Mr. Waltner's house is a simple fieldstone house of the early 19th century which carries many of the plainer early features in its construction. It is four bays long and one bay deep with large chimneys within the gable ends. There is a porch on the south facade and a leanto kitchen on the east gable. The fieldstone has never been covered with anything and is very pleasing to the eye, because a great number of houses in Cecil County have been covered with whitewash or stucco. The sash throughout are 6/6/. There is a date on the gable end and it is thought that a member of the Alton family built the house in 1816.
