TWO YEAR OLD FALLS SIXTY FEET

Tiny Tot Playing Near Third Story Window, Falls To His Death

MOTHER NEAR

Seizes Ankle Just In Time, But It Slips Thru Her Hands

Falling out of the third story window of his home to the concrete pavement sixty feet below, little Joseph Montgomery, Jr., one year, ten months old, sustained a fractured skull and broken neck, Friday afternoon. The Montgomerys have the third story apartment at 1035 Druid Hill avenue, over Sanders Barbershop and Mrs. Montgomery sat on a couch in front of the third story window reading, while Joseph amused himself [illegible] bits of paper to pieces. The window fronts on Hoffman street and the couch which stands beside it, is on the same level as the window.

Leaving little Joseph with his bits of paper for a moment, Mrs. Montgomery stepped out into the other room. She returned just in time to see him lean his back against the screen which almost immediately gave way under his weight. As his little body bent backward out of the window she uttered a scream and rushing forward she succeeded in getting hold of one of his ankles. She held it firmly for a moment till the youngster kicked himself loose from her nervous grasp and fell to his instant death three stories below. As the accident occured early in the day the awnings of Mr. Sanders barbershop had not been raised, which would have probably broken the fall.

Death of the little fellow was almost immediate, Dr. E. V. Fitzgerald stated, due to a fractured skull and broken neck.

FATHER NOT INFORMED

According to Mrs. Montgomery, Joseph Sr. is a steward on board one of the boats of the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company, which left here for Philadelphia sometime ago. Last week he wrote his wife that he would take a new steamer from Philadelphia to Boston. Mrs. Montgomery does not know the name of the steamer her husband is sailing on and has not been able to inform him of the death of their child.

Inquiry of a representative of the ARFO-AMERICAN at the steamship company's offices, Light and Redwood streets, brought forth the information that there was no steward or waiter on any of the company's steamers by the name of Joseph Montgomery.

Pistol Was "Unloaded"

A revolver that was not "loaded" is responsible for Albert Wright, 13 years old, 1613 W. Saratoga St., having a bullet wound in his arm. The boy says he was in the back yard of George Bagwell, in the 100 block of North Vincent, Monday, and the latter was playing with a pistol. The weapon was handed to a boy called "Brother," and it went off, the bullet hitting the boy in the arm. A nearby physician gave him first aid, and he later went to the Franklin Square Hospital for treatment.

Completion of Swimming Pool Waits on Pumps.

The boys, under the direction of Mr. Morris, the new recreational secretary, have become very enthusiastic over the present activities of the department. A straw ride is planned for one evening, at which time the boys will be given a big watermelon treat.

Swimming pool will be in operation soon. Filters and pump on the way. Swimming will feature the program for August. Already the boys are grouped for swimming teams and waiting for the first plunge.

The management is considering the installation of a modern barber shop for the service of members, and the public in general, the same to be put into operation about September 1st.

The Vocational Board in charge of the education of disabled soldiers has charge of the educational rooms of the Y. M. C. A. The following men are in attendance: Constantine De Silva, Frank J. Randolph, Isaiah Jones, Willie Sutton, Robert E. Jones, George Cooper, Vernon L. Holley, Leon Mills, James Pratt, Wm. C. Holland, and Lorenz Price. The school will be held here until necessary repairs are made on the Franklin Street Building, where their permanent home will be located.

Bishop W. Sampson Brooks drew a room at the Sunday meeting. His address thrilled the audience and many shed tears as he told of the efforts of the Negroes in other parts of the country. His closing appeal for Africa was touching. Seventy six dollars in cash was given him and many pledged to contribute later.

Allen E. Morris, the new recreational secretary, is getting the boys in line for a big program. More than fifty boys meet daily and go through mass games, stunts and some drills. Young Morris is full of "pep" and his presence will have a real good time at the "Y".

Thomas H. Smith, membership and social secretary, is on his vacation.

Blindfolded Man Arouses Interest

A blindfolded man clad in white flannel trousers and holding a rusty blanket around his shoulders was marched up and down Druid Hill avenue by two companions late one night last week. A crowd estimated at twenty-five or thirty persons watched the blindfolded one holding an umbrella over his head being marched sedately down the avenue and into the doors of the Y. M. C. A.

The performance, it is said, was part of the initiation of some organization whose name could not be learned.

SAPS HOME IS SPOOKY

N. C. Ghosts "Haunt" Ogston Street Home

Mrs. Jennie Dixon, 416 Ogston street, appeared in the anteroom of Marshal Carter to say that her home is "spooky." The ghosts she attributed to enemies who had sprinkled her home with chloroform. She was told that the marshal was out.

When she met a representative of the Afro-American in the Court House corridor, she told him about the "evil things." She said that she was from North Carolina, had gone to school as far as the third grade and was qualified to teach school.

She then hied herself over to the law office of Davis and Bishop, where she was informed that they could do nothing to put "spooks" in jail.

SUES FOR $1,200

George Lewis Says He Did Not Get Lawful Payment After Being Injured

Through Attorney U. Grant Tyler, George Lewis filed a suit in City Court on Friday of last week, claiming $1,200 to be due him from the firm of George W. Frazier and Bro., plumbers at 747½ W. Saratoga street.

The plaintiff claims that he was injured while in the defendants' employ, and that he did not receive the allowance due him under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

FRATERNAL SPIRIT ABSENT

C. M. H. Johnson Thinks Charles Counties Should Co-operate

C. M. H. Johnson, State agent of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, who has just returned from a business trip to Charles county, says that the colored people there seem to lack the "get-together" spirit manifest in other sections of the State.

He says that the people there are mostly Catholics and that fraternal orders, such as the Masons, Pythians and Odd Fellows, are lacking. This, he believes, accounts for the lack of the co-operative spirit. He takes a hopeful view of the future of the residents there, however.

WATERMELON DODGED TRAFFIC

Laid In Middle Of Street For Ten Minutes Saturday

An express wagon ladened with a solitary watermelon lost its load at the corner of Myrtle and Harlem avenues, Saturday afternoon and the big seventy-five cent watermelon fell without bursting in the middle of the street. Automobiles and wagons dodged around it for a full ten minutes and even pedestrains eyed it suspiciously as they passed by until a youngster, bolder than the rest, ran laughingly into the street and returned with the melon tucked safely under his arm.

Thus it happened that one family which did not expect to have melon for Sunday, had it, while another which expected to have melon for Sunday, didn't have it.

PLAIN CLOTHES MEN WATCHING CABARETS

Complaint By Ministers May Have Summary Effect On Cabarets Or Its Repute.

Cabarets near-beer saloons to which minors are attracted by piano music and trap drums are having their activities. In some neighborhoods in the northwest section complaints have been registered against the loud music and noises emanating from these places and the police have given notice to some that music be cut out after 10.30 P. M.

The fact that ministers and others are protesting over these disorderly places, which they regard as demoralizing to the morals of the young, especially girls has helped to bring the attention of the bad conditions to the public.

Plainclothes men have been working on Druid Hill and Pennsylvania avenue in recent nights and it is said that repots of conditions are being made to Police Commissioner Gaither.

When liquor was banished from saloons, likewise the restriction placed on the majority against cabarets shows an influx of young girls in them went. Trap drums and pianos were brought into play to lure the young and the shimmy and other dances allowed in order to bring in money. As a result, immorality is said to be on the increase. These cabarets are springing up all over the city.

One well known place in the northwestern section has banished its cabaret trap drums and those who would enter its portals must "pony" $8 cents. There, sometimes packed to suffocation, the young men and women dance to music by an orchestra. Waiters are on hand to furnish prohibition drinks. Thus the loss resulting from the banishment of liquor is being partly overcome. An East Baltimore place is said to do likewise. Around many of the cabaret places immoral resorts are said to have been established and gambling houses also flourish to some extent, according to report.

POLICE RAID AVENUE HOME

Charge Of Running Disorderly House And Violating Volstead Act Laid

Round Sergeant Charles E. Wilhelm and Sergeant Joseph Carroll raided the home of Mrs. Luberta Williams, 1256 Druid Hill avenue, late last Saturday, arresting her and two couples scantily dressed.

Mrs. Williams, who gave her age as 38 years and occupation as a real estate dealer, was charged with running a disorderly house, keeping a rooming house without the proper permit and violating the Volstead act by furnishing liquor. James Dorsey, 1316 Druid Hill avenue; Miss Grace Jones, 550 Baker street; James White, of York, Pa., and Miss Ida Gross, 1125 Bolton street, were arrested as witnesses.

When arraigned before Justice Chapman at the Northwestern Police Station Monday afternoon, Mrs. Williams' attorney, George L. Pendleton, succeeded in knocking out the charge of violating the Volstead act. She was held, however, in $500 bail for the action of the Criminal Court on the charge of running a disorderly house and released on her own recognizance on the other.
