DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This large frame house, clapboard covered with shingles, is T shaped, 2½ stories high, facing south, the bracketted A-frame roof ridgeline running east-west. Originally 3 bays by 2, additions have obscured the original proportions of the house on all sides. A three-sided porch is partly enclosed.

Center-hall in plan, inside rooms have wide doorways and the first floor is quite open. ~~[illegible]~~ the first floor has french doors onto the front porch, framed in glass panels at the sides and top. Windows upstairs are of several types, some with the 4" square panes favored by the Victorians, some with six lights over six, some having one large pane. The peaked dormers have casement windows, 10 lights on each side.
