WAS SAVIOR "WHITE"?

Marcus Garvey Says Not And Tells Why He Was Not.

New York, September 2—Marcus Garvey does not believe in a "white" religion. He says: The white religion itself is not satisfactory to the Negro. Its missionaries have been but the advance guard of the rum sellers, the slave hunters, the tyrants and exploiters who respoiled Africa and ruined our racial heritage. They taught a white God, a white Christ, a white heaven, white angels, and a brotherhood of man that was not a brotherhood.

"Our movement has its own religion. Such a religion alone may be trusted to send to Africa missionaries who have Africa's interests at heart. It regards God as a being, not as a creature. But in so far as it interprets Himthrough the image of a creature, it shows Him made in our own image—black.

"The scholars of our movement have also written books and treatises seeking to prove that Christ Himself—whose divinity we acknowledge—was one of the race the white man has slaughtered for Him. They declare that He was a Negro. But such things are of the past. My eyes are on the future.

CITY MAY HELP CHURCH

Charles Street A. M. E. Meeting House Rapidly Going To Ruin

Boston, Mass., Sept. 1.—As an institution where the Associated Charities, St. Annes Church, Government Association and the Northeastern Federation of Womens' Clubs were organized and where George W. Cable and Paul Lawrence Dunbar once spoke, an appeal has been made to the city authorities to lend their aid in repairing and renewing Charles Street A. M. E. Church.

The Boston Herald declared that the present building looks dingy, needs fresh paint and a renewal of the guilding that set off the capping of the picturesque bell tower. There is need of minor repairing and of little restoration that would bring back more completely the look of one hundred years ago. But even as the structure stands today it is so fine an example of such a good type among the Boston church—and of a type so rare outside of Boston—that we can by no means afford to lose it.

William H. Hunter, William H. Thomas, Theodore Gould, T. W. Henderson, R. C. Ransome, D. D. Roberts, R. F. Hurley and R. W. Fickland are some of the eminent clergymen who have served there. The church was built in 1807 and is one of the oldest land-marks that is distinctive of the Colonial period.

The Herald suggests that the church be saved for Boston by moving it ten feet sidewise to the West and so allow for the widening of Charles street.

Learning By Doing.

We trust that all over our country able men of his character will come out for public office and that they will be supported by the best element of our people. They may be defeated but they will teach the country a lesson they will teach the country a lesson which they are well qualified to give willing to stand by them and the country cannot but respect us for it. When we learn to trust colored men and even go down in defeat with them then others will trust.—St. Louis Clarion.

NOTICE

St. James Lodge No. 2, G. U. O. of Childeons would like your presence at Childeons Hall, 1221 Myrtle avenue, Sunday, September 5, 1920, 3 P. M. to hear a great sermon by Rev. W. C. Dean, pastor of Ames Memorial M. E. Church.

Bro. Walter Green, C. M.

Answer to Question.

George Chambers, 3207 Prairie ave., Chicago, writes to the Afro-American tousk to rule the name of the first colored man elected to the City Council.

The late Harry. Cummings was the first colored man elected to the City Council, being chosen by the voters of the old eleventh ward in 1890. He was re-elected in 1891 but was defeated by a white Democrat the next year.

The late Dr. J. Marcus Cargill represented the same ward in the First Branch City Council from 1895 to 1897. Mr. Cummings was re-elected thatyear for the 11th ward and served until 1899, when a regrouping of wards threw most of the colored people into the 17th ward.

Hiram Wade was elected from what is now the 17th ward in 1899 and served continuously until his defeat in 1905. Cummings was returned to the council in 1907 serving there until his death in September 1917. William L. Fitzgerald, the present representative of the ward, was elected in May 1919. At the same time Warner T. McGuinn was elected to represent the 14th ward.

THEY CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a truck. Doctors said nothing but an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got tired of suffering that long and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing the work as before. There was no operation, no hurt, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but want to tell the world about Lon. You may find a cure for rupture without delay. If you write to Lon Engine, 1864 Fort Wayne Building, Detroit, Michigan, Mr. N. J. Better and other cures are produced well and strong. Life and happiness restored. The misery of rupture and the worry and danger of and operation.
