This oblong brick house, now painted cream-color, is a double house, ~~[illegible]~~ two and a half stories over a brick basement, 6 bays by two. A central chimney rises to the peak of the roof from four fireplaces on each floor. The peaked roof ridgeline runs east-west, the building faces south. Peaked dormers have been added to each house, each side of the roof, and contain a round-arched window. Windows throughout have 6 lights over 6. Shutters are (nylon) replacements, as are the Moyan millwork matching front doorways.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This substantial double house has been in constant demand. Built for mill workers families in the 1840's, they fell into disrepair until the housing boom of the 1940's when the Washington metro area began to reach this far.

Mr Hansen's welding shop is in a detached garage, Dr Andre's office is next door, so livelihood and living are even closer than when the original occupants walked down to the Patuxent River in the backyard to the water-powered mill up stream.
