Street Address 201 E. Baltimore Street
Town, State Funkstown, Maryland 21734
private _x_, public ___

Approximate date __C. 1830 ?_____

Description:

Located at the southeast corner of Baltimore Street and Chewsville Road is this one and a half story brick-cased log house. It has three bays, two windows with a central entrance. A five bay shed roofed porch extends across the entire front elevation. Shed roofed dormers, three bays wide extend from the front and rear slopes of the roof. A one-story brick wing extends to the rear. Windows, doors and other exterior features are of recent vintage, making an assessment of age for this building difficult.

A building is shown on this site in the 1877 Atlas, without the L-extension, as belonging to Mrs. Erick.

Built of log, probably during the early or mid 19th century, this house relates to Funkstown's major period of development during the peak years of the National Pike. One story high with small windows it appears to be a modest dwelling.
