Two miles south of Northeast, on Elk Neck is a two story brick house of Federal design. It is two bays wide and two rooms deep and has a lower kitchen wing which was constructed at the same time as the former section. The kitchen is also two storys and is partially brick and partially clapboard. Granite is used for the lintels and sills of the windows and doors. Paneled shutters have been used throughout and the windows have 6/6 sash. The east gable of the main section is stuccoed. The house has undergone slight remodeling and the addition of an enclosed leanto porch off the kitchen wing.
