marshall of this District was receiving an annual salary of ten thousand dollars a year, while the situation of the prisoners was wretched indeed. He trusted Congress would look into the matter, and make the condition of prisoners more comfortable, even if it should be at a reduction of the salary of the Marshall, who lived at a distance and provided another person to attend to his duties.

The bill was finally read a third time, and the question being taken on its passage, it was lost.

Mr. Filmore then moved to recommit the bill to the committee on the District, pending which motion, the House proceeded to the special order of the day, being the contested election.

Mr. Ingersoll appeared at the bar of the House, and resumed his remarks from yesterday in support of his claim to the seat now occupied by Mr. Naylor.

In the Senate, the bill for the relief of the Howard Institution was taken up, and, after debate, ordered to be engrossed.

The Republican of yesterday states, that, one of our most respectable mercantile houses having a note of considerable amount to pay in the Franklin bank, exchanged good notes for paper of that bank at par, to the relief of many poor persons. This act, for its rareness and humanity, deserves to be chronicled—and we regret that the names of the firm are withheld. Notwithstanding "charity covereth a multitude of sins," we fear that few persons, under similar circumstances, will follow this noble example.

The Glentworth Matter Settled. The Phil. Spirit of the Times says the grand jury who have been engaged in the investigation came into court on Saturday last, and reported that they were ready to find a bill against an individual, if they could use, as testimony, a deposition sworn before a commissioner. The court considered such testimony inadmissable, and the jury having no business were discharged.

MARRIED,

On Tuesday evening, 5th inst. by the Rev'd G. W. Musgrave, Mr. John T. Hanesche to Miss Anastasia Tracy, formerly of Georgetown, D. C.

On Monday evening, 4th inst. by Rev. Mr. Keppler, Thomas Elliott to Mrs. Eliza Low, both of this city.

DIED,

On the 2d inst. William H. Harrison, infant son of George and Margaret Philips, aged 6 months.

On the 6th inst. Charles, son of Charles and Henrietta Suter, aged 20 months and 18 days.

On Tuesday evening, 5th inst. in the 14th year of his age, John Lewis, son of Lewis and Mary Ann Holter.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Brig Firm, Sands, Pernambuco and a market.

ARRIVED.

Brig Francis P. Beck, Stackpole, 17 days from New Orleans, sugar and molasses.

Schr Com. Warrington, Williams, 12 days fm Turks Island, salt.

Schr Enterprize, Griffin, 12 days from Plymouth, Mass. fish.

MEMORANDA.

Brig Catherwood, Chase, for Baltimore, cleared at Havana 21st ult.

Brig Wankinco, Howland, for Baltimore, went to sea from Charleston, 1st inst.

TO THE PUBLIC.

☞ A Police Report in the "Clipper" of 6th inst., embraces a case in which my name appears as Traverser upon the complaint of Mr. Frederick Stollenstricker, charging me with having obtained his pecuniary obligation upon false pretences. The circumstances surrounding the case will, I hope, be fully and thoroughly developed during the trial, which will take place at the approaching term of Baltimore City Court, and will, I feel confident, relieve me from any guilty intention. I have been most unfortunate in my trading and mechanical pursuits, and have been compelled to apply for the benefit of the Insolvent Laws—but I do aver that no part of my indebtedness has ever been the result of fraud, or any wise mixed up with a dishonest purpose. I confidently rely upon my known character in the neighborhood in which I have lived for years, to bear me out in the assertion, that I have ever maintained, and probably deserve, the reputation of a sober, industrious, and honest mechanic—and I have an abiding confidence in my own character for integrity, which assures me that the result of this case will entirely acquit me of every design to defraud my fellow men. I throw myself upon the justice of the community, and respectfully request the people to suspend their opinion until the result of this trial shall have re-established my character.

ja7 1t* WALTER MOXLEY.

Washington Junior Temperance Society.

☞ The members of this Society are requested to meet at Union Hall, corner of Market street and Tripolett's alley, on SATURDAY EVENING NEXT, at half past 6 o'clock. Young men, under the age of 21 years, desirous of joining this Society, are invited to attend. By order, ja6-th s6m WM. GEORGE BECKROTTE, Sec.

A GREEN SPOT IN LIFES DESERT.

☞ The Ladies of Eastern section of the city will assemble on THURSDAY AFTERNOON NEXT, at 3 o'clock, in the Wesleyan Sabbath School, Bond-st., for the purpose of forming a Temperance Society on the most approved plan. All ladies, who feel interested in making Home lovely and the Domestic hearth the dwelling place of happiness and peace, are invited to attend. [a] ja5-3t

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

☞ The Howard Temperance Society will hold an Experience Meeting on FRIDAY EVENING NEXT, at half past 6 o'clk. in the Rev. Mr. Healey's church, Fleet street, Fell's Point. The public are invited to attend. ja5-4t

☞ Dr. T. L. MURPHY has resumed the Practice of Medicine. Office No 69 BOND STREET, a few doors E. of Allisanna street. d12-tf

$3000 SPECIE—For sale by J. L. NICHOLSON & BRO. Exchange Brokers.

☞ Also for sale—Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road NOTES and Virginia PAPER.

☞ Franklin Bank Paper purchased. ja7 1t*

UNION BANK STOCK.

300 SHARES, for sale at a reduced rate, for which the Notes of the FRANKLIN BANK will be taken in payment, at par.

ja7 3t* CLARK, Museum Building, Balt. Md.

BOY TO HIRE. For hire, a Colored BOY, about 13 years of age—he understands waiting, and will be hired by the year on low terms.

Apply at the City Intelligence Office. [a] ja7

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,
80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

CITY DRAWING, Maryland State Lottery, class No. 1, drawn yesterday, 6th instant, at the Law Buildings. The following are the Nos.

22 71 56 61 47 49 59 11 44 2 50 48 18 21

Lowest Prize $5:

Drawn Nos. State Treasury, class 1, Jan'y 5, 1840—lowest prize $3:

15 57 22 62 8 20 13 43 49 21

TO-DAY, Grand Consolidated Lottery, class No. 1, for the benefit of the State Treasury, Delaware College, and Common Schools—to be drawn at Wilmington, Del. this afternoon at 3 o'clock. 75 No. Lottery, 12 Ballots.

GRAND SCHEME.

1 Prize of	$12,000		48 Prizes of		$500
1 "	5000		90 "		300
1 "	3000		30 "		200
1 "	2000		125 "		100
10 "	1281		&c. &c. &c.

Tickets $4—shares in proportion.

☞ All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address, E. W. ROBINSON,

No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.

Agent for the State of Maryland. ja7-1t

F. B. SCHÆFFER,

(SUCCESSOR TO BARKER & CO.)

156 BALTIMORE STREET.

PRIZES! PRIZES!! PRIZES!!!

DRAWN NUMBERS, Maryland State Lottery, class 1, for 1841:

22 71 56 61 47 49 59 11 44 2 50 48 18 21

No. 22, 56, 71, a prize of $20,000.

47, 49, 61, do. 5,000.

Also, 10 prizes of $1000 were sold in the above. For Prizes, SCHÆFFER is the man.

THIS AFTERNOON, another lot of prizes to be disposed of in Grand Consolidated Lottery, class No. 1, such as $12,000, 5000, 3000, 2000, 1281, 49 of 500, &c. Tickets only $4.

On FRIDAY, 8th Jan., Literature Lottery, class 2, Capitals $7,000, 2,000, &c. Tickets $2.50.

On SATURDAY, 9th Jan., Virginia State Lottery, class 2. Capitals—30,000, 10,000, 5,000, &c.

Whole Tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2.50.

☞ For Lucky Tickets, apply to

F. B. SCHÆFFER,

Successor to Barker & Co.

156 Baltimore street, corner of St. Paul's-st.

Where more prizes have been sold and paid than at any other office within the United States.

☞ Orders for Tickets, in any Lotteries under the management of D. S. Gregory & Co., thankfully received and promptly attended to—and the result of the drawing sent immediately after it is received. To insure a prize, you must address

ja7 F. B. SCHÆFFER, Baltimore, Md.

FRANKLIN BANK.

THE NOTES or Endorsed CHECKS of the Franklin Bank, will be received by the subscriber AT PAR, on immediate application, in exchange for Goods, consisting of a general assortment of TINWARE and HOUSE KEEPING ARTICLES, viz: Table Cutlery; Britannia Ware, Fancy Hardware; Tea Trays and Waiters; Plated and German Silver Ware; Brass Fenders; Andirons, Shovels and Tongs, &c.

JAMES CORTLAN,

ja6-3t* No. 10 Baltimore and 6 Harrison streets.

MARYLAND STATE Six per cent. STOCK, in sums to suit purchasers—For sale by ja2 E. W. ROBINSON, 80 Baltimore-st.

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Mankind. To Dr. SWAYNE.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public papers over my own signature; I now feel different, and it is my duty to inform the afflicted where they can find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted Cough, in six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night, and pain in my breast, side, &c. Supposing, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually, and I am certain, that it not been for your medicine I must inevitably depends on early attention to prop[er]s. I should now be in the silent grave. Let [a]ny, but procure your Syrup and be re[li]UGHS and COLDS, as they are dan[ge]rous, and often lead to dangerous conse[qu]ences. Your friend, ABR[AM] ER, [Ph]y, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COO[K] y-st. jy28-y

CITY INTELL[IGEN]CE,

ESTATE & GENERAL A[GEN]CY OFFICE, corner of Baltimore & [Fred]erick-sts.

ONS, far and near, sup[plied] with all kinds at the shortest n[otice], viz: Clerks, Apprenti[ces], Gardeners, Hostlers, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and [Wa]iters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, [Co]ks, &c.

R employment at this office, [re]commendations of good character, &c. [Pe]rsons wishing to EMPLOY any one in [the] city, or wanting employment will be [ad]dressing by letter, post paid, enclosing [DO]LLAR each.

Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., H. W. BOOT, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N.B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. ja7

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of

HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,

for the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Cheston & Son, Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq. do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq. do.
James Hepburn, esq. do.
Christian Haldeman, esq. Columbia.
Jacob M. Haldeman, esq. Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq. Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank, Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq. Cash. Girard do.
William S. Smith, esq Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq. Boston.

Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-d2weo2w*

DOYLE'S PRATT-ST. PRIZE DEPOT.

UNPRECEDENTED LUCK. Combination 29, 32, 43, a prize of $1500. Also, 2, 31, 35, a prize of $1000, both sold at DOYLE'S ever Lucky Office, in the New Jersey Lottery, No. 1, drawn 2d inst. and the cash paid on presentation. The following are the drawn Numbers—lowest prize $10:

7 12 52 3 2 18 9 43 20 35 14 40 31 75

For Capital Prizes in all the Lotteries, call at this truly Lucky Office.

On THIS DAY, State Treasury Lottery—Capital prize $10,000. Tickets $4—shares in proportion.

On WEDNESDAY, the Maryland State Lottery will be drawn in Baltimore. Capital prize $20,000. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

☞On same day, Literature Extra, No. 2—Capital Prize $6000. Tickets $2.

On THURSDAY, Grand Consolidated Lottery, No. 1—capital prize $12,000. Tickets $4.

On FRIDAY, Literature Lottery—Capital Prize $7000. Tickets $2.50.

On SATURDAY, a beautiful Virginia State Lottery will be drawn at Alexandria, D. C. Capital Prize $30,000. Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

For sale in the greatest variety of lucky numbers, by the package, single ticket, or share.

☞For Prizes in the above Lotteries, and all Lotteries authorized in the State of Maryland, apply to, or address, M. DOYLE, No. 94 Pratt st., Opposite the B. & O. Railroad Depot, Baltimore.

☞Orders by mail for packages of Tickets; single Tickets, or Shares of Tickets, enclosing cash or prize Tickets, from any part of the United States, will meet with prompt and personal attention, if addressed as above. [r] ja5-eo3t

FRANKLIN BANK PAPER WANTED.

THE subscriber will sell 225 bbls. Maine Mercer POTATOES, payable in the above money, if immediately applied for.

SAMUEL H. WHITTINGTON,
ja5-eo4t* No. 8 Dugan's wharf.

NURSE WANTED. A respectable female, qualified to take the exclusive charge of two Children, to assist in Sewing, and suitable for a companion, will hear of a comfortable home, by immediate application at this office. ja6-3t*

13 Cases Kip and Thick BROGANS, some extra sizes, just received per barque Ida, and for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 S Charles-st.

WOOD FOR SALE.

WOOD, PINE and OAK, well seasoned, at lower prices than it can be purchased for at the wharves. Inquire of BOSLEY & KNIGHTON, No. 27 Second street, or at the Wood Yard, corner of Lloyd street, opposite to Mr. Breckenridge's church. ja6-3t

INDIA RUBBER SHOES—
Men's plain RUBBERS, Women's plain do
Misses do do do fig'd do
A few cases of each. Just received per barque Ida, and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 South Charles street.

FRANKLIN MONEY RECEIVED.

A commodious two story Brick HOUSE, with a Store, in Harrison-st., near the Bend, which brings a rent of $160 per annum, will be sold for $1100 in Franklin Bank money. Inquire at 258 North Gay street. ja6-2t*

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES will be taken for MOROCCO LEATHER, at the corner of Cheapside and Lombard street, by
ja6-3t* J. W. & S. D. GRAFFLIN.

FOR SALE—75 bushels Black-eyed PEAS
20 do White BEANS
75 do Dried APPLES.
☞For sale low, at No. 3 Light-st. whf. ja6-eo3t

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. d25

JAMISON'S Fresh SODA, SUGAR, WATER and BUTTER CRACKERS, just received for sale
MARCUS DENISON,
a6 31 Baltimore street.

B. G. HUDDART.
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 95 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornament. HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. a15-eo6m

FOR CHAPPED HANDS AND LIPS,
A CERTAIN REMEDY.
THE TRUE POMADE DEVINE.

To those who are unacquainted with the excellent virtues of the Pomade Devine, a trial in the following cases will be its best recommendation. It cures and prevents all chapping or roughness of the Hands, Lips, and Face, from the piercing effects of cold weather; cures Chilblains; immediately removes all kinds of Pimples and all kinds of Eruptions from the face, &c., leaving the skin delicately fair. It is a certain remedy for all kinds of Bruises, Burns, Scalds, &c. The Pomade possesses extraordinary healing qualities, which a short trial will prove.

Prepared by B. G. HUDDART, Perfumer,
No. 3 Holliday street.

Where may be had, the Persian Lip Salve, a beautiful article, only 12½ cents per bottle. Also, the Oriental Pearl Powder, for the ladies; Millifluir Lavande, for the Handkerchief; Vegetable Tooth Powder, from 12½ cents; Circassian, Indian, and Vegetable Oils, of superior quality, from 12½ cts. per bottle. Curls and ornamental Hair Work made to order. ja6-3t*

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000 may be had on	MONDAY, for		$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	4 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
6,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 00
30,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. d7-1m

REMOVAL.

G. H. MITTNACHT, IMPORTER OF GERMAN, FRENCH, and ENGLISH FANCY GOODS, has removed from the Store he lately occupied in Baltimore street, to the Store No. 9 South LIBERTY STREET, where he will always keep a large and general assortment of FANCY GOODS, including Baskets, Toys, Clocks, Musical Instruments, Cutlery, Jewelry, Pins, Needles, Tapes, Cords, Cotton, Thread, Silk, Blacking, Ink, Slates, Marbles, Whips, &c. &c., which he is prepared to sell at the lowest wholesale prices. G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 9 S. Liberty street.

N. B. Franklin Bank Notes will be taken at par for all Goods purchased for cash. [a] jn5-2w

MRS. CONNOR'S

BOARDING HOUSE, PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, between 3d and 4½ streets, Washington City, (D. C.) where Gentlemen, visiting the District, can be accommodated with Board and Suits of Apartments, suitable for single gentlemen or families, for any length of time. d23-1m

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, elecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and boneset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North-st. d12-y

WANTED TO EMPLOY, by the month or year, 4 or 5 Negro men (slaves) to work on a Farm near the city. They will be well treated, and the owners receive the highest wages, which will be punctually paid them in the city. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, Baltimore-st. corner of Frederick street.

Also, wanted to employ, a Colored man as Waiter in a Private Family. Apply as above. [a] ja5

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d28-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES will be received for LUMBER, at a fair price, at my LUMBER YARD, on the Falls Avenue near Pratt street Bridge, from all who may wish to dispose of their Franklin Bank Notes. WILLIAM P. MILLS.
ja4 4t

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES taken at par for GOODS, at T. W. BETTON'S Gentlemen's Furnishing Store, No. 151½ BALTIMORE-ST. d31-tf

PARTNERSHIP.

THE BUSINESS OF JACOB HOUCK will hereafter be conducted under the name of JACOB HOUCK & SON. JACOB HOUCK,
FREDERICK HOUCK.
Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja5-4t

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES. French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street. o3-tf

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by
SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

OHIO Rail Road, Tide Water, Virginia & Wheeling NOTES—For sale by
n12 E. W. ROBINSON, 80 Baltimore-st.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 20 good white and colored COOKS, to fill desirable places in different parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES and 2 NURSES. d25

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 Bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by
d19 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

DRY GOODS, &c.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES.

FRANKLIN BANK PAPER will be received at PAR for DRY GOODS, at unprecedented low prices, at No. 97½ Baltimore street. A lot of extra Rose and Whitney BLANKETS, and 250 pieces super CLOTHS and CASSIMERES. Just received.
ja5-2t W. H. RIDGELY & CO. 99½ Bal.-st.

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,
Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.
With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.
oc2 EDW. J. RICHARDSON.

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at
DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

FANCY AND WORSTED STORE.

THE subscriber has on hand, and offers for sale a large and general assortment of Fine Worsted Patterns, Zephyr Worsted, Thick & Working Chenille, Saddler's Floss, Sewing and Twist Silk for Purses, Silk, Cotton and Worsted Canfas, Perforated, Bound and Hair Cloth for Worsted Work, Ladies' Knitted Worsted Caps, Baby's Bonnetts, Boy's Gaiters and Scarfs, Silk and Worsted Fringe, Black Silk Lace, Silk Velvet for Head Bands, Belts and Cuffs, Ladies' and Children's Worsted Mittens, Knit Muffs, Knitting Yarn, Linen and Cotton Tape and Cord, &c.

ALSO—A general assortment of Work and Fancy Baskets and Boxes; Ivory, Shell, and Horn Combs; Jewelry; Needles and Pins; Toys, &c. &c.

G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 58 Lexington-st., 5th door above Howard-st.

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are LOWER than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.

N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES AT PAR.

SELLING OFF! SELLING OFF!!

HAVING on hand a large Stock of GOODS, which I wish to reduce, I will receive in payment for the same, the notes of the Tide Water Canal Company at par. In the assortment will be found a quantity of 3-4 to 14-4 Rose, Point, and Whitney Blankets; Cassimeres; 3-4, 4-4, 5-4, and 7-8 white, red and yellow Flannels; a case black and white Chintz, at only 12½ cents per yard; Fancy Chintzes and Calicoes; Mousseline de Laine, very low; bleached and brown Shirtings; Irish Linen; handsome large white Counterpanes; woollen and cotton Table Covers; green and fig'd Baizes; a large variety of Table Diaper; Damask Table Cloths and Napkins; a few Lambs-wool Shirts and Pants, with all kinds of Hosiery—together with a large assortment of other Goods, all of which I have determined to put at such prices as will ensure a sale to all who will favor us with a call, at No. 50 Hanover street. d29 GEORGE BEVAN.

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mouseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½ super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7 8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1½ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25c childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
BED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.
With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.
E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6¼
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6¼
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 6¼
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 6¼
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 6¼ each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleves
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mousselaine de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 6¼
Excellent LINSEY, eleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 6¼s
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 6¼s
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Brochs do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 6¼
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloths, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6¼
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6¼

☞Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

AMUSEMENTS.

CITIZENS' BALL.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

THIS BALL will take place on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841. The price of Tickets is fixed at TWO DOLLARS.

SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
ANDREW J. BANDEL, Secretary.
JOSHUA VANSANT, Treasurer.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—Pink Rosette.

1st Ward,	Robert Milholland.
2d do	David W. Hudson.
3d do	John N. Millington.
4th do	A. I. W. Jackson.
5th do	Sheppard C. Leakin.
6th do	Wm. H. Cole, Jr.
7th do	John M. Harman.
8th do	Joseph Donovan.
9th do	Wm. K. Mitchell.
10th do	Wm. Barnett.
11th do	John R. Moore.
12th do	Richard Marley.

BOARD OF MANAGERS—Blue Ribbon.

First Ward—H. R. Lauderman, J. M. Turner, Jas. Grieves, Dr. Monmonier, C. Hergesheimer, John A. Robb.

Second Ward—John E. Stansbury, B. W. Herring, Wm. Rochester, J. W. Croney, J. T. Laws, William Wickersham.

Third Ward—Andrew J. Bandel, Richard Lilley, Col. Jacob Deems, Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott, Wm. B. Boyd.

Fourth Ward—Thomas Wildey, Marcus Wolf, Jacob D. Hair, James Murry, Abraham Blackeney, Wm. Hubbard.

Fifth Ward—Dr. M. Diffenderffer, Joshua Vansant, Herman Perry, Capt. John Patrick, John F. Hoss, W. H. Gobright.

Sixth Ward—Dr. R. A. Durkee, Thos. C. Dunlevy, J. Kennedy, H. W. Boot, Jr. John H. Hewitt, Richard Bradshaw.

Seventh Ward—Simeon Hays, James Ackland, Sam. Hyde, S. Teakle Wallis, Wm. Guy, Jas. M. Page.

Eighth Ward—Samuel Lucas, J. Able, Sam. Stump, Wm. C. Clayton, Charles W. Spicer, Wm. T. Rice.

Ninth Ward—Wm. R. Frazier, Jacob Walter, R. C. Murry, Wm. Chace, J. D. Webster, James McPhail.

Tenth Ward—Dr. Wm. Power, Henry Russell, Jas. Lawson, Lewis Klockgether, Andrew Martin, Peter Kroft.

Eleventh Ward—Charles Soran, John Reily, D. A. Piper, H. Hauey, George Holt, Horace Miller.

Twelfth Ward—John Godman, Geo. Deal, Samuel Thompson, Joseph Kreager, Wm. Richardson, T. J. Abern.

MASTERS OF CEREMONIES—Blue Scarf.

D. A. Piper	Richard Bradshaw,
John A. Robb	James Ackland
William Rochester	Wm. T. Rice
Andrew J. Bandel	J. D. Webster
Abel Blakely	Dr. Wm. Power
Herman Perry	George Deal.

BALLET MASTER—C. L. SPIES—White Scarf.

COMMITTEE ON DECORATIONS—Blue Ribbon.

Thomas Wildey	William Barnett
Simeon Hays	James M. Page.
Capt. J. Patrick

ON MUSIC—Green Rosette.

John H. Hewitt,	Jacob Walter,
Joseph S. Donovan.

ON REFRESHMENTS—White Rosette.

B. W. Hudson,	John Riley,
William H. Cole, Jr.

ON PRINTING—Black Rosette.

A. I. W. Jackson,	Wm. C. Clayton,
Andrew Martin.

ON POLICE—Purple Rosette.

Capt. A. I. W. Jackson	John M. Harman
J. M. Turner	Wm. C. Clayton
Wm. Wickersham	Wm. Chace
Wm. B. Boyd	Lewis Klockgether
John F. Hoss	Charles Soran
Dr. R. A. Durkee	Wm. Richardson.

COMMITTEE OF RECEPTION—Orange Rosette.

Capt. R. Lilley	Andrew Martin
James Grieves	Dr. Monmonier
Henry Russell	T. J. Abern
H. R. Lauderman	Samuel Lucas
C. Hergesheimer	William Gray
J. E. Stansbury	J. Abell
J. W. Croney	Samuel Stump
J. T. Laws	Wm. R. Frazier
Col. Jacob Deems	H. C. Murray
Capt. Thos. Lane	James McPhail
J. H. Marriott	James Lawson
Marcus Wolfe	James Harwood, jr.
Jacob D. Hare	Samuel Thompson
James Murray	Joseph Kreager, jr.
William Hubbard	Thomas C. Dunlevy
Dr. M. Diffenderffer	J. Kennedy
S. Teackle Wallis	Samuel Hyde
H. W. Boot, Jr.	Wm. H. Gobright.
John Godman

☞The Board of Managers will furnish themselves with the Regalia above mentioned.

☞The Board of Managers will call on Mr. VANSANT, at the Post Office, and receive their Tickets.

☞The Executive Committee and Board of Managers will please be punctual in their attendance at Military Hall, Gay-st., on MONDAY EVENING NEXT, 11th inst., as the Reports of Committees will be submitted to the meeting. By order,

S. C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
A. J. BANDEL, Sec'y. [PRAY] ja6

SIXTH ANNUAL BALL.

☞The INDEPENDENT BLUES' SIXTH ANNUAL BALL will take place at the Baltimore Assembly Rooms on TUESDAY EVENING, 12th of January, 1841. Tickets can be had of either of the following

MANAGERS:

Major H. S. Sanderson,	Capt. John Bridener,
Capt. Richard Lilly,	Capt. Thomas A. Lane,
Lieut. Geo. H. Sanderson,	Jacob Deems, jr.
Lieut. Joseph Y. Ford,	F. Lucheisi,
Lieut. Jacob Cook,	Theodore Fimple,
Serg't W. H. Robinson,	William T. Rice,
Serg't Thos. Sheppard, jr.	Geo. L. Steuart,
Francis Delonte,	William Towson,
Edward H. Rogers,	Mahlon Webster,
Samuel D. Johnston,	Isaac D. Cloud,
George W. Webb,	William H. Shipley,
George W. Wilhelm,	Andrew E. Warner, jr.
Thomas E. Hall,	Charles Z. Lucas.
William Holland,

N. B. In the intervals between the Dancing, the Company's BAND will perform several new Promenade Marches and favorite Airs. ja4-8t

CENTRAL HALL

DANCING & WALTZING ACADEMY.

CHARLES L. SPIES, thankful for past favors, has the honor to inform his friends and the public that his SECOND QUARTER will commence on TUESDAY, 19th inst. at the above Hall, corner of Baltimore and Charles streets.

☞Days of Tuition, for Young Ladies, Misses, and Masters, on Tuesday and Saturday Afternoons, from 2 till 5 o'clock—and on Tuesday and Friday Evenings, from half past 6 till 10 o'clock, for Gentlemen.

Practising Balls on Thursday evenings, and Cotillion Parties on Saturday Evenings.

☞Terms—$10 per quarter. [s] ja5-eo2w

CONCERT OF SACRED MUSIC.

THE CHOIR of the Reformed Church, (Rev. E. Heiner's,) second street, conducted by Mr. L. WILDER, and assisted by several members of the Baltimore Musical Association, will give a CONCERT OF SACRED MUSIC, on THURSDAY EVENING, January 7th, 1841.

☞Tickets 50 cents—to be had at F. BENTZEN'S Music Store, and at the Church on the evening of performance. Performance to commence at 7 o'clock precisely. ja4-4t

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 56 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d19-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

NOTICE.

The Steamboat POCAHONTAS will leave the lower end of Spear's wharf on FRIDAY (not Thursday) MORNING NEXT, at 10 o'clock, for Norfolk and the Portsmouth and Roanoke Railroad. Passengers bound to Charleston will arrive there early on Monday morning. Those for Richmond or Petersburg, will arrive at their place of destination on Saturday at 3 or 4 o'clk, P. M.

JOHN C. MOALE, Agent.

Fare to Norfolk,	$10
Fare to Richmond,	14
ja5 4t Fare to Weldon,	16

LADIES' COMPANION, April No. for January, received by
WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. MOORE'S, No. 74 Market street—and at No. 98 N. Gay-street, near Fayette st.

☞Terms $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly.

Opinion of the New York Press:

We have been favored with a copy of a steel engraving of the Light House near Caldwell's Landing, intended to illustrate the January number of the Ladies' Companion, published by Mr. Snowden, 199 Fulton-st. It is indeed a fine specimen of the art, and reflects no ordinary credit upon the enterprize of the conductor of that Magazine. The number will contain articles from the following writers:

Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, Mrs. E. F. Ellet, Mrs. Annan, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances L. Osswood, Mrs. E. R. Steele, Mrs. Caroline Orne; Professors Longfellow & Ingraham; Mr. H. Herbert, Francis W. Thoman, Greenville Mellen; Rev. J. H. Clinch; Mr. Rufus Dawes, Wm. Gilmore Sims, Epes Sargent, Park Benjamin, George P. Morris, Robert Hamilton, C. F. Daniels, H. T. Tuckerman, Henry B. Hunt, (of Philadelphia,) Wm. G. Howard, (of Ohio); Mrs. E. C. Embury; Mrs. Hetland, (of London,) and many others. Also, an original piece of Music, composed by J. G. Meder, expressly for the occasion ja5

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing FEVER, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains as aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by

jy28-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,

(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland,)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Cups.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TUENING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Doric Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as good quality and as cheap as can be purchased at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.

d23-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 31st of August, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Chemical, Philosophical, and Astronomical Apparatus, is extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by Mr. J. C. ROBINSON. AUGUSTUS FRITTAG, L. L. D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the German.

☞Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or enter pupils, will receive every attention, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. BAXTER, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.

a8-tf J. B. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

BY ORDER of the Commissioners of Insolvent Debtors for the City and County of Baltimore, Notice is hereby given to the creditors of William Brown, an insolvent debtor, that a personal discharge hath been granted to the said debtor, and that the said creditors are required to attend at the office of the said Commissioners in the Court-house, in the city of Baltimore, on the 7th day of December next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and nominate a trustee or trustees, to be appointed for their benefit: and to give all the information in their possession to the said Commissioners, to enable them to report to Baltimore County Court, agreeably to an act of Assembly, passed at December session, 1831, entitled, An Act, relating to insolvent debtors;" and that the 7th day of February next hath been fixed for the final hearing in his case, before the said Commissioners. Dated the 6th day of October, in the year 1840. o10-1aw3m

CLOCKS! CLOCKS!!

THE subscribers have opened a Store at No. 34 S. CHARLES STREET, for the sale of their celebrated CLOCKS. They have now on hand, and are constantly receiving, large supplies from their manufactory in the city of New York, Brass and Wood Eight-day, One-day, and Alarm CLOCKS, of every variety of style, and of superior workmanship and finish, which they warrant and offer at wholes

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE. A most distressing fire occurred in New Orleans on the morning of the 27th ult. It originated in the buildings between the two markets on Old Levee street.—The calamity involved great loss of life as well as property. The Bulletin of the 28th remarks that the buildings were occupied by Mr. Joseph Morrison, ship chandler; by the proprietors of the Independence Coffee House; by Mr. ——, as a dry goods store, and by sundry small dealers. On the breaking out of the fire, all the inmates of the edifice essayed to escape, most of whom succeeded. Mrs. Morrison, who was in the interior, finding her way blocked up by the flames, seized her infant and reached the roof through the scuttle, whence she proceeded to another roof and was taken off. Others escaped almost as narrowly. The mother could not take her oldest son, 4 years of age, and he perished in the flames. Mrs. Brown, the sister-in-law of Mr. Morrison, with her two children, was also unable to escape, and they perished. A black woman and her child shared the same fate. Even this was not all: Mr. Cunningham C. H. Rowan, a spirited young gentleman, and one of the firemen attached to Engine No. 14, was crushed to death by one of the rotten walls of the building. The funeral was attended from the residence of Doctor Farrell in Canal street, yesterday afternoon, by a large concourse of citizens, his brother firemen and others.

Mr. Morrison, who was not insured, lost to the amount of $15,000. The total loss of property is estimated at $31,000.

CHARGE OF SLAVE DEALING. Nathan Augustas Frye, master, Samuel Burnham, mate, and five of the crew of brig Tigris, of Salem, were brought up before Judge Davis, of the U. States court, at Boston, on the 1st inst. charged with having in their possession, at Ambriz, on the coast of Africa, a slave boy named Heme, contrary to the laws of the United States, and the statute of 1818.

The boy Heme understands no language but that of his tribe, which is called Krooman. Any one who understands the Krooman language it is hoped will make himself known, as he may be of much service at the examination.

REPORTED MURDER. The Ithica Chronicle says a girl, about seventeen years old, has been missing for some time from the family of Mr. A. H. Truman, of Owego. She was an indented girl, and Mr. Truman advertises a reward of $50 for her discovery. Her disappearance induced considerable suspicion of foul play somewhere. It is reported that the body has been discovered about eight miles from Owego, murdered.

WHIPPING THE SCHOOLMASTER. At Boston, on the 1st inst. Gilbert Cummings was brought up to the police court on complaint of Wm. K. Vaill, usher in the Mayhew School, for an assault. It appeared that Vaill had corrected Cummings' son, who attends the school, for a misdemeanor, at which the father took offence, went into the school house, and gave Vaill a blow which felled him to the floor. Cummings was held to bail in the sum of one hundred dollars for his appearance at the municipal court.

ACCIDENT AND DEATH. An old gentleman residing in Brentwood, N. H., was killed a short time since by his son. He was insane, and in one of his paroxysms, rushed on his son, when the latter thrust his hand towards him, and struck him on the nose, which immediately commenced bleeding, and so continued until he died. No blame whatever is attributed to the son—as he merely intended to defend himself from the attack of his father.

BICKNELL'S COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR. This valuable paper has changed owners. It is now published by Matthew T. Miller, exchange broker, successor to Mr. Bicknell. The Reporter will in future be published monthly, in pamphlet form. The number before us is full of valuable information touching monetary and commercial matters—it is composed of 48 pages.

WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY. A new edition of this great work is about to be published, in large 8vo. It will contain 8,000 to 10,000 words not included in the quarto heretofore published. The whole number of words will be at least 80,000, being 20,000 more than are contained in Todd's Johnson, and 35,000 more than are to be found in Richardson's Dictionary.

KENTUCKY BANKS. The last Louisville Journal says: The banks of this State have issued a circular to most or all of the banks in the Mississippi valley, proposing a convention, in Louisville, on the 25th of January, to confer in relation to the resumption of specie payments.

FIGHT WITH CLEAVERS. Two butchers of Philadelphia had a row on Thursday last; they fought with cleavers, meat axes, &c. To wind up the affray, one of the parties threw his cleaver at the other and wounded him severely, when the rencontre ceased.

☞Three counterfeiters were arrested in Savannah, Ga. a few days since, having in their possession bills from a genuine plate, of the Camden, S. C. bank, with forged signatures

☞Two persons were suffocated a few days since in a vessel in the port of New York, by charcoal. Their names were Alexander Morrison and John Morris.

☞We learn that a schooner was wrecked on the 20th ult. off the north of Hog Island, and all on board lost.

THE CALEDONIA steamship left Boston at three o'clock on Saturday last, for Halifax and Liverpool, with 54 passengers.

☞An equestrian named Dale, threw 51 somersets lately, without stopping.

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

MR. DAVISON'S WRITING ACADEMY, for instructions with the Muscular Guide, No. 41 Baltimore street. The plan recommended by the Maryland Institute of Teachers. se8-y

M. H. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 62 S. CALVERT STREET, keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c d22-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 27 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. d22-y

MARX & HART, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d19-6m

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 43 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n18-3m*

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. n12-y WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se29-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se29-d

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 2 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. s4-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. jy23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je16-6m*

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 114 BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. m26-y

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH. No. 39 Fayette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. m11-y1m*

MINIATURES, Painted in the best style, by MRS. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. mh13-y

COMPOUND SYRUP of HOREHOUND.

FOR the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Pain and Oppression of the Breast, and all Diseases arising from a disordered condition of the Lungs.

Perhaps there is no Medical Observation better established and none more generally confirmed by experience of the best Physicians of all ages in all countries, than the Fact, that many of the most difficult and incurable Consumptions originate in neglected colds. In a climate so variable as ours, where the changes of weather are frequently sudden and unexpected, it requires more care and attention to guard against this dangerous enemy to human life, than most persons are able and willing to bestow. The bills of mortality exhibit the alarming and melancholy fact, that the number of deaths by this disease are as five to one. Inasmuch then as this fatal disease is increasing, and spreading so widely and fearfully, and bidding defiance often to the combined skill of the most eminent physicians, it is a gratification to the subscriber to be enabled to offer to all of consumptive habits, or those afflicted with distressing pains in the side or breast, or any affection of the breast or lungs, a reasonable and almost certain prospect of relief.

The COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND is a medicine suitable to persons of all ages and sexes; and if taken on the appearance of the first symptoms, which are a COUGH or PAIN in the BREAST, will in nine cases out of ten afford relief, and effect a speedy cure.

Price 50 cents per bottle, Prepared and sold by SETH S. HANCE, corner of Charles and Pratt streets, Baltimore; and J. B. STANSBURY, Thames street, Fell's Point. d 12-y

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headache; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma, Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as in Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.
Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.
Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.
Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. ROBY.

WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. ROBY having spent two years in practice with Dr. G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call.

H. N. ROBY. d19-6m

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side; the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Harlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. jy28-y

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞None genuine without the name of COMSTOCK & Co., written on the wrappers.

SOLOMON HAYS.

☞For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. n26-eo6m

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or ingommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

se17-tf E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

JOB PRINTING OFFICE,
No. 7 N. GAY STREET.

BULL & TUTTLE, practical JOB PRINTERS respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have removed their Printing Establishment to No. 7 N. GAY STREET, (three doors above their former office,) in the building recently occupied as the office of the Baltimore Chronicle, which has been fitted up in superior style, for the most extensive operations. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. &c. are of fashionable cast, to which they are adding every material, new in the art, in order to keep pace with the improvements of the times. They will print to order,

Cards, Ball Tickets,	Showbills in Colors,
Circulars, Checks,	Handbills, Waybills,
Notes, Bill-heads,	Steamboat Bills,
Bills of Lading,	Rail Road do.
Bills of Exchange,	Stage do.
Commercial Blanks,	Catalogues,
Custom house do.	Auction Bills,
Insurance Policies,	Election Tickets,
Lottery Bills,	Hatters' Tips.

Together with every description of FANCY JOB PRINTING, for framing.

Large Posting Bills for Theatres, &c.

Particular attention paid to the getting up of Large Posting Bills of every kind, for Theatres, Circuses, Shows, &c., for which purpose an assortment of the MOST FASHIONABLE LARGE WOOD TYPE has been laid in, without regard to expense.

Magistrates' Blanks.

Always on hand for sale, a ful assortment of those Magistrates' Blanks which have given such universal satisfaction to all who have used them.

Small Notes.

For Corporations, Private Individuals, Country Merchants, Tavern Keepers, Public Institutions, &c. &c. printed to order at the shortest notice. Having printed many thousands of small notes during the late and present suspension, with entire satisfaction, they flatter themselves that with the addition of a variety of new cut vignettes, flowers and borders, with dies cast expressly for their own use, they feel induced to say that all orders in this department shall be warranted to please. Orders from a distance promptly attended to, and prices as low as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

☞B. & T. would take this opportunity of returning thanks for the very liberal patronage extended to them, and beg leave to assure their friends that the same personal attention, as heretofore, will be paid to the execution of all orders in their business, and at the same reasonable prices. ap26-tf

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That at their regular annual session, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore will be petitioned for an extension and location of Lee-st, from Eutaw west to Scott-st., and of Scott-st. from Cross-st. south to the Patapsco, and of Ostend st. from S. Sharp west to the portwarden's line, and within the limits of these streets thus extended and as now located or opened, and within other limits, all of which are described as follows: the Patapsco on the south, thence along Ostend-street to Hanover-st, along Hanover to Little Montgomery-st., along Little Montgomery to Eutaw street, along Eutaw to Lee street, along Lee to Scott street, along Scott to the Patapsco; the petitioners will pray that every street, lane, alley or road, except south Sharp-street, whether each be merely located, or be condemned and opened as a highway, may be forever closed and shut up—also, that Little Montgomery-st. from Sharp to Eutaw be shut up; also that south of Ostend-st. and west of Race that Leadenhall and S. Sharp st. and the two alleys running parallel therewith be shut up. And the petitioners will pray further, that the streets named in the following description be extended, and be located as the other unopened streets of the city generally are, to wit: S. Sharp-st. from Little Montgomery south to Ostend, Howard from Hill S. to Moale-st., Eutaw from Little Montgomery south to Moale, Paca from Little Paca south to the wharf, Greene from Columbia south to the wharf, Sterret from Columbia south to the river, and that between Green and Sterret, two other streets be located, one at one third and the other at two thirds of the distance from Greene to Sterret st. and that each begin at Lee-st. and be run south to the river; also that an alley 20 feet wide be located between Hanover and Sharp street, and between every two of the streets, to be run north and south; also that Hill-st. be extended and located from Howard west to Scott street, Great Montgomery & Henrietta from Hanover west to Scott, Hamburg and West from S. Charles west to Scott, and Cross from Light-st. west to Scott. It is intended that Howard street be extended 82 feet wide, Eutaw 82 feet, with five squares near the river, 134 feet wide, for a market place, Lee and Hill-sts. 70 feet, and every other street 66 feet wide. n17-2aw9w*

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscriber respectfully informs the Ladies and Gentlemen of Baltimore and its vicinity, that he may be found at his office, No. 4 NORTH STREET, next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION. His Charts are carefully designed—and, from his long experience and extensive practice, a correct delineation of character may be confidently expected. Phrenological Books, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale. E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist. d29-y1m*

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slatt-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-dtf A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

3 The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having defied the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO. No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-streets., on the corner of Uhler's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 3 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Drug Store, Washington City; E. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.

Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. e31-tf

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HAND-BILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

ELEGANT INCORRUPTIBLE

AFTER YEARS of incessant toil and endless experiments, I have succeeded in producing most splendid specimens of INCORRUPTIBLE MINERAL TEETH. They possess an exact resemblance to sound human teeth—and, being incapable of either discoloration or corrosion, forever retain their color and purity in the mouth.

These elegant Teeth are inserted from a single tooth to complete sets of twenty-eight, and the extremely accurate and delicate manner of adapting them to the mouth, renders them highly useful in restoring mastication and utterance. Having in process of manufacture upwards of 12,000 of these Teeth, embracing every imaginable variety of shade, size, and shape, I can match the contiguous systemic teeth with such nicety as to set at defiance the scrutiny of the most observant.

The recent discovery of a valuable mineral production, has rendered the manufacture of these teeth so much less expensive and tedious, that I am enabled to make a very great reduction on the charges usually exacted, and in a style noways inferior to any in the profession. Decayed Teeth permanently PLUGGED with Pure Gold. EXTRACTING, FILING or SEPARATING, CLEANSING, &c. &c.

☞Irregularities in children's teeth rendered perfectly symetrical. Gold PALATES accurately adapted, so as completely to restore articulation.

TOOTH-ACHE! TOOTH-ACHE!!

☞Sufferers by this distressing malady, find instantaneous relief by applying for my "TOOTH-ACHE REMEDY." The ingredients of which this valuable preparation is composed, are of such a nature as not to injure the sound teeth. In very few cases has this remedy been known to fail; should a failure occur, extraction will be performed without charge.

☞Price of the Remedy—50 cents per phial.

J. H. WILCOCK, M. D., Dental Surgeon,
No. 39 Fayette-st., near the Post Office.

N.B. Teeth extracted at any hour of the day or night. e2-mwsu3m

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and this market, a splendid assortment of Rich SILK GOODS, consisting as follows—

1 case 4-4 Rich Glace Faconne, all colors
1 " do. Black and Blue Black Gro de Affrique
1 " do. Satin Striped and Figured Helencia
1 " do. Satin Stripe and Rept, all shades
1 " do. 4-4 Black and Blue Black Gro de Rhine
1 " Plain Gro de Swiss, all colors.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

Just opened—Extra super 9-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
" Very splendid Satin Glace Shawls, large
" 8-4 Cabeech SHAWLS
" 9-4 Broche do.
" 8-4 Thibet Wool do.

MOUSELIN DE LAINES.

One case Black Ground Mouselin de Laine, heavy
Colored Figured do. very superior quality
Half mourning Mouselin de Laine
Handsome assortment Plain and Figured do.
One case superior French MERINOS, all colors.

With a general assortment of New Style Fall Goods, to which they very respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER,
n13 43 Market-st., 4 doors above Gay.

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,

Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosankrantz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophiclydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap18-1y

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST, e7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st.

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.
And in Washington City, by
CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.
☞With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Emporium, No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES.

For sale, at a liberal discount, by
H. WIGMAN, Opposite Post Office.
Who wishes to purchase, at lowest rates of discount,
VIRGINIA
PENNSYLVANIA
NORTH CAROLINA
SOUTH CAROLINA
OHIO
KENTUCKY—and INDIANA
} BANK NOTES.
d22

SERVANTS. Persons in want of Servants of any kind, will be promptly supplied by applying at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. [A] d20

20 Bbls. Fifth Proof Monongahela WHISKEY
60 boxes Sperm, Mould and Dipt CANDLES
100 boxes Choice CHEESE
20 baskets Bordeaux OIL, received and for sale by
d2 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE,
2d January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one of [illegible]'s Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled 'The [illegible]tes;' a plate of fashions, with three female figures [illegible]ully colored; two pages of Music, and Anglic[illegible]—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER:

The Y[illegible], by Thomas G. Spear.
The L[illegible]y Jesse E. Dow.
The Wa[illegible] by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves f[illegible] Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Soldier[illegible]le, by A. McMakin.
The Blind[illegible] Durang.
To the Pin[illegible], by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Reefe[illegible]uthor of 'Crossing is the Last V[illegible]
Sabbath Be[illegible]y [illegible]s G. Clark.
Thine—Only[illegible] Catharine H. W. Pelling.
Music. The[illegible] A Ballad. Music arranged by [illegible]MENTS:
'The 'Playmates' [illegible] Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel.
A Plate of the [illegible]—three figures.
Two pages of Mu[illegible]

☞Terms $3 [illegible]um, or 50 cts. a single [illegible]. Published monthly [illegible]ver'd in any part of [illegible] and sent by mail to [illegible]y [illegible] the United States, the Canadas, by the p[illegible].

Subscriptions received [illegible]

WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. ja2

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty, 16 superb plates—price	$5.00
Keepsake, 15 do	3.50
Heath's Picturesque Annuale, 15 plates,	3.00
Forget-Me-Not, 14 plates	2.00
Friendship's Offering, 10 plates,	2.00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptible present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
d23 And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS.

AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by

SAM'L. CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.
Washington City, by
W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.
In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.
oc9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS.)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10	cases	do	do	Cap PAPER
15	do	Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter PAPER
5	do	do	do	Cap do
4	do	do	do	Folio post do
20	do	Hudson's	do	Letter do
15	do	do	do	Cap do
10	do	do	do	Flat Cap do
8	do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super-royal WRITING PAPER
12	do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter do
6	do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2	do	do	Super Flat Cap
12	do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5	do	Dickey and Leyste's do	do
10	do	Plitner & Smith's	do	do
4	do	do	Folio and Packet Post
15	do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2	do	do	Ledger PAPERS
20	do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter
2000	reams	NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2000	do	Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300	do	Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap

4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Band Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 76 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received, a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT H. HARRISON,
se10-6m LEWIS G. CURLETT,
No. 19 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $2000. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to GEORGE GELBACH,
Real Estate and General Agency Office, corner Balt. & Frederick sts.
d21 [A]

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rochester White Wheat FLOUR
50 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs. Zante CURRANTS.
Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by
n13 tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

SUPERIOR CHEWING TOBACCO, and Regalia, Havana, and Principe CIGARS—for sale by mh2 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

MAGISTRATES' BLANKS. On hand and for sale by BULL & TUTTLE, Printers,
No. 7 N. Gay street, (Clipper Office.)

PAGE(S)
MISSING

1-8-1840

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

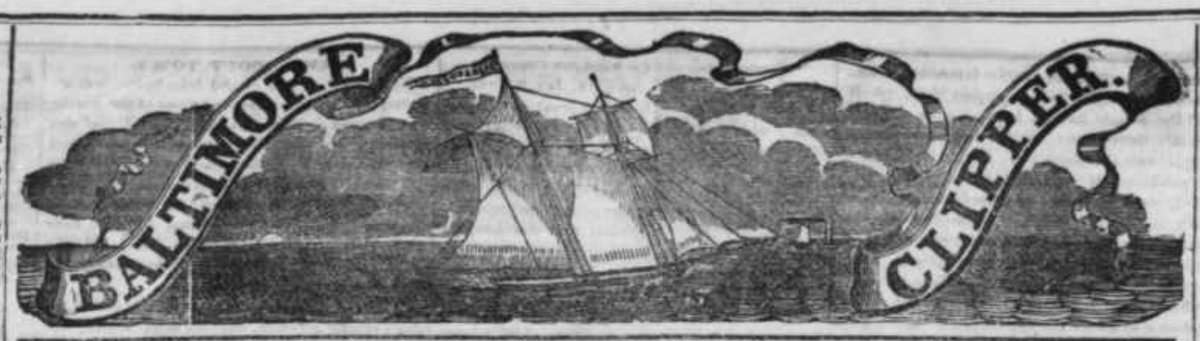
TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞Country Subscribers can receive the paper, by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square 1 time,	$0 50		1 square 1 month,	$4 00
1 do. 2 times,	75		1 do. 2 months,	7 00
1 do. 3 do.	1 00		1 do. 3 do.	10 00
1 do. 1 week,	1 75		1 do. 6 do.	16 00
1 do. 2 weeks,	2 75		1 do. 1 year,	30 00

☞Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.



VOL. III. NO. 100.] SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 9, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

WORSHIP BY THE ROSE-TREE.

BY MISS F. H. GOULD.

Author of beauty, Spirit of Power,
Thou who didst will that the rose should be,
Here is the place, and this is the hour
To seek thy presence, and bow to thee.
Bright is the world with the sun's first rays;
Cool is the dew on the soft, green sod,
The rose-tree blooms, while the birds sing praise,
And earth gives glory to Nature's God.

Under this beautiful work of thine,
The flowery boughs that are bending o'er
The glistening turf, to thy will divine,
I kneel, and its Maker and mine adore!
Thou art around us. Thy robe of light
Touches the gracefully waving tree,
Turning to jewels the tears of night,
And making the buds unfold to thee.

Thy name is marked in delicate lines,
On flower and leaf that deck the stem;
Thy care is seen, and thy wisdom shines
In even the thorn that is guarding them.
Now, while the rose that has burst her cup,
Opens her heart and freely throws
To me her odors, I offer up
Thanks to the Being who made the rose.

SCENE ON THE OHIO.

BY J. TODD.

'Well it is now nearly forty years since I first saw the glorious Ohio. I shouted when I first saw it; I have loved it ever since, and when I die I hope I shall be buried on its banks. On a certain day I engaged to go down the river to Kentucky with Capt. Ward, as he was removing his family from the East. The journey was long, and at best would be tedious. I was a kind of pilot for I was well acquainted with the river and all points of danger. The country was full of Indians, and no settlement of any note had been made in Ohio. The whites and Indians too, were constantly making war upon each other. I do not know which was the most to blame: the whites killed the most and the Indians were the most cruel. We purchased an old crazy, square built boat, between forty and fifty feet in length, and about ten wide. We had a heavy load, furniture, baggage, horses, pigs, fowls, ploughs, besides nearly a dozen people. These consisted of the captain, his wife and children, a widowed sister and son, besides several men to manage the boat. When we left, we were fearful lest the Indians should attack us from the shore, but we knew that by keeping in the middle of the river, we should be beyond the reach of their rifles, or could be in a minute. Thus we passed on for several days, until we supposed we were beyond the haunts of the Indians. One day just at sunset, after we had become tired of rowing, we let our boat drift lazily and carelessly along the current. We were just getting ready, to put up for the night. The mother was promising the children a good run on shore. The widow was getting out provisions, and making preparations for our supper. The captain and his nephew had hold of the oars, and moved them just enough to allow me to steer the boat.

'Rogers,' said the captain, 'suppose we put in this side of the point, and tie our boat to one of these big trees and there encamp for the night.'

'It's a right good place, captain, and I like it. Besides a few moments ago, I thought that I heard wild turkeys over the hill, and should like to have one for our supper.'

So we put in towards the shore, and had got within fifty yards of that point around which the steamboat has just passed, when I heard a stick crack as if broken by the foot.

'A deer,' said the captain.

'No, no, I shouted, row, row, or we are all dead.'

At that instant down rushed scores of Indians to the shore, with a shout that made the hills across the river echo it back again. The murderous creatures rushed down to the water's edge, and presented their guns and opened a heavy fire upon us. In an instant the young man snatched his rifle and rising at full length, fired at the nearest Indian who had a shabby head dress. The Indian fell and so did the young man at the same instant. As he fell, the Captain brought the boat around still nearer. The Indians yelled, the women screamed, the horses were falling and plunging, and bullets were flying thick around us. Yet above all the voice of Captain Ward rose cool—'Rogers, take my oar.'

I took it, and he at the same instant seized a plank and rowed to such good purpose that in a few moments we were out in the stream, beyond the reach of their rifles. We knew they had no canoes, being on a hunting excursion, and that we were safe. But oh! what a sight! the horses were all dead or dying, one child badly wounded, the boat half filled with water, and the young man in his blood at the bottom of the boat. By this time the coolness of the captain was all gone. He lay down by the side of his nephew whom he loved as a son, and exclaimed: 'O John, John! O Lord have mercy, I have brought the poor boy to his death!' But the widowed mother. She was pale as a sheet: but she came to her son, raised his head in her lap, and opened his bosom where the blood was still coming. He was yet alive.

'John,' said she in a sweet voice, as if speaking to a babe, 'John, do you know me?'

'My mother,' said he in a whisper.

'Can you swallow, John?' said she, putting her hand over, and dipping some water from the river.

He tried, but could not.

'My son, do you know that you are dying?'

'Yes mother; but are you hurt?'

'No, no; but don't think of me. Can you pray with the heart now, my dear son?'

'God be merciful to me a sinner, for the sake of ——.'

'Jesus Christ!' said the mother, for he was gone. She bent over him a few minutes as if in silent prayer, then kissed his lips, and for the first time tears filled her eyes. Till that moment you would have thought she was talking to a child just going to sleep, her voice was so calm and so mild. She was a widow and he was her only child, and a noble fellow he was. But she was a religious woman. I never saw religion like that before or since. We lay off the river till dark; and then silently came to the shore on this side, for the night. We dared not light a candle lest the Indians should see it. We milked our only cow, and fed the children and got them to sleep. We then brought the body of the young man up the bank, and when the moon arose, we dug that grave which you see yonder. We had to be careful not to weep aloud. But after we had opened the grave and were ready to put the corpse in it, the widowed mother spoke:

'Is there no one here that can offer a prayer as we bury my only child!'

There was no answer. We could all sob, but we had never prayed for ourselves. She then knelt down, and laying her hand on the bosom of her dear boy, she, in a subdued voice, uttered such a prayer as few have ever heard. She was calm as the bright waters at our feet.

And when she came to pray for the whole of us—for the poor Indians who had murdered her boy; when she gave thanks to God that he had so long comforted her heart with her son: and when she gave thanks to God who had given her such a son to give back to him, it was awful! we could not sob aloud! You preachers talk about sublimity, but if this is not, I do not know what it is. Well, there we buried him; and there he sleeps yet. In the morning, I got up at daylight and came up here to place the stone at the head of the grave. It was bloody, for his head had rested upon it. I found the mother was here before me; perhaps she had been here all night.—She was trying to do the very thing, and so without saying a single word I took hold and helped her to put the stone at the head of the grave. It is now nearly sunk in the ground, but it stands just as we placed it. When we had done, the widow turned and said 'Rogers,' but tears came and I was thanked enough.'

I have sat on this log many times, and thought over the whole scene, and though the mother has been in the grave many years, yet I can see her even now, just as she looked when she turned to thank me, and I can hear her voice just as she spoke to her dying boy.—Christian Keepsake.

A FASHIONABLE LADY AT THE PIANO. We find in that queer book, entitled Georgia Scenes, Characters and Incidents, published by Harpers, a chapter giving a description of the proceedings at an evening party. Miss Crumb, a young lady educated in Philadelphia, and who was highly accomplished, being instructed in all the mysteries of French, Italian, Music, drawing, &c. was called upon to give a specimen of her musical powers. After the usual number of solicitations from the beaux, and protestations on the part of the belle, that she was out of practice, had a bad cold, was hoarse, &c. she suffered herself to be led to the piano, when the scene ensued, which is graphically described in the following extract:

"She seated herself at the piano, rocked to the right and then to the left, leaned forward then backward, and began. She placed her right hand about midway the keys, and her left about two octaves below it. She now put off the right in a brisk canter up the treble notes, and the left after it. The left then led the way back, and the right pursued it in like manner. The right turned, and repeated its first movement; but the left outran it this time, hopped over it and flung it entirely off the track. It came in again, however, behind the left, and passed it in the same style. They now became highly incensed at each other, and met furiously on the middle ground.

Here a most awful conflict ensued for about the space of ten seconds, when the right whipped off all of a sudden, as I thought fairly vanquished. But I was in the error against which Jack Randolph cautions us. 'It had only fallen back to a stronger position.' It mounted upon two black keys, and commenced the note of a rattlesnake. This had a wonderful effect upon the left, and placed the doctrine of 'snake charming' beyond a dispute. The left rushed furiously towards it repeatedly but seemed invariably panic struck when it came within six keys of it, and as invariably retired with a tremendous roaring down the bass keys. It continued its assaults, sometimes by way of naturals, sometimes by way of the sharps, and sometimes by a zig zag through both; but all the attempts to dislodge the right from its stronghold proving ineffectual, it came close up to its adversary and expired.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 7th, 1841.

Mr. Legrand presented the petition of Jonas Steffter, praying to be divorced from his wife Caroline Steffter.

Also, presented the petition of Adam Deluc, praying for a divorce from his wife Welhelmina Deluc.

Mr. Causin obtained leave to introduce a bill to be entitled a supplement to an act, entitled, an act to incorporate the Trustees of the Poor of Baltimore city and county.

Mr. Legrand moved that the leave be referred to a select committee composed of the Baltimore city and county delegation.

The question was then put on Mr. Legrand's motion to refer, which was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. Gantt offered an order that the Geologist be directed to make his report as soon as practicable.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the order of the day, being the bill reported by Mr. Bowie, entitled "an act to authorise the incorporated banks of this state to issue small notes for a limited time." Mr. Bowie moved to refer the bill to the committee on ways and means.

The motion of Mr. Bowie, together with some amendments offered by Mr. Tuck, was adopted—shortly after this the House adjourned.

SENATE. The Treasurer submitted a statement, which shows that the General Government is indebted to the state of Maryland for moneys borrowed and expended by the state during the last war for the use and benefit of the United States, in the sum of $201,000 undisputed; and $28,000 still disputed. Ordered to be printed.

The Senate went into Executive session.

In the Senate, on Wednesday, Nathaniel F. Williams, Esq was appointed a Director in the Bank of Baltimore.

☞A young man named William Stokes from Virginia, was arrested on the 6th inst. on the charge of having been connected with the late Brooklyn robberies and murder.

For the Baltimore Clipper.

FRANKLIN BANK OF BALTIMORE.

It has been remarked that there exists a fund of gullibility in the community of the city of Baltimore not to be surpassed in any—the most secluded—village, with its meandering brooks and purling streams—remote from the hum of business and the great marts where man, driven by interest and corrected by experience, is supposed to attain the highest degree of caution and circumspection. The observer may in vain look for the causes of this peculiarity of our people in an uninterrupted prosperity which might yield a satisfactory solution—for within a few years the calamities which have befallen us might have furnished a less credulous community with an age of experience.

As this, however, only tends to show that our misfortunes may often be traced to our own weakness, and is a subject rather for curious than useful speculation, I proceed to offer some views, which if adopted and acted on, in relation to the affairs of the Franklin Bank, might somewhat mitigate the embarrassment caused by its failure, and perhaps to many of a certain class of the sufferers, the depositors and note-holders, nearly approximate to entire relief.

It is the belief of those who possess the most ample means of information, that the notes and deposites will be redeemed; cannot then some means be devised by which they may be kept at par until absorbed by the payment of the discounted paper and other debts due the bank. We feel inclined to reply in the affirmative. Suppose the Franklin Bank should deposit her discounted paper with some known solvent trust fund, as the Baltimore Life Insurance Co. for example, or bank, if you please, and receive in return certificates payable in nine or twelve months, leaving the interest or such commission as might be deemed compensatory, and which would be trifling, in loss to individuals, when compared to the present sacrifice on the notes (being 25 or 30 per cent. when exchanged for good funds) though an ample compensation in so large an operation to the company. Many of the depositors and note-holders would await the time, and those who might be compelled to sell would have a much better commodity than Franklin Bank notes. Capitalists would be suited in having paper of a known specific value on a certain day, and, under no circumstances would the loss be so great as is now sustained daily on the notes. Some opposition to the adoption of the proposed plan would be made on the part of those disinterested persons indebted to the bank, who, whether directors or not, would perceive great hardship and perhaps injustice in being compelled to pay dollar for dollar. But let a meeting be called forthwith in anticipation of the regular meeting which is yet nearly thirty days off, and prior to which all the mischief may be done. If the creditors prefer, let a Bank, Trust Fund or other institution receive the assets forthwith and compel every debtor to pay in like value received. As the bank capital was $600,000, it is probable that the whole assets yet remaining would be ample security for the notes, and perhaps a majority of the stockholders would be satisfied that the management should change hands.

NECKAR.

PRICES STOCK EXCHANGE, &c.

Reported for the BALTIMORE CLIPPER by Wm. Ward, at his Stock and Bank Note Exchange Office, No. 21 Exchange Building.

Baltimore, January 8th, 1841.

	Paid.
BANK STOCKS.
U. S. Bank Stock, per share,	$100	50
Bank of Baltimore,	300	270
Union Bank of Mary'd, hf. shares,	37½	27
" " " whole "	75	54 ‡
Mechanics' Bank,	15	14 ‡
Franklin Bank,	25
Commercial and Farmers' Bank,	20	22
Full paid " "	33½	35
Farmers' and Merchants' Bank,	50	32
Marine Bank,	30	26
Farmers' Bank of Mary'd, Annapolis,	50	45
Merchants' Bank,	100	92
Patapsco Bank,	25	21
Farmers' and Planters' Bank,	25	20¼ ‡
Citizens' Bank,	10	7
Chesapeake Bank,	25	19½
Western Bank,	25	18
INSURANCE STOCKS.
Maryland,	100	200
Baltimore,	300	200
American,	100	55
Neptune,	100	75
Baltimore Fire,	6½	5½
Firemen's,	6	6
Baltimore Life Insurance Company,	50	46
American Life Ins. and Trust Co.	50	no sale
Merchants' Fire Insurance Co.	50	30
ROAD STOCKS.
Reister's Town,	20	6½
Frederick Town,	20	5
York,	20	5
Baltimore and Harford Turnpike,	50	26
Washington and Baltimore,	100	100
Baltimore and Ohio Rail-road,	100	33 ‡
Baltimore and Susquehanna,	50
New Castle and Frenchtown,	25	26
Philad., Wilmington and Balto.	50	44
MISCELLANEOUS STOCKS.
City Corporation 6 per cts.,	100
City Corporation 6 per cts., redeemable after 1870,	100	95‡
City Corp. 6 p. cts., after 1860,	100
City Corp. 5 p. cts., after 1870,	100	80
Maryland State 4½ per cents,	100	76
" " 5 "	100	80 ‡
" " 6 "	100	95
Six per cent stock of the Balt. & Ohio R. R. Co., redeemable after 1854,		94
Annuities or Ground Rents,		6a8 ‡
Baltimore Water Company,	50	70 ‡
Union Manufacturing Company,	50	10
Gas Light Company,	100	94
Screw Dock Company,	100	50
Md. and Va. Steam Navigation Co.	500	no sale
Baltimore and Potomac,	125	25
Alexandria and Georgetown,	100	25
Rappahannock,	100	35
Steamboat Maryland,	100	40
Baltimore Shot Tower,	100	240
Phœnix Shot Tower,	100	90
Eutaw Shot Tower,	100	105
Susquehanna Canal,	50	35 ‡
Canton Company,	60	29

‡ For Sale. † Wanted.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE,
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE!

TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Bay Line—the Companies on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedule:

Leave Philadelphia	8 A.M.	reach	Baltimore	2 P.M.
" Baltimore	4 P.M.	"	Washington	6 P.M.
" Washington	5 A.M.	"	Fred'ksburg	12 M.
" Fred'ksburg	12 M.	"	Richmond	5 P.M.
" Richmond	5 P.M.	"	Petersburg	7 P.M.
" Petersburg	7 P.M.	"	Weldon	1 A.M.
" Weldon	1 A.M.	"	Wilmington	1 P.M.
" Wilmington	1 P.M.	"	Charleston	at 5 the next day.

As this Line carries the Great Mail, (which cannot be delayed,) and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is sure of a connection through, whilst it is evident that Foul Roads Weather!! and Storms!!! must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two-thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT ISLAND ROUTE.

☞The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon; and travellers have no expense or trouble with their Baggage.

☞This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞This is the only Daily Line to Richmond and Petersburg.

☞Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of

STOCKTON, FALLS & CO.
Adjoining the Philadelphia Rail Road Office,
412-tf PRATT STREET, Baltimore.

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.

The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $2.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $3. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate

HATS!
HATS!!
HATS!!!
HATS!!!!
HATS!!!!!

Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at

W. H. KEEVIL & CO'S,
No. 66½ Baltimore st., opposite Tripolett's alley,
And 4 doors W. of Best's well known Auction Store.
d16-tjan19

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.
LADY'S BOOK, for JANUARY, 1841.—Edited by Mrs. SARAH J. HALE, and Mrs. LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY. The only Work, intended for Ladies, that is edited by their own Sex. Miss E. LESLIE contributes to every Number.

CONTENTS—Original. The Festa di Pie di Grotta; Mr. and Mrs. Woodbridge, by Miss Leslie; Amusements; Ballad, by Mr. C. B. Wilson, of London, England; Prayers at Sea, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney; False Pride, a Tale of Every Day Life, by Mrs. Mary W. Hale; The Fairy's Proffer, by Mrs. Annas, (late Miss A. M. F. Buchanan); An Incident during a Siege, by Mrs. Mary H. Parsons; Antonio Salvini, a Tale, by Mrs. E. F. Ellet; Childhood's Laugh, by Mrs. Seba Smith; A Life of Fashion, by Mrs. Emma C. Embury; Man's First Offering, by Mrs. S. J. Hale; The Parlor Serpent, by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz; To Wordsworth, written at Rydal Mount, by Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney; Ernestine, by Esther Wetherwald; Our Life is as a Shadow, by Miss Lois Bryan. Music—The Stranger's Heart—words by Mrs. Hemans—music by Miss Augusta Browne; A Singular Fact, by Mrs. M. M. Webster; The two Trees, by Caroline T. Orne; New Year's Eve; or, Amusements at Home, by Mrs. S. J. Hale. Editor's Table.

EMBELLISHMENTS. Neapolitan Peasants—the finest Plate of the season—engraved by A. L. Dick; Fashions, Colored—Female figure, with fashionable head dress and apron; Boy's Dress; Girl's out door Dress; Girl's in-door Dress.

☞Baltimore Publisher—WM. N. HARRISON, No. 28 N. Gay-st., and 74 Market-st. at J. MOORE'S Bookstore, one door below Holliday street.

TERMS—$3 per year, or 25 cents each number. Register your names to day, being a fine Christmas Gift.
d24

A NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.
THE LADY'S BOOK, Bound, Volume XXII, Price $1.69.

LIST OF ENGRAVINGS:
1. Fairmount Water Works, Philadelphia.
2. The Pilgrims.
3. The Indian Maid.
4. Happy as a King.
5. Death of Lucth.
6. Constantinople.

And six colored PRINTS of the latest Fashions.
N. B. The January number for 1841 is just received. Price 25 cents—or $3 per year. For sale at
W. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Office,
No. 28 N. Gay street—and at
JOHN MOORE'S Bookstore,
429 No. 74 Market st. 1 door below Holliday.

JOB PRINTING,
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office.

THE proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Bronzed Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Warranted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by Dr. HITZELBERGER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $3!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

Dr. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of 10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $3. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. sel3-ylm*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.
DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND,
For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabetes or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the urethra of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, composed solely of vegetable substance? One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N. B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of T. J. PITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Briton and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue. And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL.
dec5-y

A BLESSING TO ALL MANKIND.

The VEGETABLE FLUID SYRUP, or Mercurial Extractor. This infallible Syrup is the discovery of an old veteran and hero of the vegetable kingdom; from his long research, his labors have been crowned with the glorious result of a positive remedy for the bad effects of that poisonous drug (Mercury,) and while it has this new efficacious effect upon the bones affected with mercury, it at the same time purifies the blood from the remnants of Venereal Disease, Scrofulous Affections, Splotches and Eruptions upon the Skin, old standing indolent Ulcers, &c.

For sale, wholesale, and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO., No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-sts., on the corner of Usher's alley; and at the General Agency Office, No. 3 Pitt street, Baltimore. Also, at WM. LANPHIER'S Drug Store, Washington, D. C. o31

LIME!! LIME!!! LIME!!!
THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor Ducatel,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents per cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.

HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.
☞Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME!! LIME!! LIME!!!
AN AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 22 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Coal-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 100,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and uncut, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.

HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.
je18-d

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Depository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and according to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the expense of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.

my3-dif HOPE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.
THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for Slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.

s23-dif G. W. P. CARCE.

CASSIA AND CHAMPAGNE.
10 CASES FRESH CASSIA
10 baskets Genuine Anchor CHAMPAGNE
Landing from Celeste, for sale by
MARCUS DENISON,
de 24 No. 31 Baltimore street.

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. *

CASH FOR NEGROES.

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

SATURDAY MORNING, Jan. 9, 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

THE OCEAN AND WEEKLY CLIPPER. City subscribers to this paper can receive their copies by applying at the office at any time this morning. The contents of this number are varied, and of an interesting character. Single copies 6¼ cts. Subscription $1.50 a year.

THE COMMON GOOD. Society is so constituted in this country, where there are no privileged orders, and where all avenues are open to honorable competition, that no injury can be inflicted upon a particular class of persons, without its affecting, more or less, the entire mass. Hence the necessity of discarding individual feeling and partial views, in all questions of important general bearing. This is more emphatically obligatory upon editors of newspapers; because the influence which they exert upon the minds of others, may, if governed by other than enlarged views, be productive of great evil. It may apparently advance the interests of a particular class, upon which an editor may be more or less dependent for his support, but the principle upon which it is exercised being radically wrong, the measure in view will generally be found erroneous. We know that a right measure may, by stupidity or design, be wrongly advocated—but persons who thus heedlessly sustain what they do not comprehend, or selfishly support what, however their own little ends may be answered, will be prejudicial to the general interests, must soon lose the confidence of an intelligent people.

By a law of Pennsylvania the banks of that state are compelled to resume specie payments during the present month; and it is their interest that resumption should be simultaneous in other states. Were we, therefore, writing for the interests of Philadelphia, regardless of those of Baltimore, we should be the strong advocates of immediate resumption by our banks. But we choose to look at home, and to consult the interests of the people among whom we were born and raised, and with whom our lot is cast, probably for life. With feelings inspired by these considerations, we have made such suggestions as we thought were called for by the proposed resumption of specie payments. We have shewn that by the substitution of rail road notes a saving of $180,000 might be made annually to the city of Baltimore, and the like amount to the state at large. It remains to be seen whether the people desire to have immediate resumption at such an enormous cost; for it must be evident to every man of common sense, that if the banks resume and refuse to receive rail road notes, they will be immediately converted into stock, upon which the people must pay interest. Neither the finances of the state or city are in so flourishing a condition as to dispense with so considerable a saving. We suspect that tax-payers thoughout the state are not so solicitous for an addition to their bills as to prefer specie with an increase of taxation, to rail road notes without it. Grant that the wealthier portion of the community can meet the increased demand without inconvenience, will this be the case with those in mediocre circumstances, or with those who are more destitute? The landlord levies the additional tax, in the shape of rent, upon the tenant—the tenant then either suffers the loss, or adds it to the prices of his commodities; and thus the chief part of the burthen falls upon the consumer. In the case of the farmer, he must either add to the price of his productions or reduce the expenses of labor, unless he is content to deduct the whole amount of tax from his own pocket. There are very few small farmers who could safely adopt the latter course, in case of heavy taxes, consequently either the consumer or the poor laborer would suffer. But, suppose all classes to be perfectly able to pay the additional taxes without inconvenience, where is the propriety or utility of levying an onerous tax when it can be avoided? Must it be imposed to give a few grasping individuals the power to jingle specie in their pockets, or to hoard it in their coffers? Can it be believed that, under existing circumstances, with the severe loss just sustained in consequence of the precipitate action in regard to the Franklin Bank, there would not be an unusual demand for specie? Would the banks forbear to press each other, and thus send the weaker to the wall? We do not wish to see the experiment tried at this moment. We are not so anxious to finger the specie as to be willing to crush others that we may be gratified. We are all interested in preserving a sound currency; and what currency can be more sound, more safe, than that for which the whole property of Maryland is responsible? It is ridiculous to class such a currency with the irresponsible and unauthorised shinplasters of individuals. The latter were a gross imposition, intended solely for personal benefit, and, in some instances, swindling in their conception and operation. The people could and did lose by their irredeemable issues; and the feeling is just and natural that demands their total banishment from circulation. This we feel confident would be done by the payment of fractional parts of a dollar by the banks. Is there any analogy between this spurious shinplaster currency and the notes of the rail road company? The man must be demented who thinks he can discover the slightest. On the latter there cannot be any loss, for the people who take them are responsible for their redemption.

It appears to us that the question of immediate resumption, so far as the public interests are concerned, is reducible to the compass of a nutshell. Shall the people have a heavy tax or dispense with it? Resumption lays the tax—non-resumption prevents the necessity. But, independent of the public aspect in which the subject is thus placed, there is another of little less importance, which we have heretofore touched—the great pecuniary pressure and consequent distress which would ensue from immediate resumption. A fool may plunge his hand into the boiling water to catch the substance at the bottom, but the man of wisdom will await the subsidence of the element to obtain the object with more safety.

PENNSYLVANIA. The message just sent to the Legislature of this State by Governor Porter, reiterates the recommendations made in a former message "on the subjects of the internal improvements of the commonwealth, the public debt, and the reformation of the banking system;" and urges upon the legislature the adoption of his sentiments in regard to the banking system, particularly.—He says, that "he trusts the present legislature will not separate, until they shall have made a searching and thorough reform of the imperfections and manifold abuses of the present system." He congratulates the legislature on the near approach of the period when specie payments will be resumed by the banks—recommends that no addition be made to the banking capital, and that in future, the suspension of specie payments by a bank, shall be ipso facto, a forfeiture of its charter. The public works have been well managed during the past year, but the Governor "thinks it full time for Pennsylvania to pause in her career of internal improvements, and test for a time the usefulness and value of the stupendous achievements she has made;" though he anticipates the time when, from the augmentation of population and the revival of business, public improvements can be still farther advanced.

PUBLIC DEBT.

The present amount of the public debt is,
Permanent loans at 5 per cent.	$83,086,013 32
" " at 4½ per cent.	200,000 000
Temporary loans at 4 pr. ct.	15,000 00
	$83,301,013 32
Due to U. States, on account of deposite surplus revenue,	$2,867,514 78
Unpaid appropriations,	622,247 59
	$36,790,775 69

PUBLIC PROPERTY.

Bank stock,	$2,196,700 00
Turnpike and bridge stock,	2,830,348 89
Canal and Navigation stock,	645,569 00
Rail road stock,	335,646 90
Money due on land, estimated,	1,000,000 00
Public works, canals, railways &c.	29,378,566 17
	$36.498,370 96

"Thus it appears," says the Governor, "that the resources of the Commonwealth are abundant, but not immediately available for the purpose of paying either the principal or the interest of the public debt."

Here will be a deficiency in the fund to pay the interest on the public debt on the first of February next, of perhaps, $800,000, but the Governor supposes that the act passed in June, 1840, to raise additional revenue, will afford a sufficient sum to liquidate the interest account, without further resort to loans.

On the subject of preserving the faith of the state inviolate, we quote the language of the Governor, which must receive the hearty assent of every honorable man:

"I can never consent, by word or deed, to countenance the idea that the faith of the State can be violated by a failure to meet her engagements. If there be any in our country who would be willing, if they were able, to abrogate the contracts of the Commonwealth, and be faithless to her creditors, let their doctrine be distinctly avowed and the issue fairly made up before the people. The intelligence and integrity of our citizens would speedily convince the world that they feel the necessity in a republican government of maintaining, unsullied, public faith and national honor."

The governor recommends to the Legislature, the enactment of a law authorizing the Canal Commissioners to treat with the authorities of the State of New York, for such a connection of our internal improvements with theirs, as will best promote the interests of the two Commonwealths.

Late pecuniary embarrassments and their causes are lightly touched on by Governor Porter, with a reference to opinions formerly communicated. We quote from this portion of his message the following just views: "No one, however, can doubt, that, when our country is importing large amounts of the luxuries and superfluities of life from foreign countries, unless exportage a sufficiency of our own products to pay for them, there must be a constant drain of the precious metals, and hence a scarcity of money to supply the wants of our community at home. A retrenchment among our own citizens, of whom plain republican simplicity has ever been a distinguishing characteristic, in the purchase and use of articles of mere luxury, would tend to lessen this cause of pecuniary embarrassment."

A large portion of the message is occupied with remarks on the various works of internal improvements in progress; their ultimate destination and probable results—the ample resources of the State in coal, iron, marble, limestone, &c. The coal field, he states, embraces more than one-fifth of the whole area of the commonwealth, being more than three times as much as belongs to entire Europe.

He complains of a fault that is too general—that is, legislating too much. He rebukes congress for "converting the halls of legislation into an arena for the display of political gladiators"—hopes that the pernicious example will not be followed by the State legislatures; and has an apprehension that it will reach the legislature of Pennsylvania. The governor concludes with a reference to his former messages for a variety of matters which he recommends to the consideration of the legislature.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8, 1841.

Owing to the rapid thaw, the great quantity of snow, which appeared to have taken a lease of the city, is now nearly all gone, and the streets are once more in a passable condition. The air is mild, and the ladies are brightening the eyes of the storekeepers with their presence.

There are many complaints that storekeepers and others do not keep their share of the side walk clean. Such conduct is indefensible, and the fine ought to be strictly enforced.

Yesterday morning a large hog ran into a boarding house on the Avenue, and carried off a large piece of meat. The servants ran out with broomsticks, pokers, &c., by the application of which the hog was persuaded to relinquish his prize. No sooner was the meat recovered than a number of poor people ran to beg it, stating that they were in a state of starvation. The meat was not fit to eat after being thus mutilated, but it was gladly accepted by a white woman, who took it home to feed her famishing children. I merely mention this to show the state of destitution in which many families are in this District.

The bill reported on yesterday by Mr. Monroe, providing for the erection of an asylum for our old soldiers, does him great credit, and I hope it will pass, and that we shall be behind no country in the world in our liberality to the sturdy veterans who defend us.

In the House of Representatives this morning Mr. Underwood, from the select committee on steam boilers, reported a bill making appropriation for the purchase of Raub's double self-acting safety valves, for the use of Government.

After some debate of a desultory character, the bill was read twice and made the special order for Monday fortnight.

Mr. Underwood said that this was one of the most important subjects that could possibly come up for consideration, inasmuch as scarcely a day passed without accounts of some dreadful disaster by the explosion of boilers.

A bill was introduced and passed authorising the enrolment of the schooner "Amistad," which had been purchased by an American citizen from the Marshal of Connecticut, who had sold it under an order from the District Court. The vessel having a foreign bottom, could not be permitted to pass the custom house. The passage of this act therefore became necessary.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of private bills.

In the Senate the pre-emption land bill was again taken up, and debated through the day.

CHINA. By the last accounts England is making slow progress in the conquest of this country. The war against China has not a much better foundation than the claim of the Frenchman, as related by Franklin, who demanded pay for heating the poker because the man declined having it run into him. The Chinese government refused to permit their subjects to be poisoned, and England demands pay for the trouble of conveying the poison to China. The war is founded on immorality and injustice, and cannot be successful if right prevail. The idea has been broached in some of the English prints, that China will be added to the British East India possessions; but it would be as well to catch the animal before selling his hide. Should the pretensions of Great Britain extend further than to an indemnity for alleged losses, and a re-establishment of trade (excepting in opium) upon equitable principles—should she design to add China to her already immense Eastern territories, she will probably have to encounter stronger arms than those of the enfeebled Chinese. It is not likely that Russia will remain passive under such a state of things, if other powers should look on unconcerned. But we incline to the opinion that no such view is entertained by England, and that the pretenson is a mere boast of an uninformed journalist.

FIRES IN CHICAGO, ILLINOIS. The Chicago American of the 28th inst. contains an account of several disastrous fires which occurred in that town on the 27th and 28th ultimo. The fire first commenced in an Irish shanter. The second was a house on La Salle street. Two more occurred on the morning of the 28th. It commenced in a house of Mr. Dewey, a number of buildings were consumed only by tearing down the rest. The damages sustained have been estimated at from fifteen to twenty thousand dollars. The names of those who suffered from loss of property, are James Gray, H. Hildreth, Adam Berg, P. T. W. Perk, Wm. F. McClure, George Davis, A. G. Burley, Hugh Ross, Miss McComber, Mr. Collier, Lewis Wakerlie, A. Funk, E. Reynolds, C. B. Cobb and several others whose names were not mentioned.

☞ Much excitement is yet manifested both in New York and Philadelphia on account of the United States Bank. Its stock is fluctuating almost every hour. The last sales made in New York were at 86, and in Philadelphia at 51½. The most recent statement which has been made by the directors, and published, seems to have gained for the institution a shade more of confidence.

DECISION. By recent reports of the proceedings in the court of errors at Albany, New York, it has been decided that the City Corporation of New York is not liable for the damages done to houses which were torn down during the progress of the great fire in that city some years since, in order to arrest the flames. The above decision has been pending ever since the great fire.

DEATH IN CHURCH. A young lady, on the 20th ult. was taken with coughing in Church, at Utica, and before she could be removed she expired.

MR. [illegible] (Whig) has been elected to the U. S. Senate from the District in Massachusetts now represented by Mr. Williams (W. B.

NEWS ABOUT TOWNS.

ROBBERY. A man named John Spicer was arrested on Thursday evening by one of the watchmen, having in his possession a bundle of wet clothes. He was taken to the watch house, and on examining the clothes, they were found to be the property of Bartus Wilkins, and constituted a "week's washing." He said he found them in the street, but it was proved that he must have taken them from Mr. Wilkin's garret. In the morning he was committed to jail by Justice Gorsuch.

UNMANLY. Joseph Frederick was on Thursday evening arrested, charged with beating and otherwise abusing his wife and family. Justice Gorsuch, in default of his being able to find security, committed him to a place where he will, in all probability, need the companionship of his better half.

SACRED CONCERT. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the Sacred Concert given by the choir of Mr. Heiner's church was well attended, and the performances went off with spirit. It will be seen that the Concert is to be repeated on Tuesday evening next.

THE JAIL. How is it that the whites and blacks are confined together in the jail? It has been the custom, we are aware, but it is a custom that requires a remedy. The construction of the jail does not at all answer the purposes for which it was built—there are but three apartments for the criminals, who are thrown together like as many swine. We should always believe a man innocent until he is proved guilty, and many are committed to jail who afterwards have shewn their innocence. This being the case, let the accommodations be suitable.

☞ A correspondent signing himself "a bank man" seems to be very curious to know whether there is to be an expose of the condition of the Franklin Bank, and which of the Directors has received the greatest "accommodation." Neither of which questions are we able to answer.

FINE WEATHER. After the severe weather we experienced for some days, the mild air and bright sun of yesterday came upon us as refreshing as balm to the wounded spirit. There was a temporary stir amongst the dry-goods retailers, fancy stores, &c., for the ladies turned out en masse, glad, probably, of an opportunity of exhibiting their splendid mantillas, furs and winter fashions. But what a strange contradiction (if such we may term it) is it to perceive a lady parading the streets, decorated in costly robes and topped with streaming feathers—with a hole in her stocking! She seems like a gem with a flaw in it—or, more properly, an "angel" sincere enough to let the world know that there is a speck of the "woman" about her after all. The streets are muddy and unpleasant to cross, and it seems as if the clean water had passed off and left all the filth behind. The damage sustained by the rising of the waters of Jones' Falls was inconsiderable. Many of the cellars in the neighborhood were flooded, but no property destroyed. During the whole of Thursday night, the families in the vicinity were on the alert, but the stream being cleared from the ice, the water passed off freely.

JUVENILE MIRROR. The second number of this work has made its appearance. It is under the editorial charge of G. H. Hickman, and should be read by every boy in the city, in order that he might become as intelligent as the young editor.

WHAT'S THE NEWS? As the day of resumption approaches, when the strength of the banks will be tested, some of the concerns are beginning to call each other hard names, and say they are no better than they should be. We have been informed that one of the banks yesterday called a new concern to account for what it had against it on its books and said that if it was not paid in good funds, it [illegible] its doors. Hereupon, the small bank bustled about and finally closed accounts, the President declaring that if his bank was not able to run another week in the city was. There are rumors [illegible] either of the quarrelling banks [illegible] overburdened with hard money.

TOWN HALL LOTTERY. The State Lottery Commissioners have come to the conclusion that the Town Hall Commissioners have a right to establish agencies, and the agent of Gregory & Co. seems to be disposed to come into the measures of the venders, some of whom are already selling the tickets of the popular lottery.

NIGHT WATCH. In the Eastern District on Thursday night, Joe Chapman was found in the street intoxicated. Ann Rider, colored, was strolling at 12 o'clock. A white man solicited lodgings. In the Middle District, John Spicer was brought in for stealing, and Joseph Frederick was locked up for riotous conduct; in the morning both were committed. John Wolfe applied for lodgings, and negro Dand was left at the lock up for the police to send to the Almshouse. In the Western District, a white boy, named J. Carter, was found lying in the Lexington Market house, intoxicated, and conducted to the watch-house.

BALTIMORE MARKETS, Jan. 8th.

Flour. Transactions during the week have not been heavy. We quote common brands from the stores at $4.50. The receipt price has fallen considerably—it is now from wagons $4.25.—City Mills we quote at $4.62

Wheat. We have not been informed of any transactions, and are therefore unable to give a quotation—there is but little in market. Oats. Sales from stores have been made at 35 cents. Corn, yellow, 45 cents. Cloverseed, $4.75 cts.

Provisions. Pork. The stock now in market is not large. We quote at $5a$5.50. Mess Pork $16; New prime $14. Mess Beef $13; No. 1, $11; Prime $9. Baltimore cured hams 10a10½ cents; Middlings 9 cents; Shoulders 8 cts. Lard, we quote at 9a9½ cents. Glades Butter, No. 1, 21 cents; No. 2, 16a18 cents No. 3, 7a13 cents. Western, in bbls. 7 cents.

Whiskey, in bbls. 22a22½ cents; in hhds. 2—Wagon price, exclusive of cask 19 cts.

For the last week our market has generally been dull owing, to a great measure, to the state of the weather, and the present condition of the navigation.

LIST OF APPLICANTS,

For the Benefit of the Insolvent Laws of Maryland, for the last week.

Henry M. Dunn,	*Jacob Jones, (col'd)
Peter Epsom,	*Henry Worthington,
Nicholas U. Chafee,	*George Shevier,
Nathan Sawyer,	*James Arnold,
Elphalet Hackstaff,	*William McLean.

——*For sums less than $50.

To appear before the Commissioners of Insolvent Debtors, 1st Feb., 1841, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to answer interrogatories.

Day of final hearing before the said Commissioners 1st March, 1841, at 10 o'clock, A. M., and also before Baltimore County Court, to answer allegations, if any.

MARRIED,

At Frederick, Md. on the 29th ult. GEORGE J. HOUCK to Miss ELIZABETH JOHNSON, both of that city.

At Washington, D. C. on the 5th instant, JOHN VAN RENWICK to Miss MARY ANN PENWICK.

DIED,

On the 6th inst. JOHN PARNELL, aged 48 years.

On the 6th inst. WILLIAM, only son of Henry and Maria Fulford, aged 11 months and 19 days.

At Washington, on the 7th inst. Col. WILLIAM LAWRENCE, formerly of the U. S. army, in his 60th year.

Lost overboard fm the ship Wareham, Capt. Gamo, on the night of June 9th, 1840, in lat. 15 S. lon. 31 W. ABRAHAM KENNEDY, aged 23 years, son of Hugh Kennedy, of Baltimore.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Brig Georgiana, McLellan New Orleans.
Brig Caucassian, Sprague, Boston.
Brig Patapsco, Doane, Kingston, Jam.
Brig Laurel, Drinkwater, New York.

MEMORANDA.

Brig Argo, Gould, fm Baltimore for Rio, was spoken 5th Nov. in lat. 29 S. lon. 35 W. 19 days out.

Br. brig Majestic, Stickney, from Baltimore, arrived at St. Jos. N. S. 25th ult.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.

☞ The Rev. Mr. SHRIGLEY, will preach in the Universalist Church, corner of Calvert and Pleasant streets, TO-MORROW. Services to commence at 11 o'clock A. M. and 7 o'clock P. M.

By particular desire, the subject of the discourse in the morning will be the "Parable of the Tares of the Field." Matt. xiii, 24-30. In the evening, the "True Foundation." Text—1 Cor. ch. iii—ver. 11.

☞ Seats free. ja9-1t*

TO THE PUBLIC.

☞ CAUTION. I have been informed by several persons of respectability that two persons (unknown) have been collecting money to a considerable amount, in my name, from butchers and others in the neighborhood of Lexington market, without my sanction or knowledge. The object of this notice is to put people on their guard against such a species of swindling, and to try, if possible, to find out who are the unprincipled wretches who would be guilty of such base conduct. Having lost one of my hands, I have been in the infirmary and have been obliged to make application to some of my friends, but have not been in any way cognizant of the above conduct.

ja9-1t* B. H. WOOD.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

☞ A Temperance Meeting will be held in the New Market Engine House, on WEDNESDAY, 13th inst. at half past 6 o'clock, for the purpose of forming an auxiliary to the Washington Temperance Society of Baltimore. All persons who wish to become members, are earnestly and respectfully requested to attend said meeting.

N. B. The Washington Temperance Society intend holding weekly public meetings until the 1st of April, of which notice of time and place will be given through the papers. Such of the Churches as are disposed to favor the temperance cause, by offering their churches for the purpose of holding a meeting in, will please address a line to the President of the Society. ja9-4t

MARYLAND CATHOLIC TEMPERANCE ASSOCIATION.

☞ A meeting of this Association will take place at St. Peter's Church, Saratoga street, on SUNDAY AFTERNOON, 10th instant, immediately after Vespers. The pledges will be administered to such persons as wish to become members. By order, ja9-1t* JOHN GALVIN, Sec'y.

HOWARD TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

☞ This Society will hold a meeting at Dr. Mosher's Institute, Ann street, on SUNDAY AFTERNOON, at 3 o'clock, instead of the Washington Arcade. ja9 1t

Washington Junior Temperance Society.

☞ The members of this Society are requested to meet at Union Hall, corner of Market street and Tripolett's alley, on SATURDAY EVENING NEXT, at half past 6 o'clock. Young men, under the age of 22 years, desirous of joining this Society, are invited to attend. By order, ja8-th s6m WM. GEORGE HECKROTTE, Sec.

☞ Dr. T. L. MURPHY has resumed the Practice of Medicine. Office No 69 BOND STREET, a few doors S. of Allisanna street. ja9-4t

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,

80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

DRAWN NUMBERS of Grand Consolidated Lottery, class 1—lowest prize $4, 7th inst.

23 11 61 57 59 64 46 6 32 20 7 10

TO-DAY, Virginia State Lottery, class A.

GRAND SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$30,000	1 Prize of	$10,000
1 "	6000	1 "	5000
1 "	4000	1 "	3500
25 "	2000	25 "	500

Cost of certificate for regular package of 25 whole tickets in this splendid Lottery, $139 50
Certificate for package of Halves, 69 75
do do Quarters, 34 88

☞ All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address,

E. W. ROBINSON,
No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.
Agent for the State of Maryland. ja9-1t

PATENT NIGHT LIGHTS.

THIS ARTICLE (of new invention) consumes not more than half the quantity of OIL, and is superior to any other Night Light now in use. It burns without any wick, and gives a clear and steady light. To housekeepers it will prove to be an invaluable article—price 12½ cents. For sale by

MORTIMER & MOWBRAY,
Nos. 106 & 180 Market street.
By appointment of the Patentees.

P. S. A liberal deduction made to wholesale dealers. ja9 1w*

THE NORFOLK STEAMBOAT.

Information has been received from the Telegraph, that the Steamboat POCAHONTAS has been in sight and returned in consequence of the drift ice. The inference therefore is, that she has gone into Annapolis—in such case, she will leave there for Norfolk and the Portsmouth and Roanoke Railroad THIS DAY, (Saturday,) immediately on the arrival of the Baltimore Cars.

Fare in North, from Annapolis, $10
Fare to Weldon, 16

ja9-1t IN C. MOALE, Agent.

$5006 [illegible] SILVER and SOVEREIGNS, for sale in sums to suit purchasers, by

P. VIGMAN,
Opposite the Post Office,
WHO WISHES TO BUY,
FRANKLIN BANK NOTES, (particularly TO DAY) at a low discount.
Also—RAIL ROAD and WHEELING NOTES—and Uncurrent Money in general. ja9-3t

SITUATION WANTED. A young lady wishes to obtain a situation in a Dry Goods or Fancy Store. She has been in the habit for some time past of attending a Fancy Goods Store, and is well acquainted with the business. Good references can be given. Apply at this office. ja9-1t

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES, taken at PAR for DRY GOODS, at the lowest cash prices, by JOSHUA T. ROYSTON, Jr.

ja9 tf 97 Market-st. (yellow house.)

CONSUMPTION.

Consumption, thou fell Destroyer! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Man.

DR. SWAYNE.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints by my own signature; I now feel different—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which has entirely relieved me effectually. I am certain, that but for your medicine (as life frequently depends on attention to proper medicines,) I should have found a premature grave. Let no person delay, but procure the Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS before they are dangerous companions, and lead to dangerous consequences

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
jy28-y

JOB PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE,

PRACTICAL JOB PRINTERS, beg leave to inform their friends and the public, that they are prepared for the execution of every description of PRINTING, on the most extensive scale. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. embrace every variety necessary for the most finished execution of all work that may be entrusted to them.

They will print, to order:

BUSINESS CARDS	HANDBILLS
BALL TICKETS	WAYBILLS
CIRCULARS	STEAMBOAT BILLS
CHECKS	RAIL ROAD BILLS
NOTES	STAGE BILLS
BILL HEADS	SHOW BILLS
CATALOGUES	PAMPHLETS
BILLS OF LADING	LABELS
LOTTERY BILLS	HATTERS' TIPS,

Together with FANCY JOBS, in Colors, for framing,

LARGE POSTING BILLS,

For Theatres, Circuses, &c., &c., printed to order, at the shortest notice, in the most showy style.

B. & T. have also in operation, in their Office, the Helper Double-action Printing Machine," recently imported from England expressly for their use, by the aid of which they will be enabled to execute PRINTING at much lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch, than heretofore.

☞ In returning thanks to their friends for the favors of the past year, they assure them their usual personal attention will be paid to the prompt and correct execution of all orders in their business, at very reduced prices.

☞ Call at the CLIPPER OFFICE, No. 7 North Gay street. ja9-d

TO THE LADIES.

THE subscriber, very thankful for the past favors awarded him by the ladies of Baltimore, Washington, and the adjoining cities, begs leave to inform them that he has on hand, a full supply of Ladies', Misses, and Children's SHOES of every variety, and made by the very best workmen and of good materials; and, what is the best of it, at very low prices. For further particulars, Ladies will please call and see

JOHN BANGS, No. 106 Pratt st. near Eutaw.

TO GENTLEMEN, who wish good BOOTS and cheap, call at No. 106 Pratt street, and they can be accommodated with a good article at a low price.

JOHN BANGS.

N. B. All kinds of BOOTS & SHOES sold, wholesale and retail, at the above establishment.
ja9 eo3t*

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscribes respectfully announces that he has established his Office at No. 3 NORTH-ST. next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those Ladies and Gentlemen who may be desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION.

E. TYLOR can confidently state that his extensive practical experience, enables him to give individuals a faithful delineation of their mental capacity, peculiar talents and disposition, as well as point out what pursuit in life they are best qualified by nature to perform. A good assortment of Phrenological Books, Almanacs, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale cheap, by ja9 E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES—For sale

City and State six per cent. STOCK
Susquehanna Canal	do
Mechanics Bank	do
Farmers and Planters	do
Baltimore Water Company's	do
Balt. and Ohio Rail Road	do
Western Bank	do
Citizens Bank	do

WM. WARD, Stock Exchange and Money
ja8-4t Broker, No. 41 Exchange Building.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES.

...subscriber will take the above notes, at par,
...Y GOODS. He has just received a new
...ment of beautiful style Madras Hdkfs.
...Linen HOSE, a superior article,
...cheap Irish LINENS—together with
...d wide FLANNELS, at 25 cts.
...SHUA T. ROYSTON, jr. 47 Market-st.
5 doors W. of Gay-s. (yellow house.)

SOUTH DOWN MUTTON, VERY SUPERIOR. The subscriber will, this day, slaughter for SATURDAY'S MARKET, twenty-five SHEEP, equal to any ever slaughtered by the undersigned. They were raised by Senator Martin and Gov. Stevenson, of Talbot county, and are superior to any ever possessed by those eminent agriculturists. Any gentleman desirous of seeing this superior lot of meat, can do so by visiting the subscriber's house, Landenslager's Hill, where they may also select such pieces as they may fancy. Lovers of fine Mutton should not suffer the best opportunity of gratifying their appetites to pass by unregarded.

JOSHUA M. TURNER,
ja8-3t* No. 32 Centre Market.

BEEF! BEEF!! BEEF!!!

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES will be taken at par for BEEF, by the subscriber, Stall No. 34 CENTRE MARKET.

ja8-3t* SAMUEL J. PENTZ.

13 Cases Kip and Thick BROGANS, some extra sizes, just received per barque Ida, and for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 S Charles-st.

INDIA RUBBER SHOES—
Men's plain RUBBERS, Women's plain do
Misses do do do fig'd do
A few cases of each. Just received per barque Ida, and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 South Charles street.

FOR SALE—75 bushels Black-eyed PEAS
30 do White BEANS
75 do Dried APPLES.
☞ For sale low, at No. 3 Light-st. whf. ja6-eo3t

WESTERN BANK & CITIZEN'S BANK STOCK—For sale, payable in Franklin Bank ...er. Apply to
...
S. HARRIS & SON.

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000 may be had on	MONDAY, for	$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	4 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
6,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 00
30,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. d7-1m

DOYLE'S PRATT-ST. PRIZE DEPOT.

UNPRECEDENTED LUCK. Combination 29, 35, 43, a prize of $1500. Also, 2, 31, 35, a prize of $1600, both sold at DOYLE'S ever Lucky Office, in the New Jersey Lottery, No. 1, drawn 2d inst. and the cash paid on presentation. The following are the drawn Numbers—lowest prize $10:

7 12 52 3 2 18 9 43 20 35 14 40 31 75

For Capital Prizes in all the Lotteries, call at this truly Lucky Office.

On THIS DAY, State Treasury Lottery—Capital prize $10,000. Tickets $4—shares in proportion.

On WEDNESDAY, the Maryland State Lottery will be drawn in Baltimore. Capital prize $20,000. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

☞ On same day, Literature Extra, No. 2—Capital Prize $6000. Tickets $3.

On THURSDAY, Grand Consolidated Lottery, No. 1—capital prize $12,000. Tickets $4.

On FRIDAY, Literature Lottery—Capital Prize $7000. Tickets $2.50.

On SATURDAY, a beautiful Virginia State Lottery will be drawn at Alexandria, D. C. Capital Prize $30,000. Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

For sale in the greatest variety of lucky numbers, by the package, single ticket, or share.

☞ For Prizes in the above Lotteries, and all Lotteries authorized in the State of Maryland, apply to, or address, M. DOYLE, No. 24 Pratt st.,
Opposite the B. & O. Railroad Depot, Baltimore.

☞ Orders by mail for packages of Tickets; single Tickets, or Shares of Tickets, enclosing cash or prize Tickets, from any part of the United States, will meet with prompt and personal attention, if addressed as above. [r] ja5-eo3t

F. B. SCHÆFFER,

(SUCCESSOR TO BARKER & CO.)
136 BALTIMORE STREET.
PRIZES! PRIZES!! PRIZES!!!

DRAWN NUMBERS, Maryland State Lottery, class 1, for 1841:

2 71 56 61 47 49 39 11 44 2 50 48 18 21

No. 22, 56, 71, a prize of $20,000.
47, 49, 61, do. 5,000.

Also, 10 prizes of $1000 were sold in the above. For Prizes, SCHÆFFER is the man.

THIS AFTERNOON, another lot of prizes to be disposed of in Grand Consolidated Lottery, class No. 1, such as $12,000, 5000, 3000, 2000, 1381, 40 of 500, &c. Tickets only $4.

On FRIDAY, 8th Jan., Literature Lottery, class 2, Capitals $7,000, 2,000, &c. Tickets $2.50.

On SATURDAY, 9th Jan., Virginia State Lottery, class 2. Capitals—30,000, 10,000, 6,000, &c.

Whole Tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2.50.

☞ For Lucky Tickets, apply to
F. B. SCHÆFFER,
Successor to BARKER & Co.
136 Baltimore street, corner of St. Paul's-st.

Where more prizes have been sold and paid than at any other office within the United States.

☞ Orders for Tickets, in any Lotteries under the management of D. S. GREGORY & Co., thankfully received and promptly attended to—and the result of the drawing sent immediately after it is received. To insure a prize, you must address
ja7 F. B. SCHAEFFER, Baltimore, Md.

MRS. CONNOR'S

BOARDING HOUSE, PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, between 3d and 4½ streets, Washington City, (D. C.) where Gentlemen, visiting the District, can be accommodated with Board and Suits of Apartments, suitable for single gentlemen or families, for any length of time. d23-1m

REMOVAL.

G. H. MITTNACHT, IMPORTER OF GERMAN, FRENCH, and ENGLISH FANCY GOODS, has removed from the Store he lately occupied in Baltimore street, to the Store No. 9 South LIBERTY STREET, where he will always keep a large and general assortment of FANCY GOODS, including Baskets, Toys, Clocks, Musical Instruments, Cutlery, Jewelry, Pins, Needles, Tapes, Cords, Cotton, Thread, Silk, Blacking, Ink, Slates, Marbles, Whips, &c. &c., which he is prepared to sell at the lowest wholesale prices. G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 9 S. Liberty street.

N. B. Franklin Bank Notes will be taken at par for all Goods purchased for cash. [a] ja5-9w

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, elecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and boneset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North-st. d12-y

WILLIAM H. KIMBALL & CO.

No. 145 BALTIMORE STREET,

MERCHANT TAILORS, and DEALERS in Broad Cloths; Cassimeres; Vestings; Beaver and Pilot Cloths; Cassinets; Flannels; 100 doz. black, white, and colored Hosiery; Handkerchiefs; Shirts; Drawers; Worsteds; Neck Stocks; Scarfs; Collars; Bosoms; Suspenders, &c. &c.

Also, a large and extensive assortment of ready-made Clothing, consisting of Dress and Frock Coats; Pantaloons; Vests, and Over Coats—which will be sold at the lowest possible prices for cash. ja8

FOR RENT. A neat two story Brick HOUSE in Canal street, 4th door south of Monument-st., in first rate order, handsomely papered, the ceiling with a glazed paper—the rent will be $8 per month. Also, a HOUSE in Wilk-st., old town.
Inquire of M. A. DYSART, 31 E. Baltimore-st.
ja8-4tws Third door from Exeter street.

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by
SETH S. HANCE,
d19-y Corner Charles and Pratt sts.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d19-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

UNION BANK STOCK.

300 SHARES, for sale at a reduced rate, for which the Notes of the FRANKLIN BANK will be taken in payment, at par.
ja7 3t* CLARK, Museum Building, Balt. Md.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES will be received at Par for LUMBER, at my Yard, corner of Monument and Eutaw streets.
ja5-3t* GEORGE W. WILHELM.

BOY TO HIRE. For hire, a Colored BOY, about 13 years of age—he understands waiting, and will be hired by the year on low terms. Apply at the City Intelligence Office. [a] ja7

DRY GOODS, &c.

FRANLIN BANK NOTES.

FRANKLIN BANK PAPER will be received at PAR for DRY GOODS, at unprecedented low prices, at No. 99½ Baltimore street. A lot of extra Rose and Whitney BLANKETS, and 250 pieces super CLOTHS and CASSIMERES. Just received.
ja8-tf W. H. RIDGELY & CO. 99½ Balt.-st.

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,

Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.

With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.

oc2 EDW. J. RICHARDSON.

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at
DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

FANCY AND WORSTED STORE.

THE subscriber has on hand, and offers for sale a large and general assortment of Fine Worsted Patterns, Zephyr Worsted, Thick & Working Chenille, Saddler's Floss, Sewing and Twist Silk for Purses, Silk, Cotton and Worsted Canvas, Perforated, Board and Hair Cloth for Worsted Work, Ladies' Knitted Worsted Caps, Baby's Bonnetts, Boy's Gaiters and Scarfs, Silk and Worsted Fringe, Black Silk Lace, Silk Velvet for Head Bands, Belts and Cuffs, Ladies' and Children's Worsted Mittens, Knit Muffs, Knitting Yarn, Linen and Cotton Tape and Cord, &c.

ALSO—A general assortment of Work and Fancy Baskets and Boxes; Ivory, Shell, and Horn Combs; Jewelry; Needles and Pins; Toys, &c. &c.

G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 58 Lexington-st., 5th door above Howard-st.

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are lower than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.

N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

TIDE WATER CANAL NOTES AT PAR.

SELLING OFF! SELLING OFF!!

HAVING on hand a large Stock of GOODS, which I wish to reduce, I will receive in payment for the same, the notes of the Tide Water Canal Company at par. In the assortment will be found a quantity of 4-4 to 14-4 Rose, Point, and Whitney Blankets; Cassimeres; 3-4, 4-4, 5-4, and 7-8 white, red and yellow Flannels; a case black and white Chintz, at only 12½ cents per yard; Fancy Chintzes and Calicoes; Mousseline de Laine, very low; bleached and brown Shirtings; Irish Linen; handsome large white Counterpanes; woollen and cotton Table Covers; green and fig'd Baizes; a large variety of Table Diaper; Damask Table Cloths and Napkins; a few Lambs-wool Shirts and Pants, with all kinds of Hosiery—toge her with a large assortment of other Goods, all of which I have determined to put at such prices as will ensure a sale to all who will favor us with a call, at No. 60 Hanover street. d29 GEORGE REVAN.

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mousseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½; super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18½
7 8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1½ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 18½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18½ and 25c childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
BED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.

E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6¼
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6¼
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 6¼
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 6¼
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 6¼ each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleven
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mousselaine de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 6¼
Excellent LINSEY, eleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 6¼s
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 6¼s
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Brocha do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 6¼
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6¼
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6¼

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

AMUSEMENTS.

CITIZENS' BALL,

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

THIS BALL will take place on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841. The price of Tickets is fixed at TWO DOLLARS.

SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
ANDREW J. BANDEL, Secretary.

JOSHUA VANSANT, Treasurer.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—Pink Rosette.

1st Ward,	Robert Milholland.
2d do	David W. Hudson.
3d do	John N. Millington.
4th do	A. I. W. Jackson.
5th do	Sheppard C. Leakin.
6th do	Wm. H. Cole, Jr.
7th do	John M. Harman.
8th do	Joseph Donovan.
9th do	Wm. K. Mitchell.
10th do	Wm. Barnett.
11th do	John R. Moore.
12th do	Richard Marley.

BOARD OF MANAGERS—Blue Ribbon.

First Ward—H. R. Lauderman, J. M. Turner, Jas. Grieves, Dr. Monmonier, C. Hergesheimer, John A. Robb.

Second Ward—John E. Stansbury, B. W. Herring, Wm. Rochester, J. W. Creney, J. T. Laws, William Wickersham.

Third Ward—Andrew J. Bandel, Richard Lilley, Col. Jacob Deems, Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott, Wm. B. Boyd.

Fourth Ward—Thomas Wildey, Marcus Wolf, Jacob D. Hair, James Murry, Abraham Blackeney, Wm. Hubbard.

Fifth Ward—Dr. M. Diffenderffer, Joshua Vansant, Herman Perry, Capt. John Patrick, John F. Hoss, W. H. Gobright.

Sixth Ward—Dr. R. A. Durkee, Thos. C. Dunlevy, J. Kennedy, H. W. Booi, Jr. John H. Hewitt, Richard Bradshaw.

Seventh Ward—Simeon Hays, James Ackland, Sam. Hyde, S. Teakle Wallis, Wm. Guy, Jas. M. Page.

Eighth Ward—Samuel Lucas, J. Able, Sam. Stump, Wm. C. Clayton, Charles W. Spicer, Wm. T. Rice.

Ninth Ward—Wm. R. Frazier, Jacob Walter, R. C. Murry, Wm. Chace, J. D. Webster, James McPhail.

Tenth Ward—Dr. Wm. Power, Henry Russell, Jas. Lawson, Lewis Klockgether, Andrew Martin, Peter Kroft.

Eleventh Ward—Charles Soran, John Reily, D. A. Piper, R. Haney, George Holt, Horace Miller.

Twelfth Ward—John Godman, Geo. Deal, Samuel Thompson, Joseph Kreager, Wm. Richardson, T. J. Ahern.

MASTERS OF CEREMONIES—Blue Scarf.

D. A. Piper	Richard Bradshaw,
John A. Robb	James Ackland
William Rochester	Wm. T. Rice,
Andrew J. Bandel	J. D. Weisner
Abel Blakely	Dr. Wm. Power
Herman Perry	George Deal.

BALLET MASTER—C. L. SPIES—White Scarf.

COMMITTEE ON DECORATIONS—Blue Ribbon.

Thomas Wildey	William Barnett
Simeon Hays	James M. Page.
Capt. J. Patrick

ON MUSIC—Green Rosette.

John H. Hewitt,	Jacob Walter,
	Joseph S. Donovan.

ON REFRESHMENTS—White Rosette.

D. W. Hudson,	John Riley,
	William H. Cole, Jr.

ON PRINTING—Black Rosette.

A. I. W. Jackson,	Wm. C. Clayton,
	Andrew Martin.

ON POLICE—Purple Rosette.

Capt. A. I. W. Jackson	John M. Harman
J. M. Turner	Wm. C. Clayton
Wm. Wickersham	Wm. Chase
Wm. B. Boyd	Lewis Klockgether
John F. Hoss	Charles Soran
Dr. R. A. Durkee	Wm. Richardson.

COMMITTEE OF RECEPTION—Orange Rosette.

Capt. R. Lilley	Andrew Martin
James Grieves	Dr. Monmonier
Henry Russell	T. J. Ahern
H. R. Lauderman	Samuel Lucas
C. Hergesheimer	William Gray
J. E. Stansbury	J. Abell
J. W. Creney	Samuel Stump
J. T. Laws	Wm. B. Frazier
Col. Jacob Deems	J. C. Murray
Capt. Thos. Lane	James McPhail
J. H. Marriott	James Lawson
Marcus Wolfe	James Harwood, jr.
Jacob D. Hare	Samuel Thompson
James Murray	Joseph Kreager, jr.
William Hubbard	Thomas C. Dunlevy
Dr. M. Diffenderffer	J. Kennedy
S. Teackle Wallis	Samuel Hyde
H. W. Booi, Jr.	Wm. R. Gobright.
John Godman

☞ The Board of Managers will furnish themselves with the Regalia above mentioned.

☞ The Board of Managers will call on Mr. VANSANT, at the Post Office, and receive their Tickets.

☞ The Executive Committee and Board of Managers will please be punctual in their attendance at Military Hall, Gay-st., on MONDAY EVENING NEXT, 11th inst., as the Reports of Committees will be submitted to the meeting. By order,

S. C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
A. J. BANDEL, Sec'y. [PRAT] ja6

SIXTH ANNUAL BALL.

☞ The INDEPENDENT BLUES' SIXTH ANNUAL BALL will take place at the Baltimore Assembly Rooms on TUESDAY EVENING, 12th of January, 1841. Tickets can be had of either of the following

MANAGERS:

Major H. S. Sanderson,	Capt. John Bridener,
Capt. Richard Lilly,	Capt. Thomas A. Lane,
Lieut. Geo. H. Sanderson,	Jacob Deems, jr.
Lieut. Joseph Y. Ford,	F. Lucheisi,
Lieut. Jacob Cook,	Theodore Pimple,
Serg't W. H. Robinson,	William T. Rice,
Serg't Thos. Sheppard, jr.	Geo. L. Steuart,
Francis Deloste,	William Towson,
Edward H. Rogers,	Mahlon Webster,
Samuel D. Johnston,	Isaac D. Cloud,
George W. Webb,	William H. Shipley,
George W. Wilhelm,	Andrew E. Warner, jr.
Thomas E. Hall,	Charles Z. Lucas.
William Holland,

N. B. In the intervals between the Dancing, the Company's BAND will perform several new Promenade Marches and favorite Airs. ja4-8t

CENTRAL HALL

DANCING & WALTZING ACADEMY.

CHARLES L. SPIES, thankful for past favors, has the honor to inform his friends and the public that his SECOND QUARTER will commence on TUESDAY, 19th inst. at the above Hall, corner of Baltimore and Charles streets.

☞ Days of Tuition, for Young Ladies, Misses, and Masters, on Tuesday and Saturday Afternoons, from 2 till 5 o'clock—and on Tuesday and Friday Evenings, from half past 6 till 10 o'clock, for Gentlemen.

Practising Balls on Thursday evenings, and Cotillion Parties on Saturday Evenings.

☞ Terms—$10 per quarter. [a] ja5-eo2w

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 56 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d19-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

FRANKLIN BANK PAPER WANTED.

THE subscriber will sell 925 bbls. Maine Mercer POTATOES, payable in the above money, if immediately applied for.

SAMUEL H. WHITTINGTON,
ja5-eo4t* No. 8 Dugan's wharf.

BOARDING may be obtained by two or three genteel young men, or a gentleman and his lady, in a respectable private boarding house, near the Exchange—terms moderate. Apply at the Intelligence Office, N. W. corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts.
d30 [a]

CITY INTELLIGENCE,

REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE,
N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Porters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to EMPLOY any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM P. GILES, Esq., H. W. POOR, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N.B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. ja7

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of

HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,

For the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Cheston & Son,	Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq.	do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq.	do.
James Hepburn, esq.	do.
Christian Halderman, esq.	Columbia.
Jacob M. Halderman, esq.	Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq.	Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank,	Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq. Cash. Girard	do.
William S. Smith, esq	Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq.	Boston.

Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-d2we2w

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing FEVER, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞ Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains as aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by
jy28-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,

(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland,)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Plasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Doric Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as good quality and as cheap as can be purchased at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.
d23-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d28-4 Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

CLOCKS! CLOCKS!!

THE subscribers have opened a Store at No. 34 S. CHARLES STREET, for the sale of their celebrated CLOCKS. They have now on hand, and are constantly receiving, large supplies from their manufactory in the city of New York, Brass and Wood Eight-day, One-day, and Alarm CLOCKS, of every variety of style, and of superior workmanship and finish, which they warrant and offer at wholesale to dealers, at their lowest factory prices.
ja1-1y SMITH & BROTHERS.

THE PATENT COFFEE CLEARER.

THOSE who are fond of a "GOOD CUP OF COFFEE" are requested to try the above article, which will be found to be of unsurpassed utility in settling Coffee. It is also much cheaper and more handy than any thing else which is used for the same purpose—a small piece, thrown into the coffee while boiling, will make it as transparent as amber—price 12½ cents at retail. For sale by
W. J. VAN NESS, Grocer,
n27-tf Market Space.

COTTON FACTORY—For Sale or Rent.

FOR Manufacturing Cotton WADDING & LAPS. The Machinery of the above Factory is propelled by a first rate Four horse Steam Engine. I will sell for cash, or on a liberal credit on approved endorsed notes. This is a rare chance for an industrious person with a small capital—the Factory is well established, and has a good run of customers—possession can be had in March. In

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

FIVE DAYS LATER FROM ENGLAND—SUCCESS OF THE GUIZOT MINISTRY—SETTLEMENT OF THE EASTERN QUESTION—IMPORTANT FROM CHINA, INDIA, &c.

The packet ship England, Capt. White, arrived at New York on Wednesday, the 6th inst. bringing London and Liverpool papers to the 9th ult. We are indebted to the New York Sun of the 7th inst. for the following summary of intelligence. There has also been an arrival at Boston. The ship Elizabeth Bruce, Capt. Higgins, came into that port on the 6th inst., likewise bringing dates to the 9th ult., but no news different from what is found below.

There was no change worthy of especial notice in either the money, cotton or corn markets.—There was, if any thing, however, a tendency towards improvement in all departments of trade.

On Saturday the 5th of December, the debate in the French Chambers upon the answer to the King's speech was brought to a close, and the vote was taken. It resulted in a majority of 86 in favor of the ministerial address. The vote stood 247 to 161. The announcement is received with great satisfaction by all the friends of peace.

Immense preparations were making for the reception of Napoleon's remains; they were to be landed on the 15th December.

Alexandria letters have been received up to the 26th of November.

On the 21st Commodore Napier's broad pennant appeared among the squadron, and on the 22d Captain Maunsel, of the Rodney, landed with a flag of truce and a letter from the Commodore to the Pasha, informing him that the Sultan had been prevailed upon to restore to him the Pashalic of Egypt en heredite, if he immediately withdrew his troops from Syria and restored the fleet. Captain Maunsel had three interviews with the Pasha, and returned to the squadron with the Pasha's answer on the night of the 23d.

The result of these negotiations is said to be a convention, by which the Pasha promises to evacuate Syria, recall Ibrahim, and deliver up the Turkish fleet, the Commodore guaranteeing to him the possession of Egypt.

Letters from Cabul, of the 20th of September, give the particulars of a decisive victory obtained over Dost Mahomed, on the 18th, at Bameau, by a small force under Brigadier Dennie, consisting of six companies of the 35th Native Infantry, six pieces of horse artillery, and between 400 and 500 of the Scha's troops. The enemy were 10,000 strong, headed by Dost Mahomed and the Walee of Khonum in person. They left three Sidars and 500 men dead on the field, together with their entire baggage, standards, and the only piece of ordnance in the possession of Dost Mahomed, who fled, seriously wounded.

A rumor, circulated on good authority, stated, that letters had been received from Cabul, announcing the death of Dost Mahomed, in consequence of the wounds he received in the late engagement with Brigadier Dennie.

Another terrible explosion of a powder magazine took place at Acre three days after the battle, which proved fatal to many of the victors.—The London Morning Herald says:

"The number of killed and wounded amounts to 280. The sufferers are chiefly natives, including many women and children; but we regret also, to add that there were about 20 British seamen and marines killed, and several officers and men wounded. Among the latter are Brigadier Sir Charles Smith, commanding the land forces; Captain Collier, of the Castor; Lieutenant Johnson and the Rev. Mr. Kitson, of the Princess Charlotte. No light has been thrown on the immediate cause of this calamity."

The greater part of the British fleet were still on the Syrian coast, but dysentery and fever had begun to prevail amongst the men. Admiral Stopford was about to sail for Alexandria, taking with him part of the fleet to winter at Marmorizza; the remainder, it is said, would winter at Malta, whither the Castor and Wasp had gone to refit.

News has been received from China up to the 4th of August. The only event of importance is the landing of the British troops upon the Island of Chusan, and the taking of the city. The Chinese made a slight show of resistance, but soon fled, 25 of their number being slain. The British met with no loss whatever.

There are accounts of the subsequent misconduct of the troops, who had freely partaken of a spirit distilled from rice; an extensive conflagration that occurred in the town, and the operations of the expedition during the greater part of the month of July. The troops are stated to have committed great excesses, so that all the respectable inhabitants were leaving the island; provisions were becoming scarce, and divisions are said to prevail in the English councils respecting the mode of mending matters and restoring confidence.

Captain Elliot is represented as in favor of conciliatory measures; but he is in the minority. The Chinese in that quarter show no dissatisfaction with their own government, but, on the contrary, are highly displeased at the proceedings of the British in hoisting their flag, taking possession of the island in the Queen's name, and pasting up and reading in every hamlet proclamations to that effect.

CANTON.—With respect to the blockading squadron off Canton, the Singapore Free Press Extra and Postcript, of the 11th of September, states from its correspondence: "Six men-of-war proceeded to the Bogue yesterday, morning (the 2d of August) early, and by this time have doubtless succeeded in reducing the batteries and clearing the passage up to Canton. We have just discovered that the men-of-war which went up the river yesterday are in sight making for Macao. What it means none can say. The Chinese have blocked up the passage with chains and stones."

The six men-of-war alluded to, adds the Singapore Free Press, are the Druid, Nimrod, Larne, Hyacinth and Columbine, with the steamer Enterprise.

The death of Col. Oglander is not mentioned in any of the Chinese papers. That distinguished officer died on board the Rohamany, on the 22d of June, and his remains were embalmed for interment at Buffalo Island. Much dissatisfaction prevails at the very inefficient manner in which the blockade is said to be maintained. It seems that such junks as are taken laden with salt are restored, but the cargo detained, as the article forms one of the government monopolies, while rice and other grain pass free, the Macao passage being left open, and the exports from Macao remain unmolested, apparently with an understanding to that effect. The force is also considered too small.

MURDERER ARRESTED. A man named McGuigan has been arrested at Norristown, charged with the commission of murder in that vicinity in 1836. A reward of $300 was offered at the time by Governor Ritner for the apprehension of the murderer. A man named Sheppard has been also committed to the Norristown jail, accused of the murder of Mr. Coulson of Plymouth township.

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

MR. DAVISON'S WRITING ACADEMY, for instructions with the Muscular Guide, No. 41 Baltimore street. The plan recommended by the Maryland Institute of Teachers. se6-y

M. H. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 64 S. CALVERT STREET, keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c. d2-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 27 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. oct2-y

MARX & BARY, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d19-6m

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 45 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n18-3m

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. a12-y WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se29-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se22-d

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 2 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. s4-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. je23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je16-6m*

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 113 BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. no26-y

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 28 Fayette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. m11-y1m*

MINIATURES, Painted in the best style, by Mrs. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. m313-y

COMPOUND SYRUP of HOREHOUND.

FOR the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Pain and Oppression of the Breast, and all Diseases arising from a disordered condition of the Lungs.

Perhaps there is no Medical Observation better established and none more generally confirmed by experience of the best Physicians of all ages in all countries, than the Fact, that many of the most difficult and incurable Consumptions originate in neglected colds. In a climate so variable as ours, where the changes of weather are frequently sudden and unexpected, it requires more care and attention to guard against this dangerous enemy to human life, than most persons are able and willing to bestow. The bills of mortality exhibit the alarming and melancholy fact, that the number of deaths by this disease are as five to one. Inasmuch then as this fatal disease is increasing, and spreading so widely and fearfully, and holding defiance often to the combined skill of the most eminent physicians, it is a gratification to the subscriber to be enabled to offer to all of consumptive habits, or those afflicted with distressing pains in the side or breast, or any affection of the breast or lungs, a reasonable and almost certain prospect of relief.

The COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND is a medicine suitable to persons of all ages and sexes; and if taken on the appearance of the first symptoms, which are a CATCH OF PAIN in the BREAST, will in nine cases out of ten afford relief, and effect a speedy cure.

Price 50 cents per bottle, Prepared and sold by SETH S. HANCE, corner of Charles and Pratt streets, Baltimore; and J. B. STANSBURY, Thames street, Fell's Point. d 12-y

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headache; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma, Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as in Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞ A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.
Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.
Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.
Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. ROBY.

WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. ROBY having spent two years in practice with Dr. G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call.

d12-6m H. N. ROBY.

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side, the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Hatich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. jy28-y

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞ None genuine without the name of COMSTOCK & Co., written on the wrappers.

SOLOMON HAYS.

☞ For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. n24-eo6m

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞ Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

se17-tf E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

JOB PRINTING OFFICE,
No. 7 N. GAY STREET.

BULL & TUTTLE, practical JOB PRINTERS respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have removed their Printing Establishment to No. 7 N. GAY STREET, (three doors above their former office,) in the building recently occupied as the office of the Baltimore Chronicle, which has been fitted up in superior style, for the most extensive operations. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. &c. are of fashionable cast, to which they are adding every material, new in the art, in order to keep pace with the improvements of the times. They will print to order,

Cards, Ball Tickets,	Showbills in Colors,
Circulars, Checks,	Handbills, Waybills,
Notes, Bill-heads,	Steamboat Bills,
Bills of Lading,	Rail Road do.
Bills of Exchange,	Stage do.
Commercial Blanks,	Catalogues,
Custom house do.	Auction Bills,
Insurance Policies,	Election Tickets,
Lottery Bills,	Hatters' Tips.

Together with every description of FANCY JOB PRINTING, for framing.

Large Posting Bills for Theatres, &c.

Particular attention paid to the getting up of Large Posting Bills of every kind, for Theatres, Circuses, Shows, &c., for which purpose an assortment of the MOST FASHIONABLE LARGE WOOD TYPE has been laid in, without regard to expense.

Magistrates' Blanks.

Always on hand for sale, a ful assortment of those Magistrates' Blanks which have given such universal satisfaction to all who have used them.

Small Notes,

For Corporations, Private Individuals, Country Merchants, Tavern Keepers, Public Institutions, &c. &c. printed to order at the shortest notice. Having printed many thousands of small notes during the late and present suspension, with entire satisfaction, they flatter themselves that with the addition of a variety of new cut vignettes, flowers and borders, with dies cast expressly for their own use, they feel induced to say that all orders in this department shall be warranted to please. Orders from a distance promptly attended to, and prices as low as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

☞ B. & T. would take this opportunity of returning thanks for the very liberal patronage extended to them, and beg leave to assure their friends that the same personal attention, as heretofore, will be paid to the execution of all orders in their business, and at the same reasonable prices. sp20-tf

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That at their regular annual session, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore will be petitioned for an extension and location of Lee st, from Eutaw west to Scott-st., and of Scott-st. from Cross-st. south to the Patapsco, and of Ostend st. from S. Sharp west to the portwarden's line, and within the limits of these streets thus extended and as now located or opened, and within other limits, all of which are described as follows: the Patapsco on the south, thence along Ostend-street to Hanover-st. along Hanover to Little Montgomery-st., along Little Montgomery to Eutaw street, along Eutaw to Lee street, along Lee to Scott street, along Scott to the Patapsco; the petitioners will pray that every street, lane, alley or road, except south Sharp-street, whether each be merely located, or be condemned and opened as a highway, may be forever closed and shut up—also, that Little Montgomery-st. from Sharp to Eutaw be shut up; also that south of Ostend-st. and west of Race that Leadenhall and S. Sharp st. and the two alleys running parallel therewith be shut up. And the petitioners will pray further, that the streets named in the following description be extended, and be located as the other unopened streets of the city generally are, to wit: S. Sharp st. from Little Montgomery south to Ostend, Howard from Hill S. to Moale-st., Eutaw from Little Montgomery south to Moale, Paca from Little Paca south to the wharf, Greene from Columbia south to the wharf, Sterret from Columbia south to the river, and that between Green and Sterret, two other streets be located, one at one third and the other at two thirds of the distance from Greene to Sterret-st. and that each begin at Lee-st. and be run south to the river; also that an alley 20 feet wide be located between Hanover and Sharp street, and between every two of the streets, to be run north and south; also that Hill-st. be extended and located from Howard west to Scott-street, Great Montgomery & Henrietta from Hanover west to Scott, Hamburg and West from S. Charles west to Scott, and Cross from Light-st. west to Scott. It is intended that Howard street be extended 82 feet wide, Eutaw 82 feet, with five squares near the river, 134 feet wide, for a market place, Lee and Hill-sts. 70 feet, and every other street 66 feet wide. n17-2aw0w*

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 31st of August, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Chemical, Philosophical, and Astronomical Apparatus, is extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by Mr. J. C. ROBINSON. AUGUSTUS FREITAG, L.L.D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the German.

☞ Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or enter pupils, will receive every attention, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. BAXTER, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.

a8-tf J. B. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

B. G. HUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. a15-eo6m

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slat-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-dtf A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

3 The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having defied the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO. No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-streets., on the corner of Uhler's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 3 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Drug Store, Washington City; H. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.

Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. a21-tf

ELEGANT INCORRUPTIBLE

AFTER YEARS of incessant toil and endless experiments, I have succeeded in producing most splendid specimens of INCORRUPTIBLE MINERAL TEETH. They possess an exact resemblance to sound human teeth—and, being incapable of either discoloration or corrosion, forever retain their color and purity in the mouth.

These elegant Teeth are inserted from a single tooth to complete sets of twenty-eight, and the extremely accurate and delicate manner of adapting them to the mouth, renders them highly useful in restoring mastication and utterance. Having in process of manufacture upwards of 12,000 of these Teeth, embracing every imaginable variety of shade, size, and shape, I can match the contiguous systemic teeth with such nicety as to set at defiance the scrutiny of the most observant.

The recent discovery of a valuable mineral production, has rendered the manufacture of these teeth so much less expensive and tedious, that I am enabled to make a very great reduction on the charges usually exacted, and in a style nowayes inferior to any in the profession. Decayed Teeth permanently PLUGGED with Pure Gold. EXTRACTING, FILING or SEPARATING, CLEANSING, &c. &c.

☞ Irregularities in children's teeth rendered perfectly symetrical. Gold PALATES accurately adapted, so as completely to restore articulation.

TOOTH-ACHE! TOOTH-ACHE!!

☞ Sufferers by this distressing malady, find instantaneous relief by applying for my "TOOTH-ACHE REMEDY." The ingredients of which this valuable preparation is composed, are of such a nature as not to injure the sound teeth. In very few cases has this remedy been known to fail; should a failure occur, extraction will be performed without charge.

☞ Price of the Remedy—50 cents per phial.

J. H. WILCOCK, M. D., Dental Surgeon,
No. 39 Fayette st., near the Post Office.

N. B. Teeth extracted at any hour of the day or night. o2-mwe3m

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and this market, a splendid assortment of Rich SILK GOODS, consisting as follows—

1 case 4-4 Rich Glace Faconne, all colors
1 " do. Black and Blue Black Gro de Affrique
1 " do. Satin Striped and Figured Reiencia
1 " do. Satin Stripe and Rept, all shades
1 " do. 4-4 Black and Blue Black Gro de Rhine
1 " Plain Gro de Swiss, all colors.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

Just opened—Extra super 9-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
" Very splendid Satin Glace Shawls, large
" 8-4 Cabereh SHAWLS
" 9-4 Broche do.
" 8-4 Thibet Wool do.

MOUSSLIN DE LAINES.

One case Black Ground Mousselin de Laine, heavy
Colored Figured do. very superior quality
Half mourning Mousselin de Laine
Handsome assortment Plain and Figured do.
One case superior French MERINOS, all colors.

With a general assortment of New Style Fall Goods, to which they very respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER,
n13 45 Market-st., 4 doors above Gay.

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,

Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosakrantz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophiclydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap18-1y

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent per hour.

☞ Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞ The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST,
o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st.

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

And in Washington City, by
CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.

☞ With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Emporium, No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered. Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HANDBILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE, [illegible] 2d January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with [illegible] of Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled 'The Playmates;' a plate of fashions, with three [illegible] figures beautifully colored; two pages of Music, [illegible] Angling illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER:

The Young Rambler, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avowal.
A Soldier's the Lad for Me, by A. McMakin.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Durang.
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane.
The Reefer of '76, by the author of 'Cruising in the Last War.'
Sabbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. [illegible]
Thine—Only Thine. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. [illegible]
Music. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by S. Nelson.

EMBELLISHMENTS:

'The Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞ Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city, and sent by mail to all parts of the United States and the Canadas, by the publisher.

Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
ja2 Baltimore, Md.

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty,	16 superb plates—price	$3.50
Keepsake,	15 do	3.50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals,	15 plates,	3.00
Forget-Me-Not,	11 plates	2.50
Friendship's Offering,	10 plates,	2.00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
d31 And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS—AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by

SAM'L CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

Washington City, by
W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the Avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.

In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.
oc9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE, No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS,)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10	cases	do	do	Cap	PAPER
15	do	Butler's Fine and Superfine		Letter	PAPER
5	do	do.	do	Cap	do
4	do	do	do	Folio post	do
20	do	Hudson's	do	Letter	do
15	do	do	do	Cap	do
10	do	do	do	Flat Cap	do
8	do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super-royal		WRITING PAPER
12	do	Hubbard's fine and superfine		Letter	do
6	do	do	Ledger	PAPERS,	various sizes
2	do	do	Super Flat	Cap
12	do	Kendall's Ruled	Cap and	Letter
5	do	Dickey and Leyste's	do	do
10	do	Platner & Smith's	do	do
4	do	do	Folio and	Packet	Post
15	do	Franklin Manuf. Co.	Cap and	Letter
2	do	do	Ledger	PAPERS
20	do	Ames' Ruled	Cap and	Letter
2000	reams	NEWSPAPER,	various sizes
2000	do	Medium, Royal, and S. Royal		Printing
300	do	Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000	reams	Wrapping PAPER,	various sizes
10,000	lbs.	Hanging PAPER,	20 and 22 inch.

☞ Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Band Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the most work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 76 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, [illegible] the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain and Brussels CARPETING; Cottage Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chequets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES, with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-6t

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.

Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞ All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT H. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
se10-6m No. 12 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $2500. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to GEORGE GELBACH,
Real Estate and General Agency Office,
d21 [a] corner Balt. & Frederick sts.

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rochester White Wheat FLOUR
50 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs. Zante CURRANTS.

Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by
n13 tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

SUPERIOR CHEWING TOBACCO, and Regalia, Havana, and Principe CIGARS—for sale by se30 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

ASSIST RATES' BLANKS. On hand and for sale by BULL & TUTTLE, Printers,
No. 7 N. Gay street, (Upper Office.)

PAGE(S)
MISSING

1-11-1840

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

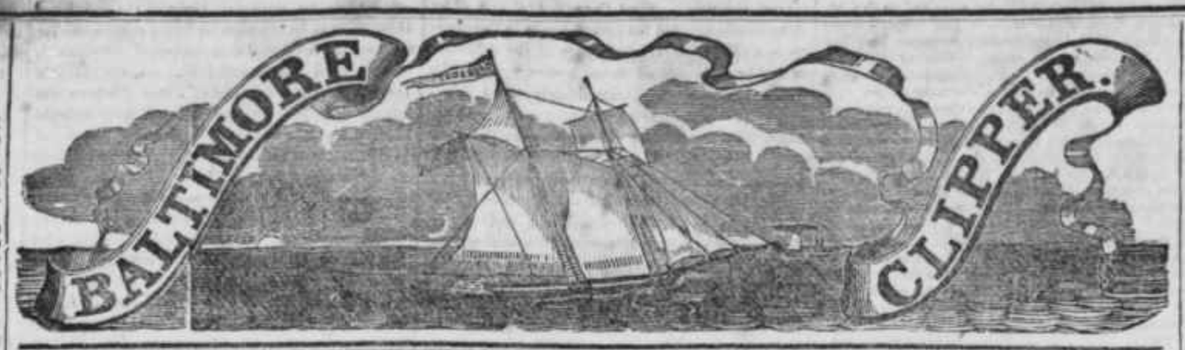
TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞Country Subscribers can receive the paper, by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square 1 time,	$0 50	1 square 1 month,	$4 00
1 do. 2 times,	75	1 do. 2 months,	7 00
1 do. 3 do.	1 00	1 do. 3 do.	10 00
1 do. 1 week,	1 75	1 do. 6 do.	16 00
1 do. 2 weeks,	2 75	1 do. 1 year,	30 00

☞Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.



VOL. III. NO. 102.] TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 12, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

JOB PRINTING.
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

The proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enamelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

I MOURN FOR THE FLOWERS.

BY CHARLES S. BALLAY.

I mourn for the flowers, the beautiful flowers,
That sparkled in bright summer's reign;
I mourn for the flowers, the sweet-scented flowers,
That bloomed from each valley and plain.
Oh! where are they all! those beautiful tints,
That wafted their perfume around—
Alas! they are gone, and their with'ring forms
Are mournfully strewn o'er the ground.

'Tis spring, lovely spring, with her bright green earth,
And her flowers that bloom every where;
'Tis bright, happy spring, that cheers the dull heart,
Dispensing a joyfulness there.
Then, why should'st we not mourn, yes! deeply mourn
For the frail, tender flowers of spring—
They faded away—in sadness they died—
A friendless—a comfortless thing.

I mourn for the flowers, the beautiful flowers,
That sparkled in summer's bright reign;
I mourn for the flowers, the sweet scented flowers,
That bloomed from each valley and plain.
Alas! not one of their number is left,
Not a flower or bud can we glean,
For winter has come with his with'ring hand,
To shed dreariness o'er the scene.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE BANKS OF MARYLAND, MADE TO THE TREASURER OF THE WESTERN SHORE.

State of the Farmers and Planters Bank of Baltimore, January 4, 1841.

		Dr.
Capital Stock paid in,		$600,425 00
Surplus,	$35,627 72
Less so much of the account for Bonus, &c., charged off,	7,868 32
		27,759 40
Discounts,		79 28
Dividends,		18,952 40
Due to other Banks,		111,643 27
Individual deposits,		180,017 70
Circulation—
		163,819 00
		$1,102,687 05
	Cr.
Bills and Notes discounted,	$729,424 59
Stock,	13,050 00
		792,474 59
Due from other B'ks,		126,107 79
Notes of other Banks in this State,	46,459 64
Notes of other Banks out of this state,	5,046 09
		51,505 64
Specie—Gold,	46,919 32
Silver,	53,102 74
Cents,	149 00
		105,162 06
Expense account,		68 55
Bonus, &c.	30,291 76
Less this amount now charged to surplus,	7,868 32
		22,523 44
Banking house,		4,844 98
		$1,102,687 05

Situation of the Commercial and Farmers' Bank of Baltimore, Jan. 5, 1841.

		Cr.
Bills and Notes discounted		$531,820 95
Commercial and Farmers' Bank Stock at par,		56,706 67
One Share of Bank of Metropolis,		25 00
Banking House and other property, lately valued at		40,256 79
Cumberland and Boonsborough Stock, cost $46,688 72, valued at		8,500 00
Expenses paid,		49 81
Due from Banks in this city,		91,386 84
Notes and Checks of do.		21,045 95
Due from Banks elsewhere,		68,546 08
Notes of Chartered Banks,		85,537 71
General Suspension account,		1,413 10
Gold, Silver Copper,		120,616 59
		$1,026,905 49
	Dr.
Capital paid in,		$532,426 67
Surplus profits on hand,		81,266 82
Dividends unclaimed,		2,652 75
Discounts, Exchanges, Interest & Ground Rents,		8,661 58
Due to Banks in this city,		51,625 18
Due to Banks elsewhere,		54,413 02
Due to individuals not bearing int.		227,098 09
Notes in circulation,		87,861 38
		$1,026,905 49

Statement of the condition of the Western Bank of Baltimore, Jan. 4, 1841.

LIABILITIES.

Capital Stock,	$589,050 00
Profit and Loss Account,	37,930 42
Unclaimed Dividends,	1,627 51
Due to Baltimore Banks,	149,685 96
Due to Banks out of the City,	54,502 39
Due to Depositors,	91,429 40
Circulation,	155,465 00
	$1,079,731 68

ASSETS.

Discounted Notes,		$671,608 68
Viz: City,	$510,959 62
Domestic,	160,648 06
Bonus paid the State,		22,089 37
Due from banks out of the City,		170,989 18
N. B. Of this sum $119,782 31, is due from Banks in Philadelphia and N. Y.
Real Estate, (Banking House,)		21,461 04
Notes of other Banks,		46,384 29
Viz: City Banks,	$5,663 39
Banks out of the City,	22,721 00
Specie,		163,349 49
City corporation, 6 per cent. Stock,		11,529 53
		$1,079,731 68

State of the Marine Bank of Baltimore, January 4, 1841.

		Cr.
Bills and Notes discounted,		$330,876 66
Road Stock,		13,576 90
Six per cent Stock city of Baltimore,		10,000 00
Marine Bank of Baltimore Stock,		6,714 37
Real Estate,		30,000 00
Specie—Gold,	$15,391 64
Silver and cents,	54,262 90
		69,654 54
Notes and checks on other Banks incorporated in this State,		21,144 52
Notes of other Banks incorporated elsewhere,		4,240 00
Baltimore City and other Coporation Certificates,		3,841 25
Due from other Banks,		112,737 70
Expense Account,		79 80
		$602,865 94
		Dr.
Capital Stock paid in,		309,200 00
Notes in circulation,		73,780 00
Profit and Loss,		6,647 50
Discounts and Exchange received since last dividend,		5,909 61
Due to other Banks,		63,313 27
Deposites not bearing interest,		144,015 56
		$602,865 94

Statement of the Merchants' Bank of Baltimore, January 4th, 1841.

		Cr.
Bills Receivable.	$1,506,817 47
Domestic Bills of Exchange,	434,491 89
Md. St'g B'ds £23,000,	83,633 33
Suspended Debt,	19,023 71
City Stock, six per ct.	7,930 55
		$2,045,896 37
F. Huth & Co., London,		195 55
Banking House,		25,000 00
Expenses,		446 66
Due by the Banks of the city of Baltimore,	231,034 88
Due by other Banks and agents,	338,872 41
		649,907 29
Notes of Maryland incorporated banks,	32,040
Notes of other incorporated banks,	9,875
		42,915 08
Notes and checks on the city banks of Baltimore,		81,534 92
Silver,	85,623 18
Gold,	121,964 18
Copper,	68 00
		207,655 36
		3,053,551 15
	Dr.
Capital Stock,		2,000,000 00
Bank Notes in Circulation,		100,675 00
Discount and Exchange,		4,614 03
Premium on Foreign Exchange,		4,561 42
Surplus Profits,		60,201 56
Dividend No. 10 of 3 per cent. payable on the 6th instant,		60,000 00
Unpaid Dividends,		2,851 50
Due to the Banks of the city of Baltimore,	87,508 41
Due to other Banks and agents,	395,861 89
		483,370 30
Individual Depocites,		332,277 34
		3,053,551 15

Statement of the Bank of Baltimore, Jan. 4, 1841.

		Cr.
Bills and Notes Discounted,		1,544,433 88
Bank of Baltimore Stock,		1,800 00
Cumberland and Boonsboro Road Stock,		88,349 00
Real Estate, Banking House, &c.		35,907 55
Bonus to the State,		16,897 52
Specie,	225,400 00
Specie drafts on U. States, &c.	132,560 21
		357,960 21
Notes of Banks in the city of Baltimore,	61,112 00
Notes of Banks in Maryland, Virginia, &c.	87,036 00
		151,148 00
Due from Banks,		83,456 00
		2,259,973 16
	Dr.
Capital Stock,		1,199,350 00
Surplus Profits,		102,252 12
Sinking Fund to provide for the depreciation of Road Stocks,		50,000 00
Discounts received since last Dividend,		6,282 78
Bank Notes in Circulation,		196,773 00
Due to Banks,		143,005 00
Individual Depositors,		556,309 26
		2,259,973 16

Statement of the Mechanics' Bank of Baltimore, January 4th, 1841.

		Cr.
Bills and Notes Discounted,		767,705 61
Real Estate, (Banking House, &c.)		30,200 00
Cumberland Road Stock, $42,400, valued at		5,926 00
Boonsboro Road Stock, $4,726 80, valued at		693 29
Rail Road Annuity,		4,500 00
Specie—Gold,	$26,664 59
Silver,	58,535 60
Copper,	86 31
		85,286 50
Notes of, and Checks on Banks incorporated in this state,	50,301 41
Notes of Banks incorporated elsewhere,	14,103 00
		64,404 41
Due from other Banks,		226,961 94
		$1,185,677 66
	Dr.
Capital,		$563,400 90
Notes in Circulation,		187,825 00
Unclaimed Dividends,		4,231 32
Deposites not bearing interest		320,150 07
Net Profits,		35,339 96
Due to other Banks,		45631 31
		$1,185,677 66

State of the Union Bank of Maryland, January 4, 1841.

		Dr.
Capital Stock paid in,		$1,845,562 50
Notes in Circulation,		248,029 00
Profit and Loss,		192,018 75
Sinking Fund on acc't of Road Stocks,		50,000 00
Discount and Exchange,		2,465 74
Surplus in Cash,		799 64
Dividends unclaimed,		62,473 62
State Tax for 1840,		3,691 12
Due to Banks,		377,418 36
Due to Depositors,		334,302 64
Due to Depositors bearing interest,		18,131 42
Due to State of Maryland do.		60,000 00
		$3,194,892 79
	Cr.
Bills and Notes Disc'd,	1,229,525 91
Domestic Bills of Ex.,	177,481 88
		1,407,007 79
State of Maryland Loan,		66,220 74
Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road 6 per cent. Loan,		435,309 32
Union Bank of Maryland Stock,		237,975 00
Cumberland Road Stock,		140,580 00
Washington County Bank Stock,		20,370 00
Six per cent. School Stock,		1,875 00
Patapsco Bank Stock,		960 00
Exchange Bank of Pittsburg,		800 00
Harrisburg City 6 per cent. Stock,		20,000 00
Suspended Debt,		77,066 39
Real Estate including Banking House,		157,923 37
Due by Banks,		222,832 52
Bonus paid for the extension of the Charter to 1859,		27,850 12
Cash, viz: Gold,	121,170 00
Silver,	17,470 00
Copper,	599 02
		139,239 02
Notes of Banks in this State, including Notes of and Checks on City Banks,		89,398 62
Notes of Banks elsewhere,		149,484 00
		$3,194,892 79

Statement of the condition of the Chesapeake Bank, January 4, 1841.

Bills and Notes Discounted,		$568,015 05
Foreign do. do.		40,165 11
Banking House and Lot,		16,000 00
State of Maryland City Corporation and Bank Stocks,		44,081 11
713 Shares of Chesapeake Bank Stock,		14,604 50
Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company, secured by £42,000 Maryland Sterling Bonds,		135,314 60
Due from Baltimore Banks,		18,411 74
Due from Banks out of the city,		26,482 14
Specie,		43,873 54
Bank Notes and Checks,		42,175 03
		$949,122 82
	Cr.
Capital Stock,		$431,376 00
Notes in Circulation,		155,915 00
Dividends unclaimed,		3,646 32
Dividends payable 11th inst.		12,941 28
Due to Banks out of the city,		5,763 00
Do do do on time,		88,396 44
Do Baltimore Banks,		48,301 58
Special Deposits,		12,529 00
Surplus,		23,300 00
Due to Depositors and Commissioners of Loans,		166,954 20
		$949,122 82

JOHN S. GITTINGS, President.

Statement of the Citizens' Bank of Baltimore, January 4, 1841.

Capital Stock paid in,		$333,940 00
Due to Depositors,		44,337 80
Due to Banks,		42,607 41
Unpaid Dividends,		10,805 70
Profits and Loss and Interest acc't,		5,086 68
Notes in circulation,		81,485 00
		$518,262 59
	Cr.
Bills and Notes discounted,		$396,756 24
Due from Banks including Notes and Checks,		70,488 87
Bonus paid the State,		8,916 50
Property,		500 00
Gold and Silver Coin,		41,045 00
Expense Account,		453 98
Bank Stock,		102 00
		$518,262 59

FRANCIS J. DALLAM, Cashier.

State of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Baltimore, January 4, 1841.

		Cr.
Bills and Notes Discounted,		$489,458 32
Farmers and Merchants Bank Stock,		54,151 50
Cumberland and Boonsboro' Turnpike Road Stock,		36,526 00
Real Estate, including Banking House,		22,721 37
Specie,		44,030 23
Due by Banks out of this city,		4,635 98
Due by Banks in this city,		29,787 77
Stock of the State of Maryland,		716 25
Stock of the Bank of the Metropolis, Washington,		25 00
Notes of the Bank of Potomac, Alexandria,		78 00
Notes and Checks of Banks in this city,		12,986 39
Notes of out-town Banks,		3,944 00
Notes of Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Company,		1,238 00
		$691,212 81
	Dr.
Capital paid in		$491,950 00
Discounts received and contingent fund,		21,335 80
Notes in circulation,		90,489 00
Due to Banks out of this city,		34,217 12
Due to Banks in this city,		11,915 21
Due to Individuals,		42,205 68
		$691,212 81

J. LONEY, Cashier.

Statement of the Franklin Bank of Baltimore, Jan. 4.

		Cr.
Specie,		$46,260 43
Outstanding Debts due the Bank,		804,515 98
State of Maryland Stocks at cost,		128,650 09
Other Funded Stocks,		14,200 00
Franklin Bank Stock,		29,692 45
Cumberland and Boonsborough Road Stock at cost,		32,695 34
Real Estate including Banking House,		42,874 93
Exchange account,		401 98
Expense,		8,086 76
Renewal of Charter from 1845 to 1857,		6,665 42
Profit and Loss,		14,169 82
Notes and Checks of other Banks,		34,181 28
		$1,162,213 78
	Dr.
Capital	$514,370 00
Augmented Capital,	113,700 00
		628,070 00
Dividends unclaimed,		4,836 55
Discounts,		13,773 03
Suspense,		2,149 94
Treasurer of the United States,		252 30
Public Officers of the United States,		3,994 59
State of Maryland,		30,000 00
Due to other Banks		114,905 77
Individual Deposits,		103,742 60
Circulation,		260,389 00
		$1,162,213 78

From the New Orleans Picayune.

PRAIRIE SKETCHES.

The Rancheros. A knight in complete steel, with poised lance, spurring to the combat in sight of his lady-love, at a tournament of the olden time, formed not a more spirit-stirring or pleasure-inspiring spectacle than does a Mexican Ranchero in pursuit of a buffalo calf to ensnare it with a lariat. The lariat is a rope, sometimes twenty feet in length, and even thirty, made of hemp generally, but frequently formed from plaited strings of buffalo hide, softened well to obtain the necessary pliability; one end is turned into a slip-noose, and the use of both hands is required in throwing the rope. The Mexican springs upon his horse, caring little whether there is any thing more than a blanket upon the animal's back, and with the lariat coiled and divided, (the noose end and two-thirds of the rope in his right hand and the other end firmly secured in his left,) he claps knees and spurs into his steed and darts away like an arrow, often with the bridle in his teeth. The buffalo cows are far swifter in flight than the bulls, and always keep the lead when pursued. The calves never lag behind their dams, but strain their tough young limbs into full as swift speed and keep ever close by the parent's side. During a hunt, the calf seems almost under the cow, and so continues, scarcely varying its gait so as to advance or fall behind by any perceptible difference.

Thus they run as the Rancheros advances, until his position is about ten feet behind the flying cow and calf, when he suddenly bears away upon the side where the calf is running, at the same instant hurling the lariat and catching the young buffalo round the neck with the rope, which tightens instantly and tumbles the victim over. This is a moment of glorious excitement to the Mexican hunters. They scream with delight as the animal is jerked over on the grass and separated from its dam. Then a kind of sport commences, which seems to an American traveller more exhilarating than any thing else of which he could have any conception. The angler with his hooked fish knows nothing to compare with it, and it beats even "cock fighting." The poor calf is no sooner down than up again, and scarcely up before he is again tumbled over, or suffered to run a short distance, according to the whim of the hunter. The Mexicans sit and laugh at this until they roll in their saddles; as for falling from their seats it seems to be a thing impossible. The young buffalo makes little effort to free itself from the rope, but rises after every fall, still pressing headlong after its flying dam until she disappears beyond the verging horizon. Here the fun ceases, for when the poor calf sees no longer any of its own kind, it becomes tame at once, and will place itself by the side of a horse, and run with it as formerly with the cow. The rope may then be taken from its neck, as it will not leave the horses unless it should again fall into trail of its kind, so that the creature may be reared with the utmost facility by assistance simply of a domestic cow.

At Fort William we saw two buffalo calves grazing with the domestic cattle, and displaying no indication whatever of discontent at the situation. The poor cow, however, was obliged to be tied before the little buffaloes could get nutriment from her, for they had an ungentle fashion of handling the udder, which she considered somewhat unusual.

A method of highway robbery somewhat singular is also practiced in Mexico by means of this skill in throwing the lariat. The robber pursues the traveller in precisely the same manner as a hunter rides after the young buffalo, throwing the noose in such a manner as to pinion and tighten the victim's arms down to his side, at the same moment jerking him from his horse to the ground, by which action he is rendered powerless, and the robbery is easy.

An incident slightly romantic in character, connected with this kind of plundering, occurred some short time previous to our flying visit to Santa Fe, and of course we heard of it. A rich Mexican was proceeding with an extensive caravan to Chihuahua, and he was in the habit of carrying a large amount of gold belted around him beneath his clothes. This fact being known to a daring and desperate gambler, whose character, among these people, was no obstacle to perfect freedom of intercourse with all classes. He travelled with the caravan, as it soon appeared, for the express purpose of making himself master of the golden girdle. His opportunity occurred when about half the travel was completed. The Don rode one day out of sight of the caravan in search of water, and the gambler, whose eye had been upon his victim through the whole journey, was instantly off to execute his scheme. He sought and came up with the Don, entered into conversation with him, and soon had the rich Mexican unhorsed at his feet. But to get at the 'yellow boys' it was now necessary to release the arms, which were tied down over the girdle, and this was not to be thought of. The robber dared not fire lest he should be heard by the passing caravan, and he seized a buffalo's skull which lay near, with the intention of dashing out his victim's brains. The Spanish desperado stood over his conquered prey, holding the tightened lariat in his left hand, his horse's reins round his left arm, and with the huge white skull raised in his right hand ready to dash upon his prostrate victim.

"Don't kill me, and you shall have my gold!" exclaimed the helpless merchant; and the gambler paused.

Though the gambler had secured his own horse, the other had taken fright and galloped back to the moving caravan when its owner was thrown on the ground.

"I know you want my gold and not my life," said the merchant. "Cut the rope that binds me, and place your knife instantly upon my neck; and if I do not give you the gold, you may drive the blade into my throat."

The gambler did so, for in his flurry he had forgotten the frightened horse, but the merchant had not, and was playing a cool and cunning game.

"The gold, the gold," said the gambler, "or the knife sinks in your neck!"

"Instantly!" said the merchant, as he endeavored to gain all the time he could in releasing the belt of gold.

Another moment, and rapid hoof steps were heard, followed immediately by the appearance of a dozen approaching horsemen.

The robber turned pale, but his eyes flashed in desperation, and, gritting his teeth horribly, he swore he would kill!

"Kill me," said the merchant, "and you are shot down instantly; release me and I will never betray you; quick, put away your knife!"

Such a superiority has cool courage over the most daring wickedness! The gambler sheathed his knife and stood trembling, while the brave Mexican trader sprang to his feet, adjusted his dress, met his friends, said he had been by some accident thrown from his horse, and rode back to the caravan side by side with his enemy by way of warding suspicion from him. He promised not to betray the gambler, and he did not. But the guilty man succeeded soon after in another depredation, and fled.—Then the story was told.

☞A man named David Hamilton of Providence, R. I. was on Wednesday afternoon, buried by the falling of a bank of earth on to his head. By good fortune, however, he was extricated without sustaining much injury.

Small Notes. The resolution repealing the act which prohibits the Ohio banks from issuing small notes, has passed both branches of the legislature of that state, and only requires the signature of the governor to become a law.

Fatal Accident. On Thursday morning John Pitts, a White Hall boatman, boarding a vessel off the Battery, New York, fell back, striking on the side of his boat, and was killed. He has left a wife and child.

Another person, a Virginian, named William Stokes, has been arrested at Brooklyn, charged with connexion with the murder of the lad Phelps.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE,
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE!

TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Bay Line—the Companies on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedule:

Leave Philadelphia	8 A.M.	reach Baltimore	2 P.M.
" Baltimore	4 P.M.	" Washington	8 P.M.
" Washington	5 A.M.	" Fred'ksburg	12 M.
" Fred'ksburg	12 M.	" Richmond	5 P.M.
" Richmond	5 P.M.	" Petersburg	7 P.M.
" Petersburg	7 P.M.	" Weldon	1 A.M.
" Weldon	1 A.M.	" Wilmington	1 P.M.
" Wilmington	1 P.M.	" Charleston at 5 the next day.

As this Line carries the Great Mail, (which cannot be delayed,) and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is sure of a connection throughout, whilst it is evident that Foul Roads, Head Winds and Storms!!! must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two-thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT ISLAND ROUTE.

☞The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon; and travellers have no expense or trouble with their Baggage.

☞This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞This is the only Daily Line to Richmond and Petersburg.

☞Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of
STOCKTON, FALLS & CO.
Adjoining the Philadelphia Rail Road Office,
d19-tf PRATT STREET, Baltimore.

COUNTRY KNIT YARN HALF HOSE. We have yet on hand, about 50 doz. Men's Country Knit Yarn HOSE, which we will close out cheap by the dozen or retail.
DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Baltimore st. 3d door west of Market st.
jd8 eolw

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

TUESDAY MORNING, JAN. 12, 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

ADVERTISEMENTS unavoidably crowded out of our paper to-day will be attended to to-morrow.

BANK REPORTS. For the reports of the banks of this city see first page.

ELECTIONS. Mr. Lecompte has obtained leave to bring in a bill, entitled, "An act for the better promotion of elections, and for the punishment of offences against the election laws of this state, and more especially for defining and punishing bribery." Mr. L. has undertaken a difficult task, if his design be to prevent all abuses at elections, and to protect the rights of the legal voters—but we have no doubt of the ability of himself and the committee on the subject, of which he is chairman, to frame a bill which will be effectual for the purposes mentioned. The committee which introduces, and the legislature which passes, an act that will prevent the recurrence of the vile practices which are said, by the partizan presses, to have disgraced our state, and, in a measure, nullified the right of suffrage, will deserve the applause and gratitude of their fellow citizens. On this subject we made some suggestions in our paper of the 7th instant, to which we beg leave to call the attention of the committee. Great impositions have been practised by the abuse of certificates of naturalization; and unless some plan be devised to prevent more than one vote being given on each certificate, little will have been achieved. This is the auspicious moment for decisive action upon the subject. Both parties having complained of the existence of the evil, neither can object to the application of a corrective—let, then, a death blow be given to corruption at elections, in whatever form it may exhibit itself. Those who thrive by corruption may thunder their denunciations against legislative interference, but the honest portion of the community will applaud its suppression.

IMPRISONMENT FOR DEBT. We have been favored by Mr. Legrand with a copy of the bill reported by him to the House of Delegates, to abolish imprisonment for debt. It will be found in our columns to-day. So far as we are competent to form a judgment, upon a hasty perusal of the bill, we think it adapted to the purpose for which it was designed. It is possible that defects may be discovered when the bill shall have been carried into practical operation; for there are few enactments, applicable to important subjects, and involving diversity of interests, that do not require amendment when tested by experience. The bill before us has been carefully drawn, and appears to afford the requisite protection to debtor and creditor, and this is all that can be asked.

We have so repeatedly expressed our sentiments in favor of the abolition of imprisonment for debt, that repetition would be superfluous. The measure is called for by public feeling, and we are happy to find that Mr. Legrand has promptly brought it to the consideration of the legislature. Imprisonment for debt should be consigned to the tomb, along with kindred laws which have ceased to disgrace our statute books. We hope that the legislature will not suffer the present session to pass without definitive action on the subject.

THE MAILS—TOTAL WRECK OF THE GARRICK, THE FRESHET, &c. The Eastern mails due this city yesterday at 3 P. M. did not arrive till ten last night. The detention was caused by the bad state of the Rail Road and the difficulty in crossing the Susquehanna at Havre de Grace. We were informed that the ice in the river at the latter place had formed a complete dam, so that the passengers crossed over on it—the mail was likewise brought over on the ice. The Susquehanna is said to be in a dreadful condition. The Philadelphia papers of yesterday are filled with detailed accounts of the freshet. Damages to a considerable extent have been sustained along the Schuylkill. At Manayunk the destruction of property has been great. It is stated that all the bridges of consequence on the Lehigh have been swept off. On the Delaware division of the Pennsylvania Canal, not a single bridge is left. The Camden and Amboy Rail Road has been rendered impassable. The river at Harrisburg is said to be in a very fearful state, sweeping destruction along its course.

The ship Garrick is a total wreck, though the passengers and crew had all landed and were safe. The New York Evening Signal of Saturday states, that at 10 o'clock news had reached the city that the Garrick had gone to pieces, and that her cargo must therefore be an entire loss. She is valued at from 60 to $70,000. $25,000 is insured on the vessel—amount on the cargo not known.

BILL OF MORTALITY FOR 1841. The Baltimore Board of Health report the number of interments in the city of Baltimore from the first day of Jan. 1840, to the first day of January, 1841, to be 2236, viz: Males 1209, females 1027. Of this number, 324 were colored persons—113 free, and 111 slaves. More than one-sixth of the deaths were from consumption.

APPOINTMENTS. The New York Star states that Hiram Ketchum, Esq. has been appointed Circuit Judge of the Supreme Court, in the place of Judge Edwards, whose term expires in August; and that Egbert Benson, Esq., has been appointed Tobacco Inspector, vice Mr. Glentworth.

RESUMPTION.

MESSRS. EDITORS: I have attended to the arguments "pro. and con." on the subject about which we all feel interested. Suppose you had an obstruction in your stomach that vitiated the whole economy of the man—plain common sense would say that no healthful exercise of the system could take place till the cause was removed: but some weakness and some other effects would be the result of the removal. Agreed—but is it not better to have a healthy atmosphere to breathe in, than a diseased one? Tho' weak at first, we gain ground and soon become strong when the disease is removed. Why put off drawing a tooth? So long as we keep it, we keep pain and all its attendants—and who has ever parted with such an one, who did not feel ashamed of his weakness for keeping it, and also feel renewed confidence in himself for having the moral courage to agree to part with what only gave him discomfort.

The foregoing communication is from a gentleman for whom we entertain the highest respect—but we think that he has taken an erroneous view of the subject of resumption, and that his illustrations of the necessity of the measure, are by no means happy. To remove a complaint in the stomach or to have a tooth drawn, may be painful, yet wholesome, operations; but the suffering and subsequent relief extend no farther than to the individual affected—the pain is momentary: the relief lasting; and, as the remedy is completely within the control of the operator, there is safety in the operation. We lack ability to run the parallel between the individual thus diseased and the condition of the banks. The former endures a single pang and the agony is over—and even if death were to follow the attempt to cure, innocent parties would not be involved in the sacrifice. The banks are differently circumstanced: their pangs convulse society at large, and carry dismay and desolation to the widow and the orphan. The man would be foolish who, for one diseased tooth, would have the whole extracted; or destroy the foundation of life to get rid of a pain in the stomach—and yet he would act with as much discretion as the community, which, for the gratification of handling specie, would bring destruction on itself. We will put a case to our correspondent. Suppose that he were indebted to an individual in the sum of $100,000, and were offered the option of giving his note for the amount, at ten years, without interest, or a mortgage bearing immediate interest, what would be his decision? He will think the question absurd; that no one but an idiot could hesitate. And now we should be glad to know the difference between this proposition and that which the people of Maryland are called upon to decide. They owe to the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road six millions of dollars, and are asked either to let the scrip of that company circulate without cost to the state, or to mortgage their farms, &c. to the full amount of the debt, and to pay interest from date. But, our correspondent may demand what bearing this matter has upon the proposed resumption of specie payments by the banks? We reply that, if the banks resume, the rail road notes will be forced out of circulation, and will be forthwith converted into stock bearing interest. This is of a little more importance to the community than the extraction of a tooth to an individual, or the removal of his pain in the stomach. But there is another effect to be produced by immediate resumption, equally injurious. The banks, to sustain resumption, must crush business to a great extent; and this will be felt in all the ramifications of society. In short, we cannot see the applicability or point of the cases furnished by our respected correspondent, yet we have deemed it but justice to submit his suggestions to our readers.

The banks of Pennsylvania are to resume on the 15th instant, (Friday next.) Let us await their action, and before we imitate them, see that their resumption is permanent. Should it be temporary, to save their charters; or should suspension ensue from necessity, we shall find our advantage in not having been precipitate.

The will and the power to do, are very different. The insolvent might have the will, whilst he has not the power, to pay his creditors. The banks may be disposed to resume specie payments—but their disposition must yield to the necessity of self preservation. The Bank of England could not discharge its indebtedness in coin; nor can this be done by any bank in existence. They all have to rely upon the forbearance of their creditors; and this is also the case with states and individuals. The state of Maryland owes about fifteen millions of dollars; and her available means are stocks and the real and personal property of her citizens. Shall these be sacrificed without necessity, and upon fanciful theories? It would be as justifiable as to sacrifice the debtors to the banks, to enable them to resume specie payments. Resumption, to be safe and permanent, must take place in a time of perfect confidence—when a note, convertible into coin, will be considered of equivalent value.—Such a condition of things might have existed at this moment, but for recent events—and public feeling must be permitted to subside before the attempt to resume can be made without hazard.

We have spoken freely upon this subject, and given our ideas somewhat at large. We have not narrowed down our views to the effects (if any,) to be produced upon our own pocket; but have embraced what we have honestly conceived to be the general interests of the state. Nor have we imitated the example of the judge, who had an eye and an ear for but one side. We do not expect to "put money in our purse" by the decision of the question, be it for or against resumption, and consequently can examine the subject with strict impartiality.

☞ The Honorable BENJAMIN C. HOWARD will lecture this evening before the Mercantile Library Association—subject, "North Eastern Boundary." From the situation which Mr. Howard has held in relation to this important question, we have reason to expect a most learned and highly interesting lecture.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

CITY COUNCIL. First Branch, Jan. 11. The short recess created but little change in the countenances and general appearance of the members of the branch; one of them, however, sported a new hat, and he was immediately voted chairman of the committee on extravagance. We are happy to state that no debate arose on the question as to whether it was paid for or not—the subject being exclusively of a personal nature.

Mr. Hack, from the 12th ward, presented the petition of Robert Garrett & Son and others, praying for the appointment of an additional inspector of butter and lard. Referred to the committee on commerce.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Cole, from the 6th ward, instructing the committee on the harbor to have the obstructions of a raft and steamboat in that part of Jones' Falls, between Alicesanna street bridge and its junction with the basin, removed. Concurred in.

A message was received from the Second Branch, stating that Messrs. Boyd, Reaney and Wight had been appointed the committee relative to the division of the wards, and Messrs. Harden, Lucas and Hook the committee relative to the collection of taxes.

Mr. Pinckney, from the 7th ward, offered a resolution requiring the city commissioners to submit to the branch a statement of the amount paid by the city for repaving paved and cross streets, and the amount paid for repairs in each and every year from 1835 to 31st December, 1840, showing separately the amount paid for each of the above objects. Concurred in.

A communication was received from John S. Eastman, through the Mayor, protesting against the contemplated extension of Sharp street towards Spring Gardens. Referred to the committee on streets.

A communication was received from the Register of the city, accompanied by correspondence from the Mayors of Philadelphia, New York and Boston, in relation to the mode adopted by those cities in collecting taxes; which was read and a message sent to the Second Branch proposing to refer the same to the joint committee on ways and means.

The annual report of the City Collector was received through the Mayor, and referred to the joint select committee on taxes.

The branch then adjourned until to-morrow afternoon at half past 3 o'clock.

Second Branch. All present except Mr. Gittings.

The branch appointed Messrs. Boyd, Reaney and Wight on the joint committee relative to the division of the wards, and Messrs. Harden, Lucas and Hook on the joint committee relative to the collection of taxes.

☞ An article appeared in yesterday's paper headed "obtaining money under false pretences," wherein we stated that Mr. Samuel Cameron "gave security to the amount of $500 for his appearance before the City Court." This was entirely erroneous—and seems like prejudging a case, which had not then been tried. The error lies entirely with the reporter, and we hasten to correct it, by copying the case as it appeared on the docket of Justice Schaeffer.

State vs. Samuel Cameron, charged on oath of George Gelbach with having on the 3d October, 1840, last, obtained from him a sum of money under false pretences to defraud him.

Appeared the defendant, prayed an examination into the case before he was held to bail finally, which was granted—Wm. Gwynn, Esq. acknowledging to owe the State $500 for his appearance on Monday, the 12th of Jan. 1841.

It will be seen by the above that Mr. Cameron gave bail for his appearance before the magistrate for examination of the case, not before City Court, as reported.

In justice to the defendant and the worthy magistrate, we consider this explanation necessary.

The case of Mr. Cameron came before Justice Schaeffer at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and continued under examination until eight. We have not time now to give details. After a full investigation, the magistrate decided that, as there appeared to have existed a misunderstanding between the parties, and the evidence could not substantiate the charge, Mr. Cameron should be discharged from bail. Z. Collins Lee, Esq. appeared for the state, and C. F. Mayer, Esq. for the defendant.

NATHANIEL J. JACOBS. This young man who was arrested as the accomplice of Morton, the "nice young man," through the interference of some of his friends, has been released from prison by order of the magistrate, there not being a positive or even indirect charge against him. The certificates of deposite in the Seneca County Bank found upon his person, and which he stated were good for nothing, were considered no evidence of his guilt, as it was proved that there were good citizens in town who had a number of them, and fixed no value upon them.

HUMAN SKULLS. A pleasant subject, truly, to comment upon; but let a nervous person pass up North street by the Patriot office, and he will be seized with a sudden ague. The ghastly heads of human beings who once existed are there paraded in a window as if they were as many barber's blocks. Tyler, the Phrenologist, is most assuredly a man of feeling—but what the deuce does he mean by frightening people out of their wits with a charnal-house display of fleshless noddles that once had brains as well as himself?

LECTURE. General Gaines is to lecture before the Mechanical Fire Co's Library Association to morrow evening. Subject, National Defence.—It is expected that the Universalist Church will be crowded.

TEMPERANCE. On Sunday last two hundred persons signed the temperance pledge of the Maryland Catholic Association.

WATCH REPORTS. The Eastern District was all correct on Saturday night. On Sunday, a German was imprisoned for being riotous and intoxicated. A colored man, supposed to be insane, was arrested and brought in. In the Middle District, on Saturday night, Peter Hashour was admitted for lodgings, and Mary Shipley brought in for the police to send to the alms-house. A negro boy was locked up for being found asleep in the market house. Lieut. Glenn, at 3 a. m. discovered one of the watchmen lying in his box, intoxicated. On Sunday night, negro Henry Gibson was brought in by the police. Alexander M'Cracken was brought in for intoxication, and Wm. Schaeffer and John Brown for rioting and intoxication. In the Western District on Saturday night, James Davis was picked up in the streets, out of sorts. Sarah Connelly, a white woman, was brought in by a watchman, her husband having turned her into the street in a destitute condition.

INDEPENDENT BLUES BALL. This "ancient and honorable" corps of Maryland volunteers, it must be remembered give their anniversary ball at the Assembly Rooms to-night. Great preparations have been made to produce a splendid affair, and from the well known ability of the company to cater for the amusement and comfort of their friends, there can be little doubt that the evening will pass off pleasantly. The fine band attached to the company, we understand, will perform a number of choice pieces, amongst them some of the compositions of their leader, Mr. James Deems, now in Europe.

INSUBORDINATION. No. 4. of this tale is before us, it is becoming more interesting as it advances towards the end, it is for sale at Messrs. Knight & Colburn's, Baltimore street.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11, 1841.

Some years ago at Manchester, in England, an impudent fellow hit upon the following method of raising a little money. It being the great cattle fair, he erected a small shanty with a long passage to it. Then standing in front with a huge speaking trumpet, the fellow shouted "Walk in, ladies and gentlemen! walk in! walk in! Only a penny a piece." Whereupon some scores paid their pennies, and "walked in." Being in, they crowded into the long passage, at the end of which was another fellow, who kept bawling "Walk out, ladies and gentlemen! walk out, walk out!" Those who had been fooled were too vexed to tell, and so a stream of people flocked "in" and "out" again for a long time before the imposter was knocked down and three parts killed.

I was reminded of this story by the mock legislation on Friday and Saturday last in the House of Representatives. For the first time during the session, those two days had been set apart for the consideration of private bills. Consequently the numerous claimants "walked in" eager with expectation, and with eyes brightening with hope. But alas! they and the Representatives "walked out" together on Saturday evening, without passing more than two bills out of the twelve hundred.

In the House of Representatives, the whole day has been taken up by Mr. Naylor, of Pennsylvania, in a reply to the remarks of Mr. Ingersoll of last week, in relation to the contested seat.—This is a remarkably dry subject without the least interest. Many members made their escape at an early hour.

Mr. Jones, from the committee on ways and means, reported the general appropriation bill, after which the House adjourned.

The Senate is still engaged in the pre-emption land bill.

DESTRUCTIVE FRESHET. Before us is the Newark Daily Evening Advertiser of the 9th inst. It contains a lengthy account of the destructive progress of the late freshet in that vicinity. The destruction of property along the Passaic, Hudson, Delaware and their adjacent tributaries has been immense. It is reported that six bridges on these streams, at different points, have been entirely swept away, viz: The bridge at Weazel, near Patterson, the Acquackanonk and Belleville bridges, and the old Newark bridge, belonging to the Passaic and Hackensack Bridge Company, being the only communication with the Turnpike or Causeway to Jersey City. This bridge has been recently rebuilt, at an expense of $10,000. Numerous smaller bridges, together with mill-dams, grist mills, houses, stables, &c. have been carried away.

The damage on the North River and its tributary streams appears to have been immense. The destruction along the Croton Water Works was very great, and is estimated at $180,000. Some of the bridges on the New York and Albany Post route are also destroyed; several dwelling houses were carried away, and at least three lives lost in the vicinity of the Croton dam.

The latest news we have been able to obtain states that the Delaware presented a most fearful and destructive aspect. The river was raging at an immense height, crowded with floating ice, fragments of bridges, trees, barrels, boxes, kegs, parts of houses, &c.

The above accounts are but in miniature. We have reason to believe that the damages done at the north and east, and it is feared at the west, will, when fully ascertained, be found most melancholy. There is no knowing at present the great extent of the freshet. We must wait for further developements which, in all probability, are awfully alarming."

A WOMAN MURDERED. Two colored men were recently arrested and committed, on a charge of having murdered a white woman near Churchtown, Lancaster county.

☞ A young lady named Douglas, residing in Bangor, Me. committed suicide on Monday of last week by taking laudanum.

MARRIED,

On Tuesday evening, 7th inst. by the Rev. Mr. Tippet, THOMAS BOWERS to Miss SUSAN JANE CROMWELL, both of this city.

DIED,

In St. Mary's county, on the 1st inst. Mrs. MARY, relict of the late John Gough, esq. of that county.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Barque Ida, Hallet, Boston.
Brig Tweed, Roberts, Rio de Janeiro.
Schr Henry Franklin, Wright, Apalachicola.
Schr E. P. Cohen, Tew, Charleston.

ARRIVED.

Ship Humphrey, Hillett, 60 days from Rotterdam, coffee and gin.
Brig Montezuma, Kelly, from Rio de Janeiro, 15th Nov coffee.
Brig Catherwood, Chase, 10 days from Havana to the Capes, sugar, molasses, &c.

MEMORANDA.

Ship Powhatan, Higgins, for Baltimore, sailed from Liverpool 10th Dec.
Ship Belvidera, Spear, for Baltimore, entered for loading at Liverpool 19th Dec.

Organization of the Neptune Temperance Society.

☞ At a meeting of the citizens of Fell's Point, held at the Deptford Fire Company's Room, on Thursday Evening, Jan. 7th, 1841, for the purpose of forming a TEMPERANCE SOCIETY, on the Total Abstinence Pledge, the following gentlemen were chosen Officers of the Association for the ensuing twelve months:

THOMAS BRUFF, President.
JOHN DUTTON, 1st Vice-president.
A. C. HALL, 2d do.
A. B. CHAMBERLAIN, 1st Secretary.
THOS. J. WARRINGTON, 2d do.
JAMES C. WHEEDON, Treasurer.

THOMAS NEWMAN, SAMUEL HORNEY, M. B. FIELDS, ROBERT SPERDEN, THOMAS W. BENTON, } Standing Committee.
ARCHIBALD PARKS, J. M. HALL, E. C. CROPPER, } Delegates to Central Committee.

ja12-1t* A. B. CHAMBERLAIN, Sec'y.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION OF THE MECHANICAL FIRE COMPANY.

☞ The next Lecture will be delivered before this Association, by Major General EDMUND P. GAINES, (assisted by his talented lady,) on TO-MORROW EVENING, 13th instant, in the Universalist Church, Calvert street. Subject—"The National Defence."

The season tickets will not be available for admission to this lecture. Tickets, admitting a gentleman and two ladies, may be had for 50 cents, at the book stores of Messrs. J. Cushing & Co. Howard street; F. Lucas, jr., Market street; Armstrong & Berry, Market street, and N. Hickman, Market street.

ja12 2t HU. DAVEY EVANS, Pres't.

TO THE PUBLIC.

☞ An editorial notice, in the Republican of this morning, cautions all persons in the city, who are in arrears to HARRIS & BEAN, not to pay to any person, any money, notes or judgments, or other claims due the said office, except to them, or such agent as they may appoint. It is generally known that the undersigned has been their authorized agent for the last three years, and shall most cheerfully submit to those best acquainted with the Financial operations of the establishment for that period, whether they, or myself, have the most cause for complaint, in exercising unlimited power, which was indispensably necessary to save the establishment. ja12-1t* NICHOLAS SANK.

☞ MADAME MARRAS, (Academica Filarmonica di Roma,) has the honor of announcing to the ladies and gentlemen of Baltimore, that on MONDAY NEXT, 18th inst., she intends giving a Vocal and Instrumental CONCERT at the Assembly Rooms. On which occasion, she will perform on the HARP several of the most recent compositions, in which the new effects of this instrument will be displayed.

☞ The Programme will appear in a few days.

ja12-1t

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

☞ The Sixth Lecture of the course will be delivered THIS EVENING, 12th Jan'y, at half past 7 o'clock, in the Universalist Church, corner of Calvert and Pleasant streets, by the Hon. BENJ. C. HOWARD. Subject—"North Eastern Boundary."

☞ The Lecture will be illustrated by Maps of the Disputed Territory. ja12-1t

BALTIMORE DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION

☞ The members of this Association are respectfully requested to attend a special meeting THIS (Tuesday) EVENING, at 7 o'clock, at the Virginia House in Harrison street. By order.

ja11-1t* FREDERICK SMITH, Sec'y.

NOTICE.

☞ The Commissioners of the State Armory and Town Hall Lottery having had their right to establish agencies conceded by the State Commissioners of lotteries, designed in the exercise of their power to confine their selection to those already engaged in the business of selling lottery tickets: but it will be seen from the circular annexed to this, that the agents of the foreign contractors have determined, so far as they can affect it, to defeat the wishes of the Commissioners. To what cause to ascribe this course on their part, we leave the people of Baltimore, who are so deeply interested in the success of these lotteries, to determine. Our only object is the erection of a public edifice both useful and ornamental—private speculation or individual gain is out of the question.

[CIRCULAR COPY.]

Dear sir: We think it proper to apprise you, that we should deem your acceptance of agency to sell any other tickets than those embraced in the contract of the state, in conflict with your engagements with the contractors of the state lotteries. Respectfully, yours, signed D. S. Gregory & Co. by S. Benbuse & Co.

Therefore the Commissioners of the State Armory and Town Hall Lottery give notice that after 10 o'clock to day they will be in attendance at their office, No. 145 Market street, to receive applications for agencies.

Meanwhile as the first class of our lottery is to be drawn at half past 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon next, at the City Hall, the public generally are informed that tickets can be procured at our office 145 Market street, and of Wm. G. Cook, No. 3 N. Gay-st

ja11-3t

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

☞ A Temperance Meeting will be held in the New Market Engine House, on WEDNESDAY, 13th inst. at half past 6 o'clock, for the purpose of forming an auxiliary to the Washington Temperance Society of Baltimore. All persons who wish to become members, are earnestly and respectfully requested to attend said meeting.

N. B. The Washington Temperance Society intend holding weekly public meetings until the 1st of April, of which notice of time and place will be given through the papers. Such of the Churches as are disposed to favor the temperance cause, by offering their churches for the purpose of holding a meeting in, will please address a line to the President of the Society. ja8-4t

MECHANICS' FUND.

☞ The President and Directors of the MECHANICS' FUND of Baltimore have declared a DIVIDEND of FOUR PER CENT. for the last six months, which will be paid to the depositors on or after the 13th inst.

ja11 3t* LEVI TAYLOR, Treasurer.

☞ Dr. T. L. MURPHY has resumed the Practice of Medicine. Office No 69 BOND STREET, a few doors E. of Allisanna street. d19-tf

STOCK AND FIXTURES FOR SALE.—The stock and Fixtures of a Tavern, in a good business part of the city, will be disposed of to any person wishing to engage in such a business on very reasonable terms—the present proprietor being compelled to relinquish the business. For further information, inquire at this office. ja10-3t

INSUBORDINATION.

NO. 4. The fourth No. of INSUBORDINATION, a Story of Baltimore, by the author of the "Swindler," has been published by KNIGHT & COLBURN, 124 Baltimore street, and is for sale by them and at the different Book Stores in the city. ja8-3t

SITUATION WANTED, by a middle aged man, in some Wholesale Store, as Book-keeper or Clerk—best references given. Apply at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore street. ja12-1t

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Man. To Dr. SWAYNE.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel different—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently depends on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
1y28-y

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,
80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

LUCK. Sold at this Office, in the Virginia State Lottery, drawn on Saturday, 9th inst. the following Prizes, viz:

Comb. 18, 51, 70, whole ticket,	$200
Comb. 12, 42, 44, half ticket,	100
Comb. 30, 53, 63, quarter ticket,	100, and near the $20,000 capital prize.

Also, sold to a lady in Friday's small Lottery, a $600 prize in a whole ticket. The cash for the above prizes has been paid, and are now on file.

Drawn Nos. Virginia State, class A, Jan. 9th, 1841—lowest prize $10.

50 63 51 1 69 70 34 44 24 12 26 31 42

Magnificent Lotteries for the week:

TO-DAY, 11th, Alexandria Lottery, class A, 75 Nos 12 Ballots—Capitals of $12,000, 5,000, &c. Tickets $4.

On WEDNESDAY, Maryland State Lottery, to be drawn in Baltimore at the Law Buildings, class No. 2, 75 Nos.—12 Ballots—Capitals of 20,000, 10,000, 99 of 1000, &c. Tickets $5, shares in proportion.

On THURSDAY, in Baltimore, Consolidated Lottery of Maryland, class No. 1, 66 Nos. and 12 Ballots. Extra, capitals of $19,000, 9000, 2000, 10 of 1000, &c. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On FRIDAY, Virginia State Lottery, Extra, class No. 3, to be drawn at Alexandria, Va. Capitals of $10,000, 3000, &c. 75 Nos. 13 Ballots. Tickets $4.

On SATURDAY, Immense and Grand Scheme, Va. State Lottery, nett capitals of $30,000, 10,000, 5000, 4000, 50 of 1000, 50 of 500, 250, 200, &c. 75 No. Lottery—15 Ballots. More prizes than blanks.

Whole tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2 50.

☞ All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address. E. W. ROBINSON,
No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.
Agent for the State of Maryland. ja12 1t

STONER'S OFFICE,
UNDER WASHINGTON HALL.
MARKET STREET BRIDGE.

ALEXANDRIA LOTTERY. Extra, class A, for 1841—75 Numbers and 12 Drawn Ballots—Draws TO-DAY.

RICH SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$12,000	1 Prize of	$2131
1 "	5000	23 "	1000
5 "	3000	29 "	2200

Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On SATURDAY NEXT, we can offer a brilliant chance for fortunes. Alexandria Lottery, class No. 1, 75 Numbers—15 Ballots.

GRAND SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$20,000	1 Prize of	$3300
1 "	10,000	1 "	2500
1 "	5000	1 "	4000
25 "	4000	50 "	1000, &c.

Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞ Orders, from all parts of the city and country, should be carefully directed to ja12-1t JOHN L. STONER, Baltimore.

One of the best adapted ROOMS for PUBLIC MEETINGS in this City.

UNION HALL, S. E. corner of Tripolett's alley and Market street, elegantly fitted up with Gas, neat Benches with Backs, Desks, Speaker's or Chairman's Raised Platform, now occupied at stated periods by some of the most respectable societies of this city, and what renders it very pleasant, it is free from the pernicious influence of Bars, and the desecration of a tavern resort. It is got up on the Temperance principle. The third story is fitted up in the manner above named, having no connection with the other Rooms, either of which will contain 300 persons very comfortably. For religious or other Societies, it can be had either day or night. Merchants and Tradesmen, having meetings of any kinds are invited to call.

☞ The Gas room is also prepared, and would answer for a Book Bindery, Engraver, Shoemaker, Tailor, &c.—it is well lighted, 10 feet of the Proprietor of the Store underneath, or at No. 69 Baltimore street, opposite. ja12-eo3t

NOTICE.

The Steam Boat POCAHONTAS, Captain HOLMES, will leave the lower end of Spear's wharf on FRIDAY, the 15th instant, at 10 o'clock, A. M. for Norfolk and the Portsmouth and Roanoke Rail Road. Passengers for Charleston will arrive at Weldon several hours prior to the departure of the cars for Wilmington, and will, if they meet with no detention at the latter place, arrive in Charleston early on Monday morning.

☞ The Thomas Jefferson will leave Norfolk for Richmond early on Saturday morning, so that passengers by the Pocahontas will arrive at their place of destination about 3 o'clock, P. M. the day after leaving Baltimore.

Fare to Weldon, (meals on board included) $16
Fare to Norfolk, (meals included,) 10
Fare from Norfolk to Richmond, (meals included,) 4

JNO. C. SEALE, General Agent
ja12 4t Balt. Steam Packet Co.

STRAYED, from the subscriber's stable on Saturday evening last, a Blk. MARE, a few white hairs on her forehead—also has some white spots on the back, caused by chafing of the saddle, full long tail, a first rate hackney, about 14 hands high, 8 or 9 years old. Ten dollars reward will be paid for her on being delivered at the City Mill on Calvert street, or at No. 15 Spear's wharf. ja12-3t* C. KELLER.

DOG LOST. On Sunday evening, a POINTER PUP, liver colored and white spotted, about four months old, answers to the name of GROUSE, had a brass chain and plate round the neck, but no name on it. A reward of two dollars will be paid to any person who will bring him to the office of the Clipper. ja12-3t*

POCKET BOOK LOST. Was lost yesterday morning, either in Baltimore, between Charles and Howard streets, or in Howard, between Baltimore and Pratt streets, a Morocco POCKET BOOK, with the owners name on the inside, containing fifteen dollars in Bank Notes and several papers of consequence, of no use to any but the owner. Any person, who has found it, will be rewarded with the money, by returning the Pocket-book and Papers to the editor of the Clipper, or at No. 27 Asquith st. N. of Pitt. ja12 eo3t

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.

RANAWAY from the subscriber on Wednesday, 6th inst., a Colored Boy named PERRY, about 18 years old, very good looking, of a bright copper color, five feet six inches high, had a scar across his nose and left cheek, and a very smart walker. The above reward will be paid to any person who will lodge him in the jail at Baltimore.

NATHANIEL DELANEY, Frederick, Md.
ja12-eo3t*

PATENT NIGHT LIGHTS.

THIS ARTICLE (of new invention) consumes not more than half the quantity of Oil, and is superior to any other Night Light now in use. It burns without any wick, and gives a clear and steady light. To housekeepers it will prove to be an invaluable article—price 12½ cents. For sale by
MORTIMER & MOWBRAY,
Nos. 1 & 3 Market street.
By appointment of the Patentees.
P. S. A liberal deduction made to wholesale dealers.
ja9 1w*

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000 may be had on	MONDAY,	for	$5 00
10,000	" TUESDAY,		4 00
20,000	" WEDNESDAY,		5 00
12,000	" THURSDAY,		4 00
5,000	" FRIDAY,		2 00
20,000	" SATURDAY,		10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. ja7-1m

100,000 DOLLARS.
TOWN HALL LOTTERY.

For the embellishment of the city of Baltimore, to be drawn January 16, 1841.

A book of 100 tickets may draw $100,000.

SCHEME:

1st prize	$10,000
2d	10,000
3d	10,000
4th	10,000
5th	10,000	$100,000
6th	10,000
7th	10,000
8th	10,000
9th	10,000
10th	10,000

On a new and most simple mode the sets of numbers or forty single numbers are placed in the wheel, viz:

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

And ten drawn out at random, and those ten tickets ending with the four first drawn numbers, in the order in which they are drawn, will be entitled to the ten prizes of ten thousand dollars—thus, suppose 2 5 6 8 should be the four first drawn numbers—the tickets being numbered 1001-1002, &c. up to 101,000, the only tickets ending with the four first in order will be 2 5 6 8, 12 5 68, 22 5 68, 32 56 8, 4 25 68, 5 25 68, 6 25 68, 7 25 68, 8 25 68, 9 25 68, thus a book which contains ten tickets in each ten thousand, consequently may draw the ten prizes—or $100,000.

Tickets $5—Halves $2.50—Quarters $1.25.

Packages of 10 Whole Tickets,	$50 00
Packages of 10 Half Tickets,	25 00
Packages of 10 Quarter Tickets,	12 50
Packages of 10 Eighth Tickets,	6 25

Those who prefer paying the difference only, between the Selling Price and what a Package is warranted to draw, can be supplied as follows:

A book, or 100 whole tickets $250, shares in proportion.

For 10 Whole Tickets,	$33 00
For 10 Halves,	25 00
For 10 Quarters,	8 50
For 10 Eighths,	4 50

For which they will receive a Commissioners Certificate, just as good in every respect as the Original Tickets, and entitling the purchaser to all Prizes that may be drawn by the numbers composing the Package, over the warranted amount.

☞ For Tickets, please address
ZACHARIAH BENNET, Agent,
No. 3 Exchange Place, next door to the ja11 3t Maryland Lottery and Exchange Office.

F. B. SCHÆFFER,
(SUCCESSOR TO BARKER & CO.)
156 BALTIMORE STREET.

$20,000. This splendid capital, in the Maryland State Lottery, No. 1, drawn on the 6th Jan. to Nos. 22, 71, 56, we have not yet heard of, or from the fortunate holder. We trust that it has fallen into good hands, and will be of general utility—the cash will be paid for that, and all other prizes on demand. Drawn numbers of the Literature Lottery, No 2.

29 56 40 27 28 47 15 21 12 13 17 19

Several handsome prizes were sold in the above. We beg to call the attention of our patrons to the splendid Lotteries to be drawn this week:

TO-DAY, Jan. 11th, Alexandria Lottery, class No. 2, Capitals $15,000, 10,000, &c. Tickets $5.

TO-MORROW, State Treasury Lottery—Capital prize $10,000. Tickets $4—shares in proportion.

On WEDNESDAY, the Maryland State Lottery will be drawn in Baltimore. Capital prize $20,000. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On THURSDAY, Grand Consolidated Lottery, No. 2—capital prize $10,000. Tickets $5.

On FRIDAY, 15th Jan., Literature Lottery, class 3, Capitals $8,000, 3,000, &c. Tickets $2.50.

On SATURDAY, 16th Jan., Virginia State Lottery, class 1. Capitals—5,295, 10,515, 5,000, &c.

Whole Tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2.50.

☞ For Lucky Tickets, apply to
F. B. SCHÆFFER,
Successor to BARKER & Co.
156 Baltimore street, corner of St. Paul's-st.

Where more prizes have been sold and paid than at any other office within the United States.

☞ Orders for Tickets, in any Lotteries under the management of D. S. GREGORY & Co., thankfully received and promptly attended to—and the result of the drawing sent immediately after it is received. To insure a prize, you must address
ja11 F. B. SCHÆFFER, Baltimore, Md.

$5000 SPECIE, in SILVER and SOVEREIGNS, for sale in sums to suit purchasers, by
H. WIGMAN,
Opposite the Post Office,
WHO WISHES TO BUY,
FRANKLIN BANK NOTES, (particularly TO-DAY) at a low discount.
Also—RAIL ROAD and WHEELING NOTES—and Uncurrent Money in general. ja9-3t

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES—For sale

City and State six per cent. STOCK
Susquehanna Canal	do
Mechanics Bank	do
Farmers and Planters	do
Baltimore Water Company's	do
Balt. and Ohio Rail Road	do
Western Bank	do
Citizens Bank	do

By WM. WARD, Stock Exchange and Money
ja9-4t Broker, No. 21 Exchange Building.

REMOVAL.

G. H. MITTNACHT, IMPORTER OF GERMAN, FRENCH, and ENGLISH FANCY GOODS, has removed from the Store he lately occupied in Baltimore street, to the Store No. 9 South LIBERTY STREET, where he will always keep a large and general assortment of FANCY GOODS, including Baskets, Toys, Clocks, Musical Instruments, Cutlery, Jewelry, Pins, Needles, Tapes, Cords, Cotton, Thread, Silk, Blacking, Ink, Slates, Marbles, Whips, &c. &c., which he is prepared to sell at the lowest wholesale prices. G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 9 S. Liberty street.

N. B. Franklin Bank Notes will be taken at par for all Goods purchased for cash. [a] ja5-2w

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, elecampane, liquorice root, snacka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and boneset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 19 North-st. d19-y

MRS. CONNOR'S

BOARDING HOUSE, PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, between 3d and 4½ streets, Washington City, (D. C.) where Gentlemen, visiting the District, can be accommodated with Board and suits of Apartments, suitable for single gentlemen or families, for any length of time. d23-1m

DRY GOODS, &c.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES.

FRANKLIN BANK PAPER will be received at PAR for DRY GOODS, at unprecedented low prices, at No. 99½ Baltimore street. A lot of extra Rose and Whitney BLANKETS, and 250 pieces super CLOTHS and CASSIMERES. Just received.
ja8-tf W. H. RIDGELY & CO. 99½ Balt.-st.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES.

THE subscriber will take the above notes, at par, for DRY GOODS. He has just received a new and large assortment of beautiful style Madras Hdkfs. and 10 dozen Piecey Linen HOSE, a superior article, and a few pieces cheap Irish LINENS—together with 99 pieces of yard wide FLANNELS, at 26 cts.
JOSHUA T. ROYSTON, Jr. 47 Market-st.
ja9 5 doors W. of Gay-st. (yellow house.)

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,

Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.

With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.
oc2 EDW. J. RICHARDSON.

CHEAP LINEN CAMBRIC HDKFS.

JUST RECEIVED, an additional supply of those cheap Linen Cambric HDKFS. which we have been selling off very fast by the dozen and at retail. Ladies who have not supplied themselves, now have another opportunity—they may rely on finding them at very reduced prices, by calling on
DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Baltimore-st.
ja8-eo2w 3d door west of Market Space.

WILLIAM H. KIMBALL & CO.
No. 145 BALTIMORE STREET,

MERCHANT TAILORS, and DEALERS in Broad Cloths; Cassimeres; Vestings; Beaver and Pilot Cloths; Cassinets; Flannels; 100 doz. black, white, and colored Hosiery; Handkerchiefs; Shirts; Drawers; Worsteds; Neck Stocks; Scarfs; Collars; Bosoms; Suspenders, &c. &c.

Also, a large and extensive assortment of ready-made Clothing, consisting of Dress and Frock Coats; Pantaloons; Vests, and Over Coats—which will be sold at the lowest possible prices for cash. ja8

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at
DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are LOWER than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.
WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.
N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mouseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½; super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7-8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1¼ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25; still finer 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 43¾
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
BED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.
E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6p
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6p
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 6p
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleven
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 6p
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 6p each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleven
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mouselaine de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 6p
Excellent LINSEY, eleven and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 6ps
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 6ps
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mist Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Brocha do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 6p
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6p
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleven
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6p

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at
CHARLES JOHN HARPS'
Retail Store, Lexington-st.
n27

UNION BANK STOCK.

300 SHARES, for sale at a reduced rate, for which the Notes of the FRANKLIN BANK will be taken in payment, at par.
ja7-8t* CLARK, Museum Building, Balt. Md.

AMUSEMENTS.

CITIZENS' BALL.

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

THIS BALL will take place on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841. The price of Tickets is fixed at TWO DOLLARS.

SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
ANDREW J. BANDEL, Secretary.
JOSHUA VANSANT, Treasurer.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE—Pink Rosette.

1st Ward,	Robert Mitchiland.
2d do	David W. Hudson.
3d do	John N. Millington.
4th do	A. I. W. Jackson.
5th do	Sheppard C. Leakin.
6th do	Wm. H. Cole, Jr.
7th do	John M. Harman.
8th do	Joseph Donovan.
9th do	Wm. K. Mitchell.
10th do	Wm. Barnett.
11th do	John R. Moore.
12th do	Richard Morley.

BOARD OF MANAGERS—Blue Ribbon.

First Ward—H. H. Lauderman, J. M. Turner, Jas. Grieves, Dr. Monmonier, C. Bergesheimer, John A. Robb.

Second Ward—John E. Stansbury, B. W. Herring, Wm. Rochester, J. A. V. Crosey, J. T. Laws, William Wickersham.

Third Ward—Andrew J. Bandel, Richard Lilley, Col. Jacob Deems, Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott, Wm. B. Boyd.

Fourth Ward—Thomas Wildey, Marcus Wolf, Jacob D. Hair, James Murray, Abraham Blackaney, Wm. Hubbard.

Fifth Ward—Dr. M. Diffenderffer, Joshua Vansant, Herman Perry, Capt. John Patrick, John F. Hoss, W. H. Gobright.

Sixth Ward—Dr. R. A. Durkee, Thos. C. Dunlevy, J. Kennedy, H. W. Bool, Jr. John H. Hewitt, Richard Bradshaw.

Seventh Ward—Simeon Hays, James Ackland, Sam. Hyde, S. Teackle Wallis, Wm. Gay, Jas. M. Page.

Eighth Ward—Samuel Lucas, J. Able, Sam. Stump, Wm. C. Clayton, Charles W. Spicer, Wm. T. Rice.

Ninth Ward—Wm. R. Frazier, Jacob Walter, R. C. Murry, Wm. Chase, J. D. Webster, James McPhail.

Tenth Ward—Dr. Wm. Power, Henry Russell, Jas. Lawson, Lewis Klockgether, Andrew Martin, Peter Kroft.

Eleventh Ward—Charles Sonn, John Reily, D. A. Piper, H. Haney, George Holt, Horace Miller.

Twelfth Ward—John Godman, Geo. Deal, Sam'l Thompson, Joseph Krauger, Wm. Richardson, T. J. Ahern.

MASTERS OF CEREMONIES—Blue Scarf.

D. A. Piper	Richard Bradshaw,
John A. Robb	James Ackland
William Rochester	Wm. T. Rice
Andrew J. Bandel	J. D. Webster
Abel Blakely	Dr. Wm. Power
Herman Perry	George Deal.

BALLET MASTER—C. L. SPIES—White Scarf.

COMMITTEE ON DECORATIONS—Blue Ribbon.

Thomas Wildey	William Barnett
Simeon Hays	James M. Page.
Capt. J. Patrick

ON MUSIC—Green Rosette.

John H. Hewitt,	Jacob Walter,
Joseph S. Donovan.

ON REFRESHMENTS—White Rosette.

D. W. Hudson,	John Riley,
William H. Cole, Jr.

ON PRINTING—Black Rosette.

A. I. W. Jackson,	Wm. C. Clayton,
Andrew Martin.

ON POLICE—Purple Rosette.

Capt. A. I. W. Jackson	John M. Harman
J. M. Turner	Wm. C. Clayton
Wm. Wickersham	Wm. Chase
Wm. B. Boyd	Lewis Klockgether
John F. Hoss	Charles Sonn
Dr. R. A. Durkee	Wm. Richardson.

COMMITTEE OF RECEPTION—Orange Rosette.

Capt. R. Lilley	Andrew Martin
James Grieves	Dr. Monmonier
Henry Russell	T. J. Ahern
H. R. Lauderman	Samuel Lucas
C. Bergesheimer	William Gray
J. E. Stansbury	J. Abell
J. W. Crosey	Samuel Stump
J. T. Laws	Wm. H. Frazier
Col. Jacob Deems	R. C. Murray
Capt. Thos. Lane	James McPhail
J. H. Marriott	James Lawson
Marcus Wolfe	James Harwood, jr.
Jacob D. Hare	Samuel Thompson
James Murray	Joseph Krauger, jr.
Wilham Hubbard	Thomas C. Dunlevy
Dr. M. Diffenderffer	J. Kennedy
S. Teackle Wallis	Samuel Hyde
H. W. Bool, Jr.	Wm. H. Gobright.
John Godman

☞ The Board of Managers will furnish themselves with the Regalia above mentioned.

☞ The Board of Managers will call on Mr. VANSANT, at the Post Office, and receive their Tickets.

By order, S. C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
A. J. BANDEL, Sec'y. ja6

SIXTH ANNUAL BALL.

☞ The INDEPENDENT BLUES' SIXTH ANNUAL BALL will take place at the Baltimore Assembly Rooms on TUESDAY EVENING, 19th of January, 1841. Tickets can be had of either of the following

MANAGERS:

Major H. S. Sanderson,	Capt. John Bridener,
Capt. Richard Lilly,	Capt. Thomas A. Lane,
Lieut. Geo. R. Sanderson,	Jacob Deems, jr.
Lieut. Joseph Y. Ford,	F. Lucheisi.
Lieut. Jacob Cook,	Theodore Pipple,
Serg't W. H. Robinson,	William T. Rice,
Serg't Thos. Sheppard, jr.	Geo. L. Stewart,
Francis Delestre,	William Towson,
Edward H. Rogers,	Mahlon Webster,
Samuel D. Johnston,	Isaac D. Cloud,
George W. Webb,	William H. Shipley,
George W. Wilhelm,	Andrew E. Warner, jr.
Thomas E. Hall,	Charles Z. Lucas.
William Holland,

N. B. In the invervals between the Dancing, the Company's BAND will perform several new Promenade Marches and favorite Airs. ja1-8t

CENTRAL HALL
DANCING & WALTZING ACADEMY.

CHARLES L. SPIES, thankful for past favors, has the honor to inform his friends and the public that his SECOND QUARTER will commence on TUESDAY, 12th inst. at the above Hall, corner of Baltimore and Charles streets.

☞ Days of Tuition, for Young Ladies, Misses, and Masters, on Tuesday and Saturday Afternoons, from 2 till 5 o'clock—and on Tuesday and Friday Evenings, from half past 6 till 10 o'clock, for Gentlemen.

Practising Balls on Thursday evenings, and Cotillion Parties on Saturday Evenings.

☞ Terms—$10 per quarter. [a] ja5-eo2w

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 50 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d19-y Corner Charles and Pratt sts., Baltimore.

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by
SETH S. HANCE,
d19-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d19-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

WESTERN BANK & CITIZEN'S BANK STOCK—For sale, payable in Franklin Bank Paper. Apply to ja7-6t S. HARRIS & SON.

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of
HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,
For the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front, and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Cheston & Son,	Baltimore.
John Bracknell, esq.	do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq.	do.
James Hepburn, esq.	do.
Christian Baldeman, esq.	Columbia.
Jacob M. Baldeman, esq.	Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq.	Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mec. Bank,	Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq. Cash. Girard	do.
William S. Smith, esq.	Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq.	Boston.

Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-d2w(c)w

VALLIER'S FRENCH PILLS, FOR THE CURE OF SECRET DISEASES. One box of these inestimable Pills is worth all the Quack Medicines in the world.

COMMENT. If we examine the nature of the above diseases, and the situation of the parts affected, we must consider it a very important object to be able to obtain a remedy at once certain in its action, and at the same time composed of such ingredients as will prevent the possibility of discovery while using it. It is a fact well known to many, that most of the remedies offered for these diseases are composed of such nauseous drugs, as to render it almost impossible to continue their use without creating a sickness at the stomach or other unpleasant consequences. Such being the case there can be no doubt but such a remedy as Vallier's French Pills, will meet the universal approbation, being entirely free from those objections; pleasant in their operation, and prompt in removing the disease. The proprietor would here remark, that the efficacy of these Pills in the disorders alluded to, are not based upon supposition; on the contrary, it is founded upon rational experience, having used them in a successful practice for upwards of two years, he feels confident of their superiority over the remedies hitherto employed.

☞ Price one dollar per box. For sale in Baltimore by SETH S. HANCE, ja11-y Corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

LADIES' COMPANION, April No. for January, 1841, received by
WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. MOORE'S, No. 74 Market street—and at No. 98 N. Gay-street, near Fayette-st.

☞ Terms $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly.

Opinion of the New York Press:

We have been favored with a copy of a steel engraving of the Light House near Caldwell's Landing, intended to illustrate the January number of the Ladies' Companion, published by Mr. Snowden, 100 Fulton-st. It is indeed a fine specimen of the art, and reflects no ordinary credit upon the enterprise of the conductor of that Magazine. The number will contain articles from the following writers:

Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, Mrs. E. F. Ellet, Mrs. Annan, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances L. Osgood, Mrs. E. B. Seixas, Mrs. Caroline Orne; Professors Longfellow & Ingraham; Mr. H. Herbert, Francis W. Thoman, Greenville Mellen; Rev. J. B. Clinch; Mr. Rufus Dawes, Wm. Gilmore Sims, Epes Sargent, Park Benjamin, George P. Morris, Robert Hamilton, C. F. Daniels, H. T. Tuckerman, Henry B. Hunt, (of Philadelphia,) Wm. G. Howard, (of Ohio); Mrs. E. C. Embury; Mrs. Botland, (of London,) and many others. Also, an original piece of Music, composed by J. G. Mader, expressly for the occasion ja5

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY.
(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland.)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Doric Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufac

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 9, 1841.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES. In the House, Mr. Prentiss presented the memorial of the president, directors and company of the Farmers and Planters' Bank of Baltimore, praying that the capital stock of said bank may be limited to the amount now subscribed, and be released from the bonus on the amount which has not been subscribed: referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Lecompte obtained leave to bring in a bill for the better promotion of the purity of elections.

On motion of Mr. Nesbit

Leave was granted the Committee of Ways and Means to prepare and report a bill to recharter the Hagerstown Bank with an increase of its capital.

Mr. Nesbit reported a bill to reduce and establish a uniform system of charges by Notaries Public on all protested notes, drafts, and bills of exchange.

The House then resumed the discussion of the resolution in favor of limiting Presidential service to one term. The debate was participated in by Messrs. Legrand, Lynch and Gallagher.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES, }
January 5, 1841. }

A BILL, entitled, an act to abolish the law of imprisonment for debt, in the State of Maryland.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That from and after the first day of May next, following the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful to imprison, or to hold to bail, any resident of this State, for, on account of any debt or debts, or money claimed on contract or otherwise, except only in cases of fraud or intention to avoid the payment of debt by a removal out of the State, as hereinafter mentioned.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That no resident of the State of Maryland shall be held to bail on a capias ad respondendum or warrant, if he shall make oath before some justice of the peace, or other person authorized by the laws of Maryland to administer an oath "that it is not his, her or their intention to remove from the State of Maryland," unless the plaintiff, or plaintiffs, or some person in his, her, or their behalf, in case of said plaintiffs' absence from the county in which the capias or warrant may be issued, shall make oath "that he, or she has good reason for believing, and does solemnly and sincerely believe, that the defendant or defendants, intend or intends, and is, or are about to remove from this State," or unless an affidavit be made by or on the part of the plaintiff or plaintiffs, and filed with the sheriff or justice, as the case may be, stating that such defendant or defendants is, or are in possession of, or entitled to some property, money, effects, right or claim, which, or the value thereof, ought justly to be applied to the payment of a debt (or satisfaction of damages) as the case may be, to which the plaintiff is entitled; and upon the said affidavit being so filed as aforesaid, the sheriff, or proper officer, shall in such case hold the defendant to bail for the amount for which the capias or warrant, as the case, may be, may be issued.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That in all cases where a capias or warrant shall be returned on oath personally served in the particular case, and the defendant shall fail to appear, the county court, or equity court, if the writ be returnable there, shall order an appearance to be entered for the defendant, and the case shall go on to trial, as if the defendant or defendants had appeared at the return of said writ; and if the writ or warrant be returnable to a justice of the peace or district court, the justice or district court shall proceed to try the case exparte.

Sec. 4. And be it enacted, That any person or persons who may be imprisoned or in custody for debt at the time when this act shall take effect, or who may be arrested or held to bail under any of the provisions of this act for any sum whatever, may apply to a judge of the county court of the county in which such person shall be so imprisoned or held in custody, or if no such judge shall be in the county, then to any justice of the orphans court of such county for habeas corpus, and the judge, chancellor, or justice, granting the same, may discharge the party if upon hearing it appear that the said party does not intend to remove from the State, and has not been guilty of fraud in reference to said debt; and any person arrested or held to bail as aforesaid, for debt within the jurisdiction of the magistrate's courts may apply to any justice of the magistrate's court in the district in which he has last resided in the county, or in the district in which he is confined for a writ or order in the nature of a habeas corpus, directed to the sheriff or to a constable to bring the said person before the said justice, and the said justice may discharge the party if upon hearing it appear that the said party does not intend to remove from the State, and has not been guilty of fraud in reference to said debt, and the persons conducting the hearing or inquiry provided for by this section, shall hereby have authority to summon and compel the attendance of witnesses, and shall observe the course of proceeding, and have and exercise the powers and duties which are prescribed in the act entitled an "act relating to bail in civil actions," passed at December session eighteen hundred and twenty-six, chapter two hundred and twenty one, so far as the same be not inconsistent with anything contained in this act.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That no capias ad satisfaciendum, or warrant in the nature thereof, shall issue on any judgment or decree, unless the plaintiffs or some person in the plaintiff's behalf, in case of the plaintiff's absence from the county, shall make affidavit that he or she has good reason for believing, and does sincerely believe, that the defendant or defendants, intends, or intend and is or are about to remove from the State, and that the defendant, or defendants, has or have committed fraud in contracting the debt, or has or have fraudulently conveyed or concealed his or their property for the purpose of preventing its being taken in execution; and upon the filing of the affidavits aforesaid, a capias ad satisfaciendum or warrant in the nature thereof may issue.

Sec. 6. And be it enacted, That in all actions, which shall be instituted after this act shall take effect, for the recovery of damages for slander, libel, assault and battery, breach of promise of marriage, in which the plaintiff is a female, seducing plaintiff's wife or daughter, trespass in forcibly entering a house, and taking away or injuring property, or for moneys collected by any public officer, or for any misconduct in office, if the plaintiff, or any credible persons on his or their behalf, shall file an affidavit on oath or affirmation, stating the cause of action and the amount of damages believed to be sustained, such amount shall be endorsed on the writ, and the defendant or defendants shall not be discharged from arrest or imprisonment without giving bail for that amount, unless upon application to a judge or justice, as provided in the fourth section of this act such judge or justice shall decide that the amount be reduced.

Sec. 7. And be it enacted, That nothing hereincontained shall prevent any person from applying for and obtaining the benefit of the insolvent laws of this state as heretofore; and in any application for the benefit of the insolvent laws, it shall not be necessary for said applicant to state in his or her petition, that the said applicant is imprisoned: and if the judge or justice, or proper authority, to whom the said application may be made, shall be of opinion that the applicant does not intend to remove out of the state, the said judge, justice, or proper authority, may grant to said applicant the benefit of the insolvent laws without requiring a bond for his personal appearance; and upon the debtor's petition therefor being duly filed, he shall thereby be divested of all his estate, property, effects, claims and rights of action (except such as the insolvent laws reserve to him) for the benefit of his creditors generally, as fully and effectually as if he had actually executed a good and sufficient deed or assignment to a trustee.

Sec. 8. And be it enacted, That if during the pending of any suit in which the defendant has given bail, an affidavit as prescribed in the fifth section of this act, shall be filed, the plaintiff shall thereupon be at liberty to issue a new writ, and have the defendant arrested and held to bail as aforesaid; and upon the filing of an affidavit as prescribed in the section of this act pending any application for the benefit of the insolvent laws, any creditor may have the applicant arrested, in the same manner as a plaintiff may cause a defendant to be arrested under the provisions of the second section of this act.

Sec. 9. And be it enacted, That any person or party causing another to be committed to jail as a debtor, or under the provisions of this act, shall be liable in the first instance for the jail fees, and shall pay to the jailor for keeping such debtor in custody, such fees weekly in advance, and at the rate of forty-four cents per day to be expended for the board and comfort of such imprisoned debtor, until it shall have been finally adjudged that such debtor be not entitled to the benefit of this act.

Sec. 10. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect on the first day of May next; and in the meantime the Governor of this state shall cause a printed copy of it, in pamphlet form, to be transmitted to every person entitled to a copy of the act of Assembly.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

The ship Garrick, which was announced as having got on shore at the Woodlands, below New York, brought news four days later from Europe. The third mate of the Garrick reached New York by land on Friday afternoon. The whole number of persons on board was 62. Her cargo is valued at $400,000. The items of foreign intelligence yet obtained are of course incomplete, owing to the difficulty of landing. London papers to Dec. 12 have been received. Nothing of great importance is contained in them.

The state of the money and cotton markets will be found below. In the former there was some depression, owing to the continued agitation of the war question in France. The sales of cotton were animated, and the prices a shade better. The queen and princess were doing well.

The London Times of the 12th says that the French war expenses of 1840 cannot amount to less than £11,000,000 sterling.

The remains of Napoleon had not reached Paris at last advices, but were at Rouen. It was found that the floating chapel would have to be dispensed with on the Seine on account of its bulk.

Immense excitement was felt in Paris; and among the populace a renewal of the war feeling against England.

BANK OF ENGLAND. The liabilities of this institution, on the 8th Dec'r, were £22,783,000. The assets £25,589,000.

LONDON, Dec. 11. The Tea market is very flat. Company's Congous 2s. 1d., money.

The holydays in the markets commence 24th Dec. and 4th Jan.

LONDON, 12th, evening. The British funds still continue to decline. Consols, 89 1-8, with little doing.

Little news of any kind from Spain. Dates are to the 3d Dec.

The Spanish Cabinet was daily losing ground in public favor, and Espartero was so much afraid of his troops that he changed the Madrid garrison once a month.

FRANCE. Paris, Dec. 10.—The French journals contain no interesting news save details of the removal of the remains of Napoleon.

It is affirmed that the Ministry has received detailed accounts of the circumstances which induced the Pacha of Egypt to make his submission.

If we may give credit to some letters from the Levant, it would seem that Ibrahim Pacha is inclined not to obey the orders to retreat sent to him from Alexandria. But this information is dated at a time when he could not foresee the submission of Mehemet Ali; yet it cannot be denied that the events which have just passed, in consequence of the intervention of the European powers, may create serious discontent among the old Mussulmen. Ibrahim, by placing himself at the head of the discontented, might cause unexpected embarrassment, for the English power can do nothing beyond the coast, and the Turks behold with grief what is passing. A letter from Constantinople of the 7th November, says that the population of that city, and of all Turkey, are in a state of fermentation, and look with displeasure on the events of Syria. It is even said that four regiments have mutinied in Asia Minor, one of them cantoned at Kutagh, assassinated all its officers on receiving orders to march.

London Money Market, Dec. 12. The British Funds are rather lower this morning. Consols, which left off yesterday 89¼ 3-8 for the opening, may be quoted at present 89 1-8 to 1-4 for the account, with little doing to the present time, the speculators being afraid to act while the foreign loans are on the tapis; this causes a dampness in the market. Reduced 80 ¼ ¼; Exchequer Bills 1-3 prem., Bank Stock, 156½ 157½; India Stock for the opening, 237 239.

The foreign exchanges yesterday afternoon were lower and heavy.

The British funds still continue to decline.—Consols are a shade lower than in the early part of the morning, and may be quoted at 89⅜89⅝ for the opening, with little doing to the present time. Reduced 89⅛; Exchequer bills 15 prem; Bank Stock 157½; for the account 158½.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET, Dec. 12. We have experienced a regular and steady demand throughout the week, and the sales, which embrace the transactions of 7 days (including those of Friday last) are large; prices have been fully supported, and for qualities of American ranging at fair, under almost 7-8d advance may be quoted. Egyptian had been offered more fully at rather easier rates, but in other long stapled sorts no change, nor in Surat; the latter are now attracting the attention of speculators, who have taken 1000 bales, and 2000 bales of American. The sales to-day were 5000 bales of all kinds, of which abou 1500 bales Surat, the market closing with a healthy appearance. 350 bales Sea Island are declared for auction.

JOB PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE,

PRACTICAL JOB PRINTERS, beg leave to inform their friends and the public, that they are prepared for the execution of every description of PRINTING, on the most extensive scale. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. embrace every variety necessary for the most finished execution of all work that may be entrusted to them.

They will print, to order:

BUSINESS CARDS	HANDBILLS
BALL TICKETS	WAYBILLS
CIRCULARS	STEAMBOAT BILLS
CHECKS	RAIL ROAD BILLS
NOTES	STAGE BILLS
BILL HEADS	SHOW BILLS
CATALOGUES	PAMPHLETS
BILLS OF LADING	LABELS
LOTTERY BILLS	HATTERS' TIPS,

Together with FANCY JOBS, in Colors, for framing,

LARGE POSTING BILLS.

For Theatres, Circuses, &c. &c., printed to order, at the shortest notice, in the most showy style.

B. & T. have also in operation, in their Office, the "Belper Double-action Printing Machine," recently imported from England expressly for their use, by the aid of which they will be enabled to execute PRINTING at much lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch, than heretofore.

☞ In returning thanks to their friends for the favors of the past year, they assure them their usual personal attention will be paid to the prompt and correct execution of all orders in their business, at very reduced prices.

☞ Call at the CLIPPER OFFICE, No. 7 North Gay street. ja3-d

CITY INTELLIGENCE,

REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE,
N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Porters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to EMPLOY any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., B. W. BOOT, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N. B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. ja7

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscriber respectfully announces that he has established his Office at No. 3 NORTH-ST. next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those Ladies and Gentlemen who may be desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION.

E. TYLOR can confidently state that his extensive practical experience, enables him to give individuals a faithful delineation of their mental capacity, peculiar talents and disposition, as well as point out what pursuit in life they are best qualified by nature to perform. A good assortment of Phrenological Books, Almanacs, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale cheap, by

E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist.

N. B. Chart and Examination, only 50 cts. ja9

B. G. HUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. s15-co6m

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slatt-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-dtf A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

3 The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having defied the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO. No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-streets., on the corner of Ulster's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 2 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Drug Store, Washington City; E. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.

Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. oct1-tf

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 Bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by

d19 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

BOARDING may be obtained by two or three genteel young men, or a gentleman and his lady, in a respectable private boarding house, near the Exchange—terms moderate. Apply at the Intelligence Office, N. W. corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. d30 [a]

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing FEVER, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞ Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains as aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by

jy28-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and this market, a splendid assortment of Rich SILK GOODS, consisting as follows—

1 case 4-4 Rich Glace Faconne, all colors
1 " do. Black and Blue Black Gro de Affrique
1 " do. Satin Striped and Figured Belencia
1 " do. Satin Stripe and Rept, all shades
1 " do. 4-4 Black and Blue Black Gro de Rhine
1 " Plain Gro de Swiss, all colors.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

Just opened—Extra super 9-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
" Very splendid Satin Glace Shawls, large
" 8-4 Cabeech SHAWLS
" 9-4 Broche do.
" 8-4 Thibet Wool do.

MOUSELIN DE LAINES.

One case Black Ground Mouselin de Laine, heavy
Colored Figured do. very superior quality
Half mourning Mouselin de Laine
Handsome assortment Plain and Figured do.
One case superior French MERINOS, all colors.

With a general assortment of New Style Fall Goods, to which they very respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER,
n13 43 Market-st., 4 doors above Gay.

C. H. EISENBRANT,

IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,

Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosenkrantz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophicydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. sp18-1y

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞ Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞ The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST,

o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st.

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival For sale by

JAS. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

And in Washington City, by
CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.

☞ With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Emporium, No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HAND-BILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in the city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
de28-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

INDIA RUBBER SHOES—
Men's plain RUBBERS, Women's plain do
Misses do do do fig'd do
A few cases of each. Just received per barque Ida, and for sale by

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 South Charles street.

FOR RENT. A neat two story Brick HOUSE in Canal street, 4th door south of Monument st., in first rate order, handsomely papered, the ceiling with a glazed paper—the rent will be $8 per month. Also, a HOUSE in Wilk-st., old town. Inquire of M. A. DYSART, 31 E. Baltimore st.
ja8-tf&ws Third door from Exeter street.

13 Cases Kip and Thick BROGANS, some extra sizes, just received per barque Ida, and for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 S. Charles-st.

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE,
2d January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one of Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled 'The Playmates;' a plate of fashions, with three female figures beautifully colored; two pages of Music, and Angling illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER:

The Young Rambler, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Soldier's the Lad for Me, by A. McMasin.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Durang.
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Reefer of '76, by the author of 'Cruising in the Last War.'
Sabbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. Clark.
Thine—Only Thine. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. Feling.
Music. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by S. Nelson.

EMBELLISHMENTS:

'The 'Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞ Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city, and sent by mail to all parts of the United States and the Canadas, by the publisher.

Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Book-tore, 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
ja2 Baltimore, Md.

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty, 16 superb plates—price		$3.50
Keepsake,	15 do	3.50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals, 15 plates,		3.00
Forget-Me-Not, 11 plates		2.00
Friendship's Offering, 10 plates,		2.00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
d31 And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS. AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by

SAM'L CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

Washington City, by
W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.

In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.
oc9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE, No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS,)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10 cases	do	do	Cap PAPER
15 do	Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter PAPER
5 do	do	do	do	Cap	do
4 do	do	do	do	Folio post	do
20 do	Hudson's	do	do	Letter	do
15 do	do	do	do	Cap	do
10 do	do	do	do	Flat Cap	do
8 do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super-royal WRITING PAPER
12 do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter				do
6 do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2 do	do	Super Flat Cap
12 do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5 do	Hickey and Leyste's		do		do
10 do	Platner & Smith's		do		do
4 do	do	Folio and Packet Post
15 do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2 do	do	do	Ledger PAPERS
20 do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter

2000 reams NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2500 do Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300 do Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞ Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Band Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP WOOLLEN CARPETING,

AT 76 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Five and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,

BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.

Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for lutes.

☞ All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT H. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
se10-6m No. 12 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $2000. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to GEORGE GELBACH,
Real Estate and General Agency Office, d21 [a] five, corner Balt. & Frederick sts.

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rochester White Wheat FLOUR
50 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs. Zante CURRANTS.

Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by f13 tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

SUPERIOR CHEWING TOBACCO, and Regalia, Havana, and Principe CIGARS—for sale by ap30 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

MAGISTRATES' BLANKS. On hand and for sale by BULL & TUTTLE, Printers, No. 7 N. Gay street, (Clipper Office.)

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞Country Subscribers can receive the paper, by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square 1 time,	$0 50	1 square 1 month,	$4 00
1 do. 2 times,	75	1 do. 2 months,	7 00
1 do. 3 do.	1 00	1 do. 3 do.	10 00
1 do. 1 week,	1 75	1 do. 6 do.	16 00
1 do. 2 weeks,	2 75	1 do. 1 year,	30 00

☞Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.

VOL. III. NO. 103.] WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 13, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

For the Baltimore Clipper.

WOMAN'S LOVE.

Oh is there in this world of sorrow,
Where hopes are blighted, joys decay,
One charm that lasts beyond the morrow,
To bid our longing spirits stay?

Oh is there, when by grief and sadness,
Our aching hearts are oft oppress,
One friendly star of joyful gladness,
That shines more brightly than the rest?

Ah! yes, there is one charm that bindeth
Our youthful hearts 'round virtue's shrine;
There is one star that brightly shineth,
When other orbs have ceased to shine.

There is one ray of light to guide us,
While through this darksome wild we rove;
Whatever may on earth betide us,
'Tis woman's never-dying love.

Georgetown, D. C., January, 1841. J. W. L.

THE CLOCK MAKER;

OR, SAMUEL SLICK KUM AGIN.

Nunquam aliud natura, aliud sapientia docet.—Juv.

Folks say that natur is one thing and wisdom another, but it's plaguy odd they look so much alike, and speak the same identical language, ain't it?—S. S.

TAMING A SHREW.

The road from Amherst to Parsboro' is tedious and uninteresting. In places it made so straight that you can see several miles of it before you, which produces an appearance of interminable length, while the stunted growth of the spruce and birch trees bespeaks a cold thin soil, and invests the scene with a melancholy and sterile aspect. Here and there occurs a little valley with its meandering stream, and verdant and fertile intervale, which, though possessing nothing particular to distinguish it from many others of the same kind, strikes the traveller as superior to them all, from the contrast to the surrounding country. One of these secluded spots attracted my attention, from the number and neatness of the buildings, which its proprietor, a tanner and currier, had erected for the purposes of his trade. Mr. Slick said he knew him and he guessed it was a pity he couldn't keep his wife in as good order as he did his factory. They don't hitch their horses together well at all. He is properly hen-pecked, said he: he is afeerd to call his soul his own, and he leads the life of a dog; you never seed the beat of it, I vow. Did you ever see a rooster hatch a brood of chickens? No, said I, that I cannot recollect. Well then, I have, said he, and if he don't look like a fool all the time he is a sittin on the eggs, it's a pity; no soul could help larfin to see him. Our old nigger, January Snow, had a spite agin one of father's roosters, seein that he was a coward, and wouldn't fight. He used to call him Dearborne, arter our general that behaved so ugly to Canada; and, says he one day, I guess you are no better than a hen, you everlastin old chicken-hearted villain, and I'll make you a larfin stock to all the poultry. I'll put a trick on you you'll bear in mind all your born days. So he catches old Dearborne, and pulls all the feathers off his breast, and strips him as naked as when he was born, from his throat clean down to his tail, and then takes a bundle of nettles and gives him a proper switchin that stung him, and make him smart like mad; then he warms some eggs and puts them in a nest, and sets the old cock right a top of 'em. Well, the warmth of the eggs felt good to the poor critter's naked belly, and kinder kept the stchin of the nettles down, and he was glad to hide where he was, and whenever he was tired and got off, his skin felt so cold, he'd run right back and squat down agin, and when his feathers began to grow, and he got obstropolous, he got another ticklin with the nettles, that made him return double quick to his location. In a little time he larnt the trade real complete.

Now, this John Porter, (and there he is on the bridge I vow, I never seed the beat o' that, speak of old Saytin and he's sure to appear;) well, he's jist like old Dearbone, only fit to hatch eggs.—When we came to the bridge, Mr. Slick stopped his horse, to shake hands with Porter, whom he recognized as an old acquaintance and customer. He enquired after a bark mill he had smuggled from the States for him, and enlarged on the value of such a machine, and the cleverness of his countrymen who invented such useful and profitable articles, and was recommending a process of tanning, when a female voice from the house was heard vociferating, 'John Porter, come here this minute.' Coming my dear, said the husband.—'Come here, I say, directly, why do you stand talking to that yankee villain there.' The poor husband hung his head, looked silly, and bidding us good bye, returned slowly to the house. As we drove on, Mr. Slick said, that was me—I did that. Did what? said I. That was me that sent him back. I called him and not his wife. I had that are bestowment ever since I was knee high or so; I'm a real hand at Ventriloquism; I can take off any man's voice I ever heard to the very nines. If there was a law agin forgin that as there is for handwritin, I guess I should have been hanged long ago. I've had high goes with it many a time, but its plaguy dangerous, and I dont practise it now but seldom. I had a real bout with that are citizen's wife once, and completely broke her in for him; she went as gentle as a circus horse for a space, but he let her have her head agin, and she's as bad as ever now. I'll tell you how it was. I was down to the Island a sellin clocks, and who should I meet but John Porter; well, I traded with him for one, part cash, part truck and produce, and also put off on him that are bark mill you heerd me axin about, and it was pretty considerable on in the evening afore we finished our trade. I came home along with him, and had the clock in the waggon to fix it up for him, and to shew him how to regilate it. Well, as we neared his house, he began to fret and take on dreadful uneasy; says he, I hope Jane wont be shed, cause if she is she'll act ugly, I do suppose. I had heerd tell of her afore; how she used to carry a stiff upper lip, and make him and the broomstick well acquainted together; and says I, why do you put up with her tantrums, I'd make a fair division of the house with her, if it was me. I'd take the inside and allocate her the outside of it pretty quick, that's a fact. Well, when we came to the house, there was no light in it, and the poor critter looked so streaked and down in the mouth, I felt proper sorry for him. When he rapped at the door, she called out who's there? Its me, dear, says Porter. You, is it, said she, then you may stay where you be, them as gave you your supper, may give you your bed, instead of sending you sneakin home at night like a thief. Said I, in a whisper, says I, leave her to me, John Porter—jist take the horses to the barn, and see after them, and I'll manage her for you, I'll make her as sweet as sugary candy, never fear. The barn you see is a good piece off to the eastward of the house; and, as soon as he was cleverly out of hearin, says I, a imitation of his voice to the life, do let me in, Jane, says I, that's a dear critter, I've brought you home some things you'll like, I know. Well, she was an awful jealous critter; says she, take 'em to her you spent evenin with, I don't want you nor your presents neither. Arter a good deal of coaxin I stood on tother tack, and began to threathen to break the door down; says I, you old unhanssum looking sinner, you vinegar cruet you, open the door this minit or I'll smash it right in. That grigged her properly, it made her very wrathy, (for nothing sets up a woman's spunk like calling her ugly, she gets her back right up like a cat when a strange dog comes near her; she's all eyes, claws and bristles.)

I heerd her bounce right out of bed, and she came to the door as she was, undressed, and unbolted it; and, as I entered it, she fetched me a box right across my cheek with the flat of her hand, that made it tingle agin. I'll teach you to call names agin, says she, you varmint. It was jist what I wanted; I pushed the door to with my foot, and seizing her by the arm with one hand, I quilted her with the horsewhip real handsom, with the other. At first she roared like mad; I'll give you the ten commandments, says she, (meaning her ten claws,) I'll pay you for this, you cowardly villain, to strike a woman. How dare you lift your hand, John Porter, to your lawful wife, and so on; all the time runnin' round and round, like a colt that's a-breakin' with the mouthin' bit, rarin', kickin', and ploughin' like statice.—Then she began to give in. Says she, I beg pardon, on my knees I beg pardon—don't murder me, for heaven's sake—don't, dear John; don't murder your wife, that's a dear. I'll do as you bid me; I promise to behave well, upon my honor I do—oh! dear John, do forgive me, do, dear. When I had her properly brought too—for havin' nothin' on but a thin under garment, every crack of the whip told like a notch on a baker's tally—says I, take that as a taste of what you'll ketch, when you act that way like old Scratch. Now go and dress yourself, and get supper for me and a stranger I have brought home along with me, and be quick, for I vow I'll be master in my own house. She moaned like a dog hit with a stone, half whine, half yelp; dear, dear, dear, says she, if I ain't all covered over with welts as big as my finger. I do believe I'm flayed alive; and she boo-hoo'd right out like anything. I guess, said I, you've got 'em where folks won't see 'em, any how, and I calculate you won't be over ferrard to show 'em where they be. But come, says I, be a stirrin', or I'll quilt you agin as sure as you're alive, I'll tan your hide for you, you may depend, you old unganly-tempered heifer.

When I went to the barn, says I John Porter, your wife made right at me like one ravin distracted mad, when I opened the door, thinkin it was you; and I was obliged to give her a crack or two of the cowskin to get clear of her. It has effectuated a cure completely; now foller it up, and dont let on for your life, it warn't you that did it, and you'll be master once more in your own house. She's all docility jist now, keep her so. As we returned we saw a light in the keepin room, the fire was blazing up cheerfulsome, and Marm Porter moved about as brisk as a parched pea, though as silent as dumb, and our supper was ready in no time. As soon as she took her seat and set down, she sprung right up on eend, as if she had sot on a pan of hot coals, and colored all over; and then tears started into her eyes. Thinks I to myself, I calculate I wrote that are lesson in large letters any how, I can read that writing without spellin, and no mistake; I guess you've got pretty well warmed thereabouts this hitch. Then she tried it agin, first she sot on one leg and then on tother, quite uneasy, and then right upon both, a fidgettin about dreadfully; like a man that's rode all day on a bad saddle, and lost a little leather on the way. If you had seed how she stared at Porter, it would have made you snicker. She could'nt credit her eyes. He warn't drunk, and he warn't crazy, but there he sot as pecked and as meechin as you please. She seemed all struck up of a heap at his rebellion. The next day when I was about startin, I advised him to act like a man, and keep the weather gage now he had it, and all would be well; but the poor critter only held on a day or two, she soon got the upper hand of him, and made him confess all, and by all accounts he leads a worse life than ever. I put that trick on him jist now to try him, and I see it's gone goose with him; the jig is up with him, she'll soon call him with a whistle like a dog. I often think of the hornpipe she danced there in the dark along with me to the music of my whip—she touched it off in great style, that's a fact. I shall mind that go one while, I promise you. It was actilly equal to a play at Old Bowry. You may depend, Squire, the only way to tame a shrew, is by the cowskin. Grandfather Slick was raised all along the coast of Kent in Old England, and he used to say there was an old saying there, which, I expect is not far off the mark:

A woman, a dog, and a walnut tree,
The more you lick 'em, the better they be.

From the Lady's Companion.

THE WAR-WOMAN'S CREEK.

In Georgia and North Carolina, there is hardly a river, creek, or stream, that has not connected with it some old Indian tradition. The title of the present sketch is taken from one of these—I believe one of the principal tributaries of the Natahalee River, in the Cherokee Nation, North Carolina. The story as told by the few Indians remaining since the removal in the fall of 1838, runs thus:—

Many years ago, in the first settlement of the country, a wandering party of their tribe attacked the house of a squatter somewere upon their borders, during his absence, and massacred all his children, and left his wife covered with the mangled bodies of her butchered offspring scalped like them, and apparently dead. She was not, however, wounded so badly as they had supposed, and no sooner did she hear the sound of their retreating footsteps, than disengaging herself from the head of slain, haggard, pale, and drenched with her own and the blood of her children, she peered stealthily from the door, and finding her enemies no longer in sight, hastily extinguished the fire, which, before leaving, they had applied to her cabin, but which had as yet, made very little impression on the green logs of which it was composed. Wiping from her eyes the warm blood which was still reeking from her scalpless head, she directed her agonized gaze to the bleeding and disfigured forms of those who scarce an hour before were playing at the door, and gladdened her maternal heart with their merry laughter, and as she felt in the full sense of her desolation, the last ray of hope die within her bosom, there stole over her ghastly face an expression as savage as was ever worn by the ruthless slayers of her innocent babes. Her eye gleamed with the wild fury of the tigress robbed of its young, as closing her cabin carefully behind her, with a countenance animated by some desperate purpose, she started off in the same path by which the murderers had departed. Heedless of her wounds and wasting blood, and lost to all sense of hunger and fatigue, in the one absorbing and fell purpose which actuated her, she paused not upon the trail of her foes, until, at night, she came up with them encamped at the side of the creek, which is indebted to her for its present name.

Emerging from the gloom of the surrounding darkness, on her hands and knees she crept noiselessly towards the fire, the blaze of which, as it flickered upwards, discovered to her the prostrate forms of the Indians, five in number, who, overcome by an unusually fatiguing day's travel, were wrapt in deep sleep, with their only weapons, their tomahawks, in their belts. Her own stealthy advancing figure, as the uncertain light of the burning pine fell upon it with more or less distinctness—now exposing its lineaments clotted with blood, and distorted by an expression which her wrongs, and the sight of the desolators of her hearthstone, exaggerated to a degree almost fiendish; and now shading all, save two gleaming, spectral eyes—was even more striking than the swarthy faces which she glared upon. Assuring herself that they were fast asleep, she gently removed their tomahawks, and dropped all but one into the creek. With this remaining weapon in her hand, and cool resolution in her heart, she bent over the nearest enemy, and lifting the instrument, to which her own and her children's blood still adhered, with one terrific and unerring blow, buried it in the temple of its owner. The savage moved no more than partly to turn upon his side, gasped a little, quivered a minute like an aspen, and sunk back to his former position, quite dead. Smiling ghastly in his rigid face the desperate woman left him, and mistakingly as before disposed of the sleepers, but one, to that long rest from which only the last trump can awaken them. The last devoted victim, however, was aroused to a consciousness of his situation by the death-struggles of his companions. He sprang to his feet and felt for his weapon. It was not there, and one glance explaining every thing to him, he evaded the blow aimed at him by the brave and revengeful mother, seized from the fire a burning brand, and with it, succeeded partially in warding off the furious attack which followed. In a little time they fell struggling together, the Indian desperately wounded, and the unfortunate woman faint with loss of blood and her extraordinary exertions. Both were too weak to harm each other now, and the wounded savage only availed himself of his remaining strength to crawl away. In this piteous plight, the poor woman remained until near noon on the following day, when she was accidentally discovered by a straggling party of whites, to whom she told her story, and then died. After burying her on the spot, they made some exertions to overtake the fugitive Indian, but unsuccessfully. He succeeded in reaching his tribe, and from his tale, the little stream, before mentioned, was ever afterwards known among the Cherokees, and also by the palefaces, as the "War-Woman's Creek."

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 11th, 1841.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES. Mr. Gallagher presented the memorial of Wm. K. Mitchell, Archibald Campbell, John F. Hoss and others, praying the Legislature to grant to the Washington Temperance Society of Baltimore an act of incorporation—referred to committee on corporations.

Mr. Graves presented the petition of Mary Poag, of the city of Baltimore, praying for a divorce.

Mr. Nesbitt also presented the petition of sundry citizens of Washington County, praying the abolishment of Magistrates' Courts, and to extend the jurisdiction of single Magistrates.

On motion of Mr. Cassin, leave was granted the committee on Corporations to report a bill to be entitled a supplement to an act to extend the charters of the several banks of the city of Baltimore, passed at December session 1834, ch. 274.

Mr. England offered an order that the Treasurer of the Western Shore be requested to transmit the report or reports of the Commissioner of Loans as required by the act of December Session, 1834, chapter 279, showing the amount of bonds on Stocks issued by him up to the first January, 1841.

The bill for the better regulation of the Harbour and port of Baltimore was taken up for consideration, and on motion of Mr. Coad, was referred to committee on ways and means.

The House then proceeded to the order of the day, being the bill reported by Mr. Gantt, entitled "an act to authorise the Banks of the State of Maryland to receive and pay out the orders drawn by the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Company, on the Stock of the City of Baltimore.

This bill was postponed until Thursday next, 14th inst. and made the order for that day.

SENATE. The President being absent from the seat of Government, Mr. Potts was appointed President pro tempore.

A bill authorising the close of judgments in the several County Courts, was passed.

Leave was granted and a bill was reported to enlarge the powers of the Courts of Equity.

Leave was granted to report a bill to regulate the time and manner of taking bills of exceptions in the Courts of this State.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE,
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE.

TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Bay Line—the Companies on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedule:

Leave Philadelphia	8 A.M.	reach Baltimore	2 P.M.
" Baltimore	4 P.M.	" Washington	6 P.M.
" Washington	5 A.M.	" Fredk'sburg	12 M.
" Fred'sburg	12 M.	" Richmond	5 P.M.
" Richmond	5 P.M.	" Petersburg	7 P.M.
" Petersburg	7 P.M.	" Weldon	1 A.M.
" Weldon	1 A.M.	" Wilmington	1 P.M.
" Wilmington	1 P.M.	" Charleston	at 5 the next day.

As this Line carries the Great Mail, (which cannot be delayed,) and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is sure of a connection through, whilst it is evident that Foul Roun Weather!! and Storms!!! must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT ISLAND ROUTE.

☞The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon: and travellers have no expense or trouble with their Baggage.

☞This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞This is the only Daily Line to Richmond and Petersburg.

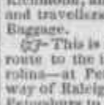
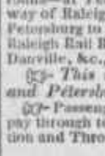
☞Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of
STOCKTON, FALLS & CO.
Adjoining the Philadelphia Rail Road Office,
d13-tf PRATT STREET, Baltimore.

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.



The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $3.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $5. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate



HATS!
HATS!!
HATS!!!
HATS!!!!
HATS!!!!!

Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at
W. H. KEEVIL & CO'S,
No. 66½ Baltimore st., opposite Tripolett's alley,
And 4 doors W. of Bool's well known Auction Store.
d16-tjan16

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.
THE LADY'S BOOK, for JANUARY, 1841.—Edited by Mrs. SARAH J. HALE, and Mrs. LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY. The only Work, intended for Ladies, that is edited by their own Sex. Miss E. LESLIE contributes to every Number.

CONTENTS—Original. The Festa di Pie di Grotta; Mr. and Mrs. Woodbridge, by Miss Leslie; Anacreontic Ballad, by Mr. C. B. Wilson, of London, England; Prayers at Sea, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney; False Pride, a Tale of Every Day Life, by Mrs. Mary W. Hale; The Fairy's Proffer, by Mrs. Annan, (late Miss A. M. F. Buchanan); An Incident during a Siege, by Mrs. Mary H. Parsons; Antonio Salvini, a Tale, by Mrs. E. F. Ellet; Childhood's Laugh, by Mrs. Seba Smith; A Life of Fashion, by Mrs. Emma C. Embury; Man's First Offering, by Mrs. S. J. Hale; The Parlor Serpent, by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz; To Wordsworth, written at Rydal Mount, by Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney; Ernestine, by Esther Wetherwald; Our Life is as a Shadow, by Miss Lois Bryan. MUSIC—The Stranger's Heart—words by Mrs. Hemans—music by Miss Augusta Browne; A singular Fact, by Mrs. M. M. Webster; The two Trees, by Caroline T. Orne; New Year's Eve; or, Amusements at Home, by Mrs. S. J. Hale. Editor's Table.

EMBELLISHMENTS. Neapolitan Peasants—the finest Plate of the season—engraved by A. L. Dick; Fashions, Colored—Female figure, with fashionable head dress and apron; Boy's Dress; Girl's out-door Dress; Girl's in-door Dress.

☞Baltimore Publisher—WM. N. HARRISON, No. 32 N. Gay-st., and 74 Market-st. at J. MOORE'S Bookstore, one door below Holliday street.

TERMS—$3 per year, or 25 cents each number. Register your names to-day, being a fine Christmas Gift.
d24

A NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.
THE LADY'S BOOK, Bound, Volume XXII, Price $3.00.
LIST OF ENGRAVINGS:
1. Fairmount Water Works, Philadelphia.
2. The Pilgrims.
3. The Indian Maid.
4. Happy as a King.
5. Death of Lunth.
6. Constantinople.
And six colored PRINTS of the latest Fashions.
N. B. The January number for 1841 is just received. Price 25 cents—or $3 per year. For sale at
W. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Office,
No. 28 N. Gay street—and at
JOHN MOORE'S Bookstore,
d29 No. 74 Market-st. 1 door below Holliday.

JOB PRINTING.
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

THE proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Ensmelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for Drawing, &c.

☞Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Warranted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by Dr. HITZELBERGER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $5!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

Dr. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of 10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $5. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. ex3-ylm*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.
DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND,
For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabets or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the urethra of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, composed solely of vegetable substance! One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N.B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of T. J. FITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Bitton and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue.
And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL.
dec5-y

A BLESSING TO ALL MANKIND.

The VEGETABLE FLUID SYRUP, or Mercurial Extractor. This infallible Srup is the discovery of an old veteran and hero of the vegetable kingdom; from his long research, his labors have been crowned with the glorious result of a positive remedy for the bad effects of that poisonous drug (Mercury,) and while it has this new efficacious effect upon the bones affected with mercury, it at the same time purifies the blood from the remnants of Venereal Diseases, Scrofulous Affections, Epidotches and Eruptions upon the Skin, old standing indolent Ulcers, &c.

For sale, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO., No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-sts., on the corner of Uhler's alley; and at the General Agency Office, No. 3 Pitt street, Baltimore. Also, at WM. LANPRIER'S Drug Store, Washington, D. C. 631

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor DUCATEL,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.

HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.

☞Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
AN AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 24 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Coal-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 100,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and uncut, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.
je16-d HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.
mh3-dtf HOCE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.
THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.
s3-tf G. W PEARCE.

CASSIA AND CHAMPAGNE.
10 CASES FRESH CASSIA
10 baskets Genuine Anchor CHAMPAGNE
Landing from Celeste, for sale by
MARCUS DENISON,
de 24 No. 31 Baltimore street.

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. A 435

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 13, 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

THE BANKS. We are happy to learn that, upon consultation, the banks of this city have resolved not to resume specie payments at present. In coming to this conclusion, they have yielded to the wishes of nine-tenths of the business portion of the community, and eminently consulted the real interests of the city and state.

In consequence of this determination, the public meeting called for this day at the Exchange, will not take place.

Now let the legislature authorize the banks to receive and pay railroad notes, and fractional parts of a dollar be disbursed by the banks, in specie, and all difficulty will vanish.

MAGISTRATE'S COURTS. A petition to abolish these courts, and to extend the jurisdiction of single justices of the peace, has been forwarded from Washington county to the legislature. The great error in the legislation of this state is, that measures are not permitted to be sufficiently tested before they are changed. The operation or administration of a law gives offence to some individual, and a petition to repeal the act is forthwith drafted, signed and forwarded to the legislature; doing and undoing; enacting and repealing; until it becomes difficult for even attorneys to ascertain with precision, what is law. Some years ago magistrate's courts were in great favor with the people, and bundles of memorials soliciting their establishment, were presented to the house. Now, before the utility of these courts has been fairly tested, a change in the system is demanded, and a member of the court, acting separately, is supposed to possess more wisdom and discretion than when aided by the minds of his associates. This is strange. We suspect that the defect, if any, does not exist in the law, but in the persons appointed to administer it; and so long as appointments continue to be made without regard to qualifications, and from mere regard to partizan services, this defect will continue.—To render magistrate's courts efficacious, the incumbents must be men of respectability and talents. With illiterate and vulgar judges, our courts of justice would soon fall into contempt, and become a nuisance—for office can neither give intellect nor add respectability. These must be previously possessed, or the incumbent degrades the office and perverts its object.

We have no doubt that there may be abuses in the magistrate's courts, and so there are with single magistrates—nor can we see that they are increased by using three heads instead of one. If improper persons are appointed to preside in these courts, the remedy is, not to destroy the courts, but to solicit the removal of the incompetent judges. It is impossible that the appointing power can be acquainted with the qualifications of all applicants for office; and when apprised that a bad selection has been made, we presume that the error would be promptly rectified.

THE UNITED STATES BANK LOAN. The most cheering intelligence, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, received by the Oxford, is that which relates to the success of the negotiations of Messrs. Jaudon, Alsop and Brown, with regard to a loan for the Bank of the United States. It is stated that letters have been received from these gentlemen, announcing that they had already been able to effect a loan on very favorable terms—for £500,000, or $2,500,000, and with a prospect of obtaining £500,000 more. This is indeed gratifying at the present moment, and may, we incline to the opinion, be considered as ensuring the permanency of the approaching resumption.

CONDITION OF GREECE. Late London papers contain letters from Greece of the most discouraging character, as to the condition of that country. It is said that Greek citizens are imprisoned on the most frivolous charges—that terrible cruelties are practised—and the slave trade is carried on with the tacit consent of King Otho, who appears to take very little interest in the general prosperity of the people.

OUR YOUNG TEMPERANCE FRIENDS of Washington Junior Temperance Society shall not be forgotten. A want of room, boys, prevents our talking to you to-day; but at a future period we shall endeavor to give you such encouragement as the justness of your cause richly merits. For the present, we refer the reader to the advertisement in another column.

THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT assembled at Washington, D. C. on Monday. Present the Chief Justice and all the Associate Justices, except Justices Story and Thompson, who, always punctual, have no doubt now been prevented by the obstruction of the roads by high waters from reaching the city.

THE BRITISH AT PEKIN. A letter received by a highly respectable mercantile house, dated London, Dec. 18, mentions the arrival of a letter in that city, dated St. Petersburg, stating that the British troops had reached Pekin. It is also added, that a letter had been received from Moscow, confirming this intelligence.

THE GARRICK. The latest news from this unfortunate vessel is, that she had not gone to pieces, and that men were busily engaged in getting her cargo on deck and landing it—it is all damaged and much of it will be a total loss.

REMAINS OF NAPOLEON. The Paris papers represent the pageant of interring the remains of Napoleon as most magnificent. The whole population of Paris united to do honor to his relicts. The brilliant career of Napoleon—his successful campaigns—his wonderful genius, which grasped every thing—and the glorious height to which he elevated France, seem to live in the remembrance of Frenchmen, whilst the darker shades of his character are obliterated and sink into oblivion. The life of Napoleon presents an epitome of human vicissitude, and should afford an instructive lesson to those who are governed by ambition. To-day elevated in the clouds; to-morrow pressed to the earth—one day on the throne, the next in exile. Such was the changeable fate of the great captain, who seemed born to command, and destined to dazzle mankind with the brilliancy of his achievements. Finally expiring a prisoner in the hands of his enemies, and distant from the scenes of his glory—his body is consigned to the tomb, with little of pomp and parade, and less of respect and regret. And now, after lying undisturbed for years, his corpse is received with the thunders of the artillery and the acclamations of the multitude. In imagination the French people are carried back to the period when the tricolored flag floated triumphantly over the continent of Europe, and Napoleon seemed like a presiding deity dictating to mankind. How far these recollections may tend to reconcile them to the peaceful policy of their present ruler, and induce them to desire continued repose, time alone can develope. The presence of his remains will awaken enthusiastic associations; and the narratives of his exploits will probably revive that military ardor and chivalrous spirit which he knew so well how to direct against his enemies.

We doubt the policy which dictated the removal of Napoleon's remains and the attendant pageant; but the act cannot be recalled, nor the consequences averted. Louis Phillippe desires to preserve peace, but he dare not thwart the inclinations of his people, who are brave, enthusiastic and fickle. He has so far succeeded in checking the war spirit; but one day may reverse the position of things, and place the powers of Europe in hostile array. The military force of France is nearly up to this war establishment, and it seems that it is not deemed expedient to reduce it to a lower point. This is cause of uneasiness, if not of alarm, to other powers, and it appears, from the following paragraph, that Great Britain, Austria and Prussia have resolved to remonstrate to the French government on the subject.

"LONDON, Dec. 18. We understand that the determination of the present French Cabinet to maintain the 'Paix armee,' gives great offence to Great Britain, Austria and Prussia. Representations of a decided character, on this subject, are being made, and unless France lowers her tone, the settlement of the Egyptian question will not produce the beneficial effect in Europe that was expected."

The fact that France deems it necessary to continue armed in peace, would seem to imply an apprehension that the present repose of Europe is not destined to long continuance; and it is possible that the arrival of the body of Napoleon, and the feelings which its presence will inspire, may precipitate measures that will lead to conflict.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, JAN. 12, 1841.

This morning, in the House of Representatives, a petition was presented by Mr. Adams from two unfortunate stone cutters of this city, lately discharged from one of the public buildings. The petitioners complain of a system of favoritism among the workmen, and ask Congress to adopt measures for their relief. The petition was referred to the committee on public buildings.

There is another system among these workmen, termed the "groggery system." It is the practice of the "bosses" to set up a dram shop, at which the laborers are expected to expend freely of their earnings. Should they refuse, they are wanted no longer, and come under the fatherly care of Mr. Adams as above. This petty tyranny ought to be broken up as speedily as possible.

Mr. Green, of Kentucky, asked leave to introduce a resolution instructing the committee on ways and means to report a bill, laying a tax upon foreign wines, spirits and other liquors, for the purpose of meeting any demands that may be made upon government. Objection being made, the resolution could not be received.

Mr. Sergeant reported from the judiciary committee, without amendment, the Senate bill amendatory of the act abolishing imprisonment for debt in certain cases. After some debate, it was read a third time and passed.

Mr. S. also reported from the same committee, the bill extending the time for taking the sixth census, which was also passed.

The remainder of the day was occupied by Mr. Naylor, in reply to Mr. Ingersoll, on the subject of the contested election.

The Senate is still engaged on the pre-emption land bill.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT. Mr. Richard Drummond, a young gentleman of Norfolk, Va. met with a most melancholy accident on the 6th inst. He was about to proceed on a shooting excursion, when stopping to observe some laborers at work, he rested the butt of his gun against the frame of a grindstone, and pressed his right side against the bore. The gun went off and lodged its contents in his body above the hip, wounding him in a dreadful manner. No hopes are entertained of his recovery.

PROVING AFFECTION. It is said that in Persia men who are deeply enamored often burn their arms and chests with irons, in order to manifest the strength of their passion for their mistresses. This Persian custom may have given rise to that in use among European and American sailors, who frequently tattoo hearts, and anchors, and various amorous devices, on their arms, by way of recording the strength of their feelings.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

MR. CAMERON'S CASE. We feel disposed to do justice to the parties concerned in the fraud case, the result of which was recorded in our paper of yesterday; the details, from the press of other matter, we were compelled to defer. It is well known that Mr. Cameron has speculated largely in real estate in this city, and it may be remembered by some of our readers that last summer we noticed in terms of commendation the improvements he was about making at "Greenwood," a beautiful spot, the estate of the late Mr. R. B. Spalding. There appeared to be a degree of public spirit connected with the speculation which pleased us, and we used our exertions to further the object. In order to carry on his improvements, Mr. C. had to "financier," for it was all out-go and no income with him; his business therefore commenced with Mr. Gelbach, who is a real estate broker, and during the examination transactions were exposed which made even some of the knowing ones turn up the whites of their eyes. The affairs between the parties seemed to be thrown into "confusion worse confounded"—hand-writing was denied—no entries were made, no books kept, and in many instances the most exhorbitant interest was charged for monies loaned—or rather notes of hand drawn up for "shaving" purposes. The examination was closely conducted by the magistrate and the learned counsel, and in several instances the testimony conflicted. The transaction on which the charge rested took place on the 3d of October, 1840, when Mr. Gelbach advanced Mr. Cameron something over $200 in consideration of certain household articles, amongst which were some pictures, and a clock valued at over $100! Mr. Ball, the sheriff, stated that he had attached Mr. C's furniture early in the month of September previous. Hence arose the suit. It was shown that Mr. C. had brought a suit in the Baltimore County Court against Mr. G. for the recovery of a debt, and held him to bail in the sum of $4000 for his appearance. This so nettled Gelbach that through the spirit of retaliation he commenced the present suit. One witness stated that he would not believe Gelbach on his oath, while two others came forward and vouched for his honesty and truth, as far as they had knowledge of him; a feeling of malignity, however, appeared at the bottom of the whole affair, and the magistrate, after particularly hearing every evidence having the most remote bearing on the case, gave his unhesitating decision in favor of Mr. Cameron, who was discharged.

CAPTAIN NEVILLE. Since our expose of the doings of this "illustrious stranger," we have heard of several good things, all of which shall come out in the course of time. It is said that the "captain" is still in this city, his master having discharged him, on hearing of his conduct. Before the exposure, he had received invitations to parties two weeks ahead, all of which would have been duly responded to, but for the interference of Colonel P.

ACCIDENT. On Monday evening as Mr. Behler, whip maker, Sharp street, residing in the county, was coming into the city in a barouche with two children, the wheel came off in Baltimore street extended, and he was violently thrown upon the ground, receiving very severe injury. He is at present in a critical situation. The children, we are happy to state, received no injury.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION OF THE DEPTFORD FIRE COMPANY. An introductory lecture will be delivered before this society in the Caroline street Church by S. T. Wallis, Esq. on Friday evening next.

THE WEATHER. Yesterday the weather was unusually fine, and the butterflies fluttered abroad, much to the delight of themselves and those who love to look on pretty things. The harbor and river are entirely clear of ice, and, of course, the navigation is entirely free.

SHINPLASTERS. There was somewhat of a run upon the office of John Clark, under the Museum, yesterday. Fips and levies were passed from hand to hand in order to make up the lawful demand of $5. The banker was as snappish as on a former occasion, though he came up to the demand in handsome style.

☞ Major Gen. Gaines is to lecture before the Mechanical Fire Co's Library Association this evening, at the Universalist Church. The subject is National Defence.

POLICE. Eliza Williams, charged with threatening the life of John Whittington and Eliza his wife, was on Monday arrested and brought before Justice McDonald. Giving security for her future behaviour, she was released.

Matthew Gaffney, charged with threatening injury to Mary O'Leary, was arrested and brought before Justice Miltenberger. Released on security.

Wm. Chaney, charged with assaulting and beating Mary Sadler, was yesterday committed to jail by Justice Gorsuch.

WATCH RETURNS. In the Eastern District, on Monday night, negro Ellen Brown was imprisoned for riotous behaviour; a negro man applied for lodgings. John Nelson came in at the early hour of 3 a. m for lodgings. In the Middle District a man was locked up for beating his wife. Elizabeth Curtain, Herman Lewis and Frederick Dreitman were left for the police. The Western District was quiet.

DRIFT WOOD. About 300 cords of drift wood has been caught at the different wharves on the Schuylkill, from the dam to Gray's Ferry. Large quantities have also been caught at the Kensington, city and Southwark wharves. "It is an ill wind that blows nobody good."

ELECTION IN CHARLESTON. An election was held in Charleston on Tuesday and Wednesday, of last week, for State Senator, which resulted in the election of Ker Boyce, by 435 majority.

CITY COUNCIL. First Branch, Jan. 12, 1841.—Fine weather brings out fine birds, and the members assembled looked as bright as the sun that had been dispensing his golden favors all day.—There is but little doubt that most of the gentlemen had been discussing the merits of a good dinner, if we are to judge from the frequent use of that indispensable item in the stores of an alderman's waistcoat pocket, y'clept a tooth-pick.

Reading of the journal hurried through in the most masterly style.

Mr. Keyser presented the annual report of the New Market Fire Co. Referred to the joint committee on fire companies.

Mr. Fields presented the annual report of the Deptford Fire Co. Referred to the joint committee on fire companies.

The joint committee on the harbor reported favorably on the communication of Charles Worthington relative to the platform on the southern termination of Commerce-st.

A communication from the city commissioners, relative to the expenses for paving, was received and read. Laid on the table.

A message was received from the second branch, agreeing to the resolution concerning the communications of the register and the city collector.

A message was sent to the second branch, proposing to refer the communication of the city register and accompanying documents to the joint committee on taxes.

Mr. Pinckney, from the committee on claims, presented an unfavorable report on the claim of Dr. Aikin for professional services.

On the call of Mr. Pinckney, the communication from the city commissioners was again read, and again laid upon the table.

A petition was received from the president and visiters of the Maryland Hospital, concerning the closing of a part of the old Joppa road. Referred to the joint committee on streets. Mr. Keyser offered a resolution requiring all buildings covered with tile, slate, tin or zinc to be so improved by guards as to prevent snow and ice from falling to the pavement below. Referred to the committee on police.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Cole, referring so much of the mayor's message as touched on public schools to the committee on education. Concurred in.

The report of the Mechanical Fire Co. was received, and referred to the joint committee on fire companies.

A resolution was offered by Mr. J. S. Brown, requiring the port wardens to give reason why a sunken schooner is allowed to remain in the southern part of the basin to the evident obstruction of the navigation. Concurred in.

An unfavorable report was received from the committee on water, concerning the communication of Henry Myers and others, relative to the construction of a double pump at the corner of Hanover and little Hughes sts.

There being nothing more to do, the branch adjourned until to-morrow at ½ past 3 o'clock.

Second Branch.—This body acted mostly on the resolutions originating in the first branch.

Mr. Boyd presented the petition of Wm. Coley, asking permission to place a roof, &c. over a nine foot alley. Referred to the committee on fire companies.

Mr. Lucas, from the committee on the new division of the city into wards, requested that the mayor should obtain such information from the U. S. marshal concerning the population of the city, as would further the object of the committee.

TOO BAD. We learn, says the Raleigh Register, that two negroes were taken out of the Jail of Duplin County, in this State, a few days ago, by a gang of armed men, and deliberately shot at night, by torch-light! The cause of this outrage was, that the negroes were charged with a cruel Murder, and doubts were entertained, from the previous escape of an accomplice, whether the Jail was sufficiently strong to keep the others safely until Court! This is the first instance we have ever known, in our law-abiding State, of so gross a violation of all law, human and divine, and we pray it may be the last.

A REPORTED BANK FAILURE. The Pittsburg American of Friday says: The report in town is, that the Gallipolis bank is gone by the board.—We mark it to day at no fixed price. One letter from Cincinnati states that it is selling at 50 per cent. discount—another at 20."

It is said that there are proposals for loans in London, to the tune of $400,000,000—namely, $380,000,000 foreign and $20,000,000 British.

DEATHS. There were 71 interments in the city of Philadelphia and Liberties during the past week.

BALTIMORE MARKET,
January 12, 1841.

Flour. Sales of Howard street Flour have been made during the week at $4.31a$4.45.—We have been informed of one parcel, 500 bbls. which was sold for $4.50. This, however, was of a very select quality. The receipt price to-day was $4.25a$4.31. We have heard of no transactions in City Mills. It is held at $4.62a $4.75.

Cattle. 250 head of cattle were purchased from a lot of 500 by the butchers on Monday, at $6a7 per 100 lbs. nett from common to prime. Sales of live hogs were made at $5.75a$6 per hundred lbs.

Provisions. We have no alteration to note in the price of barrelled meats since our last. One sale of 70,000 lbs. Bacon, Baltimore cured sides, was made at 8¼ cents. No. 1 Lard, 9 cents, on time, somewhat lower for cash. Butter, No. 1, Glades, 18a20 cents. No. 2, 16a18 cents. No. 3 8a12½ cents. Killed pork $5.50a$6.

Whiskey remains the same as at the last quotations.

The Grain market is dull—no transactions from which we can obtain a fair quotation.

MARRIED,

On Saturday evening, 9th instant, by the Rev. Mr. Dowling, HENRY VAUGHAN to Miss ELIZABETH E. only daughter of Capt. John Roberts, of Baltimore.

On the 10th inst. by the Rev. B. N. Brown, JOSEPH HOLMES, esq. to Miss HANNAH RHODES, all of this city.

DIED,

At the residence of his father, Dr. Samuel Anderson, in Delaware county, Pa. on the 28th ult., Passed Midshipman JAMES ANDERSON, of the U. S. Navy, in the 21st year of his age.

HEALTH OFFICE,
JANUARY 12th, 1841.

Report of Interments in the City of Baltimore, for the last week, ending Monday morning, viz:

Still-born 4; dropsy 2; scarlet fever 8; consumption 8; inflammation of the lungs 1; asthma 1; infantile unknown 6; palsy 1; old age 3; dropsy in the head 1; cancer 1; child-bed 1; catarrhal fever 1; scrofula 1; inflammation of the brain 1; inflammation of the bowels 1; sudden 1; croup 2. Total 41.

Under 1 year,	14	Between 5 and 10,	1
Between 1 and 2,	3	" 10 and 21,	3
" 2 and 5,	4	Above 21,	16

Males 14; females 27—41. Of which number 9 were colored persons—7 free, 2 slaves.

By order, DAVID HARRIS, Sec'y.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Brig Martha, Hallet, Boston.
Schr Sally Ann, Fathron, St. Thomas.

ARRIVED.

Schr Millicent, Cole, 12 days from New York, assorted cargo.
Schr Joseph Hankey, Paddon, from St. Marks, via New York, cotton.

MEMORANDA.

Ship Guinare, Sloan, of and 33 days fm Baltimore for Rotterdam, was off Portland, Eng. 6th Dec.
Ship Superb, Gatchell, of and from Baltimore for Amsterdam, was off the Lizard 6th Dec.
Ship Lucilla, for Baltimore, sailed from Bremen 4th December.
Barque Gen. Harrison, Smith, from Baltimore, sailed from Helvoet 6th Dec.

☞ At a meeting of the WASHINGTON JUNIOR TEMPERANCE SOCIETY, held on Saturday Evening, Jan. 9th, 1841, thirty-five signed the Total Abstinence Pledge, and the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved unanimously, That the thanks of this, the Washington Junior Temperance Society, are hereby tendered to Messrs. Robinson, Hawkins, Hoss, Hyam, Brown, Mask, Jarvis, and others, as a testimony of our sincere acknowledgments, for their very useful exertions in assisting us on the evening of the 2d inst. at the organization of our Society, which bids fair to become a valuable Institution for the youthful community of our city.

Resolved further, That we acknowledge ourselves greatly indebted to the parent association for the very necessary steps they have taken to rear up in this city an institution for the benefit of the youth, by means of which they will become industrious and useful citizens.

Resolved further, That we expect the parent association to take strict observation of our further progress, as we expect to be governed by any instructions that may be made by their association, which will tend in any particular to make our association more useful to the community at large. ja13-1t

WASHINGTON TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

☞ A public meeting will be held in the William-st. Church, on FRIDAY EVENING NEXT, at half past 6 o'clock. It is expected the meeting will be very interesting as an experience meeting. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

N. B. The Washington Temperance Society intend holding weekly public meetings until the 1st of April, of which notice of time and place will be given through the papers. Such of the Churches as are disposed to favor the temperance cause, by offering their churches for the purpose of holding a meeting in, will please address a line to the President of the Society. ja13-3t

NOTICE.

☞ Hereafter the Washington Temperance Society will hold their regular meetings EVERY MONDAY EVENING, in Mr. JOHN NEELY'S School Room, corner of Lombard and Hanover streets, at half past six o'clock—entrance on Hanover street.

N. B. Our fellow-citizens, desirous of joining the Society, are requested to attend the meeting on Monday evening next. By order of the President, ja13 5tm JOHN F. HOSS, Sec'y.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION OF THE DEPTFORD FIRE COMPANY.

☞ The Introductory Lecture before this Association will be delivered by S. TEAGLE WALLIS, Esq. on FRIDAY EVENING NEXT, at 7 o'clock, in the Caroline street Church. The public are respectfully invited. ja13-3t* ROBT DUTTON, Pres't.

O. I. O. F.

☞ The Past Grands and Representatives of the Grand Lodge of Maryland, are requested to meet at the Hall, Gay street, on FRIDAY EVENING NEXT, 15th inst. at 7 o'clock, it being the Annual Communication. By order, ja13-3t WM. G. COOK, Grand Sec'y.

NOTICE.

☞ The name of J. W. CRONEY appeared in the papers as Manager of the Citizens' Ball without his consent—he asked a withdrawal of his name, as he does not wish to act in that capacity. ja13-1t*

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION OF THE MECHANICAL FIRE COMPANY.

☞ The next Lecture will be delivered before this Association, by Major General EDMUND P. GAINES, (assisted by his talented lady,) on THIS EVENING, 13th instant, in the Universalist Church, Calvert-st. Subject—"The National Defence."

The season tickets will not be available for admission to this lecture. Tickets, admitting a gentleman and two ladies, may be had for 50 cents, at the book stores of Messrs. J. Cushing & Co. Howard street; F. Lucas, jr., Market street; Armstrong & Berry, Market street, and N. Hickman, Market street.

ja12-2t HU. DAVEY EVANS, Pres't.

NOTICE.

☞ The Commissioners of the State Armory and Town Hall Lottery having had their right to establish agencies conceded by the State Commissioners of lotteries, designed in the exercise of their power to confide their selection to those already engaged in the business of selling lottery tickets; but it will be seen from the circular annexed to this, that the agents of the foreign contractors have determined, so far as they can affect it, to defeat the wishes of the Commissioners. To what cause to ascribe this course on their part, we leave the people of Baltimore, who are so deeply interested in the success of these lotteries, to determine. Our only object is the erection of a public edifice both useful and ornamental—private speculation or individual gain is out of the question.

[CIRCULAR COPY.]

Dear sir: We think it proper to apprise you, that we should deem your acceptance of agency to sell any other tickets than those embraced in the contract of the state, to conflict with your engagements with the contractors of the state lotteries. Respectfully, yours, signed D. S. Gregory & Co. by S. Scribner & Co.

Therefore the Commissioners of the State Armory and Town Hall Lottery give notice that after 10 o'clock to day they will be in attendance at their office, No. 146 Market street, to receive applications for agencies.

Meanwhile as the first class of our lottery is to be drawn at half past 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon next, at the City Hall, the public generally are informed that tickets can be procured at our office 146 Market street, and of Wm. G. Cook, No. 3 N. Gay-st. ja11-4t

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

☞ A Temperance Meeting will be held in the New Market Engine House, on WEDNESDAY, 13th inst. at half past 6 o'clock, for the purpose of forming an auxiliary to the Washington Temperance Society of Baltimore. All persons who wish to become members, are earnestly and respectfully requested to attend said meeting. ja8-4t

MECHANICS' FUND.

☞ The President and Directors of the MECHANICS' FUND of Baltimore have declared a DIVIDEND of FOUR PER CENT. for the last SIX months, which will be paid to the depositors on or after the 13th inst.

ja11-3t* LEVI TAYLOR, Treasurer.

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Man.

To Dr. Swayne.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel different—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest by night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently degrades on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences.

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
jy28-y

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,
80 BALTIMORE STREET,
Below Franklin Bank.

DRAWING of the Alexandria Lottery, Extra, class 2, drawn 11th inst.—lowest prize $5.

9 8 44 63 10 91 59 68 22 15 45 52 36

Magnificent Lotteries for the week:

On THIS DAY, 13th, Maryland State Lottery, to be drawn in Baltimore at the Lew Buildings, class No. 2, 75 Nos.—12 Ballots—Capitals of 20,000, 10,000, 20 of 1000, &c. Tickets $5, shares in proportion.

On THURSDAY, in Baltimore, Consolidated Lottery of Maryland, class No. 1, 66 Nos. and 12 Ballots. Extra, capitals of $10,000, 5000, 2000, 10 of 1000, &c. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On FRIDAY, Virginia State Lottery, Extra, class No. 3, to be drawn at Alexandria, Va. Capitals of $10,000, 3000, &c. 75 Nos. 13 Ballots. Tickets $4.

On SATURDAY, Immense and Grand Scheme, Va. State Lottery, nett capitals of $30,000, 10,000, 5000, 4000, 50 of 1000, 53 of 500, 250, 200, &c. 75 No. Lottery—15 Ballots. More prizes than blanks.

Whole tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2.50.

☞ All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address. E. W. ROBINSON,
No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.
Agent for the State of Maryland. ja13-1t

ENCOURAGE OUR OWN CITY.

SATURDAY, will be drawn the GRAND TOWN HALL LOTTERY, in which there is a greater chance for drawing a Capital Prize than ever before occurred in this city—in addition to which, it must be remembered by the citizens of Baltimore, that every dollar of the money realized, will be expended in our own community, giving employment to hundreds of Mechanics, Laborers, Artizans, &c., whose united labor, when completed, will be a lasting Monument of the liberality, taste, and mechanical skill of all who have contributed their mite in aid of erecting the TOWN HALL of Baltimore. Besides other splendid attractions, the Scheme contains

10 PRIZES OF $10,000 EACH!
Amounting to $400,000!!

This Lottery being entirely for the benefit of Baltimore, every person who may spend a dollar in purchasing a Ticket or share in it, will, in return for the same, even if they be not so fortunate as to draw a SNUG PRIZE, be possessed with the pleasing consciousness that they have contributed their part towards erecting the State Armory and Town Hall.

Tickets $5—Halves $2.50—Quarters $1.25.
Certificate of 10 Wholes $33; 10 Halves $16.50; 10 Quarters $8.25; 10 Eighths $4.12½.

☞ For tickets and shares, in every variety, be sure to apply at the COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE,
No. 146 Market street, near Light-st.

☞ Let one and all remember to encourage our own city, by giving employment to our own people.
ja13-tt

STONER'S OFFICE,
UNDER WASHINGTON HALL,
MARKET STREET BRIDGE.

On SATURDAY NEXT, we can offer a brilliant chance for fortunes. Alexandria Lottery, class No. 1, 75 Numbers—15 Ballots.

GRAND SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$20,000	1 Prize of		$3000
1 "	10,000	1 "		2500
1 "	5000	1 "		4000
25 "	4000	50 "		1000, &c.

Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞ Orders, from all parts of the city and country, should be carefully directed to ja13-1t JOHN L. STONER, Baltimore.

CITIZENS' BALL,
FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

THIS BALL will take place on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841. The price of Tickets is fixed at TWO DOLLARS.

☞ At a meeting of the BOARD OF MANAGERS, held on Monday evening, the following Resolution was passed—

Resolved, That a Committee of two be appointed from each ward, for the purpose of calling upon such persons in their respective wards, as are disposed to aid in the object the Managers have in view.

It is generally known that great numbers of persons who do not attend Balls, would willingly give in aid of the object if an opportunity was offered them. Hence the appointing of the following committee, it is expected that gentlemen will proceed immediately in their collections.

1st Ward, H. R. Lauderman, James Grieves.
2d do Wm. Wickersham, Jolan E. Stansbury.
3d do Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott.
4th do Abel Blakeney, James Murray.
5th do Capt. John Patrick, Herman Perry.
6th do Thos. C. Dunlevy, John Kennedy.
7th do Simeon Hays, James Ackland.
8th do Samuel Lucas, Samuel Stump, Jr.
9th do Wm. R. Frazer, James McPhail.
10th do Dr. Wm. Power, James Lawson.
11th do Horace Miller, D. A. Piper.
12th do George Beal, Joseph Creagher, Jr.

☞ The Managers who have not yet obtained their tickets, are requested to call at once upon the treasurer, Joshua Vansant, at the Post Office, and receive the same. By order,
SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
Andrew J. Bandel, Secretary. ja13-tb

IMPORTANT TO THOSE AFFLICTED WITH COUGHS & COLDS.

RICH'D THOMPSON'S LIFE PRESERVER, a new and valuable remedy for the relief and removal of the most distressing Colds and Coughs.

The subscriber has been induced to offer this Medicine to the Public from his personal knowledge of its effects, and the testimony of those who have been the subjects of its operation. In no instance within his knowledge (and they have been many) has it failed to give immediate relief to the patient, and ultimately to remove the most distressing cough, brought on by taking cold. In cases of Consumption, nothing is promised beyond relief. This Medicine is equally applicable to Children. Agent for Baltimore,
ROBERT H. COLEMAN & CO.
No. 133 Market street.

Where numerous certificates of its efficacy, from persons of respectable standing, will be shown if necessary. ja13-6w*

GROCERIES! GROCERIES!!

THE Subscriber, having bought out the entire Stock of GROCERIES from Roney & Owings, would respectfully call the attention of his friends and the public generally, to a well selected assortment of FAMILY GROCERIES—together with a general assortment of Imported CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO, SNUFF, &c. &c., which he will sell at the very lowest prices. EMPSON C. BIRD, ja13-3taw Corner of Baltimore and Harrison-sts.

TO MAGISTRATES. The undersigned keep constantly on hand, a full assortment of all the various BLANKS used by Magistrates, printed on fine paper, which will be sold on the lowest terms.
Apply to BULL & TUTTLE,
ja13-d No. 7 N. Gay street.

BLEACHED WINTER SPERMACETI OIL.
New Bedford Steam CANDLES
Fresh Figs; superior Sugar House Syrup
New Hops and Cranberries—received and for sale by MARCUS DENISON,
ja12-4t No. 31 Baltimore-st.

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 Exchange Place.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.
This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000 may be had on		MONDAY, for	$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	4 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
6,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 00
20,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. ja7-3m

100,000 DOLLARS.
TOWN HALL LOTTERY.
For the embellishment of the city of Baltimore, to be drawn January 16, 1841.
A book of 146 tickets may draw $100,000.

SCHEME:

1st prize	$10,000
2d	10,000
3d	10,000
4th	10,000
5th	10,000	$100,000
6th	10,000
7th	10,000
8th	10,000
9th	10,000
10th	10,000

On a new and most simple mode for sets of numbers or forty single numbers are placed in the wheel, viz:

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

And ten drawn out at random, and those ten tickets ending with the four first drawn numbers, in the order in which they are drawn, will be entitled to the ten prizes of ten thousand dollars—thus, suppose 2 5 6 8 should be the four first drawn numbers—the tickets being numbered 1001-1002, &c. up to 101,000, the only tickets ending with the four first in order will be 2 5 68, 12 5 68, 22 5 68, 32 56 8, 4 25 68, 5 25 68, 6 25 68, 7 25 68, 8 25 68, 9 25 68, thus a book which contains ten tickets in each ten thousand, consequently may draw the ten prizes—or $100,000.

Tickets $5—Halves $2.50—Quarters $1.25.

Packages of 10 Whole Tickets,	$50 00
Packages of 10 Half Tickets,	25 00
Packages of 10 Quarter Tickets,	12 50
Packages of 10 Eighth Tickets,	6 25

Those who prefer paying the difference only, between the Selling Price and what a Package is warranted to draw, can be supplied as follows:

A book, or 100 whole tickets $200, shares in proportion.

For 10 Whole Tickets,	$33 00
For 10 Halves,	25 00
For 10 Quarters,	8 50
For 10 Eighths,	4 50

For which they will receive a Commissioners Certificate, just as good in every respect as the Original Tickets, and entitling the purchaser to all Prizes that may be drawn by the numbers composing the Package, over the warranted amount.

☞ For Tickets, please address
ZACARIAH BENNET, Agent,
No. 2 Exchange Place, next door to the
ja11-3t Maryland Lottery and Exchange Office.

TOWN HALL LOTTERY.

NOTWITHSTANDING the opposition of foreign agents, this splendid concern is in the "full tide of successful operation," under the independent control of the Commissioners appointed by the Legislature of Maryland. Baltimoreans should bear in mind that every dollar of money realized, will be expended in our community, for the purpose of public improvement in the construction of a STATE ARMORY, a TOWN HALL, and a MARKET HOUSE. Mechanics, Artizans, yea, every citizen who has the well being and prosperity of the city at heart, should be active in furthering the objects of this splendid Lottery, Class No. 1—the whole to be positively drawn on SATURDAY, January 16th, 1841.

10 PRIZES OF 10,000 DOLLARS!
Besides a large amount of smaller prizes!!
Whole Tickets $5—Halves $2.50—Quarters $1.25.
☞ To be had of W. G. COOK, Agent,
No. 3 N. Gay street.
And at the Commissioners' Office,
ja8-eotd [s] No. 146 Baltimore (Market) street.

F. B. SCHÆFFER,
(SUCCESSOR TO BARKER & CO.)
156 BALTIMORE STREET.

$20,000. This splendid capital, in the Maryland State Lottery, No. 1, drawn on the 6th Jan. to Nos. 22, 71, 56, we have not yet heard of, or from the fortunate holder. We trust that it has fallen into good hands, and will be of general utility—the cash will be paid for that, and all other prizes on demand. Drawn numbers of the Literature Lottery, No. 2.

29 56 40 27 28 47 15 21 12 13 17 19

Several handsome prizes were sold in the above. We beg to call the attention of our patrons to the splendid Lotteries to be drawn this week:

TO-DAY, Jan. 11th, Alexandria Lottery, class No. 2, Capitals $15,000, 10,000, &c. Tickets $5.

TO-MORROW, State Treasury Lottery—Capital prize $12,000. Tickets $4—shares in proportion.

On WEDNESDAY, the Maryland State Lottery will be drawn in Baltimore. Capital prize $20,000. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On THURSDAY, Grand Consolidated Lottery, No. 2—capital prize $10,000. Tickets $5.

On FRIDAY, 15th Jan., Literature Lottery, class 3, Capitals $8,000, 3,000, &c. Tickets $2.50.

On SATURDAY, 16th Jan., Virginia State Lottery, class l. Capitals—$5,295, 10,515, 5,000, &c.

Whole Tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2.50.

☞ For Lucky Tickets, apply to
F. B. SCHÆFFER,
Successor to Barker & Co.
156 Baltimore street, corner of St. Paul's-st.

Where more prizes have been sold and paid than at any other office within the United States.

☞ Orders for Tickets, in any Lotteries under the management of D. S. Gregory & Co., thankfully received and promptly attended to—and the result of the drawing sent immediately after it is received. To insure a prize, you must address
ja11 F. B. SCHÆFFER, Baltimore, Md.

FRANKLIN BANK NOTES—For sale

City and State six per cent. STOCK
Susquehanna Canal	do
Mechanics Bank	do
Farmers and Planters	do
Baltimore Water Company's	do
Balt. and Ohio Rail Road	do
Western Bank	do
Citizens Bank	do

By WM. WARD, Stock Exchange and Money
ja9-4t Broker, No. 21 Exchange Building.

MRS. CONNOR'S

BOARDING HOUSE, PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, between 3d and 4½ streets, Washington City, (D. C.) where Gentlemen, visiting the District, can be accommodated with Board and Suits of Apartments, suitable for single gentlemen or families, for any length of time. d23-1m

REMOVAL.

G. H. MITTNACHT, IMPORTER OF GERMAN, FRENCH, and ENGLISH FANCY GOODS, has removed from the Store he lately occupied in Baltimore street, to the Store No. 9 South LIBERTY STREET, where he will always keep a large and general assortment of FANCY GOODS, including Baskets, Toys, Clocks, Musical Instruments, Cutlery, Jewelry, Pins, Needles, Tapes, Cords, Cotton, Thread, Silk, Blacking, Ink, Slates, Marbles, Whips, &c. &c., which he is prepared to sell at the lowest wholesale prices. G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 9 S. Liberty street.

N. B. Franklin Bank Notes will be taken at par for all Goods purchased for cash. [s] ja5-2w

DRY GOODS, &c.

COUNTRY KNIT YARN HALF HOSE. We have yet on hand, about 20 doz. Men's Country Knit Yarn HOSE, which we will close out cheap by the dozen or retail.
DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Balto. st. 3d
ja8-eo1w Door west of Market-st.

FRANLIN BANK NOTES.

FRANKLIN BANK PAPER will be received at PAR for DRY GOODS, at unprecedented low prices, at No. 99½ Baltimore street. A lot of extra Rose and Whitney BLANKETS, and 250 pieces super CLOTHS and CASSIMERES. Just received.
ja8-tf W. H. RIDGELY & CO. 99½ Balt.-st.

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,
Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.
With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.
oc2 EDW. J. RICHARDSON.

CHEAP LINEN CAMBRIC HDKFS.

JUST RECEIVED, an additional supply of those cheap Linen Cambric HDKFS. which we have been selling off very fast by the dozen and at retail. Ladies who have not supplied themselves, now have another opportunity—they may rely on finding them at very reduced prices, by calling on
DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Baltimore-st.
ja8-eo2w 3d door west of Market Space.

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:
1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do made and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at
DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

FANCY AND WORSTED STORE.

THE subscriber has on hand, and offers for sale a large and general assortment of Fine Worsted Patterns, Zephyr Worsted, Thick & Working Chenille, Saddler's Floss, Sewing and Twist Silk for Purses, Silk, Cotton and Worsted Canvas, Perforated, Bound and Hair Cloth for Worsted Work, Ladies' Knitted Worsted Caps, Baby's Bonnetts, Boy's Gaiters and Scarfs, Silk and Worsted Fringe, Black Silk Lace, Silk Velvet for Head Bands, Belts and Cuffs, Ladies' and Children's Worsted Mittens, Knit Muffs, Knitting Yarn, Linen and Cotton Tape and Cord, &c.

Also—A general assortment of Work and Fancy Baskets and Boxes; Ivory, Shell, and Horn Combs; Jewelry; Needles and Pins; Toys, &c. &c.
G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 58 Lexington-st., 5th door above Howard-st.
o23-eo3m [as]

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are lower than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

Also on hand—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.
WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.

N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 90 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mouseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½; super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7-8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1¼ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25: childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
BED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.
E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6¼
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6¼
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 6¼
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 6¼
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 6¼ each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleves
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mousselaine de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 6¼
Excellent LINSEY, eleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 6¼s
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 6¼s
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Brocha do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 6¼
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6¼
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6¼

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

MARYLAND STATE Six per cent. STOCK, in sums to suit purchasers—For sale by a12 E. W. ROBINSON, 80 Baltimore-st.

NOTICE.

The Steam Boat POCAHONTAS, Captain Holmes, will leave the lower end of Spear's wharf on FRIDAY, the 15th instant, at 10 o'clock, A. M. for Norfolk and the Portsmouth and Roanoke Rail Road. Passengers for Charleston will arrive at Weldon several hours prior to the departure of the cars for Wilmington, and will, if they meet with no detention at the latter place, arrive in Charleston early on Monday morning.

☞ The Thomas Jefferson will leave Norfolk for Richmond early on Saturday morning, so that passengers by the Pocahontas will arrive at their place of destination about 3 o'clock, P.M. the day after leaving Baltimore.

Fare to Weldon, (meals on board included)	$16
Fare to Norfolk, (meals included,)	10
Fare from Norfolk to Richmond, (meals included,)	4

JNO. C. MOALE, General Agent
ja12 4t Balt. Steam Packet Co.

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. Williams, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 56 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

TO THE LADIES.

THE subscriber, very thankful for the past favors awarded him by the ladies of Baltimore, Washington, and the adjoining cities, begs leave to inform them that he has on hand, a full supply of Ladies', Misses, and Children's SHOES of every variety, and made by the very best workmen and of good materials; and, what is the best of it, at very low prices. For further particulars, Ladies will please call and see
JOHN BANGS, No. 106 Pratt-st. near Eutaw.

TO GENTLEMEN, who wish good BOOTS and cheap, call at No. 106 Pratt street, and they can be accommodated with a good article at a low price.
JOHN BANGS.

N. B. All kinds of BOOTS & SHOES sold, wholesale and retail, at the above establishment.
ja9-eo3t*

STRAYED, from the subscriber's stable on Saturday evening last, a Blk. MARE, a few white hairs on her forehead—also has some white spots on the back, caused by chafing of the saddle, full long tail, a first rate hackney, about 14 hands high, 8 or 9 years old. Ten dollars reward will be paid for her on being delivered at the City Mill on Calvert street, or at No. 15 Spear's wharf. ja12-3t* C. KELLER.

DOG LOST. On Sunday evening, a POINTER PUP, liver colored and white spotted, about four months old, answers to the name of GROUSE, had a brass chain and plate round the neck, but no name on it. A reward of two dollars will be paid to any person who will bring him to the office of the Clipper. ja12-3t*

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, cleecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and boneset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North-st. d12-y

WILLIAM H. KIMBALL & CO.
No. 145 BALTIMORE STREET,

MERCHANT TAILORS, and DEALERS in Broad Cloths; Cassimeres; Vestings; Beaver and Pilot Clothes; Cassinetts; Flannels; Silk Velvets; Silk Handkerchiefs; Shirts; Drawers; Worsteds; Neck Stocks; Scarfs; Collars; Bosoms; Suspenders, &c. &c.

Also, a large and extensive assortment of ready-made Clothing, consisting of Dress and Frock Coats; Pantaloons; Vests, and Over Coats—which will be sold at the lowest possible prices for cash. ja8

PATENT NIGHT LIGHTS.

THIS ARTICLE (of new invention) consumes not more than half the quantity of OIL, and is superior to any other Night Light now in use. It burns without any wick, and gives a clear and steady light. To housekeepers it will prove to be an invaluable article—price 12½ cents. For sale by
MORTIMER & MOWBRAY,
Nos. 116 & 180 Market street.
By appointment of the Patentee.

P. S. A liberal deduction made to wholesale dealers.
ja9-1w*

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE, That the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court of Baltimore county, letters of administration on the personal estate of JOHN P. MEYERDIRCKS, late of said county, deceased. All persons, having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, on or before the 22d day of June, 1841, they may otherwise be excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons, indebted to the said estate, are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand, this 22d day of December, 1840.
d23-law4t BRANTZ MAYER, Adm'r.

INSUBORDINATION.

NO. 4. The fourth No. of INSUBORDINATION, a Story of Baltimore, by the author of the "Subordinate," has been published by Knight & Colburn, 174 Baltimore street, and is for sale by them and at the different Book Stores in the city. ja12-3t

WANTED TO EMPLOY, by the month or year, 4 or 5 Negro men (slaves) to work on a Farm near the city. They will be well treated, and the owners receive the highest wages, which will be punctually paid them in the city. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, Baltimore-st. corner of Frederick street.

Also, wanted to employ, a Colored man as Waiter in a Private Family. Apply as above. [s] ja5

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES; French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞ All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.
o3-tf

HANCE'S SUPERIOR LILY WHITE.

THIS is the only article which has ever improved the most beautiful creatures in the world—to wit—the "Baltimore Ladies"—warranted not to injure the skin. SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

UNION BANK STOCK.

300 SHARES, for sale at a reduced rate, for which the Notes of the FRANKLIN BANK will be taken in payment, at par.
ja7-3t* CLARK, Museum Building, Balt. Md.

WESTERN BANK & CITIZEN'S BANK STOCK—For sale, payable in Franklin Bank Paper. Apply to
ja7-3t S. HARRIS & SON.

SITUATION WANTED, by a middle aged man, in some Wholesale Store, as Book-keeper or Clerk—best references given. Apply at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore street. ja12

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of
HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,
For the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Creston & Son, Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq. do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq. do.
James Hepburn, esq. do.
Christian Haldeman, esq. Columbia.
Jacob M. Haldeman, esq. Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq. Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank, Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq. Cash. Girard do.
William S. Smith, esq. Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq. Boston.
Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-d2weo2w*

VALLIER'S FRENCH PILL, FOR THE CURE OF SECRET DISEASES. One box of these inestimable Pills is worth all the Quack Medicines in the world.

Comment. If we examine the nature of the above diseases, and the situation of the parts affected, we must consider it a very important object to be able to obtain a remedy at once certain in its action, and at the same time composed of such ingredients as will prevent the possibility of discovery while using it. It is a fact well known to many, that most of the remedies offered for these diseases are composed of such nauseous drugs, as to render it almost impossible to continue their use without creating a sickness at the stomach or other unpleasant consequences. Such being the case there can be no doubt but such a remedy as Vallier's French Pills, will meet the universal approbation, being entirely free from those objections; pleasant in their operation, and prompt in removing the disease. The proprietor would here remark, that the efficacy of these Pills in the disorders alluded to, are not based upon supposition; on the contrary, it is founded upon rational experience, having used them in a successful practice for upwards of two years, he feels confident of their superiority over the remedies hitherto employed.

☞ Price one dollar per box. For sale in Baltimore by SETH S. HANCE,
ja11-y Corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

LADIES' COMPANION, April No. for January, 1841, received by
WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. MOORE'S, No. 74 Market street—and at
No. 98 N. Gay-street, near Fayette-st.

☞ Terms $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly.

Opinion of the New York Press:

We have been favored with a copy of a steel engraving of the Light House near Caldwell's Landing, intended to illustrate the January number of the Ladies' Companion, published by Mr. Snowden, 109 Fulton-st. It is indeed a fine specimen of the art, and reflects no ordinary credit upon the enterprize of the conductor of that Magazine. The number will contain articles from the following writers:

Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, Mrs. E. F. Ellet, Mrs. Annan, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances L. Osgood, Mrs. E. R. Steele, Mrs. Caroline Orne; Professors Longfellow & Ingraham; Mr. H. Herbert, Francis W. Thoman, Greenville Mellen; Rev. J. H. Church; Mr. Rufus Dawes, Wm. Gilmore Sims, Epes Sargent, Park Benjamin, George P. Morris, Robert Hamilton, C. F. Daniels, H. T. Tuckerman, Henry B. Hunt, (of Philadelphia,) Wm. G. Howard, (of Ohio); Mrs. E. C. Embury; Mrs. Hofland, (of London,) and many others. Also, an original piece of Music, composed by J. G. Meder, expressly for the occasion ja5

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,
(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland,)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns, Cornices and Door Bases; Grecian and Roman Ionic Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as good quality and as cheap as can be purchased at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.
d23-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 31st of August, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Chemical, Philosophical, and Astronomical Apparatus, is extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by Mr. J. C. Robinson. Augustus Freitag, L. L. D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the German.

☞ Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or enter pupils, will receive every attention, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. Baxter, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.
a8-tf J. B. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

BY ORDER of the Commissioners of Insolvent Debtors for the City and County of Baltimore, Notice is hereby given to the creditors of William Brown, an insolvent debtor, that a personal discharge hath been granted to the said debtor, and that the said creditors are required to attend at the office of the said Commissioners in the Court-house, in the city of Baltimore, on the 7th day of December next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and nominate a trustee or trustees, to be appointed for their benefit: and to give all the information in their possession to the said Commissioners, to enable them to report to Baltimore County Court, agreeably to an act of Assembly, passed at December session, 1831, entitled, An Act, relating to insolvent debtors;" and that the 7th day of February next hath been fixed for the final hearing in his case, before the said Commissioners. Dated the 6

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT FROM BUENOS AYRES—RAISING OF THE BLOCKADE BY THE FRENCH FLEET. The New York Herald of the 10th inst. says:—By the arrival last evening of the brig Cervantes, Capt. M'Manus, in 48 days from Rio Janeiro, we received the highly important intelligence of the raising of the Blockade of Buenos Ayres, by the French forces before that city.

Our dates from Monte Video are to the 31st of October, and from Rio de Janiero to the 19th of November.

One of our fast sailing news clippers boarded the Cervantes late last night, and brought us this important news exclusively.

We snacx the following extracts, translated from the Portugese papers.

All the intelligence relative to that important movement on the part of the French is contained in the letter taken from the 'Jornal du Commercio' of Nov. 19:—

MONTEVIDEO, Oct. 31, 1840. I have to communicate to you the important news we received yesterday from Buenos Ayres, by the French brig Vegie,

As soon as the commander of this vessel had a correspondence with the Admiral Dupotet, intelligence was conveyed from the frigate Athlante, to all the captains of the French vessels in that port, that they could proceed to Buenos Ayres.

It then appears that peace has been concluded and that the French question is settled, but the conditions of the treaty are unknown. The French were only informed of it, and advised to make the most of it. The French vessels in this port will, without doubt, improve the opportunity immediately.

There is a great deal of fermentation here against the French in consequence, and it is supposed they will suffer somewhat.

The vessels in this port are all nearly ready to start. It is supposed on good authority, that this government will go to war with that of Buenos Ayres. It will take instant measures to blockade that port as soon as the French leave.

Rivera says that the cause of Rosas will finish only on the point of the sword.

This news has stopped all commercial transactions. The last sale of Flour was at 16 dollars, and Salt at 8 reals on board. Exchange on London 45.

N. B. I have to say that persons on board of the Athlante assure me that the conditions of the treaty concluded between Rosas and Mackau are favourable to Rosas and to Buenos Ayres.

By this we learn that as soon as the French leave the Argentine, Rivera will commence operations against them. So they will have no peace. Rivera arrived at Montevideo on the 27th of October, and was received with enthusiasm. He immediately assumed the reins government. He was moving actively.

The intelligence from the several provinces of the Brazilian empire is satisfactory.

The territory on the Amapa has been abandoned by the French.

It was expected that good order would soon be restored in Maranham. The Imperialists had uniformly been successful over the rebels.

Nothing decisive had been received from Rio Grande. General Andrea was preparing to attack the Rebels. But Gonsalves said he would only treat with the Imperial government direct.

The attention of the Metropolitan province had been almost exclusively occupied with the voting for the electors who are to choose the members for the chamber of the General Legislative Assembly of the four years, 1841 to 1845. No serious disturbance had taken place. Every thing appeared favorable to the present ministers.

Cara was a little excited by the elections.

THE FRESHET. We received yesterday afternoon, at rather a late hour, the regular mails due from the north and east. They bring still further accounts of the late disastrous floods. A letter from Mauch Chunk, dated Friday evening, says:

"Our darkest forebodings have been more than realized; all our beautiful navigation above and below is swept away—dams, locks, lock-houses, inmates and all gone; those beautiful locks entirely swept away; the bridges above and below gone; the large railroad bridge at the end of the Narrows, the one at Lehighton Gap, &c. all gone. Out of 20 houses from Squire Sayres' to Lehighton, but 4 remain, and very many of the inmates goas with them. Those who heard them, say that their shrieks for help were most appalling; every account grows more dreadful—the river is a clear stream reaching from mountain to mountain."

The New York Signal of the 11th says the names of the two persons drowned near the Croton Works were Wm. Evans and Robert Smith. They were upon a tree which was taken down by the current, in sight of their friends who could render no assistance.

It is said that all the dams on the Lehigh have been swept off, together with mills, &c.

In Manayunk, two woollen factories, a paper mill, several dwellings and other valuable property have been destroyed. Several breaches occurred in the canal in the neighborhood of Flat Rock, and the bridge across the canal at that place was swept off, and lodged across the canal a short distance below.

The Connecticut rivers broke up without doing much damage. But the rail road at Norwich was so submerged that the cars were detained. Heavy losses are reported on the North River, at Catskill especially. The loss at the Saugerties water power is reported at $ 100,000.

At Pottsville, and in that region, so far as heard from, the destruction has been immense. A Pottsville paper of the 9th says there is no estimating the damages sustained in the borough and vicinity. The mining operations along the Schuylkill canal have been seriously injured. Many persons have lost their sole dependence. The anthracite furnace and steam grist mill sustained serious damages. Breaches along the canal are numerous and of great magnitude. Human life has also been in great peril.

Along the Delaware there is no possibility of calculating the damages. It is impossible at present to give any accurate account of the extent of injuries sustained by the late calamitous freshet; but we have reason to believe that they have been more awful than we can yet form any idea of.

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

MR. DAVISON'S WRITING ACADEMY, for instructions with the Muscular Guide, No. 41 Baltimore street. The plan recommended by the Maryland Institute of Teachers. se8-y

M. H. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 62 S. CALVERT STREET, keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c. d23-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 27 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. d23-y

MARX & HART, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d19-6m

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 43 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n18-3m

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 19 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. n19-y WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se29-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se22-d

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 4 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. s4-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. jy23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je10-6m*

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 124 BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. m26-y

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 39 Fayette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. m11-y1m*

MINIATURES, Painted in the best style, by Mrs. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. mh13-y

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headache; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma, Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as is Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞ A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.

Medical Office, No. 27 Hanover street, Boston.

Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.

Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. ROBY.

WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. ROBY having spent two years in practice with Dr. G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call. d12-6m H. N. ROBY.

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, sometimes with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side; the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Harlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. 1y28-y

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States in immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞ None genuine without the name of COMSTOCK & Co., written on the wrappers.

SOLOMON HAYS.

☞ For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. s24-eodm

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞ Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

sel7-tf E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

CURRANTS AND CRANBERRIES.

500 POUNDS FRESH CURRANTS
7 bbls Superior CRANBERRIES
For sale by MARCUS DENNISON,
d24 31 Baltimore street.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 20 good white and colored COOKS, to fill desirable places in different parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES and 2 NURSES. d25

20 Bbls. Fifth Proof Monongahela WHISKEY
50 boxes Sperm, Mould and Dipt CANDLES
100 boxes Choice CHEESE
20 baskets Bordeaux OIL, received and for sale by
d2 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

WANTED, immediately, two good Cooks; three good colored Cooks. Also, a good seamstress. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. [A] d21

COPPER PLATE AND MUSIC PAPER, on hand and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
d17 No. 2 S. Charles street.

JAMISON'S Fresh SODA, SUGAR, WATER, and BUTTER CRACKERS, just received for sale by MARCUS DENISON, s6 31 Baltimore street.

OHIO Rail Road, Tide Water, Virginia & Wheeling NOTES—For sale by s12 R. W. ROBINSON, 60 Baltimore-st.

JOB PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE.

PRACTICAL JOB PRINTERS, beg leave to inform their friends and the public, that they are prepared for the execution of every description of PRINTING, on the most extensive scale. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. embrace every variety necessary for the most finished execution of all work that may be entrusted to them.

They will print, to order:

BUSINESS CARDS	HANDBILLS
BALL TICKETS	WAYBILLS
CIRCULARS	STEAMBOAT BILLS
CHEQUES	RAIL ROAD BILLS
NOTES	STAGE BILLS
BILL HEADS	SHOW BILLS
CATALOGUES	PAMPHLETS
BILLS OF LADING	LABELS
LOTTERY BILLS	HATTERS' TIPS,

Together with FANCY JOBS, in Colors, for framing,
LARGE POSTING BILLS.

For Theatres, Circuses, &c. &c., printed to order, at the shortest notice, in the most showy style.

B. & T. have also in operation, in their Office, the "Helper Double-action Printing Machine," recently imported from England expressly for their use, by the aid of which they will be enabled to execute PRINTING at much lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch, than heretofore.

☞ In returning thanks to their friends for the favors of the past year, they assure them their usual personal attention will be paid to the prompt and correct execution of all orders in their business, at very reduced prices.

☞ Call at the CLIPPER OFFICE, No. 7 North Gay street. ja8-d

CITY INTELLIGENCE,
REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE,
N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Porters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to EMPLOY any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., R. W. BOOL, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N. B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. ja7

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscriber respectfully announces that he has established his Office at No. 3 NORTH-ST. next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those Ladies and Gentlemen who may be desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION.

E. TYLOR can confidently state that his extensive practical experience, enables him to give individuals a faithful delineation of their mental capacity, peculiar talents and disposition, as well as point out what pursuit in life they are best qualified by nature to perform. A good assortment of Phrenological Books, Almanacs, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale cheap, by

E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist.

N. B. Chart and Examination, only 50 cts. ja9

R. G. BUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had BUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. s15-eodm

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slatt-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. sel-dtf A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

3 The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having defied the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO. No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-streets., on the corner of Ulter's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 3 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Drug Store, Washington City; E. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.

Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. o31-tf

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by
d19 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

BOARDING may be obtained by two or three genteel young men, or a gentleman and his lady, in a respectable private boarding house, near the Exchange—terms moderate. Apply at the Intelligence Office, N. W. corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. d30 [A]

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing FITS, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞ Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains as aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by 1y28-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and this market, a splendid assortment of Rich SILK GOODS, consisting as follows—

1 case 4-4 Rich Glace Faconne, all colors
1 " do. Black and Blue Black Gro de Affrique
1 " do. Satin Striped and Figured Heienca
1 " do. Satin Stripe and Rept, all shades
1 " do. 4-4 Black and Blue Black Gro de Rhine
1 " Plain Gro de Swiss, all colors.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

Just opened—Extra super 9-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
" Very splendid Satin Glace Shawls, large
" 8-4 Cabeech SHAWLS
" 9-4 Broche do.
" 8-4 Thibet Wool do.

MOUSELIN DE LAINES.

One case Black Ground Mouselin de Laine, heavy
Colored Figured do. very superior quality
Half mourning Mouselin de Laine
Handsome assortment Plain and Figured do.
One case superior French MERINOS, all colors.

With a general assortment of New Style Fall Goods, to which they very respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER,
n13 43 Market-st., 4 doors above Gay.

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,

Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosenkranntz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophicydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and flour threads. ap18-1y

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞ Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞ The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand.

o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st. C. WEST.

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival. For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

And in Washington City, by
CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.

☞ With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Emporium, No. 98 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered. Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HANDBILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.
SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by
SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d28-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

INDIA RUBBER SHOES—
Men's plain RUBBERS, Women's plain do
Misses do do do fig'd do
A few cases of each. Just received per barque Ida, and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 South Charles street.

FOR RENT. A neat two story Brick HOUSE in Canal street, 4th door south of Monument-st., in first rate order, handsomely papered, the ceiling with a glazed paper—the rent will be $8 per month. Also, a HOUSE in Walk-st., old town.
Inquire of M. A. DYSART, 31 E. Baltimore st.
ja6-6taw Third door from Exeter street.

13 Cases Kip and Thick BROGANS, some extra sizes, just received per barque Ida, and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 S. Charles-st.

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE,
2d January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one of Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled 'The Playmates;' a plate of fashions, with three female figures beautifully colored; two pages of Music, and Angling illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER:

The Young Rambler, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Soldier's the Lad for Me, by A. McMain.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Durang.
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Realm of '76, by the author of 'Chasing in the Last War.'
Sabbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. Clark.
Thine—Only Thine. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. Feltong.
Music. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by S. Nelson.

EMBELLISHMENTS:

'The Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞ Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city and sent by mail to all parts of the United States or the Canadas, by the publisher.

Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, 74 Market st.
And at No. 98 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
ja2 Baltimore, Md.

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at low price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty, 16 superb plates—price	$3.50
Keepsake, 13 do do	3 50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals, 15 plates,	3.00
Forget-Me-Not, 11 plates	2.00
Friendship's Offering, 10 plates,	2.00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux ans Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals. Call and examine, at

WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
s31 And at No. 98 N. Gay-st. near Fayette-st.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR CONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, and they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by SAM'L. CAREY, corner of South & Pratt-sts.

JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

Washington City, by
W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the Avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.

In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.
oc9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS.)

HAVE FOR SALE, 13 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10 cases	do	do	Cap PAPER
15 do	do	Bailey's Fine and Superfine Letter			PAPER
5 do	do	do	do	Cap	do
4 do	do	do	do	Folio post	do
99 do	Hudson's	do	do	Letter	do
15 do	do	do	do	Cap	do
10 do	do	do	do	Flat Cap	do
8 do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super royal WRITING PAPER
12 do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter				do
6 do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2 do	do	Super Flat Cap
12 do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5 do	Tickey and Leyste's		do		do
10 do	Plainer & Smith's		do		do
4 do	do	Folio and Packet Post
15 do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2 do	do	Ledger PAPERS
20 do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter

9000 reams NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2000 do Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300 do Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞ Printing and Writing INKS; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Band Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers to a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 76 MARKET-ST, CORNER OF HOLLIDAY

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH; of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Hoop and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞ All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT H. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
oc16-6m No. 12 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets; price not to exceed $2000. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to GEORGE GELBACH,
Real Estate and General Agency Office, d21 [A] ffice, corner Balt. & Frederick sts.

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rock ter White Wheat FLOUR
50 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs. Zante CURRANTS.

Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by
n13 tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

SUPERIOR CHEWING TOBACCO, and Bailie, Havana, and Principe CIGARS—for sale by mh9 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

ASSAY RATES' BLANKS. On hand and for sale by BULL & TUTTLE, Printers,
No. 7 N. Gay street, (Clipper Office)

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

TERMS OF THE PAPER—To subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞ Country Subscribers can receive the paper by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square 1 time,	$0 50	1 square 1 month,	$4 00
1 do. 2 times,	75	1 do. 2 months,	7 00
1 do. 3 do.	1 00	1 do. 3 do.	10 00
1 do. 1 week,	1 75	1 do. 6 do.	16 00
1 do. 2 weeks,	2 75	1 do. 1 year,	30 00

☞ Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.

VOL. III. NO. 104.] THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 14, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

TRUST NOT THE WORLD.

Think not the world is what it seems,
Deceit is every where;
Think not each word with goodness teems,
They may beget despair;
Think not each heart is fair within,
Tho' all without be bright,
They rankle oft with deepest sin,
When most concealed from light.

The heart may be estranged, and spurn
The object once its boast,
And yet, the outward smile return,
Of love, when loving most;
And too, the cup with wine may flow,
And sparkle to the brim,
Still, still, to him there's certain woe,
Who trusts his lips within.

The fairest flower may sweetly bloom,
And spread its fragrance round,
But soon it finds an early tomb,
The worm within is found:
A thousand snares are ever near,
Where all securely shower,
They oft deceive whom least we fear,
And prove our greatest foes.

Hartford, Jan., 1841.

A ROMANCE OF REALITY.

In the town of Havre-de-Grace, not many years ago, there lived an aged couple, Monsieur and Madame Dupre. In themselves, these personages were worthy and respected, but circumstances of a remarkable and romantic nature connected with their family rendered them objects of peculiar interest not only to their neighbors and fellow-citizens, but to all who visited the town of Havre. One of the near relatives of this venerable pair was destined to a career in life such as we shall only find a parallel in the pages of Arabian fiction.

Aline Dupre was born at Martinique in the year 1673. Her father possessed one of the best estates on the island, and spared no pains or expense in educating his daughter, whose rare natural qualities, both of person and mind, well merited the most careful development. At the age of fourteen, when womanly charms are almost matured in that clime, Aline was the pride of her family, and the admiration of the upper circles of the colony. In private society no one surpassed her in vivacity of spirit; in the ball-room the graces of her person and movements were unrivalled; and she possessed musical talents well fitted to enhance and complete the impression made by her appearance and address.—Such was Aline Dupre, when an unforseen accident gave a sudden turn to her prospects and fortunes. Excited by oppression, real or imaginary, a numerous band of negroes made their escape from their masters, and spread the most serious alarm over the whole island. Profiting by the seantiness of the military force stationed there at the time, these runaways committed various outrages and made threatening demonstrations at many different points, calling every where upon their fellow-slaves to join their standard. None of the negroes in the employ of M. Dupre had acceded to the insurgent band, but the station of that gentleman, and the high opinion entertained of his talents and activity, caused him to be pitched upon as the leader of the militia raised for the suppression of the mutineers. M. Dupre fulfilled with energy and success the duty intrusted to him. The fugitives were surrounded and captured, but only after a desperate struggle, in which M. Dupre received a mortal injury. He survived it long enough to permit him to receive from France the Cross of St. Louis, which the Governor of the Colony (the Marquis de Bouille) had requested for him. Soon after receiving this reward M. Dupre died, recommending, with his last breath, his daughter Aline and his only son to the care of the Governor.

The Marquis de Bouille did not neglect the charge committed to him. It had been the purpose of the late M. Dupre to return to France, where he had a small patrimonial property, and where various members of his family were settled. This intention had been partly formed with the view of completing the education of Aline and her brother, and in the hope of seeing them well established there in life. The Governor of Martinique determined to fulfil the wishes of the father in this respect. Finding the young Dupre, who was a year or two older than Aline, to have an inclination for a military life, the Marquis arranged that he should go to France and enter the regiment of Bouillon, while the sister was to be placed in the seminary of Saint Cyr, the highest institution then existing for persons of her sex. Aline and her brother accordingly embarked in a vessel for France. That vessel, however, never reached its destination. Its fate remained unknown for seven years, at the end of which time a letter, containing disclosures regarding it; was received by one of the friends of the Dupre family residing in France. This individual was a young lady who had spent some years of her youth in Martinique, and had been the playmate and dear friend of the young Aline. The letter alluded to was delivered by an Ambassador of a great power, and it was from his Sovereign—his crowned Queen. That Queen was Aline Dupre! The strange vicissitudes which placed Aline in this position were detailed, in the communication to her friend, nearly as follows:

The vessel which bore the brother and sister, intending to land on the western coast of France, reached the Straits of Gibraltar in safety. Soon afterwards, however, when the passengers, attracted by the beauty of the evening in that latitude, had assembled in a group on deck, an old negress in attendance on Aline pointed out a dark spot on the sea at a distance. The captain was present at a moment, and was observed to grow pale as he turned his eye on the object pointed out. But he made no remark, and the passengers retired for the night. In the morning they found nothing but bustle and alarm on board.—The vessel was pursued by a swift-sailing Algerian corsair, of a size which rendered it almost hopeless for a petty merchantman to attempt any resistance. Nevertheless, the crew took to their arms, resolved to sell their liberty dearly.—The pirates were not long in coming up and boarding, and, as might have been anticipated, soon overpowered all opposition. Aline had kept close by the side of her brother, determined to perish with him if he fell; and, when the capture took place, she was bound with him to the same chain. This association did not last long. When the corsair reached the port of Algiers, an order was issued for the conveyance of all the male prisoners ashore, and the retention of the females. The lingering spoken uttered her unintelligible to Aline, but she soon became sensible of the intended separation. Her agony was dreadful at the moment, the pang adding acutest to our insignificance in comparison with the overwhelming ill. She fell on her knees before the barbarian of the vessel, and used every entreaty, by words and gestures, which might have a chance of moving him to permit her accompanying our brother. Her tears and imploring looks fully expressed the meaning which her language could not convey, but they were totally disregarded, and her brother was carried off with his companions. All hope vanished as they parted with him, and Aline fell down in a swoon.

Her insensibility, at least to a partial extent, was of long continuance, every return of her powers of reflection serving only to renew her grief, and throw her back into a state of lethargy, which rendered her heedless of all around her. Zara, meanwhile, the old negress, watched over her with incessant care. When Aline regained something like composure, she found herself on board of a different vessel, and again upon the open sea. Zara informed her that she had been purchased by an Armenian merchant, and was now on the way to Smyrna, whence, after taking on board some Circassian and Georgian captives, Achmet, as the merchant was called, intended to proceed to Constantinople. Zara likewise added, that Achmet seemed to take a strong interest in her restoration to health. This last piece of intelligence was any thing but pleasing to the poor captive, and her mind was so heavily oppressed with a foreboding dread of the fate that seemed to await her, that she resolved to escape from it at the cost of life. No other way of effecting this object was in her power save that of starving herself. For two days she maintained this determination; and was already beginning to feel her strength diminishing, when some proceedings on the part of Zara changed altogether the train of her thoughts. The old negress, like many of her race, affected a power of reading the cards, or of telling fortunes, and she artfully led her languid mistress to express a wish to know what would be her brother's fate, the subject ever uppermost in her thoughts. Zara used the opportunity given to her most dexterously. Consulting the cards, she assumed, after a time, an aspect of great joy. "Your brother will yet be free and great! The cards declare it! And by you—by you shall he be saved!" The suggestion of such a possibility made an instantaneous and striking impression upon Aline, and raised in her a new train of thought. Finally, she resolved to desist from her course of abstinence, and to preserve her life, in the hope that whatever might be her own fate, she might yet have it in her power to alleviate the sufferings of her beloved brother.

When the vessel arrived at Smyrna, it chanced that, while Achmet was getting on board his other captives, he met the French consul in society, and mentioned he had a beautiful slave of French descent. The consul immediately requested to see her, and, after some difficulty, this was accomplished. On seeing Aline, Monsieur L. generously offered to purchase her from the Armenian and set her at liberty. "My brother," said Aline, "will you set him, too, at liberty?" "Alas!" said the consul, "that is not possible. How could he now be found out? The intervention of the Sultan alone, I fear could avail to discover his retreat, and procure his freedom." "The Sultan!" replied Aline, and for a few moments she remained in thought. "Well," continued she at length, "I cannot, and will not, since such is the case, accept of liberty for myself." The consul pressed her to alter her resolution, but the generous girl held firmly by her purpose. The slight hope which existed of finding in Constantinople some means of liberating the poor captive of Algiers, kept her fixed in the determination of remaining with Achmet. It seemed to her as if some secret power urged her onwards to the Turkish capital.

But, as she sailed thither, doubts and fears took possession of her mind. Her whole chance of success was founded on the vague possibility of her personally seeing the Sultan Abdul-Hamed, or some court courtier, from whom she might beg the life and liberty of her brother. But she remembered, and shuddered to remember, that she might become the purchased slave of some rich but obscure Turk, and might be shut out for ever from the light of day among strangers. With these thoughts in her mind, she proceeded to the presence of Achmet, and, assuming a firm and bold tone, she said, "Armenian, your fortune and mine are now in your hands. If I have observed aright, you do not confound me with these poor ignorant slaves, who have bodies, but no souls. Such as they subjugate the eyes, but not the heart. My character is different from theirs, and so will my destiny be. It will be a high one, and your fortunes shall rise with it. Introduce me to the presence of the Sultan, and depend upon my eternal gratitude." Achmet seemed to be struck by these words, and the confident tone in which they were uttered. His manner assumed a semblance of respect very unusual between master and slave, and he expressed his intention to gratify the wishes of Aline if possible. Accordingly, when the vessel entered the port of Constantinople, and the party were conveyed to the house of Achmet, he showed his intention by bringing her one of the richest dresses to be found in the city, this being a proper preliminary step, as he thought, to the execution of her design. But Aline declined assuming the garb, and contented herself with one of the most simple kind. To his surprise, the Armenian was compelled to admit that her appearance was more captivating without than with the rich attire obtained for her.

Though Achmet seemed thus desirous of fulfilling her wishes, day after day passed away without any mention of the approach of that event on which Aline rested every hope of procuring her brother's liberation. At last, however, Achmet announced that it was impossible for himself to introduce her to the sacred abode of the presence of the Sultan in any way.—"But do not despond," said he, "I have sold you, along with Zara, to Isaac-Aga, son of the old chief of the royal guards. He has promised to place you in the way of seeing the Sultan." Aline at first thought that she was deceived by false promises, but such was not the case. Isaac-Aga was faithful to his word, and Aline obtained her wish. She was brought before the Sultan. It is needless to linger on the issue. The skill of Aline in music was exerted to charm Abdul-Hamed, and not in vain. It was not long ere his passion for the accomplished captive grew so deep and strong that he made her his legitimate wife; and she had also the pleasure of embracing her brother, liberated, by the Sultan's orders, from the slave-chains of Algiers. Under the title of the Sultana Validé, Aline sustained Abdul-Hamed, by whom she bore the Sultan Mahmoud, father of the present youthful Sultan, and but recently deceased. Mahmoud did not immediately succeed his father, as stated in a relation during the intervening reigns of Selim and Mustapha. The civilized spirit of Mahmoud may in part be traced to the instructions of his mother, the Sultana Validé. She discovered the retreat of her relatives in France, and, at her hest, sent them letters, which were accompanied by magnificent presents. Monsieur and Madame Dupre, the aged pair described as residing at Havre-de-Grace, were her uncle and aunt, and shared liberally of her bounty. The Sultana Validé died in 1817, at the age of fifty four.

A TALE OF INDIAN COURTSHIP. The lovely daughter of a gallant and distinguished officer of rank, now at Cabool, while proceeding to join him, saw, loved, and was loved by a French son of Mars, an A. D. C. to a gallant general in the service of the Sikhs, of a very "unpronounceable" name. The course of this true love ran so smooth, that the lovers became plighted, with, of course, the concurrence of the parties next most interested to themselves. The Sikh general agreed to settle the sum of rupees on the bride of his A. D. C. on the wedding day, which was settled. The young A. D. C., Monsieur La Font, appeared at Cabool, where the ceremony was to be performed, and pitched his crimson tent near his future father's door, and all went merry as a marriage bell. But, alas! for the course of true love! the happy A. D. C. was recognized by some soldiers of a certain Queen's corps at Cabool—as a Prince! no! as the shop-boy of Mr. White, the Kurnaul merchant! The discovery made its way to the officers, to whose mess the soi disant A. D. C. had been invited by the father of the bride, as his guest. The officers refused to meet him until an explanation was offered: none was forthcoming, but next day the crimson tent and gay occupant had disappeared, and with them the happy event.—Agra Ukhbar.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 12th, 1841.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES. Six petitions for divorces were handed in, most of them from Baltimore.

Mr. Legrand, on leave, reported a bill to revive an act authorising certain alterations in Baltimore County and City Court rooms, passed Dec. Session, 1817, chapter 7. Ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. Causin submitted an order that this House will not hereafter entertain any application for divorce. Read and laid on the table.

SENATE. The President appeared and assumed the duties of the Chair.

The bill giving to the Chancellor and county courts, as courts of equity, jurisdiction in cases of divorces, was ordered to be engrossed for a third reading.

Mr. Scott presented a petition from sundry citizens of Harford county, for an alteration in the law relating to marriages, and the rights of the husband over the property of the wife. Referred to the committee on judicial proceedings.

FATAL AFFRAY. An affray took place on Shelton's creek, in Lincoln county, Va., between Frederick Benson and ——Pickett, which resulted in the death of the latter. It appears that they had been quarrelling for some time past, and meeting on that day, an attack was made by Pickett, when Benson drawing a pocket knife, stabbed him to the heart, and caused his death immediately. Benson was arrested, and after a patient hearing, committed to jail to await his trial.

The Governor of Virginia has appointed the 22d of February to deliver the medals voted at different times by the Legislature to the following officers, natives of Virginia, for their gallantry and services: Gen. Rogers Jones, Col. George Armistead, Major Thomas M. Nelson and Capt. Rich'd H. Bell, of the Army;—Captains Thomas Ap Catesby Jones, Chas. W. Morgan, Elie A. F. Vallette, Hugh T. Page of the Navy.

SHIPWRECK AND LOSS OF LIFE. The brig Gen. Harrison, (of Brookville) Douglas, from Castine, for St. Peters, was cast away on the Island of Granet, on the night of December 1st, in a gale and snow storm. Vessel and cargo a total loss. Jesse Dyer, seaman, of Brookville, and John Parker, cook, of Baltimore, were drowned in attempting to get ashore from the wreck. The captain and rest of the crew had arrived safe.—The vessel was insured in New York.

☞ Late intelligence has been received from Florida, but the only item of note, differing materially from what we have heretofore published, is the death of Capt. W. B. Davidson, of the 3d Artillery, in consequence of disease contracted in the everglades.

A few more Indians have come in and given up their arms. Indications are still more favorable as regards the termination of the war.

RESIGNATION. The Governor of Georgia has issued his proclamation convening the Banks to resume specie payments on the 1st of February next.

IN A BAD WAY. Sure never was the drama in so bad a way in New York as at present. Both the large theatres closed on the 9th, for want of support. Every variety of experiment has been tried to no purpose; and the managers have at last come to the conclusion that while they only assume liabilities which they are unable to meet, by keeping open, it is better to close the doors.

The Park is to be opened for concerts, promenade, refreshments, and all that.

CONFESSION OF MURDERERS. Bill Smith, Wilson Jones and John Swal, were on the 31st ult. taken to the second municipality prison, New Orleans, charged with murder and robbing the mail. Alexander, the particulars of which we gave some days since. The murderers have confessed their guilt, and express a desire to be shot.

KISS VS. POCKETBOOK. A fair damsel in New Orleans stole her lover's pocketbook while he was stealing a kiss from her. We are inclined to think that the fair one made the most profitable transaction.

☞ The bakery establishment of Mr. Kolb, at Charleston, S. C. was destroyed by fire on the 8th inst. Also some adjoining buildings.

The first trial of Dr. Eldridge, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, cost the county $1100. The cost of the second will not fall short of $2500. A sad system this.

GREAT SLAUGHTER. No less than 17,000 hogs have been killed at one slaughter house in Louisville the past fall.

☞ A man named Frazier was killed in a fight, in Philadelphia, on Sunday last.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE,
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE

TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Bay Line—the Companies on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedule:

Leave Philadelphia	8 A.M. reach	Baltimore	2 P.M.
" Baltimore	4 P.M.	" Washington	6 P.M.
" Washington	5 A.M.	" Fredk'sburg	12 M.
" Fred'ksburg	12 M.	" Richmond	5 P.M.
" Richmond	5 P.M.	" Petersburg	7 P.M.
" Petersburg	7 P.M.	" Weldon	1 A.M.
" Weldon	1 A.M.	" Wilmington	1 P.M.
" Wilmington	1 P.M.	" Charleston	at 5 the next day.

As this Line carries the Great Mail, (which cannot be delayed,) and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is sure of a connection throughout, whilst it is evident that Foul Roads, Weather and Storms must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two-thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT ISLAND ROUTE.

☞ The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon and travellers have no expense or trouble with their Baggage.

☞ This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞ This is the only Daily Line to Richmond and Petersburg.

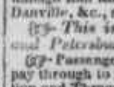
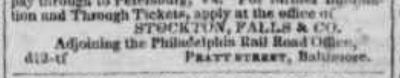
☞ Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of
STOCKTON, FALLS & CO.
Adjoining the Philadelphia Rail Road Office,
d13-tf PRATT STREET, Baltimore.

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.



The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $3.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $5. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate



Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and doing at a low rate, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are more advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at
W. H. KEVIL & CO'S,
No. 66½ Baltimore-st., opposite Tripolett's alley.
And 4 doors W. of Bond's well known Clothing Store.
d16-3m19

JOB PRINTING.
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Latter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

THE proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are expressly prepared to execute any and every description of FANCY or PLAIN JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enamelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞ Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Warranted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by Dr. HUSSELBRUER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $5!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

DR. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a quick cure, under a forfeiture of 10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Husselbaugh, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has three celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the destructive quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with those celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $5. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. oct3-y1m*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.
DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND,
For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabetes or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the urethra of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, composed solely of vegetable substance? One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N. B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of E. J. PITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Briton and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞ For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue. And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL.
dec5-y

A BLESSING TO ALL MANKIND.

The VEGETABLE FLUID SYRUP, or Mercurial Extractor. This infallible Syrup is the discovery of an old veteran and hero of the vegetable kingdom; from his long researches, his labors have been crowned with the glorious result of a positive remedy for the bad effects of that poisonous drug (Mercury,) and while it has this new efficacious effect upon the bones affected with mercury, it at the same time purifies the blood from the remnants of Venereal Disease, Scrofulous Affections, Splotches and Eruptions upon the Skin, old standing indolent Ulcers, &c.

For sale, wholesale, and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO., No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-sts., on the corner of Usher's alley; and at the General Agency Office, No. 3 Pitt street, Baltimore. Also, at WM. LANPHIER'S Drug Store, Washington, D. C. d23

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor Deca-tur,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.
HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.
☞ Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
AN AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 22 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Elder and Coal-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 100,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and ready, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞ Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.
je18-6 HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.
mh3-4tf HOPE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.
THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.
a3-tf G. W. PEARCE.

CASSIA AND CHAMPAGNE.
10 CASES FRESH CASSIA
10 baskets Genuine Anchor CHAMPAGNE
Landing from Celeste, for sale by
MARCUS DENISON,
de24 No. 31 Baltimore street.

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. a 25

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

THURSDAY MORNING, JAN. 14, 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

THE BANKS. We have no personal knowledge of the evils of which "Ariel" complains, but have not considered ourselves at liberty to withhold his statement of them from our readers.—Admitting their existence, we doubt whether his proposed remedies would prove efficient. If stockholders choose to transfer to the cashier their right to select directors, a simple publication of the names of stockholders every three months, would not change the proceeding. The practice could be better avoided by requiring that all stock be voted in person by the stockholder, and yet this would frequently have a hard and injurious bearing.

Our correspondent desires to restrict the accommodations of directors to $30,000, each, we presume. This is, truly, a very liberal allowance; and if each director were to reach this limit, other customers of the bank would have to go on "short commons." Some directors may exceed this amount, but we doubt whether many of them have the fourth of this sum on accommodation.—If there must be a limit, other than discretion and safety, we should fix it much below the mark of our correspondent. A director who is accommodated to double the amount of his stock, might be content. But there is one safeguard to stockholders and others interested, that we think could be applied with advantage. Let every director, and other bank officer, in case of failure of the bank, be compelled to pay the amount of his indebtedness in specie. This would take away all inducement to break a bank, and prevent speculation upon innocent parties.

There is one defect in banking which, we fear, exists in most of these institutions. It is the granting of enormous loans to individuals, whilst minor claimants receive little or no attention.—There should be no favoritism in banking, but every application for money should be tested by the same rule, the certainty of the security offered. We think also, that, if the banks were to make it a condition of the loan that all accommodation paper should be reduced so much per cent. on each renewal, it would be found beneficial to bank and borrower.

DIVORCES. Our grave legislators are pushed to the wall by the ladies, and have cried peccavi. So numerous are the applications of the sweet creatures to be released from the control of the bearded monsters, that petticoat petitioners have hunted down members, who, in very despair, cry "hold, enough." Bad husbands or bad wives must be "as plenty as blackberries," if we judge from the numerous divorce petitions presented.—We are practically sliding into Fanny Wrightism, and making marriage a mere verbal contract, binding upon the parties as long as they may be pleased with each other, and no longer. Does the husband become a little grum, or the wife think that she could be happier with another, she is off to Annapolis with her petition, and smiles and tears are brought to aid her efforts to separate from her brutal lord. We do not wonder that members should shrink from encountering this Amazonian army—and therefore cannot blame Mr. Cassin for introducing a resolution to receive no more divorce petitions. The nuptial knot, which it was supposed, in less refined times, should hold for life, is now, like a rope of sand, parted with the least motion—and the solemnity of the marriage rite has become a broad farce.—This change, we presume, will be classed amongst the improvements of the age.

We suspect that members of the legislature begin to think less of the Annapolis and Baltimore Rail Road, since they find the cars loaded with clamorous wives.

PUBLIC LANDS. In the discussion of the pre-emption bill now before the Senate, Mr. Calhoun has taken occasion to renew his proposition to cede the public lands to the states in which they lie, upon certain conditions. He estimates the quantity of public lands at 160,000,000 acres; and this immense amount of public property, ceded by the old states to the general government for the common benefit, or purchased out of the common fund, it is proposed to cede to a few states, upon an inferior consideration, which may or not be paid. This policy cannot be acceptable to the old states; but, if a final disposition of the subject be not speedily made, we fear that the proposition to cede will be adopted. Mr. Calhoun is pointedly opposed to distribution, as proposed in the land bill heretofore passed by Congress, but vetoed; and can see no remedy for an excitement upon this subject other than cession. Justice requires that the common stock should be distributed equitably to all the states, and we know of no plan more easy of execution than that pointed out in the land bill—to sell the lands and distribute the proceeds.

We doubt whether any definitive action upon the subject will be had during the present session of Congress, which must terminate on the fourth of March; but we hope that another session will not be permitted to pass without a final settlement of the matter.

To Maryland, under existing circumstances, it is of the first importance to receive her equitable portion from the proceeds of public lands—but, were it not demanded by her necessities, the justice of her claim should be enforced by her representatives; for we cannot perceive any propriety in voluntarily relinquishing that to which she is clearly entitled.

THE BELPER PRESS. We some time since gave a description of this beautiful machine, and invited printers and others to examine it at the Clipper office. It was imported from England expressly for our own use, and, in the rapidity and neatness with which it prints, exceeds any press that we have ever seen in operation. We have found it extremely serviceable, and, indeed, absolutely necessary in the publication of the Clipper, as we should be unable, upon the ordinary press, to strike off the immense edition of our paper in time to supply subscribers. We do not regret the heavy expense incurred in the purchase of this press, as the large daily addition to our subscription list, and the augmentation of advertising custom, promise ample remuneration for our outlay, and recompense for our labors.

One of those printing machines has also been obtained by the proprietors of the Norfolk Herald, who speak of it in the following terms:

"Our New Printing Machine.—The Herald is now printed on a patent printing machine imported expressly to our order from the patentees, Messrs Carr & Smith, of the town of Belper, in Derbyshire (England.) It has been too recently put up in our office to afford a fair specimen of its execution as respects the quality of its work, the persons appointed to tend it, not being yet exactly au fait to its operations; but in the rapidity with which it throws off the sheets there is no mistake. It is one of the most beautiful, eligible and perfect pieces of machinery which the inventive genius of man has yet struck out for the purpose of expediting the diffusion of right knowledge through the agency of printing. It is the great "Napier," so justly celebrated for its wonderful speed in multiplying impressions, and in some respects, yield the palm to its successor, the 'Belper machine,' which, with greater velocity of action, costs but half the price of the Napier, and is less complicated in its mechanical agencies, a circumstance which peculiarly adapts it to general use, especially in situations where the services of scientific machinists, are not to be readily obtained in the event of any accident to the machine requiring such aid. There is nothing about the Belper press that is not perfectly simple and easily understood, or which may not be supplied by any skilful blacksmith, or adjusted by any ordinary pressman.

"The number of impressions which it throws off per hour, must of course be regulated by the dexterity of those who tend the machine (and boys of from 12 to 14 years old might suffice for that purpose.) In the leisurely way in which we do our work at the South, a thousand impressions per hour may be accomplished with ease; at the north, however, where they move to allegretto time, in doing their work, the fair average might be from 1200 to 1500; but the machine is capable of throwing off 2000 per hour, with skilful performers and a prestissimo movement.

"We are aware that the state of the times would admonish us to contract rather than expand our operations; but having commenced a daily publication; and having had mortifying experience of delays and disappointments in the use of the old hand press, we have ventured at a very heavy expense, to carry into effect what we had contemplated some time previous, namely, to supply ourselves with a power press to do our work with the desired certainty and celerity, when we should hear of one combining the necessary requisites to adapt it to our contingencies; and we were fortunate enough to fall in with a gentleman who gave us such an idea of the Belper machine as convinced us that it was precisely the article we were in quest of, and we forthwith ordered one through Messrs. Watchman & Bratt, Machinists, of Baltimore; the former of whom, on a visit to England had seen the machine in operation, and, with the eye of an artist, was struck with its peculiar beauty and simplicity. We can now, at any moment when the inner form of our paper is laid upon the bed of the machine, have the entire impression struck off in about an hour and a half, by which extraordinary facility we are enabled to proceed as expeditiously as we please, to send out our carriers to the town, or pack up our mails for the country. Seven hours was about the average time consumed in the same operation with our old press.

"This is the only machine of this description at present in the United States, except one imported at the same time for Messrs. Bell & Tuttle, publishers of the Baltimore Clipper, which is now in active and successful operation in their office.

"The machine is a beautiful article, and it is really curious and interesting to see the sheets flying off from it, right and left, as if it was indued with some invisible power. The work of those who tend it is so exciting that they perform their tasks con amore, and appear to be sorry when they are ended!"

☞ AN EXPOSITION OF ENGLISH GRAMMAR, in conversational or familiar lectures, containing a systematic order for parsing and false syntax corrected; observations on better writing and comprehensive lectures on rhetoric and elocution. Designed for those persons who have not had the advantage of this branch of education in early life, and also for the use of schools. By George Little."

The author is a townsman, and the volume comes recommended to the public by Dr. Monkur, David King, Esq. principal of the East Baltimore Female Institute, and the Rev. John Smith, pastor of the Seamen's Bethel, Fell's Point; all competent judges, and all of whom have carefully and critically examined it. We have glanced over the pages, which appear to be written in a plain, intelligible style; and the arrangement seems well adapted to the design of the author—that is, to convey a knowledge of grammar in familiar lectures. But, were this work not critically correct, we should waive all objection, and earnestly recommend it to public patronage, for the reason, that the author, (who is a worthy man with a family,) has had the misfortune to lose his eye-sight. This affliction should be sufficient, without reference to the merits of the book, to induce the humane to purchase. It is for sale at the bookstores of Armstrong & Berry and Isaac P. Cook.

A SHIP FOUNDERED. The ship Grace Brown, capt. Duff, bound to Baltimore from Liverpool, was taken into Norfolk on the 9th inst. in a damaged condition. The ship had encountered a severe gale 25 miles south of Cape Henry; from thence she was blown off to lat. 32, where she struck on the south east point of Mobile ground, causing her to leak badly. The captain and crew abandoned her in the long boat, made shore in safety, and took passage for Norfolk, where they found their vessel. She had been taken in tow by the steamer Star. Her cargo was much damaged.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

SOUTH DOWN MUTTON. Yesterday we dined off some delicious mutton chops which we bought at the stall of our Friend Turner, Centre market, and we feel bound, from the high gratification afforded us, (no doubt, says the reader,) to pay him a public compliment for the great superiority of his mutton over any that we have seen or ate this season. There will be another splendid display at his stall on Saturday next, so go early if you wish to obtain a choice morceau.

PRAISEWORTHY. We were informed yesterday that Mr. Matthew Collins, who keeps a wood yard on the Point, invariably makes it a rule to lower the price of his wood per cord 50 cents whenever a snow storm commences, in order that the poor may be served at reasonable prices during the inclement weather. Such an act deserves commendation, and partially counteracts the effects of those who raise the price of fuel as soon as a flake of snow is seen sailing in the air. Yesterday the snow commenced falling between nine and ten o'clock in the morning, and oak wood immediately arose to $5.50 per cord.

MUSIC. Mr. George Willig, Jr. has sent us two pieces of music recently published by him, "O thank for me thy harp again," by J. Vez Hermon, is a pretty ballad, ornamented with an appropriate vignette. The other entitled, "Le Bonjet de Noël," is a waltz for the flute, with a piano forte accompaniment, by Francis Wilcott, as vile a piece of plagiarism from Nicholson's waltz as could be placed before the musical world.

STEALING. Yesterday afternoon Joseph Mengarity was arrested by officer Christhelm, and brought before A. H. Pennington, Esq. charged with stabbing with a knife Archibald Cook. Notice was received by the magistrate from the physician that the situation of Cook was highly critical, and therefore he declined receiving bail. Mengarity was consequently committed to jail. Mr. Carbildon is a new police officer, and, we understand, by this capture evinced a determination that ample duty owed the rebellious spirit of the offender up about the face.

LECTURE. The lecture on "National Defences" advertised to be delivered before the Mechanical Library Association, by Gen. Gaines, has been postponed until Saturday evening next. The General was unexpectedly detained in Philadelphia.

ANOTHER TEMPERANCE SOCIETY. We refer the reader to the announcement of the Franklin Temperance Society, established in the north-western section of the city. We understand its ranks are fast filling.

ANOTHER. A meeting was held last week in the room of the Deptford Fire Company, and a new Temperance Association formed, called the "Neptune Temperance Association."

AND YET ANOTHER. A meeting took place at the New Market Engine House last evening, for the purpose of forming a temperance society, auxiliary to the Washington Society, the beneficial doings of which are already known.

ROBBERY. The dwelling of Capt Cooper, corner of Ann and Fleet streets, F. P. was entered on Monday evening at an early hour, and several articles, consisting of an overcoat, shawls, &c. stolen therefrom.

POLICE. Catharine Merritt and Martha Knepply, charged with threatening to take the life of Lucinda Moore, were on Tuesday arrested and brought before Justice Snyder. Failing to give security to keep the peace, they were both committed to prison.

George Cromwell, David Bowersox, Edward Thompson, Jr. Henry Cassell, Christian Baum, John Thompson, Henry Peregoy and Lewis Cavano, all boys, charged with rioting at the corner of Franklin and Chatsworth streets, were arrested and brought before Justice Wright. Giving security for their future behaviour, they were released.

WARD RECORDS. The Eastern District, on Tuesday night, viz. In the Middle District, a negro boy named James Travers, was brought to the watch house, charged with robbing Charley O'Farrall of $1.50; the boy was handed over to his master. Wm. Lusby was found intoxicated. Dr. Jacob Houck was arrested by police officer Cook and others, at midnight, charged by the aforesaid officer and Jesse D. Reid with drawing a dirk on the latter and rioting at the Assembly Room in Fayette street, at which a ball was being held; the Doctor, on giving security for his appearance at the City Court, was released by Justice Gorsuch. Walter Huston was brought in by the police. In the Western District, a white woman, named Mary Devlin, was brought in at the request of her husband, who charged her with being under the influence of liquor, and while so, abusing him and breaking and destroying every thing he has in his house. A white man, named William Beym, was also brought in at the same time, at the request of his mother, charged by her with being a common sot, and in the constant habit of threatening her with violence. Jemima Butler, colored, was imprisoned. John Myers and Jane Armstrong, negroes, were locked up for riotous behavior and disturbing the quiet of 'Broomstick Row' in the morning reprimanded.

GREAT DISCOVERY. Dr. Jones has discovered a plan by which he can destroy the nerves of decayed teeth without pain. This may seem impossible, because the operation has been so painful that few, if any, could endure it, but we have had such respectable and undoubted proof of the operation, that we feel assured of its success, and have no hesitation in recommending it to the public. A gentleman informs us that the operation was performed for two of his family with the greatest ease, and what is still more encouraging, instead of injuring the teeth, they can be plugged and will last for life.

☞ We learn that the health of the mayor of New York has materially improved.

CITY COUNCIL.—First Branch, Jan. 13, 1841. We cannot tell exactly the influence the gloomy and sloppy weather had on the spirits and understandings of the members, but, should judge from appearances that the dullness of the weather had a blunting influence over the intellectual regions of the assemblage. It is worthy of record that there are three clerks to the First Branch, one of them pro tem. and all of them men who have "done the state some service," for the three can muster an army of thirty-three "little responsibilities." They deserve a nibble at the loaves and fishes.

A communication was presented by Mr. J. S. Parsons, from the Eighth Ward, signed by A. W. Ennis and others, praying for repairs of the foot way at the intersection of Light and Lee streets. Referred to the committee on streets.

On motion of Mr. Hanson, the Branch resumed the consideration of the report and resolution for repairing the platforms at Commerce street, which was read, concurred in, and sent to the Second Branch.

A memorial was handed in by Mr. Dallam from J. Crosby, praying for a reduction of the wharfage on boxes of oranges and lemons. Referred to committee on the harbor.

Mr. Hanson from the committee on the harbor, presented a report relative to the obstructions in Jones' Falls. The report stated that said obstructions were in the progress of removal. The same was returned from the Second Branch endorsed "concurred in."

Mr. J. S. Brown presented the report of the Joint Select Committee, to whom was referred the accounts and vouchers of the Board of Health. Concurred in—also returned from the Second Branch "concurred in."

Mr. Pinckney requested a suspension of the rule for the purpose of bringing up a resolution relative to the retailing or huckstering of wood. Granted.

The resolution reads as follows, and is nearly the same as met with the concurrence of both branches last year.

"Resolved by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, that the Senate and Representatives in the General Assembly of Maryland, from the city of Baltimore, be requested to prepare and to use their influence to procure the passage of a law, authorising the city to issue licenses for retailing or huckstering wood upon the different wharves of the city."

Read a first, and by special order a second time and concurred in.

A communication was received from the Port Warden and Commissioners relative to the schooner lying sunk in the basin. Referred to the committee on the harbor.

Mr. Dallam presented a report from the joint committee on streets, begging that the communication of A. W. Ennis and others be referred to the City Commissioners. Concurred in. Returned from the Second Branch "concurred in."

Mr. Donovan offered a resolution proposing that a message be sent to the Second Branch proposing with their concurrence, that the two branches assemble in convention on the 25th of January, for the purpose of appointing eight directors in the Baltimore & Ohio Rail Road Company, two directors in the Baltimore & Susquehanna Rail Road Company, and thirteen school commissioners. Concurred in. The Branch adjourned.

In the Second Branch, Mr. Lucas offered a resolution requesting the Mayor to commune with the Legislature relative to the altering the day of meeting of the Councils to the Second Monday in January. Laid on the table.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13, 1841.

In the House of Representatives an attempt was made by Mr. Green, of Kentucky, to introduce his resolution directing the committee on ways and means to consider the propriety of reporting a bill, laying a tariff on foreign wines, silks and other luxuries, for the purpose of meeting demands upon the government.

Mr. Naylor being entitled to the floor, declined giving way—of the resolution was not received.

Mr. Naylor then occupied the remainder of the day, in continuation of his remarks in reply to Mr. Ingersoll, relative to the contested seat.

The senate is still upon the pre-emption bill.

A member of the select committee on steam boilers requests me to state, that a full size sett of Ruddle's patent safety valves for preventing explosions, has been placed in the Rotunda. As the bill for the purchase of this patent by government comes up as the special order very shortly, it is requested that members will examine for themselves. Mr. Underwood, the chairman of the committee, is so sanguine that he will stake his life that a boiler would not burst with these valves attached. The specimen was manufactured by Mr. Briggs, an ingenious machinist of this city.

The case of the brig "Amistad" comes on in the Supreme Court on Friday. The trial cannot fail to excite intense interest.

The weather is again gloomy, and the snow is falling "right smart."

A MODEL MESSAGE. The message of the governor of Massachusetts has come to hand. It fills but three columns and three quarters of a small paper, from which fact we infer that it must be good, and shall not take the trouble to read it at present.

☞ The ladies of Nashville, Tennessee, have gotten up a petition praying for the extenuation of "leap year." Let them get up another to abolish divorces. We are willing that "Father Time" should pass his judgment in both cases.

☞ The position of the Philadelphia Ledger is similar to that of Balaam's ass—when Balaam was tongue-tied, the ass had to speak for him.

CONSIDERABLE OF A WARDROBE. When queen Elizabeth died she left over 3,000 dresses behind.

MARRIED,

At Georgetown, D. C. on the 12th inst. ROBERT W. DYER, of Washington, to MARY ELIZA, daughter of Com. Stephen Cassin.

DIED,

On the 12th inst. GEORGE CROCKET, aged 42 years.

On the 24 inst. MARY JANE, eldest daughter of Rob't and Mary Ann Porter, aged 3 years and 6 months.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Schr E. Dorsey, Peterson, Porto Cabello and Laguayra.

Schr Esther Eliza, Ryerson, New Haven.

ARRIVED.

Barque Louisa, Hobson, from Amsterdam, and 45 ds from the Downs to the Capes, ballast.

Brig Henry P. Sumner, Tyler, 42 days from Rio de Janeiro to the Capes, coffee.

Schr Delaware, Stokeley, 14 ds fm Turks Island.

Schr Fort Hill, Baker, 35 days from Montego Bay, Jam. pimento and logwood.

MEMORANDA.

Brig Ophiuchus, Forrest, for Baltimore, cleared at Savannah 6th inst.

Brig Oglethorpe, Sanner, of Baltimore for Havana, cleared at Savannah 8th inst.

STATE ARMORY

AND TOWN HALL LOTTERY.

☞ It is due to the citizens of Baltimore that they should be fully apprized of the combination openly at work to crush this project; and that the means and agents employed in the accomplishment of so unprincipled a purpose, may be nakedly exposed, a brief narrative of the facts are respectfully submitted to a discerning Public. The want of a spacious Town Hall in our city, suggested to some of our spirited fellow citizens the feasibility of supplying so great a desideratum by the aid of the Lottery system. It was thought that inasmuch as the universally admitted evil of that system was forced upon the people of the State, that it was but just that some benefit should be made to result to our own community from it; so that if the law to license Lotteries could not be repealed, that the city of Baltimore, whose people were subjected to the system, at least was entitled to, and ought to enjoy from its avails, the benefit of some Public Improvement.

The Town Hall Lottery was accordingly projected, a grant from the General Assembly obtained, and authority had from the corporation to use the site of the present Hanover Market Place, as a suitable location of the contemplated spacious edifice. In obedience to the law, the individuals appointed to manage the Lottery, submitted their schemes to the State Lottery Commissioners, which were approved, and unwilling to await the tedious delay of the sale of the tickets themselves, the Commissioners effected a sale of 12 schemes to D. S. Gregory & Co. large Lottery contractors to the Eastward, for which they received several thousands of dollars. These being all drawn, to the surprize of the Town Hall Lottery Commissioners, no further admissible proposition would be made for the further purchase of schemes, and the broad ground was openly taken by these foreign monopolists of Maryland Lotteries, that the Town Hall Commissioners should neither sell to any body else, nor draw themselves, their Lottery authorized by the General Assembly of Maryland—and to consummate this outrage upon the rights of the Town Hall Lottery Commissioners, and in this way to crush the purpose of erecting a spacious Town Hall in the city of Baltimore, an edict was issued, through their agents in this city, forbidding all the Lottery Brokers, licensed by the State of Maryland, to sell the Town Hall Lottery Tickets, under pain of cutting off their supply of tickets in other Lotteries, hoping by this lever to effect the entire overthrow of the Town Hall Lottery, or coerce its Commissioners to put its schemes into their hands at their own price, and upon their own terms, or give up the project. In this aspect of affairs, nothing has been left to the Town Hall Lottery Commissioners, but to open an office, and sell their own tickets, and to appoint their own agents—since the regular lottery dealers, whom they would gladly have employed, are under pain of being broken up, prohibited from selling the Town Hall tickets.—These are the facts; and in view of them, an indignant and enlightened community will not be in vain, it is confidently believed, invoked to crush so iniquitous a combination. Agents will immediately be appointed by the Commissioners in every part of the city, and the public are earnestly recommended, when they buy Lottery Tickets, to ask for Town Hall Tickets, and to buy none other. Published by order of the ja14 2t COMMISSIONERS.

PROGRAMME

OF MADAME MARRAS' VOCAL and INSTRUMENTAL CONCERT, at the Assembly Rooms, on MONDAY EVENING, Jan. 18th, 1841, assisted by Mr. NENNINGER, Mr. PETRI, Mr. LUCCHESI, Mr. DIELMAN, Mr. ALLEN, and several Gentlemen Amateurs.

PART I.

1. Simphonia, Haydon.
2. Variations on the Harp, (with the new effects.) Mad. Marras, Bochsa.
3. Variations for two Violins—Mr. Nenninger and Mr. Allen, Kalkevoda.
4. Variations for Flute—by Mr. Lucchesi, Muyseder.
5. Romanza, from the Opera Giulietta e Romeo, with Harp accompaniment, sung by Mad. Marras, Bellini.

PART II.

6. Overture, Mozart.
7. Duo for Harp and Violin—from Moise in Egypt—by Mad. Marras and Mr. Nenninger, Labarre & De Berist.
8. French Romance—Je veux t'aimer sans te le dire—by Mad. Marras. M'lle Puget.
9. Introduction and Air, with variations—by Mr. Dielman, De Derlot.
10. Grand Fantasia on the Harp—Mad. Marras, Alvars.

☞ Doors open at half past 7 o'clock, and the Concert to commence at 8 o'clock precisely.

☞ Tickets $1 each—to be had at Robinson's Circulating Library, and at the principal Music Stores and Hotels. ja14 4t

ORGANIZATION

Of the Western Franklin Temperance Society of Baltimore, as an Auxiliary to the Washington Temperance Society.

☞ At a meeting held on Friday Evening, Jan. 8th, 1841, at the dwelling of Mr. J. U. DURST, (Pennsylvania Avenue,) it was

Resolved, That this Society be known by the name and title of "The Western Franklin Temperance Society of the city of Baltimore."

The following gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing twelve months:

WALTER L. BURK, President.
WILLIAM RICHARDSON, Vice president.
THOMAS GAMBRILL, Secretary.
JAMES LAWSON, Treasurer.
JOHN S. HORTON, }
SAMUEL THOMAS, } Standing Committee.
JAS. KIRKPATRICK, }

On motion, it was

Resolved, That we adjourn to meet again on MONDAY EVENING, 18th inst. at Emery Chapel, (Biddle street,) at 7 o'clock.

☞ All favorable to the great and good cause, are invited to attend and sign the pledge.

☞ Editors, friendly to the above cause, will please to give this one insertion. ja14-1t

TEMPERANCE NOTICE.

☞ The MARION TOTAL ABSTINENCE SOCIETY will hold an adjourned meeting on TUESDAY EVENING NEXT, 19th inst. at half past 6 o'clock, at the School House in Ensor street, adjoining the Independent Engine House. The friends of the good cause of Temperance, and the public generally, are respectfully invited to attend. By order,

THOMAS PINDAL, Pres't.
WM. F. PENTZ, Sec'y. ja14-3tnts*

FRANKLIN INSTITUTE—FELL'S POINT.

☞ A Lecture will be delivered, by HUGH DAVY EVANS, before this Institute, at the Wesleyan School Room, Bond street, on THIS (Thursday) EVENING, Jan. 14th, at half past 6 o'clock. Subject—The Constitution of the United States. A debate will follow. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

ja14-1t* By order, J. A. RAMSAY, Sec.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

OF THE DEPTFORD FIRE COMPANY.

☞ The Introductory Lecture before this Association will be delivered by S. TEAKLE WALLIS, Esq. on FRIDAY EVENING NEXT, at 7 o'clock, in the Caroline street Church. The public are respectfully invited. ja13-3t* ROB'T DUTTON, Pres't.

NOTICE.

☞The Commissioners of the State Armory and Town Hall Lottery having had their right to establish agencies conceded by the State Commissioners of lotteries, designed in the exercise of their power to confide their selection to those already engaged in the business of selling lottery tickets; but it will be seen from the circular annexed to this, that the agents of the foreign contractors have determined, so far as they can affect it, to defeat the wishes of the Commissioners. To what cause to ascribe this course on their part, we leave the people of Baltimore, who are so deeply interested in the success of these lotteries, to determine. Our only object is the erection of a public edifice both useful and ornamental—private speculation or individual gain is out of the question.

[CIRCULAR COPY.]

Dear sir: We think it proper to apprise you, that we should deem your acceptance of agency to sell any other tickets than those embraced in the contract of the state, to conflict with your engagements with the contractors of the state lotteries. Respectfully, yours, signed D. S. Gregory & Co. by S. Scribner & Co.

Therefore the Commissioners of the State Armory and Town Hall Lottery give notice that after 10 o'clock to-day they will be in attendance at their office, No. 146 Market street, to receive applications for agencies.

Meanwhile as the first class of our lottery is to be drawn at half past 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon next, at the City Hall, the public generally are informed that tickets can be procured at our office 146 Market street, and of Wm. G. Cook, No. 3 N. Gay st.

WASHINGTON
TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

☞A public meeting will be held in the William st. Church, on FRIDAY EVENING NEXT, at half past 6 o'clock. It is expected the meeting will be very interesting as an experience meeting. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

N. B. The Washington Temperance Society intend holding weekly public meetings until the 1st of April, of which notice of time and place will be given through the papers. Such of the Churches as are disposed to favor the temperance cause, by offering their churches for the purpose of holding a meeting in, will please address a line to the President of the Society. ja13 2t

O. I. O. F.

☞The Past Grands and Representatives of the Grand Lodge of Maryland, are requested to meet at the Hall, Gay street, on FRIDAY EVENING NEXT, 15th inst. at 7 o'clock, it being the Annual Communication. By order, ja13 3t WM. G. COOK, Grand Sec'y.

ENCOURAGE THE HOME LOTTERY!
100,000 DOLLARS.
TOWN HALL LOTTERY.

FOR the Embellishment of the city of Baltimore, to be drawn January 16, 1841. A book of 10 tickets may draw $100,000.

SCHEME:

1st prize	$10,000
2d	10,000
3d	10,000
4th	10,000
5th	10,000	$100,000.
6th	10,000
7th	10,000
8th	10,000
9th	10,000
10th	10,000

On a new and most simple mode four sets of numbers or forty single numbers are placed in the wheel, viz:

0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
0 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

And ten drawn out at random, and those ten tickets ending with the four first drawn numbers, in the order in which they are drawn, will be entitled to the ten prizes of ten thousand dollars—thus, suppose 2268 should be the four first drawn numbers—the tickets being numbered 1001-1002, &c. up to 101,000, the only tickets ending with the four first in order will be 2 5 68, 12 5 68, 22 5 68, 32 56 8, 4 25 68, 5 25 68, 6 25 68, 7 25 68, 8 25 68, 9 25 68, thus a book which contains ten tickets in each ten thousand, consequently may draw the ten prizes—or $100,000.

Tickets $5—Halves $2.50—Quarters $1.25.

Packages of 10 Whole Tickets,	$50 00
Packages of 10 Half Tickets,	25 00
Packages of 10 Quarter Tickets,	12 50
Packages of 10 Eighth Tickets,	6 25

Those who prefer paying the difference only, between the Selling Price and what a Package is warranted to draw, can be supplied as follows:

A book, or 100 whole tickts $250, shares in proportion.

For 10 Whole Tickets,	$33 00
For 10 Halves,	25 00
For 10 Quarters,	8 50
For 10 Eighths,	4 50

For which they will receive a Commissioners Certificate, just as good in every respect as the Original Tickets, and entitling the purchaser to all Prizes that may be drawn by the numbers composing the Package, over the warranted amount.

☞For Tickets, please address
EDWARD P. ROBERTS, Agent,
No. 2 Exchange Place, next door to the
ja14-3t Maryland Lottery and Exchange Office.

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,
80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

DRAWING of the Alexandria Lottery, Extra, class A, drawn 13th inst.—lowest prize $4.

37 72 51 35 1 44 40 36 48 30 2 18

Drawing of the Maryland State Lottery, class 2—drawn yesterday—lowest prize $5:

53 15 62 7 31 75 32 22 63 60 4 72

Magnificent Lotteries for the week:

On THIS DAY, in Baltimore, Consolidated Lottery of Maryland, class No. 1, 66 Nos. and 12 Ballots. Extra, capitals of $10,000, 3000, 2000, 19 of 1000, &c. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On FRIDAY, Virginia State Lottery, Extra, class No. 3, to be drawn at Alexandria, Va. Capitals of $10,000, 3000, &c. 75 Nos. 13 Ballots. Tickets $4.

On SATURDAY, Immense and Grand Scheme, Va. State Lottery, next capitals of $20,000, 10,000, 5000, 2000, 50 of 1000, 50 of 500, 250, 200, &c. 75 No. Lottery—15 Ballots. More prizes than blanks.

Whole tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2.50.

☞All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (inclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address. E. W. ROBINSON,
No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.
Agent for the State of Maryland. ja13-1t

A Beautiful and Suitable Present for Ladies.

THE LADY'S BOOK. We have scarcely penned a paragraph of praise to this paragon of periodicals, and another deserving still more is required. People may talk of puffing as much as they please, but we can say to the most hesitant, let him but see the beautiful engraving prepared by Godey for the January number of his Lady's Book, and if he does not say that it surpasses excellence, then are we willing to knock under. The plate is called "Neapolitan Peasants going to the Festa of the Pie di Grotta," and a more life-like piece of art it has never been our fortune to see. There you have, as natural as life itself, a group of half a dozen peasants, on their way to the city, each carrying the fruits of their industry. In the fore ground are a small boy and girl, bearing on their shoulders a pole, on which are slung all sorts of viands; then comes a good looking matron, carrying on her head a basket, and holding by the hand a chubby-looking girl, who, like the rest, is carrying a bunch of grapes; and behind comes three or four others, following in the trail, while in the distance are several busily employed in preparing articles for market. Altogether, it is one of the very handsomest things ever gotten up for a periodical of any country, and is alone worth twice the subscription price to the Book. Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
ja14 No. 74 Market and 28 N. Gay street.

DISSOLUTION OF CO-PARTNERSHIP.

THE Co-partnership heretofore existing between ALEXANDER DANDURAD & JOHN KREIN, was dissolved on the 12th of the present month, by mutual consent—And this is to give notice, that all the accounts have been left in the hands of the subscriber for settlement, it being his determination to carry on the business of the FRENCH CAFE, corner of Baltimore and S. Charles streets, entirely on his own account.

ja14-3t* ALEXANDER DANDURAND.

FOUR School WRITING DESKS & BENCHES were left at a Carpenter's Shop some time ago, supposed to have been sent to the wrong place—the owner is requested to pay for this Advertisement and take them away. Apply at the Clipper office. ja14-3t

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by eager sights told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 10,000	may be had on	MONDAY, for	$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	3 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
6,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 50
30,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. ja7 3m

F. B. SCHAEFFER,
(SUCCESSOR TO BARKER & CO.)
156 BALTIMORE STREET.

$20,000. In the Maryland State Lottery, No. 1, drawn on the 6th Jan. 65 Nos. 22, 71, 26, we have not yet heard of, or from the fortunate holder. We trust that it has fallen into good hands, and will be of general utility—for such will be sure for that, and all other prizes on demand. Drawn numbers of the Literature Lottery, No 2.

29 55 49 27 28 47 13 21 12 13 17 13

several handsome prizes were sold in the above. We beg to call the attention of our patrons to the splendid Lotteries to be drawn this week:

TO-DAY, Jan. 14th, Alexandria Lottery, class No. 2, Capitals $10,000, 3,000, &c. Tickets $5.

TO-MORROW, State Treasury Lottery—Capital prize $10,000. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On WEDNESDAY, the Maryland State Lottery will be drawn in Baltimore. Capital prize $20,000. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On THURSDAY, Grand Consolidated Lottery, No. 2—capital prize $10,000. Tickets $5.

On FRIDAY, the Extra Louisiana Lottery, class 3, Capitals $5,000, 2,000, &c. Tickets $2.50.

On SATURDAY, 16th Jan., Virginia State Lottery, class L. Capitals—$5,000, 10,000, 3,000, &c.

Whole Tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2.50.

☞For Lucky Tickets, apply to
F. B. SCHAEFFER,
Successor to Barker & Co.
156 Baltimore street, corner of St. Paul's st.
Where more prizes have been sold and paid than at any other office within the United States.

☞Orders for Tickets, in any Lotteries under the management of D. S. Gregory & Co., thankfully received and promptly attended to—and the result of the drawing sent immediately after it is received. To insure a prize, you must address
ja11 F. B. SCHAEFFER, Baltimore, Md.

ENCOURAGE OUR OWN CITY.

SATURDAY, will be drawn the GRAND TOWN HALL LOTTERY, in which there is a greater chance for drawing a Capital Prize than ever before occurred in this city—in addition to which, it must be remembered by the citizens of Baltimore, that every dollar of the money realized, will be expended in our own community, giving employment to hundreds of Mechanics, Laborers, Artizans, &c., whose united labor, when completed, will be a lasting Monument of the liberality, taste, and mechanical skill of all who have contributed their mite in aid of erecting the TOWN HALL of Baltimore. Besides other splendid attractions, the Scheme contains

10 PRIZES OF $10,000 EACH!
Amounting to $400,000!!

This Lottery being entirely for the benefit of Baltimore, every person who may spend a dollar in purchasing a Ticket or share in it, will, in return for the same, even if they be not so fortunate as to draw a SNUG PRIZE, be possessed with the pleasing consciousness that they have contributed their part towards erecting the State Armory and Town Hall.

Tickets $5—Halves $2 50—Quarters $1.25.
Certificate of 10 Wholes $33; 10 Halves $16.50; 10 Quarters $8.25; 10 Eighths $4.12½.

☞For tickets and shares, in every variety, be sure to apply at the COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE,
No. 146 Market street, near Light-st.

☞Let one and all remember to encourage our own city, by giving employment to our own people.
ja13-4t

STONER'S OFFICE,
UNDER WASHINGTON HALL,
MARKET STREET BRIDGE.

On SATURDAY NEXT, we can offer a brilliant chance for fortunes. Alexandria Lottery, class No. 1, 75 Numbers—15 Ballots.

GRAND SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$30,000		1 Prize of		$3000
1 "	10,000		1 "		2500
1 "	5000		1 "		2000
25 "	1000		50 "		1000, &c.

Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞Orders, from all parts of the city and country, should be carefully directed to ja14-1t JOHN L. STONER, Baltimore.

WILLIAM H. KIMBALL & CO.
No. 143 BALTIMORE STREET,

MERCHANT TAILORS, and DEALERS in Broad Cloths; Cassimeres; Vestings; Beaver and Pilot Cloths; Cassinets; Flannels; 1500 doz. black, white, and colored Hosiery; Handkerchiefs; Shirts; Drawers; Worsted Neck stocks; Scarfs; Cuffs; Bosoms; Suspenders, &c. &c.

Also, a large and extensive assortment of ready-made Clothing, consisting of Dress and Frock Coats; Pantaloons; Vests, and Over Coats—which will be sold at the lowest possible prices for cash. ja8

PATENT NIGHT LIGHTS.

THIS ARTICLE (of new invention) consumes not more than half the quantity of OIL, and is superior to any other Night Light now in use. It burns without any wick, and gives a clear and steady light. To housekeepers it will prove to be an invaluable article—price 12½ cents. For sale by
MOSHIMER & MOWBRAY,
Nos. 136 & 138 Market street.
By appointment of the Patentee.
P. S. A liberal deduction made to wholesale dealers.
ja9-1w*

STRAYED, from the subscriber's stable on Saturday evening last, a Bay MARE, a few white hairs on her fore-head—also has some white spots on the back, caused by chafing of the saddle, full long tail, a fast rate hackney, about 14 hands high, 8 or 9 years old. Ten dollars reward will be paid for her on being delivered at the City Mill on Calvert street, or at No. 15 Spear's wharf. ja15-3t* C. KELLER.

TO MAGISTRATES. The undersigned keep constantly on hand, a full assortment of all the various BLANKS used by Magistrates, printed on fine paper, which will be sold on the lowest terms.
Apply to BULL & TUTTLE,
ja13-d No. 7 N. Gay street.

BLEACHED WINTER SPERMACETI OIL
New Bedford Sperm CANDLES
Fresh Figs; superior Sugar House Syrup
New Hops and Cranberries—received and for sale by MARCUS DENISON,
ja12-4t No. 31 Baltimore-st.

INSUBORDINATION.

NO. 4. The fourth No. of INSUBORDINATION, a Story of Baltimore, by the author of the "Subordinate," has been published by Kennedy & Coltman, 174 Baltimore street, and is for sale by them and at the different Book Stores in the city. ja12-3t

UNION BANK STOCK.

300 SHARES, for sale at a reduced rate, for which the Notes of the FRANKLIN BANK will be taken in payment, at par.
ja7 6t* CLARK, Museum Building, Balt. Md.

WESTERN BANK & CITIZEN'S BANK STOCK—For sale, payable in Franklin Bank Paper. Apply to ja7-3t S. HARRIS & SON.

DRY GOODS, &c.

COUNTRY KNIT YARN HALF HOSE. We have yet on hand, about 50 doz. Men's Country Knit Yarn HOSE, which we will close out cheap by the dozen or retail.
DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Baltimore st.
ja8-eo2w Door west of Market st.

CHEAP LINEN CAMBRIC HDKFS.

JUST RECEIVED, an additional supply of those cheap Linen Cambric HDKFS. which we have been selling off very fast by the dozen and at retail. Ladies who have not supplied themselves, now have another opportunity—they may rely on finding them at very reduced prices, by calling on
DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Baltimore-st.
ja8-eo2w 3d door west of Market Space.

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:
3 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 6-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.
☞Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at DITTENHOEFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 62 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are lower than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

Also on hand—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes, fancy and plain; Rugs, Canton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Floor Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; Oil and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market st. corner of Holliday.
N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Fine wide French QUINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 20 cts.
We have determined to clear out our stock of Mouseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
Fancy Needle-work COLLARS, 37½ super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7-8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1¼ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 18¾
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25; childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
BED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Super CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.
E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6¼
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6¼
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 6¼
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleven
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 6¼
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Toweling, fringed, 6¼ each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleven
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mouseline de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 6¼
Excellent LINSEY, eleven and nine cents
Cotton MUSLINS, three 6¼s
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Brocha do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 6¼
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6¼
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleven
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6¼

☞Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

MRS. CONNOR'S

BOARDING HOUSE, PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, between 3d and 4½ streets, Washington City, (D. C.) where Gentlemen, visiting the District, can be accommodated with Board and Rooms of Apartments, suitable for single gentlemen or families, for any length of time. d23-1m

WANTED TO EMPLOY, by the month or year, 4 or 5 Negro men (slaves) to work on a Farm near the city. They will be well treated, and the owners receive the highest wages, which will be punctually paid them in the city. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, Baltimore-st. corner of Frederick street.

Also, wanted to employ, a Colored man as Waiter in a Private Family. Apply as above. [a] ja5

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES; French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.
o3-tf

HANCE'S SUPERIOR LILY WHITE.

THIS is the only article which has ever improved the most beautiful creatures in the world—to wit—the "Baltimore Ladies"—warranted not to injure the skin. SETH S. HANCE,
d19-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by
SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

AMUSEMENTS.

NATIONAL THEATRE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

SECOND NIGHT OF MR. RICE.

THIS (THURSDAY) EVENING, Jan. 14, 1841, Will be presented, the Play of
JIM CROW IN LONDON.
Jim Crow, Mr. RICE.
After which, the popular Farce of
JUMBO JUM.
Jumbo Jum, Mr. RICE.
To conclude with
FAINT HEART NEVER WON, &c.

☞Doors open at quarter before 7. Performance to commence at half past 7.

CITIZENS' BALL,
FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

THIS BALL will take place on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841. The price of Tickets is fixed at TWO DOLLARS.

☞At a meeting of the BOARD OF MANAGERS, held on Monday evening, the following Resolution was passed—

Resolved, That a Committee of two be appointed from each ward, for the purpose of calling upon such persons in their respective wards, as are disposed to aid in the object the Managers have in view.

It is generally known that great numbers of persons who do not attend Balls, would willingly give in aid of the object if an opportunity was offered them. Hence the appointing of the following committee, it is expected that gentlemen will proceed immediately in their collections.

1st Ward, H. B. Lauderman, James Grieves.
2d do Wm. Wickersham, John E. Stansbury.
3d do Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott.
4th do Abel Slaughter, James Murray.
5th do Capt. John Patrick, Horatio Perry.
6th do Thos. C. Dudley, John Kennedy.
7th do Simeon Hall, James Ashland.
8th do Samuel Lewis, Samuel Young, Jr.
9th do Wm. R. Fisher, James Maffitt.
10th do Dr. Wm. Power, James Lemmon.
11th do Morton Miller, D. A. Piper.
12th do George Deal, Joseph Creagher, Jr.

☞The Managers who have not yet obtained their tickets, are requested to call at once upon the treasurer, Joseph Vansant, at the Post Office, and receive the same. By order,
SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
ANDREW J. BARKER, Secretary. ja13-3t

CENTRAL HALL,
DANCING & WALTZING ACADEMY.

CHARLES L. SPIES, thankful for past favors, has the honor to inform his friends and the public that his SECOND QUARTER will commence on TUESDAY, the 2nd. at the above Hall, corner of Baltimore and Charles streets.

☞Days of Tuition, for Young Ladies, Misses and Masters, on Tuesday and Saturday afternoons, from 2 till 5 o'clock—and on Tuesday and Friday Evenings, from half past 6 till 10 o'clock, for Gentlemen.

Practising Balls on Thursday evenings, and Complete Parties on Monday Evenings.

☞Terms—$10 per quarter. [a] ja5-eo3w

One of the best adapted ROOMS for PUBLIC MEETINGS in this City.

UNION HALL, S. E. corner of Tripolett's alley and Market street, elegantly fitted up with Gas, neat Benches with Backs, Desks, Speaker's or Chairman's Raised Platform, Low Gallery at suited periods by some of the most respectable societies of this city, and what renders it very pleasant, it is free from the pernicious influence of Bars, and the desecration of a tavern resort. It is got up on the Temperance principle. The third story is fitted up in the manner above named, having no connection with the other Rooms, either of which will contain 300 persons very comfortably. For religious or other Societies, it can be had either day or night. Merchants and Tradesmen, having meetings of any kind, are invited to call.

☞The Garret Room is also prepared, and would answer for a Book Bindery, Engraver, Shoemaker, Tailor, &c.—it is well lighted. Inquire of the Proprietor of the Store underneath, or at No. 69 Baltimore street, opposite. ja12-eo3t

NOTICE.

The Steam Boat POCAHONTAS, Captain HOLMES, will leave the lower end of Spear's wharf on FRIDAY, the 15th instant, at 10 o'clock, A. M. for Norfolk and the Portsmouth and Roanoke Rail Road. Passengers for Charleston will arrive at Weldon several hours prior to the departure of the cars for Wilmington, and will, if they meet with no detention at the latter place, arrive in Charleston early on Monday morning.

☞The Thomas Jefferson will leave Norfolk for Richmond early on Saturday morning, so that passengers by the Pocahontas will arrive at their place of destination about 3 o'clock, P.M. the day after leaving Baltimore.

Fare to Weldon, (meals on board included)	$16
Fare to Norfolk, (meals included,)	10
Fare from Norfolk to Richmond, (meals included,)	4

JNO. C. MOALE, General Agent
ja12-4t Balt. Steam Packet Co.

IMPORTANT TO THOSE AFFLICTED WITH COUGHS & COLDS.

RICHD THOMPSON'S LIFE PRESERVER, a new and valuable remedy for the relief and removal of the most distressing Colds and Coughs.

The subscriber has been induced to offer this Medicine to the Public from his personal knowledge of its effects, and the testimony of those who have been the subjects of its operation. In no instance within his knowledge (and they have been many) has it failed to give immediate relief to the patient, and ultimately to remove the most distressing cough, brought on by taking cold. In cases of Consumption, nothing is promised beyond relief. This Medicine is equally applicable to Children. Agent for Baltimore,
ROBERT H. COLEMAN & CO.
No. 123 Market street.
Where numerous certificates of its efficacy, from persons of respectable standing, will be shown if necessary. ja13-6w*

REMOVAL.

G. H. MITTNACHT, IMPORTER OF GERMAN, FRENCH, and ENGLISH FANCY GOODS, has removed from the Store he lately occupied in Baltimore street, to the Store No. 9 South LIBERTY STREET, where he will always keep a large and general assortment of FANCY GOODS, including Baskets, Toys, Clocks, Musical Instruments, Cutlery, Jewelry, Pins, Needles, Tapes, Cords, Cotton, Thread, Silk, Bleaching, Ink, Slates, Marbles, Whips, &c. &c., which he is prepared to sell at the lowest wholesale prices. G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 9 S. Liberty street.

N. B. Franklin Bank Notes will be taken at par for all Goods purchased for cash. [a] ja5-2w

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off as in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 50 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, elecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and boneset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North-st. d12-y

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of
HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,
For the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Chestnut & Son,	Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq.	do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq.	do.
James Hepburn, esq.	do.
Christian Huldeman, esq.	Columbia.
Jacob M. Haldeman, esq.	Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq.	Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq.	Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank, Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq.	Cash. Girard do.
William S. Smith, esq.	Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq.	Boston.
Baltimore, 1st January, 1841.	ja1-d2w2w*

VALLIER'S FRENCH PILL, FOR THE CURE OF SECRET DISEASES. One box of these inestimable Pills is worth all the Quack Medicines in the world.

Observe. If we examine the nature of the above diseases, and the situation of the parts affected, we must consider it a very important object to be able to obtain a remedy at once certain in its action, and at the same time composed of such ingredients as will prevent the possibility of discovery while using it. It is a fact well known to many, that most of the remedies offered for those diseases are composed of such nauseous drugs, as to render it almost impossible to continue them without exciting a sickness at the stomach to others unpleasant consequences. Such being the case there can be no doubt but such a remedy as Vallier's French Pills, will meet the universal approbation being entirely free from those objections, pursued in their operation, and prompt in removing the disease. The proprietor would now remark, that the efficacy of these Pills in the diseases alluded to, are not based upon supposition, on the contrary, it is founded upon actual experience, having used them in a successful practice for upwards of two years, he feels confident in their superiority over the remedies hitherto employed.

☞Price one dollar per box. For sale in Baltimore by SETH S. HANCE,
ja11-y Corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

LADIES' COMPANION, April No. for January, 1841, received by
WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. SNOWDEN, No. 74 Market street—and at No. 28 N. Gay street, near Fayette-st.
☞Terms $3 per year, payable monthly.
Opinion of the New York Press:

We have been favored with a copy of a steel engraving of Light House near Caldwell's Landing, intended to illustrate the January number of the Ladies' Companion, published by Mr. Snowden, 199 Pearl-st. It is indeed a fine specimen of the art, and reflects no ordinary credit upon the enterprize of the conductor of that Magazine. The number will contain articles from the following writers:

Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, Mrs. E. F. Ellet, Mrs. Anna, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances L. Oswood, Mrs. E. R. Steele, Mrs. Caroline Orne; Professors Longfellow & Ingraham; Mr. H. Herbert, Francis W. Thoman, Greenville Mellen; Rev. J. H. Church; Mr. Rufus Dawes, Wm. Gilmore Sims, Epes Sargent, Park Benjamin, George P. Morris, Robert Hamilton, C. F. Daniels, H. T. Tuckerman, Henry B. Hunt, (of Philadelphia,) Wm. G. Howard, (of Ohio); Mrs. E. C. Embury; Mrs. Hedland, (of London,) and many others. Also, an original piece of Music, composed by J. G. Meder, expressly for the occasion ja5

TO THE LADIES.

THE subscriber, very thankful for the past favors awarded him by the ladies of Baltimore, Washington, and the adjoining cities, begs leave to inform them that he has on hand, a full supply of Ladies', Misses, and Children's SHOES of every variety, and made by the very best workmen and of good materials; and, what is the best of it, at very low prices. For further particulars, Ladies will please call and see
JOHN BANGS, No. 106 Pratt-st. near Eutaw.

TO GENTLEMEN, who wish good BOOTS and cheap, call at No. 106 Pratt street, and they can be accommodated with a good article at a low price.
JOHN BANGS.
N. B. All kinds of BOOTS & SHOES sold, wholesale and retail, at the above establishment. ja9-eo3t*

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,
(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland.)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Doric Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as good quality and as cheap as can be purchased at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.
d23-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 31st of August, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Chemical, Philosophical, and Astronomical Apparatus, is extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by Mr. J. C. Bonsall. Augustus Fretter, L. L. D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the Germans.

☞Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or other pupils, will receive every information, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. Hayner, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.
a8-tf J. B. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

CLOCKS! CLOCKS!!

THE subscribers have opened a store at No. 34 S. CHARLES STREET, for the sale of their celebrated CLOCKS. They have now on hand, and are constantly receiving, large supplies from their manufactory in the city of New York, Brass and Wood Eight-day, One-day, and Alarm CLOCKS, of every variety of style, and of superior workmanship and finish, which they warrant and offer at wholesale to dealers, at their lowest factory prices.
ja1-1y SMITH & BROTHERS.

THE PATENT COFFEE CLEARER.

THOSE who are fond of a "GOOD CUP OF COFFEE" are requested to try the above article, which will be found to be of unsurpassed utility in settling Coffee. It is also much cheaper and more handy than any thing else which is used for the same purpose—a small piece, thrown into the coffee whilst boiling, will make it as transparent as amber—price 12½ cents at retail. For sale by
W. J. VAN NESS, Grocer,
n27-tf Market Space.

COTTON FACTORY—For Sale or Rent.

FOR Manufacturing Cotton WADDING & LA

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

To the Legislature of Maryland.

Permit an humble citizen to address your Honorable body on the subject of banks. I have no personal interest in these suggestions—my motive is to correct the past, and guard the interest of the stockholders for the future, against a system that has been practised in this city for the last seven or twelve years. It is known to your selves, that, at the establishment of these institutions, the Directors in every instance appoint their respective officers, and as Directors they should be independent of those officers. It is a notorious fact that almost in every bank of this city, the Cashier, by management in procuring proxies, has elected the entire board of Directors; of course the Directors hold their seats during the pleasure of this officer. Was it, or has it ever been, the intention when charters were granted, that such a course should be pursued? The result has been that those Cashiers have heavy loans granted them, and what has been the effect in this city? The banks have been seriously injured by this course of proceeding. It is useless to enter into further details, as you can see at a glance that no bank in this or any other city can be conducted impartially under such management. I would respectfully suggest to your honorable body to compel the banks to publish a list of the stockholders every three months, attested by the President and Cashier under oath. I would also call your attention to the incompetency of the Directors in the several banking institutions in this city, and suggest that you compel them to oath, when elected, not to borrow from the institution of which they are Directors, either directly or indirectly, over $20,000. These checks would secure to the stockholders the power of controlling their property as invested.

*In the State of Georgia this subject has been provided for in the same way, by compelling the banks to make to the Legislature the names of the stockholders to whom they have granted discounts to the amount of $5000 and upwards.

ARMY.

LATER FROM FRANCE. The packet ship Burgundy from Havre 21st Dec., arrived at New York on the 11th. She brought letters and papers to her day of sailing. There is nothing however of interest, except further accounts of the funeral pageant of Napoleon. Rich, as that is described to be,

The funeral car, which conveyed Napoleon's remains, is stated to have cost 55,000fr.

After the sarcophagus of the Invalids, one of the oldest pensioners, watching an opportunity, got possession of the violet cloth upon which it had lain, and was furtively carrying it off, when he was observed and stopped. As he vowed that his only idea was to preserve it as a relic, the officers contented themselves with demanding its restitution, which he was very reluctant to make. As they persisted, the veteran, under the feelings of the moment, took out his knife, and cutting off a fragment of the pall hurried away. This example was followed by all around, and in a few minutes the Commissary who held it had only a small remnant left in his hand, which, being himself an old soldier, he retained as a memento.

THE GARRICK. The latest intelligence from the Garrick left her on Sunday evening with 16 feet water in her hold; 320 packages of dry goods and some hogsheads had been landed on the beach, being all that was between decks—part of them are damaged; 52 cases were on board the lighter Walter R. Jones, nearly all dry. The Garrick lies about 150 feet from the beach, and the cargo had to be landed in surf boats. As many men as could work were getting out the cargo. The poop deck was full of goods ready to be landed. It is thought that a considerable part of the cargo will be lost. The surf still continued very high, and no lighters could lie along side of the ship.

IMPORTANT DECISION. The following we extract from the National Intelligencer of yesterday:

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.—Stokes et al vs. Amos Kendall. This case went to the jury on Monday evening. Under the instructions of the Court the plaintiffs were confined to the third count, which embraced the proceedings subsequent to the award of the Solicitor, and upon that count were held to the proof of malice. Exceptions were taken, and the case will go to the Supreme Court.

This morning the jury returned a verdict for the defendant upon the two first counts, (under the instructions,) and upon the third count for the plaintiffs, and assessed their damages at twelve thousand and eighty-five dollars and forty cents, ($12,085 40.)

THE FRESHET. The late freshet seems to have been felt throughout all of the eastern states. The course of its ravages is extended with the recep tion of each mail. It is impossible for us at present to give all the particulars. The most serious damages, however, it is believed, we have recorded. Late accounts from Albany state that a considerable portion of the city was inundated, and that the water was still rising. At New Haven considerable damage has been done. From various other quarters we have accounts stating that the damages have been immense. At Hartford, Con. much injury has been sustained; but the suffering at Albany surpasses that of any other place from which we have heard.

OUTRAGE. Intelligence has been received from Maine, stating that three gentlemen, whose names are given as Thomas H. Templeton, George Cady and John H. Kenwick, while proceeding on their way from Bangor to Canada, were stopped near Madawaska by a party of British armed soldiers, who insulted them, and, without provocation, assaulted them.

☞The cut over the Hymenial department of the Franklin Repository looks more like two little "darkies" carrying the liver and pluck of a butcher shop to market on a bean pole, than like Cupids with their bow and quiver, having two corporal beauties melted into one.

The Farmers' Bank of Virginia has declared a dividend of $3 per share on its new stock, subject to the State's bonus of 25 cents per share, and a dividend of one per cent. out of the capital paid on its old stock.

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

MR. DAVISON'S WRITING ACADEMY, for instruction in the Mercantile Guide, No. 4; Business hours. The plan recommended by the Mercantile Institute of Yankeeland. se6-y

MR. PETER L. WOOD, MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 4 S. CHARLES STREET, Washington Building, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Repairing, &c. &c. d25-y

A. BRADLEY, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps, No. 67 LIBERTY STREET, after Lombard-st. d29-y

MARK M. BALDWIN, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 19 HOLLIDAY STREET. d19-3m

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 49 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n18-3m

OFFICE of the Boston Journal, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 17 SOUTH STREET, near the Post-office. d29-7 WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Hanover street, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of Frederick street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se23-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION & AGENCY & COLLECTION, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up Stairs.) se6-d

WILLIAM W. DEE, No. 3 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. Gentlemen can find Cutting in the latest style. n4-y

JOS. HARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, west side of Paca street. D24-y

J. SCHLEY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Saratoga and South streets. (up Stairs.) jel5-6m

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 124 BALTIMORE street, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. m6-y

ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 30 Fayette street, near the Post-office. Terms lowest in the city. m14-y

WATCHES, Jewelry and Silver Ware for sale by ELI MASON, No. 9 South Frederick street. d1-y

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS.

FOR PURIFYING THE Mouth, Gums, Teeth, and Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as in Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.
Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.
Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.
Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. ROBY.

WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. ROBY having spent two years in practice with Dr. G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call.
d12-6m H. N. ROBY.

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side; the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Harlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. jy28-y

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of an approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞None genuine without the name of COSTOCK & CO., written on the wrappers.

SOLOMON HAYS.

☞For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. n26-eodm

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.
se15-tf E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

CURRANTS AND CRANBERRIES.

500 POUNDS FRESH CURRANTS
7 bbls Superior CRANBERRIES
For sale by MARCUS DENNISON,
d24 31 Baltimore street.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 20 good white and colored COOKS, to fill desirable places in different parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES and 2 NURSES. d25

20 Bbls. Fifth Proof Monongahela WHISKEY
60 boxes Sperm, Mould and Dipt CANDLES
100 boxes Choice CHEESE
20 baskets Bordeaux OIL, received and for sale by
d2 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore st.

WANTED, immediately, two good Cooks; three good colored Cooks. Also, a good seamstress. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. [a] d25

COPPER PLATE AND MUSIC PAPER, on hand and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE, se7 No. 2 S. Charles street.

HARRISON'S West India SUGAR, WHITE and BUTTER CRACKERS, received each week by MARCUS DENISON, se6 31 Baltimore street.

TO Tobacconists. For Warehousing Virginia & Western NOTES. For sale by a13 E. W. JOHNSON, 10 Baltimore-st.

JOB PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE.

PRACTICAL JOB PRINTERS, beg leave to inform their friends and the public, that they are prepared for the execution of every description of PRINTING, on the most extensive scale. They have a assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. embracing every variety necessary for the most finished execution of all work that may be entrusted to them.

They will print, to order:

BUSINESS CARDS	HANDBILLS
BALL TICKETS	WAYBILLS
CIRCULARS	STEAMBOAT BILLS
CHECKS	RAIL ROAD BILLS
NOTES	STAGE BILLS
BILL HEADS	SHOW BILLS
CATALOGUES	PAMPHLETS
BILLS OF LADING	LABELS
LOTTERY BILLS	HATTERS' TIPS

Together with FANCY JOBS, in Colors, for Dancing, LARGE POSTING BILLS,

For Theatres, Circuses, &c. &c., printed to order, at the shortest notice, in the most showy style.

B. & T. have also in operation, in their Office, the "Harper Double-action Printing Machine," recently imported from England expressly for their use, by the aid of which they will be enabled to execute PRINTING at much lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch, than heretofore.

☞In returning thanks to their friends for the favors of the past year, they assure them their most personal attention will be paid to the prompt and correct execution of all orders in their business, at very reduced prices.

☞Call at the CLIPPER OFFICE, No. 7 South Gay street. jel5-d

CITY INTELLIGENCE,

REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE.
N. W. Corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Cooks, Porters, Governesses, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, House-carpenters, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at the offices must produce recommendations of good character.

Persons at a distance wishing to employ any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be assisted by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold on Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., H. W. BOOT, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N. B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. ja7

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscriber respectfully announces that he has established his Office at No. 3 NORTH-ST. next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those Ladies and Gentlemen who may be desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION.

E. TYLOR can confidently state that his extensive practical experience, enables him to give individuals a faithful delineation of their mental capacity, peculiar talents and disposition, as well as point out what pursuit in life they are best qualified by nature to perform. A good assortment of Phrenological Books, Almanacs, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale cheap, by

E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist.
N.B. Chart and Examination, only 50 cts. ja6

B. G. BUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had BUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN VEGETABLE MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. n15-eodm

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Shell-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white cane—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. ap1-dtf A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

3 The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having baffled the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHER & CO. No. 69 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard streets, on the corner of Uzler's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 3 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Drug Store, Washington City; E. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.

Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. n21-tf

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—for sale by jy9 MARCUS DENNISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

BOARDING may be obtained at No. 3 NORTH-ST. by a gentleman and his lady, or single gentlemen can be accommodated with rooms. The premises are pleasantly situated, being the first house from the Exchange. Apply at the Clipper Office, N. W. corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. d30 1m

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and study such means as will relieve them. Dr. FARR'S SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is recommended by those who have used it as the most effectual medicine for facilitating, in a safe manner, the process of cutting teeth, and every dangerous symptom which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of what you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling of the name of FARR, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Nurses, who pass off for the same a different article, which is not only useless, but a dangerous poison to infants. ☞Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. FARR shown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an extra "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains the aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by
jy28-y WM. G COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and the market, a splendid assortment of RICH SILK GOODS, consisting in part of

1 case 4-4 Rich Gros Grains, all colors
1 " do. Black and Blue Black do do Africos
1 " do. Satin Striped and Figured Bolivias
1 " do. Satin Striped and Figured do
1 " do. 4-4 Black and Blue Black do for Shawls
1 " Plain Geo de Swiss, all colors

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

Just opened—Extra super 4-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
" Very splendid Silk Damask Shawls, Paisley
" 6-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" 9-4 do do
" 8-4 Tartan Wool do

MOURNING DE LAINES.

One case Black Cashmere De Laines, very fine
Colored Figured do do, rich and fashionable
Black mourning Mousselin de Laines
Black mourning Merinoes, all widths, and Figured do
One case superior French MERINOES, do colors
With a general assortment of New style Fall Goods, by which they very respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER,
n13 49 Market st., 4 doors above Gay.

C. H. EISENBRANDT,
DEALER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,

Has received by late vessels from Germany, Europe, & France, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, at very reduced prices, viz:

Fine Concert-size Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Knut Bodenkranz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 0 to 3d; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E. flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophicleides; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeans; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeans, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopean—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap18-1y

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST,
o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st.

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.
And in Washington City, by
CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by C. M. LINTHICUM.
☞With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

PICTORIAL BIBLES!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Emporium, No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered. Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HANDBILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in the city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret diseases. Three dozen in box—only $1.

RETH S. HANCE,
d12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d28-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

INDIA RUBBER SHOES—
Men's plain RUBBERS, Women's plain do
Misses do do do Boys' do
A few cases of each. Just received per barque Ida, and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 South Charles street.

FOR RENT. A neat two story brick HOUSE in Canal street, (in the north of Monument st., in first rate order, handsomely papered, the yard with a good pump—the rent will be $ per month. Also, a Wash-st. and tools, fronting on M. A. DYBART, 31 E. Baltimore st.
se5-3tm Third door from Exeter street.

13 Cases Rio and Stock DE LAINES, consisting of 4-4 Cashmeres, just received per barque Ida, and for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE, ja2 No. 2 S. Charles st.

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE,
3d January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one of Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled "The Playmates," a plate of fashions, with three female figures (beautifully colored; two pages of Music, and Original Illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER:

The Young Bandsman, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Settler's the Lad for Me, by A. McMakin.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Durang.
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Sister of '76, by the author of 'Cruising in the Last War.'
Sabbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. Clark.
Time—Only Time. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. Feling.
Mexico. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by S. Nelson.

EMBELLISHMENTS:

'The Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city, and sent by mail to all parts of the United States and the Canadas, by the publisher.

Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Book-store, 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
Baltimore, Md.
ja4

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty, 16 superb plates—price		$2.50
Keepsake,	15	do 2.50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals, 15 plates,		3.00
Forget Me Not, 11 plates		2.00
Friendship's Offering, 10 plates,		2.00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals. Call and examine it.

WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.
d21

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS, AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to affect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by

SAM'L CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.
Washington City, by
W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 19th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.
In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.
oc9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(Up Stairs.)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10 cases	do	do	Cap PAPER
15 do	Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter PAPER
5 do	do	do	do	Cap do
4 do	do	do	do	Folio post do
20 do	Hudson's	do	do	Letter do
15 do	do	do	do	Cap do
10 do	do	do	do	Flat Cap do
8 do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super-royal WRITING PAPER
12 do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter do
6 do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2 do	do	Super Flat Cap
12 do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5 do	Tickey and Leyste's	do	do
10 do	Plaiser & Smith's	do	do
4 do	do	Folio and Packet Post
15 do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2 do	do	Ledger PAPERS
20 do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter

2000 reams NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2000 do Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300 do Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Band Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n26-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP WOOLLEN CARPETING.

AT 76 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received, a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT H. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
se10-6m No. 12 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $3000. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to GEORGE GELBACH,
Real Estate and General Agency Ofd21 [a] fice, corner Balt. & Frederick sts.

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rochester White Wheat FLOUR
20 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs. Zante CURRANTS.
Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by
n13 tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

SUPERIOR CHEWING TOBACCO, and Regalia, Havana, and Principe CIGARS—for sale by
se16 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

MAGISTRATES' BLANKS. On hand and for sale by BULL & TUTTLE, Printers,
No. 7 N. Gay street, (Clipper Office.)

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

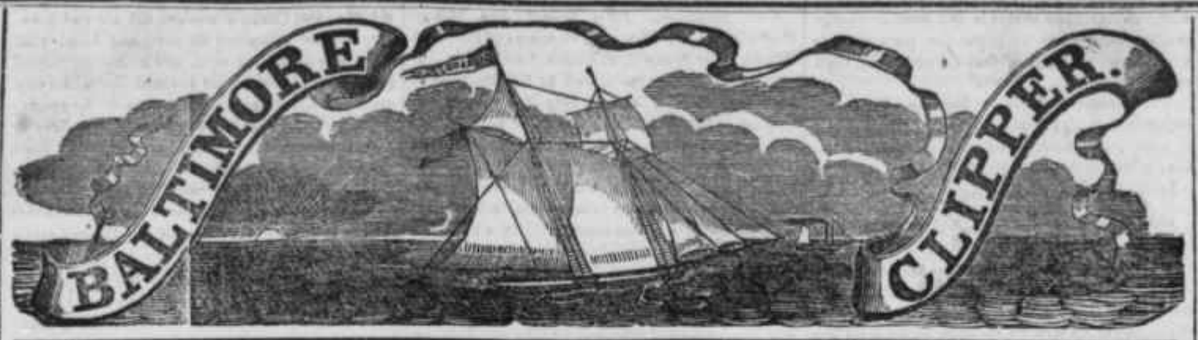
TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞Country Subscribers can receive the paper, by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square	1 time,	$0 50	1 square	1 month,	$4 00
1 do.	2 times,	75	1 do.	2 months,	7 00
1 do.	3 do.	1 00	1 do.	3 do.	10 00
1 do.	1 week,	1 75	1 do.	6 do.	16 00
1 do.	2 weeks,	2 75	1 do.	1 year,	30 00

☞Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.



VOL. III. NO. 105.] FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 15, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

JOB PRINTING.
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

The proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enamelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

OLD FRIENDS TOGETHER.
BY CHARLES SWAIN, ESQ.

Oh, time is sweet, when roses meet,
With Spring's sweet breath around them;
And sweet the cost, when hearts are lost;
If those we love have found them.

And sweet the mind, that still can find
A star in darkest weather;
But nought can be so sweet to see,
As old friends met together!

These good old days, when youth was bold,
And time stole wings to speed it,
And youth ne'er knew how fast Time flew,
Or knowing, did not heed it!

Though gay each brow that meets us now,
For age brings wintry weather,
Yet nought can be so sweet to see,
As those old friends together!

The few long known, whom years have shown,
With hearts that friendship blesses;
A hand to cheer, perchance, a tear,
To soothe a friend's distresses.

Who help and tried, still side by side,
A friend to face hard weather;
Oh, thus may we yet jay to see
And meet old friends together.

TWELVE MONTHS' CLOCK. Mr. Aaron D. Crane, of Newark, N. J. has constructed a clock which, it is said, will keep accurate time for twelve months. Accident disclosed to him a new and simple plan by which to measure the progress of time; and, as his invention will probably afford a substitute for the ordinary clocks in use, we give the following notice from the Newark Advertiser of the discovery and of the construction of his time piece:

"He had for some purpose or other suspended a weight by a slender spring and given it an impulse, which communicated a rotary motion.—After a certain time the motion was reversed by the reaction of the spring. We have seen the same thing probably an hundred times. Many an apple fell before Newton's time, and many a tea-kettle lid was raised before Fulton made his steamboat. But it was reserved for a mechanic of our city to apply so simple a movement to the art of time-keeping. It was the thought of an instant. And I well remember the expression of countenance, when he came to me immediately after and communicated his discovery. It certainly was the feeling if not in the language of Archimedes, when he rushed forth from his bath with the solution of the problem respecting Hiero's crown.

The principle once discovered, there was still great difficulty in its application, and it was not been until after months (nearly a year, indeed,) of patient study and toilsome labor, that he has at length brought his plan to perfection, and produced a clock—the fellow of which the world has never seen. In the train which belongs to the time-keeping part there are but four wheels—two additional being required for striking. The whole is moved by one power, hardly equal to that of an eight-day clock, and when once wound up will go with the sun throughout his annual course. In bulk, it is about equal to the common French mantel clock, and can be made to suit any taste or fancy. But its most remarkable property and greater excellency, is the extreme accuracy with which it is calculated to keep time. A great variety of experiments have enabled him to apply a spring which is perfectly isochronal, and, of course, when properly regulated, the movement must be entirely faultless. Having now secured a patent, as well in Europe as in this country, the clock will doubtless soon be before the public, when they can judge for themselves."

The following extraordinary incident from the New Orleans Picayune, whether true or not, is certainly ingeniously told.

Extraordinary Recognition. A most singular and extraordinary incident took place in this city last week. Two brothers have been living for twenty years within a hundred yards of each other in a neighboring street, and the consanguinity was never known until a most trivial accident a few days ago developed the story. The particulars are of too remarkable a nature to escape publicity, although the names we must withhold. The brothers were born in Paris, and were orphans at so early an age as to have no recollection of their parents. While yet children, an accidental explosion of gunpowder, with which they were playing, marked an indellible scar upon the cheek of one, and rendered useless for life a finger of the other. They were separated while still infants and taken care of by strangers, one afterwards following the sea as a cabin-boy for many years, the other remaining an apprentice in Paris. The cabin-boy when fifteen years old found himself in this city, and obtaining employment more to his fancy than roving the waves, he abandoned salt water and applied himself to another pursuit. Even at this time this brother was residing in the neighborhood, and they became acquainted and have conversed with each other daily almost from then till now. Both were industrious and have gradually improved their condition in life, until now they are surrounded by the comfortable rewards of thrift.—Each remembered the accident which occurred during childhood, and knew that he had then a brother, but this was all.

The other evening one of these brothers collected a circle of friends to witness the christening of his first grandchild, and his old familiar neighbor round the corner was among the guests. Accident brought the mutilated finger into notice, and the history of it was of course told, when the delight and surprise of the whole party may be imagined at the old neighbor abruptly giving the history of the scar on his cheek and claiming his long lost brother. Each had retained the original family name, but it had been so altered in spelling that neither ever detected the similarity. There was quite a dramatic denouement, when the old friends mutually explained, became convinced of the relationship, and rushed into each other's arms as brothers.

EFFECTS OF MRS. KINNEY'S TRIAL ON A HYPOCHONDRIACAL PRINTER. Yesterday afternoon, a very respectable printer—once the best handpressman in the city—was brought as an insane person, but not furiously mad. For some years his health has been entirely broken down. He first caught a violent cold while wetting paper down—a part of the pressman's duty in which he was skilful, and upon which much of the cleanliness and beauty of printing depends. Since then he has been much subject to bleeding at the lungs, and his continual indisposition has completely unhinged his mind. For the last few months he has labored under the hallucination that he had received a call to preach, and was endowed with the power to cast out devils. Acting upon this idea, he has seriously endeavored to collect twelve apostles to assist him in his religious undertakings. He has four children, the youngest of whom he imagines to be a sanctified angel, but the other three he supposes to be possessed of demons. For the last ten days, since the termination of Mrs. Kinney's trial, which attracted much of his attention, he has absented himself from his home under the apprehension that his family intended to poison him.

While on trial, he appeared, as lunatics often do, to be perfectly sane, and he remarked—"I am weak and exhausted—I bleed at the lungs, at the least exertion. I have had the pleurisy, too; but I am not insane, and never have been. I am just as sane as God ever made a man. I want no assistance from any one—I want no more than I can procure with my own hands." This last sentence referred to a statement made by the complainant that his family had been a charge to the city for some time past. He was upon the evidence adjudged a fit subject for the Lunatic Asylum, South Boston. He exhibited no particular feeling, when this judgment was pronounced.

He has always been a strictly temperate man, with a religious cast of mind. Latterly he has read no other book than the Bible. He will be discharged from the Hospital as soon as his mind becomes re-established.—Boston Post.

BONAPARTE'S WOUNDS.—Napoleon showed me the marks of two wounds, one a very deep cicatrice above the left knee, which he said he had received in his first campaign of Italy, and it was of so serious a nature, that the surgeons were in doubt whether it might be ultimately necessary to amputate. He observed that when he was wounded, it was kept a secret in order not to discourage his soldiers. The other was on the toe, and had been received at Eckmuhl. "At the seige of Acre," continued he, "a shell thrown by Sidney Smyth fell at my feet. Two soldiers who were close by, seized and closely embraced me, one at the front the other at the side, and made a rampart of their bodies for me against the effects of the shell which exploded and overwhelmed us with sand. We sunk into the hole formed by its bursting, and one of them was wounded.—I made them both officers. One has since lost a leg at Moscow and commanded at Vincennes when I left Paris. When summoned by the Russians, he replied, that as soon as they sent him the leg he had lost at Moscow, he would surrender the fortress. Many times in my life, continued he, have I been saved by soldiers and officers throwing themselves before me when I was in the most imminent danger. At Arcala, when I was advancing, Col. Meuran, my aid-de-camp, threw himself before me, covered me with his body, and received the wound that was destined for me. He fell at my feet, and the blood spouted up in my face. He gave his life to preserve mine. Never yet, I believe, has there been such devotion shown by soldiers as mine manifested for me. In all my misfortunes, never has the soldier, even when expiring, been wanting to me—never has man been served more faithfully by his troops. With the last drop of blood gushing out of their veins, they exclaimed—'Vive l'Empereur.' "—Voice from St. Helena.

ADVICE TO A BRIDE. "Hope not for perfect happiness," said Madam de Maintenan to the princess of Savoy, on the eve of her marriage with the Duke of Burgundy, "there is no such thing on earth, and though there were, it does not consist in the possession of riches. Greatness is exposed to afflictions often more severe than those of a private station. Be neither vexed or ashamed to depend on your husband. Let him be your dearest friend, your only confident. Hope not for constant harmony in the married state. The best husbands and wives are those who bear occasionally from each other, sallies of ill-humor with patient mildness. Be obliging without putting great value on your favors. Men are tyrants, who would be free themselves and have us confined. You need not be at any pains to examine whether their rights be well founded; it is enough if they are established. Pray God to keep you from jealousy. The affections of a husband are never to be gained by complaints, reproaches or sullen behaviour.

TASSO.—This celebrated poet composed, while in prison, a tragedy called "Il Torismondo." In the following pathetic passage in the concluding chorus, he had evidently an eye to his own misfortunes and his glory, which he saw, or thought he saw, vanishing from him—"Like the swift alpine torrent, like the sudden lightening in the dark night, like the passing wind, the melting vapor or the winged arrow—so vanishes our fame, and all our glory is but a fading flower. What, then, can we hope, or what expect more? After triumphs and palms, all that remains for the soul is strife, and lamentation, and regret; neither love nor friendship can avail us aught, but only tears and grief!"

A Dutchman and his wife were travelling—they sat down by the road side exceedingly fatigued. The wife sighed, I wish I was in heaven. The husband replies, I wish I was at the tavern. Oh, you old rogue, says she, you always want to get the best place.

A lady was recently teaching a boy to spell. The boy spelt c-o-l-d, but could not pronounce it. In vain his teacher asked him to think and try. At last she asked, "what do you get when you go out upon the wet side walk on a rainy day, and wet your feet?" "I gets a licking."

☞There were 169 deaths in New York last week.

GULLING THE GREEN ONES. A corn doctor in Ireland has recently been cutting a great figure in the way of his "profession," and his affairs were going on swimmingly until he was prosecuted for obtaining money under false pretences. A young lady from whose feet he pretended to have extracted six corns and cured in toe toe, and to whom he presented the "roots" as evidence, was the plaintiff in the case. Finding her corns no better she had the roots given her by the quack inspected by a medical gentleman, who pronounced them an ingenious preparation of crow quills! This is a new species of humbug.

THE POPULATION OF VIRGINIA, it is ascertained is 1,231,444—of which there are—

Whites	735,813
Free Colored	48,425
Slaves	447,207
	1,231,444
Population in 1830	1,211,406
Increase	20,038

The white population in 1830 was 694,429. The increase of whites is therefore 41,373. The increase of free blacks has been 1,322, and the decrease of slaves 22,517. The excess of whites over slaves in 1830 was 224,715—in 1840 it was 288,605.

THE BRIG TIGRIS. Captain Frye and Mr. Burnham, the mate of the brig Tigris, whose examination at Boston has been going on for several days past, have been put under bonds of $3000 and $2000, to answer the charge of seizing a native of Africa, on the coast, with intent of making him a slave, Judge Davis deeming the charge sufficiently established to warrant a trial by the Circuit Court which sits in May next. The crew were released.

THE FRESHET. No further intelligence of particular interest has reached us in relation to the recent flood. At Albany the greatest damage has been sustained. The latest news stated that the water was four feet deep in some parts of the city. The suffering among the poor is described as being most distressing, and the loss of property very great.

GOVERNOR OF MAINE. The Legislature are examining the returns: the contest is very close between the two Governors. Kent, it is understood, leads Fairfield a few votes, but there being about 100 scattering votes no choice may have been made.

ROBBERRY. The Albany Evening Journal states that Mr. Arnold, a merchant of Westfield, Chautauque county, had upwards of $11,000 stolen from his valise, when on his way to Albany. The valise was found cut open and rifled near the Rail Road depot at Syracuse.

FUGITIVE SLAVES. An Upper Canada paper states that within the last four years more than twelve thousand runaway slaves have made their escape into Canada from the United States.

FEMALE LABORERS. There are 8000 girls at work in printing offices, book binderies, fur stores &c. in Nassau street, N. York. Average wages $2 per week.

The Camden and Amboy Rail Road Company now run a steamboat between Bordentown and Philadelphia, as the road has been rendered impassable by the freshet.

Fanny Essler gave a grand supper to Marks, the leader of the Charleston Orchestra, in compliment to his musical talents, the other evening. What marked attention!

☞The river at Cincinnati is said to be in fine navigable order.

One of the best adapted ROOMS for PUBLIC MEETINGS in this City.

UNION HALL, S. E. corner of Tripolett's alley and Market street, elegantly fitted up with Gas, neat Benches with Backs, Desks, Speaker's or Chairman's Raised Platform, now occupied at stated periods by some of the most respectable societies of this city, and what renders it very pleasant, it is free from the pernicious influence of Bars, and the desecration of a tavern resort. It is got up on the Temperance principle. The third story is fitted up in the manner above named, having no connection with the other Rooms, either of which will contain 300 persons very comfortably. For religious or other Societies, it can be had either day or night. Merchants and Tradesmen, having meetings of any kind, are invited to call.

☞The Garret Room is also prepared, and would answer for a Book Bindery, Engraver, Shoemaker, Tailor, &c.—it is well lighted. Inquire of the Proprietor of the Store underneath, or at No. 69 Baltimore street, opposite. ja12-eo3t

FANCY AND WORSTED STORE.

THE subscriber has on hand, and offers for sale a large and general assortment of Fine Worsted Patterns, Zephyr Worsted, Thick & Working Chenille, Saddler's Floss, Sewing and Twist Silk for Purses, Silk, Cotton and Worsted Cuffs, Perforated, Board and Hair Cloth for Worsted Work, Ladies' Knitted Worsted Caps, Baby's Bonnetts, Boy's Gaiters and Scarfs, Silk and Worsted Fringe, Black Silk Lace, Silk Velvet for Head Bands, Belts and Cuffs, Ladies' and Children's Worsted Mittens, Knit Muffs, Knitting Yarn, Linen and Cotton Tape and Cord, &c.

ALSO—A general assortment of Work and Fancy Baskets and Boxes; Ivory, Shell, and Horn Combs; Jewelry; Needles and Pins; Toys, &c. &c.

G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 58 Lexington-st., 5th door above Howard-st.
o23-eo3m [as]

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,

Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.

With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.

oct5 EDW. J. RICHARDSON.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE,
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE

TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Bay Line—the Companies on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedule:

Leave Philadelphia	8 A.M.	reach	Baltimore	2 P.M.
" Baltimore	4 P.M.	"	Washington	6 P.M.
" Washington	5 A.M.	"	Fredk'sburg	12 M.
" Fred'ksburg	12 M.	"	Richmond	5 P.M.
" Richmond	5 P.M.	"	Petersburg	7 P.M.
" Petersburg	7 P.M.	"	Weldon	1 A.M.
" Weldon	1 A.M.	"	Wilmington	1 P.M.
" Wilmington	1 P.M.	"	Charleston	at 5 the next day.

As this Line carries the Great Mail, (which cannot be delayed,) and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is sure of a connection through, whilst it is evident that Foul Roads Weather!! and Storms!!! must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two-thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT ISLAND ROUTE.

☞The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon; and travellers have no expense or trouble with their Baggage.

☞This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞This is the only Daily Line to Richmond and Petersburg.

☞Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of

STOCKTON, FALLS & CO.
Adjoining the Philadelphia Rail Road Office,
d19-tf PRATT STREET, Baltimore.

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.

The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $2.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $3. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate

HATS!
HATS!!
HATS!!!
HATS!!!!
HATS!!!!!

Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at

W. H. KEEVIL & CO'S.
No. 66½ Baltimore-st., opposite Tripolett's alley.
And 4 doors W. of Bool's well known Auction Store.
d16-tjan10

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEARS PRESENT.

LADY'S BOOK, for JANUARY, 1841.—Edited by Mrs. SARAH J. HALE, and Mrs. LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY. The only Work, intended for Ladies, that is edited by their own Sex. Miss E. LESLIE contributes to every Number.

CONTENTS—Original. The Festa di Pie di Grotta; Mr. and Mrs. Woodbridge, by Miss Leslie; Anacreontic Ballad, by Mr. C. B. Wilson, of London, England; Prayers at Sea, by Mrs. L. H. Sigourney; False Pride, a Tale of Every Day Life, by Mrs. Mary W. Hale; The Fairy's Proffer, by Mrs. Annan, (late Miss A. M. F. Buchanan); An Incident during a Siege, by Mrs. Mary H. Parsons; Antonio Salvini, a Tale, by Mrs. E. F. Ellet; Childhood's Laugh, by Mrs. Seba Smith; A Life of Fashion, by Mrs. Emma C. Embury; Man's First Offering, by Mrs. S. J. Hale; The Parlor Serpent, by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz; To Wordsworth, written at Rydal Mount, by Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney; Ernestine, by Esther Wetherwald; Our Life is as a Shadow, by Miss Lois Bryan. MUSIC—The Stranger's Heart—words by Mrs. Hemans—music by Miss Augusta Browne; A Singular Fact, by Mrs. M. M. Webster; The two Trees, by Caroline T. Orne; New Year's Eve; or, Amusements at Home, by Mrs. S. J. Hale. Editor's Table.

EMBELLISHMENTS. Neapolitan Peasants—the finest Plate of the season—engraved by A. L. Dick; Fashions, Colored—Female figure, with fashionable head dress and apron; Boy's Dress; Girl's out-door Dress; Girl's in-door Dress.

☞Baltimore Publisher—WM. N. HARRISON, No. 2½ N. Gay-st., and 74 Market-st. at J. MOORE'S Bookstore, one door below Holliday street.

TERMS—$3 per year, or 25 cents each number. Register your names to-day, being a fine Christmas Gift.
d24

A NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

THE LADY'S BOOK, Bound, Volume XXII, Price $1.00.

LIST OF ENGRAVINGS:
1. Fairmount Water Works, Philadelphia.
2. The Pilgrims.
3. The Indian Maid.
4. Happy as a King.
5. Death of Lusth.
6. Constantinople.

And six colored PRINTS of the latest Fashions.
N. B. The January number for 1841 is just received. Price 25 cents—or $3 per year. For sale at
W. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Office,
No. 2½ N. Gay street—and at
JOHN MOORE'S Bookstore,
d29 No. 74 Market-st. 1 door below Holliday.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Warranted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by Dr. HITZELBERGER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $2!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

Dr. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of 10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $2. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. se3-ylm*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.

DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND,

For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabets or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the urethe of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, composed solely of vegetable substance? One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N. B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of T. J. PITT, Market Space, Pell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Briton and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue. And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL.
dec5-y

A BLESSING TO ALL MANKIND.

The VEGETABLE FLUID SYRUP, or Mercurial Extractor. This infallible Syrup is the discovery of an old veteran and hero of the vegetable kingdom; after long research, his labors have been crowned with the glorious result of a positive remedy for the bad effects of that poisonous drug (Mercury,) and while it has this new efficacious effect upon the bones affected with mercury, it at the same time purifies the blood from the remnants of Venereal Disease, Scrofulous Affections, splotches and Eruptions upon the Skin, old standing indolent Ulcers, &c.

For sale, wholesale, and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO., No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-sts., on the corner of Uhler's alley; and at the General Agency Office, No. 3 Pitt street, Baltimore. Also, at WM. LANPHIER'S Drug Store, Washington, D. C. o31

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!

THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor Ducatel,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.

HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.

☞Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!

AN AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 22 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Coal-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 100,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and uncut, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.

je16-d HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.

mh3-dtf HOPE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.

THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.

a3-dtf G. W. PEARCE.

CASSIA AND CHAMPAGNE.

10 CASES FRESH CASSIA
10 baskets Genuine Anchor CHAMPAGNE
Landing from Celeste, for sale by
MARCUS DENISON,
de 24 No. 31 Baltimore street.

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. a 625

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 15, 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

"THE BANKS AND THEIR MANAGEMENT." Under this head the American of yesterday contained an editorial article which excited our surprise; and, were we not acquainted with the accuracy of its editors in matters of fact, we should be disposed to believe that they were mistaken in the assertion that "it is one of the internal rules of banks that the private accounts of individuals, (which include executive officers,) shall not be subject to the inspection of the directors." Where such rules exist in banking institutions, the natural order of things is reversed—the officers of the bank, instead of being subordinate to the directors, are rendered paramount, and the authority of the latter is absolutely insignificant. Directors are appointed as the trustees of the stockholders for the time being, and the duty is devolved on them in the confidence that the trust will be faithfully administered; but it is evident that if individual accounts, (including those of officers of the bank,) be not subjected to their inspection, imposition and fraud can be practised to an alarming extent, without their cognizance. This was never intended to be permitted, either by their charters, or by the stockholders from whom they received their appointments. Balance sheets disclose nothing excepting the general condition of the bank, and form no criterion to judge of its solvency, or of its ability to grant further discounts with safety to the institution. Under the rule which excludes individual accounts from inspection, the officers of the bank can use any amount of its capital without discovery. Suppose, for instance, that the president and cashier desire the use of $100,000: they may withdraw that amount from bank either upon their own checks or notes, as they please, and the board of directors being prohibited from examining the condition of their accounts, will be unable to prevent the transaction, or to take measures to secure the bank from loss. Can this be so? If the rule exist, as stated in the American, we cannot see how said officers are to be checked. We know that it has been usual to give to the president and cashier certain discretionary powers in the discounting of paper; but we always supposed that the paper thus discounted was submitted to the inspection of the board at its first meeting, and that directors were free to approve or condemn the act. We supposed further, that all paper discounted and overdrafts had to be subjected to a like inspection. It would be impossible, without such information, for any board of directors to act understandingly; they would be entirely in the dark—and, we must be permitted to say, would be faithless to their duty. The charters of the banks (so far as we have examined them) recognize no rule by which individual accounts are excluded from the inspection of directors. Authority is conferred to make by-laws, and if the rule be incorporated in these, they should be speedily amended for the safety of stockholders and the purposes of justice.

It is well known that banks have suffered greatly from the acts of their officers; but we have believed that the injury arose from one of two causes: either from exhorbitant and ill-secured accommodations granted to favorites by the general authority conferred by the board upon such officers—or by their fraudulent abstraction of the funds of the bank. We had no idea that any officer of a bank could, in the regular discharge of his duty, help himself to any amount, (however large or small,) without the privity and consent of the directors—much less could we have conceived that the directors would voluntarily sanction a rule which makes them mere cyphers, whilst they are held responsible for what they cannot perform. Under such a rule it is not a matter of surprise that there should be defaulters among bank officers: the astonishment is, that there should be so few. It is difficult to resist temptation—and when a bank officer can use at will what belongs to another, he must be strongly imbued with principles of honor and honesty, if he be not tempted to deviate.

It was our impression, that all the transactions of a bank were at all times open to the inspection of directors; and it is right that such should be the case, as they are the guardians of the common property. We can see no motive for secresy—no substantial objection to laying every thing bare to the eyes of the directors—unless, indeed, the motive for a different course be found in the fact, that bank officers are guilty of acts which they dread to have disclosed to their superiors. But, however such motive might operate with them, it should have no influence with directors, who are to answer to the stockholders, and to the public, for the administration of the affairs of the Bank.

It is a bad rule that gives discretionary power to a subordinate officer—power subject to no supervision. The rule is particularly objectionable when applied to banking concerns, where discipline and regularity are most essential. We never supposed, for a moment, that directors had relinquished their supervisory power. It was not to be supposed that the board would, in a body, have a daily inspection of the affairs of the banks; but we did believe that this duty was discharged by an executive committee, chosen alternately from among the directors. As such, however, proves not to be the case, and as it seems that the security of banks depends more on the honesty of officers than the vigilence of directors—we agree with the American that it is full time to change the procedure, and to place the responsibility where the law designed that it should rest, upon the directors.

Other amendments in the banking system are required to render it more perfect. There should be some restrictions and limitations imposed by law, which do not now exist. Some of these we suggested in yesterday's paper.

OFFICE-HUNTING. The National Intelligencer contains a communication in relation to some office likely to become vacant by the death of an incumbent. The writer asks, "would it not be decent, when an office is about to be vacated by the death of an incumbent, to await until he has fairly 'slipped out of his slippers' before we attempt to thrust our toes into them?" This is a just and pointed rebuke, and is well merited by those who are in such haste to obtain office. We have known similar cases, where office-hunters have had their papers ready "cut and dried" for the occasion; and awaited with impatience the signal of death at the door of the incumbent.—Such indelicacy is disgusting, and had we the appointing power, no man guilty of such conduct should receive the least countenance.

The disposition to obtain office is too prevalent. It is not because public office affords a better compensation than can be obtained in an humbler sphere; but applicants suppose that there is a certain dignity attached to office, and that the labor is light. A man will seek an office not worth half as much as could be earned by honest industry—but then, there is the dignity! and this dignity not unfrequently has to compensate for an impoverished family. When will man learn that industry is not disgraceful, and that, in labor and economy are to be found independence and true dignity? Pride enters at one door and poverty at the other; and the only effectual mode to banish the latter is to subdue the former. Pride and Dependence are an ill-assorted pair, and the sooner they are divorced the better—for, whilst they go hand in hand, they are sure to have Meanness as a third companion. "A proud head and a soft hand, fill not the stomach nor yet get land:" therefore, he who would have money, must first get industry. But industry is not all that is required—for he who spends with his left hand more than he makes with the right, is engaged in as fruitless a labor as the woman who attempted to fill a tub with water which had a hole in the bottom. No—a man should always remember, that "a great store is no sore," and therefore "lay by to-day's gain, lest to-morrow it rain;" or, according to the old adage, "make hay while the sun shines." Let him do this, and office may seek him, instead of his seeking it.

TEMPERANCE IN BALTIMORE. Never since the establishment of our city has there been so great an excitement, relative to the cause of temperance, as at the present. New societies are being formed almost daily, and immediately swelling in numbers to hundreds. All classes—young and old, rich and poor, in every circle, are bowing in submissive obedience to the triumph of intelligence over the dark and ruinous dominion of Bacchus. The veil which long has obscured the inebriated eye is being torn off, and those beauties which intervened between mad intoxication and the only enjoyment of existence, are set forth in all their splendor. The old weatherbeaten sot, who for years past has been tottering upon the declivity of misfortune, may now be seen renovated, transformed and happy—rising gradually into a sphere of respectability and importance, where alone those God-like faculties of man can meet the ends for which they were given him.

The skeptical have sometimes questioned the utility of such associations. The argument is, that if men are inclined to live soberly they can do so without the formality of signing a pledge. This we admit will hold good in many instances, but not in all. Society is held together and perfected by influence, and every man, no matter what may be his situation, has his share of influence, tending either to virtue or vice, upon his associates. Again, there are many who do not, and who have not the capacity, of either thinking or acting for themselves, or upon their own responsibility. With such persons persuasion and example may do much. A single circumstance may change the whole tenor of their lives. Those who can withstand temptations by forming inherent resolutions, do well, but those who resist them by signing a temperance pledge, certainly do no harm, but demonstrate that the act is positively productive of an incalculable amount of good.

While we do live let us live as happy as possible—and no argument is wanting to show that sobriety is the road to refined pleasures while drunkenness is the certain companion of misery. The best wish we have for the temperance societies, is, that they may grow in strength, and that no member may be found recreant to his or her promise.

The Richmond Compiler say: "The remarkable defalcation in the Virginia Bank—the long continued and undetected course of embezzelment through which it was consummated—has excited the intense curiosity and elicited the speculation of all since its discovery, and nothing has yet appeared fully to remove doubt as to who got the benefit, and what became of the money, and who is most deeply involved in the transaction; and it may be fairly conjectured that it will never be clearly ascertained."

☞ The mahogany coffin which enclosed the remains of Napoleon at St. Helena, and which was exchanged for the ebony one brought from France, was cut up by order of the Prince de Joinville, and distributed in pieces to the officers and men of the Belle Poule and Favorite. Several pieces were disposed of by the sailors, on their arrival at France, at from 300 to 500 francs each.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

CITY COUNCIL. First Branch, Jan. 14th.—Resolved, by us, That such members of the First Branch, City Council, as cannot leave their dinner tables in time to attend to the business of their constituents, be, and they are hereby requested to put their dinners in their pockets and snuach their provender during the session, in order that they may answer "yea" or "nay" when called upon. The resolution is unanimously carried. This is certainly more business-like than keeping the prompt members waiting a half hour before a quorum can be drummed up.

Mr. Donovan presented the petition of Mr. Joseph Abey and other property holders in the 8th ward, praying that an alley of the width of 20 feet might be opened between Light and William streets. Referred to committee on streets.

Mr. Bender presented the petition of Robert Hickley and others, praying to be released from the payment of pump tax for reasons set forth in the petition. Referred to committee on claims.

Mr. Pinckney begged leave to reconsider the resolution offered by him yesterday and concurred in, relative to wood-huxters, in order that he might make an amendment. This being granted, Mr. P. offered the resolution as before, (published yesterday) adding the following:

Resolved, That a copy of the foregoing resolution, signed by the Mayor and presidents of both branches of the City Council, be forwarded to the senator and representatives from the city to the General Assembly of Maryland. Concurred in.

On motion of Mr. Donovan, the branch reconsidered the resolution to go into convention on the 25th inst. Mr. D. moved to add two commissioners of finance, which was concurred in, and a message sent to the second branch accordingly. Concurred in by the second branch.

A message was received from the Second Branch, proposing the appointment of a joint select committee for the government of the two branches—Messrs. Lucas and Hook having been appointed on the part of the Second Branch. After a second reading, the proposition was agreed to, and Messrs. Dryden, Keyser and Donovan were appointed on the part of this branch.

Mr. Burns presented the report of the joint select committee on the commissioners' and port wardens' accounts, which, after a second reading, was concurred in and sent to the Second Branch.

Mr. J. T. Brown presented the annual report of the Union Fire Company. Referred to the committee on fire companies.

Mr. Pinckney presented an unfavorable report of the joint committee on police, to whom was referred the subject of guards to prevent the snow and ice from falling from the roofs of houses. Laid on the table.

Mr. Gorsuch presented the report of the minority of the same committee. Laid on the table.

The rules were suspended in order to allow Mr. J. S. Brown to offer the following resolution.

"Resolved, That our delegates to the General Assembly, now in session, be requested to use their influence in furthering the passage of an act to incorporate the Washington Temperance Society of this city; and furthermore, that they be requested to lend their aid in carrying out the design of a memorial to be presented to that honorable body, praying the erection of a law, prohibiting any license to be issued for retailing intoxicating drinks in the election districts of any county, or ward of any city of this state, wherein a majority of the voters thereof at the polls, at any general elections, after its passage, on their ballots express their opinions that no such license should be therein granted; and furthermore, prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors of any kind on the Lord's day."

On motion of Mr. Pinckney, the resolution was laid on the table.

The Second Branch returned the report and resolution of the joint committee on the harbor, relative to the repairing of the platform at Commerce street wharf, and the report and resolution of the joint committee to examine the commissioners' and Port warden's accounts, severally concurred in.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Pinckney, requiring the joint committee on streets to enquire into the expediency of suspending the operations of an ordinance passed 7th Feb. 1837, relative to the repaving paved streets, lanes and alleys in the city of Baltimore. Concurred in. The Branch adjourned.

In the Second Branch, Mr. Barnett presented the petition of Jacob and Benjamin Horn, asking the passage of an ordinance to close Bloom street, which was read, and on motion of Mr. Lucas referred to the joint committee on streets.

DON'T TAKE THE LAW IN YOUR OWN HANDS. An action for damages was brought before Justice Snyder yesterday, the details of which will probably have a tendency to check the spirit which prompts every man to become the maker and minister of the law. It seems that a poor and unfortunate woman by the name of Catharine Duffy, (the wife of Martin Duffy, who was not long since committed for assaulting and beating the lawful partner of his joys and sorrows,) being destitute, sought friendly asylum in the house of Mr. League, one of the city bailiffs, who was the friend of her family. In removing her "goods and chattles" to his house, she employed a carter, by the name of William Coulin, to carry the furniture and bargained with him for 25 cents, stating that he would be paid when the things arrived at the house. Coulin delivered the articles at the house, and demanded the money, when Mrs. Duffy stated that Mr. League not being in, he would have to call again. Hereupon he grew wrothy, and took possession of a barrel of herrings, as security for the payment of the 25 cents. Mrs. Duffy then brought an action of damages against him for the value of the herrings; and the magistrate, after a full investigation of the case, ordered that he should pay $2.25, the value of the article, and costs amounting to $1.24. But Coulin's troubles did not end here. Mr. League examined his cart, and found that there was no number on it, and he having carried goods for pay, by the act violated one of the city ordinances, which makes it a penalty for receiving pay for drayage or cartage, when the dray or cart is not numbered. He was consequently fined $2 and 56 cents costs for violating said ordinance. Thus was he amply punished for taking the law in his own hands; had he but waited a few hours for the twenty-five cents, he would have saved himself $6.05.

LECTURES. Lectures are all the go, and in a short time there will not be a subject left that has not been fully explained. On Wednesday night at a late hour, a fellow mounted the hydrant box at the corner of Gay and Fayette streets and delivered a forensic malange on various subjects, from the evils of National debt down to the luxuries of a mud puddle. His discourse would have embraced a vast amount of useful knowledge, had he not "fallen from his high estate," to the pavement below.

TOWN HALL LOTTERY. A drawing of this popular lottery will take place to-morrow. If we must have lotteries, let them be of benefit to the city or state—the improvements contemplated by the planners of this lottery are such as should awaken the interest of every Baltimorean. The scheme is liberal, and, if those who are desirous of venturing, wish their money to go in a right direction, let them give the Town Hall Lottery the preference.

CITIZENS' BALL. Great preparations are making for this affair by the managers. It is to take place at Washington Hall on Wednesday night next. Remember, it is solely for the benefit of the poor—and if you do not join in the giddy whirl of the dance, you can have the proud consciousness of having given your mite towards the relief of the distressed.

ACCIDENT. The Patriot of last evening states that Mr. Thomas Sewell was in the morning considerably injured by the falling of his horse at the corner of Fayette and Holliday streets.

POLICE. John and Eliza Whittington were on Wednesday arrested, charged with threatening the life of Eliza Walker. Justice McDonald released them on their giving security to keep the peace.

Yesterday morning, John Wylie was brought before Justice Wright, charged with assaulting and threatening the life of William Jordan. Released on giving security for his appearance.

Richard Reister, a colored man, was brought before Justice Gorsuch, charged with assaulting and beating Elizabeth Hiner. Released on giving security for his appearance.

WATCH RETURNS. In the Eastern District on Wednesday night, Hector McDonald was brought up for being "monkied" and riotous. Wm. Carter, John Nelson, and James Roach asked for quarters. In the Middle District, George Jackson was brought in by the police under suspicious circumstances. A number of loafers were kept on hand for the alms-house. In the Western District a negro man named David Duffin was sent to the alms house.

☞ We have been favored by a friend with the following extract of a letter, which we insert, not from anything new which it contains, but because it speaks in just terms of commendation of some of our naval officers.

Extract of a letter from an officer of the U. S. frigate Constitution, dated "Callao Bay, Sept. 1840.

"We are very dull, and have lost two men by small pox. The St. Louis has not yet arrived from the North shore where she has been on a cruize. We are detained, and the consequence is, that our fine ship has been put in the most ample order, and is now ready for a voyage around the world if it were required. This country is very unsettled—loans forced from the people in every possible way, and a small chance of ever getting it back. Even foreigners are forced daily to contribute to the wants of this free and enlightened people. Our next operation is to Guyaquill. The Shark sails to-morrow. Commodore Claxton is the same popular, fatherly and most exemplary commander. While these noble feelings are exercised, the dignity, the discipline and the sailor are exemplified. A better naval representative our country has never had in these waters.

Captain Turner, the commander of this ship, is much beloved; and the whole squadron is peculiarly favored with as fine a set of officers as can be found—so much so, that every man of the crews is desirous of contributing his share to the honor and character of his respective ship, and to render all as happy as a jolly and contented set of tars can be, when so far away from 'the land of the free and the home of the brave.'"

DANGEROUS HOAX. Some individual in Vicksburg ran into the theatre when it was crowded with spectators, and cried at the top of his voice, "tornado! tornado!!" The audience instantly became frightened, the ladies shrieked, boys yelled, children screamed, dogs barked, and men rushed for the doors. Pell mell, scamper, scramble, every fellow was for himself, and no one stopped to look for his neighbor. Dresses were torn, fine capes rumpled, bonnets mashed, shawls and cloaks trampled under foot, heads bumped and bodies squeezed, but no bones broken. After a great muss, the crowd was enabled to get out, when it was discovered that the tornado was no "great shakes" after all, and the whole party returned to their seats, and the play proceeded.

Lt. Gov. Harvey, of New Brunswick, has notified the Governor of Maine, that the detachment of troops were sent into the disputed territory merely to protect the British magistrates from insult by the armed posse of Maine.

MARRIED,

At Frederick city, Md. on Thursday, 7th instant, by the Rev. Mr. D. Zacharis, Mr. CHARLES HODDINOTT, of Baltimore, to Miss HENRIETTA C. KOONTZ, of Frederick city.

At Washington, on the 12th inst. by the Rev. Elias Harrison, the Hon. ALBERT G. BROWN, Representative in Congress from Mississippi, to ROBERTA E. youngest daughter of the late Gen. Rob't Young, of Alexandria.

DIED,

On Friday, 8th inst. at his father's house, in Reisterstown, Baltimore county, Mr. JAMES E. COLLINS, in the 20th year of his age.

On Monday, 11th inst. Mrs. MARY MILLER, consort of Mr. Enoch Miller, in the 38th year of her age.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Brig Isabella, Crothers, Kingston, Jam.
Schr Mobile, Barnes, Norfolk and Petersburg.

ARRIVED.

Brig Galveston, Burr, 25 days from N. Orleans, sugar.
Barque Serene, Hill, from the Pacific, to Hu. Boyle.
Schr Leonidas, Kelly, 23 days from Cape Haytien, coffee, hides, and logwood.

MEMORANDA.

Ship Guinare, Sloan, from Baltimore for Rotterdam, arrived at Helvoet 14th Dec.

Ship Active, Beard, of Baltimore, from Amsterdam for St. Ubes, was off the Lizard 25th Nov.

Brig Angola, Emsey, of Baltimore, was at Bordeaux 15th Dec. to sail soon for New York.

Apprentices' LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

☞ A meeting of the friends of the above Association will be held in the Lecture Room of the First Baptist Church, corner of Sharp and Lombard streets, on THIS (Friday) EVENING, at 7 o'clock. It is hoped that Master Mechanics and all who feel any interest in the welfare of so interesting a portion of our community, will make it their business and privilege to attend. This is probably the last call, and upon the success of this meeting mainly depends the future existence of an Apprentices Library in this city.

Addresses will be delivered by the Rev. Mr. BURNAP, Professor DUNBAR, and others.

ja15-1t* A. FULLER CRANE.

A CARD.

☞ Mr. SINCLAIR begs leave to announce to his friends and the public, that his BENEFIT and Last Appearance will take place on SATURDAY EVENING, 16th inst. when will be produced, (first time in this city,) the Grand Romantic Musical Drama,

THE LORD OF THE ISLES;
OR, THE GATHERING OF THE CLANS.

Founded on Sir Walter Scott's Poem. With a variety of Entertainments. In the course of the evening, Mr. SINCLAIR will sing his most popular English and Scottish Songs. ☞ Box Book now open. ja15-2t

BALTIMORE LYCEUM.

☞ The exercises THIS EVENING, commencing at 7 o'clock, will consist of Recitations by different members, and a further discussion of the postponed question—"Are the Criminal Laws of Maryland calculated to prevent the commission of crime and promote the general welfare?" Tickets to be had at ISAAC CANDLER'S Book Store, Pratt street.

ja15-1t O. S. CRAMPTON, Sec'y.

☞ The JAMES ROACH, reported in the Watch Returns of the Eastern district, is not JAMES J. ROACH, Painter, of No. 15 German street. ja15-1t*

WASHINGTON
TEMPERANCE SOCIETY.

☞ A public meeting will be held in the William-st. Church, on THIS (FRIDAY) EVENING, at half past 6 o'clock. It is expected the meeting will be very interesting as an experience meeting. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

N. B. The Washington Temperance Society intend holding weekly public meetings until the 1st of April, of which notice of time and place will be given through the papers. Such of the Churches as are disposed to favor the temperance cause, by offering their churches for the purpose of holding a meeting in, will please address a line to the President of the Society. ja13-3t

O. I. O. F.

☞ The Past Grands and Representatives of the Grand Lodge of Maryland, are requested to meet at the Hall, Gay street, on THIS (FRIDAY) EVENING, 15th inst. at 7 o'clock, it being the Annual Communication. By order, ja13-3t WM. G. COOK, Grand Sec'y.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION
OF THE DEPTFORD FIRE COMPANY.

☞ The Introductory Lecture before this Association will be delivered by S. TEAKLE WALLIS, Esq. on FRIDAY EVENING NEXT, at 7 o'clock, in the Carolne street Church. The public are respectfully invited. ja13-3t* ROBT DUTTON, Pres't.

NOTICE.

☞ Hereafter the Washington Temperance Society will hold their regular meetings EVERY MONDAY EVENING, in Mr. JOHN NEELY'S School Room, corner of Lombard and Hanover streets, at half past six o'clock—entrance on Hanover street.

N. B. Our fellow-citizens, desirous of joining the Society, are requested to attend the meeting on Monday evening next. By order of the President, ja13 6d2w JOHN F. HOSS, Sec'y.

Washington Junior Temperance Society.

☞ The members of this Society are requested to meet at Union Hall, corner of Market street and Tripolett's alley, on SATURDAY EVENING NEXT, at 7 o'clock precisely. Young men, under the age of 21 years, desirous of joining this Society, are invited to attend. By order, ja5-6d2w WM. GEORGE HECKROTTE, Sec.

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,
80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

19 32 37 One of the Capital Prizes in yesterday's consolidated Lottery of Maryland, was sold at this office, the following are the drawn Nos.

37 12 48 38 29 42 45 19 14 32 34 18

Drawing of the Delaware State Lottery, class 4—drawn 12th inst.—lowest prize $1.50:

3 61 14 5 12 41 36 65 22 33

Magnificent Lotteries for the week:

On TO DAY, Virginia State Lottery, Extra, class No 3, to be drawn at Alexandria, Va. Capitals of $10,000, 3000, &c. 75 Nos. 13 Ballots. Tickets $4.

On SATURDAY, Immense and Grand Scheme, Va. State Lottery, nett capitals of $30,000, 10,000, 5000, 4000, 50 of 1000, 50 of 500, 250, 200, &c. 75 No. Lottery—15 Ballots. More prizes than blanks.

Whole tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2 50.

☞ All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address. E. W. ROBINSON,

No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.
Agent for the State of Maryland. ja15-1t

STONER'S OFFICE.
UNDER WASHINGTON HALL,
MARKET STREET BRIDGE.

On SATURDAY NEXT, we can offer a brilliant chance for fortunes. Alexandria Lottery, class No. 1, 75 Numbers—15 Ballots.

GRAND SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$30,000		1 Prize of		$3000
1 "	10,000		1 "		2500
1 "	5000		1 "		4000
25 "	4000		50 "		1000, &c.

Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞ Orders, from all parts of the city and country, should be carefully directed to

ja15-1t JOHN L. STONER, Baltimore.

BOARDING WANTED. A gentleman wishes to obtain unfurnished Rooms, for himself and family, in a private family residing somewhere near the centre or north-western part of the city. He would also board with the family, provided the terms could be made such as to suit his income. Apply at the office of the Clipper. ja15 2t*

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

DAVID WHITSON respectfully informs his customers and friends, that he has this day associated with him, in business, his son, WILLIAM E. WHITSON. The business will hereafter be conducted under the firm of DAVID WHITSON & SON.

JANUARY 1st, 1841. ja15-4t*

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Man. To Dr. SWAYNE.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel different—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently depends on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
jy28-y

THE VERY BEST
FAMILY NEWSPAPER
IN THE UNITED STATES.

THE OCEAN
AND BALTIMORE WEEKLY CLIPPER
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING,
By BULL & TUTTLE,
EDITED BY
SAMUEL BARNES, JOHN H. HEWITT, and JOHN WILLS,
AT ONLY $1.50 PER ANNUM,

IS one of the CHEAPEST and BEST FAMILY NEWSPAPERS now published. Being made up from the columns of the DAILY CLIPPER, comprising all the current NEWS of the week, TALES, POETRY, &c. &c., embracing a greater variety of interesting matter than can be found in any other newspaper publication extant. The paper is carefully mailed EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, and sent to subscribers in every part of the Union. Subscriptions $1.50 per annum, always payable in advance.

☞ All letters must be addressed (post paid) to
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 N. Gay street, Baltimore, Md.

N. B. Single copies of the Ocean and Weekly Clipper can always be had at the Office, with or without wrappers—price 6¼ cents. ja15 d

SIXTY DOLLARS REWARD.

THE above reward will be paid for apprehending the following Deserters from the U. S. Army:

ADAM DUKE, who is twenty-one years of age, five feet eight inches high, ruddy complexion, brown eyes, brown hair, born in Columbia, Penn. and by occupation a laborer.

MICHAEL JENNINGS, who is eighteen years of age, five feet five inches high, fair complexion, blue eyes, brown hair, born in Mayo, Ireland, and by occupation a laborer.

The above reward, or $30 for either, will be paid on their delivery to any Military Post in the U. States.

ja15-3t* WM. WALL, Lt. U. S. A.

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE.

That on the 18th Dec. last, a Red COW and CALF came on my farm, and have there since remained, and having advertised them in the newspapers and the owner not having made his appearance to claim them, that if not claimed on or before the 1st of February next, I will cause them to be sold in order to defray the expenses of their keeping, &c.

ALONZO KEERSHAW,
ja15-e03t* 8 miles on the Frederick Turnpike.

STRAYED OR STOLEN,

From the subscriber's Farm, four and a half miles from Baltimore, on the York Road, on Sunday night last, a Black HORSE, about 16 hands high, the off fore and hind feet white, and a white star in the forehead, about six years old, had a long seam on the off hind quarter, caused by a stake. Twenty dollars reward will be paid for his return, if strayed, or fifty, if stolen, with the detection of the thief.

ja15-eod1* ANDREW H. ARMOUR.

NOTICE. Was found in a Store in Market street yesterday afternon, a paper parcel, containing Black Silk, Needles, Satin, &c.—information of which can be received on application at this office. It is supposed to have been left by a lady who was a short time previous in the store, and purchased, among other items, kid gloves and cotton hose. ja15-3t

TEN DOLLARS REWARD. Was lost in S. Paca street, on Tuesday, ten TEN DOLLAR NOTES, of the Merchants Bank of Baltimore, and three one dollar notes of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road Company. The above reward will be paid to any person who will deposit the above at this office, in order that it may be obtained by the owner.

ja15 1t*

ENCOURAGE THE HOME LOTTERY!
100,000 DOLLARS.
TOWN HALL LOTTERY.

FOR the Embellishment of the city of Baltimore, to be drawn January 16, 1841. A book of 110 tickets may draw $100,000.

SCHEME:

1st prize	$10,000
2d	10,000
3d	10,000
4th	10,000
5th	10,000	$100,000.
6th	10,000
7th	10,000
8th	10,000
9th	10,000
10th	10,000

On a new and most simple mode four sets of numbers or forty single numbers are placed in the wheel, viz:

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

And ten drawn out at random, and those ten tickets ending with the four first drawn numbers, in the order in which they are drawn, will be entitled to the ten prizes of ten thousand dollars—thus, suppose 2568 should be the four first drawn numbers—the tickets being numbered 1001-1002, &c. up to 101,000, the only tickets ending with the four first in order will be 2 5 68, 12 5 68, 22 5 68, 32 5 68, 4 25 68, 5 25 68, 6 25 68, 7 25 68, 8 25 68, 9 25 68, thus a book which contains ten tickets in each ten thousand, consequently may draw the ten prizes—or $100,000.

Tickets $5—Halves $2.50—Quarters $1.25.

Packages of 10 Whole Tickets,	$50 00
Packages of 10 Half Tickets,	25 00
Packages of 10 Quarter Tickets,	12 50
Packages of 10 Eighth Tickets,	6 25

Those who prefer paying the difference only, between the Selling Price and what a Package is warranted to draw, can be supplied as follows:

A book, or 100 whole tickets $250, shares in proportion.

For 10 Whole Tickets,	$25 00
For 10 Halves,	12 50
For 10 Quarters,	6 25
For 10 Eighths,	3 12

For which they will receive a Commissioners Certificate, just as good in every respect as the Original Tickets, and entitling the purchaser to all Prizes that may be drawn by the numbers composing the Package, over the warranted amount.

☞ For Tickets, please address
EDWARD P. ROBERTS, Agent,
No. 2 Exchange Place, next door to the
ja14-3t Maryland Lottery and Exchange Office.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, elecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and boneset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North-st. d19-y

SERVANTS. Persons in want of Servants of any kind, will be promptly supplied by applying at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. [a] d30

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000 may be had on		MONDAY, for	$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	4 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
5,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 00
20,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. ja7-2m

F. B. SCHÆFFER,
(SUCCESSOR TO BARKER & CO.)
156 BALTIMORE STREET.

$20,000. This splendid capital, in the Maryland State Lottery, No. 1, drawn on the 6th Jan. to Nos. 22, 71, 56, we have not yet heard of, or from the fortunate holder. We trust that it has fallen into good hands, and will be of general utility—the cash will be paid for that, and all other prizes on demand. Drawn numbers of the Literature Lottery, No 2.

29 56 40 27 28 47 15 21 12 13 17 19

Several handsome prizes were sold in the above. We beg to call the attention of our patrons to the splendid Lotteries to be drawn this week:

TO-DAY, Jan. 11th, Alexandria Lottery, class No. 2, Capitals $15,000, 10,000, &c. Tickets $5.

TO-MORROW, State Treasury Lottery—Capital prize $12,000. Tickets $4—shares in proportion.

On WEDNESDAY, the Maryland State Lottery will be drawn in Baltimore. Capital prize $20,000. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On THURSDAY, Grand Consolidated Lottery, No. 2—capital prize $10,000. Tickets $5.

On FRIDAY, 15th Jan., Literature Lottery, class 3, Capitals $8,000, 3,000, &c. Tickets $2.50.

On SATURDAY, 16th Jan., Virginia State Lottery, class 1. Capitals—35,295, 10,515, 5,000, &c.

Whole Tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2.50.

☞ For Lucky Tickets, apply to
F. B. SCHÆFFER,
Successor to BARKER & Co.
156 Baltimore street, corner of St. Paul's-st.

Where more prizes have been sold and paid than at any other office within the United States.

☞ Orders for Tickets, in any Lotteries under the management of D. S. GREGORY & Co., thankfully received and promptly attended to—and the result of the drawing sent immediately after it is received. To insure a prize, you must address
ja11 F. B. SCHÆFFER, Baltimore, Md.

ENCOURAGE OUR OWN CITY.

SATURDAY, will be drawn the GRAND TOWN HALL LOTTERY, in which there is a greater chance for drawing a Capital Prize than ever before occurred in this city—in addition to which, it must be remembered by the citizens of Baltimore, that every dollar of the money realized, will be expended in our own community, giving employment to hundreds of Mechanics, Laborers, Artizans, &c., whose united labor, when completed, will be a lasting Monument of the liberality, taste, and mechanical skill of all who have contributed their mite in aid of erecting the TOWN HALL of Baltimore. Besides other splendid attractions, the Scheme contains

10 PRIZES OF $10,000 EACH!
Amounting to $400,000!!

This Lottery being entirely for the benefit of Baltimore, every person who may spend a dollar in purchasing a Ticket or share in it, will, in return for the same, even if they be not so fortunate as to draw a SNUG PRIZE, be possessed with the pleasing consciousness that they have contributed their part towards erecting the State Armory and Town Hall.

Tickets $5—Halves $2.50—Quarters $1.25.

Certificate of 10 Wholes $33; 10 Halves $16.50; 10 Quarters $8.25; 10 Eighths $4.12½.

☞ For tickets and shares, in every variety, be sure to apply at the COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE,
No. 146 Market street, near Light-st.

☞ Let one and all remember to encourage our own city, by giving employment to our own people.
ja13-4t

TOWN HALL LOTTERY.

NOTWITHSTANDING the opposition of foreign agents, this splendid concern is in the "full tide of successful operation," under the independent control of the Commissioners appointed by the Legislature of Maryland. Baltimoreans should bear in mind that every dollar of money realized, will be expended in our community, for the purpose of public improvement in the construction of a STATE ARMORY, a TOWN HALL, and a MARKET HOUSE. Mechanics, Artizans, yea, every citizen who has the well-being and prosperity of the city at heart, should be active in furthering the objects of this splendid Lottery, Class No. 1—the whole to be positively drawn on SATURDAY, January 16th, 1841.

10 PRIZES OF 10,000 DOLLARS!
Besides a large amount of smaller prizes!!
Whole Tickets $5—Halves $2.50—Quarters $1.25.

☞ To be had of W. G. COOK, Agent,
No. 3 N. Gay street.
And at the Commissioners' Office,
ja8-tod [s] No. 146 Baltimore (Market) street.

WILLIAM H. KIMBALL & CO.
No. 145 BALTIMORE STREET,

MERCHANT TAILORS, and DEALERS in Broad Cloths; Cassimeres; Vestings; Beaver and Pilot Cloths; Cassinets; Flannels; 100 doz. black, white, and colored Hosiery; Handkerchiefs; Shirts; Drawers; Worsteds; Neck Stocks; Scarfs; Collars; Bosoms; Suspenders, &c. &c.

Also, a large and extensive assortment of ready-made Clothing, consisting of Dress and Frock Coats; Pantaloons; Vests, and Over Coats—which will be sold at the lowest possible prices for cash. ja8

PATENT NIGHT LIGHTS.

THIS ARTICLE (of new invention) consumes not more than half the quantity of OIL, and is superior to any other Night Light now in use. It burns without any wick, and gives a clear and steady light. To house-keepers it will prove to be an invaluable article—price 12½ cents. For sale by
MORTIMER & MOWBRAY,
Nos. 116 & 180 Market street.
By appointment of the Patentee.

P. S. A liberal deduction made to wholesale dealers.
ja9 1w*

DISSOLUTION OF CO-PARTNERSHIP.

THE Co-partnership heretofore existing between ALEXANDER DANDURAD & JOHN KREIN, was dissolved on the 19th of the present month, by mutual consent.—And this is to give notice, that all the accounts have been left in the hands of the subscriber for settlement, it being his determination to carry on the business of the FRENCH CAFE, corner of Baltimore and S. Charles streets, entirely on his own account.

ja14 3t* ALEXANDER DANDURAND.

TO MAGISTRATES. The undersigned keep constantly on hand, a full assortment of all the various BLANKS used by Magistrates, printed on fine paper, which will be sold on the lowest terms.

Apply to BULL & TUTTLE,
ja13-d No. 7 N. Gay street.

BLEACHED WINTER SPERMACETI OIL.
New Bedford Sperm CANDLES
Fresh Figs; superior Sugar House Syrup
New Hops and Cranberries—received and for sale by MARCUS DENISON, ja13-4t No. 31 Baltimore-st.

UNION BANK STOCK.

300 SHARES, for sale at a reduced rate, for which the Notes of the FRANKLIN BANK will be taken in payment, at par.

ja7 8t* CLARK, Museum Building, Balt. Md.

WESTERN BANK & CITIZEN'S BANK STOCK—For sale, payable in Franklin Bank Paper. Apply to ja7-2t S. HARRIS & SON.

DRY GOODS, &c.

COUNTRY KNIT YARN HALF HOSE. We have yet on hand, about 50 doz. Men's Country Knit Yarn HOSE, which we will close out cheap by the dozen or retail.

DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Balto. st. 3d
ja8-eo1w Door west of Market-st.

CHEAP LINEN CAMBRIC HDKFS.

JUST RECEIVED, an additional supply of those cheap Linen Cambric HDKFS. which we have been selling off very fast by the dozen and at retail. Ladies who have not supplied themselves, now have another opportunity—they may rely on finding them at very reduced prices, by calling on

DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Baltimore-st.
ja8-eo1w 3d door west of Market Space.

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at
DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are LOWER than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.

N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mouseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½ super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7 8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1¼ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25c childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½ best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
BED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.

E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6¼
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6¼
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 8¼
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 8¼
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 6¼ each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleves
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mouselaine de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 8¼
Excellent LINSEY, eleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 8¼s
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 8¼s
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Brocha do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 8¼
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6¼
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6¼

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

MRS. CONNOR'S

BOARDING HOUSE, PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE, between 3d and 4½ streets, Washington City, (D. C.) where Gentlemen, visiting the District, can be accommodated with Board and Suits of Apartments, suitable for single gentlemen or families, for any length of time. d23-1m

WANTED TO EMPLOY, by the month or year, 4 or 5 Negro men (slaves) to work on a Farm near the city. They will be well treated, and the owners receive the highest wages, which will be punctually paid them in the city. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, Baltimore-st. corner of Frederick street.

Also, wanted to employ, a Colored man as Waiter in a Private Family. Apply as above. [a] ja5

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES; French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞ All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street. 03-tf

HANCE'S SUPERIOR LILY WHITE.

THIS is the only article which has ever improved the most beautiful creatures in the world—to wit—the "Baltimore Ladies"—warranted not to injure the skin. SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by
SETH S. HANCE,
d13-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

AMUSEMENTS.

NATIONAL THEATRE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

LAST NIGHT OF MR. RICE.

On SATURDAY EVENING, January 16, 1841, Will be presented, the Play of ZARAH!

After which, the popular Farce of
THE FOREIGN PRINCE.
Foreign Prince, Mr. RICE.
To conclude with
VIRGINIA MUMMY.
Ginger Blue, Mr. RICE.
In which he will sing "JUMP JIM CROW."

☞ Doors open at quarter before 7. Performance to commence at half past 7.

CITIZENS' BALL,
FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

THIS BALL will take place on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841. The price of Tickets is fixed at TWO DOLLARS.

☞ At a meeting of the BOARD OF MANAGERS, held on Monday evening, the following Resolution was passed—

Resolved, That a Committee of two be appointed from each ward, for the purpose of calling upon such persons in their respective wards, as are disposed to aid in the object the Managers have in view.

It is generally known that great numbers of persons who do not attend Balls, would willingly give in aid of the object if an opportunity was offered them. Hence the appointing of the following committee, it is expected that gentlemen will proceed immediately in their collections.

1st Ward, H. R. Lauderman, James Grieves.
2d do Wm. Wickersham, John E. Stansbury.
3d do Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott.
4th do Abel Blakeney, James Murray.
5th do Capt. John Patrick, Herman Perry.
6th do Thos. C. Dunlevy, John Kennedy.
7th do Simeon Hays, James Ackland.
8th do Samuel Lucas, Samuel Stump, Jr.
9th do Wm. R. Frazer, James McFhail.
10th do Dr. Wm. Power, James Lawson.
11th do Horace Miller, D. A. Piper.
12th do George Deal, Joseph Creagher, Jr.

☞ The Managers who have not yet obtained their tickets, are requested to call at once upon the treasurer, JOSHUA VANSANT, at the Post Office, and receive the same. By order,

SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
ANDREW J. HANDEL, Secretary. ja13-4th

PROGRAMME

OF MADAME MARRAS' VOCAL and INSTRUMENTAL CONCERT, at the Assembly Rooms, on MONDAY EVENING, Jan. 18th, 1841, assisted by Mr. NENNINGER, Mr. PETRI, Mr. LUCCHESI, Mr. DIELMAN, Mr. ALLEN, and several Gentlemen Amateurs.

PART I.

1. Simphonia. Hayden.
2. Variations on the Harp, (with the new effects.) Mad. Marras. Bochsa.
3. Variations for two Violins—Mr. Nenninger and Mr. Allen, Kallisvoda.
4. Variations for Flute—by Mr. Lucchesi, Mayseder.
5. Romanza, from the Opera Giulietta e Romeo, with Harp accompaniment, sung by Mad. Marras, Bellini.

PART II.

6. Overture, Mozart.
7. Duo for Harp and Violin—from Moise in Egypt—by Mad. Marras and Mr. Nenninger, Labarre & De Beriot.
8. French Romance—Je veux t'aimer sans te le dire—by Mad. Marras. M'lle Puget.
9. Introduction and Air, with variations—by Mr. Dielman, De Beriot.
10. Grand Fantasia on the Harp—Mad. Marras, Alvars.

☞ Doors open at half past 7 o'clock, and the Concert to commence at 8 o'clock precisely.

☞ Tickets $1 each—to be had at Robinson's Circulating Library, and at the principal Music Stores and Hotels. ja14-4t

A Beautiful and Suitable Present for Ladies.

THE LADY'S BOOK. We have scarcely penned a paragraph of praise to this paragon of periodicals, and another deserving still more is required. People may talk of puffing as much as they please, but we can say to the most heretical, let him but see the beautiful engraving prepared by Godey for the January number of his Lady's Book, and if he does not say that it surpasses excellence, then are we willing to knock under. The plate is called "Neapolitan Peasants going to the Festa of the Pic di Grotta," and a more life-like piece of art it has never been our fortune to see. There you have, as natural as life itself, a group of half a dozen peasants, on their way to the city, each carrying the fruits of their industry. In the fore ground are a small boy and girl, bearing on their shoulders a pole, on which are slung all sorts of viands; then comes a good looking matron, carrying on her head a basket, and holding by the hand a chubby-looking girl, who, like the rest, is carrying a bunch of grapes; and behind comes three or four others, following in the trail, while in the distance are several busily employed in preparing articles for market. Altogether, it is one of the very handsomest things ever gotten up for a periodical of any country, and is alone worth twice the subscription price to the Book. Subscriptions received at

WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
ja14 No. 74 Market and 28 N. Gay street.

NOTICE.

The Steam Boat POCAHONTAS, Captain HOLMES, will leave the lower end of Spear's wharf on FRIDAY, the 15th instant, at 10 o'clock, A. M. for Norfolk and the Portsmouth and Roanoke Rail Road. Passengers for Charleston will arrive at Weldon several hours prior to the departure of the cars for Wilmington, and will, if they meet with no detention at the latter place, arrive in Charleston early on Monday morning.

☞ The Thomas Jefferson will leave Norfolk for Richmond early on Saturday morning, so that passengers by the Pocahontas will arrive at their place of destination about 3 o'clock, P. M. the day after leaving Baltimore.

Fare to Weldon, (meals on board included)	$16
Fare to Norfolk, (meals included,)	10
Fare from Norfolk to Richmond, (meals included,)	4

JNO. C. MOALE, General Agent
ja12-4t Balt. Steam Packet Co.

IMPORTANT TO THOSE AFFLICTED WITH COUGHS & COLDS.

RICH'D THOMPSON'S LIFE PRESERVER, a new and valuable remedy for the relief and removal of the most distressing Colds and Coughs.

The subscriber has been induced to offer this Medicine to the Public from his personal knowledge of its effects, and the testimony of those who have been the subjects of its operation. In no instance within his knowledge (and they have been many) has it failed to give immediate relief to the patient, and ultimately to remove the most distressing cough, brought on by taking cold. In cases of Consumption, nothing is promised beyond relief. This Medicine is equally applicable to Children. Agent for Baltimore,

ROBERT H. COLEMAN & CO.
No. 133 Market street.

Where numerous certificates of its efficacy, from persons of respectable standing, will be shown if necessary. ja13-6w*

REMOVAL.

G. H. MITTNACHT, IMPORTER OF GERMAN, FRENCH, and ENGLISH FANCY GOODS, has removed from the Store he lately occupied in Baltimore street, to the Store No. 9 South LIBERTY STREET, where he will always keep a large and general assortment of FANCY GOODS, including Baskets, Toys, Clocks, Musical Instruments, Cutlery, Jewelry, Pins, Needles, Tapes, Cords, Cotton, Thread, Silk, Blacking, Ink, Slates, Marbles, Whips, &c. &c., which he is prepared to sell at the lowest wholesale prices. G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 9 S. Liberty street.

N. B. Franklin Bank Notes will be taken at par for all Goods purchased for cash. [a] ja5-6w

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

FOUR School WRITING DESKS & BENCHES were left at a Carpenter's Shop some time ago, supposed to have been sent to the wrong place—the owner is requested to pay for this advertisement and take them away. Apply at the Clipper office. ja14-3t

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of

HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,

For the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Cheston & Son, Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq. do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq. do.
James Hepburn, esq. do.
Christian Haldeman, esq. Columbia.
Jacob M. Haldeman, esq. Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq. Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank, Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq. Cash. Girard do.
William S. Smith, esq. Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq. Boston.

Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-2law2w*

VALLIER'S FRENCH PILL, FOR THE CURE OF SECRET DISEASES. One box of these inestimable Pills is worth all the Quack Medicines in the world.

COMMENT If we examine the nature of the above diseases, and the situation of the parts affected, we must consider it a very important object to be able to obtain a remedy at once certain in its action, and at the same time composed of such ingredients as will prevent the possibility of discovery while using it. It is a fact well known to many, that most of the remedies offered for these diseases are composed of such nauseous drugs, as to render it almost impossible to continue their use without creating a sickness at the stomach or other unpleasant consequences. Such being the case there can be no doubt but such a remedy as Vallier's French Pills, will meet the universal approbation, being entirely free from those objections; pleasant in their operation, and prompt in removing the disease. The proprietor would here remark, that the efficacy of these Pills in the disorders alluded to, are not based upon supposition; on the contrary, it is founded upon rational experience, having used them in a successful practice for upwards of two years, he feels confident of their superiority over the remedies hitherto employed.

☞ Price one dollar per box. For sale in Baltimore by SETH S. HANCE,
ja11-y Corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

LADIES' COMPANION, April No. for January, 1841, received by
WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. MOORE'S, No. 74 Market street—and at No. 28 N. Gay-street, near Fayette-st.

☞ Terms $3 per year, pr 25 cents monthly.

Opinion of the New York Press:

We have been favored with a copy of a steel engraving of the Light House near Caldwell's Landing, intended to illustrate the January number of the Ladies' Companion, published by Mr. Snowden, 109 Fulton-st. It is indeed a fine specimen of the art, and reflects no ordinary credit upon the enterprize of the conductor of that Magazine. The number will contain articles from the following writers:

Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, Mrs. E. F. Ellet, Mrs. Annan, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances L. Osgood, Mrs. E. R. Steele, Mrs. Caroline Orne; Professors Longfellow & Ingraham; Mr. H. Herbert, Francis W. Thoman, Greenville Mellen; Rev. J. H. Clinch; Mr. Rufus Dawes, Wm. Gilmore Sims, Epes Sargent, Park Benjamin, George P. Morris, Robert Hamilton, C. F. Daniels, H. T. Tuckerman, Henry B. Hunt, (of Philadelphia,) Wm. G. Howard, (of Ohio); Mrs. E. C. Embury; Mrs. Hofland, (of London,) and many others. Also, an original piece of Music, composed by J. G. Meder, expressly for the occasion ja5

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 56 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,
(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland,)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Doric Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as good quality and as cheap as can be purchased at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.

n23-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 31st of August, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Chemical, Philosophical, and Astronomical Apparatus, is extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by Mr. J. C. ROBINSON. AUGUSTUS FRITTAG, L. L. D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the Germans.

☞ Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or enter pupils, will receive every attention, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. BAXTER, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.

g8-tf J. B. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

CLOCKS! CLOCKS!!

THE subscribers have opened a Store at No. 34 S. CHARLES STREET, for the sale of their celebrated CLOCKS. They have now on hand, and are constantly receiving, large supplies from their manufactory in the city of New York, Brass and Wood Eight-day, One-day, and Alarm CLOCKS, of every variety of style, and of superior workmanship and finish, which they warrant and offer at wholesale to dealers, at their lowest factory prices.

ja1-1y SMITH & BROTHERS.

THE PATENT COFFEE CLEARER.

THOSE who are fond of a "GOOD CUP OF COFFEE" are requested to try the above article, which will be found to be of unsurpassed utility in settling Coffee. It is also much cheaper and more handy than any thing else which is used for the same purpose—a small piece, thrown into the coffee whilst boiling, will make it as transparent as amber—price 12½ cents at retail. For sale by
W. J. VAN NESS, Grocer,
n27-tf Market Space.

COTTON FACTORY—For Sale or Rent.

FOR Manufacturing Cotton WADDING & LAPS. The Machinery of the above Factory is propelled by a first rate Four-horse Steam Engine. I will sell for cash, or on a liberal credit on approved endorsed notes. This is a

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14, 1841.

The gentlemen composing the Perseverance Fire Company have sent me an invitation as your representative, to record their deeds at their third annual ball, which is to be given at Masonic Hall, on Tuesday evening next. Unless you put on your dancing feet and appear among them, I shall certainly attend, as they are a noble set of worthies, and can place a lady's heart in a state of conflagration as speedily as they could extinguish a flame of another character. The apparatus of the company requires repair, and the proceeds of the ball will be devoted to that object. It is therefore a cause in which every citizen must be interested, and I hope the ball will be well attended.

The House of Representatives has again been suffering the whole day from the dull, dry argument in relation to the Pennsylvania contested election case.

Not more than fifty members remained in the House, having escaped to the Senate chamber to listen to the animated debate on the pre-emption land bill. This bill is kicked about like a foot-ball, and when it will roll out of the Senate, it is impossible to say. Mr. Sevier having given his views, was followed by Mr. Smith, of Indiana, who entered into a detailed history of the land system, shewing what, in his opinion, ought to be done to settle the present difficulties.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 13, 1841.

House of Delegates. The speaker laid before the house a report from John Waring, inspector of tobacco at state warehouse number 1, in Baltimore. Referred to the committee on ways and means.

Mr. Gallagher presented the petition of Geo. W. Gross, of the city of Baltimore, praying for a divorce.

Mr. Welsh, of Baltimore co., obtained leave to bring in a bill to pay the visiters of the jail of Baltimore co. Referred to Messrs. Welsh, Randall and Poultney.

Mr. Prestman presented the report of the regents of the University of Maryland, with documents relative to that institution. Referred to Messrs. Prestman, Williams, Orrick, Tuck and Legrand.

The house took up the order submitted by Mr. Tuck on the 8th inst., viz: that it should not be in order for any member of the house to move in any form to have entered on the journal his reasons for any vote. The said order was read and adopted.

The house then proceeded to the consideration of the bill reported by Mr. E. A. Lynch, to alter and regulate the mode of appointing lottery commissioners in this state. On motion of Mr. Gaunt, the bill was referred to the committee on lotteries.

The speaker laid before the house a communication from the treasurer of the western shore, enclosing statements of the condition of certain banks. Referred to the committee on ways and means.

A report was received from Rich'd W. Higgins, inspector of tobacco at state warehouse number 3, relative to the several sums paid by him into the treasury within the year.

The house then took up the order submitted yesterday by Mr. Causin, viz: that this house will not hereafter entertain any application for divorce. The order was referred to the committee on grievances and courts of justice.

Senate. The bill giving the chancellor and courts of equity jurisdiction in cases of divorce;

Also, a bill respecting the equity jurisdiction of county courts;

And a bill concerning crimes and punishments, were passed.

Mr. Howard, of Baltimore city, presented a memorial of Christ Church Asylum for an amendment of its charter.

A DREADFUL DEATH. In the Crawford Statesman of Thursday last it is stated that Major J. Webster of "Penn Line," was killed in the following dreadful manner:—He was attending the distillery of Mr. Holcomb, and on the morning of the 20th ult. went to the mill to do some grinding. The water-wheel, which was 18 feet in diameter, was clogged with ice, and after an ineffectual attempt to start the mill, by letting on the water, he braced the spur wheel and went into the wheel house to cut away the ice; while engaged in doing this, the bracing gave way, and the wheel suddenly started, precipitating Mr. Webster into the wheel upon the rough ice frozen upon the lining. In this situation, dashed about by the rapid motion of the wheel, he continued for about 20 or 30 minutes, when his cries were heard, and he was rescued from his dreadful situation, but in such a bruised and mangled condition that he only survived in great agony about 10 hours. Mr. Webster was esteemed as a citizen—was but 30 years of age, and has left a wife and a family of young children to mourn his loss.

A WHOLE FAMILY. There is an interesting squad of 30 children, located in some part of Connecticut, being the tender branches of two brothers, one of whom died leaving 16 children, and the wife of the other also dying leaving 14 more. The widower and the widow feeling their disconsolate and lonely condition, united their fates and stock, and are now blessed in children, if not in their store.

It is said that a lady, on taking up a newspaper, looks first to the marriages, then to the deaths: first to what is most to be desired, then to what is most to be dreaded. Like a pendulum in its oscillations, she leaves one extremity only to gain another; but she beautifully illustrates human life, which is itself a pendulum, vibrating between a smile and a tear.

RAIL ROAD ACCIDENT. An accident occurred on the Vicksburg and Jackson rail road, on the 24th ultimo, which resulted in the death of Mr. Brown, engineer, a colored man, and badly scalding a passenger. The accident was caused by the engine coming in contact with a cow.

☞ Morris, the murderer, is to be executed in Philadelphia, within the walls of the Moyamensing prison to day at 12 o'clock. It is somewhat singular that his wife was seized with a sudden illness a few days since and died.

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

MR. DAVISON'S WRITING ACADEMY, for instructions with the Muscular Guide, No. 41 Baltimore street. The plan recommended by the Maryland Institute of Teachers. se8-y

M. H. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 62 S. CALVERT STREET, Keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c. d22-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 27 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. d22-y

MARX &c. HART, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d19-6m

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 43 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n18-5m*

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. n12-y WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se29-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se22-d

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 2 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. s4-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. jy23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je16-6m*

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 112 BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. m25-y

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 39 Fayette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. m11-y1m*

MINIATURES, Painted in the best style, by MRS. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. mh13-y

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headache; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver-complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma, Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as in Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞ A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.

Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.

Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.

Office, No. 13 Light-st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. ROBY.

WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. ROBY having spent two years in practice with Dr. G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call. d12-6m H. N. ROBY.

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side; the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Harlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. jy28-y

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞ None genuine without the name of COMSTOCK & Co., written on the wrappers.

SOLOMON HAYS.

☞ For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. s24-eo6m

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞ Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

se17-tf E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

CURRANTS AND CRANBERRIES.

500 POUNDS FRESH CURRANTS
7 bbls Superior CRANBERRIES
For sale by MARCUS DENNISON,
d24 31 Baltimore street.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 20 good white and colored COOKS, to fill desirable places in different parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES and 2 NURSES. d25

20 Bbls. Fifth Proof Monongahela WHISKEY
60 boxes Sperm, Mould and Dipt CANDLES
100 boxes Choice CHEESE
20 baskets Bordeaux OIL, received and for sale by
d2 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

WANTED, immediately, two good Cooks; three good colored Cooks. Also, a good seamstress. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. [A] d21

COPPER PLATE AND MUSIC PAPER, on hand and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
d17 No. 2 S. Charles street.

JAMISON'S Fresh SODA, SUGAR, WATER, and BUTTER CRACKERS, just received for sale by MARCUS DENISON,
n5 31 Baltimore street.

OHIO Rail Road, Tide Water, Virginia & Wheeling NOTES—For sale by n22 E. W. ROBINSON, 80 Baltimore-st.

JOB PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE,

PRACTICAL JOB PRINTERS, beg leave to inform their friends and the public, that they are prepared for the execution of every description of PRINTING, on the most extensive scale. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. embrace every variety necessary for the most finished execution of all work that may be entrusted to them.

They will print, to order:

BUSINESS CARDS	HANDBILLS
BALL TICKETS	WAYBILLS
CIRCULARS	STEAMBOAT BILLS
CHECKS	RAIL ROAD BILLS
NOTES	STAGE BILLS
BILL HEADS	SHOW BILLS
CATALOGUES	PAMPHLETS
BILLS OF LADING	LABELS
LOTTERY BILLS	HATTERS' TIPS,

Together with FANCY JOBS, in Colors, for framing,

LARGE POSTING BILLS,

For Theatres, Circuses, &c. &c., printed to order, at the shortest notice, in the most showy style.

B. & T. have also in operation, in their Office, the "Belzer Double-action Printing Machine," recently imported from England expressly for their use, by the aid of which they will be enabled to execute PRINTING at much lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch, than heretofore.

☞ In returning thanks to their friends for the favors of the past year, they assure them their usual personal attention will be paid to the prompt and correct execution of all orders in their business, at very reduced prices.

☞ Call at the CLIPPER OFFICE, No. 7 North Gay street. ja2-d

CITY INTELLIGENCE,
REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE,
N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Porters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to EMPLOY any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., H. W. BOOT, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N. B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. ja7

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscriber respectfully announces that he has established his Office at No. 3 NORTH-ST. next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those Ladies and Gentlemen who may be desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION.

E. TYLOR can confidently state that his extensive practical experience, enables him to give individuals a faithful delineation of their mental capacity, peculiar talents and disposition, as well as point out what pursuit in life they are best qualified by nature to perform. A good assortment of Phrenological Books, Almanacs, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale cheap, by

E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist.

N. B. Chart and Examination, only 50 cts. ja9

R. G. HUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornaments of HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. a15-eo6m

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slatt-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-d1f A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

3 The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having defied the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO. No. 69 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-streets, on the corner of Uhler's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 3 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Drug Store, Washington City; E. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.

Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. n21-tf

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 Bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by
d19 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

BOARDING may be obtained by two of more genteel young men, or a gentleman and his lady, in a respectable private boarding house, near the Exchange—terms moderate. Apply at the Intelligence Office, N. W. corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. d20 [A]

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing FEVER, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞ Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains the aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by

jy28-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and this market, a splendid assortment of Rich SILK GOODS, consisting as follows—

1 case 4-4 Rich Glace Faconne, all colors
1 " do. Black and Blue Black Gro de Affrique
1 " do. Satin Striped and Figured Helencia
1 " do. Satin Stripe and Rept, all shades
1 " do. 4-4 Black and Blue Black Gro de Rhine
1 " Plain Gro de Swiss, all colors.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

Just opened—Extra super 9-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
" Very splendid Satin Glace Shawls, large
" 8-4 Cabeech SHAWLS
" 9-4 Broche do.
" 8-4 Thibet Wool do.

MOUSELIN DE LAINES.

One case Black Ground Mousselin de Laine, heavy
Colored Figured do. very superior quality
Half-mourning Mousselin de Laine
Handsome assortment Plain and Figured do.
One case superior French MERINOS, all colors.

With a general assortment of New Style Fall Goods, to which they very respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER,
n13 43 Market-st., 4 doors above Gay.

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,

Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosankrantz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophicleydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap18-1y

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞ Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞ The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST,

o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st.

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

And in Washington City, by

CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.

☞ With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S
Periodical Emporium,
No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HANDBILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d 19-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d28-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

INDIA RUBBER SHOES—
Men's plain RUBBERS, Women's plain do
Misses do do do fig'd do
A few cases of each. Just received per barque Ida, and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 South Charles street.

FOR RENT. A neat two story Brick HOUSE in Canal street, 4th door south of Monument-st., in first rate order, handsomely papered, the ceiling with a glazed paper—the rent will be $8 per month. Also, a HOUSE in Wilk-st., old town. Inquire of M. A. DYSART, 31 E. Baltimore-st.
ja8-3tws Third door from Exeter street.

13 Cases Kip and Thick BROGANS, some extra sizes, just received per barque Ida, and for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 S. Charles-st.

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE,
2d January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one of Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled 'The Playmates;' a plate of fashions, with three female figures beautifully colored; two pages of Music, and Angling illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER:

The Young Rambler, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Soldier's the Lad for Me, by A. McMakin.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Durang.
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Reefer of 75, by the author of 'Cruising in the Last War.'
Sabbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. Clark.
Thine—Only Thine. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. Feling.
Music. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by S. Nelson.

EMBELLISHMENTS:

'The 'Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞ Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city, and sent by mail to all parts of the United States and the Canadas, by the publisher.

Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Book-store, 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
ja2 Baltimore, Md.

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty, 16 superb plates—price	$3.50
Keepsake, 15 do	3.50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals, 15 plates,	3.00
Forget-Me-Not, 11 plates	2.00
Friendship's Offering, 19 plates,	2.00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
d31 And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS, AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of those complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by

SAM'L CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

Washington City, by
W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.

In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.
oc9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS,)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10 cases	do	do	Cap PAPER
15 do	Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter PAPER.
5 do	do	do	do	Cap	do
4 do	do	do	do	Folio post	do
20 do	Hudson's	do	do	Letter	do
15 do	do	do	do	Cap	do
10 do	do	do	do	Flat Cap	do
8 do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super royal WRITING PAPER
12 do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter				do
6 do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2 do	do	Super Flat Cap
12 do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5 do	Pickey and Leyste's		do		do
10 do	Platner & Smith's		do		do
4 do	do	Folio and Packet Post
15 do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2 do	do	Ledger PAPERS
20 do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter

2000 reams NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2000 do Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300 do Colored Mediums, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞ Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Band Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELZER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 76 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞ All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT H. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
se16-6m No. 19 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $2000. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to

GEORGE GELBACH,
Real Estate and General Agency Office, corner Balt. & Frederick sts.
d21 [A]

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rochester White Wheat FLOUR
50 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs Zante CURRANTS.

Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by
n13 tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

SUPERIOR CHEWING TOBACCO, and Regalia, Havana, and Principe CIGARS—for sale by
mh9 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

MAGISTRATES' BLANKS. On hand and for sale by BULL & TUTTLE, Printers, No. 7 N. Gay street, (Clipper Office.)

PAGE(S)
MISSING

1-16-1841

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

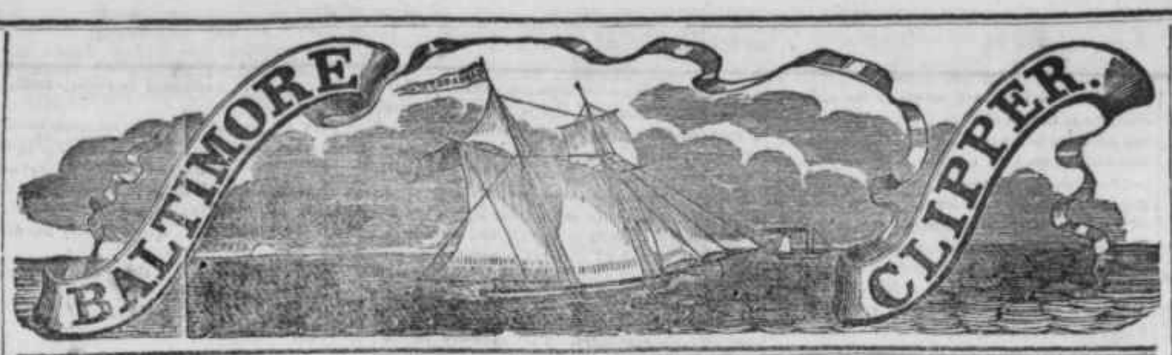
TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞ Country Subscribers can receive the paper by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square 1 time,	$0 50	1 square 1 month,	$4 00
1 do. 2 times,	75	1 do. 2 months,	7 00
1 do. 3 do.	1 00	1 do. 3 do.	10 00
1 do. 1 week,	1 75	1 do. 6 do.	16 00
1 do. 2 weeks,	2 75	1 do. 1 year,	30 00

☞ Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.



VOL. III. NO. 107.] MONDAY MORNING, JANUARY 18, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

FEMALE FAITH.

She loved you when the sunny light
Of bliss was on your brow;
That bliss has sunk in sorrow's night,
And yet—she loves you now.
She loved you when your joyous tone
Taught every heart to thrill;
The sweetness of that tongue is gone,
And yet—she loves you still.
She loved you when your home and heart
Of fortune's smile could boast,
She saw that smile decay—depart—
And then she loved you most.
Oh, such the generous faith that grows
In woman's gentle breast:
'Tis like that star that stays and glows
Alone in night's dark vest.
That stays because each other ray
Has left the lonely shore,
And that the wanderer on his way
Then wants her light the more.

[Correspondence of the New York Herald.]

INCIDENTS IN THE LIFE OF

A YOUTHFUL BUT AWFUL CRIMINAL.

London, Dec. 18, 1840.

Mr. Editor: Good and evil actions, in their influence on society, never fail to extend their effects to others, beyond the mere performers of the actions themselves. Dr. Franklin borrowed some ten dollars from a friend once; and some circumstance occurring which put it out of his power to refund, when able to do so, he loaned the same amount to another man in want, and begged of him not to pay it back, but to loan the same amount to the first really needy man he found in want of it, and beg him when able, to loan to another with a like condition, and thus let good favors go round the world. Evil deeds go round the world of their own accord. For one man, who lies, steals, or betrays, a hundred honest men are made to suffer. One man proves faithless, mean, ungrateful, and a lying, thieving scoundrel, who had gained confidence and esteem, and hundreds of really needy and correct strangers, or half-known persons are made to feel the effects of his rascality. The misanthrope is ready to knock the first applicant in the head who appeals to his bounty, because B cheated him or stole from him, and concludes there is not an honest man in the world. The miser buttons his coat, and steels his heart against all calls upon his purse, because B cheated him, or betrayed his confidence. The selfish man shuts the door upon every possible new face, and secrets himself from half of his old faces, and because B has turned out such a rascal, his sympathies for all mankind have dried up, and he resolves to take refuge in his own crysalis, and avoid his fellow beings, thinking they may all be like B. Now in this way a thousand honest and needy and deserving men are made to suffer from the misconduct of a single person. Hence, punishment for crime can never make atonement for the evil inflicted, nor can honesty and good actions, under all circumstances, be sufficiently appreciated and rewarded. The true philanthropist will never involve the innocent with the guilty, and cease to trust, because one man or a dozen men, have betrayed. He will continue to discriminate, and to seek out and relieve the really honest and deserving who lie in want of aid and support, feeling that inasmuch as he does it unto one of the least of suffering humanity, he does "it unto God."

It is a matter of doubt with some, whether the publicity of crime is not injurious. I think in the case I am about to unfold, it may prove otherwise. The subject of this sketch is a young man who has reached, in youth, the most awful gulf of crime, and has at last been overtaken in his deeds of atrocious villainy. To expose to the world the actions of one so base, is a painful task; but the example it may prove to the young, by convincing them that the career of crime can never otherwise end than in shame, disgrace, and utter ruin.

Marcus Cicero Stanley, a young man from America, who introduced himself in Europe every where as the brother of the Hon. Mr. Stanley, the member of Congress, which was nearly the only truth he ever told while on this side of the water, has recently been convicted by Mr. Catlin, of stealing money from him, and stood his trial, and instead of going to Botany Bay, where he should have been sent, he is in Newgate jail, for six months, with six weeks solitary confinement in a cell, on bread and water. To this mitigation of punishment, he is indebted to the interference of Mr. Catlin and Mr. Stevenson, who engaged the best counsel, not knowing at the time but this was the first offence in a young man not twenty-five years old. Consequently, owing to this fact, and the respectability of his connexions in America, he was recommended to mercy by the jury, after finding him guilty of the charge. Mr Catlin thinks he lost, first and last, by him, more than one hundred dollars. At his exhibition of Indian characters, he usually changed his clothes in an anti-chamber previous to putting on an Indian garb, for purposes of illustration. During this time, while Catlin was out, Stanley would enter and rifle his pockets. He missed money so repeatedly this way, that he finally secreted a policeman in the anti-chamber to watch for the thief, and marked several of pieces money he left in his pockets. All the while, however, never suspecting the brother of the member of Congress. When things were thus arranged, it was not long before Stanley entered and rifled his pockets. The police man followed him as he left the apartment, and arrested him with the marked money on him. From this time forward Catlin had no alternative left; under the British laws, he was bound to prosecute the thief, but yet exerted his influence to obtain as mild a sentence as possible. He and the police man were all the witnesses called, and the result has been told, which would have been far otherwise had his real character been known at the time of trial. This has only come to light since.

It seems two or three years since, this same Marcus Cicero Stanley went to Texas. While there he lodged in a room with two other young men, both of whom were honorable and respectable. One of them had $1000 with him, which was stolen from him. Instead of accusing Stanley, the guilty person, he accused the other young man, whose pride of character was so much shocked at the accusation, that he challenged the accuser, who accepted the challenge, and they went out to fight, and the poor innocent young man accused of the theft, chose Stanley for his second, who stood by his side and saw him shot dead through the heart. Not long afterwards it leaked out that Stanley himself was the thief, and he fled the country and justice together and came to Europe, where he had the bold effrontery to thrust himself into the best society, as the brother of the Hon. Mr. Stanley, the member of Congress. The surviving young man in the duel, when finding he had killed his innocent friend, had his mind so affected, that he became partially deranged, wandered about, took to drink, and died a miserable death on the Texas frontier. Yet the villain lives! Stanley's first exploit in Europe was in Paris, where he first stole a valuable collection of mosaics, with other articles, from an American gentleman. He sported the dandy in great style; turned out whiskers and mustachios, bragged immensely of his wealth and connexions in America, run in debt with all who would trust him, borrowed and stole together from nearly every American in Paris that afforded him opportunity of doing so. He lived at the great hotel of Meurice. But at length finding his situation in Paris becoming embarrassing, he finally told Meurice his wealthy aunt had just arrived in Havre from America, and he must go down and escort the old lady up to Paris; and said he would leave his trunk, and wished to engage larger apartments for himself and aunt. He told another he was going down to Havre to sell a consignment of cotton just arrived from America, and then he would be very flush. He was gone so long that Meurice finally broke open his trunk, and found it full of brick-bats or something equivalent. These items are not an inkling of his deeds in Paris. He was into Meurice several hundred francs, as well as into several Americans most severely. In London, he seemed to gain fresh impudence and effrontery, still dealt on the reputation of his brother, the member of Congress, and carried on swindling and stealing with a full hand. He first stole £70 from an Englishman with whom he lodged. The gentleman had marked the bills, and had taken a list of the numbers. He never suspected Stanley of being the thief. But since his arrest and trial, the police went with the numbers to the Bank of England, where, on referring to the bills redeemed, they found the identical bills endorsed with Stanley's name and residence, the latter being the very house where he had stolen the money. The Englishman being, by appointment, about to leave for Italy, failed to prosecute.

The next game he attempted, was to marry a young Jewess with £15,000. The parents were bitterly opposed to the match; but he had succeeded in making the girl like him, and by forging a letter purporting to be addressed to him from his brother, he succeeded in getting the consent of the parents, and the wedding was to have taken place within a day after his arrest.—The solicitor had drawn up a marriage settlement on the new couple of $15,000 sterling, and in two days more he would have ruined a girl and her family. As soon as he was arrested, his trunk was broken open, and the letters of the girl found and restored to her. A copy and the original draft of the letter in his own hand writing was found in his trunk, purporting to be addressed from his brother to him, with the usual office and post stamps all forged on its back. It began after this fashion: "Dear Cir"—and then went to detail current political news, and then said that him and his mother and the rest of the family had relented; that they had at first opposed his ever marrying a Jewess, but they had finally thought better of it; that on looking over his father's will, there was $75,000 coming to him, which was or would be placed in New York, and subject to his order as soon as he landed with his bride. It was the exhibition of this forged letter that seemed to soften the Jew down into an unwilling acquiescence of the match. He played every possible kind of game to get along, and told every kind of lie for the sake of imposition, and swindled daily where opportunity offered. A poor young and destitute artist from America, in London, who had the misfortune to make his acquaintance, now fears Stanley has intercepted his letters containing his remittances, by which means he has been reduced to great distress.—This same Stanley went to Catlin one day, and says he: "Catlin, T. is a worthy painter, and a good fellow; but he is poor and needy. I, with other Americans, have made up a few pounds for him; yet we lack about three pounds of having enough to pay his debts. Can't you help him to that much?" "By all means," says Catlin and paid him that much; which has since appeared he appropriated to his own use, while this poor painter has had all his things sold for debt.

One day he told another poor American artist that he would be glad to help him, but that he had just loaned Mr. Catlin £200, and disliked to ask him for it! Another poor artist one day borrowed £5 of Catlin to meet some urgent demand, and promised to pay him on the following Friday. The day came, but he had not the money. But to keep his promise with Catlin, he went out and borrowed it of another person, and soon after met Stanley. The day was very bad, he gave the money to Stanley, who assured him he was going right past Catlin's place, and would pay it over for him. The poor artist had a very bad cold, and the day was very wet; so he trusted to Stanley, who appropriated this amount also, and afterwards told Catlin, as this poor fellow had not the money, he was willing to assume the debt by giving his note, which Catlin refused, saying he believed the painter was honest, and would pay him when he could. These are a few items which have come to light in this wretched and base young man's villainous history. And it is sincerely to be hoped for the honor of America, and of mankind at large, that few such cases of horrible turpitude and guilt exist, and more especially in so young a subject.

I have not suffered a penny by him, or had I the honor of his personal acquaintance; had I known him I doubt whether I should have trusted him, for I never had confidence in dandies, whose faces sport mustachios and whiskers, though some of the baboon race may be very honest for all that. Yet I can find enough honest people in the world without them, and, therefore, have no use for them. An American.

FIVE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

The packet ship Patrick Henry has arrived at New York bringing London dates to the 24th and Liverpool to the 25th December. We make up the following intelligence from the N. Y. Evening Tattler:

The Liverpool Cotton Market, was very animated, both among the trade, and among speculators. There was an advance of ⅛ of a penny upon a pound, for American description.

Barrel flour commanded 35s. 6d. to 36, for United States.

The London Money market was inactive, the holidays and the close of the year being so near.

The British Queen arrived off Cowes on the 21st, (19 days); the Great Western arrived at Bristol on the 24th, (14 days); and the Roscius arrived out on the 24th. The Europe had not arrived.

The Queen had gone to Windsor, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a large crowd stood near the castle entrance to greet her.

The treaty of Commodore Napier with Mehemet Ali has been confirmed by all the Allied powers.

Mr. Morrison, the present proprietor of Morrison's pills, recently recovered a verdict of one farthing damages, in a suit against a firm who advertised "Morrison's Pills, prepared by Salmon & Hall.

Prince Albert, it has been discovered, is "consumptive." No matter, he may die now, if his daughter is only healthy.

A horrible case of poisoning had occurred at Holyford, near Northampton. An aged lady by the name of West, died suddenly, and several other persons were taken sick, who were her intimates. She was disinterred, arsenic found in her stomach, thence traced to the flour of which she made bread, and thence to her son, a grocer, against whom the coroner's jury returned a verdict of wilful murder. The old lady's property was about 1000 pounds, and the young demon wished at once to remove his mother, his brother and sister, to come into possession.

Adams, the champion of England at single stick, was recently killed with a blow on the head by a game keeper at Stanton, Somerset. Adams was amusing himself with poaching, and fought the game keeper. A verdict of justifiable homicide was returned.

The sultan of Turkey has ordered a brilliant diamond necklace to be presented to queen Victoria.

The coal mines at Riagley Field, near Bolton, were suddenly overflowed on the 19th ult. Of thirty persons, all but three escaped almost miraculously.

Harper, the negro dancer, was going the death at the minor theatres in London, as "The Free Nigger of New York."

James Wallack was at the Haymarket.

France. A tremendous fall of snow had blocked the roads in all directions.

The news from Algiers was much more favorable. The Arab chiefs were entering into negociations with the French, and deserting Abd el Kader.

During the Napoleon ceremonies there were some signs of difficulty near the house of the English ambassador, Earl Granville. He was offered a guard of fifty men, but wisely declined it, as it would merely have provoked a row.

Spain. Espartero, to employ his army, had kicked up a new breeze. It appears that a treaty was made between Spain and Portugal five years ago, by which the navigation of the river Douro was permitted to Spain, with certain conditions to be afterwards settled. In the occupation of the civil war this matter had been forgotten, and the details never finished. Spain gave Portugal 25 days to confirm the treaty, in default of which Espartero threatened to take possession of Portugal with 50,000.

Portugal in answer had thrown herself in a posture of defence—suspended the habeas corpus—ordered enlistments and impressments—offered a free pardon to all returning deserters—and put her little navy in order to blockade the rivers of Spain. It is thought however that all would end in a compromise.

The Jews. There seems to be a movement among the Continental Jews in relation to the late events in the East. The following is the concluding paragraph of an address to the Jews, published in Der Orient, a German newspaper:

"People of Jehovah, raise yourselves from your thousand years' slumber! Rally round leaders! have really the will, a Moses will not be wanting. The rights of nations will never grow old; take possession of the land of your fathers; build a third time the temple of Zion, greater and more magnificent than ever. Trust in the Lord, who has led you safely through the vale of misery thousands of years. He also will not forsake you in your last conflict."

Late and important from Texas. Dates from Galveston are to the 3d inst. The news from the frontier, if true, is highly important.—A letter has been received at Austin from San Antonio which declares positively that it is the intention of the Mexican government to invade Texas. According to the letter the loan of the $3,000,000 lately obtained by Mexico is to be expended as follows: $2,000,000 towards purchasing and arming two steam ships of war to act against the Texan navy, and the balance to be applied in carrying on operations by land—General Arista to have command of the invaders. His first object is to take possession of Goliad and San Antonio, and then propositions will be made to the Texan Government, which of course the latter will not accept.

The President pro tem. of Texas, on viewing the information, sent a communication to the authorities of Mexico, in which it is stated most positively that the sword of the Texans must do its work, and that by it shall the controversy be decided. The letter is spirited, determined and energetic. It breathes war throughout, and a determination to maintain the rights of Texas at the risk of life and the point of the bayonet.

Resumption in Philadelphia. The Philadelphia banks all resumed according to order on the 15th. The Inquirer of Saturday states that "The affair passed with little or no excitement whatever, and the demand in the aggregate was exceedingly limited. Before the doors of the United States Bank were thrown open, a few persons were assembled in the neighborhood, most of them attracted thither, however, by mere curiosity. The numbers decreased as the day advanced, and a stanger on passing the institution would not have been reminded that the long talked of resumption was in progress. Probably several hundred persons in the course of the day obtained specie for small sums; but all was good humor, nothing like alarm was apparent, and we learn that in several instances, specie that had been obtained from one institution, was found rather inconvenient, and was deposited in some other. The other banks also paid freely all demands that were presented—but instead of their being any thing like a rush, it was remarked that the entrances and exits appeared to be exceedingly limited. There may be some slight demand to-day for small sums in specie; and then every thing will grow perfectly calm once more. We congratulate our citizens on the manner in which this business of resumption has been consummated, and consider it highly creditable to our community, that the affair has passed off satisfactorily."

Awful Tragedy. A double suicide was committed in New York on Thursday. The Planet states that Thomas Hogan and his wife Honora, residing at No. 193 Mulberry street, had a violent quarrel, and that the husband declared he would make away with himself. He accordingly loaded a musket, placed it against his left side, contrived to pull the trigger with his foot, and thus destroyed himself. The ball entered near the eighth rib, perforated the heart and lungs, and passed out at the right shoulder blade, causing instantaneous death. The wife, hearing the report of the gun, rushed into the room, and beheld her husband lying dead, weltering in his blood. She became frantic, and straightway proceeding to a closet where corrosive sublimate was kept; she mixed and took a large quantity. Her death ensued in three quarters of an hour afterward.

A Novelty. Quite a novelty may be seen at Mr. Hewitt's Music Saloon, in Chesnut, near Eighth street, Philadelphia, being an Automaton Lady Minstrel, the invention of Mr. Coleman, the well known professor of the accordion. She is so constructed as to play with either the accordion or guitar, in a most beautiful manner. The motion of respiration is admirably imitated. At the commencement of a performance she bows gracefully, and while playing beats time with her foot. With this figure may be seen a new invention of Mr. C's, called the Æolian Lute, an improvement on the accordion, and producing tones of great delicacy and beauty.

From the Arkansas Gazette of December 23, we learn that, during the snow storm which occurred some three weeks before, six Cherokee Indians were frozen to death in Beaty's Prairie, Benton county, in that state. "They were all of them," the Gazette adds, "in a state of beastly intoxication when they left the settlement." A melancholy trait, this, of the progress of civilization!

Loss of Schooner Philenia. We learn, says the Norfolk Beacon of the 13th, from Capt. Jones, of brig Vincent, arrived at this port yesterday from Turks Island, that the schr. Philenia, Capt. Roberts, 11 days from New York, was cast away on the North Cayaco—3 of her crew came home in the Vincent.

The following officers have taken passage in the store ship Isaac Franklin, at the port of Norfolk, bound to Port Mahon, Mediterranean station.

Assist. Surgeon Harrison.

Midshipmen Lyman R. Law, Leonidas McDougal, Boyse, N. Wescott, Clark H. Weies, George P. Welsh.

Trouble. Some of the millers in Wisconsin have refused to grind grain for the purpose of distilling. A law, it seems, is in operation, which says the millers shall grind grain for distillers.—Prosecutions have commenced, and there is quite an excitement among the people.

Jurors fined. Twenty-three jurors were fined in New York twenty-five dollars each, a day or two ago, for non-attendance at the quarter sessions.

Accident. A man named Wm. Lessen, was killed at New Orleans on the 6th inst. while attempting to fasten a vessel in the harbor during a storm; another person was also seriously injured.

In mourning. The Newark Daily Advertiser of the 15th inst. comes to us in mourning, announcing the death of Mr. Moses Smith Harrison, one of its enterprising publishers.

Fire. The factory of Mr. J. St. Clair, with several adjoining buildings, was destroyed in Cincinnati on the 10th inst.

JOB PRINTING.
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

The proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enamelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞ Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Warranted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by Dr. Hitzelberger, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $2!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $5 per box!!!

Dr. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of $1,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $2. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. oct3-y1m*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.
DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND,
For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabets or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the urethra of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, compposed solely of vegetable substances? One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N.B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of T. J. PITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Britto and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞ For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue. And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL. dec5-y

A BLESSING TO ALL MANKIND.

The VEGETABLE FLUID SYRUP, or Mercurial Extractor. This infallible Srup is the discovery of an old veteran and hero of the vegetable kingdom; from his long research, his labors have been crowned with the glorious result of a positive remedy for the bad effects of that poisonous drug (Mercury,) and while it has this new efficacious effect upon the bones affected with mercury, it at the same time purifies the blood from the remnants of Venereal Disease, Scrofulous Affections, Exploteries and Eruptions upon the Skin, old standing indolent Ulcers, &c.

For sale, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO., No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-sts., on the corner of Ubler's alley; and at the General Agency Office, No. 3 Pitt street, Baltimore. Also, at WM. LANPHIER'S Drug Store, Washington, D. C. a31

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor Deca-tel,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.

HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.

☞ Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
AN AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 22 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Coal-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 100,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and uncut, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞ Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice,

je18-d HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.

mh3-dtf HOPE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.
THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.

s3-dtf G. W PEARCE.

CASSIA AND CHAMPAGNE.
10 CASES FRESH CASSIA
10 baskets Genuine Anchor CHAMPAGNE
Landing from Celeste, for sale by
MARCUS DENISON,
de 24 No. 31 Baltimore street.

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. 25

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

MONDAY MORNING, JAN. 18, 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

SYSTEM OF NATIONAL DEFENCE. The lecture of the gallant soldier and patriot, General Gaines, on this subject, was well attended on Saturday evening last. It was delivered in the Universalist Church to a crowded auditory of ladies and gentlemen.

The General prefaced his lecture by a handsome and well-merited compliment to the ladies, which the gentlemen, as in in duty bound, highly applauded. He referred to the discovery of this country, under the auspices of Isabella, of Spain—to the devotion of the ladies to the cause of liberty during the American revolution, and to the disposition of those of the present day to promote all measures for the national honor and defence. He then proceeded to a detail of his plan for the defence of the country in case of invasion. He said that his views had been successively communicated to the President, to the secretary of war, and to Congress, but had not the favorable consideration of either—in consequence of which he had been induced to submit them to the American people. Since the discovery of steam power it was evident that a different system of war must prevail; the works which heretofore sufficed for our protection would be found inefficient under existing circumstances. The discovery of gunpowder and fire-arms had banished the battering ram and cross-bow, and steam would introduce a new era in the mode of warfare. The facility with which armed forces could be transported from Europe to our shores by steam vessels—the ease with which we could be thus surprised in an unprepared state—required that counteracting measures should be adopted by our government to enable us to combat on terms of equality. All the states of the Union had frontier borders with the exception of Kentucky and Tennessee: he proposed, therefore, that rail roads commencing in those states should extend to the various points on the seaboard liable to attack, so that, in case of necessity, the disposable force of those states, which he estimated at about 250,000 men, could be rapidly transported to the required point. This, he thought, would insure safety in case of attack. In aid of this he would have floating batteries to defend the several harbors. His system was purely defensive, and the only one of which he had any knowledge, (and he had consulted ancient and modern history on the subject,) that could make us stronger in defence than in attack. To construct the rail roads he proposed to employ the army of the United States, which should be increased to seven regiments of a thousand men each. To each regiment he would allot a section of road, and he supposed the work might be completed in from seven to ten years. These roads would be used for civil as well as military purposes—would strengthen the bonds of union—develope mineral wealth, and reimburse the expense of construction in probably ten years. If government would subscribe two-fifths of the expense the other three-fifths would be taken by individuals. He illustrated his ideas of harbor defence by means of floating batteries, by a diagram representing the mouth of the Mississippi river, with the batteries arranged to repel the approach of steam vessels, &c.

We give a brief outline only of the lecture, nor have we confined ourselves to the General's arrangement or language. He concluded by saying that, as a number of ladies had honored him with their presence, he would request Mrs. Gaines to address them on the evils of war. Upon which Mrs. Gaines was conducted to the pulpit, amidst repeated rounds of applause. Her lecture is a very pretty piece of composition, and was read with distinctness and emphasis. Her introductory remarks were peculiarly appropriate, inasmuch as they inculcated obedience from wives to their "liege lords." This doctrine was disrelished by some of the fair audience, who appeared to think that the general might be too rigid a disciplinarian, but it received favor from the gentlemen.

The lecture was pathetic, sympathetic, poetic, patriotic, historical. It embraced a wide field, the evils of war from the creation of the world to the present time; and exhibited the globe as one vast slaughter-pen. We do not wonder that the fair lecturer should have shuddered at the heart-rending retrospect. She took us over the various battle-fields, from the destruction of Jerusalem by Titus, to the campaign in Russia and the battle of Waterloo; and gave, as the aggregate number of human lives sacrificed by war within that period, seventy billions. We shall not attempt even a sketch of the lecture, as we would not mar its fair proportions or mutilate its beauties, for the world. The lady, with the spirit becoming the wife of a distinguished general, slapped the chaps of some impertinent editors, who had presumed to intimate that she ought to confine herself to domestic duties and forbear public lecturing. They were bachelors no doubt, in dread of being hen-pecked in case of marriage; and merited the rebuke they received.

With the lecture of Mrs. Gaines the audience appeared highly gratified; and we are sure that if any were displeased, they were more fastidious than wise.

On the merits of the system of national defence, as projected by general Gaines, we shall not offer an opinion; for we are not au fait in military affairs. We yield, however, our hearty assent to his general proposition—that we must adapt our mode of defence and attack to the changed condition of the art of war. He has devoted time and attention to his system; and brings to the decision of the question undoubted military talents and experience—we are not, therefore, surprised that he should press it with enthusiasm, convinced as he is of its practical utility. He has appealed from the decision of government to that of the people, and his lectures are designed to give them the information requisite to a fair judgment.—Whatever may be thought of his system of defence, there can be no difference of opinion as to the purity and patriotism of his motives, and his distinguished gallantry as a soldier.

The general intends to bring the subject again before congress; and we think that his services, and the importance of adopting some mode of national defence, should secure for his suggestions a respectful consideration.

MARYLAND STATE COLONIZATION SOCIETY. The ninth annual report of the board of managers of this society is very satisfactory. It represents the colony at Cape Palmas to be in a prosperous and flourishing condition—undisturbed by the incursions of the natives; governed with equity and firmness; instructed in religion and morals by Episcopal, Presbyterian and Methodist Missionaries; and exempt, to an extraordinary degree, from sickness. Apprehensions of disease have doubtless deterred many persons of color from becoming colonists; and the board think that the mortality in the settlements has, for this purpose, been designedly exaggerated by the enemies of colonization. These misrepresentations must cease to have the contemplated effect as the truth becomes better known. The colony is no doubt destined to exert a powerful influence in reclaiming and civilizing the adjacent tribes; and with the spread of civilization and the benign principles of the Christian religion, the barbarous and inhuman traffic in slaves will disappear.

The report says, "Now that the colonists are comfortably housed and fed, and well clothed, and of contented mind, and that experienced physicians are at hand, the mortality among them is not greater than it would have been had they remained in the United States. In many instances, where intemperate persons have emigrated, their health has improved, and their life no doubt been prolonged beyond what it would have been had they remained in this country."

Various salutary regulations have been adopted in the colony during the preceding year, "all shewing the temper of a settled and happy and prosperous community, rapidly becoming capable of efficient self-government, and worthy of the blessings of well-regulated liberty."

No expedition has been sent with emigrants to the colony during the past year, for the want of funds, and from the circumstance that "the excitement for emigation to Trinidad and Guiana prevailed to such an extent among the colored people, as to prevent their listening to the favorable pretensions of any other place to their notice." These causes, the board think, will soon cease to have existence. The report expresses the opinion, in which we concur, "that the time will arrive, when emigration to Africa will be considered by the colored population of Maryland as emigration to America is considered by the European. Then will the fruition of colonization take place, and an emigration, without cost to any but the emigrants, voluntary and eager, will relieve our country from a race that is in the midst of us, but not of us, and whose separation from us will be mutually advantageous."

The board are desirous to purchase a vessel to facilitate the intercourse between Baltimore and the colony; for which purpose between three and four thousand dollars have been raised by subscription, and hopes are entertained that the necessary amount will be obtained during the present year. Collections will be made throughout the state for the above and other purposes, and the reverend clergy are earnestly solicited by the board to recommend attention to the claims of the society on the fourth of July next. The influence and aid of every well-wisher to the cause of colodization are also requested to this object.

The success of this colony is important to Maryland, and we hope that the anticipations of the board of managers may be fully realized. In all colonization the beginning is the most difficult. In the present case this has been successfully made, and it would be lamentable if the undertaking were now to be permitted to languish from want of liberality, or from the indifference of the citizens of Maryland.

THE TABLES TURNED. Heretofore most of the applications for divorces, were from wives, but now the husbands are taking their turn—so that this abominable business is likely to be kept going by one or other party, so long as it is tolerated by the legislature. If it would be productive of any good, we would write a lecture on domestic economy; as essential to which we should strongly enforce two points—first, that the husband eschew spirituous liquors; and second, that the wife keep a still tongue. We verily believe that nine-tenths of the domestic misery which prevails are produced from one or other of these two causes. In most cases a good wife can reclaim a husband not totally lost to honorable feeling, by kindness and affection, whilst the best husband may be driven into vicious habits if his home be not made the seat of comfort and happiness. We know instances where confirmed drunkards have been reclaimed by the tears of their children; and if the child could have so much influence with the parent, how much greater should be that of the wife with the husband! It is really disgraceful to the state to have scores of petitions for divorce sent annually to the legislature, and we hope that the practice may be discountenanced.

There are causes for which a divorce should be granted. When these exist, the divorce should be final, admitting the parties to marry again. It strikes us that the mere separation of the parties—the divorce from bed and board—has a most pernicious and corrupting effect in rendering, in many cases, both parties criminal. If the cause be not sufficient to justify a final divorce, there should be no separation of the parties sanctioned by the law. It is the duty of the legislature to enforce morality as far as practicable, and therefore there should be no legal temptation to its violence.

We are glad to see that the attention of the legislature has been called to the necessity of registering all marriages. This measure should have been adopted long since, for occasions have occurred where proof of marriage has been required in legal proceedings, and where there was great difficulty in furnishing the testimony.

MANAGEMENT OF BANKS. Since the disclosure of the fact, that the Directors of Banks have no right to inspect individual accounts, (including those of the officers,) considerable anxiety has been expressed by gentlemen interested in these institutions that the practice should be changed. The abrogation of any by-law which imposes this restriction is called for by common sense and the interests of stockholders and the public; and we hope that the public feeling will not be disregarded. Indeed we marvel that any man should consent to act as a Director with his hands tied and his eyes blind-folded. The stockholders are denied the right of examining the accounts, because they have transferred their power to a board of directors; and these purposely pass by-laws divesting themselves of authority, so that all control is confided to the officers of the bank. This is a condition of things that was not suspected to exist. The subject demands the attention of stockholders, and we think that it would not be amiss for them to insist upon immediate reformation in the matter complained of. Unless a supervisory power be held by directors, and all accounts be subjected to their inspection, bank stock will become an uncertain property, as apprehension of mismanagement will deteriorate its value. The stability of banks depends upon their being judiciously conducted. This cannot be done so long as those who are placed as superintendents are debarred all insight into their concerns.

ALMOST A TRAGEDY—UNPRECEDENTED VILLANY DETECTED. We have just had detailed to us the particulars of the most black-hearted villany ever conceived by the mind of man. They are as follows: On Saturday evening last, the play of "Zarah" was performed at the National Theatre, in Washington city, D.C. Previous to the performance, two pistols were borrowed and loaded with powder, by the gentleman who loaned them, in presence of Miss Virginia Monier, Manageress of the Theatre, and her sister. One of the pistols was to be discharged at a character personated by Miss V. Monier, and the other at a character represented by Mr. Johnson, during the progress of the play. The person who was appointed to fire at Miss Monier (as if by the interposition of Providence) thought he would examine the pistol (which is not often done,) previous to the act. He did so, and to his astonishment found it loaded with a ball. This indeed an examination of the other, which was to be discharged at Mr. Johnson, when it was likewise found to contain a bullet. Thus, in all probability, has timely caution saved the life of a young and beautiful actress, who otherwise might have fallen a victim to barbarous demonism. And had it not been for precautionary measures, Mr. Johnson might also have passed to that "bourne from whence no traveller returns."

No clue has yet been had to the detection of the guilty and dreadful monster, who evidently designed the destruction of human life.

IMPRISONMENT FOR DEBT. The bill to abolish imprisonment for debt has passed the House of Delegates by a vote of 36 to 28. We hope that it will also be passed by the Senate, and thus become the law of the land—so that white slavery may no longer exist in Maryland; for it is a degrading slavery to enable one man to imprison another without crime. The law is demanded by justice and humanity, and its passage by the Senate will fulfill public expectation.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

HORSE MARKET. If one wishes to sketch from human nature, we know of no place where he can find finer subjects for his pen than at the horse-market. Here congregate knowing ones, blinks, sharps, flats, coveys, green 'uns, gentlemen speculators and loafers.

"Here's the hanimal," says one, leading up a horse which "showed as many points as if it had been six weeks pounded."

"Blooded to the tip of his tail!" exclaimed a jolly little codger, winking to a sharp on his left. "I've known this horse since he was a colt—he's jam all over. Walk him about, Joe—show the gentlemen his points."

"Is this critter up?" asked a green 'un, examining his mouth.

"Yes, he's up—and will soon be knocked down," replied red-nose. "I reckon you're a judge of horse-flesh. Now, how old would you suppose that animal to be!"

"Whoy, about six years," replied the green 'un, again looking into his mouth.

"You're out. Three years last spring. I know his pedigree from A to Izzard. He was foalded by Betsy and sired by Tecumseh, out of Grand Turk, the celebrated winner of the $5000 stakes at Tree Hill, dam Queen Bess, out of Pocahontas, out of May Queen, by Nicodemus!"

"You don't say so?" exclaimed the green 'un, opening his eyes as if the moon had risen in the west. "Well, I declare, he must be a valuable critter:"

"Put him up!" exclaimed several voices at once; and the auctioneer took his dignified stand, ringing the bell to let the world know that a great sacrifice was about to take place.

"How much is bid for this splendid animal?—How much is bid? Give me a bid, gentlemen."

"Five dollars!" exclaimed red-nose, looking all anxiety.

"Five dollars only for this splendid saddle horse! Goes in harness like a book—only three years old—(more or less)—no fault—(except old age and spavin)—of noble pedigree—fleet as the lightning—sound in all points—(a little sweenied)—a great bargain. Going for only five dollars!"

"I'll bid six!" exclaimed the green 'un.

"Seven!" cried red-nose.

"Eight!"

"Nine!"

"Ten!"—continued the green 'un, seizing the horse by the mane, as if to take him vie et armis.

"Once—twice—thr-e-e, have you all done; only ten dollars! Thre—e—e times. Gone.—Mr. ——— the horse is yours—a great bargain, sir."

Here the green 'un paid the money and mounted the animal amidst the hooting and laughing of the spectators, for when he attempted to whip him up, the creature went as leisurely to work as if he was at work in the mud-machine, and a thunder-bolt would not have compelled him to quicken his pace.

COUNTY COURT. Not that we are a creditor of John Clark's, but the appearance of a notice in some of the papers stating that the creditors of the said Clark were to have a hearing before the County Court on Saturday, drew us to the place, in order that we might see what kind of a lawyer Abraham Hyam made. A number of the creditors of Mr. Clark appeared, with Hyam at their head; under his arm he held a number of ponderous law books, and, big with importance of the event, he walked up to Judge Magruder, and very respectfully stated that he and the rest of the creditors were ready for the investigation. The appearance of the counsel with the appalling "tomes," took the judge rather aback, but with great presence of mind he replied to the applicant, and stated that the Court being yet in the form of a Court of appeals, and there being much unfinished business, a day would be fixed when a hearing might be had. The counsel for the creditors then very respectfully suggested to the Court the propriety of suspending the operations of the trustees for Clark until a decision was made; to which the court politely nodded assent, and Hyam bowing with solemn dignity, walked away, volumes and all, to inform his clients of the result.

LOUNGERS. There are amongst the fashionable young gentlemen of the city, a class who make it a point to while away a great portion of their time in the passages or sitting and smoking rooms of the principal hotels, much to the annoyance of those concerned in the establishment and the regular and transient boarders. A public hotel, though free to all, is not presumed to be the lounging place of those who have no employment for their time—and there are many who make it a place of resort for no other purpose than to smoke cigars, which they bring in their pockets, swagger about, and crack their jokes on the plain and unostentatious travellers who may chance to be caught in the vortex of their wit. If these young men were aware of the contempt their rude conduct excites in strangers as well as those who know them, they would have good sense enough to keep within their proper sphere, and allow the proprietors of hotels to have the right of controlling their own establishments.

ROBBERY AND ARREST. On Friday night the law office of Z. Collins Lee, esq., Law Buildings, was entered at the back part of the building by picking through the wall, and the iron safe opened and robbed of money to the amount of about $450, besides two valuable seals and a silver snuff box. $15,000 in stocks were not taken by the thief, he thinking them below par. In the morning Messrs. Mitchell and Cooke, immediately on hearing of the robbery, commenced operations, and after arresting a large number of suspicious negroes, and gathering facts, inch by inch, they hit upon a "three-fingered Jack" by the name of William Simms, an old bird, who had formerly been employed in the office of Mr. Lee. After much manœuvring, they found the snuff box buried, with a large amount of the money in it, and pursuing their plans still further, they discovered where the seals had been sold for $1. Simms was brought before justice Barnard, who committed him for trial before the city court.

A THREAT. Mr. Peter Lyons, aided by officer McKewen, yesterday afternoon, with much difficulty brought a mulatto woman by the name of Minta Pratt up to the police office. The former charged her with riot and intoxication, and threatening to poison some of the boarders in his house. The appearance of the poor wretch was any thing but prepossessing, and after several attempts to vindicate herself, she was committed by justice Gorsuch, hand-cuffed and sent to jail.

NOTICE.—Baltimore City Court will commence its February session on Monday, the first day of the month, at which time those interested will take notice. Magistrates will please make return of recognizances on or before Tuesday, the 27th inst. By order,

WM. M. MEDCALF, Clerk.

Jan. 16, 1841.

WATCH RETURNS. The Eastern District on Friday night was perfectly quiet. James Murphy and William Robinson, applied for lodgings at a very late hour. In the Middle District, two darkies and a white man were imprisoned on suspicion of 'pilfering.' In the Western District, Jemima Parker was locked up for disturbing the peace, and a loafer admitted for lodgings.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION. It will be perceived that the Rev. Mr. Bethune, of Philadelphia, is to lecture before this association to-night.

☞ Mrs. Marras' Concert at the Assembly Rooms to-night.

MARRIED,

On Tuesday evening, 14th instant, by the Rev. Mr. Steele, JOHN D. BLAKENEY to Miss SARAH GAUNT, all of this city.

At Friends' Meeting House, Gunpowder, on the 13th inst. THOS. H. MATTHEWS, of Baltimore, to ELIZABETH ANN, daughter of John Price, of the former place.

At Washington, on the 14th inst. by the Rev. Henry Anton, D. D. Rector of St. Mark's Church, New York, MORRIS S. MILLER, Lieut. and A. D. C. U. S. Army, to JANE OCTAVIA, youngest daughter of Major General Macomb.

DIED,

On the 14th inst. Mr. DANIEL BERWER, in the 47th year of his age.

On the 15th inst. Mrs. MARGARET HICKS, in the 65th year of her age.

On the 15th inst. Miss ANN YOUNG, in the 70th year of her age.

On Wednesday, 13th inst. after a short illness, Mrs. BARBARA KRAMER, in her 83d year.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Br. ship William, Brown, Trinidad.

ARRIVED.

Schr Henrietta, Parker, 8 days from Savannah, cotton and rice.

MEMORANDA.

Schr Margaretsville, from Jamaica for Baltimore, was spoken off the Capes of Virginia on the 8th inst.

Brig Poultney, Mowatt, of Baltimore, cleared at New York 13th inst. for Genoa.

Brig Mary Stanton, Bearse, for Baltimore, cleared at Boston 13th inst.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

☞ The Seventh Lecture of the course will be delivered THIS EVENING, 18th Jan'y, at half past 7 o'clock, in the Universalist Church, corner of Calvert and Pleasant streets, by the Rev. G. W. BETHUNE, of Philadelphia. Subject—"The age of Pericles."

Those who do not hold tickets for the course, and may wish to attend this Lecture, will find tickets at the Bookstores of Messrs. Cushing & Brothers; John Cushing & Co.; N. Hickman; and Knight & Colburn.

Price 50 cents—admitting a gentleman and lady. ja18-1t

O. I. O. F.

☞ The Past Grands and Representatives of the Grand Lodge of Maryland are requested to attend at the Hall, N. Gay street, THIS EVENING, for the purpose of installing the Grand Officers.

By order, W. G. COOK.

P. S. The Scarlet Members are particularly requested to attend. ja18 1t

BALTIMORE CHOIR.

☞ The members of the Baltimore Choir will bear in mind, that the Rehearsal, on TUESDAY EVENING, will commence precisely at 7 o'clock. Punctual attendance is earnestly requested.

ja18 2t* SAMUEL DALLAM, Pres't.

EUTAW FISHING CLUB.

☞ The members of the Eutaw Fishing Club are requested to attend a meeting, on THIS (Monday) EVENING, 18th inst. at the Hall of the New Market Engine House. Members will please be punctual.

By order of the President. ja18-1t*

☞ LUCK! No. 41635, a Prize of $10,000, whole ticket in the Town Hall Lottery, was sold by E. P. ROBERTS', No. 2 Exchange Place, near the Maryland Lottery Office. ja18-1t

TEMPERANCE NOTICE.

☞ The MARION TOTAL ABSTINENCE SOCIETY will hold an adjourned meeting on TUESDAY EVENING NEXT, 19th inst. at half past 6 o'clock, at the School House in Essex street, adjoining the Independent Engine House. The friends of the good cause of Temperance, and the public generally, are respectfully invited to attend. By order,

THOMAS PINDAL, Pres't.

WM. F. PEWTZ, Sec'ty. ja14-3imis*

TWELFTH WARD.

☞ The Committees, appointed to collect money for the necessitous poor of the Twelfth Ward, are requested to meet and make their returns, on MONDAY EVENING, 18th inst. at Washington Shipley's, North Market street. [APRP] ja16-2t

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,
80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

THREE CAPITAL PRIZES of ten thousand dollars in TO DAY'S Lottery.

Alexandria Lottery, class No. 3, to be drawn This Day. 78 Numbers—14 Ballots.

GRAND SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$10,000	1 Prize of			$3000
1 "	10,000	1 "			1924
1 "	10,000	20	"		1000
1 "	2000	40	"		250, &c.

Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

Drawing of the Virginia State Lottery, class 4—drawn 15th inst.—lowest prize $4:

51 7 16 12 68 53 50 56 5 42 17 18 52

☞ All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address, E. W. ROBINSON,

No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.

Agent for the State of Maryland. ja18 1t

BLOODED STOCK AT AUCTION.

I will sell, on MONDAY AFTERNOON, 18th inst. at 3 o'clock, opposite Mr. Dukehart's Stables, North street, two very valuable BLOODED MARES one now with foal by a celebrated running horse. Also, one Blooded Horse, all in good order. The above animals have made some extraordinary fine races. Pedigrees and particulars will be given at the time of sale. The Horses can be seen on Monday morning at Mr. Dukehart's Stable.

Terms liberal. S. H. GOVER, Auct'r.

P. S. The above stock will positively be sold without any reserve. ja18-1t*

BURDEW'S PATENT SPIKES, &c.

THE Subscribers have been appointed Agents for the sale of HENRY BURDEW'S Patent Ship, Boat, and Rail Road SPIKES and HORSE SHOES. They are prepared to serve purchasers of these articles on the same terms as the former agent. A full assortment on hand.

ALSO ON HAND,

HOLLOW WARE CASTINGS, (light and beautifully assorted,) at the lowest market price—together with Large Patent CABOOSES, Cast Iron KETTLES, assorted sizes, &c. &c.

BOYER & DIPPENDERFFER,

ja18-eo3t* Corner of Pratt-st. & McElderry's wh'f.

PIANO FORTES AND VIOLINS.

The subscriber offers for sale, on reasonable terms, three German PIANO FORTES, just imported from the celebrated Factory of RIBBE & FEURICH, Cassel. They are of superior tone and fine touch.

ALSO—A number of choice VIOLINS, selected with great care, being superior to any that can be had in this country. JOHN METZ, No. 89 Gay-st. (O. T.)

ja18 1f Opposite the Independent Engine House.

FOR RENT. That large three story DWELLING and STORE, No. 41 N. GAY-ST., adjoining the German Lutheran Church. For a Boarding house, perhaps there could not be a house better calculated, as to location and convenience, it being but a short distance from the market, and near Baltimore street—it is open and airy, with extensive back buildings, and has dry cellars under the whole—added to which, the water is brought into the kitchen, and directly above is the Bath house, &c. To a good tenant the rent will be made low. Apply to the subscriber, who has, and always keeps, a full assortment of the most Fashionable CABINET FURNITURE, at the lowest prices, for cash, or good acceptances.

EDWIN S. TARR,

ja18-1f No. 4 Gay, near Baltimore street.

MOTHERS, who have children suffering with cough or cold, should procure HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY. It is very pleasant, and Children do not object to it.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE,

d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

COPPER PLATE AND MUSIC PAPER, on hand and for sale by

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,

d17 No. 9 S. Charles street.

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Man. To Dr. SWAYNE.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel differently—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently depends on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
ly28-y

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
PAPER DEALERS,
No. 2 SOUTH CHARLES STREET,

HAVE FOR SALE—500 reams Fine Medium Printing PAPER

500	reams	Superfine Medium Printing PAPER
150	do	Medium and a half do	do
1000	do	News Paper, various sizes	do
500	do	Colored Medium	do
100	do	do Cover	do
2500	do	Ruled and Plain Letter	do
2000	do	Ruled and plain Cap	do
500	do	Flat Cap	do
200	do	Fine Writing	do
100	do	Medium Writing	do
50	do	Royal and Superroyal	do

Binder's Boards; Bandbox do; Trunk do; Straw do; Press Paper; Hardware; Grocers and Cloth Paper; Russia Skins. ja18

AUCTION CLOTHS & CASSIMERES.

THE Subscribers have on hand, a very heavy Stock of superfine Wool and piece dyed black, blue, invisible green, grass, citron, olive, brown, drab grey mixed CLOTHS, with superfine wool and piece dyed black, blue, drab, grey mixt and fancy CASSIMERES—and Diamond and Beaver CLOTHS.

N. B. Also on hand a general assortment of DRY GOODS, such as Blankets; Flannels; Cassinetts; Kentucky Jeans; Kerseys; plaid Domestics; plaid Linseys; York Mill Shirting; bleached and brown Muslins; Calicoes; col'd Cambrics; Irish Linens; brown Hollands, &c. With a variety of articles too numerous to insert, all which, owing to the advancement of the season, they will sell, wholesale or retail, at very reduced prices. Persons wishing to obtain bargains, may rely on finding them at

DORSEY & NELSON'S, No. 13 Baltimore st.
ja18-eo1w 3d door W. of Market Space.

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE, That the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court of Baltimore county, letters of administration on the personal estate of MARY BROWN, late of said county, deceased. All persons having claims against the said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, on or before the 16th day of July next—they may otherwise, by law, be excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons indebted to the said estate, are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand, this 14th day of January, 1841.

ja18-law4t SAMUEL WILSON, Adm'r.

THE VERY BEST
FAMILY NEWSPAPER
IN THE UNITED STATES.

THE OCEAN
AND BALTIMORE WEEKLY CLIPPER
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING,
By BULL & TUTTLE,
EDITED BY
SAMUEL BARNES, JOHN H. HEWITT, and JOHN WILLS,
AT ONLY $1.50 PER ANNUM,

IS one of the CHEAPEST and BEST FAMILY NEWSPAPERS now published. Being made up from the columns of the DAILY CLIPPER, comprising all the current NEWS of the week, TALES, POETRY, &c. &c. embracing a greater variety of interesting matter than can be found in any other newspaper publication extant. The paper is carefully mailed EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, and sent to subscribers in every part of the Union. Subscriptions $1.50 per annum, always payable in advance.

☞ All letters must be addressed (post paid) to
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 N. Gay street, Baltimore, Md.

N. B. Single copies of the Ocean and Weekly Clipper can always be had at the Office, with or without wrappers—price 6¼ cents. ja15 d

---

SIXTY DOLLARS REWARD.

THE above reward will be paid for apprehending the following Deserters from the U. S. Army:

ADAM DUKE, who is twenty-one years of age, five feet eight inches high, ruddy complexion, brown eyes, brown hair, born in Columbia, Penn. and by occupation a laborer.

MICHAEL JENNINGS, who is eighteen years of age, five feet five inches high, fair complexion, blue eyes, brown hair, born in Mayo, Ireland, and by occupation a laborer.

The above reward, or $20 for either, will be paid on their delivery to any Military Post in the U. States.

ja15-3t* WM. WALL, Lt. U. S. A.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, elecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and honey. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 19 North-st. d12-y

---

WILLIAM H. KIMBALL & CO.
No. 145 BALTIMORE STREET,

MERCHANT TAILORS, and DEALERS in Broad Cloths; Cassimeres; Vestings; Beaver and Pilot Cloths; Cassinets; Flannels; 100 doz. black, white, and colored Hosiery; Handkerchiefs; Shirts; Drawers; Worsteds; Neck Stocks; Scarfs; Collars; Bosoms; Suspenders, &c. &c.

Also, a large and extensive assortment of ready-made Clothing, consisting of Dress and Frock Coats; Pantaloons; Vests, and Over Coats—which will be sold at the lowest possible prices for cash. ja8

BOARDING WANTED. A gentleman wishes to obtain unfurnished Rooms, for himself and family, in a private family residing somewhere near the centre or north-western part of the city. He would also board with the family, provided the terms could be made such as to suit his income. Apply at the office of the Clipper. ja15 3t*

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

DAVID WHITSON respectfully informs his customers and friends, that he has this day associated with him, in business, his son, WILLIAM E. WHITSON. The business will hereafter be conducted under the firm of DAVID WHITSON & SON.

JANUARY 1st, 1841. ja15-4t*

NOTICE. Was found in a Store in Market street yesterday afternoon, a paper parcel, containing Black Silk, Needles, Satin, &c.—information of which can be received on application at this office. It is supposed to have been left by a lady who was a short time previous in the store, and purchased, among other items, kid gloves and cotton hose. ja15-3t

---

TO MAGISTRATES. The undersigned keep constantly on hand, a full assortment of all the various BLANKS used by Magistrates, printed on fine paper, which will be sold on the lowest terms.

Apply to BULL & TUTTLE,
ja13 d No. 7 N. Gay street.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 20 good white and colored COOKS, to fill desirable places in different parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES and 2 NURSES. d25

OHIO Rail Road, Tide Water, Virginia & Wheeling NOTES—For sale by

n13 E. W. ROBINSON, 69 Baltimore-st.

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 60,000	may be had on	MONDAY, for	$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	4 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
6,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 00
30,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. ja7 3m

---

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.

The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $2.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $3. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate

HATS!
HATS!!
HATS!!!
HATS!!!!
HATS!!!!!

Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at

W. H. KEEVIL & CO'S,
No. 66½ Baltimore-st., opposite Tripolett's alley,
And 4 doors W. of Bool's well known Auction Store.
d16-tmh16

One of the best adapted ROOMS for PUBLIC MEETINGS in this City.

UNION HALL, S. E. corner of Tripolett's alley and Market street, elegantly fitted up with Gas, neat Benches with Backs, Desks, Speaker's or Chairman's Raised Platform, now occupied at stated periods by some of the most respectable societies of this city, and what renders it very pleasant, it is free from the pernicious influence of Bars, and the desecration of a tavern resort. It is got up on the Temperance principle. The third story is fitted up in the manner above named, having no connection with the other Rooms, either of which will contain 300 persons very comfortably. For religious or other Societies, it can be had either day or night. Merchants and Tradesmen, having meetings of any kind, are invited to call.

☞ The Garret Room is also prepared, and would answer for a Book Bindery, Engraver, Shoemaker, Tailor, &c.—it is well lighted. Inquire of the Proprietor of the Store underneath, or at No. 60 Baltimore street, opposite. ja12-eo3t

---

FANCY AND WORSTED STORE.

THE subscriber has on hand, and offers for sale a large and general assortment of Fine Worsted Patterns, Zephyr Worsted, Thick & Working Chenille, Saddler's Floss, Sewing and Twist Silk for Purses, Silk, Cotton and Worsted Cambs, Perforated, Board and Hair Cloth for Worsted Work, Ladies' Knitted Worsted Caps, Baby's Bonnetts, Boy's Gaiters and Scarfs, Silk and Worsted Fringe, Black Silk Lace, Silk Velvet for Head Bands, Belts and Cuffs, Ladies' and Children's Worsted Mittens, Knit Muffs, Knitting Yarn, Linen and Cotton Tape and Cord, &c.

Also—A general assortment of Work and Fancy Baskets and Boxes; Ivory, Shell, and Horn Combs; Jewelry; Needles and Pins; Toys, &c. &c.

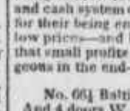
G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 58 Lexington-st., 5th door above Howard-st.
d23-eo3m [As]

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE.

That on the 18th Dec. last, a Red COW and CALF came on my farm, and have them since remained, and having advertised them in the newspapers and the owner not having made his appearance to claim them, that if not claimed on or before the 1st of February next, I will cause them to be sold in order to defray the expenses of their keeping, &c.

ALONZO KEERSHAW,
ja15-eo3t* 8 miles on the Frederick Turnpike.

STRAYED OR STOLEN,



From the subscriber's Farm, four and a half miles from Baltimore, on the York Road, on Sunday night last, a Black HORSE, about 16 hands high, the off fore and hind feet white, and a white star in the forehead, about six years old, had a long seam on the off hind quarter, caused by a stake. Twenty dollars reward will be paid for his return, if strayed, or fifty, if stolen, with the detection of the thief.

ja15 eo4t* ANDREW H. ARMOUR.

GROCERIES! GROCERIES!!

THE Subscriber, having bought out the entire Stock of GROCERIES from ROBEY & OWINGS, would respectfully call the attention of his friends and the public generally, to a well selected assortment of FAMILY GROCERIES—together with a general assortment of Imported CIGARS, CHEWING TOBACCO, SNUFF, &c. &c., which he will sell at the very lowest prices. EMPSON C. BIRD, ja13 3tsw Corner of Baltimore and Harrison-sts.

FOUND, in Baltimore street, last evening, a black Velvet RETICULE, containing sundry articles, amongst which is a Purse with some money in it—also a Cambric Cap of very small dimensions. The lady who lost it, can obtain the same by applying at this office and paying for this advertisement. ja16 3t

---

LOST. Yesterday morning, in Hanover, south of Pratt street, a Merchant's BANK DEPOSIT BOOK, of no use whatever to any but the owner. A reward of $1 will be paid to the finder, if left at the office of the Baltimore Clipper. ja16-2t*

CURRANTS AND CRANBERRIES.

500 POUNDS FRESH CURRANTS
7 bbls Superior CRANBERRIES
For sale by MARCUS DENNISON,
d24 31 Baltimore street.

BOY TO HIRE. For hire, a Colored BOY, about 13 years of age—he understands waiting, and will be hired by the year on low terms.

Apply at the City Intelligence Office. [A] ja7

☞ Dr. T. L. MURPHY has resumed the Practice of Medicine. Office No 69 BOND STREET, a few doors S. of Allisanna street. d12-tf

---

FOUR School WRITING DESKS & BENCHES were left at a Carpenter's Shop some time ago, supposed to have been sent to the wrong place—the owner is requested to pay for this advertisement and take them away. Apply at the Clipper office. ja14-3t

---

WESTERN BANK & CITIZEN'S BANK STOCK—For sale, payable in Franklin Bank Paper. Apply to

ja7-8t S. HARRIS & SON.

SERVANTS. Persons in want of Servants of any kind, will be promptly supplied by applying at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. [A] d30

DRY GOODS, &c.

COUNTRY KNIT YARN HALF HOSE. We have yet on hand, about 50 doz. Men's Country Knit Yarn HOSE, which we will close out cheap by the dozen or retail.

DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Balto. st. 3d
ja8-eo1w Door west of Market-st.

CHEAP LINEN CAMBRIC HDKFS.

JUST RECEIVED, an additional supply of those cheap Linen Cambric HDKFS. which we have been selling off very fast by the dozen and at retail. Ladies who have not supplied themselves, now have another opportunity—they may rely on finding them at very reduced prices, by calling on

DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Baltimore-st.
ja8-eo1w 3d door west of Market Space.

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are LOWER than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chains; dyed and white Stair Linens, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.
N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mouseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½; super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7 8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1¼ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25 childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
RED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.

E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Store you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6¼
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6¼
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 8¼
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 6¼
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 6¼ each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleves
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mouselaine de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 6¼
Excellent LINSEY, eleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 6¼s
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 6¼s
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Brocha do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 6¼
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6¼
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6¼

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

WANTED TO EMPLOY, by the month or year, 4 or 5 Negro men (slaves) to work on a Farm near the city. They will be well treated, and the owners receive the highest wages, which will be punctually paid them in the city. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, Baltimore-st. corner of Frederick street.

Also, wanted to employ, a Colored man as Waiter in a Private Family. Apply as above. [A] ja5

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES; French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞ All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street. a5-tf

---

HANCE'S SUPERIOR LILY WHITE.

THIS is the only article which has ever improved the most beautiful creatures in the world—to wit—the "Baltimore Ladies"—warranted not to injure the skin. SETH S. HANCE,

d12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,

d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

AMUSEMENTS.

NATIONAL THEATRE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

BENEFIT OF MR. RICE.

THIS (MONDAY) EVENING, Jan. 18, 1841,
Will be presented, the Play of HENRIETTA.
After which, the Comedy of
THE PEACOCK AND CROW.
To conclude with
WHEW! HERE'S A GO!

☞ Principal characters by Mr. RICE, in which he will sing a variety of Songs.

☞ Doors open at quarter before 7. Performance to commence at half past 7.

CITIZENS' BALL,
FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

THIS BALL will take place on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841. The price of Tickets is fixed at TWO DOLLARS.

☞ At a meeting of the BOARD OF MANAGERS, held on Monday evening, the following Resolution was passed—

Resolved, That a Committee of two be appointed from each ward, for the purpose of calling upon such persons in their respective wards, as are disposed to aid in the object the Managers have in view.

It is generally known that great numbers of persons who do not attend Balls, would willingly give in aid of the object if an opportunity was offered them. Hence the appointing of the following committee, it is expected that gentlemen will proceed immediately in their collections.

1st Ward, H. R. Lauderman, James Grieves.
2d do Wm. Wickersham, John E. Stansbury.
3d do Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott.
4th do Abel Blakeney, James Marray.
5th do Capt. John Patrick, Herman Perry.
6th do Thos. C. Dunlevy, John Kennedy.
7th do Simeon Hays, James Ackland.
8th do Samuel Lucas, Samuel Sump, Jr.
9th do Wm. R. Frazer, James McPhail.
10th do Dr. Wm. Power, James Lawson.
11th do Horace Miller, D. A. Piper.
12th do George Deal, Joseph Creagher, Jr.

☞ The Managers who have not yet obtained their tickets, are requested to call at once upon the treasurer, JOSHUA VANSANT, at the Post Office, and receive the same. By order,

SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
ANDREW J. BANDEL, Secretary. ja13-tb

PROGRAMME

OF MADAME MARRAS' VOCAL and INSTRUMENTAL CONCERT, at the Assembly Rooms, on MONDAY EVENING, Jan. 18th, 1841, assisted by Mr. NENNINGER, Mr. PETRI, Mr. LUCCHESI, Mr. DIELMAN, Mr. ALLEN, and several Gentlemen Amateurs.

PART I.

1. Sinphonia, Hayden.
2. Variations on the Harp, (with the new effects.) Mad. Marras, Bochsa.
3. Variations for two Violins—Mr. Nenninger and Mr. Allen, Kalliwoda.
4. Variations for Flute—by Mr. Lucchesi, Mayseder.
5. Romanza, from the Opera Giulietta e Romeo, with Harp accompaniment, sung by Mad. Marras, Bellini.

PART II.

6. Overture, Mozart.
7. Duo for Harp and Violin—from Moise in Egypt—by Mad. Marras and Mr. Nenninger, Labarre & De Beriot.
8. French Romance—Je veux t'aimer sans te le dire—by Mad. Marras. M'lle Puget.
9. Introduction and Air, with variations—by Mr. Dielman, De Derlot.
10. Grand Fantasia on the Harp—Mad. Marras, Aivars.

☞ Doors open at half past 7 o'clock, and the Concert to commence at 8 o'clock precisely.

☞ Tickets $1 each—to be had at Robinson's Circulating Library, and at the principal Music Stores and Hotels. ja14 4t

---

CENTRAL HALL
DANCING & WALTZING ACADEMY.

CHARLES L. SPIES, thankful for past favors, has the honor to inform his friends and the public that his SECOND QUARTER will commence on TUESDAY, 19th inst. at the above Hall, corner of Baltimore and Charles streets.

☞ Days of Tuition, for Young Ladies, Misses and Masters, on Tuesday and Saturday Afternoons, from 2 till 5 o'clock—and on Tuesday and Friday Evenings, from half past 6 till 10 o'clock, for Gentlemen.

Practising Balls on Thursday evenings, and Cotillion Parties on Saturday Evenings.

☞ Terms—$10 per quarter. [*] ja5-eo2w

A Beautiful and Suitable Present for Ladies.

THE LADY'S BOOK. We have scarcely penned a paragraph of praise to this paragon of periodicals, and another deserving still more is required. People may talk of puffing as much as they please, but we can say to the most heretical, let him but see the beautiful engraving prepared by Godey for the January number of his Lady's Book, and if he does not say that it surpasses excellence, then are we willing to knock under. The plate is called "Neapolitan Peasants going to the Festa of the Pic di Grotta," and a more life-like piece of art it has never been our fortune to see. There you have, as natural as life itself, a group of half a dozen peasants, on their way to the city, each carrying the fruits of their industry. In the fore ground are a small boy and girl, bearing on their shoulders a pole, on which are slung all sorts of viands; then comes a good looking matron, carrying on her head a basket, and holding by the hand a chubby-looking girl, who, like the rest, is carrying a bunch of grapes; and behind comes three or four others, following in the trail, while in the distance are several busily employed in preparing articles for market. Altogether, it is one of the very handsomest things ever gotten up for a periodical of any country, and is alone worth twice the subscription price to the Book. Subscriptions received at

WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
ja14 No. 74 Market and 98 N. Gay street.

IMPORTANT TO THOSE AFFLICTED WITH COUGHS & COLDS.

RICH'D THOMPSON'S LIFE PRESERVER, a new and valuable remedy for the relief and removal of the most distressing Colds and Coughs.

The subscriber has been induced to offer this Medicine to the Public from his personal knowledge of its effects, and the testimony of those who have been the subjects of its operation. In no instance within his knowledge (and they have been many) has it failed to give immediate relief to the patient, and ultimately to remove the most distressing cough, brought on by taking cold. In cases of Consumption, nothing is promised beyond relief. This Medicine is equally applicable to Children. Agent for Baltimore,

ROBERT H. COLEMAN & CO.
No. 133 Market street.

Where numerous certificates of its efficacy, from persons of respectable standing, will be shown if necessary. ja13-6w*

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞ Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

oc17-tf E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

REMOVAL.

G. H. MITTNACHT, IMPORTER OF GERMAN, FRENCH, and ENGLISH FANCY GOODS, has removed from the Store he lately occupied in Baltimore street, to the Store No. 9 South LIBERTY STREET, where he will always keep a large and general assortment of FANCY GOODS, including Baskets, Toys, Clocks, Musical Instruments, Cutlery, Jewelry, Pins, Needles, Tapes, Cords, Cotton, Thread, Silk, Blacking, Ink, Slates, Marbles, Whips, &c. &c., which he is prepared to sell at the lowest wholesale prices. G. H. MITTNACHT,

No. 9 S. Liberty street.

N. B. Franklin Bank Notes will be taken at par for all Goods purchased for cash. [A] ja5-2w

---

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of

HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,

For the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Cheston & Son,	Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq.	do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq.	do.
James Hepburn, esq.	do.
Christian Haldeman, esq.	Columbia.
Jacob M. Haldeman, esq.	Harrisburg.
Thomas Eder, esq.	Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank,	Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq. Cash Girard	do.
William S. Smith, esq.	Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq.	Boston.

Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-d2w6w*

VALLIER'S FRENCH PILL, FOR THE CURE OF SECRET DISEASES. One box of these inestimable Pills is worth all the Quack Medicines in the world.

COMMENT. If we examine the nature of the above diseases, and the situation of the parts affected, we must consider it a very important object to be able to obtain a remedy at once certain in its action, and at the same time composed of such ingredients as will prevent the possibility of discovery while using it. It is a fact well known to many, that most of the remedies offered for these diseases are composed of such nauseous drugs, as to render it almost impossible to continue their use without creating a sickness at the stomach or other unpleasant consequences. Such being the case there can be no doubt but such a remedy as Vallier's French Pills, will meet the universal approbation, being entirely free from those objections; pleasant in their operation, and prompt in removing the disease. The proprietor would here remark, that the efficacy of these Pills in the disorders alluded to, are not based upon supposition; on the contrary, it is founded upon rational experience, having used them in a successful practice for upwards of two years, he feels confident of their superiority over the remedies hitherto employed.

☞ Price one dollar per box. For sale in Baltimore by SETH S. HANCE.

ja11-y Corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

LADIES' COMPANION, April No. for January, 1841, received by

WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. MOORE'S, No. 74 Market street—and at
No. 98 N. Gay-street, near Fayette-st.

☞ Terms $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly.

Opinion of the New York Press:

We have been favored with a copy of a steel engraving of the Light House near Caldwell's Landing, intended to illustrate the January number of the Ladies' Companion, published by Mr. Snowden, 109 Fulton-st. It is indeed a fine specimen of the art, and reflects no ordinary credit upon the enterprize of the conductor of that Magazine. The number will contain articles from the following writers:

Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, Mrs. E. F. Ellet, Mrs. Anna, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances L. Osgood, Mrs. E. R. Steele, Mrs. Caroline Orne; Professors Longfellow & Ingraham; Mr. H. Herbert, Francis W. Thomas, Greenville Mellen; Rev. J. H. Church; Mr. Rufus Dawes, Wm. Gilmore Sims, Epes Sargent, Park Benjamin, George P. Morris, Robert Hamilton, C. P. Daniels, H. T. Tuckerman, Henry B. Hunt, (of Philadelphia,) Wm. G. Howard, (of Ohio); Mrs. E. C. Embury; Mrs. Hoffland, (of London,) and many others. Also, an original piece of Music, composed by J. G. Meader, expressly for the occasion ja5

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 56 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,
(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland.)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Plasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Doric Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Reserves, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as good quality and as cheap as can be purchased at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.

d23-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 31st of August, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Chemical, Philosophical, and Astronomical Apparatus, is extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by Mr. J. C. ROBINSON. AUGUSTUS FREITAG, L. L. D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the German.

☞ Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or enter pupils, will receive every attention, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. BAXTER, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.

a8-tf J. R. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

COTTON FACTORY—For Sale or Rent.

FOR Manufacturing Cotton WADDING & LAPS. The Machinery of the above Factory is propelled by a first rate Four horse Steam Engine. I will sell for cash, or on a liberal credit on approved endorsed notes. This is a rare chance for an industrious person with a small capital—the Factory is well established, and has a good run of customers—possession can be had in March. Inquire of T. W. BETTON, d22-tf No. 151½ Baltimore street.

CLOCKS! CLOCKS!!

THE subscribers have opened a Store at No. 36 S. CHARLES STREET, for the sale of their celebrated CLOCKS. They have now on hand, and are constantly receiving, large supplies from their manufactory in the city of New York. Brass and Wood Eight-day, One day, and Alarm CLOCKS, of every variety of style, and of superior workmanship and finish, which they warrant and offer at wholesale to dealers, at their lowest factory prices.

ja1-1y SMITH & BROTHERS.

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!!

AT THE NEW STORE,

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

EXCHANGE AND MONEY MARKET.

January 18, 1841.

Exchanges have been very unsteady for the past week, owing to the resumption of the Philadelphia banks and the refusal on the part of our banks to adopt the same measure.

Exchange on N. York a 2 premium; on Philadelphia a 1¼ prem.; on Richmond, Petersburg, Norfolk and Winchester 1½ dis.

Franklin Bank money is getting worse again. The brokers are buying the same at 29 per cent. discount.

BANK NOTE TABLE,

CORRECTED WEEKLY FOR BALTIMORE CLIPPER, BY H. WIGMAN, Exchange Broker, opposite Post Office
MONDAY, January 4, 1840.

MARYLAND.		Michigan,	15 dis
Baltimore Banks,	par	Massachusetts,
Annapolis,	½ dis	Connecticut,
Cumberland,	par	Rhode Island,	par
Easton,	1½ dis.	N. Hampshire,
Frederick,	par	Vermont,
Hagerstown,	1½ dis.	Maine,
Mineral,	1½ dis.	VIRGINIA.
Salisbury,	2 dis.	Richmond,	1½ dis.
Westminster,	1 dis.	Petersburg,	1¾
Williamsport,	1½ dis.	Norfolk,	1¾
PENNSYLVANIA.		Winchester,	1¾
United States Bank,	par.	" Valley,	1¾
Brownsville,	2¼	Danville,	1¾
Chambersburg,	1	Romney,	1¾
Columbia,	1	Charlestown,	1¾
Erie,	5	Wheeling, dem'd,	2¼
Gettysburg,	1	do Post Notes,	2½
Lancaster,	1
Lewistown,	1	Ohio,	5
Philadelphia,	par	Kentucky,	5
Pittsburg,	2	Indiana,	5
Washington,	2¼	Illinois,	5
Williamsport,	1	Missouri,	5
		N. Carolina,	2¼
Delaware Banks,	1 dis.	S. Carolina,	2
Under $5's,	2	Georgia,	6 a
New Jersey Banks,	1	Alabama,	6 a
Under $5's,	2	Tennessee,	9
N. York State,	1 dis.	Mississippi,	25 a
N. York City,	par	Louisiana,	3

PRICES OF GOLD AND SILVER.

GOLD.		DOLLARS.
Doubloons, (Royal)	$15 50	Spanish,	$1 01
" (Patriot)	15 95	Mexican,	1 01
Sovereigns,	4 87½	Halves (American)
Eagles,	10 10	and Quarters,	1p.c

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.

In the house of representatives this morning, Mr. Proffit asked leave to offer a resolution, calling upon the secretary of the treasury for information as to what particular appropriation he thinks may be dispensed with during the present year.

After some debate of rather a noisy character, the motion to suspend the rules for the purpose of entertaining the resolution, was rejected.

Mr. Naylor having been confirmed in his seat, Mr. Ingersoll requires that his pay and mileage shall be paid to him up to the time when the question was decided. Mr. Campbell therefore offered a resolution to that effect this morning, but the house refused to entertain it, as it was not then in order.

The several committees were then called upon. Reports and a great number of private bills went through the mock ceremony of a reference to a committee of the whole. That is the last of them for the present session, as they may just as well be committed to the bottom of the ocean.

After the adjournment, Mr. Albert Smith, of Maine, caused considerable mirth, by striking up in his stentorian voice "Auld Lang Syne." The lungs of Mr. S. are so strong, that it is said a deaf man has no difficulty in hearing him whisper.

The senate has again been urging the changes on the pre-emption bill. Mr. Southard concluded his remarks from yesterday, and was followed by Mr. Clay, on whose motion an adjournment was carried.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 15th, 1841.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES. Mr. Seidenstricker presented the petition of John Gill of Baltimore, praying for a divorce from his wife Elsey J. Gill.

Mr. Legrand presented the petition of Michael C. Dempsey of Baltimore, praying for a divorce.

Mr. Ford offered an order that the committee on grievances and courts of justice, inquire into the expediency of requiring all marriage contracts to be recorded; and that they have leave to report by bill or otherwise.

Mr. Tuck, chairman of the committee on grievances and courts of justice, reported a supplement to the act to repair injuries done by Rail Road Carriages and Engines upon the several Rail Roads of this State.

Mr. Rider reported a further supplement to the act to incorporate the Bank of Salisbury. Ordered to lie on the table.

Mr. Gaunt made a favorable report from the Committee on Lotteries upon the bill from the Senate, to confirm the act to alter and amend the Constitution, so far it relates to the power of the Legislature to grant Lotteries. The said bill was made the order of the day for Friday 29th inst.

Jas. L. Martin, Esq. a delegate from Talbot county, appeared, qualified and took his seat.

The bill reported by Mr. Legrand, to abolish the Law of Imprisonment for debt, in the State of Maryland, after undergoing sundry amendments, was passed by a vote of 36 to 28.

Mr. Tuck moved to amend the title of the bill by striking out the title and inserting the following: "A bill entitled, an act to provide for the discharge of debtors from custody, except in certain cases therein mentioned.

This motion is now pending.

SENATE.

In the Senate, after considerable debate, which was participated in by Messrs. Howard of Balt. City and Pratt, the bill in relation to the appointment of the Trustees of the Poor House for Baltimore city and county was passed.

☞Our friend Streeter, whom we have not mentioned this long while, wishes to know what is the matter with the Clipper—"it preserves the sober countenance of a Welch goat." Verily, friend, the pressure of the times—the banks—resumption—temperance—lectures—city council—legislature and congress, have brushed the gossimer from our outward man, and caused us to look as demure as a cat in a church-yard. Anon, and we shall resume our wonted spirits, at present we have lemons to suck.

The river at Wheeling is entirely free from ice and in good navigable order.

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

MR. DAVISON'S WRITING ACADEMY, for instructions with the Muscular Guide, No. 41 Baltimore street. The plan recommended by the Maryland Institute of Teachers. se8-y

M. H. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 64 S. CALVERT STREET, keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c. d23-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 27 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. d23-y

MARX M. HART, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d18-6m

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 43 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n18-3m*

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. n12-y WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se29-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se22-d

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 112 BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. m26-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. jy23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je16-6m*

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 39 Fayette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. m11-ylm*

MINIATURES, Painted in the best style, by MRS. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. m15-y

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 3 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. s4-y

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That at their regular annual session, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore will be petitioned for an extension and location of Lee st, from Eutaw west to Scott-st., and of Scott-st. from Cross st. south to the Patapsco, and of Ostend st. from S. Sharp west to the portwarden's line, and within the limits of these streets thus extended and as now located or opened, and within other limits, all of which are described as follows: the Patapsco on the south, thence along Ostend-street to Hanover-st. along Hanover to Little Montgomery-st., along Little Montgomery to Eutaw street, along Eutaw to Lee street, along Lee to Scott street, along Scott to the Patapsco; the petitioners will pray that every street, lane, alley or road, except south Sharp-street, whether each be merely located, or be condemned and opened as a highway, may be forever closed and shut up—also, that Little Montgomery-st. from Sharp to Eutaw be shut up; also that south of Ostend-st. and west of Race that Leadenhall and S. Sharp st. and the two alleys running parallel therewith be shut up. And the petitioners will pray further, that the streets named in the following description be extended, and be located as the other unopened streets of the city generally are, to wit: S. Sharp-st. from Little Montgomery south to Ostend, Howard from Hill S. to Moale-st., Eutaw from Little Montgomery south to Moale, Paca from Little Paca south to the wharf, Greene from Columbia south to the wharf, Sterret from Columbia south to the river, and that between Green and Sterret, two other streets be located, one at one third and the other at two thirds of the distance from Greene to Sterret-st. and that each begin at Lee-st. and be run south to the river; also that an alley 20 feet wide be located between Hanover and Sharp street, and between every two of the streets, to be run north and south; also that Hill-st. be extended and located from Howard west to Scott-street, Great Montgomery & Henrietta from Hanover west to Scott, Hamburg and West from S. Charles west to Scott, and Cross from Light st. west to Scott. It is intended that Howard street be extended 82 feet wide, Eutaw 82 feet, with five squares near the river, 134 feet wide, for a market place, Lee and Hill-sts. 70 feet, and every other street 66 feet wide. n17-9tw9w*

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headache; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma. Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as in Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.
Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.
Office in New York, No. 349 Broadway.
Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. RORY.
WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. RORY having spent two years in practice with Dr G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call.
d13-6m H. N. RORY.

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞None genuine without the name of COMSTOCK & Co., written on the wrappers.
SOLOMON HAYS.
☞For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. n24-eo6m

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side; the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Harlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.
☞For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street.
jy28-y

20 Bbls. Fifth Proof Monongahela WHISKEY
60 boxes Sperm, Mould and Dipt CANDLES
100 boxes Choice CHEESE
20 blankets Bordeaux OIL, received and for sale by
d9 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

WANTED, immediately, two good Cooks; three good colored Cooks. Also, a good seamstress. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. [A] d21

JOB PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE.

PRACTICAL JOB PRINTERS, beg leave to inform their friends and the public, that they are prepared for the execution of every description of PRINTING, on the most extensive scale. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. embraces every variety necessary for the most finished execution of all work that may be entrusted to them.

They will print, to order:

BUSINESS CARDS	HANDBILLS
BALL TICKETS	WAYBILLS
CIRCULARS	STEAMBOAT BILLS
CHECKS	RAIL ROAD BILLS
NOTES	STAGE BILLS
BILL HEADS	SHOW BILLS
CATALOGUES	PAMPHLETS
BILLS OF LADING	LABELS
LOTTERY BILLS	HATTERS' TIPS,

Together with FANCY JOBS, in Colors, for framing,

LARGE POSTING BILLS,

For Theatres, Circuses, &c. &c., printed to order, at the shortest notice, in the most showy style.

B. & T. have also in operation, in their Office, the "Belper Double-action Printing Machine," recently imported from England expressly for their use, by the aid of which they will be enabled to execute PRINTING at much lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch, than heretofore.

☞In returning thanks to their friends for the favors of the past year, they assure them their usual personal attention will be paid to the prompt and correct execution of all orders in their business, at very reduced prices.

☞Call at the CLIPPER OFFICE, No. 7 North Gay street. jy9-d

CITY INTELLIGENCE,
REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE,
N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Porters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to EMPLOY any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,
GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM P. GILES, Esq., H. W. BOOT, Esq., WILLIAM C. CORNE, Esq.

N.B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. ja7

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscriber respectfully announces that he has established his Office at No. 3 NORTH-ST. next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those Ladies and Gentlemen who may be desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION.

E. TYLOR can confidently state that his extensive practical experience, enables him to give individuals a faithful delineation of their mental capacity, peculiar talents and disposition, as well as point out what pursuit in life they are best qualified by nature to perform. A good assortment of Phrenological Books, Almanacs, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale cheap, by
E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist.
N.B. Chart and Examination, only 50 cts. ja9

B. G. HUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. a15-eo6m

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slatt-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-d1f A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

3 The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having defied the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO. No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-streets., on the corner of Uhler's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 3 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Drug Store, Washington City; E. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.
Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. o21-tf

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 Bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by
d19 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

BOARDING may be obtained by two or three genteel young men, or a gentleman and his lady, in a respectable private boarding house, near the Exchange—terms moderate. Apply at the Intelligence Office, N. W. corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. d30 [A]

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing FEVER, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains ts aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by
jy29-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and this market, a splendid assortment of Rich SILK GOODS, consisting as follows—

1 case 4-4 Rich Glace Paconne, all colors
1 " do. Black and Blue Black Gro de Affrique
1 " do. Satin Striped and Figured Belencia
1 " do. Satin Stripe and Rept, all shades
1 " do. 4-4 Black and Blue Black Gro de Rhine
1 " Plain Gro de Swiss, all colors.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!
Just opened—Extra super 9-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
" Very splendid Satin Glace Shawls, large
" 8-4 Cabeech SHAWLS
" 9-4 Broche do.
" 8-4 Thibet Wool do.

MOUSELIN DE LAINES.
One case Black Ground Mousein de Laine, heavy
Colored Figured do. very superior quality
Half mourning Mousein de Laine
Handsome assortment Plain and Figured do.
One case superior French MERINOS, all colors.
With a general assortment of New Style Fall Goods, to which they very respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.
DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER.
n13 43 Market-st., 4 doors above Gay.

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,

Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosenkrantz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophicydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap18-1y

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent per hour.

☞Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.
LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.
☞The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST,
o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st.

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival. For sale by
JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.
And in Washington City, by
CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.
☞With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

PICTORIAL BIBLE!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Emporium, No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered. Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HANDBILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.
SETH S. HANCE,
d 13-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by
SETH S. HANCE,
d 13-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID. Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coach makers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d28-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

INDIA RUBBER SHOES—
Men's plain RUBBERS, Women's plain do
Misses do do do fig'd do
A few cases of each. Just received per barque Ida, and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 South Charles street.

FOR RENT. A neat two story Brick HOUSE in Canal street, 4th door south of Monument st., in first rate order, handsomely papered, the ceiling with a glazed paper—the rent will be $6 per month. Also, a HOUSE in Wilk-st., old town. Inquire of M. A. DYSART, 31 E. Baltimore st.
ja8-4tw* Third door from Exeter street.

13 Cases Kip and Thick SEGARS, some extra sizes, just received per barque Ida, and for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE, ja6 No. 2 S. Charles-st.

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE,
2d January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one of Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled "The Playmates;" a plate of fashions, with three female figures beautifully colored; two pages of Music, and Angling illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER.

The Young Rambler, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Soldier's the Lot for Me, by A. McMakin.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Dursang.
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Rector of 7's, by the author of 'Cruising in the Last War.'
Subbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. Clark.
Time—Only Time. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. Feling.
Music. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by S. Nelson.

EMBELLISHMENTS:

"The 'Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city, and sent by mail to all parts of the United States and the Canadas, by the publisher.

Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Book-store, 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
ja2 Baltimore, Md.

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty, 16 superb plates—price		$3 50
Keepsake,	15 do	3 50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals, 15 plates,		3 00
Forget-Me-Not, 11 plates		2 00
Friendship's Offering, 10 plates,		2 00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
d21 And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS, AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by
SAM'L. CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.
Washington City, by
W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.
In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.
oct8-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE, No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS,)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10 cases	do	do	Cap PAPER
15 do	Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter PAPER
5 do	do	do	do Cap	do
4 do	do	do	do Folio post	do
20 do	Hudson's	do	do Letter	do
15 do	do	do	do Cap	do
10 do	do	do	do Flat Cap	do
8 do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super-royal WRITING PAPER
12 do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter			do
6 do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2 do	do	Super Flat Cap
12 do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5 do	Tickey and Leyste's		do	do
10 do	Plainer & Smith's		do	do
4 do	do	Folio and Packet Post
15 do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2 do	do	Ledger PAPERS
20 do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter

2000 reams NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2000 do Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300 do Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Band Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 70 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received, a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.
ROBERT H. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
se10-6m No. 12 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $3000. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to
GEORGE GELBACH,
Real Estate and General Agency Office, corner Balt. & Frederick sts.
d21 [A]

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rochester White Wheat FLOUR
50 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs. Zante CURRANTS.
Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by
n13 tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

SUPERIOR CHEWING TOBACCO, and Regalia, Havana, and Principe CIGARS—for sale by
mh9 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

MAGISTRATES' BLANKS. On hand and for sale by BULL & TUTTLE, Printers, No. 7 N. Gay street, (Clipper Office.)

PAGE(S)
MISSING

1-19-1841

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

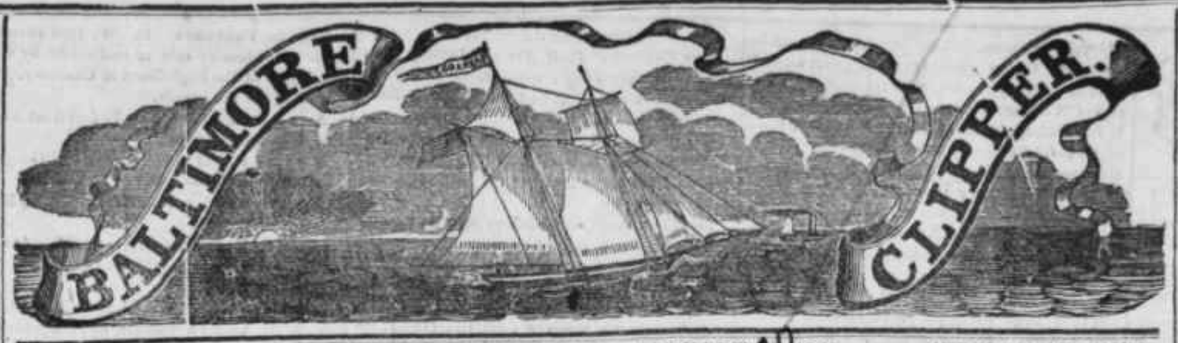
TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞ COUNTRY SUBSCRIBERS can receive the paper by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square 1 time,	$0 50		1 square 1 month,	$4 00
1 do. 2 times,	75		1 do. 2 months,	7 00
1 do. 3 do.	1 00		1 do. 3 do.	10 00
1 do. 1 week,	1 75		1 do. 6 do.	16 00
1 do. 2 weeks,	2 75		1 do. 1 year,	30 00

☞ Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.



VOL. III. NO. 109.] WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 20, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

From the New Orleans Picayune.

MRS. COBURG'S "FIRST."

"Hush, now, my dear, how can you—dont—
It's blessed heart, you'll wake it;
That's always just the way, when it's Asleep you want to take it—
Good heavens!—ma—just look at him!
Don't let him baby handle;
I never saw the like—you know
You don't know how to dandle."

"H—e e e"—"I told you so—
To go and make it cry;
Stop, give it nurse a minute first,
You needn't ask, now, why;
How is it nurse?"—"He e-e-e"
"It's dod a bessed pet,
Did poppy tum—well take it then,
It's nice and right as yet."

"Lord how you handle it!—you men;
You'll break its neck—good gracious—
And if it isn't laughing—ah—
It's mother's little precious!
Clap hands for father—chi, chi, chi,
Coo oo-oo o-o-o—
It's father's eyes—and father's mouth—
And father's nosey too!"

"Did mammy lovee pappy—eh—
And go and bring him over;
And take nice rides, and talk with him,
And make him her true lover;
You rogue you, with mustaches you,
And yet you hate me may be—
Well then, a little kiss—heighho—
That'll do—now kiss the baby!"

"It's little bessed pet—and yes
It shall be christened soon;
Have all the pretties from the tow'r,
And the gold tub, and spoon;
And it wont cry at all, it wont,
When the old Bishop rubs-ee,
And sprinkles the nice water as
We hold-on over tubs-ee!"

Ah! you as thinks that Kings and Queens
Aint got no human feelin's:
Doesn't you hide your faces when
We make these 'ere revealin's;
You see, spite of your sneers and doubts,
Your 'hows?' and why's?' and 'maybees'—
That parents will be parents still,
And babies will be babies! STRAWS.

Among the selections of the Spirit of the Times is a well told tale, entitled "Isendorff, or Recollections of a Student," from which we make the following extracts. A vein of poetry pervades the entire story, and we are particularly taken with the equisite descriptive imagery of the two passages we have italicised. Isendorff has been brutally forced into a duel by and with the brother of his beloved.

* * * * * *

"It may therefore be supposed with what feelings he entered that house! The lingering rays of the summer sun were on the linden trees that waved over its windows; the music of the evening bird floated on the perfumed air, that had a magic soothing power, as though it was formed of the sighs of angels; but oh! sweeter, far sweeter than the night bird's note, came the voice of Louisa through the open casement! Frederic paused on the threshhold and listened—she was singing a song of his own—a shudder ran through him as he thought that, in the noisy hall he had just quitted, heartless enemies were discussing his death!

"'Oh God! must I leave all this?' sighed Isendorff.

"He never mentioned what had passed, what was still to come; a miser of his remaining few short moments of happiness, he would not destroy them; he lengthened them till the chiming hours one by one warned him away by their knell-like voice; then he departed. He had never appeared more gay than on that evening, but there was a wildness, a sudden burst of melancholy, mingling with his gaiety, that startled the unsuspecting Louisa. Alas! she understood it all on the morrow. He asked her for a remembrance, she gave him her scarf; an ominous present, for it was a war-gift.

The sun rose glorious over the vine clad banks of the Neckar that came sparkling from the distant hills, as though it was a vein of light bearing celestial radiance to the earth.

In a woodland meadow by its side, Frederic von Isendorff and Adolph von Adelheim met in deadly combat. The count was the second of the latter, a near relation was by the side of the former.

With his usual proud bearing, Isendorff stepped before his opponent. The scarf of Louisa was wound round his sword arm, that he might never forget it was her brother with whom he fought.

He spoke, but this time sternly and haughtily.

"Adelheim, what you said yesterday may have been under the influence of wine. Retract it!"

Count Otto stepped forward.

"It is to you I speak, von Adelheim."

The swords were measured and given to the respective parties.

"En garde!" And with the swiftness of lightning the combatants started into the position of the defence, and the seconds fell back. With graceful courtesy Isendorff made his salute; it was not returned by Adelheim, whose rapier flickered in his hand as though instinct with life. In an instant the point hovered over the heart of Isendorff, who calmly and scornfully, with scarcely an apparent movement of his blade, parried the fierce thrusts of his adversary. Never were combatants more ably matched. The sword of Adelheim flashed around Isendorff in the morning sun, like a lightning shower, as it quivered in his grasp.

"Have a care," cried Isendorff, "or you will fall on my blade!"

"Insolent boaster, then thrust it home!"

With fresh fury he rushed on his opponent; none could see the rapid motion of their weapons, none could guess the issue, when suddenly, as though with a lightning shock, Adelheim leaped high in the air, and fell a corpse upon the ground. Isendorff's rapier had passed through his heart.

At this unexpected and unintended issue, the survivor stood horror-stricken.

"The murderer of her brother!" he ejaculated. "Lost! for ever lost!"

* * * * * *

His trial was short. The powerful family of Adelheim procured his incarceration in a fortress for life—a severe doom for the challenged, according to the laws of the country.

The fortress of W—— was situated in a beautiful scene. Owing to the favor of the Governor, Isendorff had a couple of chambers allotted to him on the top of the highest tower. There, from the deepest window of his lofty dwelling, the broken-hearted captive could look over the populous country, and hear the glad voices of men ringing up from below; thence could he see the distant towers of H——, and behold, at its setting, the sun, that high priest, of nature, waft clouds of fragrant incense from his golden censor towards the snow-capped mountains, that stood like white-robed listening vestals in God's great temple—earth.

☞ The following very singular narrative we copy from the St. Louis Republican of Wednesday last:

A singular incident occurred during the holidays on the opposite side of the river. Two ladies who resided in Illinois, came to the city to make purchases. A well dressed man followed them into several stores, at one of which one of them got a ten dollar bill changed, receiving the change in small bills. In the evening, on their return home, when a short distance from the ferry, in the prairie, the same man they had seen in the city rode up to them and demanded their money. The one who had the money drew it out, and in attempting to hand it to him the wind caught the bills and carried them off on to the ground. The man dismounted to pick them up, and as soon as he was down, the ladies put whip to their horses and made off as fast as possible.—On their way they heard the clatter of a horse's hoofs following them, but were too much terrified to stop or look back. When they reached their own gate, behold the robber's horse was with them, a fine animal, with an elegant saddle, and a pair of saddle-bags, &c. but the man was nowhere in sight, they suppose his horse escaped whilst he was picking up the bills. On examining the saddle-bags a large sum of money was found and several articles of wearing apparel, but nothing by which his name could be discovered. Up to Saturday last, no one had appeared to claim the horse or property. The above facts we have from a respectable gentleman of the city, who assures us, that singular as the circumstances may appear, they are strictly correct.

The Mayor of Vicksburg, Miss. has issued a proclamation stating that bonds of that to city the amount of $50,000 had been placed in the hands of the President of the Commercial Bank of Millington, Maryland, "for a consideration which has entirely failed, and was fradulent in its inception," and that for these reasons the bonds will not be paid. The bonds were issued in August last, redeemable as follows: $20,000 in three years—$15,000 in six years, and $15,000 in ten years—all of which said Bonds are in sums of $1,000 each, and bear date June 13th, 1840, and are made payable both principal and interest (the latter to be semi-annually) at the United States Bank, Philadelphia, (being the only bonds of that kind ever issued by said city.)

FROM AFRICA. The brig Waverly, which arrived here on Friday from the west coast of Africa, brought a fine young leopard about 12 months old, a very beautiful specimen of the tribe. The poor fellow must exchange his quiet, although dark and confined cage in the hold of the vessel for a berth in some managerie, where he will be stared at in his prison, annoyed and irritated.—As usual, a number of parrots have come out from the land of ivory and gold, to swing in their cages and talk and bite in America. Several monkeys were on board, who manifest bad dispositions and are doubtless homesick. The mate of the vessel brought a bundle of skins, among which are some skins of monkeys, having a much richer fur than that which the living animal, as seen in our country, usually exhibits.—Philad. North American.

State of the Farmers and Mechanics Bank of Frederick county, Tuesday, Jan. 12, 1841.

	Dr.
Loans and Discounts,	$216,810 08
Real Estate,	4,500 00
Specie,	56,715 80
Notes and Checks on other Banks,	1,875 89
Expenses,	72 99
Officers' fees paid,	43 75
Turnpike Stock,	12,567 19
Due from District Banks,	3,428 33
Due from other Banks,	17,511 26
1 share Stock Bank Metropolis,	25 00
	$313,550 29
	Cr.
Capital,	$123,430 00
Discounts received,	1,185 30
Surplus,	27,105 72
Dividends unpaid,	1,939 16
Notes in circulation,	79,474 23
Due to Banks,	5,120 96
Deposites,	75,301 92
	$313,550 29

WM. M. BEALL, Cashier.

SUICIDE.—The eloquent Dow, Jr. says a man who hangs himself because he can't catch fish exhibits the moral of suicide. He says you all cast your hope-baited hooks into the troubled water of the world; and if you don't catch something more than a gudgeon, instanter—if your anticipations are not fully realized forthwith—you go and make Judasses of yourselves! What folly! what stupidity! I tell you, my brethren, to keep on bobbing—the fish will bite by and by!

A Harrisburg paper gives a case of absence of mind in the following way:—"A girl who was one of our first loves, was one night lighting us out, after having passed a delightful evening, and in bashful trepidation, she blew us out of the door, and drew the candlestick behind the door, and kissed it!"

SWELLING. The N. Y. Planet says we are getting too large for our trowsaloons. True, friend, "it is a custom more honored in the breech than in the observance."

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 18th, 1841.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES. Mr. Coombs presented the memorial of sundry citizens of Alleghany county, praying that the banks of the state may be authorised to issue one, two and three dollar notes. Referred to the committee on ways and means.

The speaker presented a communication from the treasurer of the western shore, in which was enclosed the report of the commissioner of loans, shewing the amount of bonds or stock issued by him up to 1st of January, 1841.

A message was received from the Senate in which was also enclosed a communication from the treasurer, containing the annual report of the managers of the Washington monument. Referred to the committee on ways and means.

Mr. Legrand offered an order, that the printer of the house furnish at the close of the session, in his account, a detailed statement of the cost of every item of printing, which he may do for the house; and that the committee on claims report the same to the house.

Several amendments were offered, during which a considerable debate ensued, when Mr. Causin moved to lay the whole subject on the table, which was carried 35 to 14.

The house then proceeded to the consideration of the order of the day, being the bill reported by Mr. Bowie, entitled "an act to direct the manner in which the agents to represent the state in all joint stock companies in which the state has an interest, shall hereafter be appointed. The house not being full, the bill was on motion of Mr. Bowie, postponed until to-morrow, and the house adjourned.

SENATE. Little or no business was transacted.

PRECISELY SO. "My dear," said a husband to his affectionate better half, after a matrimonial squabble, "you never will be permitted to go to heaven."

"Why not?"

"Because you will be wanted as a torment down below."—Crescent City.

A political orator, who wished to gammon some Germans, just previous to an election, in order to obtain their vote, observed, that he was not a German himself, but he had a brother who was remarkably fond of German sausages.

They have a Club in Baltimore called the Flea Club. Mr. B. Flea is its President. The badge of the society is a portrait of the celebrated 'industrious flea,' printed on white satin.—Crescent City.

They lecture on phlebotomy.

A Beautiful and Suitable Present for Ladies.

THE LADY'S BOOK. We have scarcely penned a paragraph of praise to this paragon of periodicals, and another deserving still more is required. People may talk of puffing as much as they please, but we can say to the most heretical, let him but see the beautiful engraving prepared by Godey for the January number of his Lady's Book, and if he does not say that it surpasses excellence, then are we willing to knock under. The plate is called 'Neapolitan Peasants going to the Festa of the Pie di Grotta," and a more life like piece of art it has never been our fortune to see. There you have, as natural as life itself, a group of half a dozen peasants, on their way to the city, each carrying the fruits of their industry. In the fore ground are a small boy and girl, bearing on their shoulders a pole, on which are slung all sorts of viands; then comes a good looking matron, carrying on her head a basket, and holding by the hand a chubby-looking girl, who, like the real, is carrying a bunch of grapes; and behind comes three or four others, following in the trail, while in the distance are several busily employed in preparing articles for market. Altogether, it is one of the very handsomest things ever gotten up for a periodical of any country, and is alone worth twice the subscription price to the Book. Subscriptions received at

WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
ja14 No. 74 Market and 28 N. Gay street.

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 31st of August, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Chemical, Philosophical, and Astronomical Apparatus, is extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by Mr. J. C. ROBINSON. AUGUSTUS FREITAG, L. L. D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the Germans.

☞ Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or enter pupils, will receive every attention, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. BAXTER, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.

a8-tf J. B. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

TO LET. The convenient and recently improved HOUSE, in Canal two doors north of Holland street. It is well calculated for the residence of a large family, and for economy of internal arrangements it is not excelled in the city. The punctual tenant it may be obtained at a fair rent. Apply to Samuel H. Goldsmith, N. Calvert street, three doors north of the Universalist Church. ja19-eo3t

CHEAP LINEN CAMBRIC HDKFS.

JUST RECEIVED, an additional supply of those cheap Linen Cambric HDKFS, which we have been selling off very fast by the dozen and at retail. Ladies who have not supplied themselves, now have another opportunity—they may rely on finding them at very reduced prices, by calling on

DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Baltimore-st.
ja8-eo2w 3d door west of Market Space.

WANTED TO EMPLOY, by the month or year, 4 or 5 Negro men (slaves) to work on a Farm near the city. They will be well treated and the owners receive the highest wages, which will be punctually paid them in the city. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, Baltimore-st. corner of Frederick street.

Also, wanted to employ, a Colored man as Waiter in a Private Family. Apply as above. [4] ja5

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HORE-HOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d19-v Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HORE-HOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE, d19-v Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

OHIO Rail Road, Tide Water, Virginia & Wheeling NOTES—For sale by a12 E. W. ROBINSON, 80 Baltimore-st.,

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE,
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE

TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Bay Line—the Companies on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedule:

Leave Philadelphia	8 A.M.	reach	Baltimore	2 P.M.
" Baltimore	4 P.M.	"	Washington	6 P.M.
" Washington	5 A.M.	"	Fredk'sburg	12 M.
" Fred'ksburg	12 M.	"	Richmond	5 P.M.
" Richmond	5 P.M.	"	Petersburg	7 P.M.
" Petersburg	7 P.M.	"	Weldon	1 A.M.
" Weldon	1 A.M.	"	Wilmington	1 P.M.
" Wilmington	1 P.M.	"	Charleston	at 5 the next day.

As this Line carries the Great Mail, (which cannot be delayed,) and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is sure of a connection through, whilst it is evident that Fogs? ROUGH WEATHER!! and STORMS!!! must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two-thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT ISLAND ROUTE.

☞ The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon: and travellers have no expense or trouble with their flannage.

☞ This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞ This is the only Daily Line to Richmond and Petersburg.

☞ Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of

STOCKTON, FALLS & CO.
Adjoining the Philadelphia Rail Road Office,
d12-tf PRATT STREET, Baltimore.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

LADY'S BOOK, for JANUARY, 1841.—Edited by Mrs SARAH J. HALE, and Mrs. LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY. The only Work, intended for Ladies, that is edited by their own SEX. Miss E. LESLIE contributes to every Number.

CONTENTS—Original. The Festa di Pie di Grotta; Mr and Mrs. Woodbridge, by Miss Leslie; Anaccreontic Ballad, by Mr. C. S. Wilcox, of London, England; Prayers at Sea, by Mrs L. H. Sigourney; False Pride, a Tale of Every Day Life, by Mrs. Mary W. Hale; The Fairy's Proffer, by Mrs. Annan, (late Miss A. M. F. Buchanan); An Incident during a Siege, by Mrs. Mary H. Parsons; Antonio Salvini, a Tale, by Mrs. E. F. Ellet; Childhood's Laugh, by Mrs. Seba Smith; A Life of Fashion, by Mrs. Emma C. Embury; Man's First Offering, by Mrs. S. J. Hale; The Parlor Serpent, by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz; To Wordsworth, written at Rydal Mount, by Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney; Ernestine, by Esther Wetherwald; Our Life is as a Shadow, by Miss Lois Bryan. MUSIC—The Stranger's Heart—words by Mrs. Hemans—music by Miss Augusta Browne; A Singular Fact, by Mrs. M M. Webster; The two Trees, by Caroline T. Orne; New Year's Eve; or, Amusements at Home, by Mrs. S. J. Hale. Editor's Table.

EMBELLISHMENTS. Neapolitan Peasants—the finest Plate of the season—engraved by A. L. Dick; Fashions, Colored—Female figure, with fashionable head dress and apron; Boy's Dress; Girl's out door Dress; Girl's in-door Dress.

☞ Baltimore Publisher—WM. N. HARRISON, No. 28 N. Gay-st., and 74 Market-st. at J. MOORE'S Bookstore, one door below Holliday street.

TERMS—$3 per year, or 25 cents each number. Register your names to-day, being a fine Christmas Gift.
d24

A NEW YEAR'S PRESENT.

THE LADY'S BOOK, Bound, Volume XXII, Price $2.00.

LIST OF ENGRAVINGS:

1. Fairmount Water Works, Philadelphia.
2. The Pilgrims.
3. The Indian Maid.
4. Happy as a King.
5. Death of Lauth.
6. Constantinople.

And six colored PRINTS of the latest Fashions.

N. B. The January number for 1841 is just received. Price 25 cents—or $3 per year. For sale at

W. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Office,
No. 28 N. Gay street—and at
JOHN MOORE'S Bookstore,
d29 No. 74 Market-st. 1 door below Holliday.

LADIES' COMPANION, April No. for January, 1841, received by

WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. MOORE'S, No. 74 Market street—and at
No. 28 N. Gay-street, near Payette st.

☞ Terms $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly.

Opinion of the New York Press:

We have been favored with a copy of a steel engraving of the Light House near Caldwell's Landing, intended to illustrate the January number of the Ladies' Companion, published by Mr. Snowden, 109 Fulton-st. It is indeed a fine specimen of the art, and reflects no ordinary credit upon the enterprize of the conductor of that Magazine. The number will contain articles from the following writers:

Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, Mrs. E. F. Ellet, Mrs. Annan, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances L. Oswood, Mrs. E. B. Steele, Mrs Caroline Orne; Professors Longfellow & Ingraham; Mr. H. Herbert, Francis W. Thoman, Greenville Mellen; Rev. J. H. Cinch; Mr. Rufus Dawes, Wm. Gilmore Sims, Epes Sargent, Park Benjamin, George P. Morris, Robert Hamilton, C. F. Daniels, H. T. Tuckerman, Henry B. Huot, (of Philadelphia,) Wm. G. Howard, (of Ohio); Mrs. E. C. Embury; Mrs. Hofland, (of London,) and many others. Also, an original piece of Music, composed by J. G. Meder, expressly for the occasion ja5

TO MAGISTRATES. The undersigned keep constantly on hand, a full assortment of all the various BLANKS used by Magistrates, printed on fine paper, which will be sold on the lowest terms.

Apply to BULL & TUTTLE,
ja13 d No. 7 N. Gay street.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 20 good white and colored COOKS, to fill desirable places in different parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES and 2 NURSES. d25

JOB PRINTING.
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

THE proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enamelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞ Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Warranted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by Dr. HITZELBERGER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $3!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

Dr. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of $10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $3. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. oc3-ylm*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.

DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND, For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Diabets or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the urethra of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, composed solely of vegetable substance? One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N. B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of T. J. PITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Bridge and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞ For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue. And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL. dec5-y

A BLESSING TO ALL MANKIND.

The VEGETABLE FLUID SYRUP, or Mercurial Extractor. This infallible Syrup is the discovery of an old veteran and hero of the vegetable kingdom; from his long research, his labors have been crowned with the glorious result of a positive remedy for the bad effects of that poisonous drug (Mercury,) and while it has this new efficacious effect upon the bones affected with mercury, it at the same time purifies the blood from the remnants of Venereal Disease, Scrofulous Affections, Epilotches and Eruptions upon the Skin, old standing indolent Ulcers, &c.

For sale, wholesale, and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO., No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-sts., on the corner of Uhler's alley; and at the General Agency Office, No. 3 Pitt street, Baltimore. Also, at WM. LANPHIER'S Drug Store, Washington, D. C. o31

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!

THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor DECATUR,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.

HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.

☞ Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!

A AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 252 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Coal-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 100,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and uncut, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞ Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.

je18-d HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.

mh3-dtf HOPE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.

THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.

a5-dtf G. W PEARCE.

CASSIA AND CHAMPAGNE.

10 CASES FRESH CASSIA
10 baskets Genuine Anchor CHAMPAGNE
Landing from Celeste, for sale by

MARCUS DENISON,
de 24 No. 31 Baltimore street.

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. d25

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JAN. 29. 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

C'EST LE PREMIERE PAS QUI COUTE. This is true in every transaction of life. It is the first step which casts, and which frequently controls the future existence. The first glass which the youth puts to his lips is the first step towards intemperance and ruin. Could he, at the moment of taking the first draught foresee the dreadful consequences to ensue, he would shrink with horror from the poisonous liquid, and shun its contamination forever. It is the fatal first draught that leads astray, and guides his future footsteps in the courses of depravity and crime. Safety is, therefore, to be found only in resisting the first temptation. It may seem impossible to the young mind that there should be so much potency in one glass. What, it will be asked, cannot a man indulge in one drink of ardent spirits, without the danger of becoming a besotted wretch? Yes, if the disposition could cease with one glass—but is not the inclination for a second increased by the first? and does it not augment with indulgence? The man who permits himself to commit a petty crime with the hope that his offences will there terminate, knows little of human nature, or of his own heart. Bet, having once overstepped the line of morality and duty, restraint is thrown off, and he enters upon the broad field of crime unchecked by conscience, and inapprehensive save of the chastisement of law. The youthful Bacchanalian at first shrinks from public censure, and desires to preserve the semblance of virtue and respectability—but his first cup has vitiated his taste, misguided his reason, and deadened his sensibility. He falls step by step, it may be gradually, but surely, until he loses all susceptibility to reproach, all care for the esteem of others, and all regard for the preservation of his "mind, body and estate." Callous to the finer feelings which enoble his nature and form the characteristic distinction between the man and the brute, he luxuriates in his beastly and criminal propensities, until his existence becomes disgusting to his friends, a burthen to himself, and a reproach to his species. Intemperance is not only criminal in itself, but is the great parent of crime. It is the source of three-fourths of the higher offences committed. Were it not for intemperance, penitentiaries would be comparatively useless, the criminal docket unimportant, and the people relieved of much of their burthen. The evils which flow from this one source are incalculable. Is it not then of importance to impress in the strongest manner upon the minds of youth, that they must have the moral fortitude to resist the disposition to take the first step? It is here that resistance will be effectual—it is here that the enemy must be firmly met and conquered. The first false step doubles the difficulty of preventing the second, whilst denial of the first indulgence gives intellectual vigor to resist the second and all future temptations. Let it, then, never be forgotten, that it is the first step which costs.

But is not the first step equally fatal in other matters as is intemperance? Unquestionably. Had the various public and bank officers, who have violated their duty, destroyed their reputations, and embittered the existence of the widow and the orphan—had they but had the moral fortitude to resist taking the first step, how much of suffering and of crime would have been prevented. It is probable that, in almost every instance of such defalcations, the amount first abstracted was insignificant. But could the smallness of the sum taken be an apology for the offence committed? Such must have been the conclusion of the guilty parties—and it may be that they quieted their consciences by a mental determination to replace what they had unjustly seized. But the first step once taken—the petty crime, (in amount only we mean,) having been committed, the restraining influence was withdrawn, and the progress in iniquity was rapid. Who that has thus yielded to temptation, and sacrificed duty, reputation, all that is held dear by honorable men, can retrace his career of crime without dwelling with emphasis on the struggles of his mind at the first temptation, and the first yielding of his better principles? Unless hardened by habit, and insensible to the upbraidings of conscience, what would he not give to be replaced in the condition when he was first tempted, that he might have the glory of coming off conqueror? But regrets are vain—his usefulness is at an end—and his example stands as a warning to others.

In all the various walks of life the first step is the most important. If this were more regarded, we should have fewer paupers in our streets—a diminution of the dens of vice and infamy—and no insolvents rolling in wealth whilst their creditors are suffering and in want.

Rev. Dr. Parker, who has been a missionary of the American board from the United States to Canton for six years past, arrived in this city last evening and took lodgings at Barnum's City Hotel. He is accompanied by Chin Sung, a Chinese in full costume, who attends him as a teacher of the Chinese language.

According to the Boston Atlas, the Hon. Geo. Evans, a member of Congress from Maine, has received in a letter, without date or signature, postmarked Boston, the sum of one hundred and eighty dollars, due to the United States for duties short paid, some years ago, with a request that it should be paid into the U. S. Treasury—which was accordingly done.

OFFICE-SEEKING. The scramble for office among the Whigs appears to afford great amusement to their opponents, who represent the hotels of Washington as already packed, "two in a bed," with applicants. It is said that the time of General Harrison's departure for the seat of Government is purposely concealed, lest his progress be impeded by the mass of office-seekers. The administration prints state the services for which office will be sought, and present, of course, a ludicrous enumeration; but in many cases they are probably not wide of the mark. In the general distribution it is alleged that editors will claim a large participation—somewhat of the lion's share. We know not how this may be; but it does not follow, that because General Jackson conferred office upon some of the ablest of the editorial corps, General Harrison must reward the most insignificant. If we know anything of the character of the President elect, he will not dismiss without cause, nor appoint without qualifications. Such, at least, we hope will be his course. But, should he resolve to make a general sweep, we think it unlikely that he will admit pertness and impudence as recommendations where capacity and integrity are required. If the noisiest animals are to be held in most esteem, chattering apes will come to preferment.

We like the merry humor with which this subject is treated in the administration papers; and it is natural that they should indulge in wit and satire at seeing a general rush for office by those who professed to despise the "spoils system." Standing aloof as we do, we can look upon the scene and enjoy the sport, though our minds are sometimes tinged with melancholy at the degrading spectacle. We have touched on this subject before, and expressed our regret at the general thirst for public office, and we hope that it will be signally rebuked.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19, 1841.

This morning, in the house of representatives, Mr. Reynolds observed that it was really too bad for the hour of meeting to remain at twelve o'clock. It was mid-day before any business was commenced. He therefore hoped a resolution he held in his hand would be adopted, changing the hour to eleven o'clock. But the resolution was sent to the "tomb of the Capulets" in less than a minute. How dare Mr. R. think of making his colleagues work!

The house then went into committee of the whole on the treasury note bill.

Some difficulty arose in the selection of a chairman. Several members begged to be excused, and Mr. Casey was the only one who had the kindness to accept the thankless office. The salary of the speaker is double that of any other member; then why should not the chairman of the committee on the Union have a suitable remuneration for keeping refractory gentlemen in order?

This matter having been settled, Mr. Barnard, of New York, took the floor, and resumed his remarks from yesterday, in opposition to the bill.

The pre-emption bill is still "dragging its slow length along" in the senate. Like a huge monster, it keeps floundering about, first on one side and then on the other, receiving a thrust from every one—but none of them have the kindness to knock it on the head, and end its misery at once.

WRECK OF A CHINESE JUNK. Captain Codman of the brig Argyle, of the port of Baltimore, writes that on his passage from Canton to Valparaiso, on the 9th of June, he discovered a vessel in distress, which proved to be a Japanese or Chinese Junk, dismasted and in a totally disabled state. The crew consisted of three persons, who were taken off. The three men, the only ones that had ever been on board of her, were in good health, and had been 188 days on the wreck, after being dismasted. They left one of the small islands of Japan, to go to a neighboring one with rice. The vessel was dismasted in a furious Tiphoon, when she was a few hours out of port, and never saw land afterwards. She could not have floated many days longer, as her hull was already bursting from the swelling of the rice, of which her cargo consisted, and the decay of the wood.

DEATH FROM STARVATION AT SEA. An inquest was held in New York on Sunday, on the body of a woman named Martha Taylor, who arrived a few days ago in the ship Astracan, from Liverpool. The voyage, it appears, was protracted to the length of 57 days, with 162 steerage passengers. The provisions ran short, and the passengers were put on short allowance.—The woman referred to subsisted for the greater part of the voyage on water gruel. The verdict of the jury was that she died for the want of nourishment.

ENTERPRISE. The Springfield (Ill.) Journal states that a company has been formed for building and running a steamboat on the Rock river, and that a ship is now contracted for, to be built at Cairo, the ensuing summer, to run as a direct trader between that city and Liverpool.

SMOKING THEM OUT. The three persons arrested but recently in Ohio for killing and robbing a number of Indians, attempted to break out a few days since by firing their jail. All that they accomplished was to kill their companions, the rats, and nearly suffocate themselves.

DEATH. Ranson Clark, a soldier who belonged to the command of Major Dade, and who alone escaped, covered with wounds, to tell the bloody story, died recently at the residence of his father, in York, Livingston county.

KILLED AT LAST. The panther that of late has made such havoc among sheep in Benson, Vermont, was shot a few days since by a party of hunters. He measured 6 feet and 3 inches from the nose to the end of his tail, and was supposed to be about two years old.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

CITY COUNCIL. First Branch, January 19th. After the previous day's proceedings were read, the roll was called, and all the members found present.

Mr. Ramsey, of the second ward, presented the annual report of the Franklin Fire Company. On motion, it was referred to the joint committee on fire companies.

Mr. Bender, of tenth ward, presented a petition signed by John Hays and others, asking permission for Mr. Michael Gallagher to carry on the soap and candle making in his present establishment. Referred to the committee on health.

A message was received from the Mayor, approving a resolution relative to the retailing of wood on the public wharves. Also, a resolution to repair the platform on Commerce street wharf. Accompanying the above there was likewise a memorial to the honorable Senate and House of Representatives, praying for the erection of a fortress on "Sollers' Point Flats." The object of which was to afford protection to our city in case of an attempt at invasion by a foreign foe. With this memorial was a communication signed by W. Bose, Esq. which spoke in high commendation of the move—advocating its necessity in strong and energetic terms. It was referred to the joint committee on commerce, and subsequently received the assent of Second Branch.

Mr. J. S. Brown offered a memorial and resolutions relative to the Washington Temperance Society. One resolution deprecated the enactment of a law by the legislature, prohibiting only license to be issued for the retailing of spirituous liquors, after it shall have been disapproved by a majority of votes at the election polls. Mr. B. sustained his motion with some very sensible temperance observations, wherein he remarked, relative to a card published in the Clipper of yesterday, signed Wm. K. Mitchell, president, that his motives had been misconstrued, and that it was far from his intention, in any way, to place the Washington Temperance Society in a false position before the community. Upon the resolutions regarding the abolishment of license there was considerable debate. The question was taken upon the yeas and nays—yeas 6, nays 18.

A message was handed in from the Mayor, which was a report of the Independent Fire Company. Referred to the committee on fire companies.

The annual report of the City Register was handed in—on motion, its reading was deferred.

A messenger from the Second Branch announced its adjournment, whereupon a motion was made in the First to adjourn until to-morrow at half past three o'clock.

MAD. MARRAS. The concert of this lady on Monday night was attended by a large body of the elite of the city, or, in other words, those who consider themselves bound to follow in the wake of fashion, for the sake of their reputation. The patronage (a vile word for a republican to use) of the upper circles gave a degree of eclat to the entertainment which rarely transpires in this city. The performances of Madame Marras were characterized by all the chasteness and expression of a perfect mistress of the harp. Her touches were exquisitely fine, and the cadenzas in excellent keeping with the brilliancy of her execution. Besides the rare treat afforded the audience by the accomplished lady, several fine displays were made by Messrs. Deilman, Nenninger, Allen, Luchesi, and young Walter, the pianist.

Every one has his notion—and, probably, we are too ignorant of the code of etiquette used by the higher circles to say what is right. Yet, we cannot agree that a public concert should be conducted in the same familiar manner as a private soiree. There are rules of decorum to be observed in the former, which in the latter could not exist on account of their formality. At a public entertainment all people are not acquainted, and the buzz of voices, loud laugh and familiar salutations of those who are, appear out of place, and frequently ridiculous.

SEAMSTRESSES. The sudden return of cold weather reminds us of the distresses of this interesting portion of society. Notwithstanding the exertions of the various associations which have been organized for their relief, we believe that there is much of suffering and distress, in some cases arising from indisposition on the part of sufferers to disclose their condition. Where such cases are known by communication with neighbors we have no doubt that instant assistance would be received—not, perhaps, in money, but in work for which a fair compensation would be given. We should be glad to see a permanent system adopted by the philanthropic citizens of Baltimore. Ward collections are temporary and do not reach the case; for, in many instances, the most worthless become participants of the bounty, whilst the unobtrusive go unassisted.

NIGHT WATCH. In the Eastern District on Monday night, negro George Johnson was arrested and brought in on a charge of stealing a a sum of money from Michael Warner. Justice Kemp in the morning examined the prisoner, and ordered that he be reprimanded and discharged. Sarah Sap was drunk and noisy. In the Middle District, Daniel McCann, of the United States Army, was arrested at half past 11 o'clock, practising the oblique step, and Nelson O'Donnell, also of the United States Army, at half past one, struggling with the enemy. Richard Perry was brought in at the same time, and the three locked up till day. Watchman Kanderer found the bacon store of Isaac Randall, in Balderston street, open. In the Western District, Barney Goulden was found disturbing the peace.

The news of an assault on some American citizens by British soldiers, published here last week from the Boston Herald, was first known in Maine via Boston. We conclude then that it is merely "important if true." It was probably some tavern row, extensively magnified.

SALE OF PROPERTY. H. W. Bool yesterday made an extensive sale of real estate by virtue of a decree of the High Court of Chancery. The following are the results.

A vacant lot in Gough st. 30 feet front and 50 feet deep sold for $560.

A ground rent of $43.75, corner of Gough and Eden streets sold for $630.

Another ground rent in Gough st. of $30 sold for $430.

A lot on Wilk st. sold for $775. And two other ground rents of $23 on Conway st. $330 and $325.

The country seat of the late Philip Littig sold for $530, beside a number of unimproved lots situated in the neighborhood of the city brought fair prices ranging between 1 and $3000.

PRECOCITY. Amongst the musical curiosities in this city at present are the Masters Hughes, three young minstrels whose performances not only please, but surprise the audience. The most precocious amongst them is the petite Paganini, whose execution on the violin is really astonishing for a child of his age. The best musician is the second boy, who handles his subjects with a master hand. They ought to give a series of concerts at the saloon of the museum.

CITIZENS' BALL. To-night this splendid affair comes off. The room at Washington Hall has been splendidly decorated under the superintendence of Mr. S. Hays, one of the most active of the managers. The superior cotillion band of Murray & Rice is engaged, and we have every reason for believing that a handsome sum will be raised for the benefit of the suffering poor.

HUMANITY.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS. $20 notes on the Bank of the United States, new plate, are in circulation. One was offered at the office of J. E. Husband, broker, in this city—it was letter A, date not recollected. They may be easily detected by observing the heads of the border, which are miserably executed.

ACCIDENT. We regret to learn by the Patriot of last evening, that Mr. Henry Deilman, Professor of Music, while returning to his lodgings on Monday night, so severely sprained his ankle by treading in a hollow of the pavement, that several days will elapse ere he will be able to attend to his professional duties.

INDEPENDENT GREYS. This fine company intend giving a grand ball on the 22d of February next at the Assembly Rooms.

BALTIMORE MARKET, Jan. 19th. There has been hardly any variation in the market for Howard-st. flour. 200 bbls. of extra brand were sold on Monday at $4.62½. Common brands have been sold at $4.56. The store price to-day we quote at $4.62. The wagon price has advanced a little. We quote at $4.37. The stock on hand is not large, and the receipts not numerous.

Grain—Md. red wheat has been sold at 90c. Old yellow corn 50c., new 48c. Cloverseed $4.75a$5.

Provisions—There is no material alteration in this market. Mess pork $16; prime do $14. Beef $12.50—No. 1 $10.48; prime $9. The bacon market is very dull. Hams, Balt. cured, 10a10½c.; sides 8½c.; shoulders 5c. Bacon from country 7½c. There is a good supply of lard—Western No. 1 in bbls. 7½c.; No. 2, 6½c.

Cattle—400 head of Beeves were offered on Monday, and about 200 taken at $5.50a$8 per cwt. nett, from inferior to prime. Sales of live Hogs were made at $5.75a$6. per 100 lbs.

Whiskey in hhds. 20a21 cts.; in bbls. 22 cts.; receipt price without bbls. 18 cts.

At Boston, on Saturday, the Grain market presented no movements of much interest. The supplies being greater than the demand, prices were less firmly sustained. Yellow flat Corn 55a56, and white 54. A cargo Delaware Oats sold at 36c. and common Southern 32c. Nothing doing in Flour beyond a retail demand. Ohio sells on landing at $5.12a5.25, and Genesee $5.28a$5.31½ per bbl. Cotton without much change.

For the Baltimore Clipper.

In this morning's Clipper I observe a recommendation in the Council news for the erection of a fire alarm bell. It is well known that the Christ Church bells, whose "merry peals" have so often cheered us, remain idle in the basement of the new church, in Gay street, and that at the last session of the Council a proposition was made through the columns of the American, for the city to defray the expense, or part thereof, of finishing the steeple, which is already built up to the roof, and would require but a comparatively small sum to complete it, thereby furnishing an alarm bell at as small a cost (and in a central situation) as can be erected in any other part of the city, and which will not only be useful, but one of the most beautiful ornaments (for what better deserves the name of ornament than the music of the celebrated Christ Church bells?) pertaining to the "monumental city."

Jan. 19, 1840. TASTE.

☞ There is a paper published in Baltimore whose editorials are so long-winded, that the "devil" attached to the office uses them for puffing the fire up in the morning. It is said that a celebrated organ-builder is about making a contract with the editor, in order that bellows may be done away with altogether.

JUNIOR WASHINGTON TEMPERANCE SOCIETY. The boys appear to be active in the good cause. At the meeting of this society on Saturday night last, the number swelled to 106, and 25 honorary members. Several speeches were made.

OLD 'ENS. At a social party in Boston the other evening, there were present two recently married couples, whose united ages amounted to 375 years.

OYSTERS. The citizens of Detroit, Michigan, are regailing themselves with oysters received from Baltimore. They are spoken of as being a great rarity [illegible].

ANOTHER [illegible]ING. A little daughter of Mr. Lewis Misck, of Wilmington, Del. between four and five years of age, was burnt to death on Saturday night last.

MARRIED,

On the 17th inst. by the Rev. J. Varden, WILLIAM T. CHENEY, of Harford county, to ADELINE ELIZA, eldest daughter of the late Jesse Hasleup, of this city.

On the 14th inst. by the Rev. Mr. Tippet, WM. D. F. BURTON to Miss PATIENCE TODD, all of this city.

DIED,

On Sunday evening last, 17th inst. in the 55th year of her age, Mrs. ELIZABETH HAWKINS, wife of James L. HAWKINS.

On Friday morning, 15th inst. Mrs. MARG'T ROYAN, in the 78th year of her age.

HEALTH OFFICE,

JANUARY 19th, 1840.

Report of Interments in the City of Baltimore, for the last week, ending Monday morning, viz:

Still-born 6; infantile unknown 3; consumption 10; convulsions 1; pleurisy 3; dropsy 3; croup cholic 1; old age 1; inflammation of the bowels 2; inflammation of the brain 1; sudden 1; bilious fever 1; mumps 1; intemperance 1; dropsy in the head 1; burn 1; unknown adult 1. Total 49.

Under 1 year,	14	Between 5 and 10,	2
Between 1 and 2,	1	" 10 and 21,	2
" 2 and 5,	1	Above 21,	20

Males 16; females 22—40. Of which number 8 were colored persons—5 free, 3 slaves.

By order, DAVID HARRIS, Sec'y.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Barque Bostonian, Gilchrist, New Orleans.
Br brig Ambassador, Clark, Kingston, Jam.
Schr Trident, Cator, St. Thomas and Barbadoes.

ARRIVED.

Brig Clinton, Cole, from Trinidad de Cuba, 16th Dec. sugar and molasses.
Schr Gen. Cobb, Cobb, fm Fall River and Newport.
Schr Lorenzo, Cheesbrough, 12 days fm N. Bedford.

MEMORANDA.

Brig Sterling, Doane, for Baltimore, was at Palermo Nov. 30.
Schr David B. Small, Boyce, from Baltimore, arr'd at Mobile 9th inst.

BALTIMORE MUSICAL ASSOCIATION.

☞ Ladies and Gentlemen, members of the Association, will please bear in mind that there will be a Rehearsal on THURSDAY EVENING, the 21st inst. at 7 o'clock. The Oratorio of David is now in Rehearsal, and it is desirable to perform it as early as possible. In order to accomplish this object, members are particularly solicited to be punctual in attendance, that the Choirs may be properly arranged.

ja30-2t [r] THOS. G. PEACHEY, Sec'y.

☞ The members of the Friendship Society of Baltimore, are notified that a meeting will be held in the Session Room of the Church THIS EVENING, at 7 o'clock. As important business, in which every member is interested, will be laid before the Society, it is hoped that every member will be punctual in his attendance. By order of the President. j 30-1t*

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The FEMALE TEMPERANCE SOCIETY, No. 1, will hold a public meeting in Wilk st. church on FRIDAY EVENING next, at half past 6 o'clock. The Rev Dr. S. K. JENNINGS will address the meeting.

W. H. WATSON, President
ja30-3t [ARR] of the F. T. S.

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,
80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

TO-DAY, in Baltimore, Maryland State Lottery, class No. 3.

GRAND SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$20,000	20 Prizes of		$1500
1 "	4500	20 "		200
1 "	2250	20 "		200
1 "	2000	155 "		100,&c.

Whole Tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2.50.

Certificate of Package of Wholes, only $74 60
do do Halves, 37 00
do do Quarters, 18 50

Drawn numbers of Alexandria Lottery, extra class No. 3, drawn 18th inst.—lowest prize 5:

33 56 74 18 65 52 66 42 32 37 68 61 67 8

Drawn Nos. of Alexandria Lottery, drawn Saturday, 16th instant. Value of prizes will be found over each number:

$12 $10 $10 $10 $8 $8 $8 $8 $8 $8 $6 $6 $6 $6 $6 $6
20 8 45 7 68 65 31 50 52 13 72 67 15 62 12

☞ All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address. E. W. ROBINSON,

No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.
Agent for the State of Maryland. ja29 1t

THE DOLLAR MAGAZINE.

A NEW MONTHLY PERIODICAL, BY THE CONDUCTORS OF THE BROTHER JONATHAN—THE CHEAPEST MAGAZINE IN CHRISTENDOM. The first number of a new Magazine under the above title will be issued from the office of the Brother Jonathan, 102 Nassau street, New York. It will, besides choice Tales, Sketches, and Poetry, from the most eminent American and British pens, contain five Beautiful WOOD ENGRAVINGS, a new and popular piece of Music, 'A Catch,' &c. &c.

TERMS. The Dollar Magazine will be issued on the 15th of EVERY MONTH, embracing thirty-two large quarto pages, and sent to subscribers by mail, at One Dollar a year, in advance. Single copies, 10 cts.

For sale at 134 NORTH-ST, near the Post Office.
ja30 2t* WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

DRY GOODS.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN are invited to call at No. 60 HANOVER STREET, where they will find bargains in a general assortment of Dry Goods, which it is the proprietor's purpose to close out regard to cost, with a view of supplying their place with an entire fresh stock, among which will be found every variety of Blankets and Flannels, Cassinets, Cassimeres and Cloths, Damask Table Cloths and Napkins, various sizes, Table Diaper, Sheetings, Irish Linens, fine Bombazines, Merinos, figured Cloth and Damask Cotton Table Covers, green and fancy figured Baize, Marseilles Counterpanes, Chintzes, Calicoes, Moustin de Laine, &c. Furniture Calicoes, Cambric, Swiss, Curtain and other Muslins, large assortment of gentlemen's and ladies' Hosiery of every quality, with a quantity of other goods too numerous to particularize in an advertisement.

GEORGE BEVAN,
ja29 [r] No. 60 Hanover street.

TEN DOLLARS REWARD.

THE subscriber's Carpenter's Shop was entered between Saturday night and Monday morning, and a number of TOOLS taken therefrom—among them was a Brace and Bit, with the letters W. K. marked on the stock. Pawnbrokers and others are requested to stop them should they be offered for sale. The above reward will be paid for the recovery of the Tools and apprehension and conviction of the thief.

WILLIAM KRAGER, Mulberry-st.
ja30-2t* 3 doors west of Pine street.

NORTHERN TROTTING HORSES, FOR SALE.

Will be sold low, if immediate application be made, a three minute TROTTING HORSE, seven years old, warranted sound in every respect.

Also, a Saddle and Harness HORSE, of fine style and notion, six years old, warranted sound. They can be seen at the Western Hotel Livery Stable, corner of Saratoga and Howard streets.

ja29-eo1t*

COMPOUND SYRUP of Wild CHERRY.

DR. R. SWAYNE has appointed RICHARD NORRIS, of William, Druggist, No. 254 Market street, Sole Agent for the sale of his COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY in Baltimore.

☞ A full supply always on hand—wholesale and retail. ja30-1m

FOR RENT. A HOUSE, situated in Calvert street, containing ten Rooms, a handsome yard in front and back of the House—at a very low rent. Apply at No. 71 Market street, opposite Holliday-st ja29-3t C. SISCO.

WANTED. Two Female FRINGE WEAVERS. Inquire at the Fringe and Tassel Manufactory of C. SISCO, ja29-3t No. 71 Market street.

FOR RENT, a large dry front CELLAR, situated corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. Apply on the premises, to GEORGE GELBACH,
ja29 [A]

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Mankind.

To Dr. Swayne.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel different—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently depends on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
jy28-y

VALUABLE MILL PROPERTY AT TRUSTEE'S SALE.

IN pursuance of a decree of the High Court of Chancery of Maryland, the subscriber will offer at public sale, on TUESDAY, the 16th day of February next, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Court House door in Elkton, all that very valuable Property lying on Little Elk River, in Cecil county, Md. known as "The Rockville Paper Mills," with the tract of land on which the same are situated, containing about 83 acres and twelve perches of land. This property is situated but six miles from navigable water, and is in the midst of a well populated and abundant country. The improvements consist of a large STONE PAPER MILL, 80 by 40 feet, three stories high, and having all the requisite machinery for making the various kinds of paper; a Grist Mill, running two pair of burs; a Saw Mill, a Bark Mill, and a large stone Barn, with Stabling, Shedding, &c. Besides these, there is also a Manager's House, and five Cottages, sufficiently spacious for the accommodation of the hands employed in the several establishments. The water power is valuable—and is, in general, adequate to all the purposes of the Mills. The land is considered first rate farming land, being easily susceptible of profitable and permanent improvement, and is peculiarly adapted to the use of lime, plaster, &c. It is well enclosed and is divided into convenient fields, and is well watered with abundant springs of best water; about one half of it is in wood, and the rest in arable and meadow land. The title is indisputable, and a plat of the land may be seen upon application to the Trustee. The terms of sale, as prescribed by the decree, are that one-fourth of the purchase money shall be paid in cash on the ratification of the sale by the Chancery Court; one-fourth in six months; one-fourth in twelve months, and one-fourth in eighteen months, with interest from the day of sale, the credit payments to be secured by endorsed notes approved by the trustee, and upon the payment of the whole purchase money, a title will be made.

ja20-eots GEO. W. DOBBIN, Trustee.

FOR SALE, RIGHTS OR RECIPES to manufacture and sell an article which is in daily use of every family, and which, with a capital of one to two hundred dollars, will yield 3 to 6 dollars per day. Any person wishing to engage in a profitable business of the kind can, by calling at the Eagle Hotel, Pratt street, see samples of the article, and receive further information; or apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets.

ja20 [A]

FOR SALE. THE STOCK AND FIXTURES of a small Grocery Store, in Old Town, and part of the attached dwelling for rent. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets.

ja20 [A]

ELIJAH McDOWELL'S

CITY INTELLIGENCE AND GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE, No. 2 PATTETTE STREET, Basement story of Barnum's City Hotel, (formerly occupied by Lewis F. Scott,) where is wanted daily, Clerks; Overseers; Porters; Gardeners; Teachers; Barkeepers; Apprentices; Waiters; Coachmen; Agents; Mechanics; Laborers; Farm Hands; Cutlers; Housekeepers; Chambermaids; Nurses; Seamstresses; Cooks, &c. &c.—who must come well recommended to insure situations. Slaves for life or term of years bought and sold; Stores, Taverns, Bar-rooms, and Business Establishments, disposed of at private sale; Tenants procured for Houses, Warehouses, Stores, Farms, &c. Persons at a distance, wishing to be informed of the state of the market, of any article bought or sold, can be accommodated without charge; but all communications on business must come, post-paid, to insure attention. Insolvent Papers prepared at a low rate; all kinds of writing correctly executed; Books posted at moderate charges and kept out of view of spectators. The subscriber, intending to devote his whole attention to the above business, begs the patronage of a generous public. Satisfactory references by

ja19-3m ELIJAH McDOWELL.

BURDEN'S PATENT SPIKES, &c.

THE Subscriber's have been appointed Agents for the sale of HENRY BURDEN'S Patent Ship, Boat, and Rail Road SPIKES and HORSE SHOES. They are prepared to serve purchasers of these articles on the same terms as the former agent. A full assortment on hand.

ALSO ON HAND,

HOLLOW WARE CASTINGS, (light and beautifully assorted,) at the lowest market price—together with Large Patent CABOOSES, Cast Iron KETTLES, assorted sizes, &c. &c.

BOYER & DIFFENDERFFER,

ja18-eo3t* Corner of Pratt-st. & McElderry's whf.

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE.

That on the 18th Dec. last, a Red COW and CALF came on my farm, and have there since remained, and having advertised them in the newspapers and the owner not having made his appearance to claim them, that if not claimed on or before the 1st of Feoruary next, I will cause them to be sold in order to defray the expenses of their keeping, &c.

ALONZO KEERSHAW,

ja15-eo3t* 8 miles on the Frederick Turnpike.

STRAYED OR STOLEN,

From the subscriber's Farm, four and a half miles from Baltimore, on the York Road, on Sunday night last, a Black HORSE, about 16 hands high, the off fore and hind feet white, and a white star in the forehead, about six years old, had a long seam on the off hind quarter, caused by a stake. Twenty dollars reward will be paid for his return, if strayed, or fully, if stolen, with the detection of the thief.

ja15 eo3t* ANDREW H. ARMOUR.

PIANO FORTES AND VIOLINS.

The subscriber offers for sale, on reasonable terms, three German PIANO FORTES, just imported from the celebrated Factory of RIESE & FEURICH, Cassel. They are of superior tone and fine touch.

ALSO—A number of choice VIOLINS, selected with great care, being superior to any that can be had in this country. JOHN METZ, No. 89 Gay-st. (O. T.)

ja18 tf Opposite the Independent Engine House.

WILLIAM H. KIMBALL & CO.

No. 145 BALTIMORE STREET,

MERCHANT TAILORS, and DEALERS in Broad Cloths; Cassimeres; Vestings; Beaver and Pilot Cloths; Cassinets; Flannels; 100 doz. black, white, and colored Hosiery; Handkerchiefs; Shirts; Drawers; Worsteds; Neck Stocks; Scarfs; Collars; Bosoms; Suspenders, &c. &c.

Also, a large and extensive assortment of ready-made Clothing, consisting of Dress and Frock Coats; Pantaloons; Vests, and Over Coats—which will be sold at the lowest possible prices for cash. ja8

CLOCKS! CLOCKS!!

THE subscribers have opened a Store at No. 34 S. CHARLES STREET, for the sale of their celebrated CLOCKS. They have now on hand, and are constantly receiving, large supplies from their manufactory in the city of New York, Brass and Wood Eight-day, One-day, and Alarm CLOCKS, of every variety of style, and of superior workmanship and finish, which they warrant and offer at wholesale to dealers, at their lowest factory prices.

ja1-1y SMITH & BROTHERS.

COPPER PLATE AND MUSIC PAPER, on hand and for sale by

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,

d17 No. 2 S. Charles street.

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000 may be had on		MONDAY, for	$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	4 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
6,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 00
20,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. ja7-3m

F. B. SCHÆFFER,

(SUCCESSOR TO BARKER & CO.)
156 BALTIMORE STREET.

$30,000. What friend of our's has got the $30,000 drawn on Saturday last in the Alexandria Lottery, class No. 1, comb. 8, 29, 45. The holder will please hand it in for payment. Nos. 20, 31, 63, a prize of $150 returned for want of a purchaser—as we have said before, it is only necessary to buy a ticket at Schæffer's office to insure a prize. Drawn Nos. Alexandria Lottery, No. 1. 20 8 45 7 68 65 31 50 52 13 72 67 15 62 12

Brilliant Lotteries for the Week:

TO-DAY, Alexandria Lottery, class B, Capital prize $12,000; 50 of $500, &c. Tickets $4.

WEDNESDAY, 20th, Maryland State Lottery, class 3. Capitals $20,000, 4,500, &c. Tickets $5.

On THURSDAY, Alexandria Lottery, Class C—capital prize $10,000. Tickets $4.

On FRIDAY, Virginia State Lottery, Extra, class No 4, to be drawn at Alexandria, Va. Capitals of $10,000, 4000, &c. 78 Nos. 14 Ballots. Tickets $2.

On SATURDAY, in Baltimore, Consolidated Lottery of Maryland, class No. 2, 65 Nos. and 8 Ballots. Extra capitals, 4 of $10,000, 2000, 4437, 3 of 2500, &c. Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞ For Lucky Tickets, apply to

P. B. SCHÆFFER,
Successor to BARKER & Co.
156 Baltimore street, corner of St. Paul's-st.

Where more prizes have been sold and paid than at any other office within the United States.

☞ Orders for Tickets, in any Lotteries under the management of D. S. GREGORY & Co., thankfully received and promptly attended to—and the result of the drawing sent immediately after it is received. To insure a prize, you must address

ja19 F. B. SCHÆFFER, Baltimore, Md.

DOYLE'S PRATT-ST. PRIZE DEPOT.

MORE PRIZES! Two of the Capitals were sold at this ever Lucky Office, in the Alexandria Lottery, class 1 for 1841, drawn on the 16th—combination 8, 12, 45, and comb. 20, 67, 68. And no later than last Tuesday the handsome capital prize of $2131. The following are the drawn numbers:

20 8 45 7 68 65 31 50 52 13 72 67 15 62 12

Persons wanting prizes will please bear in mind that this is the Lucky place.

On THIS DAY, 20th, the Maryland State Lottery will be drawn in Baltimore. Capital prize $20,000. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On THURSDAY, Alexandria Lottery, $10,000. For only $4.

On FRIDAY, Virginia Lottery, $10,000—For $3.

On SATURDAY, Maryland State, four prizes of $10,000—and no blanks.

Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞ For Prizes in the above Lotteries, and all Lotteries authorized in the State of Maryland, apply to, or address, M. DOYLE, No. 24 Pratt st.,

Opposite the B. & O. Railroad Depot, Baltimore.

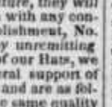
☞ Orders by mail for packages of Tickets; single Tickets, or Shares of Tickets, enclosing cash or prize Tickets, from any part of the United States, will meet with prompt and personal attention, if addressed as above. ja20

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.

READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.

The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $3.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $5. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate

HATS!
HATS!!
HATS!!!
HATS!!!!
HATS!!!!!



Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at

W. H. KEEVIL & CO'S,
No. 66½ Baltimore-st., opposite Tripolett's alley,
And 4 doors W. of Bool's well known Auction Store.
d18-tmh10

FOR RENT. That large three story DWELLING and STORE, No. 41 N. GAY-ST., adjoining the German Lutheran Church. For a Boarding house, perhaps there could not be a house better calculated, as to location and convenience, it being but a short distance from the market, and near Baltimore street—it is open and airy, with extensive back buildings, and has dry cellars under the whole—added to which, the water is brought into the kitchen, and directly above is the Bath house, &c. To a good tenant the rent will be made low. Apply to the subscriber, who has, and always keeps, a full assortment of the most Fashionable CABINET FURNITURE, at the lowest prices, for cash, or good acceptances.

EDWIN S. TARR,
ja18-tf No. 4 Gay, near Baltimore street.

MOTHERS, who have children suffering with cough or cold, should procure HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY. It is very pleasant, and Children do not object to it.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

FOUND, in Baltimore street, last evening, a black Velvet RETICULE, containing sundry articles, amongst which is a Purse with some money in it—also a Cambric Cap of very small dimensions. The lady who lost it, can obtain the same by applying at this office and paying for this advertisement. ja16 3t

CURRANTS AND CRANBERRIES.

500 POUNDS FRESH CURRANTS
7 bbls Superior CRANBERRIES
For sale by MARCUS DENNISON,
d24 31 Baltimore street.

BOY TO HIRE. For hire, a Colored BOY, about 13 years of age—he understands waiting, and will be hired by the year on low terms.

Apply at the City Intelligence Office. [A] ja7

☞ Dr. T. L. MURPHY has resumed the Practice of Medicine. Office No. 69 BOND STREET, a few doors S. of Allisanna street. d12-tf

SERVANTS. Persons in want of Servants of any kind, will be promptly supplied by applying at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. [A] d30

DRY GOODS, &c.

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,

Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.

With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.

oct1 EDW. J. RICHARDSON

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are LOWER than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 70 Market-st. corner of Holliday.

N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

AUCTION CLOTHS & CASSIMERES.

THE Subscribers have on hand, a very heavy Stock of superfine Wool and piece dyed black, blue, invisible green, grass, citron, olive, brown, drab grey mixed CLOTHS, with superfine wool and piece dyed black, blue, drab, grey mixt and fancy CASSIMERES—and Diamond and Beaver CLOTHS.

N. B. Also on hand, a general assortment of DRY GOODS, such as Blankets; Flannels; Cassinetts; Kentucky Jeans; Kerseys; plaid Domestics; plaid Linseys; York Mill Shirting; bleached and brown Muslins; Calicoes; col'd Cambrics; Irish Linens; brown Hollands, &c. With a variety of articles too numerous to insert, all which, owing to the advancement of the season, they will sell, wholesale or retail, at very reduced prices. Persons wishing to obtain bargains, may rely on finding them at

DORSEY & NELSON'S, No. 13 Baltimore-st.
ja18-eo1w 3d door W. of Market Space.

FANCY AND WORSTED STORE.

THE subscriber has on hand, and offers for sale a large and general assortment of Fine Worsted Patterns, Zephyr Worsted, Thick & Working Chenille, Saddler's Floss, Sewing and Twist Silk for Purses, Silk, Cotton and Worsted Canvas, Perforated, Board and Hair Cloth for Worsted Work, Ladies' Knitted Worsted Caps, Baby's Bonnetts, Boy's Gaiters and Scarfs, Silk and Worsted Fringe, Black Silk Lace, Silk Velvet for Head Bands, Belts and Cuffs, Ladies' and Children's Worsted Mittens, Knit Muffs, Knitting Yarn, Linen and Cotton Tape and Cord, &c.

ALSO—A general assortment of Work and Fancy Baskets and Boxes; Ivory, Shell, and Horn Combs; Jewelry; Needles and Pins; Toys, &c. &c.

G. B. MITTNACHT,
No. 58 Lexington-st., 5th door above Howard-st.
o22-co1m [A8]

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mouseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½ super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 12½
7-8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1¼ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25 childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½ best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
BED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.

E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6¼
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6¼
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 8¼
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 8¼
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 8¼ each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleves
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mouselaine de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 8¼
Excellent LINSEY, eleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 8¼s
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 8¼s
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Brochs do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 8¼
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 8¼
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 8¼

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES; French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞ All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.
e3-tf

AMUSEMENTS.

NATIONAL THEATRE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

LAST NIGHT OF MR. RICE.

THIS (WEDNESDAY) EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841, Will be presented, the Play of

ZARAH; OR, THE GIPSEY GIRL.
Zarah, Miss V. MONIER.

After which, the Farce of

JIM CROW IN LONDON.
Jim Crow, Mr. RICE.

To conclude with

JUMBO JUM.
Jumbo Jum, Mr. RICE.
With the song of—"Sich a gittin' up stairs."

☞ Doors open at quarter before 7. Performances to commence at half past 7.

CITIZENS' BALL,
FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

THIS BALL will take place on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841. The price of Tickets is fixed at TWO DOLLARS.

☞ At a meeting of the BOARD OF MANAGERS, held on Monday evening, the following Resolution was passed—

Resolved, That a Committee of two be appointed from each ward, for the purpose of calling upon such persons in their respective wards, as are disposed to aid in the object the Managers have in view.

It is generally known that great numbers of persons who do not attend Balls, would willingly give in aid of the object if an opportunity was offered them. Hence the appointing of the following committee, it is expected that gentlemen will proceed immediately in their collections.

1st Ward, H. R. Landerman, James Grieves.
2d do Wm. Wickersham, John E. Stansbury.
3d do Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott.
4th do Abel Blakeney, James Murray.
5th do Capt. John Patrick, Herman Perry.
6th do Thos. C. Dunlevy, John Kennedy.
7th do Simeon Hays, James Ackland.
8th do Samuel Lucas, Samuel Stump, Jr.
9th do Wm. R. Frazer, James McPhail.
10th do Dr. Wm. Power, James Lawson.
11th do Horace Miller, D. A. Piper.
12th do George Deal, Joseph Creagher, Jr.

☞ The Managers who have not yet obtained their tickets, are requested to call at once upon the treasurer, JOSHUA VANSANT, at the Post Office, and receive the same. By order,

SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
ANDREW J. BARNES, Secretary. ja13-tb

CENTRAL HALL
DANCING & WALTZING ACADEMY.

CHARLES L. SPIES, thankful for past favors, has the honor to inform his friends and the public that his SECOND QUARTER will commence on TUESDAY, 19th inst. at the above Hall, corner of Baltimore and Charles streets.

☞ Days of Tuition, for Young Ladies, Misses and Masters, on Tuesday and Saturday Afternoons, from 2 till 5 o'clock—and on Tuesday and Friday Evenings, from half past 6 till 10 o'clock, for Gentlemen.

Practising Balls on Thursday evenings, and Cotillion Parties on Saturday Evenings.

☞ Terms—$10 per quarter. [B] ja5-eo2w

READ THIS TO-DAY, IF NOT, TO-MORROW.

CHEAPEST AND BEST BOOK (for the price) ever published—Four Hundred Pages, 8vo. fine paper, handsomely bound in gilt muslin, and lettered. Price TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent clergymen and reviewers. Numerous testimonials like the following can be produced: From the rev. Spencer H. Cone, President of the American and Foreign Bible Society:—Accept my sincere thanks for a copy of your SPLENDID "PICTORIAL ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE BIBLE." I have looked it over with much pleasure. The work is handsomely executed, and not only contains many interesting facts, and correct representations of men and manners in the East, but is also offered at a price unusually low. My hope is that it may obtain extensive patronage.

For sale by WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. Moore's Bookstore, No. 74 Market street, one door below Holliday, and No. 28 N. Gay-st.

☞ The trade will be supplied and a liberal discount allowed. [ja19] W. N. H.

IMPORTANT TO THOSE AFFLICTED WITH COUGHS & COLDS.

RICH'D THOMPSON'S LIFE PRESERVER, a new and valuable remedy for the relief and removal of the most distressing Colds and Coughs.

The subscriber has been induced to offer this Medicine to the Public from his personal knowledge of its effects, and the testimony of those who have been the subjects of its operation. In no instance within his knowledge (and they have been many) has it failed to give immediate relief to the patient, and ultimately to remove the most distressing cough, brought on by taking cold. In cases of Consumption, nothing is promised beyond relief. This Medicine is equally applicable to Children. Agent for Baltimore,

ROBERT H. COLEMAN & CO.
No. 133 Market street.

Where numerous certificates of its efficacy, from persons of respectable standing, will be shown if necessary. ja13-6w*

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞ Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

se17-tf E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

REMOVAL.

G. H. MITTNACHT, IMPORTER OF GERMAN, FRENCH, and ENGLISH FANCY GOODS, has removed from the Store he lately occupied in Baltimore street, to the Store No. 9 South LIBERTY STREET, where he will always keep a large and general assortment of FANCY GOODS, including Baskets, Toys, Clocks, Musical Instruments, Cutlery, Jewelry, Pins, Needles, Tapes, Cords, Cotton, Thread, Silk, Blacking, Ink, Slates, Marbles, Whips, &c. &c., which he is prepared to sell at the lowest wholesale prices. G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 9 S. Liberty street.

N. B. Franklin Bank Notes will be taken at par for all Goods purchased for cash. [A] ja5-2w

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
PAPER DEALERS,
No. 2 SOUTH CHARLES STREET,

HAVE FOR SALE—500 reams Fine Medium Printing PAPER
300 reams Superfine Medium Printing PAPER
150 do Medium and a half do do
1000 do News Paper, various sizes do
300 do Colored Medium do
100 do do Cover do
2500 do Ruled and Plain Letter do
2000 do Ruled and plain Cap do
500 do Flat Cap do
200 do Fine Writing do
100 do Medium Writing do
50 do Royal and Superroyal do

Binder's Boards; Bandbox do; Trunk do; Straw do; Press Paper; Hardware; Grocers and Cloth Paper; Russia Skins. ja18

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, elecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and boneset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North-st. d12-y

BY H. W. BOOL,
No. 60 BALTIMORE STREET.
A DAY SALE.

TO Gentlemen of the Bar, Students, Booksellers, Dealers, &c. The Private Library of a Gentleman of the Bar. The Miscellaneous and Classical LIBRARY of the same gentleman—among which are some first rate Books on Divinity. Also, the entire Fancy Stock of a Bookseller. The particulars will be found in the American and Patriot newspapers.

The above, with many other articles, will be found at my Public Sale on THURSDAY MORNING, 21st instant, commencing at 10 o'clock precisely. Sale for cash, no reserve, and for bankable paper.

After which, a very large collection of JEWELRY, Watches; Fancy Articles; Dry Goods; Clothing; Boots; Shoes; Furniture; and Household Effects generally.

ja20-2t H. W. BOOL, Auctioneer.

TO Cabinetmaker's, Carpenters, Turners, Dealers, &c. 3000 feet of VENEERS of the best quality, in lots to suit. A new and patent Tenoning Machine of great power. FURNITURE of every kind; Mechanics' Tools; Household Effects; Dry Goods; Hardware, &c. will be sold at my Auction Store at half past 10 o'clock on FRIDAY MORNING, 22d inst. It is hoped every person who may feel an interest will attend ja20 H. W. BOOL, Auct'r.

BY WEVER, CANNON & CO.
No. 28 S. CHARLES STREET.
Sale of China, Glass and Liverpool Ware.

ON THURSDAY MORNING, 21st inst. at 10 o'clock, we will sell, without reserve, for cash, the residue of the rich China, Glass and Liverpool Ware, contained in warehouse No. 3 North Charles st. known as "China Hall," consisting in part of gold band and gold flowered Tea Sets, Dinner Sets do., Dessert Sets do., Liverpool Dining Sets, Toilet do., Bowls, Plates, Dishes, &c. &c.; heavy cut Tumblers, Wines, Hock Glasses, Decanters, Cetteries, &c. together with a rich collection of fancy articles.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of the public, and especially private families, to this sale, which will be positive. The articles will be arranged for examination the day previous to sale.

ja19 WEVER, CANNON & Co. Auct'rs.

TRUSTEES SALE OF SILKS, SATINS AND WINES, &c. By order of the Trustees we will sell on FRIDAY MORNING, 22d inst at 10 o'clock, on the second floor of our warehouse, No. 28 S. Charles street, a rich and handsome lot of whole and cut pieces of plain and figured SILKS and SATINS, among which we will name, Gro de Naples, Poult de soi, Imperial Italian Lustrings, Beltings, plain and col'd Satins, &c.

Also, immediately after the close of the above, we shall sell an invoice of very superior German & French WINES, in bottles, belonging to the same concern, consisting of Assmanshauser, Muscat, Erbacher, Rudesheimer, Graves, Rhenish, Sweet and 4 casks Moselle. Terms cash in bankable money.

ja19 WEVER, CANNON & CO. Auct.

THE VERY BEST
FAMILY NEWSPAPER
IN THE UNITED STATES.

THE OCEAN
AND BALTIMORE WEEKLY CLIPPER
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING,
By BULL & TUTTLE,
EDITED BY
SAMUEL BARNES, JOHN H. HEWITT, and JOHN WILLS,
AT ONLY $1.50 PER ANNUM,

IS one of the CHEAPEST and BEST FAMILY NEWSPAPERS now published. Being made up from the columns of the DAILY CLIPPER, containing all the current NEWS of the week, TALES, POETRY, &c. &c. embracing a greater variety of interesting matter than can be found in any other newspaper publication extant. The paper is carefully mailed EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, and sent to subscribers in every part of the Union. Subscriptions $1.50 per annum, always payable in advance.

☞ All letters must be addressed (post paid) to
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 N. Gay street, Baltimore, Md.

N. B. Single copies of the Ocean and Weekly Clipper can always be had at the Office, with or without wrappers—price 6¼ cents. ja15 d

VALLIER'S FRENCH PILL, FOR THE CURE OF SECRET DISEASES. One box of these inestimable Pills is worth all the Quack Medicines in the world.

COMMENT. If we examine the nature of the above diseases, and the situation of the parts affected, we must consider it a very important object to be able to obtain a remedy at once certain in its action, and at the same time composed of such ingredients as will prevent the possibility of discovery while using it. It is a fact well known to many, that most of the remedies offered for these diseases are composed of such nauseous drugs, as to render it almost impossible to continue their use without creating a sickness at the stomach or other unpleasant consequences. Such being the case there can be no doubt but such a remedy as Vallier's French Pills, will meet the universal approbation, being entirely free from those objections; pleasant in their operation, and prompt in removing the disease. The proprietor would here remark, that the efficacy of these Pills in the disorders alluded to, are not based upon supposition; on the contrary, it is founded upon rational experience, having used them in a successful practice for upwards of two years, he feels confident of their superiority over the remedies hitherto employed.

☞ Price one dollar per box. For sale in Baltimore by SETH S. HANCE, ja11-y Corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. MRS. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 56 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,
(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland,)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Doric Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufac

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

ON THE DEATH OF AN INFANT.
(BY M. BARKER.)

He came, he look'd, and his face grew sad;
He spoke, and he said, that "ALL WAS BAD."
He took to his couch—there the sick child lay;
He look'd up on high, and he seem'd to pray;
He never had done sin—to be forgiven—
He slept—he woke—and his soul was in heaven.

IMPROMPTU—(BY SEERAR.)

Say Sam to Mat—"The Devil's dead."
Says Mat—"I give you joy;
If he had lived, and you had died,
He'd pick'd your bones, my boy."

The London Cronicle says, in reference to a new edition of all the poetical works of Moore, that "some curious information is given in the preface to one of his volumes respecting that noble melody the 'Canadian Boat Song.' We had heard that Mr. Moore was the real author of the melody in its present shape; and it now appears from the notes of the original song, which have been preserved as he took them down, that in his hands it assumed quite a new character. The following is his account of the matter:"

A few years since, while staying in Dublin, I was presented, at his own request, to a gentleman, who told me that his family had in their possession a curious relic of my youthful days—being the first notation I had made, in pencilling of the air and words of the Canadian Boat Song, while on my way down the St. Lawrence—and that it was their wish I should add my signature to attest the authenticity of the autograph. I assured him, with truth, that I had wholly forgotten even the existence of such a memorandum; that it would be as much a curiosity to myself as it would be to any one else, and that I should feel thankful to be allowed to see it. In a day or two after, my request was complied with, and the following is the history of this musical 'relic.'—In my passage down the St. Lawrence, I had with me two travelling companions, one of whom, named Barkness, the son of a wealthy Dublin merchant, has been some years dead. To this young friend, on parting with him at Quebec, I gave, as a keepsake, a volume I had been reading on the way—Priestly's Lectures on History—and it was upon a fly leaf of this volume I found I had taken down, in pencilling, both the notes and a few of the words of the original song, by which my own boat-glee had been suggested.

WITCHCRAFT REVIVED. For several days past, some excitement has prevailed in the neighborhood of Charlotte street, Northern Liberties, relative to certain enchantments supposed to be practised on the persons of several children.—The symptoms of supernatural influence are discovered in an astonishing degree of crossness in the little innocents, an incessant screaming and kicking, which is said to be caused by certain cruel pinches bestowed on the delicate hides of the young sufferers. One child is reported to be pinched all over as blue as an indigo bag and to be in perpetual danger of falling into convulsions. A physician, (not of the regular school we presume,) pronounces the cases to be evident witchcraft, and has commenced the process of exorcism. Hitherto his labors have been unsuccessful, because, he says the parents have not sufficient faith in the undertaking. The mother of the children believes devoutly, but the father as yet proves himself as obstinate infidel as far as witchcraft is concerned. It is the opinion of some of the neighbors that nothing can be done for the poor little creatures until their papa will candidly acknowledge himself a jackass for denying the reality of the necromancy. In the meanwhile, many speculations are afloat concerning the personal identity of the witch;—a very ancient lady living in the neighborhood is chiefly suspected. One account says that a man perceived a beautiful white rabbit playing in the yard and chased it into an out house, when it was suddenly transmogrified into the old lady just referred to. This story shows her to be a witch in the estimation of certain folks, and of course she becomes responsible for all the unaccountable mischief which is done in the neighborhood. Think of all this to happen in Philadelphia in 1841!
Ledger.

There is a negro in this city so black that he is obliged to carry two lamps in the day time to find his way home.

Hoyt says he won't compare with another whose hair curled so tight that it took his scalp off.

However, we have a match here for both.—There is living in Baltimore, near the Clipper office, a negro whose legs are so crooked that he can't find his knee joints, and his heels are so long that he is obliged to go down stairs backwards, and can't turn a corner of the street without knocking down a lamp-post! [N. E. Review.

A fact—we saw him the other day, and so far did his heels project, that on looking at his feet we could not tell whether he was walking backwards or forwards.

We have heard of rather a funny thing, said to have taken place in the United States House of Representatives, one evening when the members were disposed to have a little fun.

A member seemed to be inclined to have a few words after a movement for the previous question.

Another member asked of the speaker if the previous question did not cut off every thing.

"It does," said the speaker.

"Then," said the member, "I move the previous question upon father Petriken's wig."

A DEAR WIFE.—Lord W——r was looking very sour and blue at a long bill from Madame Caradan Carson's enlarged, not contracted by her ladyship. "W——, my love," said her ladyship in a tone of bewitching softness, "are you angry with me, that you look so very cross?" "Far from it, my dear," replied his lordship,—"I feel at this moment you are dearer to me than ever."

ADVICE.—Young men if you go on a sleigh ride, be sure that you have belles in your sleigh as well as bells on the horses. Samivel Veller says that "such belles are werry musical."

WOLF SCALPS. Ohio paid the past year $1,100 for catching and skinning the noses of these "varments."

SUSPENSION. Most of the paper mills in the vicinity of Boston have been obliged to suspend operations on account of the great rise of the water.—Phil. Chron.

Nothing very uncommon in that. Our "paper mills" have been suspended for a long, long while.

"Do you like novels?" said a Miss Languish to her up country lover. "I can't say," answered he, "for I never ate any, but I'll tell you what, I'm death on a young possum."

A GOOD WELLERISM. This is good—we cut it from the Planet. "I'm lost in grief," as the fly said, when he was drowned in a tear.

A dandy in Boston lately called for a "cup of coffee as weak as a lady fallen into a swoon."

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

MR. DAVISON'S WRITING ACADEMY, for instructions with the Muscular Guide, No. 41 Baltimore street. The plan recommended by the Maryland Institute of Teachers. se8-y

M. H. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 64 S. CALVERT STREET, keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c. d22-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 27 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. d22-y

MARX & HART, ENGRAVERS ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d19-6m

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 43 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n18 3m*

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. n12-y WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 5 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se29-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se22-d

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 112 BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. m29-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. jy23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je16-6m*

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 39 Fayette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. m11-y1e*

MINIATURES, Painted in the best style, by Mrs. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. mh13-y

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 2 N. GAY-ST respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. s4-y

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That at their regular annual session, the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore will be petitioned for an extension and location of Lee st. from Eutaw west to Scott-st., and of Scott-st. from Cross st. south to the Patapsco, and of Ostend st. from S. Sharp west to the pot warden's line, and within the limits of these streets thus extended and as now located or opened, and within other limits, all of which are described as follows: the Patapsco on the south, thence along Ostend-street to Hanover-st, along Hanover to Little Montgomery-st., along Little Montgomery to Eutaw street, along Eutaw to Lee street, along Lee to Scott street, along Scott to the Patapsco; the petitioners will pray that every street, lane, alley or road, except south Sharp-street, whether each be merely located, or be condemned and opened as a highway, may be forever closed and shut up—also, that Little Montgomery-st. from Sharp to Eutaw be shut up; also that south of Ostend-st. and west of Race that Leadenhall and S. Sharp st. and the two alleys running parallel therewith be shut up. And the petitioners will pray further, that the streets named in the following description be extended, and be located as the other unopened streets of the city generally are, to wit: S. Sharp-st. from Little Montgomery south to Ostend, Howard from Hill S. to Moale-st., Eutaw from Little Montgomery south to Moale, Paca from Little Paca south to the wharf, Greene from Columbia south to the wharf, Sterret from Columbia south to the river, and that between Green and Sterret, two other streets be located, one at one third and the other at two thirds of the distance from Greene to Sterret-st. and that each begin at Lee st. and be run south to the river; also that an alley 20 feet wide be located between Hanover and Sharp street, and between every two of the streets, to be run north and south; also that Hill-st. be extended and located from Howard west to Scott-street, Great Montgomery & Henrietta from Hanover west to Scott, Hamburg and West from S. Charles west to Scott, and Cross from Light-st. west to Scott. It is intended that Howard street be extended 89 feet wide, Eutaw 80 feet, with five squares near the river, 134 feet wide, for a market place, Lee and Hill-sts. 70 feet, and every other street 66 feet wide. n17-2aw9w*

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headache; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma, Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as in Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞ A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.
Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.
Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.
Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. ROBY.
WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. ROBY having spent two years in practice with Dr. G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call. d18-6m H. N. ROBY.

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞ None genuine without the name of COMSTOCK & Co., written on the wrappers.

SOLOMON HAYS.

☞ For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. n24-eo6m

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side; the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Harlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. jy28-y

20 Bbls. Fifth Proof Monongahela WHISKEY
60 boxes Sperm, Mould and Dipt CANDLES
100 boxes Choice CHEESE
20 baskets Bordeaux OIL, received and for sale by
d2 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

WANTED, immediately, two good Cooks; three good colored Cooks. Also, a good seamstress. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. [A] d31

JOB PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE,

PRACTICAL JOB PRINTERS, beg leave to inform their friends and the public, that they are prepared for the execution of every description of PRINTING, on the most extensive scale. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. embrace every variety necessary for the most finished execution of all work that may be entrusted to them.

They will print, to order:

BUSINESS CARDS	HANDBILLS
BALL TICKETS	WAYBILLS
CIRCULARS	STEAMBOAT BILLS
CHECKS	RAIL ROAD BILLS
NOTES	STAGE BILLS
BILL HEADS	SHOW BILLS
CATALOGUES	PAMPHLETS
BILLS OF LADING	LABELS
LOTTERY BILLS	HATTERS' TIPS,

Together with FANCY JOBS, in Colors, for framing.

LARGE POSTING BILLS,

For Theatres, Circuses, &c. &c., printed to order, at the shortest notice, in the most showy style.

B. & T. have also in operation, in their Office, the "Belper Double-action Printing Machine," recently imported from England expressly for their use, by the aid of which they will be enabled to execute PRINTING at much lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch, than heretofore.

☞ In returning thanks to their friends for the favors of the past year, they assure them their usual personal attention will be paid to the prompt and correct execution of all orders in their business, at very reduced prices.

☞ Call at the CLIPPER OFFICE, No. 7 North Gay street. jy9-d

CITY INTELLIGENCE,
REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE,
N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Porters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to EMPLOY any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., H. W. Boot, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N. B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. ja7

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscriber respectfully announces that he has established his Office at No. 3 NORTH-ST, next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those Ladies and Gentlemen who may be desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION.

E. TYLOR can confidently state that his extensive practical experience, enables him to give individuals a faithful delineation of their mental capacity, peculiar talents and disposition, as well as point out what pursuit in life they are best qualified by nature to perform. A good assortment of Phrenological Books, Almanacs, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale cheap, by

E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist.
N. B. Chart and Examination, only 50 cts. ja9

B. G. HUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. a15-eo6m

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slatt-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-dtf A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE—Of both sexes.

3 The SYPHILITIC DROP, the only safe and speedy remedy now known in the United States, for the cure of that desperate monster, (the Venereal disease,) has been known to cure after the disease had actually passed from generation to generation, having defied the skill of the most eminent practitioners of our land. It can be had, wholesale and retail, at the LABORATORY of Dr. BOWLBY, BROTHERS & CO. No. 60 S. Charles street, between Pratt and Lombard-streets., on the corner of Ulster's alley, and at the General Agent's Office, No. 3 Pitt street, and of WM. LANPHIER, Drug Store, Washington City; E. A. STANSBURY, Annapolis, Md., and of J. O. NEAL, Boonsboro', Md.

Price $1 per bottle—No cure no pay. n21-tf

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 Bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by
d19 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st

BOARDING may be obtained by two or three genteel young men, or a gentleman and his lady, in a respectable private boarding house, near the Exchange—terms moderate. Apply at the Intelligence Office, N. W. corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. d30 [A]

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing Fever, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞ Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains ea aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by
jy28-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and this market, a splendid assortment of Rich SILK GOODS, consisting as follows—

1 case 4-4 Rich Grace Faconne, all colors
1 " do. Black and Blue Black Gro de Affrique
1 " do. Satin Buried and Figured Helencia
1 " do. Satin Stripe and Regt, all shades
1 " do. 4-4 Black and Blue Black Gro de Rhine
1 " Plain Gro de Swiss, all colors.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

Just opened—Extra super 9-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
" Very splendid Satin Glace Shawls, large
" 8-4 Cabouch SHAWLS
" 9-4 Broche do.
" 8-4 Thibet Wool do.

MOUSELIN DE LAINES.

One case Black Ground Mouselin de Laine, heavy
Colored Figured do. very superior quality
Half mourning Mouselin de Laine
Handsome assortment Plain and Figured do.
One case superior French MERINOS, all colors.

With a general assortment of New Style Fall Goods, to which they very respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER,
n13 43 Market-st., 4 doors above Gay.

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,

Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosankrantz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophiclydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap18-1y

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞ Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞ The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST,
o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st.

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.
And in Washington City, by
CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.

☞ With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S
Periodical Emporium,
No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HANDBILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.
SETH S. HANCE,
d 19-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by
SETH S. HANCE,
d 19-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.
TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at
CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d28-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

INDIA RUBBER SHOES—
Men's plain RUBBERS, Women's plain do
Misses do do do fig'd do
A few cases of each. Just received per barque Ida, and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 South Charles street.

FOR RENT. A neat two story Brick HOUSE in Canal street, 4th door south of Monument st., in first rate order, handsomely papered, the ceiling with a glazed paper—the rent will be $8 per month. Also, a HOUSE in Wilk-st., old town. Inquire of M. A. DYSART, 31 E. Baltimore st.
ja8-4tws Third door from Exeter street.

13 Cases Kip and Thick BROGANS, some extra sizes, just received per barque Ida, and for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 S. Charles-st.

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE,
2d January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one of Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled 'The Playmates;' a plate of fashions, with three female figures beautifully colored; two pages of Music, and Angling illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER.
The Young Rambler, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Soldier's the Lad for Me, by A. McMakin.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Durang
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Reefer of '76, by the author of 'Cruising in the Last War.'
Sabbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. Clark.
Thine—Only Thine. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. Feling.
Music. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by S. Nelson.

EMBELLISHMENTS:
'The 'Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞ Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city, and sent by mail to all parts of the United States and the Canadas, by the publisher.

Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
ja2 Baltimore, Md.

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty, 18 superb plates—price	$3.50
Keepsake, 18 do	3 50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals, 15 plates,	2 00
Forget-Me-Not, 11 plates	2.00
Friendship's Offering, 10 plates,	2 00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
d31 And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS. AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by
SAM'L CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.
Washington City, by
W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.
In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.
oc9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS,)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10 cases	do	do	Cap PAPER
15 do	Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter PAPER
5 do	do	do	do	Cap	do
4 do	do	do	do	Folio post	do
99 do	Hudson's	do	do	Letter	do
15 do	do	do	do	Cap	do
10 do	do	do	do	Flat Cap	do
8 do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super-royal WRITING PAPER
12 do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter				do
6 do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2 do	do	Super Flat Cap
12 do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5 do	Dickey and Legate's		do		do
10 do	Plainer & Smith's		do		do
4 do	do	Folio and Pocket Post
15 do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2 do	do	Ledger PAPERS
29 do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter

2000 reams NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2000 do Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300 do Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞ Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Hand Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 76 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received, a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞ All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT H. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
se10-6m No. 12 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $2000. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to GEORGE GELBACH, d21 [A] Real Estate and General Agency Office, corner Balt. & Frederick sts.

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rochester White Wheat FLOUR
50 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs. Zante CURRANTS.
Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by
n13 tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

SUPERIOR CHEWING TOBACCO, and Regalia, Havana, and Principe CIGARS—for sale by
mh9 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

MAGISTRATES' BLANKS. On hand and for sale by BULL & TUTTLE, Printers, No. 7 N. Gay street, (Clipper Office.)

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Man. To Dr. Swayne.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel different—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently depends on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
1y28.-y

VALUABLE MILL PROPERTY AT TRUSTEE'S SALE.

IN pursuance of a decree of the High Court of Chancery of Maryland, the subscriber will offer at public sale, on TUESDAY, the 16th day of February next, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Court House door in Elkton, all that very valuable Property lying on Little Elk River, in Cecil county, Md. known as "The Rockville Paper Mills," with the tract of land on which the same are situated, containing about 83 acres and twelve perches of land. This property is situated but six miles from navigable water, and is in the midst of a well populated and abundant country. The improvements consist of a large STONE PAPER MILL, 80 by 40 feet, three stories high, and having all the requisite machinery for making the various kinds of paper; a Grist Mill, running two pair of burs; a Saw Mill, a Bark Mill, and a large stone Barn, with Stabling, Shedding, &c. Besides these, there is also a Manager's House, and five Cottages, sufficiently spacious for the accommodation of the hands employed in the several establishments. The water power is valuable—and is, in general, adequate to all the purposes of the Mills. The land is considered first rate farming land, being easily susceptible of profitable and permanent improvement, and is peculiarly adapted to the use of lime, plaster, &c. It is well enclosed and is divided into convenient fields, and is well watered with abundant springs of best water; about one half of it is in wood, and the rest in arable and meadow land. The title is indisputable, and a plat of the land may be seen upon application to the Trustee. The terms of sale, as prescribed by the decree, are that one-fourth of the purchase money shall be paid in cash on the ratification of the sale by the Chancery Court; one-fourth in six months; one-fourth in twelve months, and one-fourth in eighteen months, with interest from the day of sale, the credit payments to be secured by endorsed notes approved by the trustee, and upon the payment of the whole purchase money, a title will be made.

ja20-eots GEO. W. DOBBIN, Trustee.

FOR SALE, RIGHTS OR RECIPES to manufacture and sell an article which is in daily use of every family, and which, with a capital of one to two hundred dollars, will yield 3 to 6 dollars per day. Any person wishing to engage in a profitable business of the kind can, by calling at the Eagle Hotel, Pratt street, see samples of the article, and receive further information; or apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets.

ja20 [a]

FOR SALE, THE STOCK AND FIXTURES of a small Grocery Store, in Old Town, and part of the attached dwelling for rent. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets.

ja20 [a]

ELIJAH McDOWELL'S
CITY INTELLIGENCE AND GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE, No. 2 Fayette street,

Basement story of Barnum's City Hotel, (formerly occupied by Lewis F. Scott,) where is wanted daily, Clerks; Overseers; Porters; Gardeners; Teachers; Barkeepers; Apprentices; Waiters; Coachmen; Agents; Mechanics; Laborers; Farm Hands; Outlers; Housekeepers; Chambermaids; Nurses; Seamstresses; Cooks, &c. &c.—who must come well recommended to insure situations. Slaves for life or term of years bought and sold; Stores, Taverns, Bar-rooms, and Business Establishments, disposed of at private sale; Tenants procured for Houses, Warehouses, Stores, Farms, &c. Persons at a distance, wishing to be informed of the state of the market, of any article bought or sold, can be accommodated without charge; but all communications on business must come, post-paid, to insure attention. Insolvent Papers prepared at a low rate; all kinds of writing correctly executed; Books posted at moderate charges and kept out of view of spectators. The subscriber, intending to devote his whole attention to the above business, begs the patronage of a generous public. Satisfactory references by

ja19-3m ELIJAH McDOWELL.

BURDEN'S PATENT SPIKES, &c.

THE Subscriber's have been appointed Agents for the sale of Henry Burden's Patent Ship, Boat, and Rail Road SPIKES and HORSE SHOES. They are prepared to serve purchasers of these articles on the same terms as the former agent. A full assortment on hand.

ALSO ON HAND,

HOLLOW WARE CASTINGS, (light and beautifully assorted,) at the lowest market price—together with Large Patent CABOOSES, Cast Iron KETTLES, assorted sizes, &c. &c.

BOYER & DIFFENDERFFER,
ja18-eo3t* Corner of Pratt-st. & McElderry's whf.

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE.

That on the 18th Dec. last, a Red COW and CALF came on my farm, and have there since remained, and having advertised them in the newspapers and the owner not having made his appearance to claim them, that if not claimed on or before the 1st of February next, I will cause them to be sold in order to defray the expenses of their keeping, &c.

ALONZO KEERSHAW,
ja15-eo3t* 8 miles on the Frederick Turnpike.

STRAYED OR STOLEN.

From the subscriber's Farm, four and a half miles from Baltimore, on the York Road, on Sunday night last, a Black HORSE, about 16 hands high, the off fore and hind feet white, and a white star in the forehead, about six years old, had a long seam on the off hind quarter, caused by a stake. Twenty dollars reward will be paid for his return, if strayed, or fifty, if stolen, with the detection of the thief.

ja15-eod1* ANDREW H. ARMOUR.

PIANO FORTES AND VIOLINS.

The subscriber offers for sale, on reasonable terms, three German PIANO FORTES, just imported from the celebrated Factory of Rizze & Fechica, Cassel. They are of superior tone and fine touch.

ALSO—A number of choice VIOLINS, selected with great care, being superior to any that can be had in this country. JOHN METZ, No. 89 Gay-st. (O. T.)

ja18 tf Opposite the Independent Engine House.

WILLIAM H. KIMBALL & CO.
No. 145 BALTIMORE STREET,

MERCHANT TAILORS, and DEALERS in Broad Cloths; Cassimeres; Vestings; Beaver and Pilot Cloths; Cassinets; Flannels; 100 doz. black, white, and colored Hosiery; Handkerchiefs; Shirts; Drawers; Worsteds; Neck Stocks; Scarfs; Collars; Bosoms; Suspenders, &c. &c.

Also, a large and extensive assortment of ready-made Clothing, consisting of Dress and Frock Coats; Pantaloons; Vests, and Over Coats—which will be sold at the lowest possible prices for cash. ja8

CLOCKS! CLOCKS!!

THE subscribers have opened a Store at No. 34 S. CHARLES STREET, for the sale of their celebrated CLOCKS. They have now on hand, and are constantly receiving, large supplies from their manufactory in the city of New York, Brass and Wood Eight-day, One-day, and Alarm CLOCKS, of every variety of style, and of superior workmanship and finish, which they warrant and offer at wholesale to dealers, at their lowest factory prices.

ja1-1y SMITH & BROTHERS.

COPPER PLATE AND MUSIC PAPER, on hand and for sale by

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
d17 No. 2 S. Charles street.

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 Exchange Place.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000 may be had on	MONDAY, for		$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	4 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
6,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 00
30,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. ja7-3m

P. B. SCHÆFFER,
(SUCCESSOR TO BARKER & CO.)
156 BALTIMORE STREET.

$30,000. What friend of our's has got the $20,000 drawn on Saturday last in the Alexandria Lottery, class No. 1, comb. 8, 29, 45. The holder will please hand it in for payment. Nos. 20, 31, 63, a prize of $250 returned for want of a purchaser—as we have said before, it is only necessary to buy a ticket at Schæffer's office to insure a prize. Drawn Nos. Alexandria Lottery, No. 1.

20 8 45 7 68 65 31 50 52 13 72 67 15 62 12

Brilliant Lotteries for the Week:

TO DAY, Alexandria Lottery, class B, Capital prize $12,000: 50 of $500, &c. Tickets $4.

WEDNESDAY, 30th, Maryland State Lottery, class 3. Capitals $20,000, 4,500, &c. Tickets $5.

On THURSDAY, Alexandria Lottery, Class C—capital prize $10,000. Tickets $4.

On FRIDAY, Virginia State Lottery, Extra, class No 4, to be drawn at Alexandria, Va. Capitals of $10,000, 4000, &c. 78 Nos. 14 Ballots. Tickets $3.

On SATURDAY, in Baltimore, Consolidated Lottery of Maryland, class No. 9, 66 Nos. and 8 Ballots. Extra capitals, 4 of $10,000, 5000, 4487, 3 of 2500, &c. Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞ For Lucky Tickets, apply to

P. B. SCHÆFFER,
Successor to Barker & Co.
156 Baltimore street, corner of St. Paul's-st.

Where more prizes have been sold and paid than at any other office within the United States.

☞ Orders for Tickets, in any Lotteries under the management of D. E. Gregory & Co., thankfully received and promptly attended to—and the result of the drawing sent immediately after it is received. To insure a prize, you must address ja19 P. B. SCHÆFFER, Baltimore, Md.

DOYLE'S PRATT-ST. PRIZE DEPOT.

MORE PRIZES: Two of the Capitals were sold at this ever Lucky Office, in the Alexandria Lottery, class 1 for 1841, drawn on the 16th—combination 8, 19, 45, and comb. 20, 67, 68. And no later than last Tuesday the handsome capital prize of $2131. The following are the drawn numbers:

20 8 45 7 68 65 31 50 52 13 72 67 15 62 12

Persons wanting prizes will please bear in mind that this is the Lucky place.

On THIS DAY, 20th, the Maryland State Lottery will be drawn in Baltimore. Capital prize $20,000. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On THURSDAY, Alexandria Lottery, $10,000. For only $4.

On FRIDAY, Virginia Lottery, $10,000—For $3.

On SATURDAY, Maryland State, four prizes of $10,000—and no blanks.

Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞ For Prizes in the above Lotteries, and all Lotteries authorized in the State of Maryland, apply to, or address, M. DOYLE, No. 24 Pratt st.,

Opposite the B. & O. Railroad Depot, Baltimore.

☞ Orders by mail for packages of Tickets; single Tickets, or Shares of Tickets, enclosing cash or prize Tickets, from any part of the United States, will meet with prompt and personal attention, if addressed as above. ja20

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.

The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to hear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $3.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $5. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate

HATS!
HATS!!
HATS!!!
HATS!!!!
HATS!!!!!

Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at

W. H. KEEVIL & CO'S,
No. 66½ Baltimore-st., opposite Tripolett's alley,
And 4 doors W. of Bosl's well known Auction Store.
d16-tmh10

FOR RENT. That large three story DWELLING and STORE, No. 41 N. Gay-st., adjoining the German Lutheran Church. For a Boarding house, perhaps there could not be a house better calculated, as to location and convenience, it being but a short distance from the market, and near Baltimore street—it is open and airy, with extensive back buildings, and has dry cellars under the whole—added to which, the water is brought into the kitchen, and directly above is the Bath house, &c. To a good tenant the rent will be made low. Apply to the subscriber, who has, and always keeps, a full assortment of the most Fashionable CABINET FURNITURE, at the lowest prices, for cash, or good acceptances.

EDWIN S. TARR,
ja18-tf No. 4 Gay, near Baltimore street.

MOTHERS, who have children suffering with cough or cold, should procure HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY. It is very pleasant, and Children do not object to it.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

FOUND, in Baltimore street, last evening, a black Velvet RETICULE, containing sundry articles, amongst which is a Purse with some money in it—also a Cambric Cap of very small dimensions. The lady who lost it, can obtain the same by applying at this office and paying for this advertisement. ja16 3t

CURRANTS AND CRANBERRIES.

500 POUNDS FRESH CURRANTS
7 bbls Superior CRANBERRIES
For sale by MARCUS DENNISON,
d24 31 Baltimore street.

BOY TO HIRE. For hire, a Colored BOY, about 13 years of age—he understands waiting, and will be hired by the year on low terms.

Apply at the City Intelligence Office. [a] ja7

☞ Dr. T. L. MURPHY has resumed the Practice of Medicine. Office No. 69 BOND STREET, a few doors S. of Allicanna street. d12-tf

SERVANTS. Persons in want of Servants of any kind, will be promptly supplied by applying at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. [a] d30

DRY GOODS, &c.

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,

Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.

With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.

oct2 EDW. J. RICHARDSON

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are lower than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

Also on hand—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.

N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

AUCTION CLOTHS & CASSIMERES.

THE Subscribers have on hand, a very heavy Stock of superfine Wool and piece dyed black, blue, invisible green, grass, citron, olive, brown, drab grey mixed CLOTHS, with superfine wool and piece dyed black, blue, drab, grey mixt and fancy CASSIMERES—and Diamond and Beaver CLOTHS.

N. B. Also on hand, a general assortment of DRY GOODS, such as Blankets; Flannels; Cassinetts; Kentucky Jeans; Kerseys; plaid Domestics; plaid Linseys; York Mill Shirting; bleached and brown Muslins; Calicoes; cold Cambrics; Irish Linens; brown Holland, &c. With a variety of articles too numerous to insert, all which, owing to the advancement of the season, they will sell, wholesale or retail, at very reduced prices. Persons wishing to obtain bargains, may rely on finding them at

DORSEY & NELSON'S, No. 12 Baltimore-st.
ja18-eo1w 3d door W. of Market Space.

FANCY AND WORSTED STORE.

THE subscriber has on hand, and offers for sale a large and general assortment of Fine Worsted Patterns, Zephyr Worsted, Thick & Working Chenille, Saddler's Floss, Sewing and Twist Silk for Purses, Silk, Cotton and Worsted Canfas, Perforated, Board and Hair Cloth for Worsted Work, Ladies' Knitted Worsted Caps, Baby's Bonnetts, Boy's Gaiters and Scarfs, Silk and Worsted Fringe, Black Silk Lace, Silk Velvet for Head Bands, Belts and Cuffs, Ladies' and Children's Worsted Mittens, Knit Muffs, Knitting Yarn, Linen and Cotton Tape and Cord, &c.

Also—A general assortment of Work and Fancy Baskets and Boxes; Ivory, Shell, and Horn Combs; Jewelry; Needles and Pins; Toys, &c. &c.

G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 52 Lexington-st., 5th door above Howard-st.
d23-eo3m [a2]

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mouseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½; super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 12½
7-8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1¼ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25c childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
RED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.

E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6¼
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6¼
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 6¼
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 6¼
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 6¼ each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleves
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mouselaine de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 6¼
Excellent LINSEY, eleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 6¼s
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 6¼s
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Brocha do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 6¼
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6¼
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6¼

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES; French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞ All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.
o3-tf

AMUSEMENTS.

NATIONAL THEATRE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

LAST NIGHT OF MR. RICE.

THIS (WEDNESDAY) EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841,
Will be presented, the Play of
ZARAH; OR, THE GIPSEY GIRL.
Zarah, Miss V. MONIER.
After which, the Farce of
JIM CROW IN LONDON.
Jim Crow, Mr. RICE.
To conclude with
JUMBO JUM.
Jumbo Jum, Mr. RICE.
With the song of—"Sich a gittin' up stairs."

☞ Doors open at quarter before 7. Performance to commence at half past 7.

CITIZENS' BALL,
FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE POOR.

THIS BALL will take place on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Jan. 20, 1841. The price of Tickets is fixed at TWO DOLLARS.

☞ At a meeting of the BOARD OF MANAGERS, held on Monday evening, the following Resolution was passed—

Resolved, That a Committee of two be appointed from each ward, for the purpose of calling upon such persons in their respective wards, as are disposed to aid in the object the Managers have in view.

It is generally known that great numbers of persons who do not attend Balls, would willingly give in aid of the object if an opportunity was offered them. Hence the appointing of the following committee, it is expected that gentlemen will proceed immediately in their collections.

1st Ward, H. R. Louderman, James Grieves.
2d do Wm. Wickersham, John E. Stansbury.
3d do Capt. Thos. Lane, John H. Marriott.
4th do Abel Blakeney, James Murray.
5th do Capt. John Patrick, Herman Perry.
6th do Thos. C. Dunlevy, John Kennedy.
7th do Simeon Hays, James Ackland.
8th do Samuel Lucas, Samuel Stump, Jr.
9th do Wm. R. Fraser, James McPhail.
10th do Dr. Wm. Power, James Lawson.
11th do Horace Miller, D. A. Piper.
12th do George Deal, Joseph Creagher, Jr.

☞ The Managers who have not yet obtained their tickets, are requested to call at once upon the treasurer, Joshua Vansant, at the Post Office, and receive the same. By order,

SHEPPARD C. LEAKIN, Chairman.
Andrew J. Sands, Secretary. ja13-tb

CENTRAL HALL
DANCING & WALTZING ACADEMY.

CHARLES L. SPIES, thankful for past favors, has the honor to inform his friends and the public that his SECOND QUARTER will commence on TUESDAY, 19th inst. at the above Hall, corner of Baltimore and Charles streets.

☞ Days of Tuition, for Young Ladies, Misses and Masters, on Tuesday and Saturday Afternoons, from 2 till 5 o'clock—and on Tuesday and Friday Evenings, from half past 6 till 10 o'clock, for Gentlemen.

Practising Balls on Thursday evenings, and Cotillion Parties on Saturday Evenings.

☞ Terms—$10 per quarter. [a] ja5-eo2w

READ THIS TO-DAY, IF NOT, TO-MORROW.

CHEAPEST AND BEST BOOK (for the price) ever published—Four Hundred Pages, 8vo. fine paper, handsomely bound in gilt muslin, and lettered. Price TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent clergymen and reviewers. Numerous testimonials like the following can be produced: From the rev. Spencer H. Cone, President of the American and Foreign Bible Society:—Accept my sincere thanks for a copy of your SPLENDID "PICTORIAL ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE BIBLE." I have looked it over with much pleasure. The work is handsomely executed, and not only contains many interesting facts, and correct representations of men and manners in the East, but is also offered at a price unusually low. My hope is that it may obtain extensive patronage.

For sale by WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. Moore's Bookstore, No. 74 Market street, one door below Holliday, and No. 28 N. Gay-st.

☞ The trade will be supplied and a liberal discount allowed. [ja19] W. N. H.

IMPORTANT TO THOSE AFFLICTED WITH COUGHS & COLDS.

RICH'D THOMPSON'S LIFE PRESERVER, a new and valuable remedy for the relief and removal of the most distressing Colds and Coughs.

The subscriber has been induced to offer this Medicine to the Public from his personal knowledge of its effects, and the testimony of those who have been the subjects of its operation. In no instance within his knowledge (and they have been many) has it failed to give immediate relief to the patient, and ultimately to remove the most distressing cough, brought on by taking cold. In cases of Consumption, nothing is promised beyond relief. This Medicine is equally applicable to Children. Agent for Baltimore,

ROBERT H. COLEMAN & CO.
No. 133 Market street.

Where numerous certificates of its efficacy, from persons of respectable standing, will be shewn if necessary. ja13-6w*

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞ Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

se17-tf E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

REMOVAL.

G. H. MITTNACHT, IMPORTER OF GERMAN, FRENCH, and ENGLISH FANCY GOODS, has removed from the Store he lately occupied in Baltimore street, to the Store No. 9 South LIBERTY STREET, where he will always keep a large and general assortment of FANCY GOODS, including Baskets, Toys, Clocks, Musical Instruments, Cutlery, Jewelry, Pins, Needles, Tapes, Cords, Cotton, Thread, Silk, Blacking, Ink, Slates, Marbles, Whips, &c. &c., which he is prepared to sell at the lowest wholesale prices. G. H. MITTNACHT,
No. 9 S. Liberty street.

N. B. Franklin Bank Notes will be taken at par for all Goods purchased for cash. [a] ja5-2w

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
PAPER DEALERS,
No. 2 SOUTH CHARLES STREET,

HAVE FOR SALE—500 reams Fine Medium Printing PAPER
300 reams Superfine Medium Printing PAPER
150 do Medium and a half do do
1000 do News Paper, various sizes do
300 do Colored Medium do
100 do do Cover do
2500 do Ruled and Plain Letter do
2000 do Ruled and plain Cap do
500 do Flat Cap do
200 do Fine Writing do
100 do Medium Writing do
50 do Royal and Superroyal do

Binder's Boards; Bandbox do; Trunk do; Straw do; Press Paper; Hardware; Grocers and Cloth Paper; Russia Skins. ja18

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, elecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and boneset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North-st. d12-y

BY H. W. BOOL,
No. 60 Baltimore street.

A DAY SALE.

TO Gentlemen of the Bar, Students, Booksellers, Dealers, &c. The Private Library of a Gentleman of the Bar. The Miscellaneous and Classical LIBRARY of the same gentleman—among which are some first rate Books on Divinity. Also, the entire Fancy Stock of a Bookseller. The particulars will be found in the American and Patriot newspapers.

The above, with many other articles, will be found at my Public Sale on THURSDAY MORNING, 21st instant, commencing at 10 o'clock precisely. Sale for cash, no reserve, and for bankable paper.

After which, a very large collection of JEWELRY, Watches; Fancy Articles; Dry Goods; Clothing; Boots; Shoes; Furniture; and Household Effects generally.

ja20-2t H. W. BOOL, Auctioneer.

TO Cabinetmaker's, Carpenters, Turners, Dealers, &c. 3000 feet of VENEERS of the best quality, in lots to suit. A new and patent Tenoning Machine of great power. FURNITURE of every kind; Mechanics' Tools; Household Effects; Dry Goods; Hardware, &c. will be sold at my Auction Store at half past 10 o'clock on FRIDAY MORNING, 22d inst. It is hoped every person who may feel an interest will attend ja20 H. W. BOOL, Auct'r.

BY WEVER, CANNON & CO.
No. 28 S. Charles street.

Sale of China, Glass and Liverpool Ware.

ON THURSDAY MORNING, 21st Jan. inst. at 10 o'clock, we will sell, without reserve, for cash, the residue of the rich China, Glass and Liverpool Ware, contained in warehouse No. 3 North Charles st. known as "China Hall," consisting in part of gold band and gold flowered Tea Sets, Dinner Sets do., Dessert Sets do., Liverpool Dining Sets, Toilet do., Bowls, Plates, Dishes, &c. &c.; heavy cut Tumblers, Wines, Rock Glasses, Decanters, Celleries, &c. together with a rich collection of fancy articles.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of the public, and especially private families, to the sale, which will be positive. The articles will be arranged for examination the day previous to sale.

ja19 WEVER, CANNON & Co. Auct's.

TRUSTEES SALE OF SILKS, SATINS AND WINES, &c. By order of the Trustees we will sell on FRIDAY MORNING, 22d inst at 10 o'clock, on the second floor of our warehouse, No. 28 S. Charles street, a rich and handsome lot of whole and cut pieces of plain and figured SILKS and SATINS, among which we will name, Gro de Naples, Poult de Soi, Imperial Italian Lustrings, Beltings, plain and col'd Satins, &c.

Also, immediately after the close of the above, we shall sell an invoice of very superior German & French WINES, in bottles, belonging to the same concern, consisting of Assmannshouser, Muscat, Erbacher, Rudesheimer, Graves, Rhenish, Sweet and 4 casks Madeira. Terms cash in bankable money.

ja19 WEVER, CANNON & CO. Auct.

THE VERY BEST
FAMILY NEWSPAPER
IN THE UNITED STATES.

THE OCEAN
AND BALTIMORE WEEKLY CLIPPER
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING,
By BULL & TUTTLE,
EDITED BY
SAMUEL BARNES, JOHN H. HEWITT, and JOHN WILLS,
AT ONLY $1.50 PER ANNUM,

IS one of the CHEAPEST and BEST FAMILY NEWSPAPERS now published. Being made up from the columns of the DAILY CLIPPER, containing all the current NEWS of the week, TALES, POETRY, &c. &c. embracing a greater variety of interesting matter than can be found in any other newspaper publication extant. The paper is carefully mailed EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, and sent to subscribers in every part of the Union. Subscriptions $1.50 per annum, always payable in advance.

☞ All letters must be addressed (post paid) to
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 N. Gay street, Baltimore, Md.

N. B. Single copies of the Ocean and Weekly Clipper can always be had at the Office, with or without wrappers—price 6¼ cents. ja15 d

VALLIER'S FRENCH PILL, FOR THE CURE OF SECRET DISEASES. One box of these inestimable Pills is worth all the Quack Medicines in the world.

COMMENT. If we examine the nature of the above diseases, and the situation of the parts affected, we must consider it a very important object to be able to obtain a remedy at once certain in its action, and at the same time composed of such ingredients as will prevent the possibility of discovery while using it. It is a fact well known to many, that most of the remedies offered for these diseases are composed of such nauseous drugs, as to render it almost impossible to continue their use without creating a sickness at the stomach or other unpleasant consequences. Such being the case there can be no doubt but such a remedy as Vallier's French Pills, will meet the universal approbation, being entirely free from those objections; pleasant in their operation, and prompt in removing the disease. The proprietor would here remark, that the efficacy of these Pills in the disorders alluded to, are not based upon supposition; on the contrary, it is founded upon rational experience, having used them in a successful practice for upwards of two years, he feels confident of their superiority over the remedies hitherto employed.

☞ Price one dollar per box. For sale in Baltimore by SETH S. HANCE, ja11-y Corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. Williams, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 56 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,
(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland.)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Doric Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as good quality and as cheap as can be purchased at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.

d23-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

COTTON FACTORY—For Sale or Rent.

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞ COUNTRY SUBSCRIBERS can receive the paper, by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square 1 time,	$0 50	1 square 1 month,	$4 00
1 do. 2 times,	75	1 do. 2 months,	7 00
1 do. 3 do.	1 00	1 do. 3 do.	10 00
1 do. 1 week,	1 75	1 do. 6 do.	16 00
1 do. 2 weeks,	2 75	1 do. 1 year,	30 00

☞ Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.

VOL. III. NO. 110.] THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 21, 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

JOB PRINTING,
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

THE proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are exclusively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enamelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞ Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

For the Baltimore Clipper.

FRIENDSHIP.

There is a gift to vulgar minds unknown,
A gift that virtuous friendship calls her own,
That grows and thrives when more and more allied,
Tho' miles uncounted or stormy sea divide:
Thus friendship, in her own light sphere,
Beholds her image painted bright and clear.
Where'er she takes her proud majestic reign,
In the calm bosom of the wide domain,
She travels on in her imperial height,
The faithful shadow still pursues its flight.
At length her light supreme, in all its rays,
Strikes the whole soul with an immortal blaze,
Until her last predestined course is run,
And holy feelings shall unite in one;
Where friends may love, and still their love express
The finer feelings that their souls possess;
Still may we look to God for faithful light,
That shall yet shine till we in heaven unite.

Old Dominion, Jan. 13, 1841. T. L. WISE.

A SURGICAL OPERATION. An officer of the army in Florida has politely furnished the editor of the Savannah Republican with the following details of a surgical operation performed by Dr. McDougal, of the United States Army, which reflects distinguished credit on the professional ability of that gentleman. Dr. McDougal's patient is doing well, and there is every reason to expect that he will recover. It is said that this operation has been performed but twice or thrice before in the United States; and but once successfully. If this be true, the value of this surgical effort will be greatly enhanced in the eyes of medical men:—

A soldier of the 3d regiment Artillery, while escorting an officer some weeks since to St. Augustine, was shot down by Indians, and wounded in two places; one ball passed through the left side, the other entered behind the right shoulder and came out in front, wounding in its passage the axillary artery. Exhausted by loss of blood and pain, he was carried to the General Hospital, Picolata, E. F., and there carefully examined by the attending surgeon, Dr. McDougal, U. S. A., who by prompt and appropriate treatment rescued him from immediate danger, and placed him in a condition that induced the belief of his ultimate recovery. At the expiration of the fourth week, a swelling suddenly appeared beneath the anterior opening in the shoulder, and by its rapid increase in size, together with other characteristic evidences; soon established its true nature. The artery had given way at the wounded point, producing a false aneurism. The extreme danger of his situation increased with every hour, and in a few days it became evident that to save the man's life, it would be necessary to tie the artery above the wound. After mature deliberation, it was determined by surgeon C. McDougal to cut down and take up the subsclavian artery above the clavicle (collar bone.) In performing the operation, the doctor was assisted by Ass't Surgeon Hoxton, and soon succeeded in reaching the vessel, though very deeply situated, and passed a ligature round it with the happiest success. The man, we are informed, is now removed from all impending danger, and will doubtless soon be restored to perfect health. It is needless to mention the credit so brilliant an operation is calculated to reflect on the accomplished operator, so well performed, so difficult to accomplish—it stands first among the glorious triumphs of modern surgery.

A GOOD STORY.

One seldom hears a good story now-a-days. The following is not bad:—

A few years ago, there came to the Lion Inn, at ———, a pleasant looking, great-coated, commercial sort of a body.

"Well, landlord, what have you got? Rump steak, eh? oyster soup, eh? bottle of sherry, good eh?—send them up."

Dinner was served, wine was despatched and a glass of brandy and water comfortably settled the dinner.

"Waiter," said the traveller, coolly and dispassionately wiping his mouth with a napkin, "waiter, I am awkwardly situated."

"Sir," said the waiter, expecting a love letter.

"I cannot pay you."

"Sorry for that sir—I must call my master."

(Enter landlord.)

"My good sir, you see this is rather awkward, good dinner! capital dinner! famous wine! glorious grog! but no cash!"

The landlord looked black.

"Pay next time—often go on this road—done nothing to day—good house yours—a great deal in the bill way."

The landlord looked blank.

"No difference to you, of course! pleasant house this—plenty of business—happy to take your order—good credit—good bills."

"There is my bill, sir, prompt payment, pay as I go."

"Ah, but you must not go without paying. Let us see, 17s. 6d. Let us have a pint of sherry together, make it up to a pound, that will square it."

"Sir, I say you are a swindler, sir, I will have my money."

"Sir, I tell you I will call and pay you in three weeks from this time, exactly; for I shall have to pass this road again."

"None of that, sir, it won't do with me; pay me my money, or I'll kick you out."

The stranger remonstrated, but the landlord kicked him out.

"You will repent this," said the stranger.

The landlord did repent it. Three weeks after that day, punctually, the stranger re-entered the Lion Inn. The landlord looked very foolish, the stranger smiled and held out his hand—"I've come to pay you my score, as I promised."

The landlord made a thousand apologies for his rudeness. So many swindlers about there's no knowing whom to trust. Hoping the gentleman would pardon him.

"Never mind, landlord—but come let's have some dinner together—let us be friends. What have you got eh? nice little ham, of your own curing, good! greens from your own garden! famous bottle of sherry, and two bottles of port; waiter, this is excellent."

Dinner passed over; the landlord bobbed and nobbed with the stranger, and they passed quite a pleasant afternoon. The landlord retired to attend to his avocations, the stranger finished his "comforter" of brandy and water, and addressed the waiter—

"Waiter what is to pay?"

"Two pounds ten shillings and sixpence, sir, including the former account."

"And half a crown for yourself."

Makes two pounds ten shillings and ninepence, sir," replied the waiter rubbing his hands.

"Say two pounds thirteen shillings," said the stranger with a benevolent smile, "and call your master."

(Enter landlord smiling and hospitable,)

"Sorry you are going so soon, sir."

The stranger merely said, with a fierce look, I owed you seventeen and sixpence three weeks ago, and you kicked me out of your house for it,"

The landlord began to apologize.

"No words, sir. I owed you seventeen and sixpense, and you kicked me out of your house for it. I now owe you two pounds thirteen shillings. You must pay yourself in a check on the same bank, for I have no money now."

HOAX AT VERSAILLES. A correspondent writes to us from Versailles: "A hoax came off here this week, and served to enlighten a little this city of historic reminiscences. There has resided here for several years a wealthy English celibat, polite and inoffensive in his manners, totally absorbed in the care of his own person, grave and punctilious with his own sex, but affable and even gallant with the fair. Such being the case it cannot well be conceived by strangers how he became the subject of the following mystification: There drew up on Monday last, at 12 o'clock precisely, at the door of the boarding house inhabited by this amiable "single gentleman," situated on one of the grand avenues leading to the palace, a corbillard de premiere classe, preceded by mutes, and followed by mourning coaches en grande tenue. When the ministers of death presented themselves to bear out the corpse to its last home, all was horror and astonishment; remonstrance on the part of the inmates was ineffectual, nor would the grim undertaker be convinced till the party in question gave ocular testimony of his existence. In the meantime twelve glass coaches appeared, six of which were intended for the funeral procession, and the other half for a bridal; the coachman of the latter having white gloves and white favors in their hats—a most ludicrous contrast.

A troop of donkies and half-starved ponies, with their antideluvian saddles, next made their appearance, destined for a pic-nic in the woods at this mild season of the year, and, to add to the confusion, tradesmen of all kinds were pouring in with goods ordered for the occasion—hair dressers with wigs, tailors with samples, shoemakers and hatters ready to take orders, the stone cutter with designs au choix for the monumental tomb, and jewellers with ornaments for the bride. The myrmidons of the police were seen insinuating themselves among the crowd, sent by the authorities of the town to investigate a reported plot against the government. It was a scene worthy of the pencil of Hogarth! Some of the persons duped were irritated beyond measure, while others seemed delighted at the fun, though disappointed at selling their goods. It appeared, however, that the merry who was the author of all this mischief, was not yet satisfied, for he had despatched by post and railway, invitations for a ball that night on a grand scale. The consequence was that, in the evening, there arrived at the place of rendezvous men bearing on long poles lustres and variegated lamps, and marmitons were seen flocking on all sides laden with pastry, ices, punch, and all kinds of refreshments. Thus ended a scene which, like all the events of this sublunary life, was chequered with pain and pleasure. It gives us, however, infinite satisfaction to understand that the object of this mystification here it in the most philosophic manner, more particularly as he entertained his numerous friends without incurring any personal expense."
—Galignani's Messenger.

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 19th, 1841.

Mr. Legrand presented the petition of Joseph Hankey and others of Baltimore, praying the passage of some act to regulate vessels entering Smith's Dock, in the city of Baltimore—referred to committee on ways and means.

Mr. Jones, of Somerset, presented the memorial of sixty-three citizens of Somerset, praying the passage of a law to divide the State into two Geological districts, and to appoint a Geologist for each district.

Mr. Prestman obtained leave to bring in a bill providing for the appointment of an interpreter of the German language for Baltimore City and County Courts. Referred to the Baltimore city delegation.

On motion of Mr. E. A. Lynch, leave was granted the committee on Grievances and Courts of Justic to bring in a bill supplementary to the act for enlarging the power of the High Court of Chancery; and also an act respecting the equity jurisdiction of the County Courts.

Mr. Legrand, from the committee on Corporations, reported a supplement to the act to incorporate the Baltimore and Potomac Steam Packet Company, which was passed and sent to the Senate.

Mr. Maccubbin submitted a message, proposing to proceed to the election of Bank Directors on the part of the State, at 12 o'clock. The following nominations were made:

For the Farmers' Bank of Maryland—William H. Tuck, William O'Hara, and Dennis Claude, Jr.

For the Mechanics' Bank of Baltimore—John R. Magruder, Michael S. Norman.

For the Farmers' Bank of Maryland, Easton—James Price, Alexander Donoho, and Thomas H. Hicks.

For the Hagerstown Bank—Frederick Dorsey and Joseph Gabby.

For the Elkton Bank—Adam Wham.

The House then proceeded to ballot, and the gentlemen who had been put in nomination were elected.

The report of the Topographical Engineer was received in a communication from the Executive.

The resolution submitted by Mr. Foreman in relation to the repeal of the sub-treasury law, was taken up for consideration.

Mr. Foreman moved to amend said resolution by adding—"that a copy of this resolution be sent to our Senators and Representatives in Congress." The said preamble and resolutions were made the order of the day for Friday 22d inst.

The order of the day was then taken up, being the bill reported by Mr. Bowie to direct the manner in which the Agents in all joint stock companies in which the State has any interest shall hereafter be appointed.

Mr. Bowie moved to amend the 2d section, by striking out in the first line "joint ballot" and insert "concurrent vote of both Houses." The amendment passed by a vote of 37 to 11. Several other amendments were offered, which did not alter the bill materially.

The question was then put on the final passage of the bill, which was passed. The House adjourned.

In the Senate, the bill to incorporate the Baltimore and Potomac Steam Packet Company was passed.

No other important business was transacted.

CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES.

The secretary of state has transmitted to the senate, in accordance with a resolution of that body, the following information in regard to the aggregate population of the states and territories, so far as the returns admit:

Abstract of the returns of the sixth census.

STATES AND TERRITORIES.	White persons.	Free Col'd persons.	All other persons.
Maine,	500,443	1,353
N. Hampshire,	283,951	529	1
Massachusetts,	728,932	8,534
Connecticut,	301,858	8,111	54
Rhode Island,	105,593	3,239	5
Vermont,	291,130	718
New York,	2,382,571	50,261	3
New Jersey,	350,724	20,970	658
Pennsylvania,*	1,619,115	50,571	31
Delaware,	55,581	16,926	2,613
Maryland,†
Virginia,	735,812	48,425	447,207
North Carolina,	484,172	22,752	246,186
South Carolina,	259,092	8,279	327,158
Georgia,‡	363,303	2,352	253,508
Alabama,§	288,947	1,833	188,664
Mississippi,	178,967	1,367	195,765
Louisiana‖	112,149	22,197	115,292
Tennessee,¶	622,492	5,407	188,168
Kentucky,
Ohio,	1,498,593	17,192
Indiana,	676,296	7,018
Illinois,	423,330	3,129	184
Missouri,††	277,357	1,433	48,941
Arkansas,‡‡
Michigan,	211,001	703	1
Florida,§§	8,147	521	5,334
Wisconsin,	30,506	178	8
Iowa,	42,864	153	18
Dis't of Columbia,	30,657	8,361	4,694

*Complete, with the exception of parts of Union, Luzerne, and whole of Bradford counties. [Bradford, since received, has 32,769 inhabitants.]

† The returns Nos. 8 and 9—aggregate and recapitulation returns of the marshal—have not been received. [The population of Maryland, since ascertained, is 467,567.]

‡ Not complete. Nine counties not received.

§ Not complete.

‖ Incomplete. The western district of Louisiana returns have not been received.

¶ A part of Monroe county not received.

 The returns Nos. 8 and 9—aggregate and recapitulation returns of the marshal—not received, and only a part of No. 4—the return of the enumeration by the assistants to the marshal.

†† There are seven counties not included.

‡‡ The returns have not been received.

§§ Incomplete. Two districts not included.

[The various census of Virginia stands as follows:—In 1790, 748,308; 1800, 880,200; 1810, 974,622; 1820, 1,065,379; 1830, 1,211,406; 1840, 1,231,444.

New York has increased since the last census, from 1,915,608 to 2,432,835. Pennsylvania from 1,318,233 to more than 1,669,717. Ohio from 937,903 to 1,515,785. Indiana from 343,031 to 689,314. Illinois from 157,455 to 426,634, &c.]

LEGISLATION AND GRUB. In the first branch of the Baltimore city council on Thursday, a resolution was offered that such members as cannot leave their dinner tables in time to attend to the business of their constituents, be, and they are hereby requested to put their dinners in their pockets, and munch their provender during the session, in order that they may answer "yea" or "nay" when called upon. The resolution was unanimously carried. This is certainly more business-like than keeping the prompt members waiting a half hour before a quorum can be drummed up.

We copy the foregoing from the New York Sun. It was a resolution offered and unanimously adopted by "us"—not the city council, the members of which, it is true, are more fond of digesting a dinner than a law.

A NEW CORPS. A new corps, to be called the Highland Watch, is just organized in this city.
[N. Y. Democrat.

We suppose it must be "wound up" before it will "go." [Richmond Star.

They get their uniforms on tick.

WHALING IN THE PACIFIC. The whale ships alone in the Pacific ocean number 460 sail, amounting to nearly 200,000 tons, and manned by 12,000 seamen. Not less than $12,000,000 of capital has been invested in, and actively employed by, one branch of the whale fishery alone; and in the whole trade alone is directly involved not less than from fifty to seventy millions of property.

ANOTHER STEAM SHIP. The new steam ship Columbia left Liverpool for Boston on the 4th inst. Her arrival, therefore, is daily expected. She will, probably, bring important news.

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE,
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE.

TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Bay Line—the Companies on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedule:

Leave Philadelphia	8 A.M. reach	Baltimore	2 P.M.
" Baltimore	4 P.M. "	Washington	6 P.M.
" Washington	5 A.M. "	Fredk'sburg	12 M.
" Fred'ksburg	12 M. "	Richmond	5 P.M.
" Richmond	5 P.M. "	Petersburg	7 P.M.
" Petersburg	7 P.M. "	Weldon	1 A.M.
" Weldon	1 A.M. "	Wilmington	1 P.M.
" Wilmington	1 P.M. "	Charleston	at 5 the next day.

As this Line carries the Great Mail, (which cannot be delayed,) and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is sure of a connection throughout, whilst it is evident that Foul Roads Weather!! and Storms!!! must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two-thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT ISLAND ROUTE.

☞ The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon: and travellers have no expense or trouble with their Baggage.

☞ This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞ This is the only Daily Line to Richmond and Petersburg.

☞ Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of
STOCKTON, FALLS & CO.
Adjoining the Philadelphia Rail Road Office,
d19-tf PRATT STREET, Baltimore.

VALUABLE MILL PROPERTY
AT TRUSTEE'S SALE.

IN pursuance of a decree of the High Court of Chancery of Maryland, the subscriber will offer at public sale, on TUESDAY, the 19th day of February next, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Court House door in Elkton, all that very valuable Property lying on Little Elk River, in Cecil county, Md. known as "The Rockville Paper Mills," with the tract of land on which the same are situated, containing about 63 acres and twelve perches of land. This property is situated but six miles from navigable water, and is in the midst of a well populated and abundant country. The improvements consist of a large STONE PAPER MILL, 60 by 46 feet, three stories high, and having all the requisite machinery for making the various kinds of paper; a Grist Mill, running two pair of burs; a Saw Mill, a Bark Mill, and a large stone Barn, with Stabling, Shedding, &c. Besides these, there is also a Manager's House, and five Cottages, sufficiently spacious for the accommodation of the hands employed in the several establishments. The water power is valuable—and is, in general, adequate to all the purposes of the Mills. The land is considered first rate farming land, being easily susceptible of profitable and permanent improvement, and is peculiarly adapted to the use of lime, plaster, &c. It is well enclosed and is divided into convenient fields, and is well watered with abundant springs of best water; about one half of it is in wood, and the rest in arable and meadow land. The title is indisputable, and a plat of the land may be seen upon application to the Trustee. The terms of sale, as prescribed by the decree, are that one-fourth of the purchase money shall be paid in cash on the ratification of the sale by the Chancery Court; one-fourth in six months; one-fourth in twelve months, and one-fourth in eighteen months, with interest from the day of sale, the credit payments to be secured by endorsed notes approved by the trustee, and upon the payment of the whole purchase money, a title will be made.
ja20-eots GEO. W. DOBBIN, Trustee.

WANTED TO EMPLOY, by the month or year, 4 or 5 Negro men (slaves) to work on a Farm near the city. They will be well treated and the owners receive the highest wages, which will be punctually paid them in the city. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, Baltimore-st. corner of Frederick street.

Also, wanted to employ, a Colored man as Waiter in a Private Family. Apply as above. [A] ja5

TO MAGISTRATES. The undersigned keep constantly on hand, a full assortment of all the various BLANKS used by Magistrates, printed on fine paper, which will be sold on the lowest terms.
Apply to BULL & TUTTLE,
ja13-d No. 7 N. Gay street.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.
16 Bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by
d19 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

BOARDING may be obtained by two or three genteel young men, or a gentleman and his lady, in a respectable private boarding house, near the Exchange—terms moderate. Apply at the Intelligence Office, N. W. corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts.
d20 [A]

CASSIA AND CHAMPAGNE.
10 CASES FRESH CASSIA
10 baskets Genuine Anchor CHAMPAGNE
Landing from Celeste, for sale by
MARCUS DENISON,
de 24 No. 31 Baltimore street.

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. [A] d25

20 Hhds. Fifth Proof Monongahela WHISKEY
60 boxes Sperm, Mould and Dipt CANDLES
100 boxes Choice CHEESE
20 baskets Bordeaux OIL, received and for sale by
d2 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure it or-rented, for any recent case of the secret disease, by Dr. RITTERLEBERGER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $2!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

Dr. HUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Husselbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Husselbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of 10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $2. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. se3-ylm*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.
DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND,
For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabetes or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the uretha of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, composed solely of vegetable substance? One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N. B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (O. T.) of W. J. PITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Briton and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞ For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue.
And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL.
dec6-y

LADIES' COMPANION, April No. for January, 1841, received by
WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. MOORE'S, No. 74 Market street—and at
No. 28 N. Gay-street, near Fayette st.
☞ Terms $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly.
Opinion of the New York Press:
We have been favored with a copy of a steel engraving of the Light House near Caldwell's Landing, intended to illustrate the January number of the Ladies' Companion, published by Mr. Snowden, 109 Fulton-st. It is indeed a fine specimen of the art, and reflects no ordinary credit upon the enterprize of the conductor of that Magazine. The number will contain articles from the following writers:

Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, Mrs. E. F. Ellet, Mrs. Anwan, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances L. Osgood, Mrs. E. R. Steele, Mrs. Caroline Orne; Professors Longfellow & Ingraham; Mr. H. Herbert, Francis W. Thoman, Greenville Mellen; Rev. J. H. Clinch; Mr. Rufus Dawes, Wm. Gilmore Sims, Epes Sargent, Park Benjamin, George P. Morris, Robert Hamilton, C. F. Daniels, H. T. Tuckerman, Henry R. Ruoe, (of Philadelphia,) Wm. G. Howard, (of Ohio); Mrs. E. C. Embury; Mrs. Holland, (of London,) and many others. Also, an original piece of Music, composed by J. G. Meder, expressly for the occasion ja5

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor DUCATEL,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.
HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Britain and Madison-sts., Balt.
☞ Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!
A AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 242 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Coal-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 150,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and uncut, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞ Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.
je16-d HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house, and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.
mh3-dtf HOPE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.
THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.
s3-dtf G. W. PEARCE.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 99 good white and colored COOKS, to fill desirable places in different parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES and 2 NURSES. d25

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

THURSDAY MORNING, JAN. 21, 1841.

☞ TO ADVERTISERS. The Circulation of this Paper is greater than that of any other published in this City.

☞ Persons wishing to become Subscribers will be regularly served by sending their names and places of residence to the Office.

NATIONAL PROSPECTS. The affair of the Caroline and the unadjusted boundary question, leave the relations between Great Britain and the United States in a very unsettled and unsatisfactory condition. It cannot be disguised that considerable anxiety upon these points is felt in both countries; nor is there much hope that they can be amicably and honorably arranged. The wanton aggression in the case of the Caroline having been acknowledged as the authorised act of the British government, it is impossible that our government can permit it to go unredressed. There must be some satisfaction made for the act, or the United States will have to seek it in another mode than negotiation. This seems to be the prevailing opinion. So far, applications on the subject from this country have been treated with neglect, or with such indifference as to render it evident that no disposition exists to atone for the wrong.

On the subject of the north eastern boundary, there is not the slightest approximation to a settlement. The matter stands in the same position, neither party having succeeded in making the other yield an inch. The disputed territory appears to be considered indispensable to Great Britain, and that she attaches great importance to its possession is seen by the tenacity with which she adheres to her claim. On the other hand, the right to the territory is indisputably on the American side. Here then is a grave issue, which threatens to involve the two countries in serious difficulties.

With these prospects before us, it is well to look at the actual position we occupy, and at our preparations for contingent events. We must enforce our demands in regard to the Caroline, and insist upon our rights in respect to the disputed territory. We may be unable to obtain justice on either point, in which case the alternative will be submission or war. There can be no doubt as to the choice we should make. We cannot adopt a dishonorable course. The prospects then, are rather adverse to the continuance of peace. And, in view of the possibility of this event, is it politic or wise to remain in an unprepared state? Should not proper measures of defence be immediately adopted and vigorously prosecuted? It may be objected that the public treasury is empty, and that the revenues are not adequate to the ordinary expenditures of government. This is true—but we have ample sources of revenue. Let duties be imposed upon all articles of luxury, and, if necessary, increase the duties upon other articles. This would provide a sufficient sum to proceed in the construction of steam ships of war, fortifications and other means of defence. So long as we are unprepared to maintain our rights with vigor and success, so long will they be violated without fear.

Should we unfortunately be involved in war, the navy will become, as during the late war, the strong arm of national defence and protection; and these could not be entrusted to safer hands than our gallant naval officers. But, to render their services effective, our vessels must be properly equipped and supplied, and perfect harmony and co-operation exist among the officers. We observe by the Southern Literary Messenger that dissatisfaction exists as to the practical operation of the present naval system, and that a reorganization of the navy upon more equitable and satisfactory principles is recommended. It is due to the officers of the navy, and to the more effectual preservation of that important part of our national strength, that errors in organization, or in the application of existing rules, should be corrected. The navy is the cherished pride of the country—it covered our stripes and stars with glory during the last contest, and it should be placed in the most effective condition for future use. We concur with the editor of the Literary Messenger, that our naval officers should present their united views to the consideration of Congress, and we have no doubt that they would receive the most respectful attention.

BRITISH EAST INDIA COMPANY. The following account of the establishment of the company's authority in India is from Hunt's Merchants' Magazine for January: "A physician, named Boughton, having accompanied a British envoy from the factory at Suat to the court of the Great Mogul of Agra, succeeded in recovering from a fatal illness the daughter and heir of this great potentate. The ordinary course of events in so generous a climate, would have been, we should think, to have raised the successful practitioner to the throne which he saved from an early pall; but the maxim of trade seemed to have crept as far as the palace of the Great Mogul, and instead of raising Dr. Boughton at once to royal honors, the grateful father thought it more expedient to endow him with the privilege of trading wherever he liked throughout the Mogul empire. We are sorry to say that the physician was devoid of those romantic considerations which should have induced him to have retained forever so touching a keepsake, for it seems that no sooner had he left the court, than, to the horror of his royal benefactor, he sold his charter to the East India Company, who immediately took advantage of it by erecting, in 1656, on the banks of the Hoogly, on the spot where Calcutta now stands, the trading house that was to form the centre of a future empire."

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20, 1841.

The ball of the Perseverance Fire Company came off last evening with great eclat. The Masonic Hall was so crowded that not more than half the assemblage could dance at one time. It was a beautiful sight to see so many young men and maidens gliding through the "poetry of motion" with bounding heart, and where Eyes looked love to eyes that spake again.

The managers deserve just credit for their arrangements, but I would remind them that a mirror is, on such occasions, a useful article in the gentlemen's dressing room. There was plenty of good coffee and cold tongue. O how the talking commenced after the latter article was served out!

In the Senate, after I closed my last, a vote was taken on the several amendments to the preemption land bill, and they were rejected. So the bill was not recommitted. The question then being on ordering it to a third reading, Mr. Huntington gave notice of some amendments which he desired to offer, after which a motion to adjourn was carried.

This morning the bill was again taken up, and after the adoption of several amendments submitted by Mr. Huntington, the bill was about to be put on its third reading, when this was closed.

In the House of Representatives, after the disposal of some private business, the consideration of the Treasury note bill was again resumed in committee of the whole.

The question was the motion of Mr. Barnard, to strike out the enacting clause of the bill, with a view hereafter of submitting an amendment recommitting the subject to the Committee on Ways and Means, with instructions to report a bill imposing a tariff on wines, silks, &c.

Mr. Bell having the floor, spoke at great length in opposition to the bill.

At 3 o'clock, without taking the question, the Committee rose, and the House adjourned.

REVENUE. In reply to a resolution submitted by Mr. Clay, of Kentucky, calling for information as to the plan alluded to by Mr. Woodbury in his annual report, in regard to the compromise act and revenue duties, the secretary has submitted a report recommending an adherence to the compromise act, and a tax upon articles admitted duty free. He acknowledges the deficit in the Treasury.

We are unable to say what amount of revenue would probably be raised by the proposed tax on articles now admitted free; but as to the soundness of the policy there can be no doubt. We go for perfect reciprocity in trade; and so long as other nations exclude the products of this country altogether, or admit them only upon payment of high duty, we cannot perceive the justice of allowing the importation of their manufactures duty free. Some of the articles thus admitted, or upon which a low duty is charged, are not essential to the comfort or convenience of our citizens, and could be dispensed with entirely without detriment.

The Treasury is empty and must be replenished. There are two modes proposed in Congress to effect this, but both are of a temporary nature: 1st. An issue of treasury notes, and 2d. A loan of ten millions. Either of these expedients might serve for present relief, but neither will answer as a permanent system, and resort must be had to direct taxation or an increase of duties.—The former will not be tolerated, and the latter must be adopted.

THE BANKS—RESUMPTION. We give below, proceedings which indicate a speedy and simultaneous resumption of specie payments by the banks of Virginia and Maryland. To this there can be no objection, as the resumption in Virginia will lessen the pressure upon the Baltimore banks. We think it probable that the whole banks of the south will also resume without further delay.

At a meeting of the presidents of the Bank of Virginia, the Farmers Bank of Virginia, and of the Exchange Bank of Virginia, at Richmond, and being authorised to act in the premises, by their respective boards, January 18th, 1841:

Resolved, unanimously, That the banks will resume specie payments simultaneously with the banks of Baltimore; and that the president of the Farmers Bank be requested to report this resolution to the banks of Baltimore, with a request that an early day be fixed upon for the resumption.

(Signed)
JOHN BROCKENBROUGH,
WM. H. MACFARLAND,
JAMES CASKIE.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Bank of Virginia, Saturday, Jan. 16, 1841, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Bank of Virginia will unite with the other banks of Richmond and the banks of Baltimore in designating any particular day for a simultaneous resumption of specie payments by the banks of Richmond and Baltimore; and that the president of this bank be authorized to communicate with the other banks referred to, and to enter, on behalf of the Bank of Virginia, into the necessary mutual arrangements for carrying into effect the object of this resolution.

PHRENOLOGY. We do not know what opinions General Harrison entertains on the science of phrenology—but as he is likely to be overwhelmed with applications for office, and, as he is no doubt desirous to select honest and competent men, would it not be judicious in him to establish a phrenological board, and compel all applicants for office to undergo examination? This would save time and trouble, as, if the science be true, the hidden propensities of gentlemen would be disclosed, and themselves saved from "absquatulating" with the public funds.

If this project be adopted, we shall expect to receive one of the best appointments under government for the suggestion.

☞ The hon. William C. Rives has been elected by the legislature of Virginia, senator of the United States.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

CITY COUNCIL—First Branch, Jan. 20. All members present.

After the proceedings of the previous day having been read, Mr. Cole, jr. of the Sixth ward, presented a petition signed by the Elders, Deacons and Trustees of the German Reform church, on Second street, praying for an appropriation from the city, to assist in repairing the Town Clock Steeple, on the grounds that the bells in said steeple have long been and are now used for the purpose of giving alarm in case of fire. The petition, after some discussion, was referred to the committee on claims.

A petition was offered by Mr. Dryden, signed by various citizens, praying that Mr. Michael Gallagher be not allowed the privilege of carrying on the soap and candle manufacturing business in his establishment. It was represented as a nuisance. On motion, the petition was referred to the committee on health.

A communication was received from the second branch, proposing to refer the documents of the Register to the joint committee on accounts of the Register. Also, assenting to a message from the first branch, proposing to refer the documents from the Register to the joint committee on ways and means.

Mr. DeLoughery presented a report and resolution relative to the Baltimore General Dispensary, which was favorable.

The committee on harbors offered a report relative to the improvement of Jones' Falls, near the Gay street bridge. Also, suggested the erection of a platform on the north-west corner of said bridge, for the better protection of property. The resolutions were passed.

The joint committee on commerce submitted an unfavorable report relative to the petition of C. D. Hinks & Co. for an alteration of the ordinance as regards the shipping of Flaxseed coastwise.

In our report of yesterday, owing to a typographical error, we unintentionally misrepresented the resolution offered by Mr. Brown, in relation to temperance. His resolution did not deprecate the enactment of a law prohibiting licence to be issued for the retailing of spiritous liquors. The object of the resolution was to ask of our Legislature the enactment of a law prohibiting the granting of license for the purpose of selling liquors by the small. Mr. Brown's motives were good, but his resolution was deemed inexpedient.

We are of opinion that no compulsory measures are requisite to produce temperance. One man may lead a horse to water, but fifty cannot make him drink.

SNOW. Yesterday morning another snow storm commenced, and continued falling throughout the day.

WHITE CHIMNEY SWEEPS. The story about white boys being used for the exalted profession of chimney-sweeping, turns out to be no such thing.

IMPUDENCE CHASTISED. A mulatto fellow named Hance, who keeps a small tailor shop in Fayette street near Holliday, was on Tuesday last, very justly corrected for his impudence in writing a highly insulting note to a lady of this city, in regard to her son, J. K. Wilson, as yet a minor. The facts were previously within our possession, but deeming it a matter of but little import, and one which should sink into oblivion without being made to appear in public print, we determined to pass it over and let it die where it should, with the ends of justice.

Another paper in this city, however, gave publicity to the affair through its columns, which, to those unacquainted with the nature of the case, might be improperly construed. The facts are as follows:

Young Wilson, at the time his mother received the insulting note from Hance, the mulatto, was in Washington city, endeavoring to secure a situation in the navy. The purport of the note to Mrs. Wilson was, that if she did not discharge the amount of a small bill which was due by her son, he should be published by his (Hance's) order in the papers. This announcement sunk deep to the heart of the disconsolate mother. She was compelled to live under and endure the impudent threats of a yellow scoundrel who had not been taught to know his place. Wilson, upon his return from Washington, was made acquainted with the treatment his mother had received from Hance, and immediately went to his shop, where he attempted to chastise him. At this juncture, Mr. Schaeffer, who was standing near at the time, on hearing the noise entered the shop to protect Wilson, which he did somewhat at the expense of Hance's physiognomy. The black fellow got what he richly merited for his wanton impudence, though Mr. S. and W. were held to bail in the sum of $50 each for their appearance at that tribunal which never can nor never will sanction the dastardly impudence of either white or colored men writing insulting letters to respectable and unprotected females.

ROBBERY. The hair dressing establishment of Mr. H. Brown, in Holliday near Fayette street, was entered on Monday night, and robbed of a quantity of razors, scissors, shaving boxes, &c., and a small amount of money.

A colored thief entered a grocery store one day last week, with a jug in his hand, and asked for a gallon of vinegar, and while the grocer stepped into his cellar to draw it, the rascal swept the drawer of between five and six dollars in small change, and made his escape. Storekeepers should keep an eye on such customers.—Patriot.

POLICE. A colored woman named Hetty Phillips, charged with threatening the life of Caroline Norman, a white woman, was on Tuesday arrested and brought before Justice Barnard. On giving security to keep the peace she was discharged.—Patriot.

☞ A typographical error occurred yesterday in relation to the amount for which the country seat of the late Philip Littig sold. It should have been $5000, instead of $500.

THE POOR. There is a degree of lukewarmness amongst those of our citizens who have it in their power to do much for the relief of the poor, that does not speak well for them. A gentleman, living in ease and affluence, yesterday, when asked by another to subscribe something towards the poor fund now being raised, replied, "Let the poor take care of themselves. I'm tired of giving. What right have they to be poor?"—This was from the mouth of a member of the church, a "christian," as they are commonly called, by distinction. We might with the same reason ask him what right he has to be rich? The bounties of Providence, it is true, are not equally divided amongst us; yet, we hold it to be the duty of a professed christian to act up to the moral laws which he preaches—to pour balm into the wounds of the afflicted, and give a little to the cause of charity.

NIGHT WATCH. In the Eastern District, all quiet. In the Middle District, James Kelly, was imprisoned for maltreating his wife, and was yesterday morning committed to jail by Justice Gorsuch. John Holland and Peter Nelson, of the U. S. Army, from Fort McHenry, solicited 'quarters' and in the morning discharged. In the Western District, two white men were admitted as lodgers. We regret to state that watchman Fogleman, in making his rounds at 5 o'clock in the morning, accidentally slipped down on some ice, and received considerable injury; it is feared that his leg is broken.

SHIPWRECK. We learn from the Charleston Mercury of the 16th inst. that the schooner Talma, (of New London,) Bolles, from Ocracock, N. C. sailed 2d inst. with a cargo of corn, was abandoned 7th inst. having encountered a succession of gales, sprang bowsprit, started rudder pintles, and caused the vessel to leak so badly that it was found impossible to keep her free. The brig E Pluribus Unum, Bellings, from New York for St. Mary's, Ga. heaving in sight, the master of which vessel kindly received capt. Bolles and his crew on board; they were again transferred on the 12th inst. to the Br. barque Ganges, and reached Charleston on the 15th in a pilot boat.

TIDE WATER CANAL. The chief engineer, says the Philadelphia Ledger, has made an examination along the entire line of the canal since the freshet, and reports that no damage of moment has been sustained. But two breaches had occurred, both of which can be repaired in a few days. At a point opposite the Conestoga, the water rose so high as to place the tow path ten feet under water, sweeping off stables and outhouses on the shore side of the canal, and compelling the inhabitants of the houses in the vicinity to escape from the upper stories.

ELECTION RIOTS are not peculiar to the United States alone. One took place at Conception Bay, Newfoundland, in which a magistrate had his skull fractured, and five or six persons were wounded by the discharge of a gun from a window. The house from which the gun was fired was burnt down by the mob, and another was pulled down. The council, at St. John, finding the civil authorities at Conception Bay insufficient to quell the disturbances, sent one hundred troops in a vessel for that purpose.

MICHIGAN. The public works of Michigan yield as yet no income. The governor recommends the completion of those first which will pay the interest on the cost. The aggregate sum expended on works of internal improvement, the last year, was $463,816 85. The expense of sustaining the state government for the first four years of its existence, was nearly $400,000 beyond the means provided for that purpose.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT. Mr. Jeremiah Bennett, a workman in the Sandwich (Mass.) Glass Factory, rolled in separate papers in one day last week, four thousand three hundred and sixteen tumblers! Some one noting the number by a watch, saw him pack twelve dozen in six minutes! Tumblers, before they are packed into casks for shipping, are each carefully placed in paper.

INFRINGING A PATENT. Compit Thaddeus Manchester has been committed to prison, in Providence, by order of the circuit court of the United States for that district, for violating an injunction of said court in making and selling friction matches in infringement of a patent right belonging to the "American Friction Match Company of Boston."

GOOD SALARIES. The sum received by the U. S. district attorney at New York, during the last year, is $28,009 07; by the clerk of the court, $19,469 92. The marshal of Mississippi received $87,150. A new law has been reported to make these and all similar offices salary offices, at $5,000 per annum.

HARTFORD REVIEW. Dr. to Baltimore Clipper—"Ballad, in imitation of Hood, by STICKS." Cr.—Nothing. Do you take, you confounded thieving yankee? The next time we'll send a state's warrant after you.

A QUEER BILL. A bill lately passed one branch of the Iowa legislature, to "partially dissolve the bands of matrimony between John Philips and Nancy Philips."

ANTI-SLAVERY FAIR. At a fair lately held in Boston by the anti-slavery society of that city, the sale of articles realized the handsome sum of $2000.

KILLED. Mr. Charles Myers, of Alleghany township, Pennsylvania, was killed by the falling of the limb of a tree, on Monday of last week, while cutting wood in a forest.

THE NAVY. The North American says, the impression at Washington now is that commodore Stewart is to be offered the navy department.

NOT TRUE. The New York Planet says we have been appointed a bank director. No such good luck, friend.

MARRIED,

On the 19th inst., by the Rev. J. G. Hamner, of Baltimore, GEO. W. AIKEN, of Louisiana, to HENRIETTA ECHARIA, daughter of Dr. Howes Goldsborough, of Howard district, Anne Arundel county, Md.

DIED,

On Monday, 18th inst. Miss ELIZA KREBS, aged 42 years, after a severe illness, which she bore with Christian fortitude.

On Tuesday morning, 19th inst. after protracted ill health, in the 75th year of his age, GANNON MCDOWELL, for many years a respectable inhabitant and stationer of this city.

On the 7th instant, MARY ELIZA GALLAWAY, infant daughter of Aquilla and Margaret Gallaway, aged 11 months.

On the 19th inst. PHILIP G. only son of Samuel and Joanna Ellison, aged 15 months.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Schr Edwin, Hinkley, Jacksonville.

ARRIVED.

Ship Powhatan, Briggs, 26 days from Liverpool to the Capes, dry goods, hardware and salt.

Barque Alloth, Todd, from New Orleans 24th Dec. sugar, molasses, cotton, &c.

Schr Fawn, Washburn, from Boston, plaster.

☞ A Special Meeting of the STANDING COMMITTEE of the BALTIMORE UNITED FIRE DEPARTMENT, for 1840, will be held at the City Hall THIS EVENING, at 7 o'clock. It is very desirable there should be a full meeting.

ja21-1t JAMES O. LAW, Chairman.

HOWARD FIRE COMPANY.

☞ A special meeting of the Howard Fire Company will be held THIS (Thursday) EVENING, 21st inst. at 7 o'clock. Punctual attendance is requested.

ja21-1t* By order, SAM'L REESE, Sec'y.

BALTIMORE MUSICAL ASSOCIATION.

☞ Ladies and Gentlemen, members of the Association, will please bear in mind that there will be a Rehearsal on THURSDAY EVENING, the 21st inst. at 7 o'clock. The Oratorio of David is now in Rehearsal, and it is desirable to perform it as early as possible. In order to accomplish this object, members are particularly solicited to be punctual in attendance, that the Choirs may be properly arranged.

ja20-3t [r] THOS. G. PEACHEY, Sec'y.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The FEMALE TEMPERANCE SOCIETY, No. 1, will hold a public meeting in Wilk st. church on FRIDAY EVENING next, at half past 6 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. S. K. JENNINGS will address the meeting.

W. H. WATSON, President

ja20-3t [ASS] of the H. T. S.

STATE ARMORY AND TOWN HALL LOTTERY,

CLASS TWO FOR 1841.

To be drawn in Baltimore, on THURSDAY, January 28, 1841.

10,000 DOLLARS!!!

100 PRIZES OF 1,000 DOLLARS EACH!

TICKETS but $5—Shares in proportion.

Is there a man, woman or child, in the city of Baltimore, who will not contribute towards the erection of the State Armory and Town Hall, and at the same time secure a chance for an independent fortune, in the Lottery to be drawn on the 28th instant.

CAPITAL PRIZE $10,000—Who'll have it?

Don't all speak at once!

Brilliant Scheme.

1 PRIZE of	$10,000 is	$10,000
100	1,000	100,000
10	600	6,000
10	400	4,000
10	300	3,000
20	200	4,000
100	100	10,000
100	60	6,000
100	50	5,000
100	40	4,000
100	30	3,000
200	25	5,000
1,000	20	20,000
2,000	10	20,000
10,000	8	80,000
10,000	7	70,000
10,000	5	50,000

33,851 PRIZES,—amounting to $400,000

TICKETS FIVE DOLLARS.

Halves $2,50—Quarters $1,25.

The undersigned having been appointed Fortune's special agent for the sale of Prizes in the State Armory and Town Hall Lottery, invites the public to call and choose for themselves,—"first come first served."

Apply to EDMUND BULL,

Agent for the Town Hall Commissioners. } No. 7 N. Gay-st.

ja21

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,
80 BALTIMORE STREET,
BELOW FRANKLIN BANK.

15 40 65 One of the Capital Prizes in yesterday's Maryland State Lottery, class 3, and sold at this office. The following are the drawn numbers—lowest prize $5:

10 68 32 25 24 41 48 74 27 54 28 5

Drawn numbers of Alexandria Lottery, class B, on 19th inst.—lowest prize 4:

TO-DAY, Alexandria Lottery, class C—75 Nos.—12 Drawn Ballots.

GRAND SCHEME.

1 Prize of	$10,000		1 Prize of		$1000
1 "	4000		1 "		1200
1 "	2500		95 "		1000
1 "	2000		95 "		900, &c.

Whole Tickets $4—Halves $2—Quarters $1.

Certificate of Package of	Wholes, only	$59 20
do	do Halves,	29 60
do	do Quarters,	14 80

☞ All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address. E. W. ROBINSON,

No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.

Agent for the State of Maryland. ja21-1t

GRAND FANCY BALL.

THE EUTAW FISHING CLUB'S ANNIVERSARY FANCY BALL will take place at CENTRAL HALL, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, 27th inst. The different Clubs of the city are respectfully invited to attend. Tickets $1—to be had of the following MANAGERS:

John Nant,	Lewis Chandler,
Edward Cherry,	George Deal,
John Bell,	William Nicholson,
William G. Watkins,	Samuel Thompson,
Isaac Thomas,	Lewis Seltzer,
William Godman,	Joseph E. Wilson,
David Patterson,	Charles McDonald,
John Rider,	Thomas Nicholson.

ja21-1w [s] CHAS. L. SPIES, Ballet Master.

BALTIMORE SATURDAY VISITER.

THIS PAPER, of the 23d inst. will contain the beginning of a document, (to be concluded the week after,) giving an explanation of the DOCTRINES and PRACTICES OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH, sanctioned and approved by the Most Rev'd Archbishop of Baltimore. Objections to and defences of this document will be given in subsequent numbers.

☞ Single copies can be had at the Office of the Visiter, No. 2½ N. Gay street. Subscription, per annum, two dollars in advance. ja21 7t*

REAL ESTATE. The subscriber buys and sells, on Commission, HOUSES, FARMS, VACANT LOTS GROUND RENTS, &c. The facilities for the sale of Real Estate are greater than any other in the United States. GEORGE GELBACH,

City Intelligence, Real Estate and Agency Office, ja21 [s] Corner Baltimore and Frederick-sts.

SERVANTS. Persons in want of Servants at any time, are respectfully informed that they can be supplied at short notice, by application at the City Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. [s] ja21

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer ! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving gafflicted Man.
To Dr. Swayne.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel differently—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently depends on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER, Jr.
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
jy28-y

SHOULDER BRACES.

THESE ARTICLES, for the purpose of keeping the shoulders erect, are highly recommended by the FACULTY, for the prevention and assistance of a WEAK BREAST. They can be had of the best quality and manufacture, of

H. WARREN,
Stock Maker,
No. 4 North street,
Next door to the Patriot Office.
ja21-co

HENRY WARREN,
FORMERLY AT T. TENANT'S,
(No. 3 South street,)

BEGS leave to inform his friends and the public, that he has taken a store at No. 4 NORTH-ST. next door to the Patriot office, where he is manufacturing a STOCK of superior quality. The following Merchant Tailors, of known standing in their profession, having examined and expressed their approbation of the Stock, have kindly allowed me to make use of their names as references to the public: John Patterson, John R. Kehn, James Broughton, Oren & Moreling.

☞ RIDING BELTS, SHOULDER BRACES, SUSPENDERS, LINEN COLLARS and BOSOMS made to order. ja21-eo

A PARTNER WANTED, with a small capital, in a respectable and lucrative business, offering such favorable inducements as are rarely or never met with. As the object of the advertiser is not so much for capital as for the INTERESTED services of the desired partner and his business qualifications, references will be required. Applications, stating the amount of capital, with name and residence, left at the City Intelligence Office, corner of Frederick and Baltimore sts. will be attended to. [A] ja21

WANTED TO PURCHASE, a Colored Boy from 14 to 20 years of age, a slave for life, of good character—for a respectable gentleman's own use—for which a fair price will be given in cash. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. [A] ja21

THE DOLLAR MAGAZINE,
A NEW MONTHLY PERIODICAL, BY THE CONDUCTORS OF THE BROTHER JONATHAN—The cheapest Magazine in Christendom. The first number of a new Magazine under the above title will be issued from the office of the Brother Jonathan, 162 Nassau street, New York. It will, besides choice Tales, Sketches, and Poetry, from the most eminent American and British pens, contain five Beautiful WOOD ENGRAVINGS, a new and popular piece of Music, 'A Catch,' &c. &c.

TERMS. The Dollar Magazine will be issued on the 15th of EVERY MONTH, embracing thirty-two large quarto pages, and sent to subscribers by mail, at One Dollar a year, in advance. Single copies, 10 cts.

For sale at 142 NORTH-ST, near the Post Office.
ja20-3t* WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

WILLIAM H. KIMBALL & CO.
No. 143 BALTIMORE STREET,

MERCHANT TAILORS, and DEALERS in Broad Cloths; Cassimeres; Vestings; Beaver and Pilot Cloths; Cassinets; Flannels; 180 doz. black, white, and colored Hosiery; Handkerchiefs; Shirts; Drawers; Worsteds; Neck Stocks; Scarfs; Collars; Bosoms; Suspenders, &c. &c.

Also, a large and extensive assortment of ready-made Clothing, consisting of Dress and Frock Coats; Pantaloons; Vests, and Over Coats—which will be sold at the lowest possible prices for cash. ja8

NORTHERN TROTTING HORSES,
FOR SALE. Will be sold low, if immediate application be made, a three minute TROTTING HORSE, seven years old, warranted sound in every respect.

Also, a Saddle and Harness HORSE, of fine style and action, six years old, warranted sound. They can be seen at the Western Hotel Livery Stable, corner of Saratoga and Howard streets.
ja29-eo4t*

CLOCKS! CLOCKS!!
THE subscribers have opened a Store at No. 34 S. CHARLES STREET, for the sale of their celebrated CLOCKS. They have now on hand, and are constantly receiving, large supplies from their manufactory in the city of New York, Brass and Wood Eight-day, One-day, and Alarm CLOCKS, of every variety of style, and of superior workmanship and finish, which they warrant and offer at wholesale to dealers, at their lowest factory prices.

SMITH & BROTHERS.
ja1-1y

TEN DOLLARS REWARD.
THE subscriber's Carpenter's Shop was entered between Saturday night and Monday morning, and a number of TOOLS taken therefrom—among them was a Brace and Bit, with the letters W. K. marked on the stock. Pawnbrokers and others are requested to stop them should they be offered for sale. The above reward will be paid for the recovery of the Tools and apprehension and conviction of the thief.

WILLIAM KRAGER, Mulberry-st.
ja29-2t* 3 doors west of Pine street.

THE PATENT COFFEE CLEARER.
THOSE who are fond of a "GOOD CUP OF COFFEE" are requested to try the above article, which will be found to be of unsurpassed utility in settling Coffee. It is also much cheaper and more handy than any thing else which is used for the same purpose—a small piece, thrown into the coffee while boiling, will make it as transparent as amber—price 12½ cents at retail. For sale by

W. J. VAN NESS, Grocer,
n27-tf Market Space.

COMPOUND SYRUP of Wild CHERRY.
DR. H. SWAYNE has appointed RICHARD NORRIS, of William, Druggist, No. 254 Market street, Sole Agent for the sale of his COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY in Baltimore.

☞ A full supply always on hand—wholesale and retail. ja20-1m

TO LET. The convenient and recently improved HOUSE, in Canal two doors north of Holland street. It is well calculated for the residence of a large family, and for economy of internal arrangements it is not excelled in the city. To a punctual tenant it may be obtained at a fair rent. Apply to Samuel H. Goldsmith, N. Calvert street, three doors north of the Universalist Church. ja19-eo3t

FOR RENT. A HOUSE, situated in Calvert street, containing ten Rooms, a handsome yard in front and back of the House—at a very low rent. Apply at No. 71 Market street, opposite Holliday-st. ja20-3t C. SISCO.

FOR SALE, THE STOCK AND FIXTURES of a small Grocery Store, in Old Town, and part of the attached dwelling for rent. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. ja20 [A]

WANTED. Two Female FRINGE WEAVERS. Inquire at the Fringe and Tassel Manufactory of C. SISCO, ja20-3t No. 71 Market street.

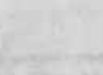
FOR RENT, a large dry front CELLAR, situated corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. Apply on the premises, to GEORGE GELBACH.
ja20 [A]

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE



TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 Exchange Place,

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by ages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000	may be had on	MONDAY, for	$5 00
10,000	"	TUESDAY,	4 00
20,000	"	WEDNESDAY,	5 00
12,000	"	THURSDAY,	4 00
6,000	"	FRIDAY,	2 00
30,000	"	SATURDAY,	10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to. ja7-3m

P. B. SCHÆFFER,
(SUCCESSOR TO BARKER & CO.)
156 BALTIMORE STREET.

$30,000. What friend of our's has got the $30,000 drawn on Saturday last in the Alexandria Lottery, class No. 1, comb. 8, 20, 45. The holder will please hand it in for payment. Nos. 20, 31, 62, a prize of $250 returned for want of a purchaser—as we have said before, it is only necessary to buy a ticket at Schaffer's office to secure a prize. Drawn Nos. Alexandria Lottery, No. 1.

20 8 45 7 68 65 31 50 52 13 72 67 15 62 12

Brilliant Lotteries for the Week:

TODAY, Alexandria Lottery, class B, Capital prize $12,000; 50 of $500, &c. Tickets $4.

WEDNESDAY, 30th, Maryland State Lottery, class 3. Capitals $20,000, 4,500, &c. Tickets $5.

On THURSDAY, Alexandria Lottery, Class C—capital prize $10,000. Tickets $4.

On FRIDAY, Virginia State Lottery, Extra, class No. 4, to be drawn at Alexandria, Va. Capitals of $10,000, 4,000, &c. 78 Nos. 14 Ballots. Tickets $3.

On SATURDAY, in Baltimore, Consolidated Lottery of Maryland, class No. 2, 66 Nos. and 8 Ballots. Extra capitals, 4 of $10,000, 5000, 4487, 3 of 3,500, &c. Tickets $10 —shares in proportion.

☞ For Lucky Tickets, apply to

P. B. SCHÆFFER,
Successor to Barker & Co.
156 Baltimore street, corner of St. Paul's-st.

Where more prizes have been sold and paid than at any other office within the United States.

☞ Orders for Tickets, in any Lotteries under the management of D. S. Gregory & Co., thankfully received and promptly attended to—and the result of the drawing sent immediately after it is received. To insure a prize, you must address

ja19 P. B. SCHÆFFER, Baltimore, Md.

DOYLE'S PRATT-ST. PRIZE DEPOT.
MORE PRIZES! Two of the Capitals were sold at this ever Lucky Office, in the Alexandria Lottery, class 1 of 1841, drawn on the 16th—combination 8, 12, 45, and comb. 20, 67, 68. And no later than last Tuesday the handsome capital prize of $2131. The following are the drawn numbers:

20 8 45 7 68 65 31 50 52 13 72 67 15 62 12

Persons wanting prizes will please bear in mind that this is the Lucky place.

On THIS DAY, 20th, the Maryland State Lottery will be drawn in Baltimore. Capital prize $20,000. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On THURSDAY, Alexandria Lottery, $10,000. For only $4.

On FRIDAY, Virginia Lottery, $10,000—For $3.

On SATURDAY, Maryland State, four prizes of $10,000—and no blanks.

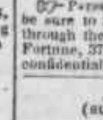
Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞ For Prizes in the above Lotteries, and all Lotteries authorized in the State of Maryland, apply to, or address, M. DOYLE, No. 24 Pratt st.,

Opposite the B. & O. Railroad Depot, Baltimore.

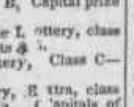
☞ Orders by mail for packages of Tickets; single Tickets, or Shares of Tickets, enclosing cash or prize Tickets, from any part of the United States, will meet with prompt and personal attention, if addressed as above. ja29

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.



The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again, and if any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $2.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $3. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate

HATS!
HATS!!
HATS!!!
HATS!!!!
HATS!!!!!



Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at

W. H. KEEVIL & CO'S,
No. 66½ Baltimore-st., opposite Tripolett's alley,
And 4 doors W. of Bool's well known Auction Store.
d16-tmh10

FOR RENT. That large three story DWELLING and STORE, No. 41 N. Gay-st., adjoining the German Lutheran Church. For a Boarding house, perhaps there could not be a house better calculated, as to location and convenience, it being but a short distance from the market, and near Baltimore street—it is open and airy, with extensive back buildings, and has dry cellars under the whole—added to which, the water is brought into the kitchen, and directly above is the Bath house, &c. To a good tenant the rent will be made low. Apply to the subscriber, who has, and always keeps, a full assortment of the most Fashionable CABINET FURNITURE, at the lowest prices, for cash, or good acceptances.

EDWIN S. TARR,
ja18-tf No. 4 Gay, near Baltimore street.

MOTHERS, who have children suffering with cough or cold, should procure HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY. It is very pleasant, and Children do not object to it.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

FOUND, in Baltimore street, last evening, a black Velvet RETICULE, containing sundry articles, amongst which is a Purse with some money in it—also a Cambric Cap of very small dimensions. The lady who lost it, can obtain the same by applying at this office and paying for this advertisement. ja16-3t

CURRANTS AND CRANBERRIES.
500 POUNDS FRESH CURRANTS
7 bbls Superior CRANBERRIES
For sale by MARCUS DENNISON,
d24 31 Baltimore street.

BOY TO HIRE. For hire, a Colored BOY, about 13 years of age—he understands waiting, and will be hired by the year on low terms.

Apply at the City Intelligence Office. [A] ja7

☞ Dr T. L. MURPHY has resumed the Practice of Medicine. Office No. 69 BOND STREET, a few doors S. of Allisanna street. d19-tf

SERVANTS. Persons in want of Servants of any kind, will be promptly supplied by applying at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. [A] d20

DRY GOODS, &c.

CHEAP LINEN CAMBRIC HDKFS.

JUST RECEIVED, an additional supply of those cheap Linen Cambric HDKFS. which we have been selling off very fast. Ladies who have not as yet supplied themselves, now have another opportunity—Gents may rely on finding them at very reduced prices, by calling on

DORSEY & NELSON, No. 13 Baltimore-st.
ja8-eo2w 3d door west of Market Space.

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,

Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.

With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.

oc2 EDW. J. RICHARDSON.

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 43 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are LOWER than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.

N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

DRY GOODS.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN are invited to call at No. 60 HANOVER STREET, where they will find bargains in a general assortment of Dry Goods, which it is the proprietor's purpose to close without regard to cost, with a view of supplying their place with an entire fresh stock, among which will be found every variety of Blankets and Flannels, Cassinets, Cassimeres and Cloths, Damask Table Cloths and Napkins, various sizes, Table Diaper, Sheetings, Irish Linens, fine Bombazines, Merinos, figured Cloth and Damask Cotton Table Covers, green and fancy figured Baize, Marseilles Counterpanes, Chintzes, Calicoes, Moudin de Laine, &c. Furniture Calicoes, Cambric, Swiss, Curtain and other Muslins, large assortment of gentlemen's and ladies' Hosiery of every quality, with a quantity of other goods too numerous to particularize in an advertisement.

GEORGE BEVAN,
ja20 [F] No. 60 Hanover street.

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mousseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½ super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7-8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid, Swiss MUSLIN, 12½ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damask do do 18¾
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25: childrens' 12½
Ladies' 7-8 Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Colo'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
BED TICKINGS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.

E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.
LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6p
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6p
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 6p
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleven
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 6p
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Toweling, fringed, 6p each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleven
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mousseline de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quarter and 6p
Excellent LINSEY, eleven and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 6ps
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 6ps
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quarters
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Broche do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quarter and 6p
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6p
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleven
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quarters
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6p

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES; French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞ All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.
o3-tf

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d13-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

ELIJAH McDOWELL'S
CITY INTELLIGENCE AND GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE, No. 3 Fayette street, Basement story of Barnum's City Hotel, (formerly occupied by Lewis F. Scott,) where is wanted daily, Clerks; Overseers; Porters; Gardeners; Teachers; Barkeepers; Apprentices; Waiters; Coachmen; Agents; Mechanics; Laborers; Farm Hands; Ostlers; Housekeepers; Chambermaids; Nurses; Seamstresses; Cooks, &c. &c.—who must come well recommended to insure situations. Slaves for life or term of years bought and sold; Stores, Taverns, Bar-rooms, and Business Establishments, disposed of at private sale; Tenants procured for Houses, Warehouses, Stores, Farms, &c. Persons at a distance, wishing to be informed of the state of the market, of any article bought or sold, can be accommodated without charge; but all communications on business must come, post-paid, to insure attention. Insolvent Papers prepared at a low rate; all kinds of writing correctly executed; Books posted at moderate charges and kept out of view of spectators. The subscriber, intending to devote his whole attention to the above business, begs the patronage of a generous public. Satisfactory references by

ja19-3m ELIJAH McDOWELL.

READ THIS TO-DAY, IF NOT, TO-MORROW.

CHEAPEST AND BEST BOOK (for the price) ever published—Four Hundred Pages, 8vo. fine paper, handsomely bound in gilt muslin, and lettered. Price TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent clergymen and reviewers. Numerous testimonials like the following can be produced: From the rev. Spencer H. Cone, President of the American and Foreign Bible Society:—Accept my sincere thanks for a copy of your SPLENDID "PICTORIAL ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE BIBLE." I have looked it over with much pleasure. The work is handsomely executed, and not only contains many interesting facts, and correct representations of men and manners in the East, but is also offered at a price unusually low. My hope is that it may obtain extensive patronage.

For sale by WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. Moore's Bookstore, No. 74 Market street, one door below Holliday, and No. 28 N. Gay-st.

☞ The trade will be supplied and a liberal discount allowed. [ja19] W. N. H.

IMPORTANT TO THOSE AFFLICTED WITH COUGHS & COLDS.

RICH'D THOMPSON'S LIFE PRESERVER, a new and valuable remedy for the relief and removal of the most distressing Colds and Coughs.

The subscriber has been induced to offer this Medicine to the Public from his personal knowledge of its effects, and the testimony of those who have been the subjects of its operation. In no instance within his knowledge (and they have been many) has it failed to give immediate relief to the patient, and ultimately to remove the most distressing cough, brought on by taking cold. In cases of Consumption, nothing is promised beyond relief. This Medicine is equally applicable to Children. Agent for Baltimore,

ROBERT H. COLEMAN & CO.
No. 133 Market street.

Where numerous certificates of its efficacy, from persons of respectable standing, will be shown if necessary. ja13-6w*

FANCY AND WORSTED STORE.

THE subscriber has on hand, and offers for sale a large and general assortment of Fine Worsted Patterns, Zephyr Worsted, Thick & Working Chenille, Saddler's Floss, Sewing and Twist Silk for Purses, Silk, Cotton and Worsted Canfas, Perforated, Board and Hair Cloth for Worsted Work, Ladies' Knitted Worsted Caps, Baby's Bonnetts, Boy's Gaiters and Scarfs, Silk and Worsted Fringe, Black Silk Lace, Silk Velvet for Head Bands, Belts and Cuffs, Ladies' and Children's Worsted Mittens, Knit Muffs, Knitting Yarn, Linen and Cotton Tape and Cord, &c.

ALSO—A general assortment of Work and Fancy Baskets and Boxes; Ivory, Shell, and Horn Combs; Jewelry; Needles and Pins; Toys, &c. &c.

G. B. MITTNACHT,
No. 58 Lexington-st., 5th door above Howard-st.
o23-eo3m [A]

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞ Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

se17-tf E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
PAPER DEALERS,
No. 2 SOUTH CHARLES STREET,

HAVE FOR SALE—500 reams Fine Medium Printing PAPER

300	reams	Superfine Medium Printing PAPER
150	do	Medium and a half do	do
1000	do	News Paper, various sizes	do
300	do	Colored Medium	do
100	do	do Cover	do
2500	do	Ruled and Plain Letter	do
2000	do	Ruled and plain Cap	do
500	do	Flat Cap	do
200	do	Fine Writing	do
100	do	Medium Writing	do
50	do	Royal and Superroyal	do

Binder's Boards; Bandbox do; Trunk do; Straw do; Press Paper; Hardware; Grocers and Cloth Paper; Russia Skins. ja18

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, elecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and boneset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

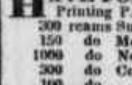
Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North-st. d12-y

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE. That the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court of Baltimore county, letters of administration on the personal estate of JOHN P. MEVERDICKS, late of said county, deceased. All persons, having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, on or before the 22d day of June, 1841, they may otherwise be excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons, indebted to the said estate, are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand, this 22d day of December, 1840.

d23-1aw4t BRANTZ MAYER, Adm'r.

PIANO FORTES AND VIOLINS.



The subscriber offers for sale, on reasonable terms, three German PIANO FORTES, just imported from the celebrated Factory of Ryan & Fechter, Cassel. They are of superior tone and fine touch.

ALSO—A number of choice VIOLINS, selected with great care, being superior to any that can be had in this country. JOHN METZ, No. 69 Gay-st. (O. T.)

ja13 tf Opposite the Independent Engine House.

FOR SALE, RIGHTS OR RECIPES to manufacture and sell an article which is in daily use of every family, and which, with a capital of one to two hundred dollars, will yield 3 to 6 dollars per day. Any person wishing to engage in a profitable business of the kind can, by calling at the Eagle Hotel, Pratt street, see samples of the article, and receive further information; or apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets.

ja20 [A]

STRAYED OR STOLEN,

From the subscriber's Farm, four and a half miles from Baltimore, on the York Road, on Sunday night last, a Black HORSE, about 16 hands high, the off fore and hind feet white, and a white star in the forehead, about six years old, had a long seam on the off hind quarter, caused by a stake. Twenty dollars reward will be paid for his return, if strayed, or fifty, if stolen, with the detection of the thief.

ja15-eo4t* ANDREW R. ARMOUR.

BY H. W. BOOL,
No. 60 Baltimore street.

A DAY SALE.

TO Gentlemen of the Bar, Students, Booksellers, Dealers, &c. The Private Library of a Gentleman of the Bar. The Miscellaneous and Classical LIBRARY of the same gentleman—among which are some first rate books on Divinity. Also, the entire Fancy Stock of a Bookseller. The particulars will be found in the American and Patriot newspapers.

The above, with many other articles, will be sold at my Public Sale on THURSDAY MORNING, 21st instant, commencing at 10 o'clock precisely. Sale for cash, no reserve, and for bankable paper.

After which, a very large collection of JEWELRY, Watches; Fancy Articles; Dry Goods; Clothing; Boots; Shoes; Furniture; and Household Effects generally.

H. W. BOOL, Auctioneer.
ja20-2t

TO Cabinetmaker's, Carpenters, Turners, Dealers, &c. 3000 feet of VENEERS of the best quality, in lots to suit. A new and latent Tenanting Machine of great power. FURNITURE of every kind; Mechanics' Tools; Household Effects; Dry Goods; Hardware, &c. will be sold at my Auction Store at half past 10 o'clock on MORNING, 22d inst. It is hoped every person who may intend to attend will feel an interest will attend. H. W. BOOL, Auct'r.
ja20 H.

BY WEVER, CANNON & CO.
No. 28 S. Charles street.

Sale of China, Glass and Liverpool Ware.

ON THURSDAY MORNING, 21st Jan. inst. at 10 o'clock, we will sell, without reserve, for cash, the residue of the rich China, Glass and Liverpool Wares, contained in warehouse No. 3 Charles-st. known as "China Hall," consisting in part of gold band and gold flowered Tea Sets, Dinner Sets, Dessert Sets do., Liverpool Dining Sets, Toilet do., Bowls, Plates, Dishes, &c. &c.; heavy cut Tumblers, Wines, Hock Glasses, Decanters, Celleries, &c. together with a rich collection of fancy articles.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of the public, and especially private families, to this sale, which will be positive. The articles will be arranged for examination the day previous to sale.

ja19 WEVER, CANNON & Co. Auct's.

TRUSTEES SALE OF SILKS, SATINS AND WINES, &c. By order of the Trustees we will sell on FRIDAY MORNING, 22d inst at 10 o'clock, at the second floor of our warehouse, No. 28 S. Charles street, a rich and handsome lot of whole and cut pieces of plain and figured SILKS and SATINS, among which we will name, Gro de Naples, Poult de Soi, Imperials, Italian Lastrings, Beltings, plain and colo'd Satins, &c. &c.

Also, immediately after the close of the above, we shall sell an invoice of very superior German & French WINES, in bottles, belonging to the same concern, consisting of Assmannshauser, Muscat, Erbacter, Rudesheimer, Graves, Rhenish, Sweet and 4 casks Madeira. Terms cash in bankable money.

ja19 WEVER, CANNON & CO. Auct.

THE VERY BEST
FAMILY NEWSPAPER
IN THE UNITED STATES.
THE OCEAN
AND BALTIMORE WEEKLY CLIPPER
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING,
By BULL & TUTTLE,
EDITED BY
SAMUEL BARNES, JOHN H. HEWITT, and JOHN WILLS,
AT ONLY $1.50 PER ANNUM,

IS one of the cheapest and best FAMILY NEWSPAPERS now published. Being made up from the columns of the DAILY CLIPPER, comprising all the current NEWS of the week, TALES, POETRY, &c. &c. embracing a greater variety of interesting matter than can be found in any other newspaper publication extant. The paper is carefully mailed EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, and sent to subscribers in every part of the Union. Subscriptions $1.50 per annum, always payable in advance.

☞ All letters must be addressed (post paid) to
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 N. Gay street, Baltimore, Md.

N. B. Single copies of the Ocean and Weekly Clipper can always be had at the Office, with or without wrappers—price 6¼ cents. ja15 d

VALLIER'S FRENCH PILL, FOR THE CURE OF SECRET DISEASES. One box of these inestimable Pills is worth all the Quack Medicines in the world.

COMMENT. If we examine the nature of the above diseases, and the situation of the parts affected, we must consider it a very important object to be able to obtain a remedy at once certain in its action, and at the same time composed of such ingredients as will prevent the possibility of discovery while using it. It is a fact well known to many, that most of the remedies offered for these diseases are composed of such nauseous drugs, as to render it almost impossible to continue their use without creating a sickness at the stomach or other unpleasant consequences. Such being the case there can be no doubt but such a remedy as Vallier's French Pills, will meet the universal approbation, being entirely free from those objections; pleasant in their operation, and prompt in removing the disease. The proprietor would here remark, that the efficacy of these Pills in the disorders alluded to, are not based upon supposition; on the contrary, it is founded upon rational experience, having used them in a successful practice for upwards of two years, he feels confident of their superiority over the remedies hitherto employed.

☞ Price one dollar per box. For sale in Baltimore by SETH S. HANCE, ja11-y Corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. Williams, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the first bottle produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 56 cents per bottle.

Prepared and for sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt-sts., Baltimore.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,
(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland,)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman-Doric Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as good quality and as cheap as can be purchased at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.

d23-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

COTTON FACTORY—For Sale or Rent.

FOR Manufacturing Cotton WADDING & LAPS. The Machinery of the above Factory is propelled by a first rate Four horse Steam Engine. I will sell for cash, or on a liberal credit on approved endorsed notes. This is a rare chance for an industrious person with a small capital—the Factory is well

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

FINANCES OF MASSACHUSETTS. T[he] report of the treasurer of Massachusetts states the whole of the funded debt of the state, exclu[sive] of the loan of script to certain railroads, $[illegible] 96,137. Besides this debt, the state has loaned its credit to five different railroads, by the is[sue] of script bearing interest at 5 per cent. an[d] redeemable mostly at different periods from 18[57 to 1870, and] which amount to $4,450,000. The principal receipts of the revenue during the year were, from the bank tax $344,368; an[d] from the auction tax $52,746. The principal expenses amount to $276,600; of which $96,377 were for the pay of the members of the legisl[ature, and $71,162] for salaries, civil, judicial and military. The income of 1841 from sources a[lready provided, is] likely to fall short of $400,[illegible]00.

TROUT FISHING. The following is recommended by some sporting character as the best method of catching trout. Get your eye upon a good sized trou[t,] walk carefully into the water just in his rear, place your hand just forward of his tail, and co[m]mence tickling along his belly towards his head. You must continue this operation until you have got your hand just anterior to the forward fins, when you are to slip the fore finger dexterously through the gills, and whip the trout from his native element before he has had time to reflect on the ticklish condition in which he has been caught.—Phil. Chron.

NORTH RIVER STEAMERS. The Superior, which left Fishkill on Sunday evening for New York, with passengers and the northern mail on board, is froze up opposite West Point. She can neither get up nor down. The Kosciusko, yesterday, attempted to reach her, but did not succeed. She has no fuel on board, and perhaps nothing to eat. The passengers must wait patiently till the ice will permit them to go ashore thereon.

APPLICATIONS FOR DIVORCE. The legislature of New Jersey has been in session but a few days, and five petitions for divorce from marriage have been already presented.

THE END OF HIS GAME. The Paris papers announce the death of M. de la Bourdonnais, the celebrated chess-player, said to be the most skilful and the most uniformly successful in the world.

HENRY TWEEDALE, postmaster at Harrisonburg, Va. died recently. He was postmaster for forty years, and received his appointment from Washington. He is said to have been the eldest postmaster in the United States.

A correspondent of the London Morning Post gravely says—"By the explosion at Acre 2000 souls were shattered into 10,000 atoms in an instant!" Five atoms are therefore equal to one soul.

MORE WHALEMEN. The enterprising citizens of Provincetown, Mass. are turning their attention to the whaling business, and will fit out the coming season no less than thirteen vessels. For the last three years the cod fishery has proved unprofitable.

DROWNED. A few days since a woman who was crossing the American channel of the St. Lawrence from Hinckley's to Cape Vincent, broke through the ice and was drowned.

A FAILURE. Braham has not succeeded in drawing full houses at Boston.

Thank ye, friend—that's a compliment. We steam it highly. [Sunday Mercury.

Candid, at any rate; what does your sermon monger, Dow, jr. say about it?

UNCOMMON CALF. We saw yesterday, at "Head Quarters," a calf, seventeen months old, which weighed 765 lbs. It was raised by Mr. Joseph Smith, of Springfield township, New Jersey, and we have never seen one at that age which would compare with it in beauty, size and weight. [Phil. Chronicle.

Do you ever look into a mirror?

The Montreal Gazette announces in a quasi official manner, that Sir George Arthur will embark for England in the course of a few weeks. General Sir Richard Jackson, will, it is supposed, succeed him in the government of Upper Canada, temporarily at least.

"IN JOINING CONTRASTS LIETH LOVE'S DELIGHTS."—A few evenings since, in West Feliciana, Louisiana, a Mr. Tomb, about 25 years of age, espoused a Mrs. Butler, who had arrived at the matronly age of 65. It is quite natural that Mrs. Butler, at her age, should think of hastening to the Tombs.

PUBLIC LANDS. Mr. Calhoun's motion to cede the public lands to the states in which they lie, was negatived in the Senate on Tuesday last by a vote of 22 to 18. We rejoice at this decision, as it indicates that the right of the old states to a participation in the benefits to be derived from the public lands, is still to be respected.

CELESTE, the Courier des Etats Unis says, is coming back to this country in the Columbia, now daily expected at Boston.

FORREST is making a great hit in Charleston, S. C. The Mercury says he is superior to his fame.

STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT. A steamboat crossing from Brooklyn to Catharine street ferry, N. Y. on Monday last, ran foul of and upset a sailboat, by which accident a boatman named Charles Peterson was drowned.

NEW YORK THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY. This institution has one hundred and seven students, and the best theological library, it is said, in America. David Leavitt, esq. of Brooklyn, has subscribed $25,000 towards increasing its permanent fund.

MILITARY MOVEMENT. The Buffalo, N. Y. papers state that two companies of artillery have been ordered from that station to Lockport. Rumor attributes this to an anticipated attempt of the Canadians to rescue McLeod.

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

M. H. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 62 S. CALVERT STREET, keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c. d22-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 27 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. d22-y

MARX H. HART, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d19-6m

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 43 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n18-1 m*

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent. n12-y

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se23-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se22-d

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 11 S. BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. m26-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. jy23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je16-6m*

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 39 Fayette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. m11-y1m*

MINIATURES, Painted in the best style, by Mrs. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. mh13-y

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 2 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. s6-y

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of

HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,

For the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size Bay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Cheston & Son, Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq. do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq. do.
James Hepburn, esq. do.
Christian Haldeman, esq. Columbia.
Jacob M. Haldeman, esq. Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq. Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank, Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq. Cash. Girard do.
William S. Smith, esq. Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq. Boston.

Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-d3t recdw*

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headache; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma, Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as in DR. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞ A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.
Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.
Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.
Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. ROBY.

WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. ROBY having spent two years in practice with Dr. G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call.

d12-6m H. N. ROBY.

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞ None genuine without the name of COMSTOCK & Co., written on the wrappers.

SOLOMON HAYS.

☞ For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. n24-eo6m

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citron color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side; the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Harlich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. jy28-y

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 31st of August, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Chemical, Philosophical, and Astronomical Apparatus, is extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by Mr. J. C. ROBINSON. AUGUSTUS FREITAG, L. L. D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the German.

☞ Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or enter pupils, will receive every attention, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. BAXTER, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.

au8-tf J. B. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

WANTED, immediately, two good Cooks; three good colored Cooks. Also, a good seamstress. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. [A] d21

COPPER PLATE AND MUSIC PAPER, on hand and for sale by
TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
d17 No. 2 S. Charles street.

JOB PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE,

PRACTICAL JOB PRINTERS, beg leave to inform their friends and the public, that they are prepared for the execution of every description of PRINTING, on the most extensive scale. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. embrace every variety necessary for the most finished execution of all work that may be entrusted to them.

They will print, to order:

BUSINESS CARDS	HANDBILLS
BALL TICKETS	WAYBILLS
CIRCULARS	STEAMBOAT BILLS
CHECKS	RAIL ROAD BILLS
NOTES	STAGE BILLS
BILL HEADS	SHOW BILLS
CATALOGUES	PAMPHLETS
BILLS OF LADING	LABELS
LOTTERY BILLS	HATTERS' TIPS,

Together with FANCY JOBS, in Colors, for framing.

LARGE POSTING BILLS.

For Theatres, Circuses, &c. &c., printed to order, at the shortest notice, in the most showy style.

B. & T. have also in operation, in their Office, the "Beiper Double-action Printing Machine," recently imported from England expressly for their use, by the aid of which they will be enabled to execute PRINTING at much lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch, than heretofore.

☞ In returning thanks to their friends for the favors of the past year, they assure them their usual personal attention will be paid to the prompt and correct execution of all orders in their business, at very reduced prices.

☞ Call at the CLIPPER OFFICE, No. 7 North Gay street. je2-d

CITY INTELLIGENCE,
REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE,
N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Porters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to EMPLOY any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., H. W. Root, Esq., WILLIAM C. CONINE, Esq.

N. B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. ja7

A Beautiful and Suitable Present for Ladies.

THE LADY'S BOOK. We have scarcely penned a paragraph of praise to this paragon of periodicals, and another deserving still more is required. People may talk of puffing as much as they please, but we can say to the most heretical, let him but see the beautiful engraving prepared by Godey for the January number of his Lady's Book, and if he does not say that it surpasses excellence, then are we willing to knock under. The plate is called "Neapolitan Peasants going to the Festa of the Pic di Grotta," and a more life-like piece of art it has never been our fortune to see. There you have, as natural as life itself, a group of half a dozen peasants, on their way to the city, each carrying the fruits of their industry. In the fore ground are a small boy and girl, bearing on their shoulders a pole, on which are slung all sorts of viands; then comes a good looking matron, carrying on her head a basket, and holding by the hand a shabby-looking girl, who, like the rest, is carrying a bunch of grapes; and behind comes three or four others, following in the trail, while in the distance are several busily employed in preparing articles for market. Altogether, it is one of the very handsomest things ever gotten up for a periodical of any country, and is alone worth twice the subscription price to the Book. Subscriptions received at

WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
ja14 No. 74 Market and 28 N. Gay street.

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscriber respectfully announces that he has established his Office at No. 3 NORTH-ST. next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those Ladies and Gentlemen who may be desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION.

E. TYLOR can confidently state that his extensive practical experience, enables him to give individuals a faithful delineation of their mental capacity, peculiar talents and disposition, as well as point out what pursuit in life they are best qualified by nature to perform. A good assortment of Phrenological Books, Almanacs, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale cheap, by

E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist.

N. B. Chart and Examination, only 50 cts. ja9

B. G. HUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. a15-eo6m

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slat-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-d1f A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

OHIO Rail Road, Tide Water, Virginia & Wheeling NOTES—For sale by a12 E. W. ROBINSON, 80 Baltimore-st.

CHILDRENS TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, and thus preventing FEVER, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞ Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottle, and the labels the same, and on the envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Under it contains as aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by

jy28-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and this market, a splendid assortment of Rich SILK GOODS, consisting as follows—

1 case 4-4 Rich G	ace Taconne, all colors
1 " do. B	ack and Blue Black Gro de Affrique
1 " do. S	atin Striped and Figured Helencia
1 " do. S	atin Stripe and Rept, all shades
1 " do. 7-4	Black and Blue Black Gro de Rhine
1 " Plain	Gro de Swiss, all colors.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

Just opened—	Extra super 9-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
"	Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
"	Very splendid Satin Glace Shawls, large
"	8-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
"	6-4 Broche do.
"	8-4 Thibet Wool do.

MOUSELIN DE LAINES.

One case Black Ground Mouselin de Laine, heavy
Colored figured do. very superior quality
Half mourning Mouselin de Laine
Handsome assortment Plain and Figured do.
One case superior French MERINOS, all colors.

With a general assortment of New Style Fall Goods, to which they respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER,
a13 43 Market-st., 4 doors above Gay.

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,

Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosenkranz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 36; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophiclydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Beems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap18-1y

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞ Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞ The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST,
o7-tf No. 93 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st.

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival. For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

And in Washington City, by
CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.

☞ With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Emporium, No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.) Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered. Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HANDBILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d28-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

INDIA RUBBER SHOES—

Men's plain RUBBERS, Women's plain do
Misses do do do fig'd do

A few cases of each. Just received per barque Ida, and for sale by

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 South Charles street.

FOR RENT. A neat two story Brick HOUSE in Canal street, 4th door south of Monument st., in first rate order, handsomely papered, the ceiling with a glazed paper—the rent will be $6 per month. Also, a HOUSE in Wilk-st., old town. Inquire of M. A. DYSART, 31 E. Baltimore st.
ja8-4tws Third door from Exeter street.

13 Cases Kip and Thick BROGANS, some extra sizes, just received per barque Ida, and for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 S. Charles-st.

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE,
2d January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one of Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled 'The Playmates;' a plate of fashions, with three female figures beautifully colored; two pages of Music, and Angling illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER:

The Young Rambler, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Soldier's the Lad for Me, by A. McMakin.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Barnes.
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Reefer of '76, by the author of 'Cruising in the Last War.'
Sabbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. Clark.
Thine—Only Thine. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. Feling.
Music. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by S. Nelson.

EMBELLISHMENTS:

'The 'Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞ Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city, and sent by mail to all parts of the United States and the Canadas, by the publisher.

Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
ja2 Baltimore, Md.

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty,	16 superb plates—price	$3.50
Keepsake,	15 do	3.50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals,	15 plates,	3.00
Forget-Me-Not,	11 plates	2.00
Friendship's Offering,	10 plates,	2.00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
d31 And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS. AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of those complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by

SAM'L CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

Washington City, by
W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.

In Georgetown, by O. M. LINTHICUM.
oc9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE, No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS,)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER

10 cases	do	do	Cap PAPER
15 do	Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter PAPER
5 do	do	do	do	Cap	do
4 do	do	do	do	Folio post	do
20 do	Hudson's	do	do	Letter	do
15 do	do	do	do	Cap	do
10 do	do	do	do	Flat Cap	do
8 do	do	Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super-royal WRITING PAPER
12 do	Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter				do
6 do	do	Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2 do	do	Super Flat Cap
12 do	Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5 do	Dickey and Leyste's		do		do
10 do	Plimer & Smith's		do		do
4 do	do	Folio and Pocket Post
15 do	Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2 do	do	Ledger PAPERS
20 do	Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter

2000 reams NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2000 do Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
300 do Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞ Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Hand Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 76 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞ All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT B. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
se16-6m No. 12 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $2000. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to

GEORGE GELBACH,
Real Estate and General Agency Office,
d21 [A] corner Balt. & Frederick sts.

JUST RECEIVED—75 bbls. superior Rochester White Wheat FLOUR
50 bags Old Government Java COFFEE
500 lbs. Zante CURRANTS.

Which, with a full assortment of fresh TEAS, choice Wines, Liquors, and Family Groceries, are offered for sale at low prices, for cash, by

a13-tf MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

SUPERIOR CHEWING TOBACCO, and Regalia, Havana, and Principe CIGARS—for sale by
mh2 MARCUS DENISON, 31 Baltimore-st.

MAGISTRATES' BLANKS. On hand and for sale by BULL & TUTTLE, Printers,
No. 7 N. Gay street, (Clipper Office.)

PUBLISHED DAILY,
BY
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 North Gay street.

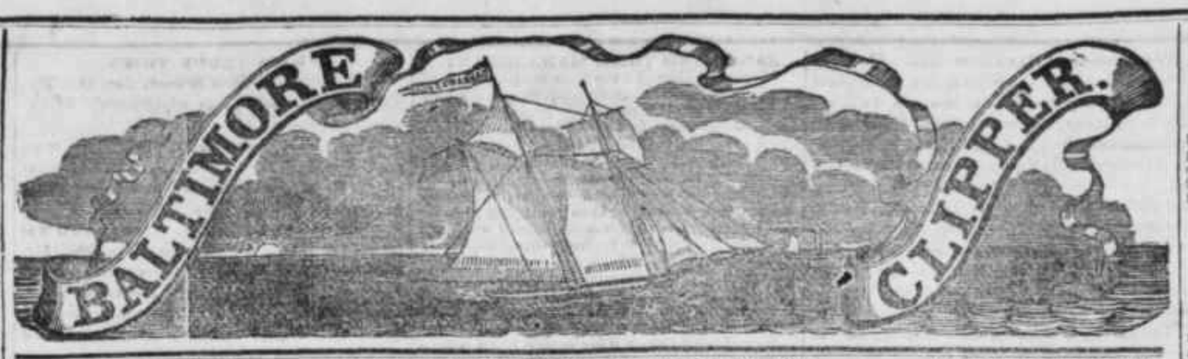
TERMS OF THE PAPER—To Subscribers, SIX CENTS per week, payable to the Carriers, to whom alone they are responsible, at the end of each week.

☞ COUNTRY SUBSCRIBERS can receive the paper, by mail, at Four Dollars per annum, on remitting the cash in advance, for such length of time as they please.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

1 square	1 time,	$0 50	1 square	1 month,	$4 00
1 do.	2 times,	75	1 do.	2 months,	7 00
1 do.	3 do.	1 00	1 do.	3 do.	10 00
1 do.	1 week,	1 75	1 do.	6 do.	15 00
1 do.	2 weeks,	2 75	1 do.	1 year,	30 00

☞ Twelve lines or less make a square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines the price will be in proportion. All advertisements are payable at the time of their insertion. Business Cards, of only two lines, will be inserted for five dollars a year, in advance.



VOL. III. NO. 111.] FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 22 1841. [PRICE ONE CENT.

JOB PRINTING,
BY BULL & TUTTLE,
(Practical Letter Press Printers,)
No. 7 N. Gay st. (old Chronicle Office

THE proprietors of the above Printing Establishment beg leave to inform the public, that they are extensively prepared to execute any and every description of Fancy or Plain JOB PRINTING, in the neatest and most fashionable style of workmanship, and on terms suitable to the times.

THEY WILL PRINT TO ORDER,

Catalogues,	Handbills,
Notes and Checks,	Circulars,
Enamelled Cards,	Small Notes,
Bills of Lading,	Election Tickets,
Commercial Blanks,	Large Posting Bills, &c.

Together with Fancy Printing, for framing, &c.

☞ Orders for JOB PRINTING, left at the office of the "Baltimore Clipper," will receive prompt attention, and be executed on terms as reasonable as the same description of work can be done elsewhere.

For the Baltimore Clipper.

ST. JOSEPH'S VALLEY.

How oft, when the pale moon at even is beaming,
My mind, from the cares of the busy world free,
Will stray as I gaze on the golden stars gleaming,
Loved home of my childhood, St. Joseph's, to thee!

There, resting in beauty, thou silently sleepest,
Thou greenest of valleys, in blissful repose;
No sound breaks the air, save the streamlet that keepest
Its musical course, singing blythe as it flows.

Long years have fled by since I gazed on thy bowers,
Sweet scene of my life's earliest, happiest time,
Yet my heart thrills with joy to recall the blest hours,
Which so merrily flew in the days of 'Lang Syne.'

Fond mem'ry steals back to hang o'er thy fountain,
I see the white convent just hid by the trees,
And hear, as I roam my old haunts on the mountain,
The tone of the bell floating out on the breeze.

How many bright eyes are now closing in slumber,
Within those high walls I am longing to see,
And prayers from dear watchers are rising in number,
Ah! is there one whisper breathed forth there for me?

I have roved thro' the world in a vain search of pleasure,
Have joined in the dance and the light song of glee,
But, wearied, I've longed as I trod the gay measure,
For one chase o'er the meadow to catch the wild bee.

Farewell peaceful valley! we've parted forever,
The rosy-hued past never more can return;
Yet the blissful remembrance shall leave me, oh! never
But linger in radiance around my heart's urn.

Still my last wish to thee, dearest spot, will be turning,
As life ebbs away, to gaze on thy blue sky;
In thy home of the dead, with the white cross adorning,
I ask for a grave, there to sleep when I die.

Baltimore, Jan. 19, 1841. EMILY.

AN INDIAN BACCHANALIAN PARTY.

The Otoe Indians having procured some kegs of whiskey, resolved to have a grand carousal, and aware of the fury to which their passions would be stimulated by intoxication, removed all weapons beyond their reach. When the whiskey began to work, a fearful brawl commenced, and in the frenzy of strife the brother bit off a portion of the chieftain's nose. The Iotan was sobered in a moment: he paused, looked intently in the fire, without uttering a word; then drawing his blanket over his head, walked out of the building and hid himself in his own lodge. On the following morning he sought his brother, and told him he had disfigured him for life; "to-night," said he, "I will go to my lodge and sleep; if I can forgive you when the sun rises you are safe, if not you die." He kept his word; he slept upon his purpose, but sleep brought no mercy. He sent word to his brother that he had resolved upon his death, that there was no further hope for him; at the same time he besought him to make no resistance but to meet his fate as a warrior should. His brother received the message and fled from the village. An Indian is untiring in his pursuit of revenge, and though many years elapse, yet he will obtain it in the end. From the time that it became the fixed purpose of the Iotan to slay his brother, his assiduity never slept; he hunted him for months. He pursued his trail over the prairies: he followed his track from one thicket to another, he traced him through the friendly villages, but without success, for although he was untiring, his brother was watchful, and kept out of the way. The old warrior changed his plan of action. He laid in wait for him in the forest, crouching like a tiger, in the paths which he might frequent in hunting, but he was for a long time unsuccessful. At length, one day when seated on a dead tree, he heard the crackling noise of a twig breaking beneath a cautious foot-step.—He instantly crouched behind the log, and watched the opposite thicket. Presently an Indian emerged from it, and gazed earnestly around. The Iotan recognized his brother instantly. His careworn face and emaciated form evinced the anxiety and privations that he had suffered. But this was nothing to the Iotan; as yet his revenge was unsated, and the miserable appearance of his brother touched no chord of his heart. He waited until he was within a few feet of him, then sprang from his lurking place and met him face to face.—His brother was unarmed; but met his fiery look with calmness, and without flinching.—"Ha, ha! brother," cried the Iotan, cocking his rifle, "I have followed you long in vain—now I have you—you must die." The other made no reply, but throwing off his blanket, stepped before him, and presented his breast. The Iotan raised his rifle and shot him through the heart.

ABSENCE OF MIND. Absence of mind, we think, if pardonable in any, is pardonable only in men of genius, and for ordinary men to affect it, is more than ridiculous. We heard an anecdote of absence of mind the other evening, which is so good that we will give it.

A highly distinguished clergymen and a powerful preacher, a determined snuff taker, and great pedestrian, was remarkable for absence of mind. One Sabbath morning, he had eight miles to walk before commencing the services of the day, and he started on his journey with a mind wrapped up in lofty and spiritual contemplations. In these abstractions, as usual, he frequently, and perhaps unconsciously, regaled his olfactory nerves with copious supplies from his large snuff box, and after he had travelled seven miles, and was approaching, almost in view of the church in which he was to officiate, the wind began to blow full in his face, and when taking another pinch from his favorite box, in order that the wind might not blow the snuff in his eyes, he turned his back upon the wind, depositing, in high enjoyment, the titillery matter into its elevated situation. But it was a serious revolution to him; for, alas! he forgot he had turned round, but proceeded onwards, over the same ground, never discovering his mistake till he came within a few rods of his own house, the place from which he had a few hours before started, in order to preach. It was too late for the worthy clergymen to think of retracing his steps, and walking the course again, and the congregation was allowed to remain, wondering what had happened to their absent minister.—St. Louis Bulletin.

NATIONAL VANITY. Among the anecdotes in point—and in illustration of the different phases of vanity—Morton McMichael, Esq. in his late lecture, related one of M. Le Sac, a famous French dancing-master in Queen Anne's reign, who when he heard that the justly distinguished statesman and lover of literature—Mr. Harley, had been raised to an Earldom, exclaimed—"Well, I wonder what the Queen could see in him. I taught him to dance for two years, and never knew a more stupid fellow." Akin to this species of vanity, was that of a chimney-sweep in London, who when looking at Garrick with a sooty friend, said "Don't point at him, Bill. You don't know what you may come to yourself." Thus one Queen had been praised for her golden tresses, who had not a hair on her head;—and while a venal poet was offering incense to the majestic mien and lofty statue of another, a friend said to him—"be careful, lest by your flattery, you tempt her to rise and show how short she is." Lucan, in his Pharsalia, implored Nero, when he ascended to heaven, to be careful on which side he sat, and not by sitting too much on one side, to overbalance the Universe. All had heard of a dedication to "thunder and the First Consul"—and praises had been given to Louis XIV.—to "him and the Deity"—the flatterer evidently and impiously giving the monarch the preference. Such was personal vanity and some of its effects. How much nobler was the conduct of Alexander, who when Aristobulus, the Greek historian who accompined the Macedonian conqueror in his expeditions—recited this monarch's victories over Porus to himself,—Alexander upbraided him for thus endeavoring to excite his vanity, snatched the book, and threw it into the river.

LONGEVITY. One evening, the other week, a small party sat down to an entertainment in Mr. Mollison's Hotel, there being two persons in the company whose united ages amounted to one hundred and ninety years. One of them was an intelligent and healthy old gentleman of eighty-five, who was obliged to confess himself a mere youth in comparison with the other veteran, Alexander Duncan, who was born in the year 1736, and is now in his hundred and fifth year, in the possession of good health, and only somewhat troubled with deafness. Duncan served in the army, but has been a dear bargain to the Crown, having persisted in drawing a pension for the last sixty years—for which, on this occasion, he very cordially drank Queen Victoria's health, "and a happy time to her." He had, he said, been an early riser in the mornings, and had been a temperate man, though he never, as he added, 'gaed the length o' the tee-totallers." In the course of the evening a number of old stories were raked up, and the greatest sociality prevailed.—On the breaking up of the party, at a respectably late hour, Duncan, with the aid of his staff, took the lead in going out; one of the gentlemen present remarking, that he had seen many young men coming down the stairs of a hotel, after a party, far less steadily than the old soldier.—Aberdeen Jour.

FINALE TO A COURTSHIP. "Flora, ah! dearest Flora—I am come—ah! Flora I come to—oh! you can decide my fate—I am come, my Flora—ah!"

"I see you, Malcolm, perfectly. You are come; you tell me interesting intelligence certainly. Well what next?"

"Oh Flora! I am come to—to—"

"To offer me your heart and hand, I suppose?"

"Yes!"

"Well do it like a man then, and not like a monkey."

"Plague take your self-possession," exclaimed I, suddenly starting up from my knee, upon which I had fallen in an attitude that might have won the approval of Madam de Maillare Fraise, "you make me ashamed of myself."

"Proceed, sir," said Flora.

"You like brevity, it would seem."

"Yes," replied Flora.

"Then—will you marry me?"

"Yes."

"Will you give me a kiss?"

"You may take one."

I took the proffered kiss.

"Now this is going to work rationally," said Flora; "when a thing is to be said, why may it not be said in two seconds instead of stuttering and stammering two hours about it? Oh! how cordially do I hate all naiseries!" exclaimed the merry maiden, clasping my hand energetically.

"Well then," said I, "humbug apart, what day shall we fix on for our marriage?"

MARYLAND LEGISLATURE.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 20th, 1841.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES. Mr. Legrand presented the petition of Rachel Knight, praying for a divorce.

Mr. Legrand submitted the following preamble and order: "Whereas, it appears from the communication of the President of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company, made to the Governor on the 10th of February, 1840, that the Canal Company was indebted to the Bank of the United States the sum of $200,000; to the Bank of North America $200,000; to A. Brown & Sons $100,000; to the Merchants' Bank of Baltimore $150,000; to the Mechanics' Bank of Baltimore $100,000; to the Bank of Washington $115,000; to the Western Bank of Baltimore $85,000; to the Bank of Potomac $90,000; to the Commercial Bank of Baltimore $40,000; to the Girard Bank of Philadelphia $20,000. And whereas, it also appears from said communication, that a portion of the six per cent. bonds of the State, issued under the law passed in 1836, were hypothecated, the holders having power in nearly every case to sell them privately or publicly; and whereas, it also appears from the published correspondence between the President of the Canal Company and the various banks of Maryland, with which the bonds were so hypothecated, that they refused to give time to the said Canal Company, and peremptorily insisted upon the payment of the several amounts due to them;—Therefore be it

Ordered, that the Bank of Baltimore, Mechanics' Bank of Baltimore, the Western Bank of Baltimore, the Merchants' Bank of Baltimore, the Commercial and Farmer's Bank of Baltimore, be severally directed to state to this House, as speedily as possible, what induced the refusal on their part to allow additional time to the Canal Co.—and whether they have effected a sale of the five per cent. sterling bonds given to each of them in payment of the debts due to them respectively, and if so to whom, at what time, and for what price.

Mr. Gaither moved to refer the preamble and resolution to the Committee on Internal Improvements.

The question was put on Mr. Gaither's motion to refer to committee on Internal Improvement, and it was agreed to.

The House proceeded to the order of the day, being the bill reported by Mr. Gantt to authorise the Banks of the State of Maryland to receive and pay out the orders drawn by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company on the Stock of the city of Baltimore.

Sundry amendments offered by Mr. Gantt were adopted, but the following is the only one of much consequence:—

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the President and Directors of the said Company shall at no time issue any amount of such orders beyond the amount of City Stock actually paid to them by the City and deposited in the hands of the Commissioners of the City in trust for the holders of the orders, nor shall such Commissioners at any time accept orders beyond the amount of Stock actually deposited in their hands in trust as aforesaid, and that for a violation of these provisions the said President and Directors, and the said Commissioners respectively, shall be individually responsible to the full extent of their private fortunes.

There are two other amendments now pending, submitted by Mr. Nesbitt, as the 3rd and 4th sections to the bill,—the first authorises the Banks of this State out of the city of Baltimore to issue for the period of ——— years, ten per centum on their respective capitals actually paid in, in notes under the denomination of $5 and not less than one dollar; and requires them to report annually to the Legislature &c.—the second amendment relates to the penalty in case of a violation of the act. The House adjourned without acting on the amendments.

For the Baltimore Clipper.

GULLIBILITY.

We Baltimoreans are certainly a very credulous people; we disregard all the teachings of experience, and no sooner recover from the bursting of one bubble, than we are seen busily engaged in inflating another. This gullibility is by no means confined to any particular class of persons, but is found pervading every ramification of society. Our pride scarcely recovers from one mortification than a deeper and more pugnant wound succeeds the cure. We turn a deaf ear to the remonstrances of those who would warn us of our danger, and rush madly into the vortex, where unable to extricate ourselves, we feel the mortification of our want of consideration, and endure the jeers and derision of the lucky or more prudent multitude, until time shall have rolled into forgetfulness the cause of our imprudence.—One shinplaster factory is scarcely exploded, and the wailings of the distressed sufferers scarcely die away, when we are seen eagerly indulging in the same courses, and unconsciously placing ourselves in a situation to experience the same mortifying results from another. Let the people of Baltimore take warning by the past; let them exchange some part of their credulity for more caution and proper consideration, or they may find to their cost, when it is too late, that they have had their eyes shut and their ears closed.—Let the fashionable portion of them ponder and inform themselves before they admit to their fire-sides and invite to their parties, men whom they know nothing about, and whose only recommendations are a foreign air, a seeming display of wealth and standing, and a good share of impudence, with power to turn it to the best advantage. Such fellows are flattered, fawned upon and encouraged, while young men of character, respectability and worth, are sneered at as unworthy of notice, and are really forced to ape the dress and imitate the manners of the foreign "exquisite" in order to hold their places in the fashionable world. This has been and still is the case to some considerable extent, and many of the present generation of fashionable young men are so effeminate and so foppish that they are really objects of pity rather than of derision.—This is a state of things to be lamented and reformed. The frequency of deceptions among the American people, by the effrontery of impostors who take advantage of their weakness, should put them on their guard against a repetition of such disgraceful exposes as have taken place from time to time throughout the country, of which the "monumental city" has always had a large proportion. This hankering after royalty is a disgrace to the character of our country, and though but a small portion of the inhabitants may plead guilty to the charge, yet the national character is degraded, and the folly and incredulity of the elite is often displayed in the most mortifying and ludicrous manner. B. W.

PIRACY. The Earl Durham at Halifax, N. S. from Demara, reports brig Royal Albert, Collins, from Port Medway, discharging—arrived about 23d Nov.—had been boarded by a Spanish privateer schooner, about 6 days after leaving Halifax, who took all the money and part of their clothes.

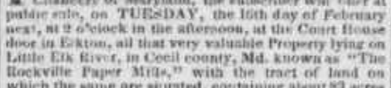
The Baltimore Clipper, we believe, has 'joined meeting,' for latterly it looks as demure as an owl, and as spiritless as the beverage of total abstinents.—Germantown Tel.

It's catching, friend. We have grown serious with the times—the sober countenance of our worthy senior has made us all lemon-suckers, and, verily—yea, verily we have abandoned all frivolity, for, all flesh is grass and Time moweth us down with a scythe as long as a piece of twine, and as sharp as thy wit.

FOR SALE, RIGHTS OR RECIPES to manufacture and sell an article which is in daily use of every family, and which, with a capital of one to two hundred dollars, will yield 3 to 6 dollars per day. Any person wishing to engage in a profitable business of the kind can, by calling at the Eagle Hotel, Pratt street, see samples of the article, and receive further information; or apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets.
ja20 [A]

SERVANTS. Persons in want of Servants of any kind will be promptly supplied by applying at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. [A] d30

WINTER ARRANGEMENT.
GREAT SOUTHERN
UNITED STATES' MAIL LINE.
DAILY TO THE SOUTH.
The ONLY LINE carrying the GREAT MAIL, and the only DAILY LINE



TRAVELLERS FOR THE SOUTH, are informed that, by taking the Cars at Baltimore for Washington at 4 P. M., they proceed, via Washington, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Petersburg, Weldon, and Wilmington, N. C. to CHARLESTON, S. C., reaching Charleston the second morning after leaving Baltimore, and one day in advance of the Bay Line—the Companies on the route being bound by the Postmaster General to make the following quick Schedule:

Leave Philadelphia	8 A.M.	reach	Baltimore	2 P.M.
" Baltimore	4 P.M.	"	Washington	6 P.M.
" Washington	5 A.M.	"	Fred'ksburg	12 M.
" Fred'ksburg	12 M.	"	Richmond	5 P.M.
" Richmond	5 P.M.	"	Petersburg	7 P.M.
" Petersburg	7 P.M.	"	Weldon	1 A.M.
" Weldon	1 A.M.	"	Wilmington	1 P.M.
" Wilmington	1 P.M.	"	Charleston	at 5 the next day.

As this Line carries the Great Mail, [which cannot be delayed,] and is almost entirely a Rail-Road Line, it will be perceived at once, that the Traveller, unless in some extraordinary contingency, is sure of a connection through, whilst it is evident that Foul Roads, Weather and Steamers must often occasion delay in a Route, more than two-thirds of which is by the Bay—the traveller being also subjected to Sea-sickness, and incurring unnecessary risk, from Boats being urged to the top of their speed, to compete with the more DIRECT RAIL-ROAD ROUTE.

☞ The above line will be found not only the most certain and expeditious, but the most attractive, as it passes through the Seat of Government, and in sight of Mount Vernon by daylight, and through Fredericksburg, Richmond, and Petersburg, the largest and most flourishing towns in Virginia. It is also cheaper to Richmond, and as cheap as the Bay route to Weldon: and travellers have no expense or trouble with their Baggage.

☞ This is much the nearest, quickest, and cheapest route to the interior of Virginia, North and South Carolina—at Petersburg, Va. commences the route by way of Raleigh, N. C.—145 miles of Rail Road from Petersburg to that city. Stage Lines branch off from Raleigh Rail Road to the old Piedmont Line, to Milton, Danville, &c., and to Knoxville, (Tenn.)

☞ This is the only Daily Line to Richmond and Petersburg.

☞ Passengers for the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road pay through to Petersburg, Va. For further information and Through Tickets, apply at the office of

STOCKTON, FALLS & CO.
Adjoining the Philadelphia Rail Road Office,
d12-tf PRATT STREET, Baltimore.

VALUABLE MILL PROPERTY
AT TRUSTEE'S SALE.

IN pursuance of a decree of the High Court of Chancery of Maryland, the subscriber will offer at public sale, on TUESDAY, the 16th day of February next, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Court House door in Elkton, all that very valuable Property lying on Little Elk River, in Cecil county, Md. known as "The Rockville Paper Mills," with the tract of land on which the same are situated, containing about 83 acres and twelve perches of land. This property is situated but six miles from navigable water, and is in the midst of a well populated and abundant country. The improvements consist of a large STONE PAPER MILL, 80 by 40 feet, three stories high, and having all the requisite machinery for making the various kinds of paper; a Grist Mill, running two pair of hurs; a Saw Mill, a Bark Mill, and a large stone Barn, with Sambling, Shedding, &c. Besides these, there is also a Manager's House, and five Cottages, sufficiently spacious for the accommodation of the hands employed in the several establishments. The water power is valuable—and is, in general, adequate to all the purposes of the Mills. The land is considered first rate farming land, being easily susceptible of profitable and permanent improvement, and is peculiarly adapted to the use of lime, plaster, &c. It is well enclosed and is divided into convenient fields, and is well watered with abundant springs of best water; about one half of it is in wood, and the rest in arable and meadow land. The title is indisputable, and a plat of the land may be seen upon application to the Trustee. The terms of sale, as prescribed by the decree, are that one-fourth of the purchase money shall be paid in cash on the ratification of the sale by the Chancery Court; one-fourth in six months; one-fourth in twelve months, and one-fourth in eighteen months, with interest from the day of sale, the credit payments to be secured by endorsed notes approved by the trustee, and upon the payment of the whole purchase money, a title will be made.
ja20-eots GEO. W. DOBBIN, Trustee.

WANTED TO EMPLOY, by the month or year, 4 or 5 Negro men (slaves) to work on a Farm near the city. They will be well treated and the owners receive the highest wages, which will be punctually paid them in the city. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, Baltimore-st. corner of Frederick street.

Also, wanted to employ, a Colored man as Waiter in a Private Family. Apply as above. [A] ja5

TO MAGISTRATES. The undersigned keep constantly on hand, a full assortment of all the various BLANKS used by Magistrates, printed on fine paper, which will be sold on the lowest terms.
Apply to BULL & TUTTLE,
ja13 d No. 7 N. Gay street.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—This is a safe and pleasant remedy for Coughs and hoarseness, and is particularly applicable to children, as it is as pleasant as a common candy. For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d19-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

CRANBERRIES & SPICES.

16 Bbls. of the most superior CRANBERRIES ever offered in this market, and a full assortment of choice Groceries, Wines, Liquors, Teas, and Spices—For sale by
d19 MARCUS DENISON, 21 Baltimore-st.

BOARDING may be obtained by two or three genteel young men, or a gentleman and his lady, in a respectable private boarding house, near the Exchange—terms moderate. Apply at the Intelligence Office, N. W. corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts.
d20 [A]

CASSIA AND CHAMPAGNE.

10 CASES FRESH CASSIA
10 baskets Genuine Anchor CHAMPAGNE
Landing from Celeste, for sale by de 24 MARCUS DENISON,
No. 31 Baltimore street.

WANTED TO RENT—A DWELLING HOUSE situated within half a mile of the Post Office—rent not to exceed $7 per month. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick sts. d25

20 Bbls. Fifth Proof Monongahela WHISKEY
60 boxes Sperm, Mould and Dipt CANDLES
100 boxes Choice CHEESE
50 baskets Bordeaux OIL, received and for sale by
d2 MARCUS DENISON, 21 Baltimore-st.

$10,000 REWARD—Cure Warranted, for any recent case of the secret disease, by DR. HITZELBERGER, the only Regular Physician in the city of Baltimore, who attends exclusively to the treatment of Secret Diseases, and whose skill and great experience, thousands in this city have enjoyed the benefit of, for the unprecedented low charge of $2!!! Price of the Medicine, by the single bottle or box, $1 and $2 per bottle, $1 per box!!!

Dr. RUSSELBAUGH'S CELEBRATED MEDICINES, for the cure of secret diseases. Dr. Russelbaugh, of Europe, the illustrious discoverer of Russelbaugh's Medicines, challenges a single case of recent secret disease to be brought, in which his medicine will not effect a rapid cure, under a forfeiture of 10,000.—These medicines are based on scientific principles, and are different according to the particular disease of the patient. Dr. Hitzelberger, who is a graduate of one of the first schools in the United States, has these celebrated medicines for sale, and he would ask, why, oh! why will ye purchase the detestable quack nostrums with which this city abounds, when you can obtain the medical advice of a regular physician, and be treated with these celebrated remedies, for the unprecedented low charge of $2. Positive cure in every case guaranteed or the money returned.

These invaluable Medicines can be purchased at the HUSSELBAUGHIAN INFIRMARY, No. 8 Pratt-st., five doors east of the Bridge. se3-ylm*

100 DOLLARS REWARD.

DR. STORM'S SPECIFIC COMPOUND, For the cure of Gonorrhœa, Gleets, Strictures, Diabetes or difficulty in making water, and all other unnatural discharges from the urethra of either sex.

In no case has this medicine been known to fail, to effect a permanent cure, and too, in the shortest possible time. Should this medicine fail to effect a cure where it has been taken according to directions, return the empty vial and get back the money. Why then spend both time and money with such quack nostrums as cannot be depended upon; when, for $1, you can purchase a pleasant, sure, and speedy cure, composed solely of vegetable substance? One hundred dollars will be paid to any one who will produce a medicine to equal this compound, or who will prove that it contains any mineral substance whatever.

N. B. This Medicine can be had of JAMES P. WILLIAMSON, corner of High and Green street, (C. T.) of T. J. PITT, Market Space, Fell's Point, and by J. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts. Also, of L. S. THOMAS, corner of Briten and Forest streets—with full directions accompanying each bottle at $1 per bottle.

☞ For sale in Washington city by ROBERT PATTERSON, cor. 9th street and the avenue, and CHAS. C. STOTT, corner of 7th street and the avenue. And in Washington, by JOHN L. KIDWELL.
dec5-y

LADIES' COMPANION, April No. for January, 1841, received by
WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. MOORE'S, No. 74 Market street—and at No. 28 N. Gay-street, near Fayette-st.
☞ Terms $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly.

Opinion of the New York Press:

We have been favored with a copy of a steel engraving of the Light House near Caldwell's Landing, intended to illustrate the January number of the Ladies' Companion, published by Mr. Snowden, in Baltimore. It is indeed a fine specimen of the art, and reflects no ordinary credit upon the enterprize of the conductor of that Magazine. The number will contain articles from the following writers:

Mrs. Lydia H. Sigourney, Mrs. E. F. Ellet, Mrs. Annan, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Mrs. Frances L. Cawood, Mrs. E. R. Steele, Mrs. Caroline Orne; Professors Longfellow & Ingraham; Mr. H. Herbert, Francis W. Thieman, Greenville Mellen; Rev. J. H. Clinch; Mr. Eufus Dawes, Wm. Gilmore Sims, Epes Sargent, Park Benjamin, George P. Morris, Robert Hamilton, C. F. Daniels, H. T. Tuckerman, Henry B. Hunt. (of Philadelphia,) Wm. G. Howard, (of Ohio); Mrs. E. C. Embury; Mrs. H. Hand, (of London,) and many others. Also, an original piece of Music, composed by J. G. Meder, expressly for the occasion ja5

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!

THE subscribers respectfully inform their friends and the public, that they have on hand, and intend keeping a constant supply of superior Alum and Bottom LIME, (burned in a conical kiln, so highly recommended by our State Geologist, Professor Ducatel,) and that they are prepared to sell the same at the kiln at 33 1-3 cents for cash, for first quality. As our object is to furnish a first rate article at the lowest possible price, we respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

We have also on hand, about 5,000 bushels Oyster Shell and Air Slacked ALUM LIME, which we will sell on favorable terms, for farming purposes.

HUGH DOWLING & SON,
Corner of Bruin and Madison-sts., Balt.

☞ Orders sent from any part of the United States, for Lime, for building or agricultural purposes, immediately attended to. je15

LIME! LIME!! LIME!!!

AN AGENCY for the sale of LIME is established at No. 22 CHEAPSIDE. Orders will be filled from the Glen Ellen and Coal-Spring (York Road) Kilns, from which, within the last three years, 100,000 bushels have been delivered into the Baltimore market, giving the greatest satisfaction to the consumer.

Additional kilns having been lately erected, where a great quantity of wood, cut and uncut, is at command near to inexhaustible quarries of the purest Alum Limestone, the public may expect to have their orders for any quantity punctually filled. Nothing will be put into the wagons but what is intended to meet the inspector's eye, and as it is not intended to keep at the store-house more than enough to supply the occasional demand for small quantities, such as is supplied shall be sent from freshly burnt kilns.

☞ Orders, for bottom and barrel lime, filled at the shortest notice.
je18-d HENRY N. WILLIS, Agent.

CASH FOR NEGROES. The highest cash prices will at all times be given for Negroes of both sexes, that are slaves for life, and good titles. My office is in Pratt street, between Sharp and Howard streets, and opposite to the Repository—where I or my agent can be seen at all times. All persons, having Negroes to sell, would do well to see me before they dispose of them, as I am always buying and forwarding to the New Orleans market. I will also receive and keep Negroes at twenty-five cents each, per day, and forward them to any Southern port, at the request of the owner. My establishment is large, comfortable and airy, and all above ground; and kept in complete order, with a large yard for exercise; and is the strongest and most splendid building of the kind in the United States. And as the character of my house and yard is so completely established, for strength, comfort and cleanliness, and it being a place where I keep all my own, I will not be accountable, for the future, for any escapes of any kind from my establishment.
mh3-dtf HOPE H. SLATTER.

CASH FOR NEGROES.

THE Subscriber is authorized to purchase, for gentlemen of the South, a number of Negroes of both sexes.

The highest cash prices will be given for slaves for life and good titles.

He can always be found at the United States Hotel, opposite the Depot, Pratt street.
s3-dtf G. W PEARCE.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY, at the City Intelligence Office, Baltimore-street, 20 good white and colored COOKS, to fill desirable places in different parts of the city. Also, 2 SEAMSTRESSES and 2 NURSES. d25

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

FRIDAY MORNING, Jan. 22, 1841.

The Navy. Considerable dissatisfaction exists among the officers, with the present organization of the navy. With the causes of complaint we are unacquainted, but it is evident that there is some defect which should be removed, and which cannot be so effectually reached as through the suggestions of the naval officers themselves. Of this fact there seems to be a general conviction among the officers, if we are to judge from the various publications made by their authority.

In the National Intelligencer of yesterday, a writer who signs his communication "Nicholas Neptune, U. S. N." proposes to hold a Naval Convention, by which to harmonize the views of officers, and present to the consideration of Congress the improvements in the naval service suggested by their experience. It strikes us that this measure would be the most effective that could be adopted, to attain the object in view.—They desire nothing incompatible with the honor and interests of the country—nothing inconsistent with the high reputation for bravery, skill and patriotism, which the navy has sustained; and we feel assured that Congress will not hesitate to gratify them in all that can contribute to elevate the profession or to increase its usefulness.

We have room only for the following extracts from the article mentioned above:

"Ought the Navy to be re-organized? Yes, yes, is the prompt reply of all, of every rank and condition, throughout the service. Ashore and afloat, at home and abroad, there is but one opinion on the subject.

"Upon what plan? Ay, there's the rub. Almost every officer has his own plan. And, doubtless, one among the various causes which have operated to prevent the necessary and proper legislation on the subject of the Navy is to be found in the circumstance that the officers have never been agreed among themselves as to the wants of the Navy. Officers of some grade or another have managed successfully to array their friends in Congress against any measure that has been there brought forward for the Navy.

"The exposures that are daily being made concerning the Navy make it expedient and proper for the officers to take up the subject en masse.—For the honor and welfare of our gallant little corps—for the good of our country, let us assemble all the wisdom and experience of which the Navy can boast, for the purpose of taking into consideration its present condition, and of making known its wants.

We are at present in the situation of the officers of a fleet which has been inefficiently commanded for twelve years. The ships are leaky, and badly fitted and found; the magazines are out of order; and the crew almost in a state of mutiny. The commander-in-chief and his captain of the fleet have just reported to their Government the perfect order, well-being, and efficiency of this fleet. They are, however, about to be relieved from the command which they have held so long. The officers appointed to succeed them will undertake the management of this fleet, ignorant of its true condition, and uninformed as to its wants. Moreover, not being thorough-bred seamen themselves, they are not apt, unless informed by others, soon to detect the one, or to discover the other. Besides, there is a large squadron of strange sails to leeward; their movements are suspicious, for they are evidently trying to get the weather gauge of us. The commanding officers of these two forces, though professedly on good terms, have had a long, and, at times, an angry controversy about certain rights of territorial jurisdiction at the North. And come what may, this fleet ought always to be ready; but it is not. Under such circumstances, what course does it become us as brave and patriotic officers to pursue? Aware of our disordered condition; and filled with presentiments of disaster in case of an engagement, shall we maintain our reserve, and at the "best to quarters" repair to our stations in sullen silence? or shall we not rather promptly step forth, point out the places where the leaks are, call attention to the state of the magazine, make known the real condition of things, and, in the emergency of the case, cordially volunteer to our new commander the full benefit of all our knowledge, our professional skill and experience? Truly the Navy is at this time in the condition of such a fleet, and we the officers in the situation there pointed out."

Timely notice. The New York American says, that the following is the copy of a note found on a carrier pigeon, in Exchange street, on Sunday afternoon; and that the note and pigeon may be seen at the Tippecanoe House, Broad-st.

Cincinnati, January 15, 1841.

Broadway Hotel, ¼ past 9.

Dear D: General Harrison has just left here in a private carriage for Washington. He will probably arrive there about the 25th instant.

Yours, respectfully, J——.

It is suggested that this may be a hoax; but from the eagerness with which office is sought, and the thousands of applicants, it is possible that some of them have resorted to this expedient to get the start of their fellows. Should the news be true, we advise that additional cars be forthwith put in requisition on the Washington rail road, as the posse will be too numerous for the ordinary conveyance. Editors in all sections will drop their scissors, "put feathers to their heels," and be off to the seat of government. It is possible that they will return at a slower pace, and with less animated countenances.

The New York House of Assembly has passed a bill, admitting the son of Mr. Papineau, the Canadian, to practice law in that state.

Congress—the Bankrupt bill. Members of Congress seem to forget that this is the short session, or they would talk less and do more. There are many important matters that require immediate attention, but which must be neglected if the propensity for long harangues be indulged. It was carried to a disgusting length during the last session, and the people became restless under the infliction. It was hoped that the oratorical powers of members had been sufficiently exhausted, and that the present would be emphatically a business session—but in this we now fear we shall be disappointed.

The country is looking, with anxiety, for the passage of a general bankrupt bill. It is loudly demanded by the necessities of a large portion of the community, and by the desire of almost every class. Why, then, is the measure delayed? It is now before Congress, and the principles of the bill being well understood by members, it could be finally acted upon in a few days. But no—the thousand and one speeches upon other subjects of comparative insignificance must take precedence, and thrust this bill aside. If postponed a few weeks more, it will be passed over, among the mass of other bills, private and public, which will remain unacted on. The political contest having terminated, it is expected that members will cease their party bickerings and attend to the business for which they were elected. But if they must "fight their battles o'er again," we beg that they will postpone "the tug of war" until they have relieved their constituents, and adopted all measures necessary to the well-being of the country.

The following judicious observations on the necessity of a bankrupt law, we copy from the Philadelphia Chronicle.

"Imagine then the immense amount of business, talent and enterprise now lying dormant in fetters within the United States, that a general bankrupt law would at once set free, and again engage in active enterprise. The last ten years have been marked by so many changes and fluctuations in commercial affairs, and pregnant with so many misfortunes to business men, that the want of the interference of Congress in the manner proposed, for their relief, has been more severely felt.

While every other commercial country, much less liable to numerous bankruptcies than our own, has been provided with a uniform and a general bankrupt law, we, at a time when the want of such a law has been most felt, throughout a long series of business depression, have been denied the benefit of one. We are naturally led to inquire why it has been so? The cause is palpable; partizanism has all along been at the bottom of it, and our merchants have been, through a long series of years, suffering under that unhallowed and paralyzing spirit. Our affairs have now reached such a crisis as to render delay an evil of the first magnitude, and the sacrifice of patriotism to party on this subject most ruinous to thousands of the honest but unfortunate merchants and traders of our land. The nation calls upon her representatives to step out of their partizan trammels in legislating upon this all important matter, and take it up honestly, and upon its own intrinsic merits; and thousands of honest, industrious and enterprising citizens, who have fallen with the common wreck of trade, are calling for relief at the hand of those who are stationed at the head of government to minister to the comfort and prosperity of the governed.

Gullibility. We refer the reader to an excellent communication in to-day's paper on this subject; and we are pleased to see fashionable folly lashed by so able a writer. Foreign impostors have too frequently found ready admittance into what is termed the first society, by impudence and consequential assumption. In theory we are all plain republicans—practically we are as fond of distinctions and lines of demarcation as the nobility of Europe: and unfortunately virtue and talents, industry and honesty have no influence in the discrimination. Impudence passes current where modest merit is rejected. This is owing, in a great measure, to a defect in education. If girls were taught to consider household industry as reputable, and young men to look upon labor and economy as essential to advancement in life, foreign vagabonds, with their assumed importance, would find it more difficult to have access to respectable families; and all classes would be more intent on rendering themselves useful to society, than on aping the ridiculous fopperies and follies of Europe.

There appears to be a perfect mania for the adoption of foreign customs and manners—hence the disgusting mustache and imperial of the men—the ever-changing head gear, the tournure, (or camel-back) &c. of the ladies. People have become ashamed of the forms, (however perfect,) which God has given them, and distortion of figure is reckoned for beauty. Even the viands which we eat have undergone metamorphose; and beef, mutton and chicken are tasteless and insipid, if not served up under a French name. Whilst such infatuation exists, is it a matter of wonder that impostors should take advantage of it, and that menials should be able to pass as gentlemen? Reformation is much wanted; but we despair of seeing a change so long as idleness and dissipation are not considered disreputable.

A pleasure excursion. There is an advertisement in the National Intelligencer stating that the steamboat Constitution will afford "a pleasant and cheap excursion through the beautiful scenery of the Chesapeake Bay, enjoying the sea breeze for about nine hours!" We hope our esteemed friend, col. Sheppard, will look to it, for the idea of enjoying the sea breeze for nine hours, at this season of the year, is enough to bring on a fit of the ague.

The muscular guide. We refer the reader to the communication in another column relative to the system of penmanship taught by Mr. Davison, with the muscular guide.

BANKS AND THEIR MANAGEMENT.

Messrs. Editors. I have been reading some of your remarks on the above subject, and it seems to me there is some mistake. Pray tell me, do I understand you? Is it so? I am a friendless female, i. e., am without relatives, have neither father, mother, sister nor brother in the world.—I have, or had, one thousand dollars, left me by my father, who toiled hard that his only child might not be destitute. How to employ my money I did not know. I was acquainted with two or three men who were bank directors;—they managed their own affairs well, and such were their principles, I was sure they would be more careful of others' money entrusted to them than of their own: so I went and paid in my cash, and received a certificate of bank stock.

Now, I beg to know if my money is not entirely under the control of these directors? Can one of the officers of the bank, without their consent or knowledge, take and use it himself, or give it to his friends? Can he (not having his account examined) retain it for years, and finally run away or fail, and I lose my all?

I would not complain if I should lose on paper honestly discounted by the directors. That might be—though I think it does not often happen.

Now, if this is so, it is very different from what I always thought to be the case. If it is so, I will sell my stock for what it will bring, and have no more until they alter their by-laws.

Truth.

We were as much surprised as our fair correspondent when we first learned the manner in which our banks are managed. We thought with her, that there must be some mistake, and, upon inquiry we found that there was, but not where we expected to find it. The mistake consisted in stockholders supposing that directors had the superintendence and control of their money, when in fact the officers of the banks have it all under their own thumbs. It seems that, by a by-law, directors have no right to examine private accounts—it is, therefore, impossible for them to check the misdoings of officers, because they have no means of detecting mal-conduct. This is wrong; decidedly wrong—and as long as such by-laws continue to afford a screen to hide the tricks or knavery of bank officers, bank stock will be undesirable investment.

There should be a general overhauling of the banks by the stockholders. We are persuaded that thorough investigation would be found salutary, and it would be shunned by no bank that had been honestly managed. Stockholders should also insist upon the immediate repeal of all by-laws which deny to directors free access to the accounts with the bank. Nothing less will dispel existing apprehensions.

We have answered the queries of our correspondent, by which she will see the predicament in which her stock stands. We should regret if she lose by her investment; but in case of such misfortune, she will have the company of hundreds of other females who have placed like confidence in the honest management of banks, and have suffered for their faith.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Clipper.]

Washington, Jan. 21, 1841.

Last evening, the bill making temporary provisions for lunatics in this District was passed by the Senate. As was expected, objections were raised against it on the ground that it was unconstitutional to pay money out of the public treasury for such a purpose. But let a bill be passed empowering the corporation to tax government property in this District, and then I am sure Congress would be troubled no more about such matters. To expect the corporation to defray such expenses is about as reasonable as throwing a man into the water with his hands tied, and then calling upon him to swim.

The pre-emption bill was also debated until a late hour, and finally ordered to be engrossed.

This morning, the Senate resumed the consideration of the pre-emption bill, and the debate is likely to continue until a late hour.

In the House of Representatives, a very stormy debate arose on an abolition petition presented by Mr. Adams. The question was as to whether one part of the petition was not exempt from the operation of the standing rule. Without coming to any decision, the morning hour having expired, the House went into committee of the whole, and resumed the consideration of the Treasury Note bill.

Messrs. W. Thompson and Rhett of S. C. gave their views, and the debate had not terminated when this was closed.

Miserable wretches. The Western Star groans hard at announcing the marriages of two or three editors, and adds: "There are five of us in the Star office, and not a married man in the whole kit. High ho! What can the matter be?"

The boobies!—let them go to work and lay their case before the ladies, not the public. Let them register their forms, and strike off a hot-press'd edition of "Matrimony." If they are destitute of quoins and want furniture, let them deal in flowers and by dashes they will soon make an impression.

Night Watch. In the Eastern District on Wednesday night, a soldier of Uncle Sam was found asleep in the market house in a state of intoxication. John Brown was brought in corned. Two white men, 'locked out,' applied for lodgings at 4 a. m. In the Middle District, the only prisoner was negro Samuel Johnsing, brought in by the police. In the Western District, Joseph Thompson, a white man, was found lying in the street, having 'slipped down.' He was taken to the lock-up.

Stealing a watch. A colored man named Samuel Johnson, was yesterday brought into the police court, charged with stealing a watch from John Herchlinger. He was committed to jail by squire Barnard.

The Steamship Caledonia arrived at Halifax from Boston on the 4th instant, in forty-two hours passage. She had on board fifty-two passengers for Liverpool, which, with thirty-two who take passage at Halifax, will make eighty-four passengers for England.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN.

City Council—First Branch, Jan. 21. The Council met pursuant to adjournment—all the members present.

After the previous day's proceedings were read, Mr. J. T. Brown presented a petition signed by R. W. Pendleton and others, adverse to the petition of Michael Gallagher, relative to his soap and candle manufactory. On motion, it was referred to the joint committee on health. Mr. Brown likewise offered a petition signed Samuel Elder and others, relative to the same, which was accompanied with a plat of the property in that neighborhood. This was likewise referred to the committee on health.

At this juncture of the proceedings the doorkeeper opened the door to the council chamber, when Mr. Samuel Myers, Secretary to the Mayor, made his appearance, announcing a message from the Mayor, which signified his approval and signing a resolution relative to the appointment of the trustees of the Baltimore City and County Alms House, which bill and resolution originated a few days since in the First Branch. Accompanying the message was likewise a memorial, signed by various citizens, respecting the petition concerning the German Reformed Church. A motion was made that the memorial and signatures be printed on the journal. The yeas and nays were taken and the motion lost; it was subsequently referred to the joint committee on claims. The report of the committee relative to the trustees of the alms house was ordered to be printed and referred to the alms house committee.

The report of the joint committee on streets, after a second reading, was passed.

The committee on conference reported relative to changing the time of the annual meeting of the Council to the second Monday in January, which was laid on the table.

A report was offered by Mr. Blakeny, requesting that the Register of the city furnish this branch with all papers in his possession which were referred by the last to the present session; concurred in.

The report of the committee on claims relative to the town clock was unfavorable. It was laid on the table.

The joint committee on claims reported unfavorably relative to J. T. Taylor, praying for extra pay.

Mr. Cole, jr. offered a resolution that the joint committee on police be instructed to inquire into the expediency of preparing an ordinance imposing a penalty upon persons for shipping flaxseed in bags or otherwise, not provided for in the existing ordinance upon that subject. It was passed.

The resolution making an appropriation to the Baltimore General Dispensary was passed, and concurred in by the second branch. The unfavorable report of the committee relative to J. T. Taylor, was also concurred in by the second branch.

A message was received from the second branch, which moved that when the council adjourn, it adjourn until Monday afternoon next, at half-past 3 o'clock. This was acceded to when the motion of adjournment was made, and both branches absquatulated delighted at the prospect of having a holyday.

Second Branch. Mr. Howard being absent, Mr. Lucas was appointed president pro. tem. In this branch there was not much of interest transacted. Mr. Frazier offered a resolution relative to the dredging machine which has been employed during the past season in the channel east of Jones' falls.

Mr. Reany submitted a report and resolution, authorising Wm. Coles to erect a shed over a private alley between his two houses.

"What a fall was there, or my countrymen." How prone are we to laugh at the misfortunes of others, when we believe ourselves to be in perfect security. This was fully illustrated yesterday morning in the neighborhood of the Lexington market. An elderly lady, of large proportions, was passing along the sleety sidewalk as carefully as age and experience could, when, in spite of all her caution, down she came, and such was the ridiculous appearance she cut, that a fat gentleman, who happened to be standing near her, burst out into an intolerable fit of laughter. Suddenly recollecting himself, and not forgetful of the laws of gallantry, he stepped forward to help the prostrate lady, and had just got her nicely on her feet when down came the two, almost causing an earthquake in the neighborhood. The lookers on now turned the laugh upon the corpulent gallant, and he was compelled to apologize to the lady for his awkwardness. This may be an every day occurrence, but it is not without a moral, and brings to mind the old saying of "never halloo until you are out of the woods."

Chastised. A mulatto fellow named Hance, who keeps a tailoring shop in Fayette street, was yesterday morning very justly chastised for his unpardonable impudence in publishing an insulting card, in relation to two young gentlemen of this city. A colored man is entitled to his rights, but he must keep in his proper sphere, and when he deviates therefrom, if he receives correction, he gets no more than his due. He must know his place, and learn that his redress is not in using publicly, without permission, the name of any white man. If such practice be allowed, the time is not far distant when the domestic hearth will be invaded by every wanton scoundrel. A genteel colored person will always find proper protection, but when he resorts to such unpardonable insult he must expect his reward.

Female temperance Association. A meeting of this association is to take place in Wilk's street church this evening. The meeting will be addressed by the Rev. S. K. Jennings. When the ladies espouse the good cause, it cannot fail, for their influence alone over man cannot be resisted.

MARRIED,

On Tuesday, 19th inst. by the Rev. John M. Duncan, Thomas G. Pitts to Elizabeth B. daughter of John Sullivan, esq. all of this city.

On Tuesday evening, 19th inst. by the Rev. Mr Tippet, Thomas Mullen to Miss Margaret Ann Nine, all of this city.

DIED,

On the 21st inst. of pulmonary consumption, James Lamb, Jr. in the 24th year of his age.

On Saturday, 16th inst. Mr. Francis Lowman, in the 47th year of his age, a native of Germany, and a resident of this city for thirty-two years.

MARINE LIST—PORT OF BALTIMORE.

CLEARED.

Brig Token, Loveland, Boston.
Schr Susan Baker, Chase, Pilatki.

MEMORANDA.

Ship Bangor, Odom, was at Marseilles on the 24th Nov. to sail for New Orleans next day.

Brigs Napoleon, Chesebrough, for Baltimore in four days, and Sterling, Doane, for do. (or Boston) in 10 do were left at Palermo 5th ult.

COMMUNICATION.

☞In reference to Mr. DAVISON'S PATENT MUSCULAR GUIDE TO PENMANSHIP, the following from the editorial columns of the Patriot is highly interesting to a discriminating public:

A visit to the Writing Academy of Mr. W. Davison, No. 41 Baltimore street, made us acquainted with the principles upon which is based that beautiful system of Penmanship known as the "Muscular Guide." The utility of the system, and the admirable manner in which the pupil is taught to execute fac-similes of the copies placed before him, may be inferred from the fact of the whole power of the learner's mind and eye being at once concentrated on the letter which it is his object to imitate—and which is done by having enclosed within a transparent case, or tablet, the particular example, and with a suitable pen, writing directly over the confined copy, which operation may be repeated an indefinite number of times, until the muscles of the hand attain a degree of regularity and precision in this delightful exercise, as to insure a sameness and beauty of execution in a remarkable degree. Though novel, and differing from all others now in use in our academies, this system is nevertheless based upon the purest mathematical principles and the operation being wholly mechanical, cannot fail to win the admiration and attention of the pupil. The writing being divested of all redundant flourishes, entitles our author's "Muscular Guide to Penmanship," to rank high in the favor and patronage of a discerning and enlightened public.

ja22-1t*

NOTICE.

"To the friends of the Temperance Cause."

☞At an adjourned meeting of the Friends of Temperance, held at the Hall of the New Market Fire Company on the 20th instant, it was

Resolved, That this Society be known by the name of the "JEFFERSON TEMPERANCE SOCIETY OF BALTIMORE," Auxiliary to the Washington Temperance Society.

On motion—it was

Further Resolved, That a selection of Officers for the current year be made at this meeting

Which resulted in the election of the following named gentlemen:

JOHN H. W. HAWKINS, President.
CHARLES TOWSON, Vice president.
JOSEPH HESS, Treasurer.
T. JEFFERSON WOLFE, Secretary.
A. W. CHURCHMAN, }
PETER KRIEG, } Standing Committee.
JOHN L. BOOKER, }

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the evening, the meeting was numerously attended, and a great many came up and signed the pledge. Several gentlemen addressed the meeting in a strain of eloquence, portraying the evils of Intemperance, which carried conviction to the minds of many present.

There being no further business before the meeting, it was moved to adjourn, to meet on WEDNESDAY EVENING NEXT, 27th inst. at half past 6 o'clock, at the same place, where we expect to meet many of our friends, and feel confident that we will not be disappointed. By order, ja22-1t [s] T. JEFFERSON WOLFE, Sec'y.

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

☞In consequence of the generally expressed wish that the Rev. Dr. BETHUNE should deliver another Lecture in our city, the Lecture Committee have much pleasure in announcing that they have made arrangements for the delivery, on MONDAY EVENING, January 25th, in the Universalist Church, at half past 7 o'clock, of a Lecture on the "Life and Opinions of Socrates"

This Lecture will be extra of the course, and the committee are under the necessity of superseding, for this evening, the course tickets, and have issued single tickets, which will admit a gentleman and two ladies—price 50 cents. For sale at Messrs. Cushing & Brothers; N. Hickman; John Cushing & Co.; Knight & Colburn, and John Murphy's.

☞The active members of the Association will receive their tickets on application to the Librarian.

ja22-3t

NOTICE.

☞The members of the VIGILANT FIRE COMPANY will assemble at their Engine House TO DAY, 22d inst. at half past 2 o'clock, to attend the funeral of their late brother fireman, John Lamb. By order, ja22 1t* L. D. DANELS, Sec'y.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The FEMALE TEMPERANCE SOCIETY, No. 1, will hold a public meeting in Wilk-st. church on THIS (FRIDAY) EVENING, at half past 6 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. S. K. Jennings will address the meeting.

W. H. WATSON, President
ja22-3t [ASR] of the H. T. S.

ROBINSON'S OFFICE,

80 BALTIMORE STREET,
Below Franklin Bank.

15 40 65 One of the Capital Prizes in Wednesday's Maryland State Lottery, class 3, and sold at this office. The following are the drawn numbers—lowest prize $5:

49 66 45 6 25 44 65 23 15 40 29 62

TO-DAY, Virginia State Lottery—Capital Prizes of $10,000, 4000, 2000, 20 of $1000; 40 of $500, &c.

Tickets $3—shares in proportion.

TO-MORROW, in Baltimore, Consolidated Lottery of Maryland—four prizes of $10,000 each!

GRAND SCHEME:

1 Prize of	$10,000	1 Prize of	$5000
1 "	10,000	1 "	4700
1 "	10,000	3 "	2500
1 "	10,000	50 "	300, &c.

Whole tickets $10—Halves $5—Quarters $2.50.

Certificate of Package of Wholes, only $152 00
do do Halves, 76 00
do do Quarters, 38 00

Drawn numbers of Alexandria Lottery, class B, on 19th inst.—lowest prize 4:

10 68 32 25 24 41 48 74 27 54 28 5

☞All letters, addressed to the subscriber, (enclosing cash or prize tickets,) for single tickets, shares, or packages, in any of the Lotteries now drawing every week, will meet prompt attention by return mail, and the result of each drawing sent immediately after it is received. Address, E. W. ROBINSON,

No. 80 Baltimore-st., Baltimore, Md.
Agent for the State of Maryland. ja22 1*

CONCERT OF SACRED MUSIC.

THE BALTIMORE CHOIR will give a Concert of Sacred Music, with full Orchestra, on THURSDAY EVENING, the 28th inst. at the Assembly Rooms, corner of Fayette and Holliday streets.

☞The members are notified that the last Rehearsal previous to the Concert, will take place on TUESDAY EVENING NEXT, at 7 o'clock. They will please deliver their Pass-tickets to the door-keeper. By order, ja22-4t* EDWARD ROBERTS, Sec'y.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE, That the undersigned have this day dissolved partnership, and all those having accounts against the firm are requested to present them for settlement—and those indebted to the same, to pay ROBERT GAYLE, without further notice.

ROBERT GAYLE.
DANIEL FITCHNOR.

Baltimore, January 21, 1841. ja22-3t

WANTED, Two Female FRINGE WEAVERS. Inquire at the Fringe and Tassel Manufactory of C. BISCO, ja20-3t No. 71 Market-street.

CONSUMPTION.

☞ Consumption, that fell Destroyer! More Proofs of the efficacy of Doctor SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY, in relieving afflicted Man. To Dr. SWAYNE.

Dear Sir—The time has been, when I would not recommend a medicine advertised in the public prints over my own signature; I now feel different—I feel it my duty to inform the afflicted where they may find relief. I was reduced, by a protracted COUGH for six months, to a mere skeleton; no rest at night; soreness and pain in my breast, side, &c. Suffice it to say, I used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry, which in a few weeks relieved me effectually. I am certain, had it not been for your medicine (as life frequently depends on early attention to proper medicines,) I should now be in the silent grave. Let no person delay, but procure your Syrup and be relieved of their COUGHS and COLDS, as they are dangerous companions, and often lead to dangerous consequences

Your friend, ABRAHAM SKINNER,
Crawford county, Pa.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.
jy28-y

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE, That the subscriber has obtained from the Orphans' Court of Baltimore county, letters of administration on the personal estate of SAMUEL GODWIN, late of said county, deceased. All persons, having claims against said deceased, are hereby warned to exhibit the same with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, on or before the 22d day of July, 1841, they may otherwise be excluded from all benefit of said estate. All persons, indebted to the said estate, are requested to make immediate payment. Given under my hand, this 22d day of January, 1841.
ja22-law4t JOHN S. CLEMENTS, Adm'r.

HENRY WARREN,
FORMERLY AT T. TENANT'S,
(No. 3 SOUTH STREET,)

BEGS leave to inform his friends and the public, that he has taken a store at No. 4 NORTH-ST. next door to the Patriot office, where he is manufacturing a STOCK of superior quality. The following Merchant Tailors, of known standing in their profession, having examined and expressed their approbation of the Stock, have kindly allowed me to make use of their names as references to the public: John Patterson, John R. Kebo, James Broughton, Orem & Moreling.

☞ RIDING BELTS, SHOULDER BRACES, SUSPENDERS, LINEN COLLARS and BOSOMS made to order.
ja21-co

BURDEN'S PATENT SPIKES, &c.

THE Subscriber's have been appointed Agents for the sale of HENRY BURDEN'S Patent Ship, Boat, and Rail Road SPIKES and HORSE SHOES. They are prepared to serve purchasers of these articles on the same terms as the former agent. A full assortment on hand.

ALSO ON HAND,
HOLLOW WARE CASTINGS, (light and beautifully assorted,) at the lowest market price—together with Large Patent CABOOSES, Cast Iron KETTLES, assorted sizes, &c. &c.

BOYER & DIFFENDERFFER,
ja18-co3t* Corner of Pratt-st. & McElderry's whf.

BALTIMORE SATURDAY VISITER.

THIS PAPER, of the 23d inst. will contain the beginning of a document, (to be concluded the week after,) giving an explanation of the DOCTRINES and PRACTICES OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH, sanctioned and approved by the Most Rev'd Archbishop of Baltimore. Objections to and defences of this document will be given in subsequent numbers.

☞ Single copies can be had at the Office of the Visiter, No. 21 N. Gay street. Subscription, per annum, two dollars in advance.
ja21-7t*

CLOCKS! CLOCKS!!

THE subscribers have opened a Store at No. 34 S. CHARLES STREET, for the sale of their celebrated CLOCKS. They have now on hand, and are constantly receiving, large supplies from their manufactory in the city of New York, Brass and Wood Eight-day, One-day, and Alarm CLOCKS, of every variety of style, and of superior workmanship and finish, which they warrant and offer at wholesale to dealers, at their lowest factory prices.

ja1-1y SMITH & BROTHERS.

THE PATENT COFFEE CLEARER.

THOSE who are fond of a "GOOD CUP OF COFFEE" are requested to try the above article, which will be found to be of unsurpassed utility in setting Coffee. It is also much cheaper and more handy than any thing else which is used for the same purpose—a small piece, thrown into the coffee while boiling, will make it as transparent as amber—price 12½ cents at retail. For sale by

W. J. VAN NESS, Grocer,
n27-tf Market Space.

COTTON FACTORY—For Sale or Rent.

FOR Manufacturing Cotton WADDING & LAPS. The Machinery of the above Factory is propelled by a first rate Four horse Steam Engine. I will sell for cash, or on a liberal credit on approved endorsed notes. This is a rare chance for an industrious person with a small capital—the Factory is well established, and has a good run of customers—possession can be had in March. Inquire of T. W. BETTON, d29-tf No. 151½ Baltimore street.

A PARTNER WANTED, with a small capital, in a respectable and lucrative business, offering such favorable inducements as are rarely or never met with. As the object of the advertiser is not so much for capital as for the INTERESTED services of the desired partner and his business qualifications, references will be required. Applications, stating the amount of capital, with name and residence, left at the City Intelligence Office, corner of Frederick and Baltimore sts. will be attended to. [a] ja21

REAL ESTATE. The subscriber buys and sells, on Commission, HOUSES, FARMS, VACANT LOTS, GROUND RENTS, &c. The facilities for the sale of Real Estate are greater than any other in the United States. GEORGE GELBACH,
City Intelligence, Real Estate and Agency Office, ja21 [a] Corner Baltimore and Frederick-sts.

COMPOUND SYRUP of Wild CHERRY.

DR. H. SWAYNE has appointed RICHARD NORRIS, of William, Druggist, No. 254 Market street, Sole Agent for the sale of his COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY in Baltimore.

☞ A full supply always on hand—wholesale and retail.
ja30-1m

"A clear voice is the beauty of speech."

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY has proved itself to be superior to every preparation of the kind ever offered for clearing the voice. For sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S SUPERIOR LILY WHITE.

THIS is the only article which has ever improved the most beautiful creatures in the world—to wit—the "Baltimore Ladies"—warranted not to injure the skin.

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

MOTHERS, who have children suffering with cough or cold, should procure HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY. It is very pleasant, and Children do not object to it.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE,
d12-y Corner Charles and Pratt streets.

WANTED TO PURCHASE, a Colored Boy from 14 to 20 years of age, a slave for life, of good character—for a respectable gentleman's own use—for which a fair price will be given in cash. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. [a] ja21

CURRANTS AND CRANBERRIES.

500 POUNDS FRESH CURRANTS
7 bbls Superior CRANBERRIES
For sale by MARCUS DENNISON,
d24 31 Baltimore street.

FOR RENT. A HOUSE, situated in Calvert street, containing ten Rooms, a handsome yard in front and back of the House—at a very low rent. Apply at No. 71 Market street, opposite Holliday-st ja20-3t C. SISCO.

FOR SALE, THE STOCK AND FIXTURES of a small Grocery Store, in Old Town, and part of the attached dwelling for rent. Apply at the Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets.
ja20 [a]

FOR RENT, a large dry front CELLAR, situated corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. Apply on the premises, to GEORGE GELBACH.
ja20 [a]

LOTTERY & EXCHANGE OFFICE

TEMPLE OF FORTUNE,
No. 37 EXCHANGE PLACE.

WANTED. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Louisiana, Ohio, and all other UNCURRENT BANK NOTES.

Also, Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, Tide Water Canal, Chesapeake and Ohio Canal NOTES—English, Spanish, French, German, and American GOLD and SILVER—for which the highest premium will be given.

10,000 DOLLARS.

This is the charm, by sages often told,
Converting all it touches into gold.

12, 22, 51, A Capital Prize in the Maryland State Lottery, sold on Wednesday, the holder will please present it and receive the cash.

$ 20,000 may be had on	MONDAY,	for	$5 00
10,000	" TUESDAY,		4 00
20,000	" WEDNESDAY,		5 00
12,000	" THURSDAY,		4 00
6,000	" FRIDAY,		2 00
30,000	" SATURDAY,		10 00

☞ Persons wishing to secure Capital Prizes must be sure to apply at No. 37 Exchange Place. Orders, through the Post Office, addressed to the Temple of Fortune, 37 Exchange Place, will be promptly and confidentially attended to.
ja7-3m

STATE ARMORY AND TOWN HALL LOTTERY,

CLASS TWO FOR 1841.

To be drawn in Baltimore, on THURSDAY, January 28, 1841.

10,000 DOLLARS!!!

100 PRIZES OF 1,000 DOLLARS EACH!

TICKETS but $5—Shares in proportion.

Is there a man, woman or child, in the city of Baltimore, who will not contribute towards the erection of the State Armory and Town Hall, and at the same time secure a chance for an independent fortune, in the Lottery to be drawn on the 28th instant.

CAPITAL PRIZE $10,000—Who'll have it? Don't all speak at once!

Brilliant Scheme.

1 PRIZE of	$10,000 is	$10,000
100	1,000	100,000
10	600	6,000
10	400	4,000
10	300	3,000
20	200	4,000
100	100	10,000
100	60	6,000
100	50	5,000
100	40	4,000
100	30	3,000
200	25	5,000
1,000	20	20,000
2,000	10	20,000
10,000	8	80,000
10,000	7	70,000
10,000	5	50,000
33,831 PRIZES,—amounting to		$400,000

TICKETS FIVE DOLLARS.

Halves $2,50—Quarters $1,25.

The undersigned having been appointed Fortune's special agent for the sale of Prizes in the State Armory and Town Hall Lottery, invites the public to call and choose for themselves,—"first come first served."

Apply to EDMUND BULL,
Agent for the Town } No. 7 N. Gay-st.
Hall Commissioners. } ja21

F. B. SCHÆFFER,
(SUCCESSOR TO BARKER & CO.)
156 BALTIMORE STREET.

$30,000. What friend of our's has got the $30,000 drawn on Saturday last in the Alexandria Lottery, class No. 1, comb. 8, 20, 45. The holder will please hand it in for payment. Nos. 20, 31, 63, a prize of $250 returned for want of a purchaser—as we have said before, it is only necessary to buy a ticket at Schaffer's office to insure a prize. Drawn Nos. Alexandria Lottery, No. 1. 20 8 45 7 68 65 31 50 52 13 72 67 15 62 12

Brilliant Lotteries for the Week:

TO-DAY, Alexandria Lottery, class B, Capital prize $12,000: 50 of $500, &c. Tickets $4.

WEDNESDAY, 30th, Maryland State Lottery, class 3. Capitals $20,000, 4,500, &c. Tickets $5.

On THURSDAY, Alexandria Lottery, Class C—capital prize $10,000. Tickets $4.

On FRIDAY, Virginia State Lottery, Extra, class No. 4, to be drawn at Alexandria, Va. Capitals of $10,000, 4000, &c. 78 Nos. 14 Ballots. Tickets $3.

On SATURDAY, in Baltimore, Consolidated Lottery of Maryland, class No. 2, 65 Nos. and 8 Ballots. Extra capitals, 4 of $10,000, 5000, 4487, 3 of 2500, &c. Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞ For Lucky Tickets, apply to
F. B. SCHÆFFER,
Successor to BARKER & Co.
156 Baltimore street, corner of St. Paul's-st.

Where more prizes have been sold and paid than at any other office within the United States.

☞ Orders for Tickets, in any Lotteries under the management of D. S. GADSBY & Co., thankfully received and promptly attended to—and the result of the drawing sent immediately after it is received. To insure a prize, you must address
ja19 F. B. SCHÆFFER, Baltimore, Md.

DOYLE'S PRATT-ST. PRIZE DEPOT.

MORE PRIZES! Two of the Capitals were sold at this ever Lucky Office, in the Alexandria Lottery, class 1 for 1841, drawn on the 16th—combination 8, 12, 45, and comb. 20, 67, 68. And no later than last Tuesday the handsome capital prize of $2131. The following are the drawn numbers:

20 8 45 7 68 65 31 50 52 13 72 67 15 62 12

Persons wanting prizes will please bear in mind that this is the Lucky place.

On THIS DAY, 26th, the Maryland State Lottery will be drawn in Baltimore. Capital prize $20,000. Tickets $5—shares in proportion.

On THURSDAY, Alexandria Lottery, $10,000. For only $4.

On FRIDAY, Virginia Lottery, $10,000—For $3.

On SATURDAY, Maryland State, four prizes of $10,000—and no blanks.

Tickets $10—shares in proportion.

☞ For Prizes in the above Lotteries, and all Lotteries authorized in the State of Maryland, apply to, or address, M. DOYLE, No. 24 Pratt st.,

Opposite the B. & O. Railroad Depot, Baltimore.

☞ Orders by mail for packages of Tickets; single Tickets, or Shares of Tickets, enclosing cash or prize Tickets, from any part of the United States, will meet with prompt and personal attention, if addressed as above. ja20

THE DOLLAR MAGAZINE,

A NEW MONTHLY PERIODICAL, BY THE CONDUCTORS OF THE BROTHER JONATHAN—THE CHEAPEST MAGAZINE IN CHRISTENDOM. The first number of a new Magazine under the above title will be issued from the office of the Brother Jonathan, 123 Nassau street, New York. It will, besides choice Tales, Sketches, and Poetry, from the most eminent American and British pens, contain five Beautiful WOOD ENGRAVINGS, a new and popular piece of Music, 'A Catch,' &c. &c.

TERMS. The Dollar Magazine will be issued on the 15th of EVERY MONTH, embracing thirty-two large quarto pages, and sent to subscribers by mail, at One Dollar a year, in advance. Single copies, 10 cts.

For sale at 12 NORTH ST. near the Post Office.
ja20-3t* WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

WILLIAM H. KIMBALL & CO.

No. 145 BALTIMORE STREET,

MERCHANT TAILORS, and DEALERS in Broad Cloths; Cassimeres; Vestings; Beaver and Pilot Cloths; Cassinets; Flannels; 100 doz. black, white, and colored Hosiery; Handkerchiefs; Shirts; Drawers; Worsteds; Neck Stocks; Scarfs; Collars; Bosoms; Suspenders, &c. &c.

Also, a large and extensive assortment of ready-made Clothing, consisting of Dress and Frock Coats; Pantaloons; Vests, and Over Coats—which will be sold at the lowest possible prices for cash. ja8

SERVANTS. Persons in want of Servants at any time, are respectfully informed that they can be supplied at short notice, by application at the City Intelligence Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick streets. [a] ja21

DRY GOODS, &c.

FLANNELS! FLANNELS!!

AT THE NEW STORE, No. 39, Corner of BALTIMORE and GAY STREETS,

Rogers' Patent Flannels, warranted not to shrink
Welsh do do do do
Superior heavy Milled Flannels
White, Red and Yellow do. a general assortment.

With a variety of Goods, suitable for the fall and winter season, cheap for cash.

oc2 EDW. J. RICHARDSON.

MANTILLAS AND SHAWLS.

JUST RECEIVED, A large assortment of splendid MANTILLAS and Super Cashmere SHAWLS, viz:

1 lot super quality Black Satin Mantillas, very cheap
1 lot extra super do do, beautifully embroidered, entire new style
1 cartoon 7-4 Cashmere Shawls, various colors
1 cartoon 8-4 extra super do mode and other desirable colors.

☞ Ladies, wishing something very handsome, will do well by calling early, at

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER'S,
ja1 No. 42 Baltimore-st., 4 doors above Gay.

AUCTION CLOTHS & CASSIMERES.

THE Subscribers have on hand, a very heavy Stock of superfine Wool and piece dyed black, blue, invisible green, grass, citron, olive, brown, drab grey mixed CLOTHS, with superfine wool and piece dyed black, blue, drab, grey mixt and fancy CASSIMERES—and Diamond and Beaver CLOTHS.

N. B. Also on hand, a general assortment of DRY GOODS, such as Blankets; Flannels; Cassinette; Kentucky Jeans; Kerseys; plaid Domestics; plaid Linseys; York Mill Shirting; bleached and brown Muslins; Calicoes; col'd Cambrics; Irish Linens; brown Holland-, &c. With a variety of articles too numerous to insert, all which, owing to the advancement of the season, they will sell, wholesale or retail, at very reduced prices. Persons wishing to obtain bargains, may rely on finding them at

DORSEY & NELSON'S, No. 13 Baltimore st.
ja18-eo1w 3d door W. of Market Space.

CARPETING.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS requests a call from persons in want of CARPETING. His Stock consists of Brussels Three Ply superfine and common Ingrain CARPETING, from 75 cents per yard. Purchasers are reminded that, as the business done at this establishment is for CASH only, the prices are lower than at any other Store—the Goods are always well selected and laid in at the lowest cash prices.

ALSO ON HAND—Venitian Carpeting of all widths; Stair Rods; Window Blinds; Baizes; fancy and plain Hemp, Cotton, and Rag Carpeting; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats; Brussels and Tufted Rugs; Carpet Chain; dyed and white Stair Linen, &c.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS,
No. 76 Market-st. corner of Holliday.

N. B. SPANISH MATTING, suitable for Bar-rooms, &c. d17-tf

DRY GOODS.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN are invited to call at No. 60 HANOVER STREET, where they will find bargains in a general assortment of Dry Goods, which it is the proprietor's purpose to close without regard to cost, with a view of supplying their place with an entire fresh stock, among which will be found every variety of Blankets and Flannels, Cassinets, Cassimeres and Cloths, Damask Table Cloths and Napkins, various sizes, Table Diaper, Sheetings, Irish Linens, fine Bombazines, Merinos, figured Cloth and Damask Cotton Table Covers, green and fancy figured Baize, Marseilles Counterpanes, Chintzes, Calicoes, Mouslin de Laine, &c. Furniture Calicoes, Cambric, Swiss, Curtain and other Muslins, large assortment of gentlemen's and ladies' Hosiery of every quality, with a quantity of other goods too numerous to particularize in an advertisement.

GEORGE BEVAN,
ja30 [r] No. 60 Hanover street.

THE INDUCEMENTS offered at the "CHEAP CORNER" are worthy the attention of those in want of BARGAINS.

Yard wide French CHINTZES, 20 cents
Black Ground MOUSELINE DE LAINES, 50 cts.—We have determined to clear out our stock of Mouseline de Laines, and will sell them 25 per ct. less than cost
French Needle-work COLLARS, 37½; super $1
Superfine Black Lamb's wool STOCKINGS, 37½ & 50
" Lead colored Cotton do 18¾
7-8 super white Flannel, three yds. for $1, all wool
A splendid assortment of Thread LACES and EDGINGS, at importers' prices
Plaid Swiss MUSLIN, 1½ yd. wide, only 25 cts.
Brown French LINENS, 12½ cts.
Fine Black and White CALICOES, 12½ cts.
Superfine White Cotton STOCKINGS, 25 cts.
Damaged do do 12½
English and French MERINOS, very low
A full assortment of Germantown Woollen HOSE
Also, SHIRTS and DRAWERS
Linen Cambric HDKFS. 18¾ and 25: childrens' 12½
Ladies' Kid GLOVES, 37½; best quality 62½
7-8 Damask NAPKINS, 25 cents
Col'd Damask Table COVERS
Bleached and Brown MUSLINS, very cheap
Canton FLANNELS
RED TICKS—CHECKS—PLAIDS
Bleached and Brown SHEETINGS
Brown HOLLANDS—Paper CAMBRICS and LININGS, very cheap.

With a general variety, which we will dispose of on satisfactory terms to all who favor us with a call.

E. MILLER & CO.
d15 S. E. corner of Hanover and Lombard-sts.

TO ONE AND ALL.

LOOK! HERE'S A CHANCE!!!
REAL SELLING OFF!!!

THE election of General Harrison, and the prospect of the future prosperity of the country, is one of the strongest inducements to me to forthwith quit the Retail Dry Goods Trade in Lexington street, and devote my whole time to the WHOLESALE BUSINESS in Market street—and having now on hand a very large Stock of Fall and Winter GOODS at Retail, my whole and sole object will be to close out and sell off at LESS THAN COST. In his Lexington street Stock you will find innumerable BARGAINS—as

Splendid Furniture Calicoes, 6¼
Heavy wide Brown and Bleached MUSLINS, 6¼
Canton FLANNEL, super excellent, eight cents
BLANKETS, large size, from half up
Woollen Stair CARPETING, quarter and 6¼
Yard wide good quality do. half and eleve
Colored COUNTERPANES, large size, one dollar
White, Red or Yellow FLANNEL, quarter
Long Cloth Shirting MUSLIN, superior, nine cents
Good CASSINETT, really good, quarter and 6¼
Kentucky JEAN do do, quarter
Diaper Linen Towelling, fringed, 6¼ each
Yard and half wide CLOTH for coats, one and quarter
French MERINOS, wide kind, three quarters
English do do three eleves
CASSIMERES, really super article, one dollar
Green COATING, thirty-one
Mouseline de Laine DRESSES, quarter
Black Mohair STOCKINGS, real good, quar and 6¼
Excellent LINSEY, eleve and four cents
Curtain MUSLINS, three 6¼s
Linen Cambric HDKFS. three 6¼s
White Pocket do eleven pence
Florence Braid BONNETS, two dollars
Mixt Fashionable do three quars
Silk Pocket HDKFS. ten cents
TICKING, good quality, from ten cents
Large size Blanket SHAWLS, one dollar
Rich Broche do two dollars.
Black GRO DE NAP, quar and 6¼
Colored do. figured, half dollar
Large size Brown Linen Table Cloth, half dollar
CALICOES, four, five, and 6¼
Super super CALICOES, ten cents
Heavy Black Cotton HOSE, eleve
Beautiful Hearth RUGS
Cloth CAPS, three quars
CRASH for Towels or Oyster Cloths, 6¼

☞ Notice is hereby given, to all you who want such BARGAINS as you have not had for many days, to call forthwith in Lexington street, and you'll then ascertain that the Goods are all but given away, at

CHARLES JOHN HARTS
n27 Retail Store, Lexington-st.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL. Portrait and Picture FRAMES; Mantle, Pier, Toilet, and all other kinds of Gilt and Mahogany FRAMES French and German LOOKING GLASS PLATES.

☞ All unsurpassed as to cheapness, elegance, and durability. E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

AMUSEMENTS.

NATIONAL THEATRE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

FIRST NIGHT OF MR. SWEENY.

THIS (FRIDAY) EVENING, Jan. 22, 1841,
Will be presented, the Play of
HENRIETTE—THE FORSAKEN.

Henriette,	Miss MONIER,
Philipe,	Mr. MATTHEWS.

After which, Mr. SWEENY will sing and perform on THE BANJO.

To conclude with
THE LOAN OF A LOVER.

Gertrude,	Mrs. BRUNTON.
Capt. Ainsdort,	Mr. BRUNTON.

☞ Doors open at quarter before 7. Performance to commence at half past 7.

GRAND FANCY BALL.

THE EUTAW FISHING CLUB'S ANNIVERSARY FANCY BALL will take place at CENTRAL HALL, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, 27th inst. The different Clubs of the city are respectfully invited to attend. Tickets $1—to be had of the following MANAGERS:

John Nant,	Lewis Chandler,
Edward Cherry,	George Deal,
John Bell,	William Nicholson,
William G. Watkins,	Samuel Thompson,
Isaac Thomas,	Lewis Seltzer,
William Godman,	Joseph E Wilson,
David Patterson,	Charles McDonald,
John Rider,	Thomas Nicholson.

ja21-1w [s] CHAS. L. SPIES, Ballet Master.

ELIJAH McDOWELL'S

CITY INTELLIGENCE AND GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE, No. 3 FAYETTE STREET, Basement story of Barnum's City Hotel, (formerly occupied by Lewis F. Scott,) where is wanted daily, Clerks; Overseers; Porters; Gardeners; Teachers; Barkeepers; Apprentices; Waiters; Coachmen; Agents; Mechanics; Laborers; Farm Hands; Ostlers; Housekeepers; Chambermaids; Nurses; Seamstresses; Cooks, &c. &c.—who must come well recommended to insure situations. Slaves for life or term of years bought and sold; Stores, Taverns, Bar-rooms, and Business Establishments, disposed of at private sale; Tenants procured for Houses, Warehouses, Stores, Farms, &c. Persons at a distance, wishing to be informed of the state of the market, of any article bought or sold, can be accommodated without charge; but all communications on business must come, post-paid, to insure attention. Insolvent Papers prepared at a low rate; all kinds of writing correctly executed; Books posted at moderate charges and kept out of view of spectators. The subscriber, intending to devote his whole attention to the above business, begs the patronage of a generous public. Satisfactory references by

ja19-3m ELIJAH McDOWELL.

READ THIS TO-DAY, IF NOT, TO-MORROW.

CHEAPEST AND BEST BOOK (for the price) ever published—Four Hundred Pages, 8vo. fine paper, handsomely bound in gilt muslin, and lettered. Price TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent clergymen and reviewers. Numerous testimonials like the following can be produced: From the rev. Spencer H. Cone, President of the American and Foreign Bible Society:—Accept my sincere thanks for a copy of your SPLENDID "PICTORIAL ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE BIBLE." I have looked it over with much pleasure. The work is handsomely executed, and not only contains many interesting facts, and correct representations of men and manners in the East, but is also offered at a price unusually low. My hope is that it may obtain extensive patronage.

For sale by WM. N. HARRISON,
At J. Moore's Bookstore, No. 74 Market street, one door below Holliday, and No. 28 N. Gay-st.

☞ The trade will be supplied and a liberal discount allowed. [ja19] W. N. H.

CANTON SASH & BLIND FACTORY,

(Near the Canton Iron Works, Baltimore, Maryland,)

WHERE will be manufactured, to order, in the best possible manner, the following articles, viz: Window Sashes and Blinds, of all descriptions; Panel Doors; Window Frames; Shutters; Screens; Pilasters; Window and Door Caps.

Also, all kinds of WOOD TURNING, such as Columns; Corinthian and Ionic Bases; Grecian and Roman Ionic Capitals; Newell's Balusters, Rosettes, &c. &c.

BEDSTEADS, of all kinds, made to order.

SASHES, Primed and Glazed, constantly on hand.

☞ The employment of Machinery, in the manufacture of the above named articles, will enable the manufacturer to furnish them of as good quality and as cheap as can be purchased at any similar establishment in the country. Orders, by mail or otherwise, promptly attended to.

d25-1m* C. W. BENTLEY.

IMPORTANT TO THOSE AFFLICTED WITH COUGHS & COLDS.

RICH'D THOMPSON'S LIFE PRESERVER, a new and valuable remedy for the relief and removal of the most distressing Colds and Coughs.

The subscriber has been induced to offer this Medicine to the Public from his personal knowledge of its effects, and the testimony of those who have been the subjects of its operation. In no instance within his knowledge (and they have been many) has it failed to give immediate relief to the patient, and ultimately to remove the most distressing cough, brought on by taking cold. In cases of Consumption, nothing is promised beyond relief. This Medicine is equally applicable to Children. Agent for Baltimore,

ROBERT H. COLEMAN & CO.
No. 133 Market street.

Where numerous certificates of its efficacy, from persons of respectable standing, will be shown if necessary. ja13-6w*

JUST RECEIVED!

THE subscriber has just received, by direct importation, a large and very choice assortment of French and German LOOKING-GLASS PLATES, of all sizes, which he will dispose of, wholesale and retail, as cheap as can be purchased in this or any of the more northern cities.

He also keeps constantly on hand, for sale, and is extensively prepared to manufacture, every variety of the neatest and most fashionable Gilt MANTEL and PIER FRAMES; Gilt PORTRAIT and PICTURE FRAMES; Gilt CORNICES, BRACKETS, and all other kinds of Fancy GILDING. Together with all the common or uncommon varieties of Mahogany TOILET and PIER FRAMES.

☞ Work warranted to be, in all respects, of the very best description, and such as cannot be surpassed in any particular, here or elsewhere.

se17-tf E. S. FRYER, No. 2 N. Gay street.

FOR RENT. That large three story DWELLING and STORE, No. 41 N. GAY-ST., adjoining the German Lutheran Church. For a Boarding house, perhaps there could not be a house better calculated, as to location and convenience, it being but a short distance from the market, and near Baltimore street—it is open and airy, with extensive back buildings, and has dry cellars under the whole—added to which, the water is brought into the kitchen, and directly above is the Bath house, &c. To a good tenant the rent will be made low. Apply to the subscriber, who has, and always keeps, a full assortment of the most Fashionable CABINET FURNITURE, at the lowest prices, for cash, or good acceptances.

EDWIN S. TARR,
ja18-tf No. 4 Gay, near Baltimore street.

HANCE'S COMPOUND MEDICATED HOREHOUND CANDY—For Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, &c. This remedy is particularly useful for children, as it is as pleasant as a common Candy.

The ingredients are horehound, wild cherry, sleecampane, liquorice root, seneka root, slippery elm, Iceland moss, and hoarset. Adults, who have a severe cough, should use the SYRUP in conjunction with this.

Price 25 and 50 cents.

For sale by SETH S. HANCE, corner Charles and Pratt streets; Parr & Graham, corner of Baltimore and Eutaw streets; and by William Taylor, office Brother Jonathan, 12 North-st. d19-y

PIANO FORTES AND VIOLINS.

The subscriber offers for sale, on reasonable terms, three German PIANO FORTES, just imported from the celebrated Factory of RIPPE & PROBST, Cassel. They are of superior tone and fine touch.

Also—A number of choice VIOLINS, selected with great care, being superior to any that can be had in this country. JOHN METZ, No. 80 Gay-st. (O. T.)

ja18-tf Opposite the Independent Engine House.

BY SAMUEL H. GOVER,
South East corner of Lombard st. and Market Space.

FURNITURE, &c. AT AUCTION.

I WILL SELL, THIS MORNING, at 10 o'clock, at the Depot House, in South CHARLES STREET, a good assortment of Household FURNITURE, as the landlord intends retiring from business, consisting of Bureaus, high and low post Bedsteads, trundle do. Feather Beds, Mattresses, Chairs, Wash Stands, Blankets, Quilts, Sheets, Looking Glasses, Wash Basins and Pitchers, mahogany Dining and Breakfast Tables, Kitchen do. Toilet do. Andirons, Shovels and Tongs, Fenders, &c. China, Glass and Crockery Ware, Tin do. Iron do. a large lot too numerous to mention

S. H. GOVER, Auctioneer.

The above will be positively sold. ja22 1t*

BY H. W. BOOL,
No. 60 BALTIMORE STREET.

To Cabinetmakers and Mechanics generally.

2630 Feet Mahogany VENEERS; a new and patent Tenoning Machine cost $150, of great power and simple construction; 35 pieces Mahogany FURNITURE of every kind; Chairs and Household Effects generally; $660 worth of Dry Goods; a variety of Groceries; Clothing; Hats; Shoes; Caps; Furs; Newark Blacking; 200 dozen of Straw Whisk or Clothes Brushes.

The above is for my extra sale THIS MORNING, 22d inst. at my store. The Veneers are from Boston, the mahogany, from which they are sawed, is some of the best in the country, and put up in parcels from 50 to 250 feet each. Terms of sale cash.

ja22 H. W. BOOL, Auct'r.

BY WEVER, CANNON & CO.
No. 28 S. CHARLES STREET.

TRUSTEES SALE OF SILKS, SATINS AND WINES, &c. By order of the Trustees we will sell on FRIDAY MORNING, 23d inst at 10 o'clock, on the second floor of our warehouse, No. 28 S. Charles street, a rich and handsome lot of whole and cut pieces of plain and figured SILKS and SATINS, among which we will name, Gro de Naples, Poult de soie, Imperial Italian Lustrings, Bettings, plain and col'd Satins, &c.

Also, immediately after the close of the above, we shall sell an invoice of very superior German & French WINES, in bottles, belonging to the same concern, consisting of Asmannshouser, Muscat, Erbacter, Rudesheimer, Graves, Rhenish, Sweet and 4 casks Madeira. Terms cash in bankable money.

ja19 WEVER, CANNON & CO. Auct.

TO OUR PATRONS AND OTHERS.
READ AND BE NOT HUMBUGGED.

The friends and old customers of the subscribers will please to bear in mind that we do not, nor do we intend selling HATS in the Maryland Arcade again. If any of our patrons are not aware of our removal, and should again visit there with a desire to purchase a Hat of KEEVIL'S Manufacture, they will be deceived, as we have no connexion with any concern whatever, excepting our only establishment, No. 66½ BALTIMORE STREET, where, by unremitting attention to business, and manufacture of our Hats, we hope to merit a continuance of the liberal support of the public. Our prices are well known, and are as follows: Fine Russia Hats for $2.50, of the same quality as those selling elsewhere for $3. Also, beautiful Silk Hats on Russia bodies for only $2.50, actually worth $4. We make our own Hats and warrant them to be first rate, at KEVIL'S well known Store, No. 66½ Baltimore street, opposite Tripolett's alley, between Gay and Holliday-sts. So call in for first rate

HATS!
HATS!!
HATS!!!
HATS!!!!
HATS!!!!!

Wearers of Hats, this is no humbug or puff, the fact of the subscriber's being their own Manufacturers, who perform most of the labor with their own hands, and being at a low rent, their economical habits of living, and cash system of doing business, are sufficient reasons for their being enabled to sell at such unprecedented low prices—and knowing, from experience, as they do, that small profits and quick returns are most advantageous in the end—don't forget to call at

W. H. KEEVIL, & CO'S,
No. 66½ Baltimore-st., opposite Tripolett's alley, And 4 doors W. of Bool's well known Auction Store.
d16-tmh1*

THE VERY BEST
FAMILY NEWSPAPER
IN THE UNITED STATES.

THE OCEAN
AND BALTIMORE WEEKLY CLIPPER
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING,
By BULL & TUTTLE,
EDITED BY
SAMUEL BARNES, JOHN H. HEWITT, and JOHN WILLS,
AT ONLY $1.50 PER ANNUM.

IS one of the CHEAPEST and BEST FAMILY NEWSPAPERS now published. Being made up from the columns of the DAILY CLIPPER, comprising all the current NEWS of the week, TALES, POETRY, &c. &c. embracing a greater variety of interesting matter than can be found in any other newspaper publication extant. The paper is carefully mailed EVERY SATURDAY MORNING, and sent to subscribers in every part of the Union. Subscriptions $1.50 per annum, always payable in advance.

☞ All letters must be addressed (post paid) to
BULL & TUTTLE,
No. 7 N. Gay street, Baltimore, Md.

N. B. Single copies of the Ocean and Weekly Clipper can always be had at the Office, with or without wrappers—price 6¼ cents. ja15 d

VALLIER'S FRENCH PILL, FOR THE CURE OF SECRET DISEASES. One box of these inestimable Pills is worth all the Quack Medicines in the world.

COMMENT. If we examine the nature of the above diseases, and the situation of the parts affected, we must consider it a very important object to be able to obtain a remedy at once certain in its action, and at the same time composed of such ingredients as will prevent the possibility of discovery while using it. It is a fact well known to many, that most of the remedies offered for these diseases are composed of such nauseous drugs, as to render it almost impossible to continue their use without creating a sickness at the stomach or other unpleasant consequences. Such being the case there can be no doubt but such a remedy as Vallier's French Pills, will meet the universal approbation, being entirely free from those objections; pleasant in their operation, and prompt in removing the disease. The proprietor would here remark, that the efficacy of these Pills in the disorders alluded to, are not based upon supposition; on the contrary, it is founded upon rational experience, having used them in a successful practice for upwards of two years, he feels confident of their superiority over the remedies hitherto employed.

☞ Price one dollar per box. For sale in Baltimore by SETH S. HANCE, ja11-y Corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

HANCE'S Compound Syrup of Horehound.

CERTIFICATE. Mrs. WILLIAMS, of Petersburg, Va. caught a very severe cold last fall, and thinking it would wear off in the course of time itself, neglected it to a very great extent. Finding, however, it did not leave her, she then tried various remedies, some of which subdued the cough in a measure, but none effectually cured it.

About a month ago, her husband thought she had better try a change of air, so she came to Baltimore, where she first became acquainted with the COMPOUND SYRUP OF HOREHOUND—the use of which produced such relief, that before she had finished it she determined to purchase two bottles and return home. Price 25 cents per bottle

Prepared and

BALTIMORE CLIPPER.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL MISSION IN SOUTH AMERICA. The Methodist Missionary Society have some very interesting mission stations in South America. The oldest is at Rio Janeiro, under the general superintendence of the Rev. J. Spaulding; another at Buenos Ayres, at the head of which is the Rev. John Dempster; a third, and the one recently established, is at Montevideo, under the superintendence of the Rev. William H. Norris, formerly of Brooklyn. Of this last mission a correspondent of the Boston Recorder thus writes from Montevideo:

"The Rev. Mr. Norris, of the Methodist Episcopal Missionary Society in the U. States, arrived from New York last year. He opened his house for public service on the Sabbath, and proving an acceptable preacher, quite an interest has been excited in his behalf, and in behalf of the Protestant cause generally. A Sabbath school has been established for foreign children, and a subscription has been set on foot for raising funds to build a suitable church for Mr. Norris. Five thousand two hundred patacones (equal to as many Spanish dollars) have been subscribed, besides a handsome organ. Two American mercantile houses give individually and collectively 1150 patacones. A lot has been selected and purchased, near the centre of the city, costing 4,000 dollars.—Application has been made to government for permission to build, and is now daily expected to be granted, when operations for erecting the house will commence. Mr. Norris occasionally preaches on board of some of the British and American shipping lying in the harbor, on Sabbath afternoons—visits the sick and poor and administers to their spiritual wants. It is worthy of remark that the contributions for the place of worship are collected from the English, Scotch, German, Swedish and American residents, whose unanimity is truly commendable."

We have read from time to time letters from the officers of the Navy who have been on the South American station, and they all speak favorably of the missionaries, and the apparent good which has resulted from their labors.

ANOTHER SURVIVOR. A correspondent of the N. Y. Sun states that Ransom Clark, recently deceased, was not the last survivor of Major Dade's command, as has been generally supposed and published. He further states that John Sprague, now in his sixth enlistment, and on duty at Bedloe's Island, is a survivor of the bloody and unfortune contest from which it has been stated, Clark alone escaped with life. His body (says the writer) bears honorable testimony to his presence not only on the field but on many other days of toil and blood in his country's service, and he is able and willing again to meet not only the savage but the more refined and enlightened foes of his country whenever and wherever called to that duty."

MRS. KINNEY. The Boston Post says: This ill-starred lady has determined to return forthwith to her native home, in Maine, in company with her father. The subscription opened in her behalf produced but a trifling sum.—The stubborn fact is, whether right or wrong, the women in general are prejudiced against her, and very few husbands cared about paying out cash for nothing, and at the same time displease their wives. The young, or unmarried men, of course have other uses for their money.

SAMUEL WILLIAMS, ESQ. Samuel Williams, Esq. formerly a distinguished banker in London, died in the city of Boston on Saturday morning last. The Boston Gazette says—"In 1820-23 no man in the commercial world filled so large a space in the public eye as he did.—Of late years he has been a mere 'walking shadow about town;' but we doubt not that some able pen will do justice to his memory."

THE DEAD MENDICANT. At a late hour on Monday night, Daniel Fisher, a city watchman, found a poor woman in West Broadway laying on the side walk, apparently overcome with the intense cold. He removed her to the watch house, and kindly laid her near the stove. In the morning she was dead. Deceased was a miserable dependant on the world's "cold charity."—N. Y. Sun.

AN INVENTION. Somebody at Nashville is making buckets with a machine moved by steam power. The whole process, from the rough block, of sawing, grooving, turning and finishing, is conducted by steam machinery. The manual force required to turn out five or six hundred buckets a month is only about four hands.

The New York Planet says of Mrs. Gaines, "she is a tolerable speaker." She deserves to be encouraged then, as an example to her sex, who, we believe, are generally intolerable 'speakers.' [Richmond Slar.

Comb his head, ladies.

FIRE AT JERSEY CITY. On Tuesday the mansion of Dudley S. Gregory, Esq., in Jersey city, was nearly destroyed by fire. The house and furniture were among the most expensive in the State.

FROZEN TO DEATH. The dead body of an unknown female was discovered, yesterday morning, in the hall of house 139 Fulton st. She was in a sitting posture, and had evidently been frozen to death.—N. Y. Sun.

A MURDER. A man named George Brown, residing in Brecknock Township, Lancaster county, injured his wife so severely a few days since, that she died of the wounds. Both colored persons.

THE AMISTAD CASE was not taken up on Saturday by the Supreme Court of the U. States, in consequence of the absence of Judge Story, who was detained at home by indisposition.

Two females who were dying of extreme cold, were brought to the notice of the N. York proper authorities on Tuesday.

The second Concert at the Park on Tuesday, drew another full house.

Dr. Solomon Heine, has been held to bail in New York, for perjury.

BUSINESS CARDS, &c.

M. H. PRICE, WATCH MAKER and JEWELLER, No. 62 S. CALVERT STREET, keeps for sale, at all times, Watches, Jewelry, Fancy Articles, Spectacles, &c. &c. d22-y

A. BURDETT, Repairer of Silver Plated and Britannia Ware, Astral and other Lamps No. 27 S. LIBERTY STREET, near Lombard-st. d22-y

MARX & HART, ENGRAVER ON WOOD, from London, No. 14 HOLLIDAY STREET. d19-6m

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER, wholesale and retail Dealers in Italian, French, and India SILK GOODS, No. 42 BALTIMORE STREET, 4 doors above Gay street. n18-5m*

OFFICE of the Brother Jonathan, New World, New York Daily and Weekly Herald, &c. &c. No. 12 NORTH STREET, near the Post-office. n12-y WILLIAM TAYLOR, Agent.

FAMILY COAL. HUGH BOYLE, No. 57 Smith's wharf, is prepared at his COAL YARD, foot of President street, (City Block,) to furnish families with a superior "Anthracite Coal" at reduced prices. se29-3m

JOHN PETERS, PROPERTY, COMMISSION AGENT & COLLECTOR, N. W. corner of Market and North streets, (up stairs.) se22-d

ROBINSON'S ACADEMY, 112 BALTIMORE STREET, for lessons in Writing, Book-keeping, and Arithmetic. Also, in Architecture, in Drawing, and in Painting in Oil and Water colors. m26-y

JOS. BARLOW'S Cheap GROCERY, FEED and FLOUR STORE, opposite Lexington Market, one door E. of Paca street. jy23-y*

M. MURRAY, CARVER & ORNAMENTAL PATTERN MAKER, N. W. corner of Baltimore and South streets, (up stairs.) je10-6m*

BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH, No. 39 Fayette street, near the Post office. Terms lowest in the city. See advertisement. m11-y1m*

MINIATURES, Painted in the best style, by MRS. NAIRN, No. 6 South Frederick street. mh13-y

WILLIAM W. LEE, No. 4 N. GAY-ST. respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he has opened a BARBER SHOP & DRESSING ROOM, and respectfully solicits their patronage. N. B. Gentlemen's Hair Cutting in the latest style. s4-y

CO-PARTNERSHIP.

SAMUEL HAZLEHURST, of this city, and WILLIAM T. WALTERS, of Harrisburg, Pa., have this day associated themselves under the firm of

HAZLEHURST & WALTERS,

For the purpose of transacting a GENERAL COMMISSION BUSINESS, and have taken a Warehouse on COMMERCE STREET WHARF, with the advantages of the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road in front and a Water Communication in the rear, where the usual size flay vessels can discharge with facility.

With these advantages, and a strict attention to all business entrusted to their care, they hope to merit a share of public favor. All business confided to them will receive prompt attention, and every facility guaranteed to their friends.

REFERENCES:

Messrs. James Cheston & Son, Baltimore.
John Bradford, esq. do.
Hugh Jenkins, esq. do.
James Hepburn, esq. do.
Christian Haldeman, esq. Columbia.
Jacob M. Haldeman, esq. Harrisburg.
Thomas Elder, esq. Harrisburg.
W. Patton, esq. Cash. Far. & Mer. Bank, Philad.
W. D. Lewis, esq. Cash. Girard do.
William S. Smith, esq. Philad.
G. W. Lyman, esq. Boston.
Baltimore, 1st January, 1841. ja1-d2wcolw*

DR. GORDAK'S
JELLY OF POMEGRANATE
AND PERUVIAN PILLS,

ERADICATES Mercury from the system, and will cure Nervous Headache; Dizziness in the Head; Palpitation of the Heart; Oppression of the Breast; Indigestion; Flatulency; Costiveness; Darting pains in the Head, Back, Side, and Limbs; Jaundice and Liver complaint; Blind and Bleeding Piles; Scrofula; Salt Rheum; Tetters; Canker, and all Impurities of the Blood.

For Colds and Coughs; Catarrh; Spitting of Blood; Influenza; Phthisic; Asthma, Hoarseness; Shortness of Breath, and for Consumptive Complaints, there cannot be found such a help for man as in Dr. GORDAK'S JELLY OF POMEGRANATE PILLS & ICELAND BALSAM.

Dr. GORDAK also gives great satisfaction in Rheumatism and Gout; Dropsy, Gravel, and Kidney Complaints; Female Complaints, &c. &c.

☞ A large number of certificates can be seen by calling at my Office, No. 13 LIGHT STREET, Balt., or in the Pamphlets connected with the Medicine.

Price of Pomegranate Jelly and Pills, $1.25.
Medical Office, No. 57 Hanover street, Boston.
Office in New York, No. 342 Broadway.
Office, No. 13 Light st., three doors N. of Mercer st. Baltimore. Attended by H. N. ROBY.

WM. GORDAK.

N. B. Mr. ROBY having spent two years in practice with Dr. G. is confident of giving satisfaction to those who may favor him with a call.

d12-6m H. N. ROBY.

LOOK OUT!!
"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.

AN ATTACK of the "PILES" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT. There are more than one thousand people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dreadful complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach—of this there is the most perfect proof.

☞ None genuine without the name of COMSTOCK & Co., written on the wrappers.

SOLOMON HAYS.

☞ For sale by G. W. ANDREWS, S. S. HANCE, and Dr. DAVIS. n24-eo6m

LIVER COMPLAINT. This disease is discovered by a fixed obtuse pain in the right side under the short ribs, attended with heat, uneasiness about the pit of the stomach;—there is in the right side also a distension—the patient loses his appetite and becomes sick and troubled with vomiting. The tongue becomes rough and black, countenance changes to a pale or citrous color, or yellow, like those afflicted with jaundice—difficulty of breathing, disturbed rest, attended with a dry cough, difficulty of laying on the left side, the body becomes weak, and finally the disease terminates into another of a more serious nature, which in all probability is far beyond the power of human skill. Dr. Hartich's Compound Tonic Strengthening and German Aperient Pills, if taken at the commencement of this disease, will check it, and by continuing the use of the Medicine a few weeks, a perfect CURE will be performed. Thousands can testify to the fact.

☞ For sale by W. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay street. jy28-y

MARYLAND INSTITUTE.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on MONDAY, the 31st of August, with increased facilities for the acquisition of knowledge. The Chemical, Philosophical, and Astronomical Apparatus, is extensive and well selected. The plan of the Institute embraces all the branches of a complete English education, with the Latin, Greek, French, Spanish, and German Languages. Lessons in all the modern languages will be given daily. The department of Writing and Drawing will be efficiently conducted by MR. J. C. ROBINSON. AUGUSTUS FREITAG, L. L. D., a native of Germany, will give particular attention to the German.

☞ Parents or Guardians, who wish to examine the rooms or enter pupils, will receive every attention, upon calling at the residence of Dr. J. N. BAXTER, on the east side of St. Paul street, three doors south of Saratoga street.

a28-tf J. R. BURLEIGH, A. M., Principal.

WANTED, immediately, two good Cooks; three good colored Cooks. Also, a good seamstress. Apply at the City Intelligence and Agency Office, corner of Baltimore and Frederick-sts. [A] d21

COPPER PLATE AND MUSIC PAPER, on hand and for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE, d17 No. 2 S. Charles street.

CITY INTELLIGENCE,

REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AGENCY OFFICE,
N. W. corner of Baltimore & Frederick-sts.

PERSONS, far and near, supplied with all kinds of HELP at the shortest notice, viz: Clerks, Porters, Overseers, Apprentices, Gardeners, Hostlers, Laborers, Salesmen, Bar-keepers, Teachers, Boys and Girls, Coachmen, Waiters, Chambermaids, Book-keepers, Agents, Mechanics, Farm Hands, Housekeepers, Cooks, Nurses, Seamstresses, &c.

All those who apply FOR employment at this office, must produce recommendations of good character, &c.

Persons at a distance wishing to EMPLOY any one in the above capacities, or wanting employment will be supplied by addressing by letter, post paid, enclosing ONE DOLLAR each.

Houses, Farms, Vacant Lots, Ground Rents, and all kinds of Property, bought and sold at Private Sale, on commission.

Slaves, for life or a term of years, bought and sold on commission, and the highest prices obtained.

Money loaned on Mortgages, Promissory Notes, Judgments, Goods, &c.

Stores, Taverns, Bar Rooms, and all kinds of Business Establishments, disposed of at Private Sale.

For Rent at all times, and Tenants procured for, Houses, Stores, Farms, Rooms, Warehouses, &c.

Insolvent Papers prepared, and all kinds of writings correctly drawn up.

The subscriber, thankful to the public for their liberal encouragement heretofore, pledges himself hereafter to give general satisfaction to all those who may patronize this establishment. Respectfully,

GEORGE GELBACH.

Refer to—WILLIAM F. GILES, Esq., H. W. Boot, Esq., WILLIAM C. COSKIE, Esq.

N. B. All communications, addressed to this office (post paid,) thankfully received and promptly attended to. ja7

JOB PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE,

PRACTICAL JOB PRINTERS, beg leave to inform their friends and the public, that they are prepared for the execution of every description of PRINTING, on the most extensive scale. Their assortment of TYPES, BORDERS, &c. embrace every variety necessary for the most finished execution of all work that may be entrusted to them.

They will print, to order:

BUSINESS CARDS	HANDBILLS
BALL TICKETS	WAYBILLS
CIRCULARS	STEAMBOAT BILLS
CHECKS	RAIL ROAD BILLS
NOTES	STAGE BILLS
BILL HEADS	SHOW BILLS
CATALOGUES	PAMPHLETS
BILLS OF LADING	LABELS
LOTTERY BILLS	HATTERS' TIPS,

Together with FANCY JOBS, in Colors, for framing,

LARGE POSTING BILLS,

For Theatres, Circuses, &c. &c., printed to order, at the shortest notice, in the most showy style.

B. & T. have also in operation, in their Office, the "Belper Double-action Printing Machine," recently imported from England expressly for their use, by the aid of which they will be enabled to execute PRINTING at much lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch, than heretofore.

☞ In returning thanks to their friends for the favors of the past year, they assure them their usual personal attention will be paid to the prompt and correct execution of all orders in their business, at very reduced prices.

☞ Call at the CLIPPER OFFICE, No. 7 North Gay street. jn9-d

A Beautiful and Suitable Present for Ladies.

THE LADY'S BOOK. We have scarcely penned a paragraph of praise to this paragon of periodicals, and another deserving still more is required. People may talk of puffing as much as they please, but we can say to the most heretical, let him but see the beautiful engraving prepared by Godey for the January number of his Lady's Book, and if he does not say that it surpasses excellence, then are we willing to knock under. The plate is called "Neapolitan Peasants going to the Festa of the Pic di Grotta," and a more life-like piece of art it has never been our fortune to see. There you have, as natural as life itself, a group of half a dozen peasants, on their way to the city, each carrying the fruits of their industry. In the fore ground are a small boy and girl, bearing on their shoulders a pole, on which are slung all sorts of viands; then comes a good looking matron, carrying on her head a basket, and holding by the hand a chubby-looking girl, who, like the rest, is carrying a bunch of grapes; and behind comes three or four others, following in the trail, while in the distance are several busily employed in preparing articles for market. Altogether, it is one of the very handsomest things ever gotten up for a periodical of any country, and is alone worth twice the subscription price to the Book. Subscriptions received at

WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
ja14 No. 74 Market and 28 N. Gay street.

PHRENOLOGY.

The subscriber respectfully announces that he has established his Office at No. 3 NORTH-ST. next door to the Patriot Office, where he will be happy to wait on those Ladies and Gentlemen who may be desirous of a PHRENOLOGICAL EXAMINATION.

E. TYLOR can confidently state that his extensive practical experience, enables him to give individuals a faithful delineation of their mental capacity, peculiar talents and disposition, as well as point out what pursuit in life they are best qualified by nature to perform. A good assortment of Phrenological Books, Almanacs, Busts, Skulls, &c. for sale cheap, by

E. TYLOR, Practical Phrenologist.
N. B. Chart and Examination, only 50 cts. ja9

B. G. HUDDART,
HAIR CUTTER AND PERFUMER,
No. 3 HOLLIDAY STREET,

Where may be had HUDDART'S celebrated CIRCASSIAN OIL, for improving and beautifying the Hair. Also, INDIAN, VEGETABLE, MACASSAR, and other GENUINE OILS for the Hair, at 25 cts. per oz.—half oz. vials, 12½ cts. Ringlets, Curls, and Ornamental HAIR-WORK, of every description, made to order.

N. B. HAIR CUTTING and DRESSING in all its branches. s15-eo6m

THE PROPRIETORS OF THE GAY-ST. CHAIR WARE ROOMS, would inform their friends and the public generally, that they have now on hand, a very splendid assortment of Parlour and other CHAIRS, comprising Mahogany, Maple, Walnut, and a variety of imitation wood colours. They would request persons, disposed to purchase, to give them a call, as their assortment is not surpassed if equalled by any establishment in the city.

They would also inform Shipping Merchants that they have on hand a large assortment of Cane and Slatt-back KNOCK DOWN, suitable for the West Indies or South American market, among which is a large proportion of very rich colored white tops—all of which they are willing to sell on the most accommodating terms. se1-d1f A. & J. B. MATHIOT.

OHIO Rail Road, Tide Water, Virginia & Wheeling NOTES—For sale by a12 E. W. ROBINSON, 80 Baltimore-st.

CHILDREN TEETHING.

AT this important period, LITTLE CHILDREN suffer very much, and should not be neglected. Mothers and Nurses, who have the care of them, should be cautious and apply such means as will relieve them. Dr. PARIS' SOOTHING SYRUP, for CHILDREN CUTTING THEIR TEETH, is pronounced by Thousands to be the most efficacious medicine yet discovered; it gives immediate relief to those little ones, (if used according to directions,) thus preventing FEVER, CONVULSIONS, and other dangerous symptoms, which often prove fatal. It is highly important to be very careful of whom you purchase this medicine, and not mistake the spelling in the name of PARIS, as there are several individuals representing themselves as Agents, who palm on the unwary a different article, which is not only useless, but a Dangerous Poison to Infants. ☞ Remember, all genuine has the signature of Dr. PARIS blown in the bottles, and the labels and envelope contain an entry, "According to an act of Congress," with the fac simile of the proprietor on the envelope. Unless it contains us aforesaid, touch it not. Price 50 cents. For sale by

jy28-y WM. G. COOK, No. 3 N. Gay-st.

RICH SILK GOODS.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER have just received, direct from New York and this market, a splendid assortment of Rich SILK GOODS, consisting as follows—

1 case 4-4 Rich Glace Faconne, all colors
1 " do. Black and Blue Black Gro de Affrique
1 " do. Satin Striped and Figured Helencia
1 " do. Satin Stripe and Rept, all shades
1 " do. 4-4 Black and Blue Black Gro de Rhine
1 " Plain Gro de Swiss, all colors.

SHAWLS! SHAWLS!! SHAWLS!!!

Just opened—Extra super 9-4 Cashmere SHAWLS
" Black Cashmere, embroidered, beautiful
" Very splendid Satin Glace Shawls, large
" 6-4 Cabeech SHAWLS
" 5-4 Broche do.
" 5-4 Thibet Wool do.

MOUSELIN DE LAINES.

One case Black Ground Mouselin de Laine, heavy
Colored Figured do. very superior quality
Half mourning Mouselin de Laine
Handsome assortment Plain and Figured do.
One case superior French MERINOS, all colors.
With a general assortment of New Style Fall Goods, to which they very respectfully invite the attention of their customers and the ladies generally.

DIFFENDERFFER & CARTER,
n13 43 Market-st., 4 doors above Gay.

C. H. EISENBRANT,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER OF
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS,
No. 54 BALTIMORE STREET,

Has received by late arrivals from Germany, France, & England, a large supply of MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, which will be sold, wholesale and retail, on very pleasing terms, viz:

From Germany—Mahogany and Rosewood PIANO FORTES, manufactured by the celebrated Ernst Rosankrantz. These Instruments are warranted to be of excellent tone and workmanship, and are the finest imported from said factory.

From France—Rose and Satin-wood Guitars; Violins, No. 10 to 30; silver-mounted Flutes, with 8, 6, and 4 keys; B. C. E flat and F. Clarionets; Valve Ophiclydes; Valve French Horns; Trombones; Trumpets; Cornopeons; Accordeons, with 8, 10, 12, and 21 keys.

From London—Kent Bugles, with all the improvements; Cornopeons, made by Chas. Pace, who made Mr. James Deems' Cornopeon—said Instruments were ordered two years ago.

From Rome—A fresh supply of Violin Strings, warranted to be the very finest quality, 4 length and four threads. ap18-1y

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY!

100,000 DOLLARS can be saved by the community of Baltimore, by using WEST'S SAFETY REFLECTING CAMPHINE OIL LAMPS, which are entirely different from any other kind ever offered to the public, and far surpass any thing now in use. In point of cheapness and simplicity of construction, the above Lamps are not one quarter the trouble of the camphine lamps in general use, and yet are warranted to give a brilliant light at the small expense of one cent. per hour.

☞ Those who wish to supply themselves with a cheap light, would do well to call and examine them at the subscriber's store, where they can be seen burning every evening.

LAMPS FROM $1.50 UPWARDS.

☞ The best quality CAMPHINE OIL always on hand. C. WEST, a7-tf No. 90 W. Pratt st., 4th door below Eutaw-st.

VEGETABLE COUGH SYRUP. For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Pain and Soreness in the Breast, Influenza, Consumption, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Dyspepsia, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs generally.

This SYRUP is composed of Irish Moss, combined with such other articles as have been found best calculated to afford relief in the above named diseases, and in cases approaching consumption, attended with bleeding at the lungs—and never known to fail. Common Colds, which are generally the effect of obstructed perspiration, will yield to its influence in a few hours. When used in Asthma, Hoarseness, Wheezing, Shortness of Breath, it affords immediate relief. In Whooping Cough, it is without a rival For sale by

JAS. W. W. GORDON, cor. of Pratt & Howard-sts.
J. O. & N. McCORMICK, Gay street, O. T.
T. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.
And in Washington City, by
CHARLES STOTT, cor. of 7th st. and the Avenue.
H. WADE, on 7th street.
Georgetown, by G. M. SOUTHERN.

☞ With full Directions, &c. accompanying each Bottle. Price 50 cents per Bottle. se17-y

PICTORIAL BIBLE!!

FOR SALE AT WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Emporium, No. 28 N. Gay-st. and 74 Market st. near Holliday.

A GIFT FOR ALL SEASONS.

150,000 READERS! THE TREE OF KNOWLEDGE!! Cheapest and best Book (for the price) ever published; Four Hundred Pages, 8vo.; Fine Paper, handsomely bound in gilt, muslin, and lettered. Price only TWO DOLLARS. This work has received the encomiums of all our most eminent Clergymen and Reviewers. Numerous testimonials can be produced. d24

POSTING BILLS, of the largest size, HANDBILLS, BUSINESS CARDS, CIRCULARS, BILL HEADS, BALL TICKETS, &c., together with every other description of JOB PRINTING, executed at the Office of the Baltimore Clipper, on lower terms than at any other office in this city. se17

BALSAM COPAVIA CAPSULES OF PURE GELATINE.—This is the only pleasant way of using that nauseating medicine, so celebrated for curing the secret disease. Three dozen in box—only $1.

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

COMPOUND SYRUP OF SARSAPARILLA—For the cure of chronic, mercurial, and acute RHEUMATISM; pains in the bones; swelling of the joints and impurity of the blood. This syrup is prepared from the best ingredients, by the alcoholic process. Price, $1 per bottle—for sale by

SETH S. HANCE,
d 12-y corner of Charles and Pratt streets.

FASHIONABLE SLEIGH LININGS.

TARTAN PLAID, Woollen SLEIGH LININGS, yard and a half wide, splendid bright colors. Coachmakers and others are notified that I have this day received another lot of this fashionable article, and for sale in small quantities, to suit convenience of purchasers, at

CHARLES JOHN HART'S Wholesale Store,
d28-d Corner Baltimore and Charles sts.

INDIA RUBBER SHOES—

Men's plain RUBBERS, Women's plain do
Misses do do do fig'd do

A few cases of each. Just received per barque Ida, and for sale by

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 South Charles street.

FOR RENT. A neat two story Brick HOUSE in Canal street, 4th door south of Monument st., in first rate order, handsomely papered, the ceiling with a glazed paper—the rent will be $8 per month. Also, a HOUSE in Wilk-st., old town. Inquire of M. A. DYSART, 31 E. Baltimore-st.
ja8-4tw2 Third door from Exeter street.

13 Cases Kip and Thick BROGANS, some extra sizes, just received per barque Ida, and for sale by TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
ja6 No. 2 S. Charles-st.

OFFICE OF GRAHAM'S MAGAZINE,
Philadelphia, January, 1841.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S AND GENTLEMEN'S MAGAZINE, (the Casket and Gentleman's united,) for January, 1841, splendidly embellished with one of Sartain's Original Mezzotinto Engravings, entitled 'The Playmates;' a plate of fashions, with three female figures beautifully colored; two pages of Music, and Angling illustrated—now ready for delivery.

CONTENTS OF THE NUMBER:

The Young Rambler, by Thomas G. Spear.
The Last Evening, by Jesse E. Dow.
The Waters of Lethe, by N. C. Brooks, A. M.
Leaves from a Lawyer's Portfolio. The Avenger, by D.
A Soldier's the Lad for Me, by A. McMakin.
The Blind Girl, by Mrs. C. Durang.
To the Pine on the Mountain, by Lydia Jane Pierson.
The Reefer of '76, by the author of 'Cruising in the Last War.'
Sabbath Bells—Impromptu—by Willis G. Clark.
Thine—Only Thine. By Mrs. Catharine H. W. Feling.
MUSIC. The Indian Maid. A Ballad. Music arranged by S. Nelson.

EMBELLISHMENTS:

'The 'Playmates,' a beautiful Mezzotinto Engraving on Steel. By J. Sartain.
A Plate of the Fashions, colored—three figures.
Two pages of Music.

☞ Terms $3 per annum, or 25 cts. a single number. Published monthly—delivered in any part of the city, and sent by mail to all parts of the United States and the Canadas, by the publisher.

Subscriptions received at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Depot,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, 74 Market-st.
And at No. 28 N. Gay-st., near Fayette-st.
ja2 Baltimore, Md.

READ THIS!!

SPLENDID ENGLISH ANNUALS at half price—for 1840.

Book of Beauty,	16 superb plates—price	$3.50
Keepsake,	15 do	3.50
Heath's Picturesque Annuals,	15 plates,	3.00
Forget-Me-Nots,	11 plates	2.00
Friendship's Offering,	10 plates,	2.00

Also, a beautiful Present, to last for twelve months. The Lady's Book, or Ladies' Companion, each $3 per year, or 25 cents monthly. What can be a more acceptable present from a Beaux to a Belle, or a Father to his Daughter, than either of the above Periodicals.

Call and examine, at
WM. N. HARRISON'S Periodical Establishment,
At J. MOORE'S Bookstore, No. 74 Market-st.
d31 And at No. 28 N. Gay-st. near Fayette.

THE GENUINE VEGETABLE PILLS, AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR GONORRHŒA, GLEETS, STRICTURES, &c. &c. Of all the remedies yet discovered for the cure of these complaints, the Vegetable Pills have been the most effectual, as they have never been known to fail to effect a permanent cure. They are mild and pleasant to take, yet powerful in their action, and may be taken without the knowledge of the most intimate friend. These Pills are put up in square boxes, with full directions accompanying each box. For sale by

SAM'L. CAREY, corner of South & Baltimore-sts.
JAMES O. McCORMICK, N. Gay-st., O. T.
THOS. J. PITTS, Fell's Point.

Washington City, by
W. KIRKWOOD, cor. 12th street and the avenue.
CHARLES STOTT, corner of 7th street and the Avenue.

In Georgetown, by C. M. LINTHICUM.
se9-y

PAPER WAREHOUSE.

TURNER, WHEELWRIGHT & MUDGE,
No. 2 S. CHARLES STREET—(UP STAIRS.)

HAVE FOR SALE, 12 cases Southworth Manufacturing Company Ruled Letter PAPER
10 cases do do Cap PAPER
15 do Butler's Fine and Superfine Letter PAPER
5 do do do do Cap do
4 do do do do Folio post do
20 do Hudson's do do Letter do
15 do do do do Cap do
10 do do do do Flat Cap do
8 do do Demi, Medium, Royal, and Super royal WRITING PAPER
12 do Hubbard's fine and superfine Letter do
6 do do Ledger PAPERS, various sizes
2 do do Super Flat Cap
12 do Kendall's Ruled Cap and Letter
5 do Hickey and Leyste's do do
10 do Plainer & Smith's do do
4 do do Folio and Packet Post
15 do Franklin Manuf. Co. Cap and Letter
2 do do Ledger PAPERS
90 do Ames' Ruled Cap and Letter
2000 reams NEWSPAPER, various sizes
2000 do Medium, Royal, and S. Royal Printing
200 do Colored Medium, Royal, Super Royal, and Double Cap
4,000 reams Wrapping PAPER, various sizes
10,000 lbs. Hanging PAPER, 20 and 22 inch.

☞ Printing and Writing INK; Quills; Playing and Printing Cards; Music, Tissue, and Envelope Papers; Trunk, Band Box, and Binders' BOARDS; RUSSIA SKINS, &c. n16

MACHINE PRINTING.

BULL & TUTTLE, BOOK & JOB PRINTERS, No. 7 N. GAY STREET, take this method of informing the public, and Printers generally, that they have now in operation, in their office, THE BELPER DOUBLE ACTION PRINTING MACHINE, recently imported by them from England, and that they are prepared to execute PRESS WORK thereon at lower rates of charge, and with greater despatch than can possibly be attained by any other Printing Press now in use. As the machine is at present used principally in the publication of the Clipper at night, they would be enabled to execute the press-work of an afternoon daily paper, as well as any other work that may offer. Printers, having long numbers on a form, would find it to their advantage to have the work done on the above machine, and are respectfully invited to call. n6-tf

SPANISH MATTING, AND CHEAP WOOLLEN CARPETING,
AT 76 MARKET-ST., CORNER OF HOLLIDAY.

WILLIAM JEFFREYS has just received, a fresh supply of SPANISH MATTING, and an additional supply of WOOLLEN CARPETING, at 75 cents per yard. He has now in Store, in addition to the above articles, Fine and Super Ingrain, Three Ply, and Brussels CARPETING; Cotton and Hemp do.; Tufted and Brussels RUGS; Venetian Carpeting; Stair Rods; Table and Piano Covers; Door Mats and Window Blinds; Dyed and Colored Carpet Chain; Rag Carpets; Green and Fancy Figured BAIZES—together with a variety of articles, which will be sold low for cash. Also, Table and Floor OIL CLOTH, of various patterns. n26-tf

NEW STEAM TURNING SHOP,
BAZAAR, HARRISON STREET.
Wood Turning, Hat, Block, & Pattern Making.

THE subscribers would inform their friends and the public, that they have commenced the above business, in each branch, and pledge themselves to attend to the same with punctuality and neatness. Also, SAWING, circular and straight, such as Ripping and Scroll work. WOOD SCREWS of all sizes, such as Bench and Hand Screws. Also on hand, a good assortment of GUM, well seasoned for hubs.

☞ All orders for the above work will be promptly attended to, and on reasonable terms.

ROBERT R. HARRISON,
LEWIS G. CURLETT,
se10-6m No. 12 Harrison street, Baltimore.

WANTED TO PURCHASE.

A two story DWELLING HOUSE, with a small ground rent, situated between Canal and Paca streets and Pratt and Saratoga streets—price not to exceed $2300. Any person, having such a house for sale, may hear of a cash purchaser, by applying to GEORGE GELBACH,
