...ld for the past three years, prove them to be true, reliable and devoted friends of the Union, and there is no reason to suppose they will less efficiently sustain the cause of Constitutional Government, because they refuse to be merged into the Republican party, or become no longer active moral agents, by pledging themselves to sustain "the whole policy of the administration," whatever that may be. UNION.

EASTON, October 23d, 1863.

Pursuant to public notice a large and respectable meeting of the friends of the Hon. John W. Crisfield assembled at the Court House on the 23d inst. The meeting was organized by appointing John Harper, Esq., Chairman, and Dr. H. T. Goldsborough, Secretary. It would be impossible in the short space allowed to give but an imperfect idea of the able manner in which for more than two hours, Mr. Crisfield entertained his audience. He regretted the absence of his competitor, whom he invited to attend, but whose engagements would not permit of his presence. He had no red-republican aiders, nor was he escorted by a sable band clothed in the government uniform, nor was any such among his audience. He was the regular candidate and no disorganizer. He was for the vigorous prosecution of the war and was ready to vote men and money for that purpose. The contest was forced upon us—it was a war for national life—we must conquer or be conquered—we must resist or die. He could not consent to exchange simply a confederate constitution for the long and well-tried federal one. He had been charged by his competitor with having refused to vote for the ten million bill—in so doing he was but carrying out the wishes of the Legislature of which Mr. Creswell was a member. On the subject of the Speakership, Mr. Crisfield read the following extract from a letter to a friend:

"My vote for speaker, if I shall have one, will mainly depend on the man. I cannot pledge myself to support a candidate, who is unknown to me. I may however, say, I will not vote for a man, who is what I understand to be, Copperhead; nor for one who hesitates to support the Union and carry on the war vigorously to suppress the rebellion; nor for one who is a fractious partizan spirit, will thwart the constitutional authorities in the first exercise of their constitutional functions; nor for one who seeks peace on any ground inconsistent with national unity. Nor will I vote for any one who is for prosecuting the war for the overthrow of any State institution or for any purpose but to suppress the rebellion and to restate the just authority of the Constitution and the laws. The man I desire to vote for, must be a national man, he must stand on the Constitution and respect it; and while he claims for the Union all that belongs to it, at the same time willingly concede to the States and the people what belongs to them."

In conclusion, Mr. Crisfield announced himself in favor of emancipation, whenever that measure could be accomplished in such a manner that the races should be separated, and when the aged, the young and infirm should not be turned, starving and helpless in our streets. He believed that slavery was no sin, but that it was more beneficial to the negro than it was to the white man, and he would not introduce it where it did not previously exist. At the close of his speech, Wm. B. Clark, Esq., offered the following resolutions which were adopted with but one dissenting voice:

WHEREAS, Our late Representative in Congress the Hon. John W. Crisfield, representing fully the voice and will of his constituents of the 1st Congressional District of Maryland, and

WHEREAS, Being fully satisfied with his political action as a member of the same the Union men of said District have in accordance with the usual forms of nomination re-nominated him for a seat in said Congress. Therefore, be it further

RESOLVED, By this meeting duly assembled in mass, do fully endorse the said nominee and will ratify and perform the obligations which we are under (by inviting him to become our candidate,) to support him by our votes at the ballot box.

Independent Candidates.

Mr. Editor:

I OFFER myself an independent Union Candidate, for a seat in the next House of Delegates of Maryland. ALEX. H. SETH.

St. Michaels, October 31, 1863.

To the Voters of Talbot county:

I OFFER myself as an Independent Candidate for the office of States' Attorney, for Talbot county. If elected, I pledge myself to discharge the duties of the office faithfully and impartially, and with a zealous regard to the well-being of the county.

INDEPENDENT UNION CANDIDATE FOR THE SHERIFALTY.

I OFFER myself as a candidate for the Sheriffalty of Talbot County.

oct 17-te B. ALLEN.

Independent Union Candidate
FOR CLERK OF THE CIRCUIT COURT.
JULIUS A. JOHNSON.

To the Voters of Talbot:

Exercising my right as a citizen to come before the people for their suffrages, I offer myself as an Independent Candidate for Clerk of the Circuit Court of Talbot County.

In the election of the present incumbent, you have twice, fellow citizens, decided that candidates for that office ough: to be independent of politics, and free from party trammels; and upon this ground I confidently appeal to you for your suffrages.

Though not expecting to make a better Clerk than the gentleman nominated by the Union Convention, from my experience in several public offices, I can safely pledge myself that if elected, the duties of the office shall be performed with the utmost promptness, and with strict fidelity and correctness.

It is generally known to the voters of Talbot, that from the first incipiency of the rebellion, I have been a warm and underiating supporter of the Union, and it is only necessary for me now to say that I still maintain the same principles I have heretofore advocated, and which received the unanimous endorsement of the entire Union party of Maryland at the last election.

Hoping that I may receive a liberal support from the voters of the county, I leave the matter, my fellow citizens, in your hands for decision at the ballot box.
