5th Int. State whether or not said real Estate is susceptible of division among said parties without loss and injury thereto and whether or not it would be to the benefit and advantage of all of said parties, infants as well as adults, to have the same sold and the proceeds divided among them and give your reasons for your opinion?

Ans. It is not susceptible of such division without loss and injury because of the location of the property and the number of the heirs, I think it would be to the interest and advantage of all to have it sold and the proceeds divided because in the course of time the property would depreciate by being rented out.

To the 6th Int. by the Examiner.

Ans. I know of nothing further except that the farm is under a lease which will not expire till April 1. 1892.
