As she came back to the kitchen she observed her husband falling down in the kitchen and he became unconscious. It was learned from Investigator Gregory from the Medical Examiners office that the body of Mr. Flanagan showed an injury to the back of the head of unknown origin.

Based on the facts and evidence at the scene there is sufficient probable cause to believe that a struggle ensued between Carl and Hilbert Flanagan and that injury was inflicted upon Hilbert Flanagan causing him to die and that Carl Randolph Flanagan inflicted that injury.

MOTION FOR APPROPRIATE RELIEF

Now comes Sandra A. O'Connor, State's Attorney for Baltimore County, and Scott E. Nevin, Assistant State's Attorney for Baltimore County, and pursuant to Maryland Rule 4-252(c) respectfully requests that Louise Virginia Flanagan be called to testify in the above-captioned case as a Court's witness and, in support of this request says:

1. That Louise Virginia Flanagan has been summoned to testify in the above case as a State's witness;
2. That Mrs. Flanagan possesses relevant and material information concerning the circumstances surrounding this offense;
3. That a strong filial relationship exists between the Defendant and Mrs. Flanagan, the Defendant's mother?
4. That the State cannot vouch for Mrs. Flanagan's credibility in that she made an oral statement to the police when they first^e arrived at the scene of the crime which varies materially from [^]written statement she gave to the police later on the night of the offense;
5. That Mrs. Flanagan refused to meet or talk with the State's Attorney alone rather, she insisted that the meeting take place at the Defendant's lawyer's office with Mr. White and the Defendant present;
6. That Mrs. Flanagan is hostile to the State;
7. That it is the State's understanding that the Defendant has no objection to the State's request and had intended to call Mrs. Flanagan as a defense witness; and

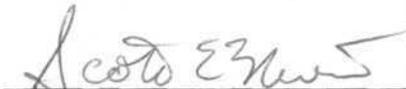

FILED MAR 16 1987

8. That unless Mrs. Flanagan is called as a Court's v/itness, a serious injustice amounting to a miscarriage of justice may result.

WHEREFORE, it is requested that this Honorable Court call Mrs. Louise Virginia Flanagan as its own witness, permitting both the Defendant and the State the opportunity to cross examine her.

My son returned home at approx 1-^•>'sG- Λ£. <&L*/ had playing 2 sets Ball game. I questioned him what had happened, he being so late. I told me to tell me if he wanted to take a bath or eat first, no answer. I realize he had been drinking. I raised my disapproval. While getting his supper up, he went to bed. I tried to get him to eat thinking it would be in his best interest. Refused. His father came upstairs and scolded his disapproval of what his condition. Randy kept saying he only wanted to go to bed and wanted a good breakfast.
 All was calm until we started putting the food away and I said don't keep going that Randy wouldn't A, on the difference.
 All of a sudden Randy appeared with a baseball bat, started breaking kitchen articles up. His father at the last tried to remembering that his father desired his retirement that all he wanted to do was sit on his rear.

 In any way I couldn't separate them. All of a

In the upper abdominal midline, extending to circumscribe the right side of the umbilicus is a linear to curvilinear, healing surgical incision partially circumscribed by purple-green ecchymosis. The external genitalia are those of a normally developed adult male. The anus is unremarkable. The back is unremarkable and the extremities are normally formed. External evidence of recent medical therapy consists of an endotracheal and orogastric tube in place, a roughly rectangular, approximately 4"x2V, red-purple contusion overlying the precordium and consistent with a "thumper" mark, a left antecubital needle puncture wound, a right antecubital intravenous catheter, bilateral inguino-femoral sutured cut-down with an intravenous catheter on the left and a hospital-type identification band about the left wrist.

EVIDENCE OF INJURY:

1. On the right posterior scalp, centered approximately 1h" below the vertex and 2" from the midline is a roughly hemispherical, approximately IV in diameter, red-purple contusion and firm swelling of the scalp, (with several very small, multi-directional, linear to irregular superficial denudations in the skin, possibly incurred during shaving of the scalp hair) Incision of this area reveals subcutaneous and subgaleal hemorrhage up to 3/4" thick and extending into the surrounding scalp up to 2h" in greatest dimension. No associate injuries of the calvarium, brain or basilar skull are identified. See Brain Note.
2. On the posterior scalp, approximately in the midline and overlying the occipital protuberance are 2 irregularly curvilinear, slightly overlapping, superficial laceration without associate contusion measuring to 3/8" in greatest dimension and extending up to 1/8" deep to the skin. There are no associated internal injuries.

SYSTEMS REVIEW:

omitting features previously described:

HEAD:

No abnormality is noted in the reflected scalp, calvarium, meninges, base of skull and brain. The brain will be described in detail following adequate fixation.

NECK:

No abnormality is noted in the muscles, hyoid bone, laryngeal cartilages and cervical vertebral column.

BODY CAVITIES:

DIAGNOSES:

- I. Arteriosclerotic Cardiovascular Disease
- II. Blunt trauma to head (see Brain Note)
 - A. Subcutaneous and subgaleal hemorrhage, right posterior scalp

OPINION:

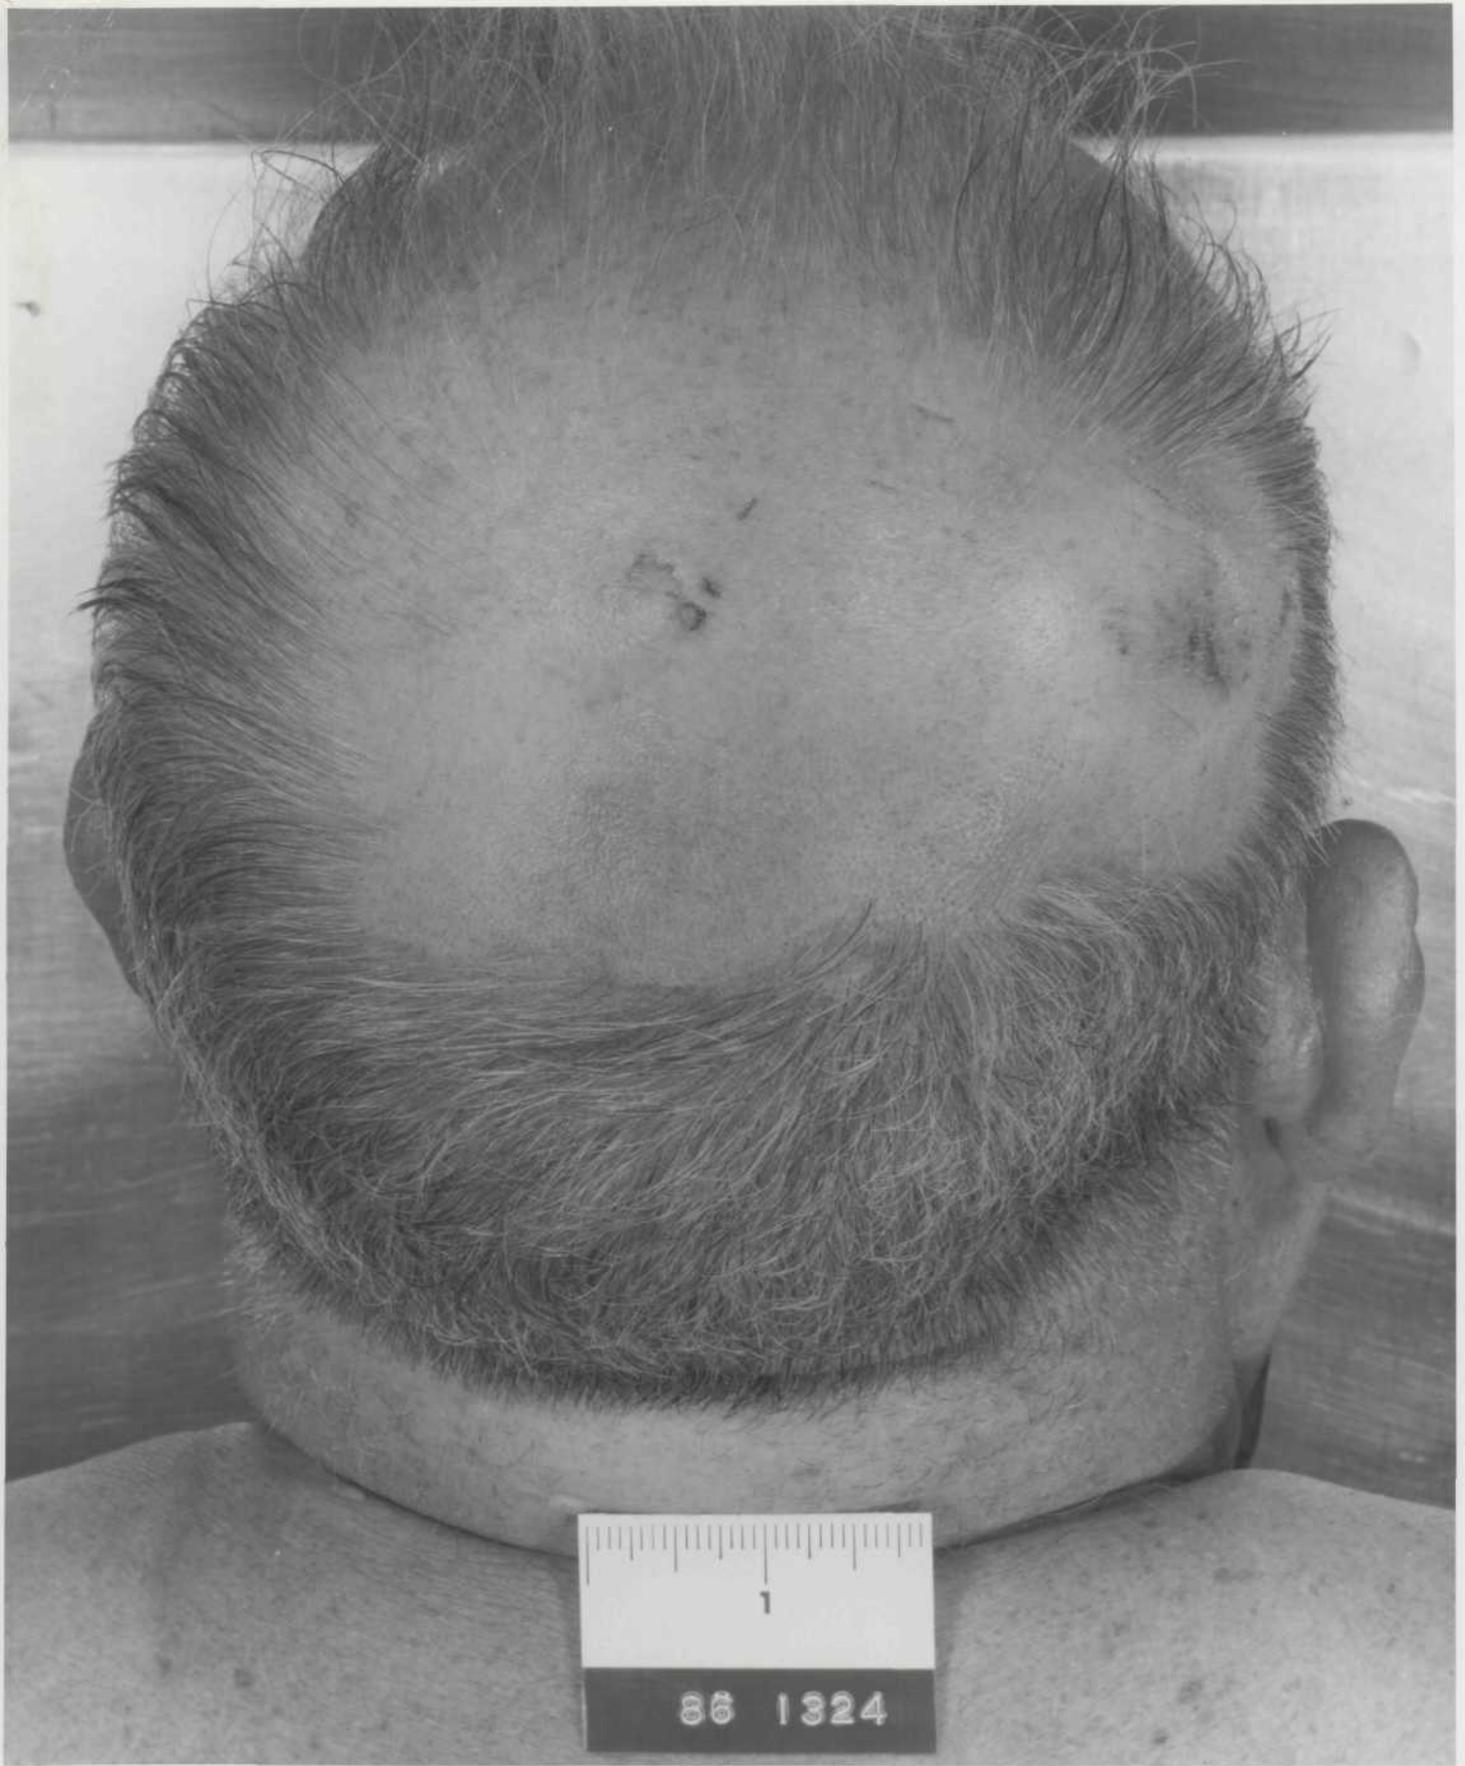

Hilbert L. Flanigan, a 74 year old White male, died as a result of Arteriosclerotic cardiovascular disease with contributory blunt trauma to the head. The injuries to the right posterior scalp are consistent with the subject having been struck with a blunt object, while the superficial lacerations of the scalp at the back of the head in the midline are consistent with having resulted from a fall. In consideration of the circumstances, the manner of death is HOMICIDE.

STATE'S REQUESTED JURY INSTRUCTIONS

Now comes the State of Maryland by Sandra A. O'Connor, State's Attorney for Baltimore County, and Scott E. Nevin, Assistant State's Attorney for Baltimore County, and requests this Honorable Court to instruct the jury in the abovecaptioned matter as follows:

JURY INSTRUCTION NO. _____

Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, the instructions which I am about to give you concern the substantive and procedural law applicable to this case. These instructions regarding the law are binding upon you and your sole function in this case is to judge the facts, i.e., to interpret the facts of the case in light of the procedural and substantive law upon which I will instruct you and to arrive at a verdict based upon your interpretation of those facts under the law. You may not interpret, vary or ignore the law but must apply it as instructed to the facts which you find in this case.

FUNCTION OF JURY WHERE NO DISPUTE AS TO SUBSTANTIVE LAW

JURY INSTRUCTION NO. _____

You are further instructed that in this case you have heard the testimony of expert witnesses. An expert witness may testify only when you require assistance in the formation of conclusions requiring special training or skill. The expert witness may state his opinion on relevant matter, to which he professes to be an expert, in order to help you reach a true conclusion, with respect to the subject matter under investigation. The Court shall decide who, on the basis of their special knowledge, training, or skill, is competent to give expert testimony, and whether this testimony would be of appreciable help to you in deciding the material facts in this case. You are to weigh this expert testimony, as you do all the other evidence in this case, and give to it as much consideration as you feel it deserves.

EXPERT TESTIMONY

JURY INSTRUCTION NO. _____

Voluntary intoxication is generally not a defense to crime in the state. However, where a particular mental state is an essential element of a crime, intoxication by drugs and/or alcohol may be considered in determining whether the Defendant lacked the mental capacity to form the requisite mental state.

An essential element of Murder in Second Degree is the intent to kill. Voluntary intoxication may be considered in determining whether the Defendant lacked the mental capacity to form this intent. However, for the intoxication to be a defense to a crime requiring specific intent, the impulse to commit that crime must have arisen after the commencement of the intoxication.

The degree of intoxication necessary to negate the ability to form this intent is great and is comparable to that degree of mental incapacity that will render a Defendant legally insane. Johnson v. State, 292 Md. 405, 425, n. 10, 439 A.2d 542 (1982). It is not enough that the Defendant was drinking prior to the offense or that he was even drunk during the offense. The Defendant must have been so intoxicated by alcohol that he was robbed of his mental faculties. The Defendant is criminally responsible so long as he retains control of his mental faculties sufficiently to appreciate what he is doing.

You should consider evidence of the Defendant's intoxication by alcohol at the time of the offense along with all of the other evidence.

INTOXICATION

JURY INSTRUCTION NO. _____

Murder in the Second Degree is the intentional killing of a human being without excuse, justification, or mitigation, and also without deliberation and premeditation. Here again proof that the killing was intentional may be proven by circumstantial evidence the same as First Degree Murder by considering the act itself which caused the death. If you find that the death was caused by the Defendant's use of a deadly weapon against a vital part of the body of _____ you may infer that the Defendant intended the natural result of such an act, that is, the death of _____ . Intention to kill, then, may be shown by proof that the act which caused the death of the deceased had as its natural result either death or such serious bodily injury as would naturally result in death.

Second Degree Murder differs from First Degree Murder only by the absence of deliberation and premeditation. Therefore, if you find that the Defendant intentionally killed _____ but has failed to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the killing was done with deliberation and with premeditation, then your verdict should be guilty of Murder in the Second Degree.

MURDER IN THE SECOND DEGREE

JURY INSTRUCTION NO. _____

Involuntary Manslaughter is the unintentional killing of another that directly results from the commission of an unlawful act that does not amount to a felony. The State must prove the causal link between the unlawful act and the ensuing death.

INVOLUNTARY MANSLAUGHTER - COMMISSION OF UNLAWFUL ACT

JURY INSTRUCTION NO. _____

Involuntary Manslaughter is the unintentional killing of another caused by the Defendant's commission of a lawful act in a grossly negligent manner. Gross Negligence is conduct which manifests a wanton and reckless disregard for life. In order to convict the Defendant, the State must prove a causal link between the grossly negligent conduct and the ensuing death.

INVOLUNTARY MANSLAUGHTER - GROSS NEGLIGENCE

JURY INSTRUCTION NO. _____

The Court instructs the Jury that intent is a subjective matter and it must, therefore, be inferred from the circumstances of the case. Intent may be proved by establishing facts which permit a reasonable inference that the accused intended the consequences of his acts. Where there is evidence from which the trier of facts may make a rational conclusion regarding the intention of the accused, that is all that is required.

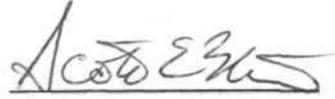

Yopps v. State, 234 Md. 216, 198 A.2d 264 (1964).

Perez v. State, 7 Md. App. 452 (1969).

Johnson v. State, 5 Md. App. 540, 248 A.2d 663 (1968).

INSTRUCTION NO. /

You are instructed that the manner of death alleged by the State to be homicide is based upon the allegations that the Defendant intentionally struck the Decedent with a baseball bat, which caused the Decedent to have a heart attack and die.

Judge Jacobson

INSTRUCTION NO. C-

If the Decedent's heart attack was caused by some trauma to his head, not inflicted by the Defendant, or by any mild physical contact between the Defendant and the Decedent or by an emotional disturbance created by the Defendant, your verdict should be not guilty.

INSTRUCTION NO. "1"

In order to find the Defendant guilty of Manslaughter, you must be convinced beyond a reasonable doubt that the Defendant intentionally struck the Decedent in the head with a baseball bat which cause the Decedent to suffer a heart attack,

n

INSTRUCTION NO. 14

If you do not find, beyond a reasonable doubt and to a moral certainty, that the Defendant intentionally struck the victim in the head with a baseball bat, even though you find that the injury to the victim's head caused his death, you must find the Defendant not guilty.

JURY INSTRUCTION NO. _____

Ladies and Gentlemen of the jury. The only charge in which you are to consider in this case is involuntary manslaughter. The Legislature defines involuntary manslaughter as the unintentional killing of another caused by either (1) an unlawful act by the Defendant that does not amount to a felony or (2) a lawful act conducted in a grossly negligent manner.

For the Defendant to be found guilty of involuntary manslaughter, the State must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the Defendant committed an unlawful act which does not amount to a felony or committed an act in a grossly negligent manner, and, that there is a causal connection between the Defendant's act and the victim's death.

It is not essential, however, for the State to prove that the ultimate death which resulted was either foreseen or intended by the Defendant.

Stewart v. State, 65 Md. App. 351, 500 A.2d 676 (1985).

JURY INSTRUCTION NO. _____

Gross negligence is defined as conduct which manifests a wanton and reckless disregard for life.

Mills V. State, 13 Md. App. 196, 282 A.2d 147 (1971)

GROSS NEGLIGENCE

JURY INSTRUCTION NO. _____

The Court instructs the Jury that circumstantial evidence consists of proof of collateral facts and circumstances from which the existence of the main fact may be inferred according to reason and common experience. It may be used to prove any element of the crime, including the criminal agency of the accused. The law makes no distinction between direct and circumstantial evidence and circumstantial evidence alone is sufficient to support a verdict of guilty. No greater degree of certainty is required when the evidence is circumstantial than when the evidence is direct.

Circumstantial evidence need not be such that no possible theory other than guilt can stand. It is not necessary that the circumstantial evidence exclude every possibility of the Defendant's innocence, or produce an absolute certainty in the minds of the jurors. The rule does not require the Jury to be satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt of each link in the chain of circumstances relied upon to establish the Defendant's guilt.

Nichols v. State, 5 Md. App. 340, 247 A.2d 722, 728 (1968).

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

JURY INSTRUCTION NO. _____

A witness may be discredited on a material fact in his testimony by evidence showing that he had given a prior statement on this material fact which is inconsistent with his present testimony being given at trial.

Proof of these inconsistent statements is not to be considered as evidence of any substantive fact - it is solely for the purpose of aiding you in estimating and evaluating the credibility of the witness.

Where an attempt has been made to impeach a witness by proof of a prior inconsistent or contradictory statement, it is for you to decide whether the attempt was successful. You may accept or reject all of the testimony of that witness or give it such weight as you think it deserves.

INCONSISTENT STATEMENTS

JURY INSTRUCTION NO. _____

Evidence of the existence of good character is not in itself a defense to a crime, but when proved, it should be taken into consideration in connection with all the other evidence in the case, and be given such weight under all the facts and circumstances of the case as it merits in the judgment of the jury. Evidence of good character is to be considered by you in the same manner as any other evidence in the case.

In deciding how much weight to give such character evidence, you should also consider the credibility of the witness(es) who testified regarding the Defendant's character.

If you believe, however, based on the evidence that the Defendant is guilty of the offenses alleged, you must convict the Defendant in spite of his otherwise good character.

CHARACTER EVIDENCE

INSTRUCTION NO. 2

The Defendant testified that he feels responsible for his father's death because he created an emotional disturbance, You are instructed that simply because the Defendant feels responsible and that he created an emotional disturbance, this is not sufficient to find the Defendant guilty of any crime of which he is charged.

INSTRUCTION NO. 3

The Defendant testified that he may have mildly pushed the Decedent. You are instructed that there is no evidence to support a finding that such pushing caused or precipitated the Decedent's heart attack and death.

DESCRIPTION OF PRESENT OFFENSE

According to Baltimore County Police Offense Report E872-917, on 7/31/86 officers were originally dispatched to the residence which the defendant shared with his parents at 110 Melvin Avenue in Catonsville in response to a complaint from the defendant's mother regarding his apparent intoxication. Court records indicate that within four minutes of Mrs. Flanagan's call to the 911 Center, the defendant requested medical assistance for his father, Hilbert Leon Flanagan, the victim, who he reported had suffered a heart attack.

Upon arrival, the officers found the victim, who initially had a shallow pulse, lying on the kitchen floor. Observed near the victim's feet was a baseball bat on which there was blood. Transported to University Hospital, the victim was pronounced dead at 0204 hours. The autopsy report by Dr. Gregory R. Kauffman indicated that the victim died as the result of Arterioscleroti Cardiovascular Disease with contributory blunt trauma to the head. Dr. Kauffman's opinion, signed 8/20/86, reads as follows: "The injuries to the right posterior scalp are consistent with the subject having been struck with a blunt object, while the superficial lacerations of the scalp at the back of the head in the midline are consistent with having resulted from a fall."

According to the Statement of Charges, the kitchen and dining room showed signs of an altercation. Broken glass was strewn on the floor, and the toaster oven and radio had been broken.

The offense report indicates that the defendant, upon questioning, denied striking his father with the bat. According to the offense report, submitted by Investigating Officer J. A. MacLellan, the defendant's mother twice stated that the defendant had struck the victim with the bat. However, upon later questioning by Detective Naylor, Mrs. Flanagan indicated that, at no time, did she witness the defendant strike his father.

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT

Interviewed on 5/7/87, the defendant submitted the following written account of the offense at that time:

"I awoke at 6:00 A.M. and had breakfast at 6:10 A.M. I worked from 7:00 A.M. till 4:30 P.M. due to a mandatory one hour overtime company rule implemented during the busy season. I changed clothes at work to a softball uniform for the last two games of the season at 6:00 P.M. and 7:10 P.M. I played in both games and the team won both games to become eligible for post season play.

After the last game, the whole team went to the Charles Village Pub located in the One Mile West Shopping Center. I do not usually go out with my teammates after games due to my work schedule and the fact that I only eat two meals a day (breakfast and dinner). I went this time because the coach of the team wanted the whole team to be at the pub. The owner of the pub had offered to sponsor the team in a fall league and the whole team was to be present to show him our patronage. I arrived at the pub at 9:45 P.M. and had four 7 & 7s during the evening. I was enjoying the evening very much since I do not get out much during the Summer. When I was leaving the pub at midnight, one of my teammates and another friend suggested I not drive home. They thought I did not look good. I felt I was okay, but I listened to them and I let my teammate drive me home in my mom's car. My other friend then picked my teammate up and I thanked them both. I came in the house through the basement as I normally do. I took off my dirty clothes and then came up the basement stairs to the upstairs. My mother greeted me at the top of the stairs with a dirty look and some very angry words. She was upset because my breath smelt of liquor, both my parents are abstainers, and because she had prepared a dinner for me at 8:00 P.M. She told me to go eat the dinner she had slaved over in no uncertain terms. I asked her to leave me alone and let me go to bed, that we would talk about it in the morning, but she would not stop berating me. I went into the bathroom and changed into my pajamas. I then went upstairs to my bedroom. My mother followed me up the stairs still berating me about my drinking and ordering me down to the kitchen to eat the dinner she had fixed! She finally went downstairs and I just laid on my bed. I laid there thinking that a thirty-three year old person should be allowed to make his ov/n decisions and I became angry. I don't know how much time elapsed, but I got up and went to a storage room across from my room and got a Baltimore Orioles batday bat I've had since I was a kid. I then went downstairs to the kitchen and hit any object containing my dinner. While I was swinging the bat, my father got up from the kitchen table and with my back to him, he grabbed me from behind and tried to restrain me. I brushed him away with my right hand. Dad yelled to mom to call the police, that I had gone crazy. As mom began to call, I stopped swinging the bat and I dropped it on the floor. Then I looked at the mess I had made. I watched mom get off the phone and I turned around to face mom and dad. Mom told dad to sit down in a chair, which he did, and try to calm himself down. He then strained to stand back up and, with his eyes looking as big as eggs, told me he was embarrassed and ashamed to have me for a son. Then, with both hands clutching his heart, dad fell backwards into the chair hitting his head against the wall and the can opener mounted on the wall. Dad then slipped off the chair, his body limp, into the cabinet shelves and onto the floor. Mom went to get dad's Nitroglycerene and I went to call 911 for an ambulance. When I hung up the phone, mom was letting the police in the front door. The police would not let me be near my father and they took me into another room to ask me some questions. Soon after, they took me to the Wilkens Police Headquarters."

During the interview, the defendant, acknowledging that he had "lost control," indicated that his anger was definitely not directed toward his father, but rather toward his mother. He advised that although he could ordinarily "absorb" her generally domineering stance, on that particular evening, for reasons which he cannot identify, he could tolerate her attitude no longer. While he has no clear recollection of what he was thinking at the time, the defendant believes that he had wanted to destroy those objects, i.e., the oven and pan on the stove, which he associated with dinner.

Adamant that he at no time had hit his father, the defendant nevertheless indicated that he feels responsibility for his death because of the emotional disturbance which he had created. Aware that his father had a heart condition, the defendant advised that he did not learn until after his father's death, that he had apparently been "living on a string" for several years.

The defendant advised that he is "scared to death" of incarceration but will be relieved once the entire matter has been resolved and he can proceed with his life. At present, the defendant indicated that he feels that he "has no life."

CRIMINAL RECORDJUVENILE

A record check conducted through the local office of the Juvenile Services Administration revealed no juvenile record.

ADULT

Record checks conducted through the F.B.I., Maryland State Police, Baltimore County Police and Baltimore City Police revealed no record of arrest other than the instant offense. Although the defendant acknowledged a 1975 Disturbing the Peace charge in Anne Arundel County, for which he reportedly received a fine, no record of this offense could be located.

MOTOR VEHICLE RECORD

According to a response from the Motor Vehicle Administration dated 4/30/87, the defendant possesses a valid class D Maryland operator's license and has record of the following violations:

MOTOR VEHICLE RECORD (continued)

DATE	DESCRIPTION	DISPOSITION
7/13/84	Exceeding Speed Limit by 10 Miles Per Hour	2 points (expired)
9/4/84	Exceeding Speed Limit by 10 Miles Per Hour	2 points (expired)
Total Current Points:		0

There is no record of suspension, revocation or other administrative action.

INSTITUTIONAL/PROBATION AND PAROLE HISTORY

None

PERSONAL HISTORY

The following social information has been obtained from the defendant and his mother, who was interviewed independently on 5/17/87. The only surviving child of Hilbert and Louise Flanagan, the defendant has always lived with his parents, with the exception of the year he attended college out of State and several months when he worked in Ocean City. Mrs. Flanagan advised that because her daughter, born ten years prior to the defendant, had died in infancy, she has been very protective of her son.

Mr. Flanagan, who was age 74 at the time of his death, retired at age 62 from A & P. Mrs. Flanagan, although employed many years ago as a secretary for an insurance firm, has devoted most of her time to the family. She reported that she and her husband had shared a close relationship and that his death has been a tremendous loss. However, she advised that his death was not entirely unexpected inasmuch as her husband had experienced significant medical problems since 1984. Only after his death, according to Mrs. Flanagan, did she learn that his condition has apparently recently deteriorated. Although her husband had reportedly attempted to conceal his declining physical condition from her, Mrs. Flanagan advised that, after his death, she had learned from neighbors how ill he had appeared earlier on the day of the offense.

According to Mrs. Flanagan, the defendant had shared a close relationship with his father, for whom he had always demonstrated respect. She emphasized that she in no way believes that her son is accountable for his father's death. She considers the defendant's behavior on the evening of the incident to have been "totally out of character." Prior to that time, Mrs. Flanagan advised that he had seldom used alcohol and had exhibited no emotional outbursts. She described the defendant as an exemplary son.

EDUCATION

A 1970 graduate of Catonsville Senior High School, the defendant attended Randolph Macon College in Ashland, Virginia from September 1970 until June 1971. Thereafter, he enrolled in Catonsville Community College, from which, as verified by his diploma, the defendant received an Associate in Arts Degree on 1/25/75.

EMPLOYMENT

NAME OF EMPLOYER AND ADDRESS	DATES EMPLOYED	NATURE OF WORK AND EARNINGS	REASON FOR LEAVING
Chaselle, Inc. , 9645 Gerwig Lane, Columbia, Md. 21046	8/17/83 - present	Warehouseman, $302/week gross	Presently employed
Color Tile Warehouse, 8200 Stayton Drive, Jessup, Md.	3/28/79 - 8/8/83	Warehouseman, $340/week gross	Terminated

Contacted on 5/18/87, the personnel office of Chaselle, Incorporated verified the defendant's employment there as a warehouseman. Mr. Robert Chaisson, the owner, who testified in the defendant's behalf at the time of trial was entirely positive in his assessment of the defendant. According to the attached Letter of Commendation dated 6/15/87, the defendant has "performed in an exceptional and exemplary manner."

The Color Tile Warehouse, which was contacted on 5/18/87, declined to provide any information other than the defendant's dates of employment. According to the defendant, he was discharged officially for insubordination after, having been denied leave, he reported late on a Monday morning. Prior to that specific incident, the defendant advised that he had been labeled as "an outcast" because he did not socialize (i.e., go out drinking) with his coworkers and had generated discontent with management when he refused to purchase stock in the company.

HEALTH (PHYSICAL AND MENTAL)

The defendant reports excellent physical health and no prior history of psychiatric treatment.

Following the instant offense, the defendant was interviewed on 8/18/86 by Robert J. Sears, Alternative Sentencing Program. According to the attached assessment, Mr. Sears found the defendant to be a "chronic alcohol abuser," as evidenced by a fifteen year history of usage, the instant offense, and progressive amounts of consumption. Because of the potential problems which might have developed following the offense, Mr. Sears referred the defendant to Southwestern Community Mental Health for treatment in conjunction with Alcoholics Anonymous.

According to the attached alcohol evaluation completed on 9/10/86 by Robert S. Armstrong at Southwestern Community Mental Health, the defendant was considered to be exhibiting no "symptoms of problematic alcohol abuse or alcoholism requiring treatment." In reference to the offense, the evaluation states that "the exact nature of his explosive behavior is difficult to determine but appears to be an isolated incident and not part of an identifiable disorder."

Referred for further psychiatric evaluation, the defendant was seen on 10/6/86 by Dr. E. de la Cruz, whose diagnosis is listed as Isolated Explosive Disorder. According to the attached report, "there does not seem to be an indication of signs and symptoms associated with an alcohol abuse problem."

In accordance with the findings at Southwestern Community Mental Health Center, Mr. Armstrong in correspondence to Alternative Sentencing dated 10/31/86, indicated that there is "a lack of evidence that Mr. Flanagan needs alcohol or psychiatric treatment." According to Mr. Armstrong, the "exact nature of (the defendant's) explosive behavior the night of the arrest is difficult to determine but appears to be an isolated incident and not part of an identifiable disorder."

In light of the health center's evaluation, on 4/6/87, the defendant was satisfactorily terminated from the Alternative Sentencing Program. The report completed at that time by Robert J. Sears indicates that the defendant had satisfactorily complied with the requirements that he submit to evaluation, attend two Alcoholics Anonymous meetings per week, submit to weekly urinalysis, and remain totally abstinent from all alcohol and drugs.

According to the defendant, he has abstained from alcohol totally since the night of the offense and intends to continue to do so. Although he emphasized that he does not consider himself to have an alcohol problem, the defendant acknowledged that alcohol was a contributory factor in the incident which resulted in his father's death. Although he had complied with the stipulation that he attend Alcoholics Anonymous until released from that obligation in April 1987, the defendant advised that he had always felt "out of place" and was unable to identify with the members.

EVALUATION

Convicted by jury of Involuntary Manslaughter, Carl Randolph Flanagan is awaiting disposition for an offense occurring nearly a year ago, which involved the death of his father. Despite the verdict, the defendant maintains that although he feels morally responsible for his father's fatal heart attack in the midst of an emotional disturbance, he does not consider himself guilty of the criminal charge.

Until the evening of the offense, the defendant had apparently exhibited no significant adjustment problems. Aside from a Disturbing the Peace conviction more than ten years ago, he has no prior criminal record. Since graduating from high school in 1970, the defendant has continued his education, maintained regular employment, and, in general, been a productive member of the community. From all reports, he had shared a close relationship with his father, whose death has impacted dramatically upon the defendant and his mother.

Alcohol and psychiatric evaluations subsequent to the offense indicate that, although alcohol was apparently a contributory factor, the defendant is not suffering from a substance abuse problem which requires treatment. The only diagnosis made by the evaluating psychiatrist, Dr. E. de la Cruz, is Isolated Explosive Disorder, which, again, does not indicate treatment. A recommendation in such a case is difficult indeed. Whatever sentence may be imposed, the defendant has indicated he will live forever with the knowledge that his behavior may have precipitated his father's fatal heart attack.

RECOMMENDATION

Considering the circumstances of the instant offense, it is recommended that the defendant be sentenced within the range of the Maryland Sentencing Guidelines but that the sentence be suspended for a period of supervised probation.

ADMISSION NOTE

Carl Flannagan

CASE #: 6348
DOB: 8/19/52
CLINICIAN: Robert S. Armstrong
DATE: 9/10/86

IDENTIFYING INFORMATION:

This is a 34 year old, single, white, employed male referred by the EDR Unit of TASC.

REASON FOR ADMISSION/GOALS:

The client was referred as a result of a first degree murder charge while drinking. He was part of an incident involving his father's death by a coronary. He reports never being much of a drinker and does not believe he has a drinking problem. He knows alcohol contributed to his behavior but was not responsible for it.

DRINKING & DRUG HISTORY:

The client reports that his first alcohol involvement was at age 18 when he drank beer in the amount of two cans one time a weekend. At the age of 19, the client states that he drank about four cans of beer one time a weekend until the age of 26 when his drinking decreased to about one can monthly to the present. The client reports that at the age of 24, he consumed about three mixed drinks monthly progressing to four mixed drinks monthly to the present. He drank wine at the age of 21, consuming one glass yearly. The client reports smoking marijuana at the age of 19 about two times and having less than one rolled cigarette each time. The client reports that a month prior to attending this interview, he had drunk four times one drink each occasion. The client reports that the last time he was drunk was in 1971 when in college. He states that he had about four to five beers and reports usually stopping himself before intoxication.

The client gave a description of the incident for which he is being charged. The client states that he went to a bar with his softball team and was urged to attend because the bar was a possible sponsor. He states that his stomach was empty and he was thirsty and having a good time. He had four seven and seven drinks containing the average mixture and size. He was offered a ride home and was given one. The client speculates that this may have been to the way he looked tired and possibly dirty appearing not in the best of conditions. He states that he arrived home about 12:00 a.m. His mother met him downstairs and he took his uniform off going upstairs in just his underwear. He states that his parents were raised the "old fashion way" and was "dismayed" by the smell of alcohol on the client's breath. In addition, the client states that he didn't look too good when he came in. The client's mother offered him dinner and he stated at that time he was not hungry. He went upstairs to lie down. She came up a short time after that, woke the client and insisted that he eat the dinner that she had fixed earlier and was very insistent. He states that he is not sure why but he became angry and "something snapped". He went into the other room and found a "Oriole Day" miniature baseball bat. He went downstairs and hit "anything to do about dinner". They tried to stop him but he preceeded to break glass, smash appliances etc. The client's mother called the police and once he realized what he was doing he stopped. The police arrived right away and his mother let the police in. The client remembers that his father stated that he was disappointed in him as his son and he held his chest and then collapsed.

The client called the paramedics to give medical attention. He states that the police would not let him return to the kitchen where his father was stricken. The client's father died at shock trauma a short time later. The client was charged with first degree murder due to the police observation at the scene and a small cut found on his father's head. The client doesn't think that he caused it or directly caused his father's death. His mom also supports him in this assertion. The client states that he is a Christian and knows that his father forgives him in heaven for anything that may have happened.

MENTAL STATUS:

The client was oriented and quite verbal during the interview. His is a young man appearing well groomed and casually dressed. He spoke openly and frankly appearing honest and responding. He was of stable mood and had appropriate response when talking about his father's death, not moved to tears but sadness in his eyes. The client seemed to display some but not adnormal guilt about his part in it. He was of average intelligence with insight into his situation and appears to have good judgment. He reports not feeling depressed or "low". He has no thoughts of suicidal or homicidal.

MEDICAL HISTORY:

The client has no medical difficulties of import to diagnosis.

SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT FINDINGS/DIAGNOSIS:

Mr. Flannagan does not appear to have any symptoms of problematic alcohol abuse or alcoholism requiring treatment at this center. He admits the use of alcohol but denies abuse of any kind since in college 10 years ago. This report was verified by the client's mother. He does not discount the role alcohol played in the incident with which he is charged but does not believe it was the primary cause of his actions. There is little doubt that Mr. Flannagan was at least mildly intoxicated that night. The exact nature of his explosive behavior is difficult to determine but appears to be an isolated incident and not part of identifiable disorder.

Refer to psychiatric eval for further clarification.

PSYCHIATRIC EVALUATION

PATIENT'S NAME: Carl Flannagan

CASE #:

CLINICIAN: E. de la Cruz, M.D.

DATE OF VISIT: 10/6/86

IDENTIFYING INFORMATION:

Mr. Flannagan is a 34 year old, single, white male, employed, and living at home except for six months that he spent in Ocean City.

PRESENTING PROBLEM:

Mr. Flannagan is being referred by the courts for a Pre-Trial hearing. He is being charged with first degree murder in connection with his father's death on July 29th. At that time, he states that he came home past midnight having worked all day, played two games of Softball, and not eating all day. He also had four drinks of seven and sevens before going home. He said his mother was greatly upset because she had prepared dinner for him and insisted that he eat the dinner. He said that she came up to his room after him telling him to eat his dinner. He said that he came down five minutes later, with no recollection of what he was thinking about at that time, and got a souvenir baseball bat in the play room and started hitting objects that had to do with food in the kitchen, for example a toaster oven, glass, and other objects including a radio. His father who had a serious heart disease, witnessed this and he apparently later collapsed and died of a heart attack. In the meantime, on his father's request his mother had called the police. As he saw his father collapse he called the paramedics. Mr. Flannagan has a court date on November 20th, where he states "the truth will come out or he will go to jail".

SOCIAL S PSYCHIATRIC HISTORY:

Mr. Flannagan was born and raised in the Catonsville area. He is the only surviving child.. There was a daughter ten years prior to him who apparently died in early infancy. His parents were rather late in life when they had Carl. His father would have been 75 years old and his mother is currently 70 years old. His mother also has heart disease and is taking about five different medications everyday.

He did average in school getting B's & C's. He finished regular high school and then attended Catonsville Community College and obtained an AA degree. He has been in warehouse work most of his working life. Currently he has been a warehouse receiver for the last three years in the same company. In school, he said that he participated in sports and did not engage in any behaviors that got him suspended or in trouble for his behaviors. Except for the above mentioned charge, he denies any other legal problems.

At age 18, he started drinking alcohol. His heaviest drinking capacity since age 25 he said was four glasses of seven and seven. He said he would stop and after four glasses of seven and sevens "does not feel anything", indicating that he needed more drinks to start feeling the effects of alcohol. When I inquired how much it would take to cause him to feel the effects of alcohol, he said one more drink over the four would. He denies getting into problems when drinking, for example fights. He also denies having any withdrawal problems from alcohol. On the average, he said he takes two drinks.

His last drink was the night of 7/29/86.

He denies using any drugs of abuse except trying marijuana on two occasions early in his college years.

He states that his temper is generally under good control. When angry, he would slam a door or throw a pen or clip board on the floor. He does not recall having lost his temper to a point where he or somebody else got injured. Therefore, his behavior on the evening of 7/29 appears to be out of character for him.

He states that his mood is generally good. He denies any symptoms that indicate clinical depression or mania. There is also no history of suicidal or homicidal ideas.

Family history is positive only for heart disease on both sides of the family. He denies any history of alcohol abuse or other serious medical problems in the family.

MEDICAL STATUS:

Mr. Flannagan states he is generally healthy, liking "putting in eight hours of work a day". He is not taking any medicines.

MENTAL STATUS EXAMINATION:

Mr. Flannagan came in dressed fairly neatly although obviously having come from work. He was unshaven with a stubble of beard about perhaps a few days to a week's growth, he was pleasant and cooperative in the interview process. Although he tended to talk on and on especially attempting to explain himself, he responded to directions during the interview. There were no signs of thought disorder or of hallucinations or delusions. He was alert and oriented to person, time and place and was coherent. He appeared to be of average intelligence. He follows current events showed by his ability to give examples of events of significance in the country and abroad, for example the flood in the Mid-West, the summit between Russia and the U.S., and the sinking of the soviet sub-marine recently. He interpreted one of three proverbs reasonably well, the one having to do with "monkeys falling off trees". He stated that everyone seems vulnerable. Otherwise he was unable to interpret the proverbs "a stitch in time saves nine" or "a rolling stone gathers no moss". He said he tended to think concretely thinking of stones either smooth or rough. In this sense, his interpretation may be somewhat concrete. Insight and judgment appears to be present and reasonable. He does tend to use quite a bit of rationalization as he spoke.

DIAGNOSIS:

AXIS I: Isolated explosive disorder.
AXIS II: No diagnosis.
AXIS III: No diagnosis.

COMMENTS:

From the available information it appears that the above impression is most fitting. As stated, this is based on available information. In conference with Mr. Bob Armstrong, it was felt important to verify some information in general with Mr. Flannagan's mother and also another person who wrote some comments about hints of some impulse control problem in his referral form. The possibility that he may have been intoxicated the night of the violent incident is to be taken into consideration, however, there is no proof that he was except for his statement that he took four drinks of seven and seven. Also he states that four drinks does not effect him at all. On the other hand, four drinks of liquor without effecting the individual may indicate some tolerance. Conversely, there does not seem to be an indication of signs and symptoms associated with an alcohol abuse problem.

Dear Mr. Milner:

This is to report the results of Mr. Flannagan's evaluation/Admission interviews at this clinic. We find a lack of evidence that Mr. Flannagan needs alcohol or psychiatric treatment. He appears to be an occasional drinker with no significant history of alcohol abuse. The exact nature of his explosive behavior the night of arrest is difficult to determine but appears to be an isolated incident and not part of an identifiable disorder.

As a result, we find it necessary to refer the case back to you for disposition.

Dear Judge:

On Thursday, September 17, 1987 you will be imposing sentence on Carl Randolph Flanagan.

I sincerely request your extending him the greatest degree of leniency possible. This was an unfortunate incident that has already had an impact on Randy that will last his entire life. He lives daily with the guilt that his actions affected the death of his elderly and ailing father.

I have been involved with Randy and his mother since the morning after the incident and throughout his trial. Both of them have suffered greatly through these long months. Additional punishment may extend the pain, but will not and could not do more to increase their suffering, remorse or ability to cope with society.

As I have testified before you, Randy Flanagan has and is an exemplary employee. He has worked for Chaselle and I have known him for four years. He is honest, hard working, always on time and has a perfect attendance record. He is cooperative and very well respected by me and all the employees he works with on a daily basis. He is emotionally stable and has never displayed any aggressive actions. We have over 150 employees at this location.

Randy is a shy, mild mannered man who was and is very much influenced by his mother and his home environment. He is very conservative and does not indulge in bad habits such as smoking, drinking, drugs, late nights or fast crowds. He may be termed a "stay at home" type person.

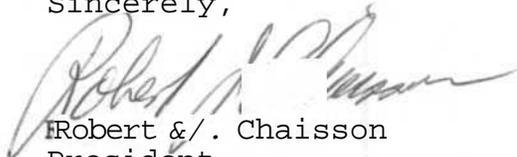

This incident has been devastating to him and his mother. It was a single episode which never could have been predicted nor prevented and I feel will never happen again.

Dear Judge Jacobson:

I have known Randy Flanagan since his employment with Chaselle, Inc. in August of 1983.

During this time, Mr. Flanagan has progressed through various warehouse jobs to his current position of Lead Receiver in our Receiving Department.

Mr. Flanagan has always been a conscientious and dedicated worker with many letters of commendation in his file, and has served as a role model to other employees.

At no time during his employ has Mr. Flanagan demonstrated any violent behavior or any antagonism toward fellow employees. To the contrary, he has always been a mild and reserved person who shows a sincere interest in his work and co-workers.

Mr. Flanagan has suffered, along with his mother, the full impact of this single act that unfortunately, cannot be undone.

Any further punishment would not add to his guilt.

I request your understanding and leniency when making your final disposition of this case.
