DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This small ~~classical~~ Greek revival church still has beauty although the site is bare of trees ~~while~~ ugly new large structures surround it.

Frame clapboard, it faces east with a deep porch under the heavy cornice below the A frame roof. The roof ridgeline runs east west, with a circular window in the east attic. Under this portico there are corinthian columns of wood. ~~support~~ The double door to the church is flanked by a window on each side of Tiffany glass. The frame is a low arch at the top.

Three similar windows were on either side before a crude factory-looking wing for a school house was added to the north. There is a conspicuous chimney from the furnace in the south west corner

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE (Include Personages, Dates, Events, Etc.)

It is hard to believe such an unusual and attractive little building has been treated with such disrespect! Kept in good condition, the setting is bleak and dull, the overall impression overwhelmingly utilitarian and ugly.
